HERE WE HAVE IDAHO

*1 Alma Mater, the hope of a pioneer race;
You're fashioned of dreams and of toil,
Your walls and your towers by stout-hearted men
Were raised from the rock and the soil.*

Chorus:

*And here we have Idaho
Winning her way to fame
Silver and Gold in the sunlight blaze,
And romance lies in her name;
Singing, we're singing of you, ah, proudly too;
All our lives through we'll go singing,
singing of you, Alma Mater, our Idaho.*

*2 Now ours is the heritage, rich and so full,
The gain of their toil and their tears;
And ours is the fruit, and the harvest is ours,
Oh, Idaho, gift of the years.*

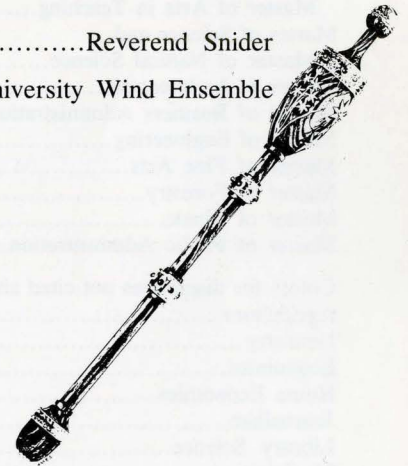

Chorus:

*And here we have Idaho
Winning her way to fame
Silver and Gold in the sunlight blaze,
And romance lies in her name;
Singing, we're singing of you, ah, proudly too;
All our lives through we'll go singing,
singing of you, Alma Mater, our Idaho.*

University Plenary Ceremony

Presiding: Richard D. Gibb, Ph.D., President of the University

Processional.....	University Wind Ensemble Robert J. Spevacek, M.Mus., Professor of Music, Conductor
Presentation & Posting of the Colors.....	Navy ROTC Color Guard
The National Anthem.....	Harry A. Johansen, D.Mus.A., Associate Professor of Music
Welcome.....	President Gibb
Invocation.....	Reverend Hervon L. Snider St. Mark's Episcopal Church
Alumni Association Greetings.....	Victor N. Smith, President, Alumni Association
Greetings.....	The Honorable Cecil D. Andrus, Governor of Idaho
Commencement Address.....	Susan E. Bruns, Eden UI Class of 1989 and Rhodes Scholar
Presentation of Honorary Degree Recipients.....	Thomas O. Bell Vice President for Academic Affairs and Research
Conferring of Graduate, Advanced Professional, and Baccalaureate Degrees.....	President Gibb
Commissioning of Graduates of Officer Education Programs.....	Janice C. Scott Colonel, United States Marine Corps
The Alma Mater, "Here We Have Idaho" (words on opposite page).....	Hume-Douglas The entire assembly joins in the singing of the Alma Mater
Benediction.....	Reverend Snider
Recessional.....	University Wind Ensemble

Each college will hold a separate ceremony at the location and time indicated below. The audience is encouraged to walk to these locations to avoid traffic and parking congestion.

College of Letters and Science.....	Kibbie-ASUI Activity Center (11:30 a.m.)
College of Engineering.....	Memorial Gymnasium (11:30 a.m.)
College of Forestry, Wildlife, and Range Sciences.....	University Auditorium (11:30 a.m.)
College of Art and Architecture.....	Student Union Ballroom (11:30 a.m.)
College of Mines and Earth Resources.....	University Auditorium (1:30 p.m.)
College of Agriculture.....	Memorial Gymnasium (2:00 p.m.)
College of Business and Economics.....	Kibbie-ASUI Activity Center (2:00 p.m.)
College of Law.....	University Auditorium (3:30 p.m.)
College of Education.....	Kibbie-ASUI Activity Center (4:00 p.m.)

SIGNIFICANCE OF ACADEMIC APPAREL

By noting certain features of a person's apparel, it is possible to learn several things about his or her academic status: the level of the degree attained, the branch of learning in which it was earned, and the institution.

The GOWNS differ according to the level of the degree. The sleeves are the principal indicators—gowns of doctors have round, bell-shaped sleeves; those of masters have long closed sleeves that now open at the wrist; and bachelors have long, pointed sleeves. Doctoral gowns have distinctive velvet facing around the collar and down the front and three velvet bars on each sleeve.

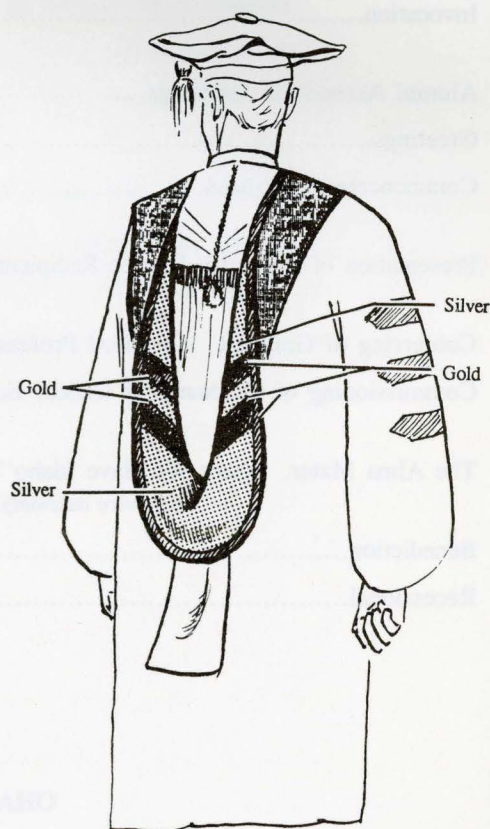

The size of the HOOD also varies according to the degree. Hoods of bachelors are only three feet long (they are rarely seen today and not worn at Idaho). A master's hood is three and one-half feet long, and a doctor's is four feet in length and has side panels. It is from the colors adorning the hood that one can learn two other facts: the hood is lined with the official colors of the college or university conferring the degree (silver and gold, of course, signifying the University of Idaho) and it is trimmed with velvet of a color denoting the wearer's branch of learning. Following are the colors that correspond to the advanced degrees granted by the University of Idaho:

Doctor of Philosophy.....	Dark Blue
Doctor of Education, Specialist in Education, and Master of Education.....	Light Blue
Juris Doctor.....	Purple
Doctor of Veterinary Medicine (conferred through Washington State University).....	Gray
Master of Arts and Master of Arts in Teaching.....	White
Master of Science and Master of Natural Science.....	Golden Yellow
Master of Architecture.....	Violet
Master of Business Administration.....	Drab
Master of Engineering.....	Orange
Master of Fine Arts.....	Brown
Master of Forestry.....	Russet
Master of Music.....	Pink
Master of Public Administration.....	Peacock Blue

Colors for disciplines not cited above are:

Agriculture.....	Maize
Dentistry.....	Lilac
Economics.....	Copper
Home Economics.....	Maroon
Journalism.....	Crimson
Library Science.....	Lemon
Medicine.....	Green
Nursing.....	Apricot
Pharmacy.....	Olive Green
Physical Education.....	Sage Green
Public Health.....	Salmon Pink
Social Work.....	Citron
Speech.....	Silver Gray
Theology.....	Scarlet

HONOR CORDS, worn around the neck and hanging loosely down the front, identify students who are graduating with honors: bronze cords designate graduation cum laude (with distinction); silver, magna cum laude (with great distinction); and gold, summa cum laude (with highest distinction). The cords are provided by the Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi and are worn on this one occasion only.

