Louise McClure

Louise McClure of Boise is Idaho Sen. James A. McClure's widow. She and her husband are distinguished alumni and regarded amongst the state's very best citizens.

Louise earned a bachelor's degree in music from the University of Idaho in 1950, she also received a honorary doctor of Humane Letters in 2012, was a member of the Vandaleers and a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority.

Louise was a partner in her late husband's career, which began as the Payette County prosecuting attorney and culminated as a member of the U.S. House of Representatives and the U.S. Senate. She also contributed countless volunteer hours to a number of organizations, including service on the National Endowment for the Arts Council and the Boise Philharmonic Board. She continues to be a relevant voice in Idaho, penning op-eds and promoting the ideas and opinions she and her husband shared.

Both Jim and Louise approached his high profile profession with passionate dedication to Idaho and the nation, but always in a calm, reasoned and factual manner. He could be tough, but never nasty; opinionated, but never unwilling to listen to another point of view. It was with this background, his penchant for public policy, and the significant contributions to the university, state and nation that the University of Idaho renamed its Bureau of Public Affairs Research as the James A. and Louise McClure Center for Public Policy Research in 2007.

The McClures have served on the University of Idaho Foundation and the College of Law Advisory Board. They have been members of the University's College of Letters, Arts and Social Sciences Advancement Council and the Lionel Hampton International Jazz Festival Advisory Board. In 2001, they established the James and Louise McClure Endowment for the Sciences and Public Policy. In 2005, they received the University of Idaho President's Medallion in recognition of their contributions to the cultural, economic, scientific and social advancement of Idaho and its people, and their exceptional service to the state and nation. In October 2007, they served as grand marshals for the University's Homecoming parade.

The McClure's passion for service recalls a comment by President John Quincy Adams who said, "If your actions inspire others to dream more, learn more, do more and become more, you are a leader."

Jim Everett of Boise is the president and CEO of the Treasure Valley Family YMCA. Jim works with more than 6,000 volunteers, 1,000 employees and 50,000+ members.

In 1987, Jim was appointed CEO of the Boise Family Y, which then had 2,500 members. Under Jim's leadership, the Boise Y grew into the Treasure Valley Family Y with more than 50,000 members and has raised more than $50 million to spread the Y's mission to more people, especially children and families. In 2013, he received the Joseph G. Rogers Award, which recognizes dedication, accomplishments and excellence in national YMCA competitive swimming and diving.

As the CEO and a former competitive swimmer, Jim worked to build the first indoor 50-meter aquatic facility in Idaho and subsequent aquatic centers in the Treasure Valley. He also worked to ensure swimming became a high school varsity sport even when no school facility had a pool. To further his commitment to the sport, he served as meet referee for state meets and many local dual meets for more than a decade. He also recruited volunteer coaches for the Treasure Valley high school teams in the first year of competition and one volunteer continues to coach one of those teams.

Jim currently serves on the boards of Healthwise, St. Luke's Hospital, St. Luke's Treasure Valley Education Partnership and US Bank of Idaho. He is the co-chair of the Idaho Business Coalition for Education Excellence's Early Childhood Committee, as well as the co-chair of the Idaho Voices for Children's Education Committee. He also is a trustee of the College of Idaho where he collaborated with the athletic director to start men's and women's swimming programs.

Jim graduated cum laude from Albion College in Albion, Mich., and is a member of the Albion College Hall of Fame.

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO – IDAHO FALLS

Jackie Flowers of Idaho Falls is the general manager of Idaho Falls Power – a locally owned electric utility that provides electric service to more than 26,000 meters in the city of Idaho Falls.

Jackie manages a staff of 65 employees and a $70 million budget. She joined the utility in July 2006 as the first female manager in the utility's 113-year history. Jackie, a Wyoming native, is a registered professional engineer with a background in civil engineering and more than 20 years of experience, 13 of which involve managing publicly owned utilities.

Jackie serves as the governor-appointed chair of the board of directors for the Idaho Strategic Energy Alliance that represents public power interests in Idaho and is appointed to the Idaho Energy Resources Authority board. She serves on the Northwest Public Power Association Board of Trustees and the Utah Associated Municipal Power Systems board of directors. Jackie also is a member of the American Public Power Association, Idaho Consumer-Owned Utilities Association and past-president for the Partnership for Science and Technology. Additionally, she currently serves as president of the Idaho Falls Rotary Club No. 1041.

In 2010, the Partnership for Science and Technology presented Jackie the Energy Advocate Award for exceptional leadership and devoted service to the advancement of energy initiatives.

Beyond the walls of the power utility, you can find Jackie spending time with her family skiing, kayaking, camping, hiking, biking and any other activity that involves the outdoors.

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO – COEUR D'ALENE

Sandi Bloem, the former mayor of Coeur d'Alene, has accomplished two great firsts in Coeur d'Alene as the mayor. She is the first female mayor of the city and the first mayor elected for three terms in Coeur d'Alene.

