GUEST SPEAKERS

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO – MOSCOW

Paul G. Risser, Chief Executive Office for the Oklahoma State System of Higher Education

Paul Risser is widely recognized as a scientist, professor and higher education administrator. He has gained national recognition as a thoughtful and influential leader.

Chancellor Risser is the chief executive officer for the Oklahoma State System of Higher Education. He leads a state system comprised of 25 state colleges and universities, nine constituent agencies, two higher education centers and independent colleges and universities coordinated with the state system. Risser provides leadership on matters relating to standards for Oklahoma higher education, courses and programs of study, budget allocations for institutions, fees and tuition, and strategic planning. He is responsible for an annual higher education budget in excess of $1.4 billion. Risser recently was selected as the Acting Director of the Smithsonian's National Museum of Natural History in Washington, D.C.

Before assuming the Oklahoma chancellor position in 2003, Risser was president of Oregon State University, where he led the university to record enrollment and impressive growth over a seven-year span. He previously served as president of Miami University in Oxford, Ohio; provost and vice president for academic affairs at the University of New Mexico; and chief of the Illinois Natural History Survey. He has held teaching positions at the University of Oklahoma, the University of New Mexico, Miami University and Oregon State University.

Risser earned his doctorate in botany and soils and a master's degree in botany from the University of Wisconsin and a bachelor's degree in biology from Grinnell College.

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO – COEUR D'ALENE

Sue Thilo, member of the Idaho State Board of Education and Board of Regents of the University of Idaho

Coeur d'Alene resident Sue Thilo was appointed to the Idaho State Board of Education in May 2004 by then-Governor Dirk Kempthorne. As a board member, she is responsible for the general supervision, governance and control of all state higher educational institutions and the public school systems.

Mrs. Thilo also serves on the board of directors for the Idaho Youth Ranch in Boise; TESH, Inc., a non-profit organization in Coeur d'Alene that provides programs and services to provide independent living opportunities for individuals with disabilities; and the North Idaho College Foundation. She has been active with Coeur d'Alene School District and served on the board of directors of the Excel Foundation that offers grants to benefit students in the district's schools. She also has been involved with Rotary, the Coeur d'Alene Area Chamber of Commerce, Junior Achievement and the United Way.

Thilo earned her bachelor's degree from Iowa State University.

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO – IDAHO FALLS

Harold S. Blackman, Deputy Assistant Laboratory Director of the Science and Technology Directorate, Idaho National Laboratory, and Interim Director for the Center for Advanced Energy Studies, Idaho National Laboratory.

Harold Blackman is the deputy associate laboratory director of the Science and Technology Directorate and interim director for the Center for Advanced Energy Studies (CAES) at the Idaho National Laboratory. He is involved in some of the nation's most pressing energy issues – including the development of America's alternative fuels and energy systems, advanced energy storage, hydrogen economy and transportation systems, closing the nuclear fuel cycle, critical energy infrastructure and water resources, and environmental consequences of energy development and use.

Dr. Blackman is a fellow of the Human Factors Society, a member of the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers and the American Psychological Association. His research interests include human reliability analysis, display design and evaluation, mental models for complex human performance, and human error.

In 1997, Dr. Blackman received a NOVA technical excellence award from Lockheed Martin Corp. for his significant contribution in the field of human factors engineering to improve the safety and reliability of aviation and nuclear industry operations.

Dr. Blackman earned his doctorate in educational psychology with specialization in quantitative methods; his master's degree in educational psychology; and his bachelor's degree in secondary education with a biological sciences major, all from Arizona State University.

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO – BOISE

Lawrence Wasden '85, Idaho Attorney General

Lawrence Wasden is Idaho's 32nd Attorney General, and was elected to a second term in office in November 2006.

Attorney General Wasden is an 18-year veteran of the Office of the Attorney General. He previously served as chief of staff to the attorney general, deputy chief of staff and as a deputy attorney general representing the Idaho State Tax Commission. He also has served as a deputy prosecuting attorney in Canyon County and as prosecuting attorney in Owyhee County.

On the regional and national level, Wasden is chair of the Conference of Western Attorneys General and president-elect of the National Association of Attorneys General.

He served as co-chair of the NAAG Tobacco Committee from July 2004 through June 2006 and is one of two state attorneys general serving on The American Legacy Foundation's board of directors. The landmark national tobacco settlement created the American Legacy Foundation to reduce youth tobacco smoking and prevent smoking-related disease in the United States.

