Talence, le 7 décembre 1964

Dear Mr and Mrs Crabtree, What a charming idea it was from our good american friends giving a so nice mission to Mr. and Mrs Guichard! Everybody at home was surprised and glad when I opened boxes full of bright and wonderful fish knives and forks, modern "tools" so well adapted to their function! You know, it was like a wedding-gift!

M. and Mrs Guichard who choosed a perfect and high-class model gave this astonishing gift on Friday evening and yesterday which was Sunday we received them at lunch - of course, we ate fish with this wonderful "service" and I said a toast in honour of everybody the names I read on the husband and I and all the family will remember every time I shall use for fish-eating one day by week with best regards to paper, with <sup>drinking</sup> a cup of Champagne!

Thank <sup>you</sup> very much, dear M. Clobbee and Mrs Clobbee - My husband and I, we both think and hope you enjoyed your french trip - For everybody here it was full of new knowledge about lithic technology. The "bureau" of ~~the~~ is full of little bright cutting obsidian flakes; the floor looks like a working-place of prehistoric man! My two sons try to do the same -

It was a high point of the life of my husband to receive the opportunity of meeting you, dear Mr. Clobbee. He learnt a lot from you - a thing without prize! Dear Mrs Clobbee, you can understand quite well how nice it is for me to have this beautiful "service à porssons" in my cupboard. I hope to have the opportunity of receive you both at home - you will see how nice it is on the table. Thanks for this proof of heartful friendship and believe my
