Dear Don,

Is it possible for me to once again come out to Idaho and just watch the master at work for about a week? The dissertation is being wrapped up. It has long since been first-draft finished, and I am in the final phases--specially the cruel editing. I am still uneasy about the pressure/fine percussion distinctions and would like to study your techniques by first-hand observation.

It is the furthest thing from my mind to be a nuisance, as I want to be as unobtrusive as possible; so I would expect that any arrangement be made at your convenience. I, of course, will make my own housing accommodations and take care of any details of that nature.

I am taking leave during the fall quarter to insure the completion, so I could get to Idaho from now until the first of the year. My husband and I will be in England for one of those budget tours in October. I've made some initial inquiries as to the availability of the flint quarries and have gotten some favorable responses. I'd appreciate any suggestions that might come to your mind. Perhaps I can pick up some flint samples there.

I trust all is well, albeit busy, at the lab in Pocatello, and that your own health and that of your wife is holding up. Please do give my best wishes to Mrs. Crabtree.

Best regards,

Barbara
