Dear Mr Crabtree,

Just some words to tell you. I have got the ~~obsidian~~ obsidian two days ago. Thank you very much. Do not worry about cutting it: we have very good saws at the Department of Geology. I already have it cut.

I just got a letter from Desmond Clark: "we are also expecting to get Crabtree down for a week to demonstrate pressure flaking"! So it seems we will meet in Berkeley, provided I get a visa! I have ~~xx~~ the same trouble ~~xxxx~~ I had in 1959: I have been contaminated by communists when I was in the french resistance!

Well, I find pressure flaking very restfull, when I am fed up writing letters, etc. Yesterday, I wrote 32 letters and made 4 points! I am trying to do some fluting, with variable results!

Our best regards to Mrs Crabtree.

See you soon, I hope!

Very sincerely,

F. Borde

P.S. I gave your adress to some people in the States who are interested in lithic technology, but were not at the conference. I hope you do not mind.
