Dear Errett:

Thanks so much for a "whale of a catalog." It certainly is a coincidence that there is a cosmetic firm that has such a name. I thank you very much for remembering me.

Also, you have done a beautiful job of associating and collecting artifacts from all of the different knappers. Yours is probably the most comprehensive study of different individual technologies any place in the world. I am only sorry that I haven't sent you better examples. I am one that puts off to the next day what could be done today.

You and Jackie are doing a simply great job in expanding Flintknapper's Exchange. I am sure there will be an accelerated demand for this publication as it's the only comprehensive study or association of different and diverse knapping techniques of world technology.

I was so glad to have a visit from Tixier and to be able to see the work of Pelegrin. Jacques often spoke of you with the highest regards. I will certainly look forward to your next issue listing some of these others that I am not familiar with. I had an opportunity to be with Glen Goode in Belize and do hope he keeps up his interesting I have never met McCormick, but I have had contact with Mewhinney who published The Handbook for Neanderthals; and I would suppose Warren is Richard Warren who is a knapper with great skill even though commercial. Rinehart and Kalin I do not know but will be most interested to learn of their work.

It is a shame that time goes so fast and our time together has been much too limited. Perhaps someday in the future we will be able to sit and work together. By the way, I haven't sent in any dues for some time. I think I paid $5 when we were in Casper and one other time when you were short of funds I gave you $50 which is probably now expired. Would you have Jackie inform me if I am in debt, and I will be glad to send additional funds.

With kindest regards -

Your friend,

Don Crabtree
