Dear Don,

Joel Gunn wrote us that you were having some back trouble and were in the hospital for a while. Susanna and I wish you a speedy recovery, but we are certain that someone like yourself composed of high grade, very desirable, isotropic, homogeneous, elastic, vitreous, and adequately sized material should be able to take any kind of a blow without hinging or stepping any face or crushing your platform.

I have just accepted an appointment at Central Washington State College in Ellensburg, as a Lecturer in Research Museology. I will be getting their Museum of Man into shape and evaluating the community museums throughout the central one-third of the state. Susanna will work with me for a while, and then I hope she will begin to participate in a salvage archaeology program developing between the College and the Public Utilities Company.

I can't begin to express my appreciation for all your help in getting me to this point; but you know what I am trying to say. It is all uphill from here on, and I will never forget the first pushes I received from you and a few other very good friends. We must drive through Twin Falls on our way out at the end of August, and will call to say hello. Get well, and please give our best to Evelyn.

As ever,

Paul
