Don Crabtree has called me (July 19, 1976) concerning the invitation extended to him from us to make a tour of the Southeast this coming fall.

Evelyn is recovering from an operation and Don is undergoing preliminary tests to see what sort of an operation is necessary for him to control an aorta blockage. The operation will be quite serious and of course he is worried about Evelyn. However, until he knows for certain what will occur and when, he cannot make any specific plans.

He extends his appreciation to all of you for your invitation and is very anxious to make such a tour. I suggested that the invitation be considered as an open-ended one and not be necessarily dependant upon the dates presented in the letter. Don will keep in touch with one or more of us and will let us know as soon as possible if he will be able to make a tour and if so which dates would be most convenient for him.
