1 *Alma Mater, the hope of a pioneer race;
You're fashioned of dreams and of toil,
Your walls and your towers by stout-hearted men
Were raised from the rock and the soil.*

Chorus

*And here we have Idaho,
Winning her way to fame;
Silver and Gold in the sunlight blaze,
And romance lies in her name;
Singing, we're singing of you, ah, proudly too;
All our lives through we'll go singing,
Singing of you, Alma Mater, our Idaho.*

2 *Now ours is the heritage, rich and so full,
The gain of their toil and their tears;
And ours is the fruit, and the harvest is ours,
Oh, Idaho, gift of the years.*

Chorus

*And here we have Idaho,
Winning her way to fame;
Silver and Gold in the sunlight blaze,
And romance lies in her name;
Singing, we're singing of you, ah, proudly too;
All our lives through we'll go singing,
Singing of you, Alma Mater, our Idaho.*

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO PRESIDENT'S MEDALLION

The President's Medallion, was initiated by President Bob Hoover in 1998. Recipients are individuals who have made significant contributions to the cultural, economic, scientific and/or social advancement of Idaho and its people, and have provided exceptional service to the state or nation that has influenced the well being of mankind.

This year's recipients are:

Isabel E. Bond, Director of University of Idaho Upward Bound Program

Isabel Bond has been associated with the Upward Bound Program for nearly 30 years, first as associate director and as director for the last 22 years. Currently, she directs Upward Bound, Upward Bound Math Science, Educational Talent Search, and HOIST.

She has spent much of professional life dedicated to the academic preparation of under-represented high school students, Native Americans in particular. Hundreds of students owe their educational opportunities to her commitment and dedication. In addition to being responsible for the continued funding of the four TRIO Programs at the UI, she also secured funding for three significant University of Idaho programs that support and finance students' college educations. In conjunction with the Nez Perce Tribe, she was active in seeking funding for the Nez Perce horse industry, the Vocational Education Program, the Vocational Rehabilitation Program, and the Nez Perce Language Program.

Ms. Bond serves on advisory boards for the University of Idaho, Lewis-Clark State College, and the Lapwai School District 21st Century Community Learning Center, and is faculty adviser for the Native American Student Association and the American Indian Science and Engineering Society.

In addition, she is a member of the Northwest Association of Special Programs, American Association of University Women, and the Council of Opportunities in Education. She is active in many organizations that support education for minority students.

She is a graduate of the University of Idaho with a bachelor's degree in Home Economics.

Sam Byrd, President of DiversityWorks!

Mr. Byrd has more than 20 years experience in education, training and working with communities of color. He speaks both English and Spanish fluently, is a dynamic public speaker, adept at strategic planning and an expert in diversity issues.

As a community facilitator, Mr. Byrd has been a leader in various Hispanic and other cultural and ethnic group communities and organizations, including the Task Force on Hispanic Education, the US West Teacher Excellence for Our Multi-Ethnic/Multi-Cultural Society, and the Idaho Anne Frank Human Rights Center.

In 1998, Mr. Byrd was awarded the Larry G. Selland Humanitarian Award by the Boise State University Women's Center. He also received the National Howard Swearer Humanitarian Award by the Campus Compact, in recognition of his work to improve the educational opportunities for Hispanic students in Idaho.

DiversityWorks! offers cross-cultural and diversity training programs and consultation services to assist in managing the constant workforce, workplace and demographic changes that can impact business and organizational effectiveness. The company specializes in tailoring efforts to fit an organization's cultural and diversity needs. The company's goal is to create workplaces and communities that are inclusive, where diverse teams work together to develop the global and leadership skills that are imperative for success in the 21st Century.

Keith S. Hinckley, Executive Vice President, Basic American Foods (retired).

Although retired as executive vice president of Basic American Foods, chairman of the Board of Sunspiced, Inc., and chairman of the Supervisory Board of POLBAF in Poland, Keith Hinckley stays busier than ever and has continued his involvement in the University of Idaho's Idaho Falls Center.

