THE GEM OF THE MOUNTAINS

NINETEEN HUNDRED AND TWENTY-FOUR
VOLUME XXII

PUBLISHED ANNUALLY BY THE ASSOCIATED STUDENTS
OF THE UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO

THIS YEAR marks the initial appearance of "The Gem Of The Mountains" as an associated student body publication rather than as the handiwork of the Junior Class. While this new control caused no new difficulties, yet the old proverbial bug-a-boos, which have confronted annual editors for years, were only chased away by the hearty and ever faithful co-operation of everyone whose advice and assistance was requested. This is, therefore, not the work of a few, but of the many, both on and off the staff who worked tirelessly that this book might be a success.

In addition to these we were truly fortunate in being able to work with Engravers and a Printer whose timely assistance and stimulus is deeply appreciated. To The Buckbee-Mears Company of Saint Paul, and to The Western Engraving and Colortype Company of Seattle we owe the splendid engravings of this volume and to The Lumbermen's Printing Company of Seattle and especially to Mr. Lloyd Owen of that company we owe the exceptional service and workmanship which has been given to this twenty-second University of Idaho annual.

ABOUT the most heart-rending lines that man may read are those dull, dead inscriptions that are carved on the tombstone of his youth.

Annuals can be tombstones to mark the fatalities of passing years.

Annuals can also be living things to revive old memories whose afterglow brings forward the transpired year and so makes the past eternal.

We have tried to produce this annual that the pulsating, throbbing days of our life at Idaho may ever live again within the covers of this volume. If something not only of the joys, but also of the cares of our college days can occasionally peep out from its pages and help to keep alive our Idaho spirit, then our hopes and ambitions will be realized.

THE CAMPUS STEPS

The University and Its Meaning

OVER thirty years ago some far-seeing Territorial Legislature established the University of Idaho that their sons and daughters might reap the benefits of the high ideals and culture that such an institution would afford. Slowly but surely the hopes of these men have been accomplished until now the results of those thirty years act as an invisible leaven in the thoughts and actions of a great commonwealth. True it is that concrete evidence of the university exists in a small Panhandle village, yet no less tangible are the benefits which two generations of students have returned to their state.

We, who are in attendance here now, are but satisfying an ever increasing demand that that process continue. Agriculture, engineering, mathematics and language are but subjects which we master through books, but somewhere, everywhere, through its halls and over its campus is that university spirit, that Idaho influence, which in four years molds not merely students but citizens. It is not learning alone which our state requires but understanding, appreciation, and sympathy, that her growth may be normal. Directly and indirectly this good, both tangibly and intangibly, is permeating the state, influencing its commerce, checking its evils, and assisting in the building of that state which our fathers planned and founded.

VIEW NORTH FROM ADMINISTRATION BUILDING

The University and Its Traditions

BEING a comparatively young institution, many of our campus customs and habits lack that old flavor that characterizes the traditions of the older Eastern universities. Yet, for all their youth, they are no less dear to us, for by observing them we join hands with the many who preceded us. Two generations of Idaho students have added their bit until our traditions are symbolical of the spirit and temper which was theirs, and which we are expected to preserve intact, and to hand on to those who are to come after us.

Sentiment and reverence for Idaho makes the observance of certain rites a sacred duty. In our Freshman year we run the gauntlet of the Hulme fight, the green cap, and the arduous yet ever enjoyable duties that fall to the lot of a Frosh. At Christmas time we sing the old Christmas carols on the campus. On campus day every Idaho student gives of his time and energy for a few hours to beautify and repair the campus which we all love. These and many other beautiful customs are observed throughout our college career until as a Senior we receive our diplomas, plant a vine or bush with our own hands as the last time-honored ceremony, and depart leaving that as a testimonial to future generations that Idaho is worthy of the love we cherish for her.

The Book of

VIEW OF MOSCOW FROM CAMPUS

Native Sons and Others

THE latest figures show that all but fourteen per cent of the students at Idaho come from within the state. In the all-Idaho enrollment, every county but one is represented this year, and South Idaho is practically as well represented as is the north. But these students, once they are on the campus, promptly forget sectional prejudices and enlarge the scope of their consciousness and pride to include the entire commonwealth. "Oh, let us sing of Idaho!" becomes a call to worship and pay tribute to first the University, then the great mountain-crested homeland we call our state.

True, there are other sons and daughters of Idaho who are seeking college life beyond our borders. The percentage of these is all too large for the good of Idaho. It does not profit a state to bring immigrants in and send high-school graduates out. It does not make for community or state loyalty to covet our neighbor's institutions and belittle our own. But the real losers are they who wander afield. They find no better instruction, no finer or more wholesome spirit. And they lose thousands of acquaintances they could make use of all the rest of their lives. They lose the valuable background of Idaho life and Idaho conditions which only one university in the world is interested in presenting. Worse still, they lose contact with Idaho and all she represents of golden possibilities for the future.

the University

THE CANNONS

Now what of the fourteen per cent? Interested as we are in Idaho's own sons and daughters, what is our attitude toward those who come from other states, even from the ends of the earth, to live and study here? What can it be but one of warm and hearty welcome? Over a hundred of these register from the neighboring state of Washington, and many of this hundred live along the boundary line and merely happen to get mail through a Washington post office. Of the remainder, the distribution is really marvelous—and of great value to us all. Thirty states and five foreign countries are represented on this year's roster. As these young men and women sit in our various classes and mingle in our activities, they help to educate us as we educate them. The provincialism inherent in a somewhat remote college community breaks down before such a cosmopolitan opportunity to know other communities and regions and sail the seven seas through the experiences of our immediate friends and neighbors. The native sons and daughters of Idaho are proud of their distinction. But we have no strangers within our gates.

ENGINEERING BUILDING

The University—An Electrical Clearing House

A PART from giving the regular courses in electrical engineering, the department is called upon to assist both the University and the state at large in a variety of ways. Special courses are given on telephone work for the short course Rangers and on the use of electricity in the home for the Home Economics students. Those presenting pageants and plays frequently ask for assistance in obtaining special lighting effects while the University as a whole is constantly seeking expert advice as to the proper kind and size of motor, oven, electric furnace, signal, meter and so on to purchase and how to repair them.

