Dear Don:

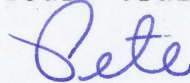

I am in the early stages of arranging a symposium on lithic technology for the 1972 Plains Conference. I've just sent out invitations for papers so that there has been no time to receive replies. I thus don't know what the specific papers and program will be. I am optimistic, however, that we will be able to bring together a good group to compare notes and discuss problems.

I am writing to let you know about the event and to tell you that I hope that you can take part in the get-together. If you could attend the session with either a brief paper or as a discussant I know you would be a real asset. Thus if you might be able to make the trip we'd love to have you. If it would not be best to come to the meetings I would still hope that you could take part by sending a short paper that could be read for you. Of course it would be best to have you here but any contribution you could make would be appreciated. The money situation, here like everywhere else is fairly tight, but if you could make the trip I think we could find some travel money.

The Conference will be held in Lincoln, November 1-4. Please consider taking part in the session either in person if possible or with a paper. I'll look forward to your reply.

My regards to Evelyn.

Yours truly,

Peter A. Bleed
Instructor in Anthropology
