Significance of Academic Costume

DOCTORS wear the round, bell sleeve; the gown is faced down the front and barred on the sleeves with black velvet or velvet of color indicating the degree; the doctor's hood is large. The doctor may, if he so chooses, wear the gold tassel on his cap.

MASTERS wear the long, closed sleeve, with a slit near the upper part for the arm; the master's hood is of more moderate size.

BACHELORS wear the long pointed sleeve; the hood is small.

UNDERGRADUATES wear the round or pointed sleeve, and wear no hood.

Hoods are lined with the colors of the institutions granting the degree, or with which the wearer is connected, and are trimmed with velvet of the color distinctive of the degree — for example, arts and letters, white; fine arts, brown; philosophy, blue; science, gold-yellow; music, pink; agriculture, maize; engineering, orange; forestry, russet; pedagogy, light blue; commerce and accounting, drab.

HONOR CORDS draped over the shoulders designate the students who are graduating with honors: cum laude with silver cords and summa cum laude with gold cords. These are recognition cords and are worn on this one occasion only — they are not part of the academic costume.

Honor Cords are provided by the Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi.

James W. Bailey, Professor of Veterinary Science, Veterinarian, Extension Professor, and Extension Veterinarian Emeritus

Dr. Bailey has been associated with the University of Idaho Department of Veterinary Science since 1953, during which time he has been Extension Veterinarian for northern Idaho, responsible for the health and welfare of the University flocks and for his department's livestock and livestock facilities. He received his bachelor's degree from Western Illinois University and spent five years as a science teacher and coach on the high school level in Illinois. He received his D.V.M. degree from Texas A&M University in 1943, and served three years as captain in the Veterinary Corps, A.U.S. In 1946 he began general veterinary practice which he continued until his move to Idaho. During those years he also served as mayor of Winchester, Illinois. Dr. Bailey is the author of several articles in his field and has been involved in many research projects related to animal diseases. His membership in professional and scholarly organizations includes the Idaho Veterinary Medical Association (for which he has been Vice President and President); North Idaho Veterinary Medical Association; Intermountain Veterinary Medical Association (Second Vice President, 1961; First Vice President, 1962; President-Elect, 1963; President, 1964; Past President, 1965); American Veterinary Medical Association (Delegate to House of Representatives 1971 until 1975 and Advisory Board of the House representing teaching and research); American College of Veterinary Parasitology; Chairman, Western States Animal Health Conference, 1966-1969; Veterinary Amateur Radio Operators (Manager, 1962 to present) and Medical Amateur Radio Council (Director 1970 to present). He has also been active in the community.

Charles G. Bartell, Professor Emeritus of Architecture

Professor Bartell joined the University staff in 1950. Since then he has seen the growth of the Idaho architectural program and its progress toward recent accreditation. He has continued to teach architectural design and related subjects and served as coordinator of graduate student programs in his department. A graduate in architecture of the University of Washington, he received his master's degree in the same field from Columbia University. A licensed architect in Washington and Idaho, he has had extensive experience in consulting and private practice. Professor Bartell further served the University as acting department head on two occasions, in 1967-68 and again in the spring of 1972. Awarded the A.C.S.A. Cranbrook Scholarship in 1963, he has been active professionally, including membership in Tau Sigma Delta (Architectural Honorary Society) and the American Institute of Architects (A.I.A.). In the latter he has served in the following capacities for the Idaho State Chapter: Secretary-Treasurer for the Northern Section; State Executive Board Member; Board Member and Secretary-Treasurer; Board Member and Vice-President, and Board Member and President. Professor Bartell has traveled extensively in the United States and Europe and is active in the community.

Roy A. Bell, Associate Professor Emeritus of Photography

A Blackfoot, Idaho, native, Professor Bell came to the Moscow campus in 1950 as an instructor in photography. A graduate of the University and the New York Institute of Photography, he had been owner-manager of the Bell Photographic Studios in Blackfoot. He had served in the U.S. Army from 1940 to 1945, serving in the Art Section of the 4th Air Corps, then in photographic mapping and camouflage art work. After graduation from the Engineer Officer Candidate School, he was Photographic Officer of Research and Training Publications at the Engineer School in Fort Belvoir, Virginia. A member of the Idaho State Photographers Association, he was promoted to the position of Assistant Professor at the University in 1953, then became Associate Professor in 1961.

H. Ward Crowley, Professor Emeritus of Mathematics, (Director, Computer Services, 1962-73)

In 1956, Professor Crowley came to the University as assistant professor in mathematics with a broad background of teaching experience. A native of the State of Washington, he received his undergraduate and Master of Arts degrees in mathematics from Washington State College (now Washington State University). From 1935 to 1937 he studied and was a part-time instructor at Brown University, Providence, R.I., from which he was awarded a Sc.M. degree in 1937. Professor Crowley was instructor of mathematics and astronomy on the Pullman campus from 1937 until 1944, later taught in that college's Spokane Center, and was acting assistant professor at Washington State College before coming to Moscow. Professor Crowley rose in rank during his years at Idaho to Associate Professor and Director, Computing Center in 1962, then to Professor in 1969, and Professor and Director in 1970. He is the author of several publications in his field and is a member of the Mathematics Association of America, Phi Beta Kappa and Phi Kappa Phi.

