

Ce. 11.6.45b.

Hello, Dan -

I was running so late, I didn't take time to write a review of happenings - three years? Too much to catch up.

We are well, happy, and very busy. At home, Joe is finishing up plates and figures for Jurgens Site. Then back to the textiles book. At the museum, going in circles trying to work up exhibits for a large collection of Oriental textiles, pottery, and miscellaneous items being given to the museum. - Plus routine chores.

I am still editing - typing for Marie; writing up my report, for publication, on HYBRID JAY (bilingual) vocalizations; doing my "chores" and adoring my "children." I hereby share with you ↗ my delightful and very funny little

clown, SUNFLOWER

→