During its first century, the University of Idaho followed the intercollegiate code exactly, traced to its origins in the High Middle Ages. The University of Idaho has now adopted a doctoral gown of its own, designed by Edmund Chavez, professor emeritus. It is worn for the first time at this commencement, the final celebration of the university's centennial. The gown is silver, and the panel and sleeve bars are of black velvet outlined in antique gold. The new cap follows the Cambridge version of a beret-like softcap instead of the traditional cap or mortarboard of rival Oxford.

Honorary Degrees

Doctor of Natural Resources

DAVID LITTLE
Idaho Rancher and
Past President, Idaho Cattle Association and
Idaho Wool Growers
Emmett

Doctor of Administrative Science

HARRY F. MAGNUSON
President and Owner, H.F. Magnuson Company and President, Golconda Mining Corp. and Clayton Silver Mines, Inc.
Wallace

Doctor of Administrative Science

H. EUGENE SLADE
Investment Counsel and
Manager, Consolidated Investment Trust
Moscow

Doctor of Natural Resources

CHARLES A. WELLNER
Retired Forester and
Affiliate Professor of Forest Resources
Moscow

Graduate Degrees

COLLEGE OF GRADUATE STUDIES

Established in 1925. Jean'ne M. Shreeve, Ph.D., Dean

Distinguished Alumni

William C. Bailey

As Deputy Under Secretary, William Bailey is responsible for the USDA's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service with its operations in 2,000 U.S. counties. Bailey is a graduate of Moscow High School and he received his bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Idaho.

Stewart M. Brandborg

Stewart Brandborg is a 1950 graduate with a master's degree from the College of Forestry, Wildlife and Range Sciences. Last year he was presented the Chevron Conservation Award for his role in the passage of several landmark conservation laws, including the Wilderness Act of 1964.

Charles W. Duffy

A native of Nampa, Idaho, C.W. "Pat" Duffy holds his bachelor's and master's degrees in civil engineering from the University of Idaho. After spending two years with the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, he joined Boeing in 1957. Today he is Director Operations Business and Aerospace Quality Improvement for the Aerospace Division at The Boeing Company.

Joseph T. Helle

Joseph Helle is the current President of the Montana Wool Growers Association and Chairman of the Environmental

Committee for the National Wool Growers Association. He received both his bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Idaho and operates an irrigated farm in Dillon, Montana.

Victor I. Myers

Victor Myers received his bachelor's degree in agricultural engineering in 1949. He has distinguished himself as an engineer and hydrologist throughout the United States developing two hand surveying instruments for laying out canals and drains, and devices for measuring stream flow rise and stream flow velocity.

Joseph F. Pechanec

Joseph Pechanec worked nearly 40 years as scientist and research administrator for the U.S. Forest Service. He received an honorary doctorate degree from the university in 1969.

Robert J. Robel

Robert Robel received his master's degree from the University of Idaho in 1958. His professional career includes decades of university research and teaching including two years in Britain as a senior Fulbright Research Scholar for the Nature Conservancy.

Doctor of Philosophy

Mohammad Azram, B.S., M.S., Peshawar, Pakistan

Mathematics. Dissertation: "Graph Theoretic Versions of Reidemeister Moves." Major Professor: Charles O. Christenson

*Vivek Bakshi, B.S., M.S., Lucknow, India

Physics. Dissertation: "Measurement of Stark Width of Some Ar^I Transitions and the Investigation of Local Thermodynamic Equilibrium (LTE) in an Atmospheric D.C. Argon Plasma Jet." Major Professor: Robert J. Kearney

*Pawan Kumar Bali, B.S., M.Phil., M.S., Hoshiarpur Punjab, India

Chemistry. Dissertation: "Kinetics and Mechanism of Iron Removal from Human Serum Transferrin." Major Professor: Wesley R. Harris

Randy Guy Balice, B.A., M.S., Bozeman, Montana

Forestry, Wildlife and Range Sciences. Dissertation: "Interactions Between Fungal Root Diseases and Coniferous Forest Vegetation." Major Professor: Joseph J. Ulliman

Matthew Joseph Berria, B.S., Ontario, Oregon

Zoology. Dissertation: "Neuroendocrine Regulation of Delayed Implantation and Sites of Melatonin Action in the Western Spotted Skunk." Major Professor: Rodney M. Mead

Catherine Lee Bertagnole, B.S., M.S., Salt Lake City, Utah

Forestry, Wildlife and Range Sciences. Dissertation: "Interacting Fungi and Bark Beetles Associated with Black-stain Root Disease of Ponderosa Pine." Major Professor: Arthur D. Partridge

Alice Irene Kluck Bevans, B.G.S., M.Ed., Genesee

Education. Dissertation: "Variables Influencing Job Satisfaction of Registered Nurses in Rural Hospitals." Major Professor: Judith Doerrann

*Ratan Lal Bhattacharjee, B.S., M.S., Madaripur, Bangladesh

Physics. Dissertation: "Far Infrared Laser Stark Spectroscopy of Symmetric Top Molecules: CD₃Cl, ¹³CH₃F and ¹⁴ND₃." Major Professor: Lawrence H. Johnston

Laurel Jean Branan, B.S., M.S., Moscow

Education. Dissertation: "Weight Preoccupation in Female Students at the University of Idaho: Incidence, Psychological Consequences, and Nutritional Impact." Major Professor: Raymond B. Miller

Susan Ann Chavez, B.S.C.E., M.S., Idaho Falls

Mechanical Engineering. Dissertation: "Determination of Mechanical Properties in the Heat Affected Zone of a Dissimilar Metal Weld." Major Professor: E. Clark Lemmon

*Bruce Duane Cochran, B.A., M.A., Moscow

Geology. Dissertation: "Significance of Holocene Alluvial Cycles in the Pacific Northwest Interior." Major Professor: John H. Bush Jr.

James Theodore Constantopoulos, B.S., M.S., Northridge, California

Geology. Dissertation: "Oxygen and Hydrogen Isotope Geochemistry of the Coeur d'Alene Mining District, Idaho." Major Professor: Peter L. Siems

Robert Lawrence Crabtree, B.S.Wild.Res., M.S., Moscow

Forestry, Wildlife and Range Sciences. Dissertation: "Sociodemography of an Unexploited Coyote Population." Major Professor: Ernest D. Ables

Richard Allen Dimenna, B.S., M.S., M.Engr., Idaho Falls

Mechanical Engineering. Dissertation: "The Shape and Motion of a Droplet on a Vertical Plane — An Integral Model Solution." Major Professor: E. Clark Lemmon

Tae Sug Do, B.S., M.S., Korea

Mathematics. Dissertation: "Dead Cores for Reaction-Diffusion-Convection Problems." Major Professor: Larry E. Bobisud

Janice Lee Dobson, B.S., M.S., Troy

Forestry, Wildlife and Range Sciences. Dissertation: "Autecology of Aquatic and Terrestrial Growth Forms of Arctophila fulva, an Arctic Tundra Grass in Northern Alaska." Major Professor: Ronald Robberecht

*Virginia Ann Francis, B.S., M.S.Ed., Yakima, Washington

Education. Dissertation: "The Role of Grandmother in Families of Young Children with Disabilities." Major Professor: A. Lee Parks

*Brad Griffith, B.A., M.S., Carrollton, Missouri

Forestry, Wildlife and Range Sciences. Dissertation: "Mule Deer Habitat Selection in Columbia River Rangelands of Northcentral Washington." Major Professor: James M. Peek

DEGREES CONFERRED EARLIER

*August 5, 1988

December 16, 1988

The appearance of a name in this program is presumptive evidence of graduation and graduation honors, but it must not in any sense be regarded as conclusive. The diploma of the university, signed and sealed by the proper officers, remains the official testimony of the possession of the degree.