In case of dispute electric power companies sometimes send their test meters to be standardized and occasionally acceptance tests are run on various sorts of electrical machinery. Many ranchers, having small water power sites on their places, have secured advice as to the best means of development. Occasionally strange questions are propounded; for example, the best lightning protection for a powder magazine—but, naturally, the most frequent inquiries answered are concerning the troubles of the radio fan.

ENGINEERING LABORATORIES

The University as a Testing Laboratory

THE civil engineering department maintains an up-to-date testing laboratory which is of great service to the state. This laboratory is the only one in the state fitted to make the necessary tests on road materials such as cement, sand, rock, gravel, asphalt, tar, road oils, etc., all of which must pass certain specifications before they can be used on the state highways. In this work the laboratory cooperates with the Idaho Bureau of Highways and the United States Bureau of Public Roads.

Tension, compression, shear, and bending tests on wood, iron, steel, brick, etc., are made on a 200,000 pound capacity Olsen testing machine. Frequently tests are made on billet-steel for reinforcing concrete in culverts, bridges, or other structures.

The methods of testing are those adopted by the American Society of Testing Materials and the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads, and by working in conjunction with them the University is able to furnish information to the state at large which insures proper construction of roads and buildings.

The University and Mining

FROM the point of view of the University, the Idaho Bureau of Mines and Geology, although a separate entity and under an independent Board of Control, is the research arm of the School of Mines. The direction of its work is an ex-officio function of the Dean of that division of the University.

Since its creation in 1919, the Idaho Bureau of Mines and Geology has issued fourteen publications dealing with the mineral resources of the state and their utilization and in addition has issued four publications in cooperation with other organizations.

The activities of the Bureau have had a wide scope throughout the state—the counties in order in which work has been done, beginning at the northern boundary, are: Bonner, where a survey has been made of the geology and ore deposits around Pend Oreille Lake; Kootenai, where a survey has been made of the platinum possibilities; Clearwater, Benewah and Shoshone, have been mapped for primary control; Latah, for the copper deposits of the Hoo Doo country, also a preliminary study of the clays, and the artesian water resource possibilities of Moscow have been investigated; Nez Perce, where the oil possibilities at Lewiston have been reported upon; Idaho, where the gold resources of North Central Idaho have been investigated, the report on which will shortly be issued; Adams and Washington, where the copper deposits of the Seven Devils and of the Heath District have been surveyed; Valley and Custer, where a reconnaissance

UNIVERSITY SHEEP BARNS

survey of the gold resources has been carried out; Blaine, where the Alturas Quadrangle in the Sawtooths has been reported upon and where a resurvey of the Hailey area has been completed, on which a report is now in preparation; Lemhi, where the copper deposits of Salmon City have been examined; Boise, where a complete survey of the geology and gold resources of the Boise Basin has been completed and will shortly be issued; Owyhee, where a survey of the artesian possibilities of the Bruneau Valley has been completed; Cassia, where the artesian possibilities of Goose Creek basin have been covered; Power and Oneida, where an oil reconnaissance has been made; Teton, Bonneville, Bingham, Caribou, Bannock and Bear Lake, where possibilities of oil have been thoroughly investigated and carefully reported.

With the U. S. Bureau of Mines investigations have been made on the ore treatment problems in Bonner, Shoshone, Washington, Boise and Elmore counties.

Idaho is a great state, with great mineral possibilities and the work has scarcely been started.

Class of 1924

ON Commencement Day, the Class of 1924 will continue a series of Vandal migrations which first began not long before the fall of Rome. During four years on the northern front the Vandals of 1924 have sustained heavy losses in assaults on entrenched curricula, counter attacks by the deans, and failure of supplies. Rube Everly and Talbot Jennings retire with the longest service records, having enlisted in 1914. Jody Priest and Abe Goff are also entitled to half-pay. Citations are held by Lefty Marineau for the dug-out fireplace record, and by Shorty Hill as the handiest private in any branch of service. Among the missing are numbered Bob Leitch, Dave McLain, and possibly, Teak Arnold. Art Guerin and Maurice Jackson both stumbled and almost fell in action. Pearl Stalker made history with the famous statement, "I propose to fight it out on this line if it takes all winter." Intelligence Dept., Florence Graves, Agnes Cox, Elizabeth Bartlett, Red Cross worker, Ruby Gates. Chief of the Good Scouts, Pauline Pence. "Sic transit gloria—but there's plenty moreia."

The Juniors

Class of 1925

THE Vandals of 1925 held on as best they could to the support trenches this year, and while in many cases the support gave way, nevertheless their general staff reports that they will all be ready to move into the front line next fall. Inasmuch as the general staff is composed of Frank Minäs, Art Golden, Ray Allumbaugh, and "Scoop" Taylor, you may take their assertion for what it's worth. This Vandal contingent will have a stout nucleii of heavy armed troops in Lyle Tapper, "Dad" Hausen, Larry Quinn (a Swede) of the delicate hands, "Syb" Kleffner (the hero of that thrilling tale entitled "The Rajah's Ruby," or perhaps, "The Ruby's Rajah"), and "Skippy" Stivers, noted for his rapid turn-over of real estate while dealing last fall in the Stockton-Stivers combination. Though not so ferocious in appearance, the light-armed auxiliaries are none the less deadly, for they will be led by Elmina Jones, Margaret Springer, "Tony" Selby and Louisa Martin, each of whom have already made their kill. Paul Harlan and Floyd Marchesi will continue to mismanage the Service of Supply, while Thone Roos and "Crab" Taylor have volunteered as Y. M. C. A. workers. The Phi Jis of this class report with sorrow the loss of their beloved comrade-in-arms, Wayne Huddleson, who was shocked by the explosion of a twelve-inch question fired by Prof. Gill, and had to retire to the woods to think it over, taking the Phi Ji scholarship cup with him.