Wasden received his juris doctorate from the University of Idaho and was admitted to the Idaho State Bar in 1985. He earned a bachelor's degree in political science from Brigham Young University.

Attorney General Wasden is a founding member, and past chairman, of the Government and Public Lawyers Section of the Idaho State Bar. He serves on the Boise State University Department of Criminal Justice Advisory Council and on the board of directors for the Treasure Valley Reading Foundation.

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO – MOSCOW, COLLEGE OF LAW

Deborah Leff, President, The Public Welfare Foundation

Deborah Leff is President of the Public Welfare Foundation, a national foundation with assets of more than $500 million based in Washington, D.C. Established in 1947, the Public Welfare Foundation has long been committed to improving the lives of disadvantaged people by ensuring fundamental rights and opportunities.

Prior to assuming the Foundation presidency, Ms. Leff held a variety of leadership positions in the non-profit, private and public sectors. From 2001–2006, she was Director of the John F. Kennedy Presidential Library and Museum in Boston. Before that, she served as President and CEO of America's Second Harvest, the nation's largest domestic hunger relief organization, where she was a key national spokesperson on hunger, poverty and welfare reform. From 1992–1999, Ms. Leff was President and a member of the Board of Directors of the Chicago-based Joyce Foundation, a private, policy-oriented foundation with assets of $800 million.

During much of the 1980s and early 1990s, Ms. Leff was senior producer of three ABC News programs, "Nightline," "World News Tonight," and "20/20." Her coverage of domestic and international issues won numerous national awards, including the Emmy and the Alfred I. duPont-Columbia University awards. Ms. Leff has also held several positions with the federal government, including trial attorney with the Civil Rights Division of the U.S. Department of Justice and Director of Public Affairs at the Federal Trade Commission.

Ms. Leff received an A.B. cum laude from Princeton University's Woodrow Wilson School, where she was named a University Scholar. She earned her J.D. from the University of Chicago Law School and received an honorary doctorate in humane letters from Lake Forest College.

HONORARY DEGREES

Honorary degrees may be awarded to a person deserving of honor by virtue of scholarly distinction, noteworthy public service or significant contributions to the state of Idaho. In the selection of candidates for honorary degrees, preference is given to those who are Idaho residents or University of Idaho graduates.

Former Idaho Gov. John V. Evans has devoted his career to government service. Immediately following his graduation from Stanford in 1951, he entered politics; he was elected to four terms in the Idaho Senate, served six years as mayor of Malad City, and was elected lieutenant governor and governor of Idaho. In 1987, he retired from politics and joined D.L. Evans Bank, founded by his grandfather, as president. John Evans will receive an Honorary Doctor of Law Degree, L.L.D..

Laird Noh '60 recently retired from the Idaho Senate after 24 years, 22 of those years as chair of the Resources and Environment Committee. Prior to election to the Idaho Senate in 1980, Noh was active in the leadership of the livestock industry at the local, state and national level. Today, he serves as chairman of the board of the Rocky Mountain Sheep Marketing Association and as a member of the executive committee of the Idaho Nature Conservancy. He holds a bachelor's degree in business and animal husbandry from the University of Idaho and a master's degree in business administration from the University of Chicago. Laird Noh will receive an Honorary Doctor of Natural Resources Degree.

Rotchford L. "Rotchy" Barker '61 is the former director and honorary life member of the Chicago Board of Trade. During his career as a commodities and futures trader, Barker worked at stock exchanges in New York City and Chicago. He was the president and principal owner of Agra Trading, Inc. until the company was acquired in 1970 by Gill and Duffus, a United Kingdom holding company. He also has served as director of Agra Trading, Inc. and is on the board of directors of American Ecology, Colorado Beef, Inc. and Idaho Power. He received a degree in business administration from the University of Idaho. He is a member of the University's Alumni Association Hall of Fame and continues his life-long service to the University by providing current students with business and trading expertise. Rochford Barker will receive an Honorary Doctor of Administrative Science Degree.

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO PRESIDENT'S MEDALLION

The President's Medallion is presented to individuals who have made significant contributions to the cultural, economic, scientific and/or social advancement of Idaho and its people, and have provided exceptional service to the state or nation that has influenced the well-being of humankind. At the May 2007 Commencement, we are honoring four extremely deserving individuals.