Advanced Professional Degrees

COLLEGE OF LAW

Established in 1909. Sheldon A. Vincenti, J.D., Dean

Distinguished Alumni

Merlyn W. Clark

Merlyn Clark received his juris doctor degree in 1964 and served as prosecutor for Nez Perce County, director and president of the Idaho Law Foundation, and is a member of the Supreme Court Civil Rules Advisory Committee. In 1988 he received the Award of Merit from the College of Law.

Col. Burton Ellis

Burton Ellis received both his bachelor's and his juris doctor degrees from the University of Idaho. Ellis has distinguished himself in the Army Air Corps and has received the bronze star, the French Legion of Honor and presidential citations from the U.S. and Korea. He also received the College of Law Award of Merit in 1983.

Judge Alfred C. Hagan

A native of Moscow, Judge Hagan received both his bachelor's and juris doctor degrees from the University of Idaho. After a long law career in Idaho, Judge Hagan is now the bankruptcy judge for the U.S. District Court.

John T. Hawley, Sr.

Boise native John Hawley was admitted to the Idaho Bar in 1950. He served in the Idaho Legislature and is currently a member of the University of Idaho Foundation. In 1984, Hawley was given the College of Law Award of Merit.

Joann H. Henderson

Joann Henderson graduated summa sum laude from the College of Law in 1973. She is now professor of law at the university. She has published several books, written numerous articles and presented scholarly papers.

Sen. James A. McClure

Payette native Sen. James McClure received his juris doctor degree in 1950. He has been a U.S. senator for 17 years and has served on the Committee on Energy and Natural Resources, the Subcommittee on Interior and Related Agencies, and the select Committee on Secret Military Assistance to Iran and the Nicaraguan Opposition.

Louis F. Racine

Louis Racine received his bachelor's and juris doctor degrees from the University of Idaho. A native of Pocatello, Racine has held many legal posts in Idaho including assistant general counsel for Union Pacific railroad and as a fellow for the International Academy of Trial Lawyers and the American College of Trial Lawyers.

Judge Harold L. Ryan

Weiser native Harold Ryan has served on various commissions, including grading and state bar attorney disciplinary commissions. Judge Ryan is a charter member of the Idaho Association of Defense Counsel and is currently president of the Third Judicial District of the Idaho Bar Association.

Frank A. Shrontz

Airline manufacturing executive Frank Shrontz was admitted to the Federal Bar in 1954. After leaving Idaho, he did his post-graduate study at Harvard and Stanford. A UI Alumni Hall of Fame member, Shrontz has worked at Boeing for 30 years. He is now president of Boeing.

The UI MEDALLION was created by Idaho artists George Roberts and Macky Roberts and first used in 1965 at the inauguration of Ernest W. Hartung, UI's 12th president. It is now a regular element of the president's academic attire. The medallion's base is a three-and-one-half inch disc of pure Idaho silver. Mounted on the base is a disc of native jasper, and on that is a sterling silver sunburst. Inside the sunburst is a modification of the Chinese character meaning "mountain," which features three upward-pointing prongs. Over the center prong is a gold inlay. The symbolism is of "Light on the Mountain." The heavy medallion is worn suspended from a collar woven of Idaho wool, some from a black sheep, and some of which is dyed with dahlia flowers to match the jasper.

The MACE, a heavy staff or club used in medieval times for breaking armor, acquired a ceremonial function in 13th century France as a symbol of secular authority. The University of Idaho mace, also designed by Professor Chavez, with metal work by Idaho artist Ray Goodner, is used for the first time at this centennial commencement. It is 32 inches long, made of walnut, and encircled with bands of Idaho gold and silver in which Idaho garnets and opals have been set. The head is embellished with silver and gold representations of camas plants and syringa flowers. In conformity with American tradition, the chair of UI's Faculty Council, the marshal of the academic procession, carries the mace at a 45 degree angle across the chest.

Baccalaureate Degrees

COLLEGE OF LETTERS AND SCIENCE

Established in 1900. Galen O. Rowe, Ph.D., Dean

Distinguished Alumni

Edward Benoit

Attorney Edward Benoit, attorney, demonstrates leadership in his profession and represents four generations of University of Idaho graduates. A native of Twin Falls, Benoit graduated with the highest honors in 1942 with a bachelor's degree in political science. He was recently appointed by Gov. Andrus to the State Lottery Commission.

Mary Brooks

Mary Brooks was appointed as director of the U.S. Mint by Presidents Nixon and Ford. During her tenure in the Idaho Legislature, Brooks was chairwoman of the Republican Caucus, State Affairs Committee, and the Agriculture Committee. She was voted Idaho Woman of the Year in 1970.

Benjamin Doty

Benjamin Doty, military commander, served 29 years in the U.S. Army. Honors of distinction awarded to him include the Legion of Merit, the Bronze Star, the Army Commendation Medal, and the Senior Army Aviator Badge. Doty earned a bachelor's degree in political science in 1953 from the University of Idaho and a master's degree in public administration in 1972 from Pennsylvania's Shippensburg University.

Rafe Gibbs

Rafe Gibbs, author and educational administrator, contributed 25 years of service to the university as Director of Information. A prolific writer since the age of 13, Gibbs wrote histories of the University of Idaho, Florida International University, and the nation's bicentennial history of Idaho. Gibbs graduated from the university summa cum laude in 1934 earning a bachelor's degree in journalism and was elected to the UI Hall of Fame in 1979.

Orval Hansen

Orval Hansen, attorney, public servant, and arts patron, represented the people of Idaho in both the state legislature and the U.S. Congress. He was elected to the Alumni Hall of Fame in 1987 and was awarded an honorary Doctor of Laws by the university in 1988.

J. Clint Hoopes

J. Clint Hoopes, community leader and agriculturalist, is dedicated to the stable economic growth of eastern Idaho. A native of Rexburg, Hoopes graduated from the university in 1950 with a bachelor's degree in political science.

Albert A. Monnett, Jr.

Albert Monnett, internationally known steel industry expert, dedicated more than 35 years of service to U.S. Steel. Monnett was a Phi Beta Kappa at the university, graduating in 1938 with a bachelor's degree in economics. He went on to earn a master's from the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration.

Edgar E. Renfrew

Edgar Renfrew, industrial chemist, is author of more than 66 U.S. patents and a variety of articles. A Potlatch native, Renfrew earned his bachelor's and master's degrees from the university in 1936; then his doctorate from the University of Minnesota. Renfrew contributed three decades of leadership to American Color and Chemical Corporation serving as vice president of research and development.

Malcolm M. Renfrew

Malcolm Renfrew, research chemist, author of patents and publications, and head of the Department of Chemistry for many years, earned both his bachelor's and master's degrees from this university. After receiving his doctorate from the University of Minnesota, Renfrew joined the team at the DuPont Company working on the invention of teflon. In 1985, the building housing both the chemistry and physics departments at the UI was named in Renfrew's honor.