Prior to her election, Sandi was an active community member. She co-chaired the city's Downtown Revitalization Committee, chaired the city's strategic planning committee (CdA 2020), and served on the planning commission for four years. She also served on the Chamber of Commerce board of directors, the EXCEL Foundation board of directors and on the North Idaho College Foundation Board.

Sandi recently received the Salvation Army's William Booth Award, named for the organization's founder, for her outstanding service. In 2008, she earned the Salvation Army's Trailblazer Award for her leadership in bringing the Ray and Joan Kroc Corps Community Center to Coeur d'Alene. The University of Idaho awarded Sandi the President's Medallion in 2011 for her exceptional service. She received the 2011 Idaho Chapter of the American Planning Association's Planning Leadership Award for promoting planning in the public arena.

The fourth generation of her family to plant deep roots in Coeur d'Alene, Sandi taught fourth and sixth grades in the Coeur d'Alene School District (#271) for 10 years. She also worked as a leader for the U.S. Forest Service YCC program from 1973 to 1976.

Sandi had almost completed an advanced degree in Educational Counseling when she was called upon to help lead the family's business, Dingle's Hardware. After moving the hardware store out of the downtown area, Sandi became involved in the jewelry business and has owned and operated Johannes & Company Jewelry since 1985. She has five children, 13 grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren.

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO – MOSCOW, COLLEGE OF LAW

Don Burnett served as interim president of the University of Idaho from June 2013 to March 2014. He had served as dean of the College of Law since 2002, and he returned to the law faculty upon completion of his presidential appointment.

An Idaho native, Don was born in Pocatello to parents who came from mining families in Wallace and who attended the University of Idaho during the Great Depression. As first-generation college graduates, they felt the University of Idaho had been their gateway to the world. When Don later became interim president, he described his service as the “repayment of a family debt.”

Don received his baccalaureate degree in economics from Harvard, his J.D. degree from the University of Chicago, and an LL.M. degree from the University of Virginia. His wife, Karen Trujillo who also is a Pocatello native, earned an M.F.A. degree from the University of Idaho. Don graduated from the Command and General Staff College of the United States Army and served as a reserve officer in the Judge Advocate General’s Corps. His civilian career also included service as dean of the Louis D. Brandeis School of Law at the University of Louisville, judge of the Idaho Court of Appeals, judge of the Shoshone-Bannock Tribal Court, president of the Idaho State Bar, and private practitioner of law in Pocatello.

As interim president, Don worked to broaden participation by staff and faculty in university decision-making, to protect student health and safety, to advance the University’s $225 million capital campaign, and to build pride in the University of Idaho’s distinctive heritage. His writings and speeches often described the University as “Idaho’s national land-grant, founding, comprehensive, constitutionally established and, therefore, flagship institution.” He emphasized collaboration with sister institutions in promoting all of higher education in Idaho.

HONORARY DEGREE

An honorary degree is awarded to a person deserving of honor by virtue of scholarly distinction, noteworthy public service or significant contributions to the state of Idaho. In the selection of candidates for honorary degrees, preference is given to those who are Idaho residents or University of Idaho graduates.

Sue Hovey of Moscow Idaho, began her schooling in Texas, but she became an educational fixture in Idaho once she completed her bachelor's degree in education from the University of Idaho in 1968. Over the years, she not only earned her Master of Arts in sociology from UI in 1978, she continued to teach American government and sociology as well as served both gifted and at-risk students in Moscow School District from 1968 through 1996.

However, those 28 years at Moscow High School and Moscow Junior High School are only the tip of the iceberg of her educational influence. Her local, state, national and international activities always reflected her devotion to education and service to others. As a teacher, she has been awarded numerous times, recognized locally as Moscow High School's Teacher of the Year, University of Idaho's Outstanding Alumna; statewide as Outstanding Idaho Teacher, IEA's recipient of the Shane Anderson Outstanding Member Award, and the IEA Region II's Nora Davis Baily Award for Educational Service; and nationally as a winner of The Disney American Teacher Award which honors outstanding teachers who inspire the joy of learning in America's public schools. Sue also was recognized as the Idaho Outstanding Teacher by the University of Idaho at the 1990 centennial celebration.

Sue has not only served in various capacities in local association positions, political committees, and community activities, she has held a wide variety of positions at the state level: Moscow Education Association president, Idaho Professional Standards Commission chair, Idaho Education Association board of directors, member of Idaho's Special Education Advisory Board, member of NASDTEC Accreditation Teams, conference planner and presenter for the Idaho Department of Education, and member of Public Education and Policy Review Task Force. On the national level, Sue served on the National Education Association board of directors for 12 years, rose to the esteemed position of Executive Committee member. For many years she traveled around the U. S. serving on committees for Ethnic Minority Involvement, for the Martin Luther King Center for Non-Violence, for AIDS policies for the Centers for Disease Control, and as a keynote speaker at conferences in Arizona, Ohio, Arkansas, Utah, Florida, Washington, Idaho as well as lending her voice to educational policy questions in North Carolina, New Jersey, Georgia, Wyoming, Alaska and Illinois.

