Dear Dan:

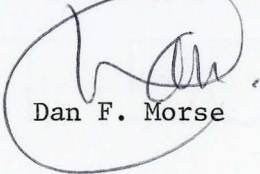

I just today received the obsidian you sent us. It went to Fayetteville and lay unnoticed for at least two months. A graduate student interested in early lithic material, Mike Baker, discovered it and drove over with it today.

Thank you very much! The chunks are probably 5-10 times as large as the ones I purchased. There was almost no breakage. I really appreciate your thoughtfulness.

Al Goodyear was extremely enthusiastic about the summer. I am very envious of him. He is also getting a very good background at Arizona State.

I hope everything is as well as can be expected. Understand you hurt your back and trust you are up and around again.

Sincerely yours,

Dan F. Morse