John R. Taylor

John Taylor, financial expert and community leader, is chairman of Principal Mutual Life Insurance Company. A Moscow native, Taylor graduated Phi Beta Kappa in 1949 from the university with a bachelor's degree in math.

Ted W. Voigtlander (deceased)

Ted Voigtlander, nationally recognized cinematographer, and winner of two Emmy Awards, demonstrated expertise in his field and leadership among his peers. He attended the university during the Great Depression and was elected to the Alumni Hall of Fame in 1983.

COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE

Established in 1901. A. Larry Branen, Ph.D., Dean

Distinguished Alumni

C. Eugene Allen

Eugene Allen received his bachelor's degree in agriculture in 1961—the same year he received the Outstanding Senior award in the College of Agriculture. Born in Burley, Allen is currently the Dean of Agriculture and Associate Director of the Agricultural Experiment Station for the University of Minnesota.

Pete T. Cenarrusa

Born in Carey, Idaho, to Basque immigrants, Pete Cenarrusa is the current Secretary of State for the state of Idaho. This 1940 College of Agriculture graduate has been a pilot for more than 45 years without an accident and more than 15,000 hours of flying.

James W. Chaney

James Chaney is a native of nearby Troy and a 1949 graduate in agriculture from the university. A respected expert in the seed industry, Chaney currently serves as President of the American Seed Trade.

Milton F. Eberhard

While attending the University of Idaho in the years 1938 to 1942, Milton Eberhard served as student body president. After graduating with a bachelor's degree in agricultural economics in 1942, Eberhard served this country during WWII. He is now President of the American Potato Company and a member of the Board of Directors of AMPCO Foods, Inc.

Donald Hagedorn

A Moscow native and a 1941 graduate, Donald Hagedorn is recognized as one of the world authorities on legume viruses and was a prime mover in the organization of the International Working Group on Legume Viruses.

Alberta D. Hill

Alberta Hill, 1988 Alumni Hall of Fame inductee and distinguished home economics educator, is Dean Emeritus of the College of Home Economics at Washington State University.

Richard R. Rush

Richard Rush is currently the Director of the Idaho Department of Agriculture. He received his degree in agricultural economics from the University of Idaho in 1967. He has managed a 5,000-acre grain and hog operation in northern Idaho and was with Boise Cascade Corporation for seven years.

Steven D. Symms

U.S. Senator Steven Symms received a bachelor of science degree from the University of Idaho in horticulture in 1960. He is a member of the Armed Services, the Budget, the Environment and Public Works and the Joint Economic Committees. Symms has utilized his assignments on key committees to secure major benefits for Idaho and her natural resource based economy.

COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING

Established in 1907. William E. Saul, Ph.D., Dean

Distinguished Alumni

Tommy W. Ambrose

A native of Jerome, Idaho, Tommy Ambrose, received his bachelor's and master's degrees in chemical engineering from the University of Idaho. Ambrose has held a number of positions with Battelle, and as a reflection of his lifelong interest in research management and commitment to education, he leads the company's education and training initiative from the Battelle-Seattle Research Center.

Roger E. Batzel

Roger Batzel earned his bachelor's degree in chemical engineering from the University of Idaho in 1947 and his doctorate in nuclear chemistry from the University of California at Berkeley. He has spent the majority of his professional career with the E. O. Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory.

Robert B. Christensen

In the fall of 1946, Robert Christensen, like so many veterans, entered the halls of academia at the University of Idaho. He graduated with a bachelor's degree in civil engineering in 1951. For the next nineteen years, Mr. Christensen filled a variety of engineering positions with the Idaho Department of Highways. In 1970, he joined Morrison-Knudsen Engineers, Inc., and now serves as the company's senior vice president directing all engineering operations.

Gary J. Dau

Gary Dau, currently affiliated with the Electric Power Research Institute, is continuing to make his mark on the nation through his nondestructive evaluation research and development activities to support continued safe nuclear reactor operation. A 1961 mechanical engineering graduate, Dau earned his master's degree at MIT and his doctorate at the University of Arizona.

Joseph H. Gauss

In 1937, Joseph Gauss graduated from the University of Idaho with a bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering. Immediately upon graduation he began working for the General Electric Company as a test engineer. After WWII, Gauss returned to General Electric and in 1977 retired as vice president in charge of the Heating and Air Conditioning Division.

William H. Gauss

William Gauss, along with his brother Joseph, graduated in 1937 with a bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering. Colonel Gauss spent 26 years serving our country in the Air Force and was responsible for the establishment of the flexible gunnery training school during World War II.

Arthur E. Humphrey

Arthur Humphrey received his bachelor's degree in chemical engineering in 1948 and his master's degree in 1950, both from the University of Idaho. Humphrey has had a long and distinguished engineering career serving first as chemical engineering department head at the University of Pennsylvania and then as the Dean of the College of Engineering. Most recently, he was named provost emeritus of Lehigh University and a member of the National Academy of Engineers.

Wendell J. Satre

The University of Idaho recognized Wendell Satre's outstanding record of service to the Pacific Northwest by awarding him an honorary doctorate degree in 1978. Satre was employed by the Washington Water Power Company from 1939 until his retirement as Chairman of the Board in 1985. He earned his bachelor's degree from the University of Idaho in electrical engineering in 1939.

Paul W. Smith

Paul Smith has had a 30-year career in a broad spectrum of engineering, management, and executive positions with responsibilities at different times throughout the United States and the Far East. He has been active in recruiting and placement of Idaho graduates in the several corporations with which he has been associated.

H. Myrl Stearns

By the time he was elected president of Varian Associates at the age of 41, Myrl Stearns had established himself as one of the pioneers of the booming electronics industry, both in terms of his technical contributions to the field of microwaves and for his managerial talents. Stearns graduated from the university in 1937, earning a degree in electrical engineering.

Allen Roger Stubberud

Allen Stubberud graduated with highest honors from the University of Idaho in 1956 and went on to complete a master's and Ph.D. at the University of California, Los Angeles. Stubberud is the former dean of the College of Engineering at the University of California, Irvine. A highly regarded expert in the field of aerospace systems, he has had a career-long affiliation with the U.S. Air Force and served as the Chief Scientist for the Air Force from 1983 until 1985.

COLLEGE OF MINES AND EARTH RESOURCES

Established in 1917. Robert W. Bartlett, Ph.D., Dean

Distinguished Alumni

Jack H. Barbee

Jack Barbee received his bachelor's degree in 1935 in mining engineering. He distinguished himself through 36 years as sales manager and engineer for Intersoll-Rand's Latin American operations. Since 1960 he has been President and Chairman of the Barbee Valve and Supply Co., and Barbee Enterprises in San Diego.

Arden L. Bement

Arden Bement received his master's degree in metallurgical Engineering in 1959. He is currently vice president of TRW, Inc., Science and Technology in Cleveland.

Stanton W. Caddey

Stanton Caddey received his doctorate in geology in 1971. He is currently technical manager, U.S. Exploration of Homestake Mining Co. in Golden, Colorado.

Harry F. Cougher

Harry Cougher received his bachelor's degree in mining engineering in 1966. He is currently general manager of Kellogg Operations, Sunshine Mining Co. in Kellogg.

John M. Crowley

John Crowley received his undergraduate degree in 1957 in agriculture with a minor in geography. He is currently a professor of geology at the University of Montana with a distinguished record of research and teaching in mountain biography.

