Dear Don:

Thank you very much for your reply to my questionnaire about a possible Point Typology Conference with the Northwestern Anthropological Meeting in Portland. I am very happy to know that you and Evelyn will be able to attend and by all means bring some of your flint working along. We will plan for you to demonstrate both some of your new ideas as well as some of the ideas you may have presented before on how this material is worked.

The response in general to the questionnaires has been encouraging enough for me to proceed with definite plans for, I hope, a full day of sessions on proposed projectile point types. Details will follow after more of the responses have been returned.

Sincerely yours,

Robert E. Greengo,
Associate Professor of Anthropology
