Dear Dr. Bordes:

We have sufficient funds to pay for your round-trip air travel from Montreal and ten day's work with Don Crabtree just between the two of you. In addition there would be need for a one-day appearance at Idaho State University and at Washington State University to give general lectures on European prehistory or Paleolithic art or a related subject of general interest to students, faculty, and others in the community who would not be technically prepared. We have honoraria of $200 apiece from Idaho State University and Washington State University plus authorization from the National Science Foundation to meet your expenses while you work with Don Crabtree.

Could you let me know how matters are going with your trip to Montreal and whether the time for a trip to Pocatello could be made more specific? If there is anything further I can do to help, please let me know.

Cordially yours,

Earl H. Swanson