William R. Greenwood

William Greenwood received his bachelor's degree in geology in 1961. He has served as Director of the International Office of the U.S. Geological Survey and is assistant chief geologist with the U.S. Geological Survey in Reston, Virginia.

David Hawk

David Hawk received his bachelor's degree in geology in 1967. He is Director of Energy and Natural Resources for J.R. Simplot in Boise. Hawk is also a member of the College of Mines Advisory Board and a member of the Advisory Board for Boise State University.

Dennis D. Keiser

Dennis Keiser has a distinguished career in metallurgical Engineering with INEL/EG&G, Idaho, where he is Science and Technology Manager and Director of the INEL Research Facility.

Thor H. Kiilsgaard

Thor Kiilsgaard received a bachelor's degree in geology in 1942 and after a distinguished career in geology is now Officer in Charge of the Geological Survey in Spokane.

Robert A. Lothrop

Robert Lothrop received his bachelor's degree in metallurgical engineering in 1953. He has served as head of the mining division of J.R. Simplot Co., and is senior vice president of J.R. Simplot Co.

Arthur E. Soregaroli

Arthur Soregaroli received his master's degree in geology in 1961. He is currently vice president of exploration at Westmin Resources, Ltd., in Vancouver, B.C.

COLLEGE OF FORESTRY, WILDLIFE AND RANGE SCIENCES

Established in 1917. John C. Hendee, Ph.D., Dean

Distinguished Alumni

Rupert E. Andrews

Rupert Andrews, a 1956 bachelor's of science graduate, retired in 1982 after 13 years with the Alaska Department of Fish and Game. A lifelong outdoorsman and conservationist, Andrews is an active member of many sporting and natural resource organizations, public as well as professional.

Bruce Colwell

Bruce Colwell is retired as group vice president of Diamond International Corporation. As Diamond's vice president, he was responsible for the management of more than 1.5 million acres of timber lands. He graduated from the College of Forestry in 1950 and in 1984 was presented with an honorary doctor of natural resources degree.

Gary R. Evans

Last year Gary Evans was appointed deputy administrator for National Programs of the USDA Agricultural Research Service in Maryland. An Idaho native with two degrees from the University of Idaho, Evans began his career with the Forest Service in his native state.

Roger L. Guernsey

Roger Guernsey has dedicated his career to public service. Born in Idaho, he is a former state forester, former state legislator, and a 28-year member of the U.S. Army and the Idaho National Guard. His degree from the University of Idaho is in forest management.

Philip C. Habib

Philip Habib is no stranger to the national and international spotlight. Called out of retirement in 1980, Habib acted as Special Presidential Envoy to the Mideast. For his effort he received the Presidential Medal of Freedom, and a nomination for the Nobel Peace Prize. Habib graduated from the University of Idaho in 1942 with a bachelor's degree in forest management and was given an honorary degree from this university in 1974.

John D. Hunt

John Hunt is the Distinguished University Professor of Travel and Tourism at the University of Massachusetts, the first person in the nation to be appointed to this prestigious academic position in tourism. He earned both his undergraduate and master's degrees from the College of Forestry.

Stephen P. Mealey

Stephen Mealey is USDA Forest Service Assistant Chief of Strategic Planning in Washington, D.C. His responsibilities include overseeing long-range forest planning efforts. His bachelor's degree in wildlife resources came in 1973 from this university.

John R. Stillinger

John Stillinger operates his own consulting company in Oregon specializing in management and technical consulting, and concentrating on particleboard, fiberboard, and composite panel manufacturing. His 45-year career encompasses all levels of the wood products industry. He earned his bachelor's degree in wood utilization from this university in 1943.

Gerald W. Thomas

Gerald Thomas retired from the presidency of New Mexico University in 1984 after 14 years in that capacity. He is the co-author of two books and has published in more than 200 professional publications. He is a native Idahoan from the town of Small and received his UI degree in forestry in 1941.

Delmar D. Vail

Delmar was appointed as State Director of the Bureau of Land Management in 1985. Prior to that he served as Director of BLM's Denver Service Center for a year and a half. Vail was born in Pocatello, attended school in Idaho, and graduated from the University of Idaho in 1953 with a degree in range management.

Charles A. Wellner

Chuck Wellner served in the U.S. Forest Service for 40 years and then began what one colleague has called a "15-year, unpaid, volunteer post-retirement career" seeking out wildland ecosystems for possible inclusion in the federal Research Natural Areas System. He received his bachelor's degree in forestry from this university in 1933.

John Aram graduated from the University of Idaho with a bachelor's degree in general business. Aram has been a trustee of Gonzaga University and the College of Idaho. His affiliations include: chairman of the board for North Pacific Bank, Boy Scouts of America, YMCA, and the Children's Home Foundling and Aid Society.

Paul W. Atwood

Paul Atwood graduated from the University of Idaho with a bachelor's degree in general business. He began his career in advertising research and business analysis. Atwood is listed in Who's Who in America, has established the Ethel B. Atwood Graduate Computer Lab for the UI College of Business and Economics' graduate students, has funded the Paul Atwood Scholarship, and is a member of the University of Idaho's Alumni Hall of Fame.

Doris E. Bennett

Doris Bennett graduated from the University of Idaho with a bachelor's degree in accounting. She joined Peat Marwick Mitchell & Co. as a tax partner via a merger, retiring in 1971. Bennett was the first woman in Idaho to receive a Certified Public Accountant's License. Her affiliations include memberships in the American Institute of Accountants, Hawaii Society of Certified Public Accountants, and American Women's Society of Certified Public Accountants.

Ross E. Butler

Ross Butler graduated from the University of Idaho with a bachelor's degree in general business. He and his partners formed Grigg Brothers & Butler, a real estate and insurance company with an interest in developing the Grigg Brothers sweet corn business. With the lease of a bankrupt building, they were able to expand the processing of sweet corn. They added other frozen products, establishing Ore-Ida Foods, Inc. After selling the company to R. J. Heinz, Butler took over the ownership of Grigg Brothers & Butler Real Estate and Insurance.

Philip L. Corneil

Philip Corneil graduated from the University of Idaho with a bachelor's degree in commerce. He is formerly vice president and chairman of the executive committee for Seafirst National Bank and director of commerce for Seafirst. Corneil has served on the National Advisory Committee to the comptroller of the currency and has been active in the Washington Bankers' Association, the American Bankers' Association and the Association of Reserve City Bankers.

Elmer H. Emery, Jr.

Elmer Emery graduated from the university with a bachelor's degree in accounting. He joined Coopers & Lybrand as a partner and helped expand that firm into an international CPA firm. He is a retired partner of Coopers & Lybrand and operates a small office at home where he does consulting and income tax services.

Philip C. Fikkan

Philip Fikkan graduated from the university with a bachelor's degree in accounting. Fikkan began his career with Gamble Skogmo, Inc., as a clerk. He advanced to vice president before joining Marshall Wells, Canada, where he was president. Fikkan has served as executive vice president for Gamble Macleod Limited and as president for Macleods of Canada.

Joseph J. McFadden

Joseph McFadden graduated from the university with a bachelor's degree in business law. He practiced law until his appointment to the Idaho Supreme Court, serving several years as chief justice. Judge McFadden is a member of the Idaho State Bar, the American Bar Association and the American Judicature Society. He received the Award of Legal Merit from the University of Idaho, College of Law and the James Hawley Award for outstanding service as a prosecuting attorney by the Idaho Prosecuting Attorneys Association.