The Sophomores

IN Vandal warfare the Sophomore class traditionally is held in reserve, but this year the onslaughts of the wild tribes from the Pacific coast necessitated a concentration of Idaho forces. The class of 1926 accordingly was called into action and did their bit like veterans. Ray Stephens, Otto Hueffner, Vic Cameron, Ted Bucklin and Wayne Davis were knighted for services in the field. Knight Davis, however, was weakened through exposure to Torts and after a lingering illness died in the arms of the Law School. He was attended by John Cluen, a Red Cross worker, who also contracted the disease and shuffled west. His last request was that the Fiji scholarship cup be buried with him. Jimmy Chapman, last year's class war-chief, was hurt by the Freshman stunt in 1923 and only lately rejoined his outfit. In the peace conference debates Bessie Savage and Constance Taylor won much applause and one vote. Marie Johnson, Marie Gauer and Jeanette Greve are after the dramatic laurels now held by Pearl Stalker and Louisa Martin; Mirth McArthur and Agatha Platt are the most effective class posers; Bud Melin is the class pet, while Bill Guernsey holds the fussing endurance record. Sid Yager and Clarence Olson took turns holding the reins of administrative power this year, and have been heard to remark that by this time they don't give a hoot whether the team runs away or not.

The Freshmen

THE Class of 1927 has finished a strenuous training year, and are now ready for active service next fall. The Babes have whipped into shape nicely—green caps, Hulme fight, Pullman bon-fire, squads east and west, Freshman Glee—everything was done according to Campus Rules. Most of them have managed to stay with the colors this year, and will add a husky autumn quota to the thinned ranks along the front lines.

ROBERT L. MATHEWS
Director of Athletics

DAVID MacMILLAN
Coach

The Department of Athletics

DURING the 1923 football season Coach Mathews clearly demonstrated to the University and all of her supporters that their confidence in him had not been betrayed. With material that had had but one year under the Mathews system, he turned out a team whose goal line was not crossed until the last two games of a heavy schedule. Matty has also created a tradition that Idaho's teams never quit and that Idaho's athletes always train. He is now working hard to bring up Idaho's track standing and the present indications are that he will succeed. He has the facility of getting the very best out of his men and the morale of Idaho's teams has been an inspiration. In two short years he has done wonders and under his able leadership Idaho can expect great things of her athletes in the future.

Coach MacMillan realized that a fourth championship basketball team was well-nigh impossible, especially since only one experienced man returned to school. Yet under his guidance Idaho surprised even herself. Before the beginning of the present season the outlook was gloomy indeed, but soon after the start of the season we realized that Mac had developed a team of which Idaho could well be proud. Until the coast trip Idaho was still in the running and even in foreign territory Mac's teams were only defeated by scant margins. His experience as a coach both in basketball and baseball have enabled Idaho to stand among the top-notchers in both the Pacific and Northwest conferences and still more is looked for from his teams in the future.

VARSITY SQUAD, 1923

College of Idaho 0 Idaho 83

With scarcely two weeks of training, the Vandals played their first pre-season game with the College of Idaho on the home field. The Idaho men clearly outplayed the visitors and demonstrated a superior brand of ball and coaching. The Vandals were at all times able to control the offense of the opposing team. At no time did the College seriously threaten to cross Idaho's goal. This game demonstrated to Idaho students what a determined team could do.

ANOTHER FOR IDAHO

Montana 0 Idaho 40

Idaho opened the 1923 Northwest conference with a decided victory, forecasting a brilliant season for the Vandals. A stone-wall defense held Montana scoreless, while a speedy, hard-hitting backfield carried the ball over Montana's goal line six times. The Vandals played an offensive game throughout, never allowing the Bruins to pass their 18-yard line. Idaho's team under Coach Mathews' careful training, was in perfect physical condition and all primed for a victorious season.

SBY SCORES ON GONZAGA

Gonzaga 0 Idaho 13

The much-talked-of "aerial attack" of the Bulldogs failed to bring them victory over Idaho's human football machine. Out of 27 attempted forward passes by the Bulldogs, only 6 were completed, 7 intercepted and 14 grounded. Idaho completed 3 passes for a total of 30 yards. Superior football and team-work won for Idaho. A slippery field and a wet ball probably saved the heavier Gonzaga team from a harder drubbing. This was the fifth game of the year with Idaho's goal still uncrossed.

IDAHO STOPS THE COUGAR

W. S. C. 0 Idaho 14

Idaho Vandals tested their strength in the 1923 Coast conference at Pullman by shutting out the Washington State Cougars for the first Idaho victory in ten years. The outstanding feature of the game was the fact that nothing outside the realm of straight football was resorted to by Coach Mathews' men. The Idahoans played the entire game without a fumble. Several times the Cougars succeeded in placing the ball on Idaho's one-yard line, but just as many times the Idaho defense held and the play was turned toward the Cougar's goal.

The Book of

W. S. C. FAILS AGAIN

U. of Oregon 0 Idaho 0

This game was probably the most spectacular and bitterly contested game that has ever been seen on the Pacific Coast. Twenty-two years ago these two teams met for the first time, in a tie game. Since then we have met them fifteen times, each time hoping to overcome the Oregon jinx. Of Oregon's 266 yards gain, 111 yards were from passes. The Webfooters' powerful attack was stopped only by the machine-like work of the Vandal team. The speedy backfield Vandals were somewhat handicapped on account of a slow sawdust field.

RUNNING O. A. C.'S ENDS

O. A. C. 0 Idaho 7

The annual Armistice Day game at Boise gave Idaho another victory over the Oregon Aggies. Only once did Coach Rutherford's eleven seriously threaten the Vandal goal, and then, as in the past, the fighting Vandals formed a stonewall defensive, and with the O. A. C. eleven within a few yards of the line which meant the possibility of a tied score, and with four downs to make the few remaining yards, the Idaho line smashed through and threw the Aggies for three successive losses totaling fifteen yards, and gained the ball on a fumble.

the Athlete

Stanford 17 Idaho 7

The first score against the Vandals this season came in the second quarter of the Stanford game. The first quarter opened up in a spectacular aerial duel between Nevers of Stanford and Fitzke, Idaho's punting genius. A series of punts were exchanged, from which Idaho gained several yards. The Vandal eleven easily outplayed the Cardinals in the second quarter, making a touchdown after a series of long runs and passes. At the end of the first half, both teams left the field with the score at a tie. Two very determined teams began the second half, in which period the "breaks" seemed to favor the Stanford players. By strong defensive work the Cardinals prevented Idaho from scoring again, while they pushed over a touchdown and scored a place kick.