Her work on the National Board for Professional Teaching Standards, however, is her shining achievement. Due to Sue's prominence and voice in the national education debates and her success as a classroom teacher, she was asked to be a member of the charter board of directors for the National Board for Professional Teaching Standards in 1986, and continued on the board from then until 1993. In 1998, Sue Hovey became adjunct professor at UI as one of the facilitators of the North Idaho NBPTS Project, a position she held until spring of 2013. Since 1998, Sue has shepherded more than 200 teachers through the complex National Board Certification process.

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO – MOSCOW

Thomas Reveley of Bainbridge Island, Wash. is a 1959 University of Idaho graduate and wealth management leader. He originally intended to join the Navy after high school, but he followed the sage advice of a supervisor at a Southern California nursery who encouraged him to study forestry at the University of Idaho. It was upon this foundation and education at the university that Reveley built his success.

Tom graduated with a degree in forestry, and embarked on a career that first took him to Weyerhaeuser, a leader in the timberlands and wood-products industries. In New York City, Reveley joined Merrill Lynch as a commodity analyst. He continued his service with Merrill Lynch after he and his wife, Teita, moved back to the Northwest, settling in the Seattle area in 1972. Currently, he is a wealth management adviser and managing director of wealth management in Merrill Lynch's Pension & Profit Sharing Unit in the Global Wealth Management Division.

Reveley credits the University of Idaho for a "critical" role in his professional success, citing the unique environment at the home campus in Moscow.

The Reveleys have stayed involved with Tom's alma mater — supporting an array of scholarship funds and programs. It would be hard to find an area of university life the couple hasn't supported through the years. A former member of the UI Foundation board of directors, Tom has contributed to athletics, to the Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival, the President's Leadership Excellence Fund, to a number of facilities projects, and more.

Passionate about ensuring the success of future students, the Reveleys established the Thomas L. and Teita Reveley Scholarship Endowment. The new Geospatial Education and Research Complex at the College of Natural Resources also bears the Reveley name, a testament to their commitment to the innovative project centered on earth system science.

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO – COEUR D'ALENE

Douglas (Doug) Hawkins, continues his lifelong career of a Litehouse founder as the current chairman of the board. He served as president of Litehouse from 1984 to 2008, and was responsible for the sales and marketing department during those years.

Doug was born in Sandpoint, Idaho, and moved to the family home above the Litehouse Restaurant in Hope, Idaho, in 1958. He attended Sandpoint High School and the University of Idaho, where he received a bachelor of science degree in education. For a short time he was a physical education teacher. There has never been a time in Doug's life that he was not involved in the family restaurant/dressing business, including the early college days when he sold dressing to stores along the 100 mile drive to school on a weekly basis.

The weekends and summers were busy buying supplies and making the dressing in the Hope restaurant, and then going on the road selling the products store to store. Doug trained as a chef at his father's side, where he learned at a very young age not only how to prepare food, but also how people react to the presentation of food and how to interpret various philosophies on food. Doug has managed/owned several restaurants leading up to the full time focus on the dressing business in 1976.

Doug has authored articles in Success and Entrepreneur Magazine, as well as a chapter in the book "Executive Influence" by Christopher A. Crane and Mike Hamel. Doug is a former Sandpoint city councilman, and a founding board member of the Bonner County Economic Development Council. He also served on the University of Idaho College of Education Advisory Board. Doug and his brother, Edward, initiated the Eric Kirkland HPERD Scholarship Endowment, gifted the College of Education with funds to provide new equipment for the UI Human Performance Lab and contributed funds for the Litehouse Center/Bud and June Ford Club Room in the ASUI-Kibbie Activity Center.

Doug and his wife, Lodi, enjoy traveling and spending time with their six children and 14 grandchildren.

Edward Hawkins is a lifelong veteran of Litehouse Foods and served as CEO from 1989-2011.

Edward was born in Pullman, Wash. and grew up in Hope, Idaho, where he worked in the family restaurant. His first official Litehouse job was as a mixer in the production department.

He received a bachelor's degree in elementary education from the University of Idaho. After college and a short time as an elementary teacher, Edward, then 25 years old, stepped in and made the dressing business a priority when his father's illness forced the restaurant to close. In 1977, he became financial manager and in 1985, added responsibility for all operations. He continues to be instrumental in growing Litehouse and fostering the company vision: "Built to Last."

