

Frisco Fletcher
299 E. 45th St
Jacksonville Fla
32208

Professor Wm E. Crabtree Route 1. Kimberly, Idaho.

Dear Sir! In my

Last letter I am afraid I offended you by my request for an obsidian knife. If I have asked for too much I beg you to overlook my mistake and forgive me. I have enjoyed chipping on the chips you sent me, and find that I enjoy this more than anything I have ever tried, that is after getting chisels in my fingers and learning that I have to don glasses to keep glass out of my eyes and wear gloves, but I have shaped a few fairly nice articles, and now that I am grounded and obliged to remain seated I could pass the time doing something I love to do. I am enclosing 5 dollars for to cover the trouble of gathering some more chips and to cover shipping charges if its not too much to ask for, please do send me some more scrap chips I can't manage the heavy thick pieces and would concentrate on the small type points like bird points so I can use the smaller pieces

I cannot produce the beautiful work you send but its the most fascinating thing I have ever tried and now that I am unable to get around I would enjoy this and be forever thankful to you I will some day snap a picture of the articles I have shaped and send it to you for your disapproval

Now again let me say if I have asked for too much in requesting the knife please just forgive me for reaching for the moon so to speak. and the money I am enclosing is not to pay for the chips but to cover the cost of packing and shipping charges. And thank you ever so much for what you have done for an old fellow that has been searching for beauty in stone for over half century. With kind regards to you and yours

And God bless you

I beg to remain sincerely

Brocco Fletcher