Dear Don;

Many thanks for the encouraging fan letter. I really doubt that it will be a bible for very long because I think the field of early man will change very rapidly in the next few years. In other words, much of what is in the book will become out of date.

We are, if we get travel money, going back to Venezuela and Brazil to try to line up things for next year and to finish our reports. We also want to visit early sites in Guatemala, Nicaragua and Panama on the way down.

Our very best regards,

Alan & Ruth

Dear Don:

Many thanks for the accompanying letter. I really doubt that it will be a letter for very long because I think the field of early man will change very rapidly in the next few years. In other words, much of what is in the book will become out of date.

As far as the travel money, being back to Vancouver and having to try to line up things for next year and to finish my reports, we also want to visit early sites in the state, Michigan and Ontario on the way home.

Our very best regards,
