

I will point out that obsidian was used almost wholly -
 - - - - - here as obsidian - - - - - The transverse burins show wear on one edge which suggests that they may have been used as end scrapers. Many of the blades - the large blades - show retouch - - - - - Core tablets such as the - - - - - there are characteristic of the site. The - - - - - found - - - - - are core tablets - - - - - in size - - - - - all of the micro blades - full size micro blades - are without any statistical - - - - - It's very
 - - - - - Apart from that I'll point out that the stone lamps or stone vessels - - - - -
 - - - - of this material - - - - there are some traces of an excavated dwelling - - - - of the of semi-subterranean type.

Beyond this there isn't much that I can say about it. The pottery is - - - - - dissertation.
 This material is very close to the shore line of the old Bearing Strait. It is on a very small island off of the - - - North Island - - - - -

The island could have been back eight or nine thousand years ago. That is about all I can say.
