

THE
91st
COMMENCEMENT

AT THE
UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO
Saturday, May 17, 1986

William H. Kibbie-ASUI Activity Center, Moscow, Idaho

HERE WE HAVE IDAHO

1 *Alma Mater, the hope of a pioneer race;
You're fashioned of dreams and of toil,
Your walls and your towers by stout-hearted men
Were raised from the rock and the soil.*

Chorus:

*And here we have Idaho
Winning her way to fame
Silver and Gold in the sunlight blaze,
And romance lies in her name;
Singing, we're singing of you, ah, proudly too;
All our lives through we'll go singing,
singing of you, Alma Mater, our Idaho.*

2 *Now ours is the heritage, rich and so full,
The gain of their toil and their tears;
And ours is the fruit, and the harvest is ours,
Oh, Idaho, gift of the years.*

Chorus:

*And here we have Idaho
Winning her way to fame
Silver and Gold in the sunlight blaze,
And romance lies in her name;
Singing, we're singing of you, ah, proudly too;
All our lives through we'll go singing,
singing of you, Alma Mater, our Idaho.*

DAY ROOM

A day room for parents with infants needing attention is available in the south concourse.

FIRST AID STATION

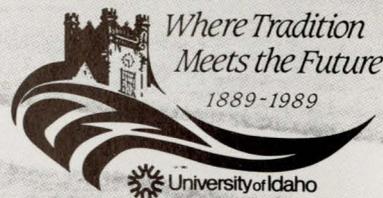

A first aid station with a nurse in attendance is located at the center of the south concourse. Restrooms are located near the center of the south concourse.

CAP AND GOWN RETURNS

All graduates should return their caps and gowns to the tables set up in each of the eight different locations.

Doctoral Degrees

GRADUATE SCHOOL

Established in 1925. Arthur R. Gittins, Ph.D., Dean

Doctor of Philosophy

- Dhia Muhammed Hassan Al-Munshi, M.S., Iraq
Entomology. Dissertation: "Effects of Cultural Practices on Cereal Aphid Populations." Major Professor: Lawrence E. O'Keeffe
- Pamela Searls Arnold, B.A., M.Ed., Moscow
Education. Dissertation: "Characteristics and Management of Superior and Incompetent Teachers." Major Professor: A. Lee Parks
- *Kenneth George Beck II, B.S.An.Ind., M.S., Moscow
Plant Science. Dissertation: "Differential Susceptibility Among Wild Oat Accessions to Herbicides." Major Professor: Donald C. Thill
- Ellen Carver Beedle, B.S., Kansas City, Missouri
Chemistry. Dissertation: "Ring Cleavage Reactions of Trimethylsilyloxy Cyclopropanes." Major Professor: George M. Rubottom
- Raymond Louis Buvel, B.S., Coeur d'Alene
Physics. Dissertation: "A Quantum Signature in Heavy-Ion Pion Production." Major Professor: Phillip A. Deutchman
- Russell William Clausen, B.A., M.S., Mt. Vernon, Washington
Forestry, Wildlife and Range Sciences. Dissertation: "Ecological Energetics of Douglas-fir Cone and Seed Insects in Idaho." Major Professor: John A. Schenk
- Robert McIlvaine Donaldson, B.A., M.A., Washington, Pennsylvania
Education. Dissertation: "Professional Growth Plans for Public School Teachers: An Analysis of Their Efficacy." Major Professor: N. Dale Gentry.
- Jeri Lee Engelking, B.A., M.A., Moscow
Education. Dissertation: "Identification of Satisfying and Dissatisfying Factors in Staffs of Elementary and Secondary Public School Teachers from Two States." Major Professor: Everett V. Samuelson
- John Lawrence Farbo, B.S., M.B.A., M.P.A., Moscow
Education. Dissertation: "A Comparison of the Perceived Effectiveness of the Internal Audit Function between Selected Private and Public Supported Colleges and Universities in the Western United States." Major Professor: Everett V. Samuelson
- Patricia Lee Hautala, B.A., B.S., M.S., Moscow
Education. Dissertation: "The Communication Age and the Minerals Industry." Major Professor: Michael Heikkinen
- *Linda Herrig, B.A., M.A., Boise
Education. Dissertation: "Factors Influencing High School Student Writing Performance: Administrative Support and Teacher Preparation." Major Professor: Marvin A. Nottingham
- *Dale Phillip Hilton, B.A., M.Ed., South Portland, Maine
Education. Dissertation: "Identification of Satisfying and Dissatisfying Factors and Determination of Level of Job Satisfaction for Post-secondary Vocational Education Faculty in Public Supported Institutions in Idaho." Major Professor: James A. Bikkie
- *Kurt Jeffrey Jenkins, B.S., M.S., Berkeley, California
Forestry, Wildlife and Range Sciences. Dissertation: "Winter Habitat and Niche Relationships of Sympatric Cervids along the North Fork of the Flathead River." Major Professor: R. Gerald Wright
- Virginia Ann Wickstrom Junk, B.S.H.Ec., M.S., Moscow
Education. Dissertation: "Home Energy Consumption Rate, Familiarity, and Participation in Home Energy Assistance Programs: Implications for Educators of Elderly People." Major Professor: Michael Heikkinen
- Kathleen Marie Kearney, B.S., M.S., Moscow
Education. Dissertation: "A Descriptive Study of a Type of Commercial Educational Program: Idaho Fabric Shop Retailers, Their Classes, Teachers, and Clientele, and the Extent of Cooperation Between Retailers and their Teachers and Teachers in Public School and Cooperative Extension Sewing Programs." Citations on Retirement