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO – MOSCOW

Rev. Happy Watkins, pastor and community action activist

"If it's to be, it's up to me," is a favorite saying of Rev. Happy Watkins, pastor of the New Hope Baptist Church in Spokane, Wash.

Rev. Watkins lives by those words, and has been a significant force in building better communities in the Inland Northwest.

He was born and raised in the Bronx in New York City. Watkins joined the U.S. Air Force in 1961 and was stationed at Fairchild Air Force Base in Spokane, where he met and married his wife, Etta Jean.

After his discharge from the Air Force, the Watkins' stayed in Spokane, and raised four sons. Watkins went to work to support his family as a grocery clerk, school bus driver, and a salesman for life insurance, business machines and pharmaceuticals. He also opened a restaurant, worked in security, and then spent 13 years as a chaplain for Deaconess and Holy Family hospitals.

In 1982, Rev. Watkins joined New Hope Baptist Church in Spokane as assistant pastor, and now serves as pastor.

His community activities include PTA, former vice president of the United Way board, member and past president of the Martin Luther King Center, and past president and assistant president of the Spokane chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. Watkins was an organizer of Spokane's first Martin Luther King Jr. Day march in 1986, the year Pres. Reagan signed the bill to authorize the national holiday.

Rev. Watkins also is a frequent participant in other Martin Luther King Jr. Day observances throughout the Inland Northwest. He presents King's "I Have A Dream," speech, and also urges the need for people to sit at the table of brotherhood and gain an understanding of each other.

But his favorite quote from Rev. King is, "He had the audacity to believe that people everywhere should have three meals for their bodies, culture and education for their minds, and dignity, equality and freedom for their spirits."

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO – COEUR D'ALENE

Anna "Patty Duke" Pearce, Actress, Author and Mental Health Spokeswoman

"I subscribe to the theory that says you're a product of all your experiences," says Anna Pearce.

Her life experiences have produced quite a story. Anna Pearce, better known to the world as Patty Duke, experienced self-loathing and struggles with a mental illness and suicide attempts during her life, but has emerged as a mental health speaker and advocate, and as a brilliant actress. She is an inspiration to us all.

Patty Duke first gained critical attention as a 12-year-old when she played Helen Keller in the Broadway play, "The Miracle Worker." Four years later, the play was made into a movie, and Duke received an Academy Award for Best Supporting Actress. She then appeared in "The Patty Duke Show," one of the most popular television programs of the 1960s.

Patty Duke's life on television was as close to perfect as one could get. In real life, however, things were not perfect.

In 1987, she published her autobiography, "Call Me Anna," and announced that she was a manic-depressive who had found a happy ending. She became a mental health spokeswoman, and she continued to act in movies, television and on stage. In 1992, she published a second book, "A Brilliant Madness: Living with Manic Depressive Illness."

In 1990, Anna and her husband, Mike Pearce, and their family moved from Los Angeles to northern Idaho. She continued to act on television and in movies, and her resume now lists more than a dozen feature films and 90 movies for television. She has received three Emmy Awards, two Golden Globe Awards and two People's Choice Awards, in addition to numerous awards for her work in the mental health field.

Anna Pearce is an enthusiastic supporter of area college and regional theater and has appeared in a number of productions in northern Idaho and eastern Washington. Earlier this spring, she presented a one-woman show, "Billion Dollar Baby," as part of the University of Idaho's Festival of New Works.

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO – IDAHO FALLS

William T. Holden '58, alumnus and volunteer

After earning his degree at the University of Idaho in 1958, William (Bill) T. Holden returned to southeastern Idaho to work in the insurance industry. His support for, and love of, the University has continued to grow over the more than 50 years since he first was introduced to the University.

Bill has served in various capacities for his alma mater. In 1967, he was the southeastern Idaho chairman for the fund to raise money for a performing arts center in Moscow. He was Alumni Board president in 1974-75, National Vandal Booster president for 1982-83, a member of the Vandal Scholarship Fund board from 2003-05 and the president of the Idaho Falls Vandal Boosters for many years. Bill is active with the southeastern Idaho Alumni Association. Currently, he is a member of the Past Presidents of Vandal Boosters Board and the College of Business and Economics Advisory Board. He is a trustee of the Leland Beckman Foundation that funds two full scholarships to students in the College of Agricultural and Life Sciences and the College of Law. The Beckman Foundation also is a generous supporter of the Vandal Scholarship Fund.