Lester J. Randall

Lester Randall graduated from the university with a bachelor's degree in accounting. He started his own CPA firm in Wallace, Idaho, and then became the secretary-treasurer and controller for Hecla Mining Company and was promoted to president. In addition, he served as president and director of the Lucky Friday Silver Leads Company, as director of the Bunker Hill Company, Bitco Incorporated, and First National Bank of Wallace. Randall is a member of the Alumni Hall of Fame.

R. Bruce Bray, Professor of Music and Secretary of the Faculty Emeritus

One of the University of Idaho's best-known personalities retires August 1, after 28 years at UI, 20 of them as faculty secretary. R. Bruce Bray, came to the university in 1961, as coordinator of music education. He served in that capacity until 1969, when he began devoting full time to the duties of faculty secretary. He was a charter member (1967) of the Faculty Council. He provided editorial supervision of the university's catalogs and policy handbook and produced the weekly newsletter, The Register. Bray holds B.A. and M.Mus. degrees from the University of Oregon. Before coming to UI, he taught in Oregon public schools and at Central Washington University. Of the many projects in which he has been involved, he is most proud of having served as scrivener in the development and drafting of the Constitution of the University Faculty and related documents, his role in elevating the status of the Department of Music to that of professional school, and his part in fostering the establishment of the UI Retirees' Association. Among his awards are merit and service citations from the Associated Students University of Idaho and a citation for meritorious service from the UI faculty, recognizing "his dedication to a meaningful faculty role in shared governance of the university."

Samuel S.M. Chan, Professor Emeritus of Mining Engineering

After 26 years at the University of Idaho, Samuel S.M. Chan is retiring. A native of China, he first came to UI as a teaching assistant in 1962. He has taught courses and conducted research in mining engineering since then. Chan has a long list of publications on subjects in that field in various professional journals. He has also presented many scholarly papers at professional meetings. His degrees include a B.S. in mining and metallurgical engineering from Cheng Kung University, master's degrees in mining engineering and geology from the Missouri School of Mines and Metallurgy and a Ph.D. degree in geology from UI. He has attended many short courses on computers and mining engineering and related subjects. He has been a consultant for the American Zinc, Lead and Smelting Company, Vanguard Exploration Company and El Paso Natural Gas Company. He is a member of the International Society for Rock Mechanics.

Geraldine F. Dacres, Professor Emerita of Office Administration

An education career that spans nearly 45 years comes to a close when Geraldine Dacres retires at the end of this school year. She began her years of teaching at Lapwai High School in 1945. She taught business there and in Lacrosse, Colfax and Clarkston, Wash., high schools, before coming to the University of Idaho in 1959. She has taught adult education classes in typewriting and shorthand, developed contest materials for the Idaho Office Education Association, and conducted workshops for secretaries and records managers, while teaching many courses in the UI office education curriculum. She holds B.S. and M.S. degrees in business education from the University of Idaho. She has been active as advisor to Spurs, sophomore women's service honorary; an alumna of Delta Delta Delta social fraternity; and as a member of the American Association of University Women.

H. Sydney Duncombe, Professor of Political Science and Department Chair Emeritus

The University of Idaho's "man of many hats," Sydney Duncombe, has retired. Duncombe is known for his innovative teaching style in his political science courses, which involved changing hats and characters to bring to life for his students events in the world of politics. During his years at UI, he was active in university governance, serving on the Committee on Committees, the University Committee for General Education, the Truman Scholarship Committee, the Committee for the Institute for Pacific Northwest Studies, the Centennial Commission and the Teacher Education Coordinating Committee. He came to UI in 1962 as assistant professor of political science and has taught many of the courses the Department of Political Science offers since then. He has written five books and contributed chapters to 10 others. He also has a long list of publications in scholarly journals. He earned a B.A. degree from Yale University, and holds an M.P.A. degree from Syracuse University and a Ph.D. degree from the University of Washington. Duncombe has been an active member of the Idaho Political Science Association, the Pacific Northwest Political Science Association, the American Society for Public Administration, Phi Delta Kappa and Phi Kappa Phi. His interest in local government has led to service on several government task forces and committees. Among his honors are the Boyd A. Martin Award given annually by the Association of Idaho Cities for exceptional contributions to city government in Idaho and the Marvin Kimberling Award given by the Idaho City Clerks and Finance Officers Association.

O. Clifford Forbes, Professor Emeritus of Zoology

After studying carcinogens and mutagens and their effects for 32 years at the University of Idaho, O. Clifford Forbes is retiring. He has been active in teaching and research since 1957, when he began his career at San Francisco State College. He has written several articles about his research on the effects of various mutagens on a species of fruit fly, for publication in scholarly journals. He holds an A.B. degree from Humboldt State College, Arcata, Calif., and his M.A. and Ph.D. degrees are from the University of California, Berkeley. He is a member of Sigma Xi and the Genetics Society of America. He has been active in the Latah County Humane Society.

Maynard A. Fosberg, Professor Emeritus of Soil Science and Soil Morphology

Maynard Fosberg, directly or indirectly responsible for much of the soil classification done in Idaho, is retiring after 40 years with the University of Idaho. He began his UI career July 15, 1949, and since then has been involved in teaching and research in the area of soil genesis, classification and survey. He has nearly 100 articles that have appeared in scholarly or technical publications. He has been active in university affairs, serving on the University Curriculum Committee, Faculty Council, the Departmental Vehicle Committee and the Arboretum Committee. His degrees include an associate of arts in science from Modesto Junior College and B.S., M.S. and Ph.D. degrees in soil science from the University of Wisconsin. He is a member of the American Society for Quaternary Resources, American Society for Range Management, Ecological Society of America, Gamma Sigma Delta, Idaho Academy of Science, International Soil Science Society, Northwest Science, Society of Phi Sigma, Society of Sigma Xi, Soil Science Society of America and Western Soil Science Society.

Arthur R. Gittins, Professor of Entomology, Associate Vice President for Research and Dean of Graduate Studies Emeritus

A man well known for his charisma in the classroom and his belief in the quality of work done at the University of Idaho is retiring. Arthur R. Gittins began his UI career as a research fellow in 1953. He was appointed instructor and research assistant in 1955 and has served the university as teacher and administrator since. He became head of the Department of Entomology in 1968, serving in that capacity until 1978 when he became dean of Graduate Studies, director of the University Research Office, managing director of the Idaho Research Foundation, director of the University Press, director of the Laboratory Animal Research Facility and director of the Electron Microscopy Center. In 1984, he added the duties of associate vice president for research to his responsibilities. He has served on many university governance committees. He holds a B.S. degree in entomology from the University of Alberta, an M.S. degree in entomology from the University of Idaho and a Ph.D. degree in entomology from Montana State University. He is a member of the American Entomological Society, Danforth Associates, Entomological Society of America, Entomological Society of British Columbia, Entomological Society of Canada, Idaho Academy of Sciences, Kansas Entomological Society, Royal Entomological Society of London and Society of Systematic Zoology. He has prepared many scholarly papers and presentations. Gittins has also been honored many times for excellence in teaching and for his service. He is a member of Alpha Zeta, Gamma Sigma Delta, Phi Kappa Phi and Sigma Xi honorary societies.

