Dear Julian:

Sorry for the long silence but have had to neglect my friends due to a rush of university work and copious inquiries from students. Julian, there are not words to express my gratitude for the silver bolo ornament you sent me. I just loved it when I saw it at your home but never dreamed I would own it. It is perfect and I truly appreciate the many hours spent engraving such a one-of-a-kind jewel. Thank you again and again. When we return from the meeting in Canada, I will try and send you a little "thank you" gift but I assure you it will not compare with my bolo.

Since my time is now short I may not get a chance to answer Jane's letter so you might convey this message to her. "Tebiwa" our museum journal would be very happy to publish her papers and I hope she will consider us if her papers are not accepted elsewhere. We now have a pretty fair circulation and are publishing articles for many throughout the country. Last issue has articles by Speth and Purdy and one by Rosenthal would be an asset.

Wish you were in Twin Falls with your construction business. Things are booming so ~~shere~~ here that it is difficult to even get a contractor to talk to one. We are trying to add to our U.S. Forest service warehouse building and have run into a waiting period which, of course, will conflict with the weather.

We leave Tuesday for the meetings in Calgary so am hurriedly getting caught up on letters. Please excuse the brevity of this one. Many of the field students will be at the meetings and it will be good to see them again and exchange ideas. Tell Jane that Jeff Flenniken is now at Fayetteville, Ark and has the possibility of getting N.S.F. funds for a lithic lab there. Tsirk and I have offered to serve as consultants to the lab. It will be a great help as well as a great honor.

Our best to your wife and Jane,

Sincerely,

Don E. Crabtree