U. S. C. 9 Idaho 0

The University of Southern California team opened up in a fast offensive attack which gave them a touchdown early in the second quarter. Idaho's chance came very soon after the Trojan's first score. A series of dazzling runs and passes by the Vandals brought the ball, without interruption, the entire length of the field, and to what was apparently across the goal, only to be taken back by the officials and given to the Trojans. Perhaps the most spectacular play of the game came when Stivers passed to Cameron for an 18-yard gain, almost within the shadow of the U. S. C. goal posts.

Football Review

From the College of Idaho game, early in October, until the final whistle, the gridiron Vandals made history for Idaho. Coach Mathews' rigorous training program put the men in fighting condition early in the season. Never has Idaho had a harder hitting line and a better stonewall defense combined in one. Never before has the backfield functioned as machine-like and effectively as under the direction of Stivers, Idaho's all-Pacific Coast quarterback. This season will long be remembered as one in which fumbles were unheard of, mistakes unknown and excellent coaching very evident. The Idaho eleven very ably upheld their traditional name "Vandal," because they were the snappiest, scrappiest, peppiest, fastest, most vicious, hard hitting and happiest team in the conference.

FRESHMAN SQUAD

Freshman Football

FRESHMAN football this fall was marked by the size and number of men trying for positions. It was not until the season was well under way that Coach MacMillan could select the men to fill the regular positions on the team, in fact for some time there were two teams of equal or nearly equal strength.

The first game of the season was with the Gonzaga Seconds and was played on McLean Field. It resulted in a 37-5 victory for the yearling. The next two games, with the Montana Freshmen at Missoula and with the Washington State Freshmen at Moscow resulted in defeat for the Vandal Babes.

MacMillan's proteges, however, swore revenge and against the Cheney Normal team showed their real ability, winning the last game of the season before a home crowd by a safe margin.

Basket Ball 1923-1924

PROSPECTS for a brilliant basketball season were far from encouraging when the first calls for practice were sounded. Only one letterman from last year's "wonder five" was eligible for the Vandal squad. Basketball stock was very low, but when practice started there were over twenty men in uniform. With intensive practice and careful training it soon became apparent that the squad would make a very credible showing, and would be a strong competitor for the Pacific Coast championship for the third consecutive year.

Fifteen pre-season games were scheduled in order that the squad might have good competition while rounding into shape. This series of games enabled Coach MacMillan to test out the strength of his new men under every playing condition, and to add the finishing touches to the team before the conference season began.

The Vandals opened their conference schedule by defeating Montana in two fast games, January 11 and 12, on the home floor. In both games the Idaho men easily outplayed the Montana five in every phase of the game.

Soon after the Montana game, the O. A. C. quintet invaded Idaho territory and nosed out the Vandals by one point in an extra five minute period. This game was perhaps the fastest and most thrilling game of the season. The O. A. C. five was the first team to win from Idaho on the home floor in three years.

The Vandals divided honors with W. S. C., winning the first game and miraculously being crowded out by one point in the second game. The Vandals clearly outpassed and outplayed the Cougars in this game, but the fact that the Idaho men converted only two out of eleven free throws easily accounts for the loss. A narrow defeat of only two points by the University of Washington five, who later represented the northern division at California, practically crushed Idaho's chances for the third consecutive Pacific Coast championship.

By a one-point defeat in an extra five-minute period by O. A. C., a one-point loss to W. S. C., and a two-point loss to the University of Washington, a total of only four points, Idaho's Vandal machine was denied the right to defend the title of the northern section against the southern section of the Pacific Coast Conference.

The Vandal squad is known to all sportsmen throughout the West as a fighting machine, fast but cool, ever offensive, never beaten, and a club possessing a type of sportsmanship that is unsurpassed. Much praise is due to Coach MacMillan for his ability to build up a true Vandal team with only one veteran player in the field to start with; a team of which we are all proud and glad to call our own.

BOISE BASKET-BALL SQUAD

The Tournament

THE tournament this year showed a marked improvement in the brand of basketball being played in the various sections of the state. The competing teams were Rupert, Boise, Malad, Rigby, Challis, Kellogg, Moscow and Kooskia. Boise and Rupert won the right to play in the final game for the championship, which was won by Boise. The team representing Kellogg was awarded the sportsmanship cup.

The committee on the all-tournament team chose: Beyer of Boise, forward; Burgher of Rupert, forward; Stowell of Rigby, center; Estes of Moscow, guard; Robinson of Boise, guard, on the first team; and Drummond of Kellogg, forward; Quinter of Boise, forward; Silverthorn of Boise, center; Hull of Kellogg, guard; Campbell of Rigby, guard, on the second team.

WRESTLING was more enthusiastically entered into during the 1924 season both by the student body and the men trying for places on the team. Four intercollegiate meets were held, of which the Vandal grapplers were victorious in three. The only meet lost was to the University of Washington at Seattle, in which the Idaho team scored only three points. The low score made by the team does not represent the closeness of the meet, however, for eight of the matches resulted in draws. Idaho scored two victories over the W. S. C. team and the meet with Oregon was won by a large score.

CAPTAIN PENWELL

The Book of

HENRY POWERS

"HANK" FIRST YEAR

"Hank" was good for any distance, but was exceptionally good in the quarter-mile and the 220 low hurdles. Next year he will be one of Idaho's best track men.

BYRON KEITH

"KEITH" THIRD YEAR

Idaho's best sprinter and relay man. Keith was a sure point winner and will be greatly missed next year.

GUY PENWELL

"GUY" Captain THIRD YEAR

"Guy" usually always took first in the mile. He had a good stride and a strong finish. He certainly will be missed next year.

LEWIS WILLIAMS

"LEW" FIRST YEAR

"Lew" is a distance man and exceptionally good in the two-mile. He puts all he has into a race and fights right up to the finish.

LAWRENCE QUINN

"LARRY" FIRST YEAR

"Larry" is a weight man and is developing fast in putting the shot and throwing the discus. Next year "Larry" will no doubt set a new record.

the Athlete

ARTHUR SOWDER

"ART" FIRST YEAR

"Art" was one of the mainstays of the team last year, and gave promise of developing into one of the half-milers in the conference.