Norman D. Fitzsimmons, Extension Professor Emeritus

Norman D. Fitzsimmons has served both Nez Perce and Clearwater Counties during his 31 years with the Cooperative Extension Service. He began his UI career as extension agricultural agent in Nez Perce County in 1955, serving there until 1959, when he became staff chairman in Clearwater County, the position he is retiring from. He holds B.S. and M.Ag. degrees from the University of Idaho. He is a member of Alpha Zeta, Epsilon Sigma Phi, the Idaho Association of Extension 4-H Agents, Idaho County Agricultural Agents Association, Phi Mu Alpha, and Gamma Sigma Delta. He served as a first lieutenant in the U.S. Air Force from July 1952 through July 1954. Among his honors are the 1977 Sperry New Holland Career Development Award; 1981 National Association of County Agricultural Agents Distinguished Service Award; 1981 Clearwater National Forest Conservation Award; 1978 Epsilon Sigma Phi Outstanding Work Award; 1984 Public Relations in Daily Efforts (PRIDE) Award for Idaho from the National Association of County Agricultural Agents and Elanco; and 25 year USDA Service Award.

Floyd W. Frank, Professor of Veterinary Science, Department Head, and Dean of the Idaho Faculty of the WOI Program in Veterinary Medical Education Emeritus

After over 30 years and a variety of responsibilities at the University of Idaho, Floyd W. Frank is retiring. He has been instrumental in securing new and modern facilities for the UI Veterinary Science program and worked to inaugurate the Washington, Oregon, and Idaho cooperative Veterinary Medical Education Program (WOI) on the UI campus. Frank first came to UI in 1955 and has served as dean of the Idaho faculty in the WOI program, professor and head of the Department of Veterinary Science, acting associate director of experiment stations, and as head of the combined Veterinary Science and Animal Science Departments. He has been active on the national committee dealing with wild horse and burro problems and has served on a variety of other committees, both university and professional. In 1978, he visited Brazil as a consultant to the School of Veterinary Medicine, Federal University of Vocosia. He is a member of Alpha Psi, Alpha Zeta, Gamma Sigma Delta, Phi Kappa Phi, Phi Zeta, and Sigma Xi, professional and scholastic honoraries. Frank has written many articles for publication in professional journals and has given several presentations at scientific meetings. He has obtained over $2 million in research grants at UI. Among his honors are the 1984 Veterinarian of the Decade award from the Idaho Veterinary Medical Association; the 1984 distinguished veterinary alumnus award from the Washington State University Veterinary Alumni Association; recognition as a 1974 outstanding educator of America; a 1972 service citation from the ASUI; and listing in "Who's Who in America." He holds B.S., D.V.M., and Ph.D. degrees from Washington State University.