His many community activities include having served on the Board of Directors and as chairman of United for Idaho, and as president and member of the Idaho State Board of Education. In addition, he has been a participant in the Governor's Task Force 2000, a member of the Business Advisory Council for Idaho State University, a member of the University of Idaho Foundation, and chairman of the Idaho Falls Education Advisory Council.

The educational programs currently in place in southeastern Idaho are directly attributable to his involvement and commitment. After an unsuccessful attempt to start an advisory board in Idaho Falls, Mr. Hinckley was the person who was able to get the Idaho Falls Education Advisory Council established and turn it into an asset for the universities serving southeastern Idaho. He has spent many hours in committee meetings as an advocate for the universities in Idaho Falls.

Of his many awards, he is listed in Who's Who in America and Who's Who Worldwide. He was named Alpha Kappa Psi Idaho Business Leader of the Year, IEA Idaho Friend of Education, and just last year, received a state of Idaho Governor's Commendation.

An alumnus of the University of Idaho, he received his bachelor's degree in agriculture economics and a master's degree from Utah State University.

Antone Minthorn, Board of Trustees Chairman, Confederated Tribes of the Umatilla Indian Reservation

Antone Minthorn, a Cayuse Indian, has served as chairman of the Board of Trustees for the Confederated Tribes of the Umatilla Indian Reservation since December 1997. In this role as the top elected official for the CTUIR tribal government, he leads a tribe that is known for its cooperative and innovative approach to issues. Prior to being elected board chairman, he spent 15 years as chair of the Tribe's General Council, which is the voting membership.

Before becoming an elected official, he was a staff planner for the Tribe, helping to develop the first Comprehensive Plan, which has effectively guided the Tribe's development and growth for the past 20 years.

Mr. Minthorn has played an influential role in many of the Tribe's successes, including restoration of salmon to the Umatilla River after a 70-year absence, development of a modern reservation economy, and re-acquisition of tribal land.

He is an active member of the Democratic Party, representing Oregon as a delegate at five national Democratic Conventions. He also serves, or has served, on the boards for the Affiliated Tribes of Northwest Indians, Northwest Area Foundation, Oregon Trail Coordinating Council, Oregon Historical Society, Crow's Shadow Institute, and the George St. Denis American Legion Post.

Mr. Minthorn served in the U.S. Marine Corps from 1957-60, then attended Gonzaga University and graduated from Eastern Oregon State College.

Leonard N. "Bud" Purdy, Owner, Purdy Livestock Ranch

Bud Purdy is a third generation rancher who tends about 3,000 head of cattle in the shadow of Hyndman Peak in Picabo, Idaho. Highly respected throughout Idaho, one of his most unique features is that he is not afraid of progress, and his willingness to become involved in support of his industry helps to ensure the healthy future of agriculture for all of Idaho.

In 1995, Bud Purdy, his wife, Ruth, and son, Nick, signed a conservation easement with The Nature Conservancy to protect the 3,473-acre Picabo Livestock Ranch from development. He was recognized by the National Cattlemen's Association 1995 National Environmental Stewardship Award for his many conservation practices.

His insights and experience continue to make a difference to the University of Idaho. He has been a loyal supporter of the UI and has served on the Ag Consulting Council, College of Natural Resources Advisory Council and the UI Foundation. And although he did not graduate from the UI, we are proud to claim his sons, daughter and several grandchildren as alumni.

He lives his commitment to Idaho agriculture and his community by assuming responsibility for leadership in a wide variety of organizations, including the Blaine County Medical Center, National BLM Advisory Council, Idaho Cattlemen's Association, Idaho Rangeland Committee, and the Idaho Association of Commerce and Industry, among others.

Mr. Purdy has received many awards, including the Society of Range Management Top Hand Award, the Soil Conservation Service 50th Anniversary Award, Forest Service 75th Anniversary Award, the Society of Range Management Outstanding Achievement Award, and the Governor's Lifetime Achievement in Agriculture Award.

He was presented with a UI Honorary Doctor of Natural Resources degree in 1978. He was inducted into the Southern Idaho Livestock Hall of Fame and recognized as Idaho Cattleman of the Year in 1987.