GEORGE WALKER

"GEORGIE" FIRST YEAR

Walker did very creditably in the pole vault, considering it was his first year.

WALTER CASEBOLT

"WALT" SECOND YEAR

"Walt" was the surprise of the season and was one of the men upon whom Matty could always depend.

ARTHUR GUERIN

"ART" FIRST YEAR

Guerin was the other pole vaulter of the team, and showed to good advantage.

ROBERT FITZKE

"BOB" FIRST YEAR

"Bob" was used in both field and track events and could be counted on for points in both.

TRACK at Idaho for the past few years has suffered from lack of material. The 1923 season saw indications, however, of a revival of track interest, both varsity and frosh teams showing better prospects than last year. The freshman squad of last year has several candidates out for the varsity team this spring who are showing promise of developing into point winners. Although it is too early at present to predict the showing that will be made by the 1924 teams the tryouts indicate that there are among the aspirants for places men who with training under Coach Mathews promise to place Idaho's name among the upper percentage in the conference.

Freshman Track

IDAHO'S freshman track squad of 1923 contained the best material turned out by the high schools of the state. Point winners in the inter-scholastic meet of the year before came to Idaho and here are fighting to give Idaho a track team of which she may well be proud. Though but one meet was held and that early in the season before a chance had been given the men to get in the pink of condition a very good showing was made against the Washington State team.

The Interscholastic Track Meet

THE Interscholastic Track Meet held May 11-12, 1923, was won by Boise High School with a total of thirty-one points. Rupert the favorites to win, led until the last part of the meet when the well rounded Boise team pushed to the front for enough points to take the meet. Rupert finished second with twenty-seven points and Lewiston took third honors with a total of seventeen points. Other teams entered were: Twin Falls, 11; Genessee, 8; Parma, 8; Kooskia, 6; Caldwell, 5½; Payette, 5; Kamiah, 3; Jerome, 3; Culdesac, 2; Coeur d'Alene, 2; Kellogg, 1; Lapwai, Moscow, Orofino, Plummer, Sandpoint, Troy and Weippe.

Long of Rupert was the high point man of the meet, making a total of 18 points. Two of the former inter-scholastic records were broken. Cleaver of Caldwell lowered the mile run record made by Rosenbaum of Burley to four minutes forty-four and four-tenths seconds, and Kyle of Kooskia cleared the bar in the high jump at five feet nine and six-tenths inches for a new record.

Cross Country

CROSS COUNTRY has taken its place among the list of major sports for the first time this year. From now on instead of being given the same award as for track the cross country men will have a brown stripe about their arm to indicate their particular branch of athletics. In the conference meet held at Eugene, Oregon, Idaho's team came away with first honors, taking first, fourth, fifth, sixth and fourteenth places. The results of the meet were: Idaho first, O. A. C. second and Oregon third. Washington State College and the University of Washington did not have teams entered.

ERROLL HILLMAN

"SHORTY" FIRST YEAR

"Shorty" was somewhat of a find and proved his ability by being the second Idaho man to finish. Captain-elect for next year.

LOUIS WILLIAMS

"LOU" SECOND YEAR

Lou led them all across the finish line in the conference meet this year.

With this early start made away from home the team returned to complete the rest of their season with the exception of two Montana games at Missoula on McClean field. Twenty-two games were played during the 1922-23 season, of which twenty were conference games.

Tennis 1922-23

OWING to a late season and bad weather conditions, Idaho racket men were seriously handicapped by a late start and practice was very irregular throughout the season, due to occasional rains.

However, when favorable weather made practice possible, keen interest was taken by both men and women. A good sized squad turned out and competition was close at all times. The selection of the teams was made on the basis of competition determined by a ranking tournament which continued throughout the season.

Idaho teams took part in three dual meets with Washington State College, and one dual meet with Whitman College. A triangular meet was scheduled for Washington State College, Whitman and Idaho, but on account of rains was never held. Idaho men tied two three-man meets and won one five-man meet with Washington State College. An Idaho mixed team lost to Whitman.

Those awarded letters in tennis were Clyde Richards, Dan Prescott, Curtis Herrington and Bill Gartin.

Intra-Mural Athletics

COACH MATHEWS from the first emphasized intra-mural athletics as a means of giving every man on the campus an opportunity to exercise and use gymnasium equipment. In branches where the coach can instruct a large number of men, the men to be eligible for intra-mural are required to do a certain amount of regular training work. At first football was included in the scheme, but the 1922-23 season saw the last game of intra-mural football. The "Fijis" won the 1922 football contest. In the other branches, the victors were:

Basket-ball.....	Sigma Alpha Epsilon
Indoor Baseball.....	Kappa Sigma
Outdoor Baseball.....	Kappa Sigma
Indoor Track.....	Phi Alpha Psi
Cross Country.....	Phi Alpha Psi
Outdoor Track.....	Sigma Alpha Epsilon

In the 1923-24 schedule as completed so far Basket Ball was won by the S. A. Es, Indoor Baseball by the Kappa Sigs and track by the Sigma Nus.

Women's Athletic Association

THE Women's Athletic Association of the University of Idaho is an organization of students who are interested in promoting athletics among the women of the institution. Membership in the association is based upon the interest in the department, participation in a certain number of college sports, and a good record in the Department of Physical Education.

Thru the influence of Miss Lillian Wirt, the head of the department, the curricula has been enlarged to include Basketball, Baseball, Tennis, Hockey, Rifle, Hiking, and Volley Ball.

The greatest achievement of the W. A. A. this year was the establishment of a point system as a basis for awarding regulation "I" sweaters.

Under this system a girl must have a thousand points in order to win her "I" sweater. Provision is made, under the point system, for the distribution of credits in major and minor athletic work.

The Book of

Basketball

The most important sport during the winter months is basketball. Under the instruction of Miss Wirt, class and house teams gained skill in the arts of the sport. Four teams were chosen to represent the respective classes. The Freshman won the class championship.

