February, 1976

To Participants in C.L.U.W.

Planning for the Conference on Lithic Use-Wear is proceeding apace and there are several developments which you should know of. First, I am enclosing a list of all persons who have agreed to participate in the workshop sessions and prepare some original research. As you can see, response has been overwhelmingly supportive and in most cases very enthusiastic. Second, I have sorted out paper topics into several categories which will form topics for workshop sessions. It would be helpful if you would orient your paper texts towards these major themes where feasible, or make them pertinent to one or more topics. Third, because of the scope of the topics of discussion, and to accommodate a general summary session, the conference has been extended in length to 5 (it may have to go to 6) days. If anyone has strong feelings one way or the other about extending the sessions over 6 days (2 sessions per day) please let me know. Fourth, because a number of participants have indicated time and monetary conflict with the International Union of Pre- and Protohistorical Sciences Congress at Nice, and because of planning considerations, I have decided to reschedule the conference for the 15 (16) - 20th March, 1977. I hope this poses no inconvenience for anyone.

Finally, although funding is still under way, we have already obtained several commitments. I think I can guarantee at least a 40% reimbursement for travel at this point.

Let me say again that I find the prospect of this conference continually exciting, and am convinced that it will be an extremely significant archaeological happening and an important source of data for years to come.

Yours sincerely,

Brian D. Hayden,
Conference Co-ordinator

Symposia Topics

- I. Use-wear definitions: Fracture types and mechanics of formation
- II. Use-wear definitions: Edge rounding to gloss and mechanics of formation
- III. Sources of Use-wear morphology I: Raw lithic material as an independent variable
- IV. Sources of Use-wear morphology II: Motor patterns as an independent variable
- V. Sources of Use-wear morphology III: Edge shapes, sections and impacts as independent variables
- VI. Sources of Use-wear morphology IV: Worked materials as independent variables
- VII. Sources of Use-wear morphology V: Causes of damage other than use
- VIII. Change in wear patterns with continued use
- IX. Interpreting use-wear
- X. Experimental procedures and communication of results
- XI. Detection and recording techniques
- XII. General Session: summaries and conclusions
