Dear Don:

I am attempting to bring some order to a number of matters which were unfinished when Dr. Swanson died. One concerns Occasional Paper #28, of which you are the author. Since it has been very popular, the Museum is getting low in its stock.

I am aware that you wanted to revise this volume; but rather than let it go out of print, we are considering running more copies in its present form. We think this is the best course, rather than putting you under any kind of pressure at this time. Naturally, when you feel more able, we will run a revised edition, if that is your wish.

The Museum, as of today, will now move administratively to the College of Liberal Arts. We hired a new director last week, Dr. David Wright from Riverside, California, and he will be here September 15, 1975. One new rather exciting possibility is that we might get the old Federal Building downtown for the ISU Museum. It is very tentative but a possibility.

I have heard you recently had surgery and complications and certainly want to make things as easy as possible for you. I hope everything is going well for you now.

Sincerely yours,

Vernon A. Lestrud
