Dear Don,

I trust that you have been reimbursed by Canada Council for your travel expenses to Calgary? My check finally came this week.

The National Museums of Man in Ottawa is introducing as part of their Mercury Series a special program for the publication of Ph.D dissertations pertaining to Canadian archaeology. As my study "Models for Deriving Cultural Information from Stone Tools" qualifies I hope to have it published. I would like to request your permission to reprint the illustration of the flake on page 45 in "An Introduction to Flintworking." The Mercury Series is a non-profit academic publication much like the Idaho Occasional Papers. Consequently, I cannot offer financial reimbursement for the use of the illustration. However, once my study is published I would be glad to send you a free copy.

I just received a very nice note from Jaques Tixier indicating that he felt the lithic technology conference was a success.

I am sorry for the delay in the repayment. Apparently a number of things happened at Calgary including a strike at the payroll office. Please give my regards to Evelynne.

Best wishes,

Rob
