Dear Kenneth:

I was surprised and pleased to be the recipient of your recent long distance call from Moscow.

The article in the April 1975 issue of CONTEXT entitled "WILDERNESS RANCH HOLDS PROMISE" interested me greatly and recalled pleasant experiences of long ago.

Four negatives pertaining to the Big Creek area, with brief descriptions, are enclosed. These may be retained for permanent records of the university. I am also enclosing a 1930 map of the Idaho National Forest. I realize that many of the names have changed, but you may find it a desirable historical document.

I would be delighted to accept your invitation of an air ride to the Dave Lewis Ranch. Any week-end between July 15 and Labor Day would be suitable.

I have long wanted to visit the school forest on Moscow Mountain. It would be most interesting to observe the changes there during the past 52 years.

Sincerely,

Warren H. Bolles