The Freshman team consists of the following members: Winifred Vetsch, Catherine Nelson, forwards; Nita Basford, Avis Bowdich, guards; Nell Staker, center.

Sophomores: Evangeline Bennett, center; Esther Kennedy, Lois Wilson, guards; Beatrice Tully, Helen Ostroot, forwards.

Rifle

Rifle promises to be one of the most prominent activities in the athletic department. Two meets were scheduled for the 1924 season, one with the University of Michigan, and the last with Washington State College.

Volleyball

Volleyball is a new sport, having just started this year. Unusual interest was evident, and the outlook for the next season is very encouraging. House games were played, after a period of practice, Ridenbaugh topping the list.

Hiking

The hiking program was more extensive this year than ever before. Credits toward a sweater are given in the sport, and are about the hardest to earn, due to the unfavorable climatic conditions, and perseverance for the entire season. Under the supervision of Jane Gibbs, this sport was very popular, schedules having been carefully planned in advance.

Baseball

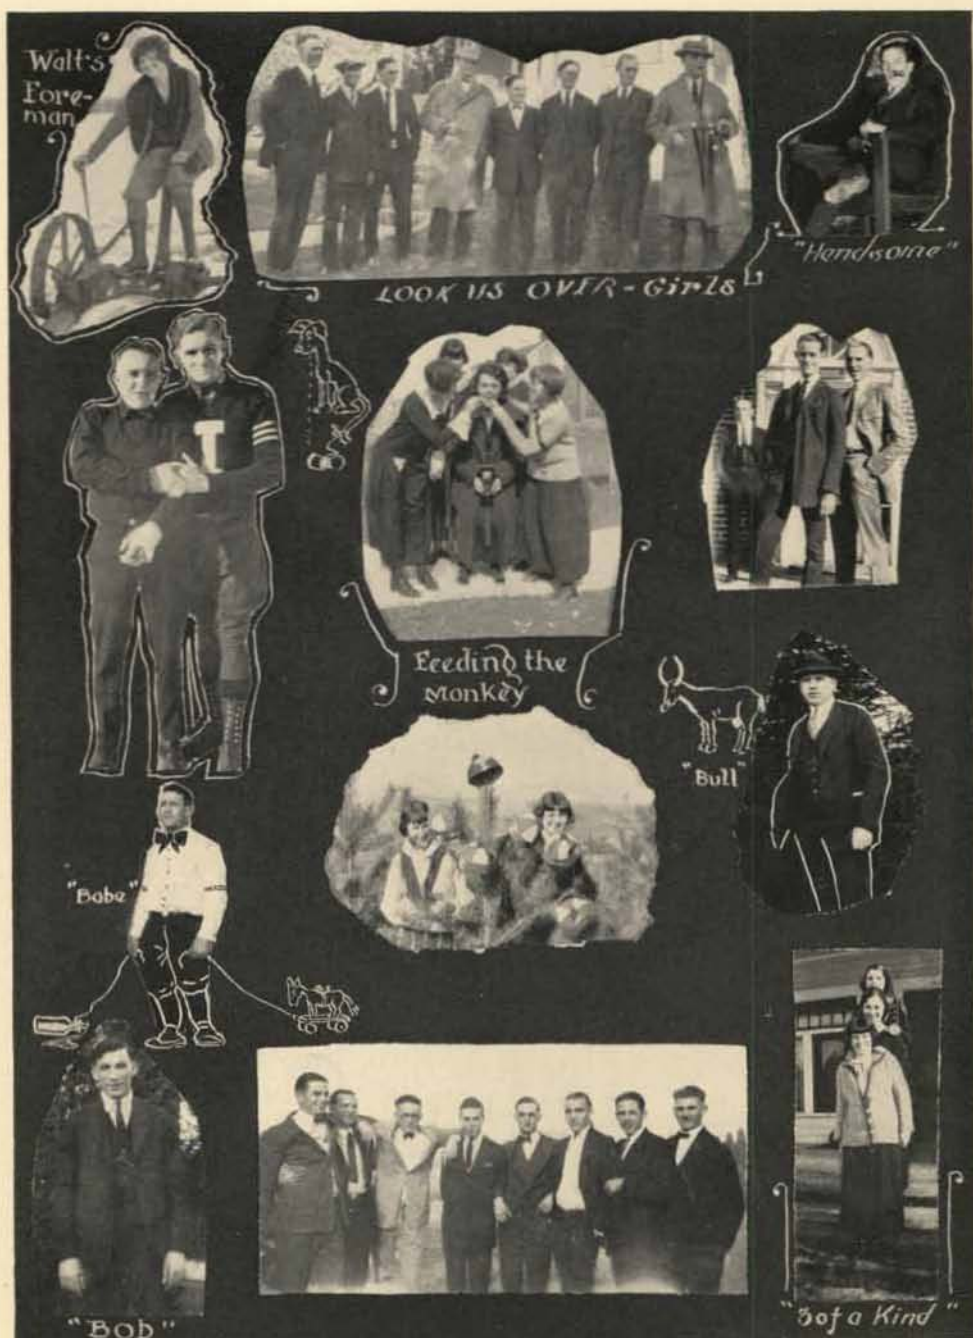

Spring baseball turnouts are limited to class games entirely.

Tennis

Tennis at the present time is gaining recognition at the University of Idaho. The tennis tournament this year had over twenty-five participants. The championship was won by Mary Houston.

The Story of the Beauty Section

The addition to this year's "Gem of the Mountains" of a Beauty Section was first made possible by a gift from Mrs. John P. Gray of Coeur d'Alene, Idaho. Her help and encouragement have made possible the first section of this sort in an Idaho annual, and have done much to insure its success.

To Mr. John Held, Jr., of Westport, Connecticut, we are indebted for the selection of the winning girls. Mr. Held's pre-eminence as a portrayer of college and flapper types is evidenced in the splendid work and co-operation which he has given to the section.

In addition to these Mr. Jack Miklos of Moscow did the photography, Mr. Fred Wiman of Seattle made timely suggestions concerning the layout and The Buckbee-Mears Company of Saint Paul made the engravings.

It is hoped that this will pave the way for other and more elaborate sections to follow in the years to come, that the Fair Vandals of future college generations may always have a place in the sun.