He served on the boards of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and the Bonner County Economic Development Council. He has a gift and passion for motivational roles, and has been the keynote speaker at numerous events, including Greater Spokane Area Chamber of Commerce, and the University of Idaho Integrated Business Curriculum series (IBC). Edward is a cowboy at heart and enjoys trail rides, time with his family and serving God. When asked what his new role at Litehouse is, he proudly responds: "Keeper of Values."

Edward and his brother, Doug, initiated the Eric Kirkland HPERD Scholarship Endowment, gifted the College of Education with funds to provide new equipment for the UI Human Performance Lab and contributed funds for the Litehouse Center/Bud and June Ford Club Room in the ASUI-Kibbie Activity Center.

Edward and his wife, Rebecca, have four children: Elizabeth, Christopher, Nicholas, Brandon, and grandson, Ashlei.

The UI WWAMI Program is offered jointly with the Washington State University WWAMI Program and offers first-year medical students the opportunities of training with the combined biomedical faculties, while making use of the teaching, research and training facilities on both campuses. UI WWAMI students also complete their first clinical training rotations with local physicians, clinics and hospitals in Moscow and the Palouse.

SIGNIFICANCE OF ACADEMIC APPAREL AND MACE

By observing certain features of the academic apparel, it is possible to learn several things about the academic status of the scholar: the level of the degree attained, the branch of learning in which it was earned, and the college or university conferring the degree.

Gowns

The gowns differ according to the level of the degree. The sleeves are the principal indicator – gowns of bachelors have pointed sleeves; those of masters have oblong sleeves with an arc cut away at the front; and doctors have round, bell-shaped sleeves. Bachelor's and master's gowns are untrimmed. Doctoral gowns have distinctive velvet facing down the front and three velvet bars on each sleeve.

Caps

The color of the tassel worn on the cap varies with the level of degree. The bachelor's tassel represents the color appropriate to the major field of study; the master's and specialist's tassels are black; and the doctoral tassels are old gold.

Hoods

The length of the hood also varies according to the level of degree. The bachelor's gown is worn without a hood. A master's hood is three and one-half feet long, and a doctor's hood is four feet in length and has panels at the sides. It is from the colors adorning the hood that one can learn two other facts. Lining – the hood is lined with the official color or colors of the college or university conferring the degree (silver and gold, signifying the University of Idaho). Trimming – the hood is trimmed with velvet of a color appropriate to the wearer's branch of learning. For example, the trimming for the degree of Master of Science in Agriculture is maize, representing agriculture, rather than golden yellow, representing science. In the case of the Doctor of Philosophy degree, the dark blue color is used, representing the mastery of the discipline of learning and scholarship, regardless of the branch of learning. Colors associated with the different disciplines are as follows:

Agriculture	Maize	Music	Pink
Arts, Letters, Humanities	White	Nursing	Apricot

Honor Cords

Honor Cords, worn around the neck and hanging loosely down the front, identify students who are graduating with honors: gold, summa cum laude (with highest distinction); silver, magna cum laude (with great distinction); and bronze, cum laude (with distinction). The cords are provided by the University of Idaho and are worn on this one occasion only.

The University of Idaho adopted a doctoral gown of its own in 1989. The silver gown has a panel and sleeve bars of black velvet outlined in antique gold. The beret-style soft cap is patterned after the Cambridge version instead of the traditional Oxford-style mortarboard. The cap and gown were designed by Emeritus Professor Edmund Chavez in the university's centennial year and is worn today by faculty serving as officials at the university commencements.

The mace, a heavy staff or club used in medieval times for breaking armor, acquired a ceremonial function in 13th-century France as a symbol of secular authority. The University of Idaho mace — designed by Edmund M. Chavez, professor emeritus, with metal work by Idaho artist Ray Goodner — was used for the first time at the 1989 centennial commencement. It is 32 inches long, made of walnut, and encircled with bands of Idaho gold and silver in which Idaho garnets and opals are set. The head is embellished with silver and gold representations of camas plants and syringa flowers.

“HERE WE HAVE IDAHO”

1 Alma Mater, the hope of a pioneer race;
You're fashioned of dreams and of toil,
Your walls and your towers by stout-hearted men
Were raised from the rock and the soil.

Chorus

And here we have Idaho,
Winning her way to fame;
Silver and Gold in the sunlight blaze,
And romance lies in her name;
Singing, we're singing of you, ah, proudly too;
All our lives through we'll go singing,
Singing of you, Alma Mater, our Idaho.

2 Now ours is the heritage, rich and so full,
The gain of their toil and their tears;
And ours is the fruit, and the harvest is ours,
Oh, Idaho, gift of the years.

Chorus

And here we have Idaho,
Winning her way to fame;
Silver and Gold in the sunlight blaze,
And romance lies in her name;
Singing, we're singing of you, ah, proudly too;
All our lives through we'll go singing,
Singing of you, Alma Mater, our Idaho.