John R. Hoskins, Professor of Mining Engineering and Head of the Department of Metallurgical and Mining Engineering Emeritus

With 21 years at the University of Idaho and 20 of them as head of the Department of Metallurgical and Mining Engineering, Jack Hoskins is retiring. He first came to UI in 1967 as professor of mining engineering and became head of the department in 1968. Before coming to UI, he worked for the U.S. Bureau of Mines and was a member of the University of Alaska mining engineering faculty. Since then, he has worked on special projects with the U.S. Bureau of Mines and has served as advisory engineer for several minerals industry firms in addition to his duties at UI. He is a member of the Society of Mining Engineers of the American Institute of Mining, Metallurgical and Petroleum Engineers; American Society of Engineering Education, Minerals Division; and has served on the Engineering Education and Advising Committee. He has been a member of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, the American Association of University Professors, the Idaho Academy of Science and the Idaho Mining Association. He has a list of nearly 40 publications and presentations to his credit. Hoskins holds a B.S. degree in mining engineering from the University of Idaho and did doctoral work at Virginia Polytechnic Institute and the University of Utah, receiving his degree from Utah in 1962. He has been named an Outstanding Educator of America and has been honored by the Northwest Mining Association, the Society of Mining Engineers, the U.S. Bureau of Mines Spokane Research Center, University of Idaho Mining Students and the Northwest Mining Association.

J.D. Mankin, Extension Professor Emeritus of Animal Science

Owyhee County's man with the answers for the cattle industry in the area is retiring after 18 years with the University of Idaho and 34 years in extension service. J.D. Mankin, Owyhee County extension agent from 1971 to 1974 and extension animal scientist since, worked as an extension specialist for the University of Nevada, Reno, before coming to Idaho. He holds a B.S. degree in animal husbandry, agricultural economics and range management from New Mexico A & M and an M.S. degree in animal genetics and animal physiology from Colorado A & M, with further study in beef production and meats at Texas A & M. He has served on several committees and task forces charged with beef improvement programs and has been active in cattle and beef association affairs. He is a member of the Idaho Cattlemen's Association and served as secretary of the Beef Cattle Improvement Committee; the Owyhee County Cattlemen's Association; the Idaho Angus Association; the American Angus Association, the American Quarter Horse Association, and Western States Angus Association. He is also a member of Epsilon Sigma Phi, honorary and the American Society of Animal Science. He has written many informational publications and guides to help cattlemen solve the problems they encounter. Work with Idaho's youth through 4-H and similar programs is another area where he has been active. Mankin helped young people in beef, sheep and horse programs with clinics, publications and service as a judge in competitions.

Walter I. Moden, Jr., Professor Emeritus of Agricultural Engineering

Finding ways to make agricultural equipment do more effectively the work it is intended for is the story of Walter L. Moden Jr.'s nearly 32 years with the University of Idaho. He first came to Idaho in September of 1957, and since then has taught many agricultural engineering courses and developed ideas for new or improved agricultural equipment. Among his projects have been work on a nursery seedbed planter, a mechanically fed containerized seedling transplanter, an interseeder for rocky and brushy terrain, a skidder for logging, a mechanical wireworm population sampler, and automatically fed bandoleer transplanter, a punch seeder for use on arid and semi-arid rangelands and development of a containerized shrub injection planter attachment for a backhoe. In addition to his work in equipment development, he has served as major professor for two graduate students and as a member of the graduate committee for several others. He has written many technical bulletins to help ranchers with sprayer calibration, fertilizer application, seeding and many other operations. Moden holds a B.S. degree from Kansas State University in agricultural engineering and earned a master of science degree in agricultural engineering from UI in 1961. He has been named an honorary state farmer by the Idaho Future Farmers of America, awarded a certificate of merit from the U.S. Department of Agriculture Forest Service San Dimas Equipment Development Center and recognized for 25 years service with the American Society of Agricultural Engineers.

Norman C. Olson, Professor of Management,
Head of the Department of Business and
Dean of the College of Business and Economics Emeritus

Norman C. Olson, whose teaching in the field of business management has influenced many University of Idaho students, is retiring. He came to UI in 1971 as dean of the College of Business and Economics, and served in that capacity until 1976, when he returned to teaching. He became head of the Department of Business in 1985. Before coming to UI, he taught at the University of Wisconsin, Eau Claire; Western Illinois University, Macomb; and Concordia College, Moorhead, Minn. He holds B.S., M.S. and Ph.D. degrees in business from the University of Wisconsin. His professional memberships include American Society of Training and Development, Chippewa Valley Personnel Association, Eau Claire Industrial Development Corporation, Midwest Business Administration Association, National Council for Small Business Management Development, National Federation of Independent Business, Society for the Advancement of Management and Wisconsin Industrial Training Directors. He has also served with the American Arbitration Association, the Clearwater Economic Development Association, Moscow Chamber of Commerce, State of Idaho Rural Development Committee and State of Idaho Title I Committee. He is a member of Pi Beta Sigma Honorary Society and has been a leader and speaker for many institutes, seminars and association meetings.

Robert R. Parton, Director of Housing and Food Service Emeritus

After 21 years ensuring that University of Idaho students have proper food and housing at their home away from home, Robert Parton has retired. He came to UI in 1967 as director of housing and food service and has worked in that capacity since then. Before coming to UI, he was assistant director of the Wilson Compton Union at Washington State University and director of food service for the University of Wyoming. He holds a B.A. degree in hotel and restaurant management from the University of Denver. He is a member of the Association of College and University Housing Officers, the Intermountain Division of the Association of College and University Housing Officers and the National Association of College and University Food Services, serving that organization as vice president from 1962 to 1964.

Floyd H. Peterson, Professor of Music and Director of the School of Music Emeritus

Floyd Peterson brings a career in music spanning over 35 years to a close when he retires this year. He came to the University of Idaho in 1969 as director of the School of Music and served in that capacity until 1977, when he stepped down to return to teaching. He has also been an active photographer during his years at UI, with nearly 20 one-man and juried shows since 1979. He is a popular performer in Lionel Hampton School of Music presentations on the Palouse. Before coming to UI, he taught at Nebraska Wesleyan University; DePauw University, Greencastle, Ind.; and State University of New York, Fredonia. He holds B.M. and M.M. degrees from Northwestern University and a D.Mus.Ed. degree from Indiana University. Peterson has served as examiner of music schools and curricula for the National Association of Schools of Music and has been active as a music contest adjudicator. He has served the University as a member of the Committee on Committees, the Dean's Advisory Committee for the College of Letters and Science and as chairman of the School of Music's Graduate Committee and Curriculum Committee. He has served on National Association of Schools of Music accreditation teams and is a member of Pi Kappa Lambda, Phi Kappa Phi and Phi Mu Alpha. Among his honors is conductor of the Idaho Bicentennial Symphony Orchestra in 1976.

