Dear Don,

I am long overdue with a letter which I apologize for. I had intended to come to Idaho in May but this plan did not materialize since I had to do some more fieldwork for my M. A. Thesis in the Cypress Hills. I made it back to Edmonton yesterday and am now faced with the massive job of writing up the material culture.

I was very happy to hear you would consider me as an understudy this coming fall. I suspect that I will not be finished with my thesis by September. Therefore I will have to devote part of my time to finishing the Thesis. This is probably a good thing since you have indicated the muscles can't take a full day of flint knapping anyway. I have finished all of the required course work for the degree - Thank God -

I will probably be coming to Idaho in the last part of September depending on how things develop here.

I undertook the job of teaching an extension course in field and laboratory Archaeology this summer which will begin tomorrow. I am planning on having some of the people enrolled in the course help me with my Thesis material. I hope this scheme works out. Give my regards to Evelyn.

Best wishes
