

The 84th Commencement

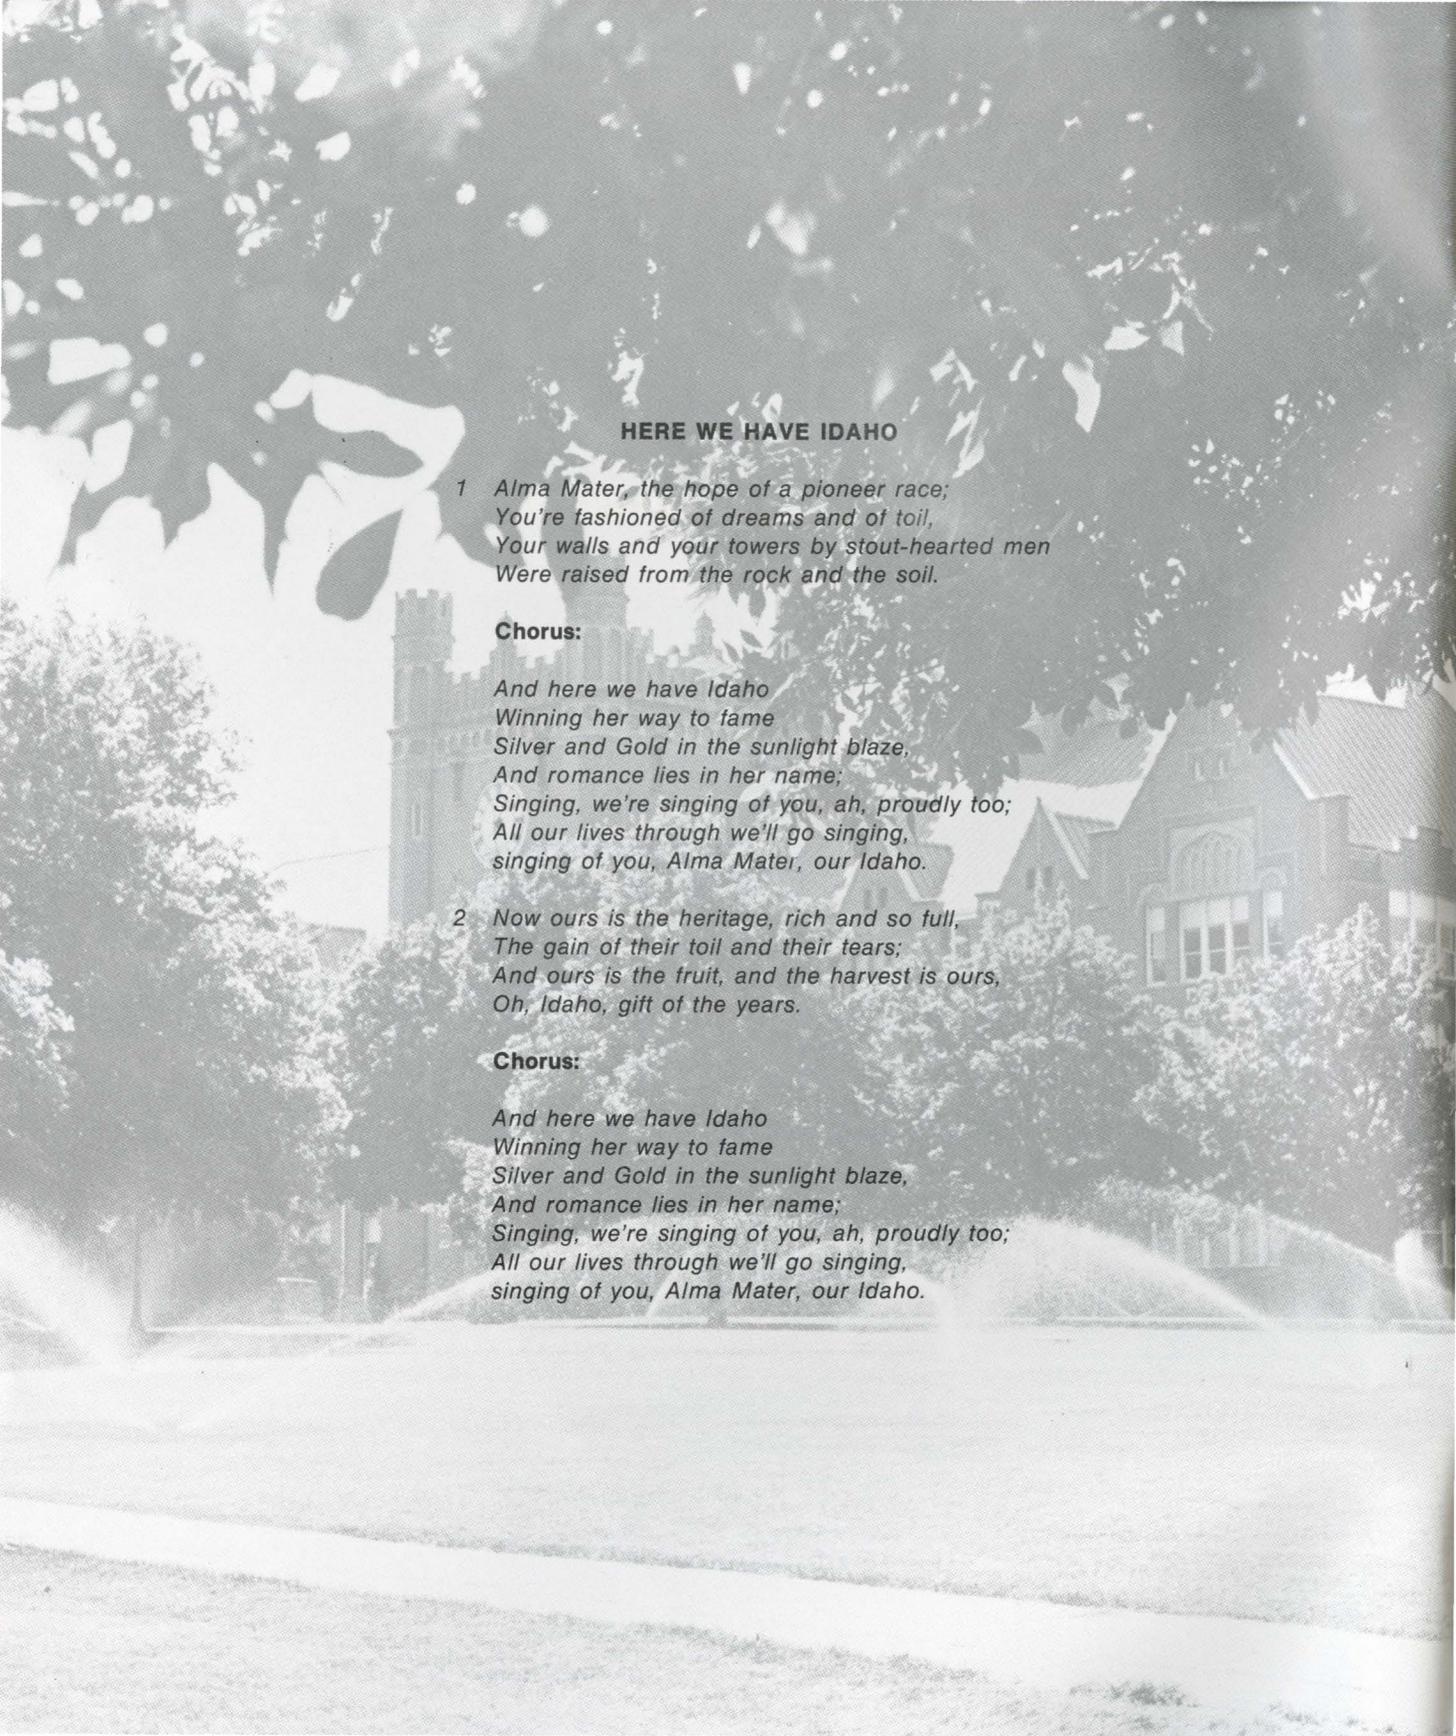

Degrees Conferred

University of Idaho

William H. Kibbie - ASUI Activity Center
Saturday, May 19, 1979
Moscow, Idaho

HERE WE HAVE IDAHO

1 *Alma Mater, the hope of a pioneer race;
You're fashioned of dreams and of toil,
Your walls and your towers by stout-hearted men
Were raised from the rock and the soil.*

Chorus:

*And here we have Idaho
Winning her way to fame
Silver and Gold in the sunlight blaze,
And romance lies in her name;
Singing, we're singing of you, ah, proudly too;
All our lives through we'll go singing,
singing of you, Alma Mater, our Idaho.*

2 *Now ours is the heritage, rich and so full,
The gain of their toil and their tears;
And ours is the fruit, and the harvest is ours,
Oh, Idaho, gift of the years.*

Chorus:

*And here we have Idaho
Winning her way to fame
Silver and Gold in the sunlight blaze,
And romance lies in her name;
Singing, we're singing of you, ah, proudly too;
All our lives through we'll go singing,
singing of you, Alma Mater, our Idaho.*

Citations of Merit Upon Retirement

M. Audrey Aaron, Professor Emerita of Foreign Languages and Literatures