Social Season

SOCIAL life at the University began with the usual vivaciousness from the first busy week of registration. Dates for dances, teas, house openings, and chapter installations were secured long before the appointed time and soon the social calendar refused to admit a single other, without intruding on the precious hours to be spent in classrooms—even these were at length recruited to supply the social demand of an extremely successful season.

The annual Faculty reception proved to be the Grand March of the year's gaiety. Informal introductions with a truly "get acquainted" spirit furthered our democratic "Hello" custom, which each year becomes a more firmly established tradition.

According to custom, the Freshman and Sophomore "Bury the Hatchet Dance" followed in the line of succession. The youngsters' party was interrupted at 10:30 by the Upperclassmen, who deserted their staid "Rough-Neck" dance, held in a town hall for the more lively antics of the "younger set".

The Senior Ruff on October thirteenth abolished the formerly used "Rough-Neck" dress for a new debauched attire. Now they appear as Emily Post's production of "What is wrong with picture?"

Organisations

The Athletic Ball transformed the dusty gymnasium into an elaborate Arabian Tent. An immense yellow "I" composed the only ceiling. The programs, featuring the Smiling Bob Fiske and his famous kick, on their covers, made many a heart beat quicker in recalling scenes of the famous victorious game.

The "Co-Eds" gave their annual costume ball, always a decided success, attended this year by two hundred and twenty-five girls, and observed from points of vantage by almost as many men.

The Engineers entertained with an all college dance in the gymnasium, which was beautifully decorated with streamers. The evening ended in a frolic with balloons and horns.

The Women's League gave an informal Leap Year dance just prior to Thanksgiving vacation, which caused many a fond parent to miss their wayward son on the big turkey day. All the "secret sorrows" became "open joys" at the bequest of timid "Co-Eds" who found much pleasure in calling fraternity houses and filling out programs.

During December social functions were called off, owing to the quarantine, thus shifting the Sophomore Frolic until early in the spring.

The Military Ball was held in the Gymnasium; it was elaborately decorated with flags and streamers of red and white. Their ball was unusually successful, which was brought about by the special orchestra secured from Spokane.

Sophomores in front of us, Sophomores in back of us, Sophomores all around us—frolicked in April, they were so determined to have their dance, regardless of the scarlet fever ban in December.

The Junior Prom was the supreme dance of the year. It capped the climax of our new Junior Week with the gala event of the year.

Last, but not least, came the Freshman Glee, which was truly a fitting climax for the social season.

Junior Prom

THE Junior Prom, the most charming ball of the season, was well planned and exquisitely decorated.

Once more, by the will of the Juniors, the University gymnasium put on its holiday dress, which consisted of an immense blocked ceiling with the letters P-R-O-M interwoven the entire length.

The evening's gay festivities were presided over by regally arrayed kings and queens of spades, clubs, diamonds and hearts grouped along the wall, who seemed content to leave their no lesser potentates to rule the floor. From the bursts of laughter and ceaseless smiles evidence might be found to prove there were knaves as well as aces keeping time to the soft music which seemed to glide from out the shadows to play with the huge rainbow ball hanging from the center of the hall.

Military Ball

EVERY year, as Washington's Birthday appears on our calendar, the University of Idaho commemorates the same, with our Military Ball.

Three flags completely covered the ceiling of the unique old gymnasium, forming a lowered ceiling effect, with red and white streamers leading off on all sides. Lights were dimmed. Trophies from the Spanish-American War and machine guns held their stately position in one corner, and davenport and cushions were used as seats. A portrait of George Washington was displayed, draped with the American flag—in keeping with Washington's Birthday.

The Cadet special added considerably in giving military atmosphere to the dance, aided by beautiful programs and a special orchestra, thus making it a decided success.

Athletic Ball

THE rays of the soft harvest moon beamed gently on our Football heroes as they returned from their victory from our friends across the line. We won, so there was nothing left to do but give the boys their worthy praise.

The Athletic Ball was held in the gymnasium, which had been beautifully and elaborately decorated. An immense yellow "I" formed the ceiling with streamers leading away from it, giving an Arabian tent effect. There was music, there was punch, there was peace and calm, the outcome of every victory. So silently and without much frivolity, the short three hours rolled away,—and the Athletic Ball came to be known as more history with only pleasant memories.

As is the usual custom, the Football men had their special dance, later being joined by other members of the "I" club, from other branches of athletics.

THE Senior Ruff, the last dance to be given by our class of 1924, could well be considered an appropriate final dance. There were no decorations, but the best music on the campus was obtained and individual programs were used.

They abolished their former rough-neck attire, and from now on it shall be just an ordinary dance. After four years, they felt that they were entitled to this privilege, and in the future years, it is hoped that the graduating class may be able to continue this custom, eventually coming to be a tradition.

"The Two Hours Traffick of Our Stage"

THE lure of the stage is strong medicine; the worshippers of the gods of the spotlight are legion. For everyone thus afflicted the University of Idaho offers a delightful shrine. Come who may on player's pilgrimage, they are never refused a blessing. During the past five years the University has been a generous patron of the stage, not only in providing opportunities for acting, but also in encouraging original playwriting and training students who wish to coach dramatics in Idaho high schools. The larger share of credit for this situation is due John H. Cushman, director of dramatics. Mr. Cushman's "English 37," or the "Little Theatre" as the students call it, is the hub around which revolve acting, playwriting, costuming, lighting, production and management. To those who have gone through "English 37" further activity is possible in "The Curtain," honorary dramatic fraternity. In 1924 the A. S. U. I. has taken over the larger plays, thus insuring finances, coordination and uniform management.

Student plays now include the "Fall Follies," a Pep Band jazz medley; the "Fall Musical Comedy," which combines the talents of the departments of music, dramatics and dance; the "University Play," done by proven campus actors; the "Campus Day Pageant," a May-time festival; the "Stunt-Fest" of song and satire; and the "Commencement Play" given under the auspices of The Curtain. In addition to the all-college productions, the "Little Theatre" in 1923-24 has given sixteen one-act plays, five of which were written by Idaho students. "The Curtain" also gave two three-act plays, and for the 1924 Commencement will undertake the production of "Everyman." In the 1924 "University Play," the University of Idaho produced first among Northwest colleges a three-act drama written, acted, staged and directed by its own people.