Verl G. Garrard, Professor Emeritus of Chemistry

After 40 years in the University of Idaho Chemistry Department, Verl G. Garrard is retiring. He came to UI in 1946 as a teaching assistant and joined the faculty in 1947. During his years at UI, he has influenced the career choices of many students and has been active in laboratory safety programs. He is a member of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, the American Chemical Society, Idaho Academy of Science, and Sigma Xi, national scientific research honorary. He served in the U.S. Navy during World War II. Garrard served as adviser for the premedical studies program during the 1977-78 academic year and as director for the National Science Foundation sponsored IAS Visiting Scientist Program in 1962-63 and 1965-67.

Robert D. Harris, Professor Emeritus of History

After 27 years at UI, Robert D. Harris is retiring. He has been a member of the UI history faculty, specializing in European history, since September 1959. He holds a B.A. degree from Whitman College and M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from the University of California, Berkeley. Before coming to UI, he worked as a teaching assistant and as an associate in social science at the University of California, Berkeley. He is a member of the American Association of University Professors, the American Historical Association, and the Society for French Historical Studies. He is the author of "Necker: Reform Statesman of the Ancien Regime," and contributed a chapter to the book "Problems of European History." He has had articles published by "Journal of Modern History."

Robert M. Kessel, Professor Emeritus of Business Education

High school students throughout the state have reaped the benefits of the work Robert M. Kessel has done in preparing his students for careers in vocational education. After 29 years at UI, he is retiring. He came here in 1957 as chairman of the Department of Office Administration, serving in that position until September of 1976, when he became coordinator of Business Education and Office Administration. He has taught many of the courses offered by the department. Before coming here, he taught at the University of Wisconsin, Madison; at Truax Field Air Force Base, Madison; at the Area Vocational School, Madison; at the University of Wisconsin, Madison; and at Phillips High School, Phillips, Wisconsin. He holds a B.S. degree from Wisconsin State College, Whitewater, and M.S. and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Wisconsin, Madison. He belongs to many professional and scholarly organizations and has been honored for service to Boy Scouts of America; Camp Fire; and his church council.

John J. Kolar, Research Professor Emeritus of Agronomy

A man known throughout Idaho for his work in breeding new varieties of beans is retiring after more than 30 years with the University of Idaho. John J. Kolar released several new dry bean varieties during his years with UI, representing significant improvements in yield and disease resistance. He has many articles and bulletins published in scholarly journals and technical publications and has given presentations at numerous professional meetings. Kolar is a native of Montana and holds B.S. and M.S. degrees from Montana State College. He earned his Ph.D. degree in 1955 from Iowa State University. Kolar began his association with UI at the Aberdeen Research and Extension Center and in 1950 was moved to the Kimberly Research and Extension Center.

Karl H. Lindeborg, Professor Emeritus of Agricultural Economics

A native of Holstebro, Denmark, Karl Lindeborg joined the University of Idaho faculty in 1959, and has taught courses in production economics, water resource economics, problems in agricultural economics research, and agricultural prices. He is a member of the American Agricultural Economics Association, the Western Regional Farm Management Research Committee, the Fulbright Alumni Association and of Denmark's National Okonomisk Forening. Lindeborg has served on numerous committees during his 27 years at the university, including the Cultural Exchange Coordinating Committee, Graduate Council, Coordinating Committee of the Water Resource Research Institute, and United Nations Program Committee. He has written or collaborated on several articles, including "The Economics of Groundwater Allocation: A Case Study," "Inland-Ocean Waterborne Transportation Innovations and Port Charges," and "Relationship Between Farm Size and Ability to Pay for Irrigation Water." Lindeborg earned a bachelor's degree in general studies at the Royal Veterinary and Agricultural College in Copenhagen, a master's in agricultural research at Utah State University, and his doctorate in that same discipline from Oregon State University. He also did postdoctoral work in econometrics at the University of Oslo, Norway.