Professor M. Audrey Aaron joined the faculty of the Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures in 1971. Prior to her service at the University of Idaho, Professor Aaron taught at Mount St. Scholastica College and Western Washington State University. Professor Aaron's commitment to Spanish language and literature is evidenced by extensive travel to Spain, South America and Mexico and through numerous articles and reviews related to Spanish literature. She holds an A.B. degree from Mount St. Scholastica College and an A.M. and Ph.D. from Johns Hopkins University. Upon retirement from 41 years of teaching, Professor Aaron plans to complete a book of critical essays on the Columbian novelist Gabriel Garcia Marquez.

George M. Bell, Professor Emeritus of Law

Professor George M. Bell received his B.S. degree from Utah State University in 1935, and J.D. degree from George Washington University in 1939 along with the Order of the Coif, a distinction earned for graduating in the top 10 percent of his class. In 1949, following a period of private law practice, Professor Bell came to the University of Idaho. Professor Bell initiated the "Bar Refresher Course" in 1960 to impressively improve the pass rate of Idaho law graduates. His "Handbook of Evidence for the Idaho Lawyer" is now in its second edition. He served as acting dean of the College of Law in 1968. Professor Bell is remembered by all of his former students as a vigorous taskmaster.

Gladys I. Bellinger, Professor Emerita of Home Economics

Professor Gladys I. Bellinger, known as a children's advocate and expert in child development, came to the University of Idaho in 1960 as head of the Home Economics Department. Her enthusiastic and positive presence has endeared her to all. Her professional experiences have been many, including serving on the Board of Directors of the National Council on Family Relations. She is a member of numerous honoraries and a member of the University of Idaho Faculty Council. Noteworthy, too, is her charter membership in the Palouse Audobon Society and the Latah County Humane Society. Professor Bellinger holds a bachelor's degree from Kansas State University and master's and doctoral degrees from Cornell University. Upon retirement, Professor Bellinger is embarking on a new endeavor which pulls together her interest in children, animals and reading: a series of children's stories. The first will soon be published by the University Press of Idaho.