H O N O R A R Y D E G R E E S

Honorary degrees may be awarded to a person deserving of honor by virtue of scholarly distinction, noteworthy public service, or significant contributions to the state of Idaho. In the selection of candidates for honorary degrees, preference is given to those who are Idaho residents or UI graduates.

Austin H. Kiplinger, publisher, journalist and author. Austin H. Kiplinger is chairman of the Kiplinger Washington Editors and editor emeritus of The Kiplinger Washington Letter, the most widely-read business and economics forecasting publication in the world. His career has spanned more than five decades as a reporter, broadcast commentator and editor, specializing in business and political affairs.

His full-time reporting career began with the San Francisco Chronicle, following earlier part-time assignments with the Ithaca (N.Y.) Journal and the Associated Press. After World War II, in which he served as a Navy aviator in the South Pacific, he helped launch Changing Times, the nation's first magazine of personal money management, now titled Kiplinger's Personal Finance Magazine.

In 1948, Kiplinger became the daily front-page columnist of the Chicago Journal of Commerce. During the 1950s, he was a Chicago newscaster for the ABC and NBC television networks and was part of the ABC team whose coverage of the 1952 political conventions in Chicago won the Peabody Award for distinguished television journalism.

He rejoined the Kiplinger Washington Editors in 1956 as executive editor of The Kiplinger Letter and succeeded his father, W. M. Kiplinger, as editor-in-chief in 1961. Kiplinger is now joined in the family business by his two sons, Todd and Knight.

He is co-author of "Boom and Inflation Ahead", "Washington Now", "The Exiting '80s", "America in the Global '90s", and "Kiplinger's Looking Ahead".

Kiplinger is chairman emeritus of the Board of Trustees of Cornell University and a trustee of Tudor Place Foundation, Federal City Council, the National Symphony Orchestra and the National Press Foundation.

In recognition of a life-long commitment to journalistic excellence, the University of Idaho is proud to confer upon Austin H. Kiplinger, a most distinguished citizen, the degree of Doctor of Administrative Science.

Katsunari "Katsi" Toyoda, international marketing consultant and entrepreneur.

Until his death, Katsunari Toyoda was president and CEO of Tokoyo-based Toyoda International Sales, Inc., an import-export company specializing in serving the energy industries by providing engineering and maintenance services, engineered hardware and parts on an international level. He later established a sister branch in Tulsa, Oklahoma. He also was a senior consultant for the Toyoda Corporation, an international marketing and consulting company.

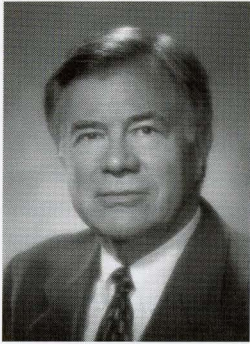

Katsi Toyoda was one of the first foreign exchange students from Japan to the United States and attended high school in Ohio. He graduated from Adelbert College of Western Reserve University and completed graduate work at the University of Tulsa, and the graduate schools of business at both New York University and Harvard University.

For 30 years, Toyoda made many contributions to agriculture in Idaho by establishing excellent working relationships between Idaho agri-businesses and Japanese markets. He believed that partnerships in international relations were a benefit to all involved. He served as a representative of the Idaho Department of Commerce and the State of Idaho Trade Office. In addition, he served as the Japanese representative to Idaho for the American State Offices Association. In 1969, he began representing the U.S. Dry Pea and Lentil Council in Pacific Rim countries. At the time, the Pacific Rim was an underdeveloped market for peas and lentils. Today, Asia is the number one commercial dry pea market. Toyoda was instrumental in developing the Asian pea market for U.S. growers, and he developed a strong and vital relationship with the University of Idaho College of Agriculture.

He always loved the world of academia and lectured as a visiting professor of international business in the College of Agriculture in the 1980s. He had a desire to help students develop their abilities and knowledge to enhance the future of international relations. He has been a great representative of the State of Idaho on the international level, and a friend of the University of Idaho.