Blaine Linford, Extension Professor Emeritus

With 25 years service in the Cooperative Extension Service, Blaine Linford is retiring. He has served in Freemont, Canyon, and Twin Falls Counties. He was made supervisor of Extension District III in 1970 and has held that post since then. Linford is a graduate of the University of Wyoming and has studied at the Sorbonne in Paris and at the University of Arizona, Northern Colorado University, and Colorado State University, earning his master's degree from CSU in 1973. He is a member of several professional and scholarly organizations, including Alpha Zeta, agriculture honorary; Gamma Sigma Delta, agriculture honorary; Sigma Xi, scientific research society; the Range Society of America; the Soil Conservation Society; and the Weed Society of America. Linford served in the U.S. Army Medical Department from 1942 through 1945. He has been honored with the Epsilon Sigma Phi Distinguished Work Award.

Raymond L. Proctor, Professor Emeritus of History

Raymond L. Proctor has taught at the University of Idaho for more than 20 years, following a 22-year career in the U.S. Air Force in which he rose through the ranks from private to lieutenant colonel. Over the years he has taught courses in western civilization, the French Revolution, 19th-century Europe to 1850, the early and late Middle Ages, 20th-century Europe to 1939, and Spain from 1450 to the present. Proctor has lectured before numerous civic organizations, usually on the Middle East or Spanish history. He was the panel moderator for the 1974 Borah Symposium and a panel member for the 1975 symposium. Among his numerous professional associations, Proctor is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, the Institute of Aerospace Studies, the Air Force Association, the American Committee of Historians of World War II, and the Society for Spanish and Portuguese Historical Studies. Proctor earned his bachelor's degree in military science and history from the University of Maryland, and his master's and doctorate in European history from the University of Oregon. His publications include "Agony of a Neutral: German-Spanish Wartime Relations and the Blue Division," "Hitler's Luftwaffe in the Spanish Civil War," "The Crusader: A History of the 42nd Bombardment Group," and "Biographies," a compilation of the lives of several Spanish and German general officers.

George R. Russell, Professor of Civil Engineering and Associate Dean of Engineering Emeritus

George R. Russell has nearly a life-long association with the state of Idaho, the University of Idaho, and the College of Engineering. A native of White Bird, he earned a bachelor's degree in civil engineering, studied for his master's degree, and later earned a civil engineering degree — all at the UI. He began his teaching career here in 1947, became assistant dean of the college in 1967, and associate dean in 1980. The college's microcomputer lab was named in his honor this past October. Russell has been actively involved in the community, serving as director of the Moscow Chamber of Commerce and as president of the Moscow City Council. He has also been director and president of the Association of Idaho Cities and served as chairman of the Idaho State Board of Professional Engineers and Land Surveyors. Among his many associations, Russell is a member of the American Society of Civil Engineers, the American and Idaho Societies for Engineering Education, and the National Society of Professional Engineers.

William R. Simpson, Research Professor Emeritus of Plant Science

William R. Simpson, who has done much to fight plant diseases of carrots, onions and corn in southern Idaho, is retiring. He has worked at the Parma Research and Extension Center since he began his UI career in 1950. He has written many articles for publication in scholarly and technical publications and has several Idaho Extension current information series publications to his credit. Simpson has been the person primarily responsible for solving onion and carrot seed germination problems and finding a solution for corn stalk rot, as well as being involved in work on a variety of other crop problems. He holds a B.S. degree in agronomy and an M.S. degree in plant pathology from UI. Simpson has three years of advanced study at Washington State University.

