Dear Don,

You sure gave me a fright when telling me you were another time in the hospital. But fortunately you are so vital you always recover!!

Thanks for your letter Apr. 28. I have written Vicin now and asked for instructions on how to reach him to bring him the two pieces of francan Jasper.

Yesterday, some like people from Lyndhurst were in church and I gave them two little Livres de beurre for Gene Titmus.

I was so proud for him to read about him in Flintheappers Exchange Vol 3 No 1! I hope he likes the pieces and of course you must discuss the new findings together. I am trying your way of diagonal flaking with much satisfaction but very little success. I then console myself while looking at the treasure examples you were so kind to give me.

I have now read all numbers of Flintknappers exchange and realised what an authority and respect you have with all these people. Of course this gives me great pleasure and pride. You deserve it.

Yesterday I mailed the final "OK for print" of my article. When you receive a copy, do tell me whether you think it a good idea to compose a short English version (but with most of the drawings and photos) and put it into Flintknappers Exchange. Not because I consider myself a flintknapper, but as a challenge for those who think they could contribute to the Solution. It could be rewarding to get a discussion going and one never knows how things go further from there. And maybe I'll try to throw the same challenge to the Danish friends in Leyre Research Centre. What do you think? Don't worry about the German in my article. By design I have put the "whole message" in the drawings, photos and figures. You'll understand it perfectly.

In two weeks I will be chairman of another Sika Seminar in London, and that will conclude my portion for this year.
 I then can devote a little more time to Silex.

Now, take good care of yourself, say hello to every body, also Jim Woods, and have my very best regards,
 yours Peter
