Dear Don,

Wanted to wish you a happy holiday season. Hope all is well in Idaho and you are staying out of trouble.

Maine is a superb place with beautiful woods, ocean beaches, lakes and more lakes, and mountains. Water everywhere.

School is also superb with exceptional geologists, paleoecologists, and archaeologists working somewhat synchronously toward an understanding of the Quaternary. Rob Bonnichsen is an interesting and unpredictable "old Idaho boy", who seems to be interested in my direction. At present my direction is toward a thesis in phosphate analysis in site recognition. The geoarchaeological approach I hope! Archaeology in Maine is very exciting and relatively unexplored.

We'll do have a MERRY CHRISTMAS and a healthy and happy new year.

love,
Vickie