Bill is well known for his statewide recruiting efforts on behalf of the University. Among the events that he has either organized, sponsored or hosted are coaching clinics for football and basketball coaches, alumni and Vandal Booster banquets, football game screening luncheons, and talks at service organizations. Bill has arranged for buses to take eastern Idaho high school students to Moscow to attend the Borah Symposium and for private aircraft to fly potential students to the main campus for visits and tours. Bill is a frequent visitor to the Moscow campus, and logs more than 1,100 miles each trip.

Bill was the Vandal Booster of the Year in 1977-78 and the Vandal Booster Outstanding Member in 1988. He was recognized for loyalty, volunteerism and service as a Jim Lyle Award winner. In his own words: "Not a day goes by that I am not actively involved in something related to the University of Idaho...one of my finest decisions was going to the University of Idaho. It has provided the greatest amount of enjoyment that I have ever known."

The University of Idaho is a family affair in the Holden family. Bill's son, Brad Ball, and daughters, Suzanne Ruza and Julie Hawking, are also alumni. Another son, Will Holden, currently is a student at Idaho.

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO – BOISE

The Servicemen and Servicewomen of the Idaho National Guard, accepted by Major General Lawrence Lafrenz, Commanding General of the Idaho National Guard

The University of Idaho recognizes the servicemen and servicewomen of the Idaho National Guard for their exceptional service to the state and nation. The University takes great pride in honoring these men and women for the contributions and sacrifices they have made to defend our freedoms.

In June 2004, nearly 2,300 soldiers in the 116th Brigade Combat Team deployed to Kirkuk, Iraq, in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom III. The 18-month deployment was the largest deployment in Idaho National Guard history. The human cost was high; 11 Idaho servicemen died in the line of duty in Iraq.

In late February 2006, the 183rd Aviation Battalion deployed to Afghanistan in support of Operation Enduring Freedom with approximately 200 soldiers and 16 helicopters. In Afghanistan, they engaged in combat missions in Apache helicopters, troop and equipment transport and provided medical care to soldiers and Afghan civilians. The unit was mobilized for more than a year and returned home on March 1, 2007.

The Idaho National Guard was created in 1890 and first saw service in The Philippines in 1898 during the War with Spain.

The Guard has seen action in World War I, World War II, Korea, the Berlin Crisis, Vietnam, Bosnia and Kuwait. Units also have provided assistance to the state of Idaho during such times of crisis as flooding and forest fires.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

ALUMNI HALL OF FAME INDUCTEES 2007

The purpose of the Alumni Hall of Fame Award is to recognize living alumni who have achieved national or international distinction by their accomplishments and leadership.

Keith Riffle of McCall and Bellevue, Wash., is a 1962 and '63 graduate from the College of Business and Economics. He is owner and president of Northwest Satellite Network Investments. Riffle is the past president of the University of Idaho Foundation and was a member of the Alumni Relations Board of Directors. Keith and his wife, Patricia '63, served on the Campaign for Idaho steering committee. He also volunteers considerable time to other organizations, including Northwest Gift Child Association and the Seattle Youth Symphony.

Sharlene Gage of Detroit, Mich., is a 1964 and '66 graduate in mathematics from the College of Letters and Science, which is now within the College of Science. Gage spent more than three decades at the Ford Motor Company. Upon retirement in 1999, she was a corporate finance manager within the employee cost analysis division. Gage has devoted herself to a variety of community volunteer activities, including Goodwill Industries, the University of Idaho's Martin Peace Institute and the YWCA.

Kirby (Noland) Dyess of Beaverton, Ore., is a 1968 graduate in physics from the College of Letters and Science, which is now within the College of Science. Dyess is one of the first women to earn a degree in physics from the University of Idaho. In 2003, she retired as corporate vice president and director of operations for Intel Capital after nearly 30 years of service. She now is leading her own investment group, Austin Capital Management, providing seed money to start-up companies such as Blue Water Technologies, Inc., of Hayden, Idaho. It's about investing in the future. "I can always look back and say, 'I helped that company in the very beginning stages.' It can be very rewarding work."

