Dear Mr. Toth:

I am happy to receive your letter of February 28th and to learn of your interest in lithics.

Your proposed studies in Eastern Africa should be most rewarding and exciting. I am pleased to learn of your meeting Jacques Tixier. He, by the way, just sent me a card mentioning a find of fossil man in the Arabian Gulf area. As far as he knows, that will be the first in North Africa.

I am planning to join the workshop conducted by Jeffery Flenniken some time in June. I have been plagued by a series of operations and ill health for the past year, but hopefully I will be able to attend the summer flintknapping school and am enclosing his brochure for the school. I think you will find the school most rewarding as it will deal with numerous technologies. There is an interesting exchange of information with the other students. They are usually picked from diverse geographical areas so there is a lot of cross-pollination and exchanging of ideas. I attended last year and the results were most fruitful.

I would look forward to meeting you and I am sure you would enjoy this session.

Respectfully yours,

Don E. Crabtree
