

The 86th Commencement

Saturday, May 15, 1982
William H. Kibbie-ASUI Activity Center
Moscow, Idaho

HERE WE HAVE IDAHO

1 *Alma Mater, the hope of a pioneer race;
You're fashioned of dreams and of toil,
Your walls and your towers by stout-hearted men
Were raised from the rock and the soil.*

Chorus:

*And here we have Idaho
Winning her way to fame
Silver and Gold in the sunlight blaze,
And romance lies in her name;
Singing, we're singing of you, ah, proudly too;
All our lives through we'll go singing,
singing of you, Alma Mater, our Idaho.*

2 *Now ours is the heritage, rich and so full,
The gain of their toil and their tears;
And ours is the fruit, and the harvest is ours,
Oh, Idaho, gift of the years.*

Chorus:

*And here we have Idaho
Winning her way to fame
Silver and Gold in the sunlight blaze,
And romance lies in her name;
Singing, we're singing of you, ah, proudly too;
All our lives through we'll go singing,
singing of you, Alma Mater, our Idaho.*

Citations of Merit Upon Retirement

Ernest W. Hartung, President Emeritus of the University with rank of Professor and Director Emeritus of the University of Idaho Foundation

Ernest Hartung has a history of more than 17 years of service to the University of Idaho, first as its president 1965 to 1977 and then as executive director of the UI Foundation until his retirement this spring. He has played a significant role in bringing UI from an insulated state university one and a half decades ago to a major regional university in both activity and spirit, with a worldwide academic and research reputation. He was educated as a biologist, and holds a bachelor's degree from Dartmouth (1938) and master's and doctoral degrees from Harvard (1940 and 1942). He has 20 years' experience teaching zoology, including 12 at the University of Rhode Island, where he also held a number of administrative positions. As president of the University of Idaho, he saw a number of its buildings constructed and programs accredited. Later, as its executive director, he helped the UI Foundation to establish a record of success through a number of projects for which it raised funds. As the Foundation's assets mounted, Dr. Hartung launched the Foundation into projects to improve academic excellence before his retirement. Dr. Hartung has published scientific and scholarly articles in a wide variety of journals and publications, and is a member of several scientific, academic and civic associations. He was elected a fellow of the New York Academy of Sciences, and was awarded LL.D. degrees in 1965 and 1966 from the University of Rhode Island and the College of Idaho, respectively. At this commencement, he will be awarded an honorary Doctor of Administrative Science degree from the University of Idaho.

James L. Barrus, Professor Emeritus of Chemistry

Barrus, a native of Burley, Idaho, received his bachelor's degree in chemistry from the University of Wyoming in 1948 and his master's degree from the UI in 1956. For the past 17 years, Barrus has been continuously studying and monitoring fluoride contamination in southern Idaho. A man who has always enjoyed teaching, he received the Excellence in Teaching Award from Gamma Sigma Delta for both the 1973-74 and 1977-78 school years. In 1980-81 he was awarded the ASUI Outstanding Faculty Award. Barrus was voted to life membership in the Idaho Academy of Science this spring.

Roland O. Byers, Professor of General Engineering and Chairman Emeritus

Roland Byers and the JETS program at UI—the summer computer science training workshop for high school juniors are nearly synonymous because Professor Byers has worked with the program for 14 years. In addition to coordinating the JETS program since it began here in 1968, Byers has written two engineering text books on Idaho history, "To the Sundown Side, the Mountain Man in Idaho," published by the University Press of Idaho. He has been a UI ski team coach and a faculty athletic representative to both the NCAA and the Big Sky Conference. Besides teaching many of the classes offered in general engineering, Byers served as chairman of that department. He served with the U.S. Air Force during World War II and spent 26 years with the U.S. Air Force active reserve. He has received ASUI Outstanding Faculty Awards for 1959 and 1960, and the Alumni Association Outstanding Faculty Award in 1974. He is a member of Epsilon Pi Tau, National Scholastic Industrial Education Honorary.

Donald F. Clifton, Professor Emeritus of Metallurgy

Professor Donald F. Clifton has been an important member of the faculty of the College of Mines and Earth Resources since 1957. He became an associate professor of plant pathology in 1954 in Moscow and the following year professor and head of that department. He served as plant pathology department head and later plant sciences department head until 1972. Finley wrote numerous extension leaflets and research progress reports for distribution to growers. He spent two years from 1974-1976 as director of Projeto do Feijao for the Brazilian Ministry of Agriculture. He returned to the UI in 1976 where his specialty was nematology. Finley was a member of Alpha Zeta, the American Society of Phytopathology, Phi Kappa Phi, Phi Sigma, Sigma Xi and the Society of Nematologists. A member of the Moscow Central Lions Club, he was its president in 1963-1964.

C. Lucile Gray, Extension Professor Emerita

Professor Gray's career in extension home economics has spanned 26 years, during which time she has been stationed in Nez Perce County. He has been active in university governance and given many talks to civic organizations as well as maintaining membership and activity in a number of professional organizations.

James W. Guthrie, Professor Emeritus of Plant Science

A plant pathologist, Professor Guthrie came to the university in 1952. His extensive research in plant pathology has added greatly to scientific knowledge of potatoes, beans, peas and corn, as well as seed-borne bacteria, pathogens and fungi. Professor Guthrie obtained bachelor's and master's degrees from Utah State University in 1949 and 1950, and a doctoral degree from the University of Wisconsin in 1952. He has taught at Utah State University and worked at the Aberdeen Experiment Station, and was acting head of the UI Department of Plant Science in 1969-70. His research has been published in dozens of journals. He received the Idaho Seedsman Award in 1967 and chaired the Bacterial Plant Pathogen Committee at the international meeting of the International Seed Testing Association from 1973 to 1977. He was chairman of the Seed Pathology Committee for the American Phytopath Society, of which he is a member, in 1980-81, and is also a member of the Working Group of Bacterial Plant Pathogens of ISTA. He is also a member of a number of other professional and scholarly organizations.