D. John Thornton of Boise, is a 1970 graduate from the College of Business and Economics, and a '73 graduate from the College of Law. He has developed a successful law, estate and wealth planning practice, which encompasses a broad range of estate and tax planning, corporate, partnership, post-mortem tax planning, valuation and tax controversy matters. Thornton has lectured on estate planning and advanced estate planning and wealth planning techniques in association with the American Bar Association. He volunteers his time to numerous civic and charitable activities. In addition, Thornton was an active leader in the University of Idaho's successful Campaign for Idaho, serving as co-chair, in an effort that raised more than $125 million.

Degrees Conferred Earlier

*August 18, 2006

December 15, 2006

The appearance of a name in this program is presumptive evidence of graduation and graduation honors; it must not in any sense be regarded as conclusive. The academic transcript, signed and sealed by the proper university officers, remains the official testimony of the possession of the degree.

MEDICAL EDUCATION PROGRAMS

WASHINGTON-WYOMING-ALASKA-MONTANA-IDAHO PROGRAM IN MEDICAL EDUCATION

Established in 1971. Andrew L. Turner, Ph.D., Director

Idaho students receiving Doctorates in Medicine from the University of Washington through participation in the WWAMI Medical Education Program:

Alisa Baxter, Eagle
Jeffrey Boyer, Idaho Falls
Philip Cowmey, Boise
Jason Dalling, Sugar City
Levi Deters, Kootenai
Kevin Gilbert, Preston
Luke Grauke, Moscow

Tyler Harris, McCall
Shawn Hemenway, Fruitland
Forrest Hill, Idaho Falls
Jared Lee, Rexburg
Brian Lofgran, Rexburg
Kerry Loveland, Boise
Connor Quinn, Kootenai

In the WWAMI Medical Education Program, offered by the University of Washington School of Medicine and selected universities and communities in Washington, Wyoming, Alaska, Montana and Idaho, medical students from Idaho receive the first year of their medical training at the University of Idaho. Students attend classes at the University of Idaho and Washington State University, thus benefiting from a large group of instructors and varied selection of elective courses; laboratories and other facilities for individual work are available at both institutions. First-year students also have the opportunity to work with local physician-preceptors. Third and fourth year clinical rotations are also available in Idaho.

WASHINGTON-IDAHO REGIONAL PROGRAM IN VETERINARY MEDICINE

Established in 1974. Carl W. Hunt, Head of Animal and Veterinary Science.

Idaho students receiving Doctorates in Veterinary Medicine from the Washington State University College of Veterinary Medicine through participation in the WOI Veterinary Medical Education Program:

Thomas W. Bergstrom, Gooding
Brittney Blount, Downey
Jeremiah A. Burnett, Moore
Patricia S. Dowell, Grand View
Samantha M. Lane, Boise
Tony J. Parsons, Blackfoot

Jamie M. Rantala, Chubbuck
Laura M. Scribner, Blackfoot
Kurt T. Selberg, Post Falls
Kelly B. Shawcroft, Moscow
Chase W. Van Orden, Victor
Joshua M. Woolsey, Moscow

The University of Idaho cooperates with Washington State University in a program of veterinary medical education, research and service. In the program, students from Idaho take the first three years of professional training in veterinary medicine at Washington State University; faculty members from UI and WSU offer instruction in the professional and academic curricula. In the fourth year of the program, students receive part of the clinical training at the Caldwell, Idaho, veterinary medical facility.

By observing certain features of the academic apparel, it is possible to learn several things about the academic status of the scholar: the level of the degree attained, the branch of learning in which it was earned, and the college or university conferring the degree.

Gowns –

The gowns differ according to the level of the degree. The sleeves are the principal indicator —gowns of bachelors have pointed sleeves; those of masters have oblong sleeves with an arc cut away at the front; and doctors have round, bell-shaped sleeves. Bachelors and masters gowns are untrimmed. Doctoral gowns have distinctive velvet facing down the front and three velvet bars on each sleeve.

Caps –

The color of the tassel worn on the cap varies with the level of degree. The bachelor's tassel represents the color appropriate to the major field of study; the masters and specialists tassels are black; and the doctoral tassels are old gold.