Boyd A. Martin, Borah Distinguished Professor of Political Science and Dean Emeritus (Dean, College of Letters and Science, 1965-70; Head, Department of Social Sciences 1947-55; Director, Bureau of Public Affairs Research, 1959-1973; Director, Institute of Human Behavior, 1970-73)

Dr. Martin retires with a long history of distinguished service to the State. An Idaho native, he was graduated from the University of Idaho and received his master's degree in political science from Stanford University in 1937. He taught at Idaho for several years and at Stanford where he received his Ph.D. in 1943. Since then he has been affiliated in many capacities with the University of Idaho. In 1947, Dr. Martin was named Professor of Political Science, head of the Department of Social Sciences and Assistant Dean of the College of Letters and Sciences. Later, in 1955, he became Dean of that college, a post he held until 1970. Since 1959, Dr. Martin has been Director of the Bureau of Public Affairs Research, and he has directed the Institute of Human Behavior for the past three years. In 1970 he received the honor of being named Borah Distinguished Professor of Political Science. Dr. Martin has also returned to Stanford for summer terms as a visiting professor and served in that capacity for a semester at the University of California, Berkeley, where he was affiliated with the Center for the Study for Higher Education. Among his many professional activities were attendance at the United Nations Conference in San Francisco and regional meetings of UNESCO at Denver and San Francisco. He was chairman of the Borah Foundation Committee for the Outlawry of War from 1947 to 1955. He has studied the national government in operation at Washington, D.C. and the United Nations at Lake Success. He spent many years as a member of the Commission to Study the Organization of Peace, a research affiliate of the American Association for the United Nations. He participated in the 1957 DuPont Educational Conference, represented the State Department in 1964 in the Alliance for Progress Program in Ecuador, and served on the Inter-American Coordinating Committee of the Partners of the Alliance. In 1971-72 he was chairman of the Idaho Partners of the Americas. Dr. Martin's travel has extended through the Communist countries of Eastern Europe, Portugal and Spain, much of Africa, the Middle East, Southern Asia and Indo-China. He is a member of many professional organizations and honorary societies and has been most active in professional activities. He is a 1971 Recipient of the Idaho Statesman Distinguished Citizen Award. Dr. Martin has contributed articles to numerous professional and scientific journals. He served as state editor for the National Municipal Review and was on the editorial board of the Western Political Quarterly

William C. Moore, Professor Emeritus of Insurance and Finance

Professor Moore has taught at the University of Idaho since 1965, but his association with the institution reaches back to his earlier years. He received both his bachelor's and master's degrees from the University and also attended the University of Chicago. At another time, from 1930 to 1941 he served Idaho in a teaching capacity. Professor Moore's career has been varied in scope. He was a Lumber Industry Economist from 1940 to 1943, Director of the War Relocation Authority for 17 Western States, Senior Arbitrator for the American Arbitration Association and President of the William C. Moore Associates. In his past eight years at the University, Professor Moore has extended himself in many capacities including that of Director, Columbia River Society of Appraisers 1965-70; Chairman, Ethics and Standards Committee of the American Society of Appraisers; participant in development of an interdisciplinary program, and seminar member on Real Estate Finance at the University of Oregon, 1968. He has attended advanced courses in his fields many summers, including several on fellowships. He has developed correspondence courses for the Idaho Real Estate Board, was an economic consultant to the City of Orofino and presented papers at various professional meetings. He has received the Past Presidents Plaque from the Idaho Council of Cooperatives, and an Award for Outstanding Contributions from the American Institute of Cooperatives. He has in addition, published articles and spoken to various groups. Professor Moore is a member of the Western Economics Association; American Risk and Insurance Association, Western Professors of Insurance, American Society of Appraisers; Columbia River Society of Appraisers (Life Member), National Urban Affairs Association, American Real Estate Association, and Urban Economics Association.

Wade G. Wells, Extension Professor and Extension Animal Scientist Emeritus

A native of Fairfield, Idaho, Wade Wells grew up in Gooding County where he had early experience in developing a purebred swine herd. As a student at the University of Idaho, he worked on the University farm and fitted and showed its swine herd at the 1933 Pacific International, winning more than 75% of first prizes for classes entered. Professor Wells worked as a swine herdsman at the University from 1931 until 1940, earning his bachelor's degree with a major in animal husbandry in the meantime. He served as county agent for Idaho County out of Grangeville and was manager of the Stockyards and Livestock Commission farms in Spokane and Auburn, Washington. In July, 1945, he joined the University staff as Extension Animal Scientist and Project Leader out of the statewide office in Boise. This position he has held until his retirement. As a specialist, he was responsible for providing a statewide program plan for the educational work in meat animal production, and for assisting county agents in adopting the plan. He has been concerned with keeping agents informed on new developments in the meat animal industry and in supplying them with teaching materials to insure an up to date program. Professor Wells has been chairman of the Extension Balanced Farming Committee, and has been a member of the Extension Advisory Council, Beef Cattle Improvement Committee and the Extension Conference Committee. He is a member of Alpha Zeta and Epsilon Sigma Phi honoraries and of the American Society of Animal Science. He has published several bulletins in his field and is an honorary member of the Idaho Cattlemen's Association, Idaho Swine Producers' Association and Future Farmers of America.

HERE WE HAVE IDAHO

1 *Alma Mater, the hope of a pioneer race;
You're fashioned of dreams and of toil,
Your walls and your towers by stout-hearted men
Were raised from the rock and the soil.*

Chorus:

*And here we have Idaho
Winning her way to fame
Silver and Gold in the sunlight blaze,
And romance lies in her name;
Singing, we're singing of you, ah, proudly too;
All our lives through we'll go singing,
singing of you, Alma Mater, our Idaho.*

2 *Now ours is the heritage, rich and so full,
The gain of their toil and their tears;
And ours is the fruit, and the harvest is ours,
Oh, Idaho, gift of the years.*

Chorus:

*And here we have Idaho
Winning her way to fame
Silver and Gold in the sunlight blaze,
And romance lies in her name;
Singing, we're singing of you, ah, proudly too;
All our lives through we'll go singing,
singing of you, Alma Mater, our Idaho.*
