Lucy & Tracy Johnson

proudly announce the birth of

William Isaac Northrup
3 Oct. 78	8:19 Am
7 lbs. 13 oz.	21 ins.

Both more beautiful and more difficult to make than a Folsom Point - and, I'm sure, will take longer to understand than any lithic industry! Tracy and I are proud and doting parents, being totally convinced that Sweet William is the most beautiful baby ever! He is also very good, although demanding as all get out - I knew babies took up much time, but this is ridiculous! I'm beginning to adjust, though, I write fast while he's sleeping and read

While he's nursing and get my exercise by ~~walk~~ walking too with him when he's fractions.

luckily - or, actually, by careful planning - I have a sabbatical this year so I don't have to worry about teaching, too. I have all sorts of research projects in the works - we'll see how many Sweet William lets me complete!

I hope all is well with you - it's been a long time since we've gotten together! Maybe in Vancouver?

Take good care of yourself - and knock off a flake for me!

Much love,

hucy
