Dear Don:

Thank you for your kind personal letter and for the pointed and forceful letter to Henry Hamilton defending the use of replication in archaeology, both by knapping and casting. Henry is in agreement with our views and will use your letter to back up his case for a change of wording in the bill.

It is good to have this letter from you concerning the angle of knapping as well as casting for no one is in a better position than yourself to express these views and no one can speak on this subject with more impact.

Again, my appreciation,

J. Allen Eichenberger