Roger W. Harder, Professor Emeritus of Soil Science

Professor Harder came to the UI in September 1947 after having obtained a bachelor's degree in geology and a master's degree in soil science from the University of Wisconsin. He has spent many years researching the characteristics of Palouse soils as farmers changed fertilizers, plant varieties, herbicides, equipment and agricultural practices. Harder helped discover and find solutions to shortages of sulfur and phosphorous in the soils. In 1974, Harder helped form the Solutions to Environmental and Economic Problems (STEEP) project in the Pacific Northwest aimed at promoting soil conservation. Harder also was active in many professional and scholarly organizations, including the Idaho Academy of Science, the Soil Conservation Society of America, and the Western Soil Science Society. He was a member of the Moscow Lions and Moscow Elks and was chairman of the Latah County Association for Retarded Children.

He served in the Army Air Corps during World War II and was in the Air Force active reserves after the war.

Richard S. Long, Manager Emeritus of the University Bookstore

A lifelong resident of Moscow, Richard Long worked in UI Bookstore management for 31 years, the last 17 as manager. He saw it move from the northeast corner of what is now the Student Union cafeteria to an old building that had housed The Blue Bucket cafeteria and fountain, and then to its present location. The bookstore has grown from 3,600 square feet when he began working as assistant manager to its present 8,600, and Long says it needs to expand again. He moved to Moscow from Kellogg at the age of one and has lived here since.

Donald W. Seelye, Professor of Labor Relations Emeritus

Professor Donald W. Seelye retires this spring after a 23-year association with the University of Idaho. He received an Outstanding Teacher Award from the ASUI in 1962, the Outstanding Faculty Award from the Interfraternity Council in 1964 and the Outstanding Teacher of the College of Business from the ASUI in 1966. Seelye received his bachelor's degree in economics from Indiana University in 1950, where he also completed all the requirements for his master's degree. Before coming to UI, Seelye was an assistant professor at the University of Notre Dame. At UI he has served as acting dean in the College of Business and Economics (spring of 1969), coordinator of the Master of Business Administration program (1969-72), and head of the Department of Business (1974-77).

She also supervised the Expanded Food and Nutrition Education Program in Idaho and has served as advisor to home economics councils and study groups in the state. A member of the College of Agriculture Executive Council and the Cooperative Extension Administrative Council, Professor Spidahl coordinated the extension practicum course in the UI School of Home Economics. Before coming to Idaho, she served five years as associate dean of the College of Home Economics at North Dakota State University. Earlier she worked 18 years as field agent and area agent for the University of Minnesota Cooperative Extension Service. She received her bachelor of science degree in home economics and extension at the University of Minnesota and a master of science degree in education from North Dakota State University. Professor Spidahl initiated and coordinated the College Days program that is an annual extension-sponsored event on home economics topics on the UI campus.

Norman D. Waters, Extension Professor Emeritus

A research entomologist with the University of Idaho Southwest Idaho Research and Extension Center in Parma since 1957, Professor Waters has conducted research on insect pests of vegetable seed crops, legumes, clover and alfalfa. A native of Twin Falls, Waters has worked most directly with the alfalfa leafcutting bee, closely following its buildup and development in Idaho. Waters modified a device that bathes bees as they emerge from their cells and reduces the incidence of chalkbrood disease. If it proves effective in field tests, it will in conjunction with other sanitation measures eliminate chalkbrood as an economic factor in alfalfa seed production. Waters earned his bachelor's and Ph.D. degrees in entomology at the University of California at Berkeley. Prior to coming to the UI, he was an entomologist with the U.S. Department of Agriculture in India, Pakistan, Afghanistan and Nepal and with General Foods Corporation in India. He was a member of the Bee Research Association in England, the American Registry of Professional Entomologists and other professional organizations.

Virginia Wolf, Professor Emerita of Physical Education

Physical activities classes in subjects like swimming, tennis and bowling are where many UI students have met Virginia Wolf. She has taught a variety of physical education subjects since she came to UI in 1964. Before taking her position at UI, she taught at Colorado College, University of Washington, Sam Houston State College, University of Colorado and Pennsylvania State University. She holds a bachelor's degree from Earlham College and master's degree from the University of Colorado, and has done post-graduate study at several institutions. She has been active in campus affairs, especially the Women's Caucus, and is a member of four physical education organizations. She also served on the Borah Symposium Committee for three years and has been active in the American Association of University Women. ### Significance of Academic Costume

DOCTORS wear the round, bell sleeve; the gown is faced down the front and barred on the sleeves with black velvet or velvet of color indicating the degree; the doctor's hood is large. The doctor may, if he so chooses, wear the gold tassel on his cap.

MASTERS wear the long, closed sleeve, with a slit near the upper part for the arm; the master's hood is of more moderate size.

BACHELORS wear the long pointed sleeve; the hood is small.

UNDERGRADUATES wear the round or pointed sleeve, and wear no hood.

Hoods are lined with the colors of the institutions granting the degree, or with which the wearer is connected, and are trimmed with velvet of the color distinctive of the degree — for example, arts and letters, white; fine arts, brown; philosophy, blue; science, gold-yellow; music, pink; agriculture, maize; engineering, orange; forestry, russet; pedagogy, light blue; commerce and accounting, drab.

HONOR CORDS draped over the shoulders designate the students who are graduating with honors: cum laude with silver cords and summa cum laude with gold cords. These are recognition cords and are worn on this one occasion only — they are not part of the academic costume.

Honor Cords are provided by the Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi.
