

Dear Don,

Although we have never met, I have been standing in the background (more than once) when you were flint knapping. I think we do have a few friends in common - Glenn Goode, J.B. Sollberger and Eric Callaghan.

The reason I'm writing is to ask you a favor. The next issue of the Bulletin of the Texas Archeological Society is being devoted to the history of the Society, and to some of its members who have made outstanding contributions to archeology. I have been given the happy task of writing a brief bibliography about J.B. Sollberger. I know that you have worked with him, and would like to ask you to give me a few statements about his lithic work. I have written a letter like this to the above mentioned people, plus Bradley, and hope to include them in the article. Thanks for any help you can give me.

Yours,

GARY
