Dear Don,

Many thanks for your letter of March 15th. I am, indeed, grateful to you for having put forward Dave Proctor's name for the July lithic technology school and we shall look forward to hearing whether he is accepted. We greatly appreciate your help; I don't think you will be disappointed in him. We do also have a student here, Bob Logsdon, who told me before the Quarter break that he would be very interested to attend the workshop. He shows great promise and has just done some very interesting work on bipolar technique which I am very pleased with. He already has a fair ability in using hard and soft hammers and I think you would find him a very responsive and rewarding student.

Betty and I feel with you both at the present time. Please accept our sincere good wishes and kindest remembrances. We too look back to your visit to Berkeley with the very greatest pleasure; in fact, I have seldom enjoyed anything more than watching you at work for those films. We both think of you and Evelyn often.

Yours most sincerely,

J. Desmond Clark,
Professor of Anthropology.