Hoods –

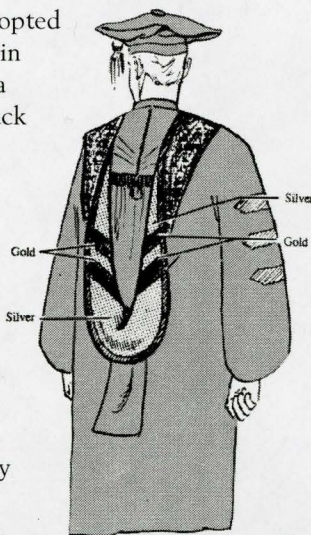

The length of the hood also varies according to the level of degree. The bachelor's gown is worn without a hood. A master's hood is three and one-half feet long, and a doctor's hood is four feet in length and has panels at the sides. It is from the colors adorning the hood that one can learn two other facts. Lining- the hood is lined with the official color or colors of the college or university conferring the degree (silver and gold, signifying the University of Idaho). Trimming- the hood is trimmed with velvet of a color appropriate to the wearer's branch of learning. For example, the trimming for the degree of Master of Science in Agriculture is maize, representing agriculture, rather than golden yellow, representing science. (In the case of the Doctor of Philosophy degree, the dark blue color is used, representing the mastery of the discipline of learning and scholarship, regardless of the branch of learning.) Colors associated with the different disciplines are as follows:

Architecture (MArch)	Violet	Medicine	Green
Agriculture	Maize	Music	Pink
Arts, Letters, Humanities	White	Nursing	Apricot
Commerce, Accountancy, Business	Drab	Oratory (Speech)	Silver Gray
Dentistry	Lilac	Pharmacy	Olive Green
Economics	Copper	Philosophy	Dark Blue
Education	Light Blue	Physical Education	Sage Green
Engineering	Orange	Public Administration	Peacock Blue
Fine Arts	Brown	Public Health	Salmon Pink
Forestry	Russet	Science	Golden Yellow
Journalism	Crimson	Social Work	Citron
Law	Purple	Theology	Scarlet
Library Science	Lemon	Veterinary Science (DVM)	Gray

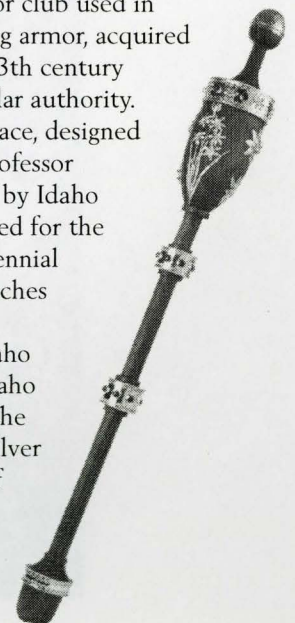

Honor Cords –

Honor Cords, worn around the neck and hanging loosely down the front, identify students who are graduating with honors: gold, summa cum laude (with highest distinction); silver, magna cum laude (with great distinction); and bronze cords designate graduation cum laude (with distinction). The cords are provided by the University of Idaho and are worn on this one occasion only.

The University of Idaho adopted a doctoral gown of its own in 1989. The silver gown has a panel and sleeve bars of black velvet outlined in antique gold. The beret styled soft cap is patterned after the Cambridge version instead of the traditional Oxford-style mortarboard. The cap and gown were designed by Emeritus Professor Edmund Chavez in the university's centennial year and is worn today by faculty serving as officials at the university commencements.

The MACE, a heavy staff or club used in medieval times for breaking armor, acquired a ceremonial function in 13th century France as a symbol of secular authority. The University of Idaho mace, designed by Edmund M. Chavez, professor emeritus, with metal work by Idaho artist Ray Goodner, was used for the first time at the 1989 centennial commencement. It is 32 inches long, made of walnut, and encircled with bands of Idaho gold and silver in which Idaho garnets and opals are set. The head is embellished with silver and gold representations of camas plants and syringa flowers.

To enrich education through diversity, the University of Idaho does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, religion, sex, age, disability, or status as a Vietnam-era veteran in employment or in admission to or the operation of its educational program and activities, as required by state and federal laws and regulation. Inquiries may be directed to the university's Human Rights Compliance Office.

"HERE WE HAVE IDAHO"

1 Alma Mater, the hope of a pioneer race;
You're fashioned of dreams and of toil,
Your walls and your towers by stout-hearted men
Were raised from the rock and the soil.

