Dear Sir:

I wrote you several months ago to inquire as to the progress being made on experimenting with obsidian tools for ~~plastic~~ surgery. Apparently you forwarded my letter to a medical doctor, who sent me a ~~very~~ prompt reply. I have misplaced that letter but am interested in knowing how the project is progressing.

I have a "V-shaped" scar at the corner of my left eye. It is quite noticeable, and I would like to explore the possibility of having it (at least one side of the "V") removed. How is your scar from your tumor removal doing? I would actually like to see ~~to~~ what is left of the incision, but that is rather a forward request, I realize.

at any rate, please let me know about the project's ~~prog~~ progress. I'm very interested.

Sincerely,

Marilyn Campbell