In recognition of the commitment to agriculture in the State of Idaho and to international trade, the University of Idaho is proud to confer upon Katsunari Toyoda, the posthumous degree of Doctor of Administrative Science.

The Honorable Stephen S. Trott, judge, attorney and community leader. President Ronald Reagan nominated Stephen Trott to the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals in 1987. The U.S. Senate confirmed his appointment, and he was sworn in on April 19, 1988.

Prior to assuming the Boise-based federal judgeship, he was the Associate Attorney General of the United States, the third-ranking position of the Department of Justice. He also served as the Assistant Attorney General of the Criminal Division and as the U.S. Attorney for the Central District of California.

Judge Trott was a prosecutor for the Office of the District Attorney of Los Angeles County from 1966 to 1981, serving as Chief Deputy District Attorney during that time. He also held the positions of Head Deputy of the Organized Crime and Narcotics Division, Legislative Advocate, and Senior Trial Deputy. In addition, he served on the faculty of the National College of District Attorneys in Houston, Texas, and is a member of the American College of Trial Lawyers.

A native of Glen Ridge, New Jersey, Judge Trott holds a degree in French Literature from Wesleyan University; a law degree from Harvard Law School; and an honorary Doctor of Laws degree from Santa Clara University. He is currently president of the Children’s Home Society in Boise, as well as the Boise Philharmonic Association.

Judge Trott is an active member of “The Highwaymen,” a folk music group best remembered for its 1960s gold record hits “Michael Row the Boat Ashore” and “Cottonfields.”

In recognition of his commitment to a safe environment for all citizens of the United States and to continuing legal education, the University of Idaho is proud to confer upon the Honorable Stephen S. Trott, a most distinguished citizen, the degree Doctor of Laws.

Bill Wassmuth, advocate for human rights and diversity. For well over two decades, Bill Wassmuth has been a powerful voice for human rights and dignity in the state, region and nation and a leader against the culture of hate. His efforts have countered the evils of racism and bigotry in our society.

As a Catholic priest and pastor in Coeur d’Alene, heading the Kootenai County Task Force on Human Relations, he became involved in the struggle to counter the impact of the Aryan Nations. Because of his leadership, he became a target of a bomb attack on his home. Recently, he with Tom Alibrandi published the book, “Hate Is My Neighbor”, recounting this experience. With his help, Idaho passed some of the most progressive hate crimes legislation in the country at the time to counter harassments, laws that attached severe penalty to racially-motivated crimes.

Bill Wassmuth served as Executive Director of the Northwest Coalition Against Malicious Harassment until 1999. That organization is now the Northwest Coalition for Human Dignity working against bigotry in the states of Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Oregon, Washington and Wyoming.

His many honors include being named the Idaho Statesman Citizen of the Year, and recipient of the Gleitsman Award for People Who Make a Difference, the National Education Association’s Martin Luther King, Jr. Memorial Award, Rosa Parks Award of the American Association of Affirmative Action, and the KOMO/PEMCO Hometown Hero Award.

He is considered a leading authority on hate crimes, racism, and white supremacist movements and is a frequent speaker on the causes about which he feels so passionately. His life demonstrates an abiding passion for and dedication to the cause of human rights as well as a depth of understanding and steady activism.

Seattle Times columnist Mindy Cameron distilled his contribution to our lives in 1999 in an article regarding a parade sponsored by the Bonner County Human Rights Coalition: “it was a tiny gesture, inspired by Bill Wassmuth and hundreds of others in North Idaho who are working quietly and effective—in the schools, in community events, in local businesses, in outreach efforts—to confront hate and smother it with acceptance and respect for all.”

In recognition of a lifetime committed to human rights and dignity, the University of Idaho is proud to confer upon Bill Wassmuth, a most distinguished citizen, the degree of Doctor of Humane Letters.

By noting certain features of a person's apparel, it is possible to learn several things about his or her academic status: the level of the degree attained, the branch of learning in which it was earned, and the institution.