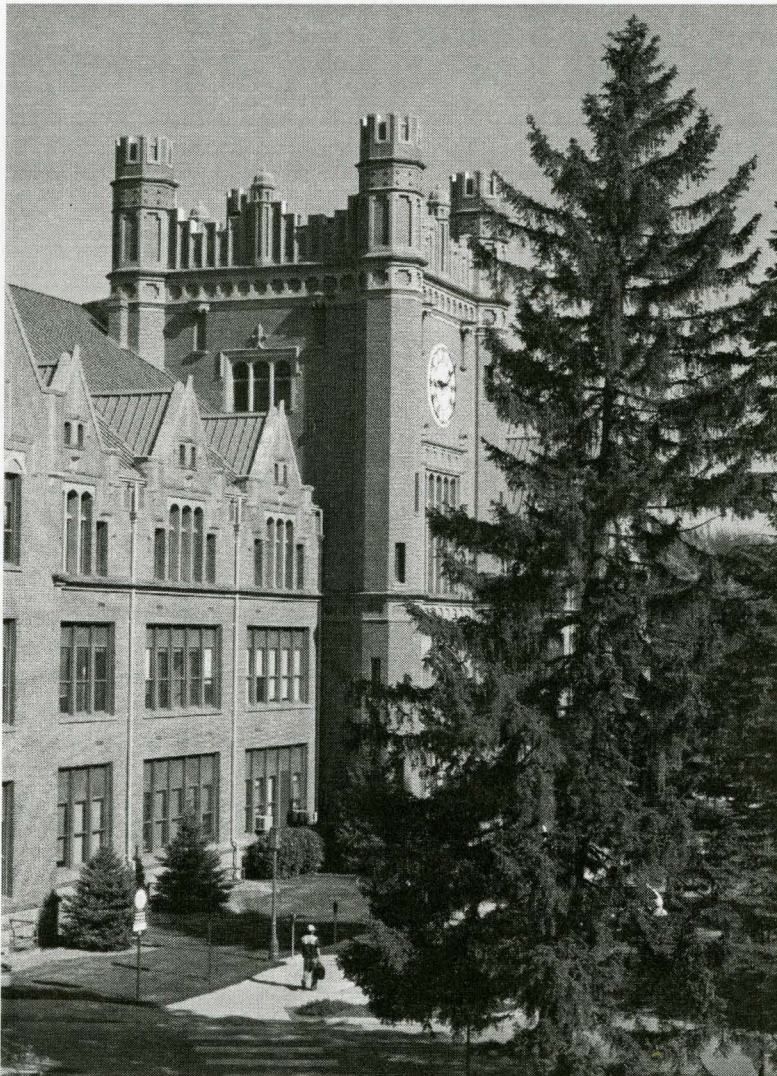

Chorus

And here we have Idaho,
Winning her way to fame;
Silver and Gold in the sunlight blaze,
And romance lies in her name;
Singing, we're singing of you, ah, proudly too;
All our lives through we'll go singing,
Singing of you, Alma Mater, our Idaho.

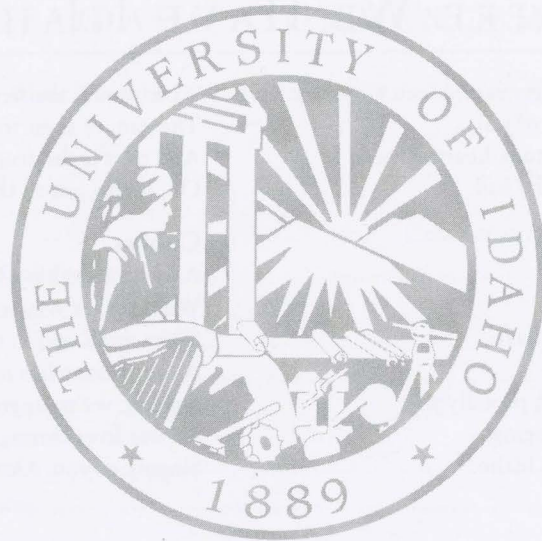

2 Now ours is the heritage, rich and so full,
The gain of their toil and their tears;
And ours is the fruit, and the harvest is ours,
Oh, Idaho, gift of the years.

Chorus

And here we have Idaho,
Winning her way to fame;
Silver and Gold in the sunlight blaze,
And romance lies in her name;
Singing, we're singing of you, ah, proudly too;
All our lives through we'll go singing,
Singing of you, Alma Mater, our Idaho.