John H. Sullivan, Professor Emeritus of Foreign Languages and Literatures

John H. Sullivan joined the University of Idaho faculty in 1966, continuing a teaching career that began at the University of California at Berkeley and includes Washington State University and the College of Idaho. He specialized in the teaching of German, having earned his bachelor's, master's, and doctorate in that discipline from the University of Oregon, Johns Hopkins University, and the University of California at Berkeley, respectively. Sullivan served as acting chairman of the Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures and as chairman of the university's Intercultural Programs. He also was on the Borah Foundation Committee, Cultural Exchange Committee, Curriculum Committee of the College of Letters and Science, and International Student Affairs Committee. Sullivan has been active in community affairs, serving as president of the board of directors of Volunteers in Moscow, doing volunteer work with the swimming program for multiple sclerosis patients of Moscow and Pullman, and visiting the Paradise Villa Convalescent Center in Moscow to socialize with German-speaking patients. Some of his memberships include the American Association of Teachers of German, the Western Association of German Studies, the Idaho Association of Teachers of Language and Culture, and the Philological Association of the Pacific Coast.

David L. Thacker, Professor Emeritus of Animal Science

An Idaho native who has devoted more than 30 years of service to the university, David L. Thacker has been both chairman of the Experimental Animal Committee and a member of the Student Financial Aid Committee. A member of the American Dairy Science Association and the Society of Sigma Xi, the Rupert, Idaho, native joined the faculty in 1954. On two different occasions, he served as acting superintendent of the Caldwell Experiment Station. Thacker received his bachelor's degree from the University of Idaho and his master's from Pennsylvania State University. A Navy veteran active in 4-H Club, he coauthored a laboratory manual for the Animal and Veterinary Sciences Department's course in animal industries.

Richard E. Warner, Professor Emeritus of Mechanical Engineering

A native of Canton, Ohio, Richard E. Warner brings to a close a 20-year University of Idaho career with his retirement. Former associate director of the university's Engineering Experiment Station, he first joined the UI faculty in 1966. A 1942 graduate of Miami University of Ohio, Warner received both his master's and doctoral degrees in chemical engineering from The Ohio State University. Active on numerous university committees, he also served for three years on the Moscow School Board, acting as chairman in 1976-77. Warner has been a leader in the Boy Scouts of America and has served in numerous offices of the Moscow Central Lions Club. Named in 1980 as a participant in the U.S. Department of Energy's Institute on Energy and Engineering Education, Warner was one of 38 participants chosen from throughout the nation. He is a member of Sigma Xi and Phi Lambda Upsilon, the Idaho Society of Professional Engineers, the International Solar Energy Society, the American Institute of Chemical Engineers and the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, among other professional associations. He is a registered professional engineer in both Idaho and Ohio. During his tenure at UI, Warner received grants from the Washington Water Power Company for solar energy research and developed new courses in solar energy engineering, alternative energy, and professional management for engineers.

Significance of Academic Costume

DOCTORS wear the round, bell sleeve, the gown is faced down the front and barred on the sleeves with black velvet or velvet of color indicating the degree; the doctor's hood is large. The doctor may, if he or she chooses, wear the gold tassel on the cap.

MASTERS wear the long, closed sleeve, with a slit near the upper part for the arm; the master's hood is of more moderate size.

BACHELORS wear the long pointed sleeve; the hood is small.

UNDERGRADUATES wear the round or pointed sleeve, and wear no hood.

Hoods are lined with the colors of the institutions granting the degree, or with which the wearer is connected, and are trimmed with velvet of the color distinctive of the degree — for example, arts and letters, white; fine arts, brown; philosophy, blue; science, gold-yellow; music, pink; agriculture, maize; engineering, orange; forestry, russet; pedagogy, light blue; commerce and accounting, drab.

HONOR CORDS draped over the shoulders designate the students who are graduating with honors; cum laude with silver cords and summa cum laude with gold cords. These are recognition cords and are worn on this one occasion only — they are not part of the academic costume.

Honor Cords are provided by the Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi.
