

from the desk of . . .

GUY MUTO

Dear Don,

This is just a quick note to let you know what is happening, and just to keep in touch. I'm sorry I have missed you both times, the visit and the call. I went to W.S.U. last weekend and saw Jeff, Frank Leonhardy, and Roald Fryxall, all send their best to you and Evelyn, and wish you two the best of luck.

I've finally found the obsidian source on Big Southern Butte, and it is a large and relatively undisturbed quarry, comprised of red, snowflake, and silver sheen of all qualities. It comes in large boulder and nodular form. and I did not note the outcrop or ledge.

H. Mewhinney sent us his flakes and we are currently looking at them. It crossed my mind that you might want to see them also as curiosities, and perhaps make some guesses also. I am going to send him a letter, to explain about isolated flakes and the need for a population before analysis can be attempted. Doug, and I intend to make separate guesses, and send them along just for fun, and perhaps you could do the same? (enclosed is his letter.)

I'll be trying to get you by telephone in the next few days, because I would like to come down and visit and perhaps take you to dinner, and save Evelyn some trouble. Jeff sent along a moose billett for you that I need to bring down as well.

P.S. Jeff is coming by & I'll let you know when.

bye for now,
see you soon,

Guy -

Ca. 7.4.21