Dear Dick and Betsy:

We thank you so much for sending the superb slides of the volcano. You are, indeed, an excellent photographer and these will long be a pleasant reminder of a delightful and wonderful experience. Top, Evelyn finally got to see the volcano. Thank you both for making our trip to Hawaii so pleasant and for all the many thoughtful things you did for us in Honolulu.

Our weather here is still cold and sometimes the temperature is sub zero. We seldom watch football games, but we did indulge in the Hula Bowl game for another glimpse of Honolulu. It may have been a little damp there that day but at least it was warm. We were delighted when the camera panned in on the Ala Moana and the Towers.

We received our check and a nice letter from Yoshi and he also sent some slides of the demonstration of the Bishop Museum. They were - in the truest Japanese tradition - beautiful photography and even have some of Dick making blades showing the actual detachment.

Junius called the other night and he seemed to enjoy the post card and the comments about the bikini. He was leaving the next day for Panama and said Peggy would join him in about three weeks. I do hope that his excavation will be successful. Should be for he must be close to the now extinct inter-continental highway.

The rubbings we made in Hawaii are now framed and hung in my shop and I prize them. Brings back pleasant memories. Too, when I want to relax I think of the soothing sound of the waves breaking outside our lanai at the Kona Tiki.

Hester writes that things are very bad financially at Berkeley and they are not rehiring professors when one retires, dies or just leaves. Tom will be going to San Antonio and hope we don't lose touch.

Thanks again for everything and the best to you both.

With kindest personal regards,

Don E. Crabtree