Thomas J. Chester, Extension Professor Emeritus

Professor Thomas J. Chester, a native of Downey, Idaho, and alumnus of the University of Idaho, has served the University of Idaho and the people of the State since 1939. In 1946, after completing assignments as extension agricultural agent for Caribou County and later Bonneville County, Professor Chester was named district extension supervisor, supervising the extension programs in 13 southeastern counties. As one of the founders of the Eastern Idaho State Fair, Professor Chester has been instrumental in directing the fair's growth and development, including the construction of a large 4-H exhibit building at the fairgrounds. He also assisted in founding the Alpine 4-H Camp, a youth camp on the Idaho-Wyoming border. Professor Chester has served on the Board of Directors of the University of Idaho Alumni Association. Through the years, his devoted, meritorious service has strengthened many programs of the University of Idaho, the College of Agriculture and the Idaho Cooperative Extension Service.

George Gagon, University Engineer and Director of Physical Plant Emeritus

George Gagon, known as one of the University of Idaho's most able physical plant directors, retires following 31 years of service. Mr. Gagon came to the University in 1947 as university engineer in charge of buildings and grounds. Since 1965 he has been the director of the physical plant. Mr. Gagon's years at Idaho covered a period of change in the physical character of the campus. Mr. Gagon was valuable to the institution in thorough planning and wise economy. Much of the beauty of the campus is attributed to his insight. Mr. Gagon, an Idaho alumnus, earned a bachelor's degree in chemical engineering in 1936.

Leon G. Green, Professor of Physical Education and Division Director Emeritus

Professor Leon G. Green, a native of McCammon, Idaho, graduated from the University of Idaho in 1937. Following a short high school teaching career at Burley, Professor Green returned to the University as instructor in physical education. With the exception of Naval service during World War II, Professor Green has served the University since 1940. In 1951, Professor Green became director of the Division of Physical Education, Health and Recreation. In 1973, he also assumed the role of director of athletics. Professor Green was responsible for the development of playing fields and recreational facilities on the campus and an expanded intramural program rated by many as one of the best in the nation. Professor Green is known by many Idahoans and his career has been one of distinguished service.

Forrest H. Hall, Professor Emeritus of Civil Engineering

Professor Forrest H. Hall concludes a 31 year career at the University of Idaho. A member of the faculty in the College of Engineering, Professor Hall was responsible for teaching structural design courses on reinforced concrete, steel and timber. Professor Hall is the recipient of several Outstanding Faculty Awards from the Associated Students of the University of Idaho. Professor Hall earned his bachelor's degree at Colorado State University and his master's degree in civil engineering from California Institute of Technology. The quality of his undergraduate work earned Professor Hall memberships in several honorary societies. Professor Hall is a noted musician and music still is an important pursuit along with enjoying Idaho's outdoor beauty.

Lee W. Hamilton, Extension Professor Emeritus

Professor Lee W. Hamilton joined the University Cooperative Extension Service in 1952. Professor Hamilton's first assignment was in Adams County. He completed 16 years of service there before going to Fort Hall to direct extension programs at the reservation. At his retirement, he was agricultural extension agent for Bannock County. A graduate of the University of Idaho College of Agriculture in 1952, Professor Hamilton earned a master's degree from Colorado State University. Professor Hamilton is a member of several scholastic honoraries and the National Association of County Agricultural Agents.

Robert E. Higgins, Professor of Plant Science and Extension Weed Specialist Emeritus

Professor Robert E. Higgins retires following 33 years of service to the people of Idaho. A native of Boise and a 1935 graduate of Rupert High School, Professor Higgins holds bachelor's and master's degrees in agriculture from the University of Idaho. Professor Higgins' first assignments were as extension agents for Gooding County from 1946 through 1952 and for Bonneville County from 1952 through 1955. For the next 15 years, he served as extension agronomist in Boise. Since 1970, Professor Higgins has been stationed at Twin Falls as a weed specialist. Professor Higgins is known for his research in ways to control such noxious weeds as Canada thistle, leafy spurge, field bindweed, quackgrass and knapweed. He has authored many technical and popular articles and bulletins including a series of weed recognition and control leaflets and the Idaho Weed Control Handbook.