Everett V. Samuelson, Distinguished Professor of Educational Administration and Dean of the College of Education Emeritus

A man with a keen interest in improving education for all, both in the U.S. and abroad, is retiring after 26 years with the University of Idaho. Everett Samuelson has been involved in educational improvement through the Idaho Partners of the Americas program both as dean of the College of Education and more recently as professor. He came to UI in 1963 as dean of the College of Education, and served in that position until 1981, when he resigned to become distinguished professor of educational administration and director of international programs for the college. He holds a B.A. degree from Southwestern College and an M.S. degree from Kansas State University, both in education, and a D.Ed. degree from the University of Kansas. He taught at the University of Colorado, Boulder, before he came to UI. He has written many monographs and reports on quality of teaching and curriculum evaluations. He is a member of the American Association for School Administrators, the Association of Deans of Education in State Universities and Land Grant Colleges, the National Education Association, Phi Kappa Phi, Phi Delta Kappa and the International Council on Education for Teaching. He has been honored with listings in "Presidents and Deans of American Colleges and Universities," "Leaders in Education" and "Who's Who in America."

Richard W. Schermerhorn, Professor of Agricultural Economics and Department Head Emeritus

An expert in agribusiness retires from the University of Idaho this spring. Richard Schermerhorn has taught courses and done research relating to agribusiness during his 18 years here. He came here in 1971, after serving Oklahoma State University for five years. Earlier, he worked at the University of Maryland, Oregon State University and the University of Georgia. He holds an Associate of Arts degree in dairy technology from New York Agricultural and Technical College, Morrisville, N.Y.; B.S. and M.S. degrees in agricultural economics from the University of Georgia; and a Ph.D. degree in agricultural economics from Oregon State University. His work has taken him to Morocco, Libya, Gambia, Trinidad, the Caribbean, Philippines, Jamaica, Japan and Sri Lanka. He has served on many councils and committees concerned with agricultural economics in the Pacific Northwest and in Idaho. He has also been active in university governance, serving on many committees and boards. He has written many scholarly articles for publication in technical journals and has been invited to give presentations at many different conferences and meetings. He is a member of Phi Kappa Phi, Gamma Sigma Delta and Epsilon Sigma Phi. Among his honors are awards from the American Agricultural Economics Association, Associated Students University of Idaho, the Hawaii County Agents Society and the Idaho Cooperative Hall of Fame. He has been an Outstanding Educator of America twice and a finalist in R.M. Wade Excellence in Teaching Award competition.

Francis Seaman, Professor of Philosophy and Department Chair Emeritus

A career that spans four decades of educating University of Idaho students ends this year when Francis Seaman retires. He began teaching philosophy here in 1949 and has served as chairman of the Department of Philosophy since 1964, and director of the General Studies Program since 1974. He holds B.S. degree in chemistry, an M.A. degree in sociology and a Ph.D. degree in philosophy from the University of Michigan. He taught science at Deer Trail, Colo., High School before coming to UI. Seaman is known throughout Latah County for his service to public schools on the Moscow School Board. He has been president of the Northwest Conference on Philosophy and national director of Academic Affairs Administrators. He is a member of the American Philosophical Association, American Society for Aesthetics, Mind Association, Northwest Conference on Philosophy and Philosophy of Science Association. He has written many scholarly articles for publication in a variety of professional journals. Seaman has also given a number of papers at many philosophy conferences. He is a recipient of an Associated Students University of Idaho Outstanding Faculty Award.

Lee A. Sharp, Professor of Range Resources and Department Head Emeritus

The man largely responsible for introducing crested wheatgrass as a primary forage plant on south Idaho rangelands has retired. Lee Sharp came to UI in 1949 as an instructor, teaching courses in range methods and range plants. He organized and began conducting grazing studies soon after his arrival at UI at what is now the Lee A. Sharp Experimental Area in extreme south central Idaho. In the early 1950s, he brought together livestock growers, federal agencies and the university to study the possibilities for crested wheatgrass. He holds B.S. and M.S. degrees from Utah State University and a Ph.D. degree from Oregon State University. He served as academic chairman for Range Resources from 1974 to 1979 and as head of the Department of Range Resources from 1979 to 1982. He has served on the Idaho Rangeland Committee, the Challis Stewardship Committee, the Stanley Stewardship Committee, the Idaho Woolgrowers Forest Criteria Committee and as chairman of the Goals and Objectives for Rangeland Use and Management to the year 2000 subcommittee of the Idaho Rangeland Committee. He is a member of CAST, Phi Kappa Phi, Sigma Xi, Society for Range Management and Xi Sigma Pi. Sharp has prepared many technical articles, presentations and reports for various journals and associations. He has been honored with two Outstanding Faculty Awards by Associated Students University of Idaho, earned the President's Awards from the Idaho Section of the Society for Range Management, Camp Tenders Award from the National Woolgrowers Association, induction into the Southern Idaho Livestock Hall of Fame and several others.

Everett F. Sieckmann, Professor Emeritus of Physics

With 27 years teaching, research and service to the University of Idaho, Everett Sieckmann has retired. He came here as associate professor of physics in 1962 and has taught many of UI's physics courses since then. He has served on a large number of university governance committees and boards and has been advisor for several graduate students. He holds a B.A. degree, with honors, from Doane College, an M.S. degree in chemistry from Florida State University and a Ph.D. degree in solid state physics from Cornell University. Before coming to Idaho, he taught at Cornell University and the University of Kentucky. He spent one year as visiting professor at the University of California, Berkeley, and one summer as a visiting professor to the California Institute of Technology. He has written several scholarly articles for professional journals and prepared many presentations. He is a member of Sigma Xi, the American Physical Society, American Association of Physics Teachers and Idaho Academy of Science, and has been a member of the Board of Directors of the Pacific Northwest Association for College Physics, an AAPT membership representative, a Science News reporter for IAS and is a member of the National Education Association.

Donald W. Sunderman, Professor Emeritus of Agronomy

The developer of eight of the wheat varieties planted in about 14 percent of Idaho's total wheat acreage, Donald Sunderman, has retired. During his 27 years at Idaho, Sunderman has released 28 new wheat varieties, developed to provide maximum production under Idaho growing conditions and maximum resistance to the most common Idaho wheat diseases. He holds B.S., M.S. and Ph.D. degrees in agronomy and plant genetics, from the University of Minnesota. He worked as USDA research agronomist at St. Paul, Minn., before coming to UI's Aberdeen Research and Extension Center. He has been active in wheat quality matters, serving as Idaho's representative to the annual Wheat Quality Conference sponsored by the Utah-Idaho Grain Exchange for 23 years. He has also served on the UI Foundation Seed Committee for four years and led several meetings of wheat workers. He is a member of the American Society of Agronomy, Crop Science Society of America, Western Society of Crop Science and Society of Sigma Xi. He has written many articles for publication in professional journals and has given presentations at a variety of meetings. Among his honors and awards are membership in Gamma Alpha and the Idaho Wheat Commission Distinguished Service Award for 1978. His name is also in several "Who's Who" listings.

Mary Kay McFadden, Associate Director

Jennifer H. Everson, Assistant Director

Each graduating student listed in this commencement program becomes a member of the University of Idaho Alumni Association. The officers and directors of the association congratulate this year's graduates and welcome them as fellow members.

A centennial commemorative medallion is presented to each 1989 degree recipient. The special medal depicts the centennial theme and the landmark Administration building, featured on the centennial logo, on one side and an adaptation of the official seal of the university on the other. The medallions were designed and cast especially for commencement participants in the university's centennial.

Two time capsules full of personal and public items from the university community were sealed and buried April 15. One will be opened in 2039, the other in 2089. The words of those speaking to the Silver and Gold Day gathering, including comments by President Gibb shown here beside the capsules, were recorded and placed in the 50-year container. University engineering students designed and constructed the plexiglas capsules which were buried below the flag pole, east of the Administration building tower.