Gowns—

The gowns differ according to the level of the degree. The sleeves are the principal indicator—gowns of doctors have round, bell-shaped sleeves; those of masters have long, closed sleeves that now open at the wrist; and bachelors have long, pointed sleeves. Doctoral gowns have distinctive velvet facing around the collar and down the front and three velvet bars on each sleeve.

Hoods—

The size of the hood also varies according to the degree. Although not a part of current academic apparel, hoods of bachelors are three feet long. A master's hood is three and one-half feet long, and a doctor's is four feet in length and has side panels. It is from the colors adorning the hood that one can learn two other facts: the hood is lined with the official colors of the college or university conferring the degree (silver and gold, of course, signifying the University of Idaho) and it is trimmed with velvet of a color denoting the wearer's branch of learning. Following are the colors that correspond to the advanced degrees granted by the University of Idaho:

Doctor of Philosophy .....	dark blue
Doctor of Education, Specialist in Education, and Master of Education .....	light blue
Juris Doctor .....	purple
Doctor of Veterinary Medicine (conferred through Washington State University) .....	gray
Master of Accountancy .....	drab
Master of Arts .....	white
Master of Science and Master of Natural Resources .....	golden yellow
Master of Architecture .....	violet
Master of Business Administration .....	dusk
Master of Engineering .....	orange
Master of Fine Arts .....	brown
Master of Music .....	pink
Master of Public Administration .....	peacock blue

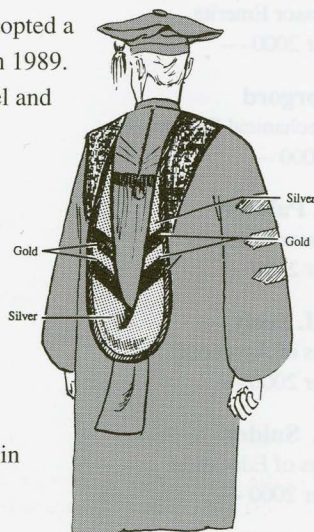

Colors for disciplines not cited are:

Agriculture .....	maize
Dentistry .....	lilac
Economics .....	copper
Family and Consumer Sciences .....	maroon
Forestry .....	russet
Journalism .....	crimson
Library Science .....	lemon
Medicine .....	green
Nursing .....	apricot
Pharmacy .....	olive green
Physical Education .....	sage green
Public Health .....	salmon pink
Social Work .....	citron
Speech .....	silver gray
Theology .....	scarlet

Honor Cords—

Honor Cords, worn around the neck and hanging loosely down the front, identify students who are graduating with honors: bronze cords designate graduation cum laude (with distinction); silver, magna cum laude (with great distinction); and gold, summa cum laude (with highest distinction). The cords are provided by the University of Idaho and are worn on this one occasion only.

The University of Idaho adopted a doctoral gown of its own in 1989. The silver gown has a panel and sleeve bars of black velvet outlined in antique gold. The beret styled soft cap is patterned after the Cambridge version instead of the traditional Oxford-style mortar-board. The cap and gown were designed by Emeritus Professor Edmund Chavez in the university's centennial year and is worn today by faculty serving as officials at the university commencements.

The MACE, a heavy staff or club used in medieval times for breaking armor, acquired a ceremonial function in 13th century France as a symbol of secular authority. The University of Idaho mace, designed by Edmund M. Chavez, professor emeritus, with metal work by Idaho artist Ray Goodner, was used for the first time at the centennial commencement. It is 32 inches long, made of walnut, and encircled with bands of Idaho gold and silver in which Idaho garnets and opals are set. The head is embellished with silver and gold representations of camas plants and syringa flowers.

To enrich education through diversity, the University of Idaho does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, religion, sex, age, disability, or status as a Vietnam-era veteran in employment or in admission to or the operation of its educational program and activities, as required by state and federal laws and regulation. Inquiries may be directed to the university's affirmative action office.

Cry Room

Photography

Image Studios, 611 E. First/P.O. Box 9699, Moscow (208-882-5594), will provide the photography for the 2001 Commencement. The studio will photograph each student and mail a free color proof to each student when an address is provided.

The center will also provide additional copies of the tape upon request at a nominal charge.