Dorothy S. Hole, Extension Professor Emerita

By helping to improve the statewide 4-H youth program, Professor Dorothy Hole has enriched the lives of Idaho young people in many ways. After joining the UI Extension Service staff in 1957, Professor Hole was stationed in eastern Idaho for six years. Since 1963 she has been in Moscow serving as assistant state 4-H leader. In recognition of her efforts to encourage 4-H members to improve the environment, the Standard Oil Company of California presented Professor Hole with an "Award of Merit" in 1975. She has given leadership to many professional organizations, including the American Home Economics Association, the Idaho Home Economics Association, Epsilon Sigma Phi, Idaho Council on Family Relations, and the National Association of Extension 4-H Agents. She holds a Bachelor of Science degree from Oregon State University and a Master of Education degree from Colorado State University.

John S. Howe, Professor Emeritus of Forest Products

Professor John Howe retires this spring after 23 years of university-level teaching. He received his bachelor's degree from Amherst in 1935 and his master's degree from Yale University in 1955. In the fall of 1956, Professor Howe began teaching at the University of Idaho, serving as the department head of a one-man department providing course work for less than a dozen students. This department (Forest Products) now employs six professors and oversees the education of some 70 students. Professor Howe has also taught at the Universities of Maine and Michigan and received his doctorate at Michigan in wood science and technology in 1966. After his retirement, Professor Howe plans to go back to college — this time to study religion. After returning to college he hopes to be associated with a church in a forested area, combining his interest in religion with his interest in forest products.

Franklin H. Pitkin, Professor Emeritus of Forestry

Professor Franklin H. Pitkin has been employed by the University of Idaho in teaching and research for the past 35 years and as Forest Nursery superintendent for 41 years. As manager of the University's Forest Nursery, Professor Pitkin has served as an important link between the University and thousands of land owners throughout the State. Each year he has competently answered hundreds of inquiries regarding reforestation and conservation problems while processing numerous orders for tree planting stock. Professor Pitkin holds both bachelor's and master's degrees in forestry from the University of Idaho. He is a member of several professional societies and the author of numerous papers and reports.

Richard H. Ross, Professor of Animal Science and Extension Dairy Specialist Emeritus

Professor Richard H. Ross came to the University of Idaho in 1947. As a dairy scientist, Professor Ross is known as a specialist in nutrition and dairy management. Professor Ross has been a recognized leader in the statewide dairy herd improvement program and in extension dairy herd programs. Professor Ross was head of the Department of Dairy Science from 1960 to 1970. Since then, he has been professor and dairy scientist in the Department of Animal Sciences. Professor Ross holds bachelor's and doctor's degrees from Pennsylvania State University and his master's degree from West Virginia University. He is a member of a number of professional organizations and the author of numerous papers and technical reports.

Robert H. Shreve, Professor Emeritus of Education

Professor Robert H. Shreve's career as an educator has taken him from teacher to principal to superintendent of schools to professor of school administration. He is a recognized authority in the areas of school facility planning and scheduling. A native of Wisconsin, Professor Shreve earned a bachelor's degree from Lawrence College and master's and doctoral degrees from Colorado State University. During World War II, Professor Shreve served as commander of a P.T. Boat in the Pacific Theater. Many of Professor Shreve's former students hold responsible positions of leadership in state, local and national education organizations.

Professor John B. Sita joined the Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures in 1965. He is a noted linguist, having competence in Italian, Latin, French, Portuguese, Spanish, Russian, German and Greek. Professor Sita's degrees include Maturia Classica from the Liceo Balbo and Laurea (Doctorate) from the University of Venice. Professor Sita has responded to many requests for translating and is an active authority on the Basque language.

