Dear Friends -

Please excuse the long silence! I just "kinda got swamped" in a lot of things. Now at least we are quieting down. I am home at the above address writing up my notes on the dig, planning for next year and also writing the report of General regional survey which led us to the Leakey Site - & "nesting"?

The meeting at Bishop was an all-around joy.
Dr. Leakey accepted several more tools. He was so well pleased that he planned to return in May with Mr. Clark and others. However, a bug got Dr. Leakey and he ended up in an Illinois hospital. After that he went back to Africa. Now we hope to see him in September, when he comes for a meeting at the Smithsonian.

As you know, the new grant was approved when I was in Washington, so we are making big plans for next winter. I do hope you folks can plan to spend some time with us. It would be wonderful to really break down the flake and flake tool and try to set up patterns - to say nothing of the upper materials. Along that line, Ruthe Eagles was working the last two months several miles from camp in a most interesting area — interesting from the standpoint of the surface as well as a shallow deposit. It is rather badly chewed up now but still interesting and different. Do come whenever you can.

I keep my fingers crossed for Dr. Pitt this Summer. There is a fence & many signs and a guard — so we shall see. --- Hope you have a good summer. I'll let you know when we know the date of Mr. Beakley's return.

Let us know if and when you come out to Warren's dig and maybe we can pick around a few ideas. I have no plans beyond writing up stuff for the present, but hope for fishing and I. N. A. U. A. later.

Sincerely -
Dee Simpson
