Dear Don,

I sent off the Eastern Michigan Flint via UPS today - shippers seem to have such complex ways of getting things from one place to another that I just thought this would be easiest and would (finally!) get the material into your hands.

I sure hope you enjoy using it. Say the word and I'll be more than happy to send more along.

Incidentally, I ran across in my reading a chapter of a text detailing an archeological site in southeastern Michigan which pictured several artifacts quite clearly produced from this same flint. I'll xerox the article if you think it might be of value. I would have no way of knowing myself. Also I doubt that the distinct banding which identified the material on the photos would show well on a xerox - but just the same, let me know if you might want it.

Best regards,

JBB

I HOPE YOUR HEALTH
IS FULLY RESTORED!