Elizabeth E. Stevenson, Professor Emerita of Foreign Languages and Literatures

Professor Elizabeth E. Stevenson joined the faculty of the Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures in 1966. Acclaimed as an outstanding teacher, Professor Stevenson has also assumed many administrative roles including associate dean, College of Letters & Science and assistant coordinator of research. She has also served as acting vice president for academic affairs and acting dean, College of Letters & Science. Professor Stevenson holds a bachelor's degree from Vassar College and a Ph.D. from Yale University. Her master's degree is from Trinity College. She holds membership in many professional and scholarly organizations including Phi Beta Kappa, Sigma Xi and Phi Kappa Phi.

Delbert J. Walker, Professor Emeritus of Mathematics

Professor Delbert J. Walker has served on the faculty of the Mathematics Department since 1950. He is remembered by hundreds of students who have taken calculus, ordinary differential equations and college algebra under his instruction. Professor Walker earned his bachelor's degree from Nebraska State College and his master's degree from the University of Nebraska. During the 1960's Professor Walker directed the National Science Foundation summer math institute charged with upgrading the teaching of mathematics for secondary school teachers.

Alvin C. Wiese, Professor Emeritus of Biochemistry

Professor Alvin C. Wiese has given 32 years of service to the University of Idaho College of Agriculture. Professor Wiese joined the UI faculty in 1947, as head of the Department of Agricultural Chemistry. In a reorganization move in 1972, Professor Wiese assumed teaching and research responsibilities in the Department of Bacteriology and Biochemistry. One of his long-time research interests has been surveys of fluoride levels of vegetation in the Pocatello and Soda Springs areas in Idaho. A native of Wisconsin, Professor Wiese received bachelor's, master's and doctoral degrees at the University of Wisconsin. In 1961, Wiese was engaged in seven months of study and research at the National Institute for Research in Dairying at Reading, England. Professor Wiese is a fellow of the American Association for Advancement of Science and the American Institute of Chemists.

Esther H. Wilson, Extension Professor Emerita

During her career as nutrition specialist for the University of Idaho Cooperative Extension Service, Professor Esther H. Wilson has developed programs of nutrition education for adults and young people. She is the author of many publications dealing with meal planning and food preparation. She represented Idaho at the 1969 White House Conference on Food, Nutrition and Health. Before joining the University of Idaho faculty in 1963, Professor Wilson served for more than a decade as nutritionist for the Spokane County Health Department. A graduate of State College at Framingham, Mass., Professor Wilson received a Master of Science degree in foods and nutrition at Washington State University. She has served as chairman of the Idaho State Nutrition Council. She has been active in the American Home Economics Association, American Dietetic Association, Society of Nutrition Education, Omicron Nu and Sigma Xi.

Significance of Academic Costume

DOCTORS wear the round, bell sleeve; the gown is faced down the front and barred on the sleeves with black velvet or velvet of color indicating the degree; the doctor's hood is large. The doctor may, if he so chooses, wear the gold tassel on his cap.

MASTERS wear the long, closed sleeve, with a slit near the upper part for the arm; the master's hood is of more moderate size.

BACHELORS wear the long pointed sleeve; the hood is small.

UNDERGRADUATES wear the round or pointed sleeve, and wear no hood.

Hoods are lined with the colors of the institutions granting the degree, or with which the wearer is connected, and are trimmed with velvet of the color distinctive of the degree — for example, arts and letters, white; fine arts, brown; philosophy, blue; science, gold-yellow; music, pink; agriculture, maize; engineering, orange; forestry, russet; pedagogy, light blue; commerce and accounting, drab.

HONOR CORDS draped over the shoulders designate the students who are graduating with honors: cum laude with silver cords and summa cum laude with gold cords. These are recognition cords and are worn on this one occasion only — they are not part of the academic costume.

Honor Cords are provided by the Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi.

*"The University of Idaho is the best university in America for men and women who expect to engage in business and civic life in Idaho.
Here is a group of men and women who represent state loyalty.
Here is the place for plain living and high thinking.
This is the people's university . . . "*