The Stunt-Fest

1923

The class of 1923 swept the boards both in Song and Stunt in the 1923 students delight—the annual Stunt-Fest. For the Song, the Senior chorus in evening dress made a picture that pleased everyone in the audience except those who had loaned them the clothes. The winning song, composed by Henrietta Peasley, was the outstanding musical number. The other classes did their best despite the handicap presented by some of the men's voices. The winning Stunt, which may be charged against Phil Buck, was a snappy take-off on the 1923 University Play, "If," by Lord Dunsany. Mr. Buck starred Dorothy Cage as Dr. Tromanhauser and Rex Kimmel as the hero nee Abe Goff. For a wonder Rex did not forget his lines, thereby justifying the prize award. The Juniors, in defiance of Lewis Carroll, offered "Alice at Idaho" with Ruby Gates as a delightful "Alice." The Sophomores won second place with Paul Harlan's presentation of the "Idaho Special" train. What the Freshmen tried to do is not quite clear; at any rate their stunt was dedicated to the class president. Beginning in 1924 the Stunt-Fest has undergone reorganization with a Senior chairman as presiding genius. It will combine the traditional features with a more orderly procedure (including less fighting behind scenes) jazz music, and a dance prologue and epilogue.

Debate

DEBATE activity during the scholastic year has been centered in four principal contests. The season opened with the University of Oregon-University of British Columbia-University of Idaho triangular for men. The question concerned the advisability of immediate recognition of the Soviet government of Russia by the United States. Idaho favored "recognition" against the Oregon negative at Moscow and opposed "recognition" at British Columbia. Judges awarded a 2 to 1 decision to Idaho in each debate.

Women representing the University of Washington, Whitman College and the University of Idaho met in a triangular debate on the World Court question. Idaho upheld the affirmative against Whitman and upheld the negative against Washington. The decisions were unfavorable for Idaho in both debates.

The Utah-Montana-Idaho triangular was continued this year. Idaho men supported the affirmative of the World Court question against Montana and upheld the negative against Utah. Idaho lost by a 2 to 1 decision at Salt Lake City and by a unanimous decision in the home contest.

The last debate of the season will be a single debate with the University of Southern California. The question to be debated is, "Resolved, that the United States should enter the World Court of International Justice under the Harding-Hughes reservations." Idaho has the affirmative. The debate will be held at Moscow the tenth of April.

A team has consisted of two debaters in all the debates this year. Three judges have been selected to decide each debate. These judges have rendered decisions without conference.

Professor William Michael of the English Department has coached the teams. Errol Hillman has been the debate manager.

The Book of Military

COL. E. R. CHRISMAN

EACH year sees an increasing interest in the Military department at the University of Idaho. As the student enrollment increases the number of cadets increases until now there are two battalions with three companies in each one. In the last few years the growth has kept up with the progress of the University in general and it is now the hope of the Military staff to enlist another unit in the department.

This department, which was one of the earliest to be organized at the University, has long been recognized as an important unit of the University. By an Act of Congress all land grant colleges are to give at least a two year course of Military Science to all students. This training teaches the students the principles of Military Science and enables him to take an advance course and become an efficient leader. Most of the first two years is spent in practical drill, and the different formations of battle and the duties of each man. During bad weather the students are given theoretical work.

The advance course is gaining popularity. Each year more students are voluntarily taking the advance course of two more years of military at college and attending a six weeks summer camp. In the advance course all students are cadet officers. Each are assigned to companies and all drill and practical work is given by the advance students under the direction of Gen. Chrisman and his staff. The advance course is largely problems of an officer during actual warfare. The way to issue orders, distribution of troops, field fortification and all problems that might arise during battle. The advanced students are required to attend one camp at Camp Lewis, Washington. Here the work is all practical with much time devoted to target practice and the use of the larger weapons.

The Achilles Club is a local honorary military fraternity, which at present is petitioning the National Scabbard and Blade, national military fraternity. The Achilles Club was formed at Camp Lewis during the summer camp of 1922, by eight Idaho men. To be eligible for membership a man must be a cadet officer in good standing, a good student of military, and must be a senior in the military department.

The purpose of the organization is to further the interests of military training at the University of Idaho, create an interest in the present day military problems, and instill a more patriotic spirit into the community.

The Idaho chapter of the Intercollegiate Knights obtained its charter May 20th, 1921. It is known as the Ball and Chain chapter. The group is composed of one freshman and one sophomore from each men's group on the campus, including the dormitory, town men and independents. The Yell King of the University is by virtue of his office an honorary member.

The purpose of the organization is best explained by three of the outstanding words of the oath, Service, Sacrifice and Loyalty. This organization assists in every way possible to further the activities of the University, lending its services whenever and wherever needed. Among other things it is doing everything within its power to strengthen and preserve the Idaho traditions so dear to us all.

The Ag Club

THE Ag Club is composed of all students in the College of Agriculture. Its purpose is to further extra curriculum educational studies, to promote various club enterprises, and for social activities. The annual "Ag Day," when students engage in judging contests in all departments of the college, is becoming nationally known, and is one of the best functions of its kind in the country. The "Ag Bawl" is their main social event of the season.

University of Idaho judging teams, composed of members of the Agricultural Club, hold an enviable place in the ranks of all teams on the Pacific Coast. Each year there are intercollegiate meets in animal husbandry, dairy cattle and dairy products, poultry and grain judging.

The Associated Foresters of the University of Idaho is an organization to which only students enrolled in the School of Forestry are eligible for membership. Meetings of the organization are held from time to time throughout the semesters and the interest shown in the club is evidenced by the fact that these meetings have practically a hundred per cent attendance. The purpose of the organization is to afford an opportunity for students and faculty to get together and discuss problems of vital interest to the professions of forestry, logging engineering and grazing. The most prominent men in these various professions are secured as opportunity affords, to speak before the club and give its members the benefit of their experience along special lines of forestry work.

The Associated Miners, more commonly known as the "Muckers' Club," was organized in 1899. Its membership is composed of the faculty and students of the School of Mines.

Meetings of the Club are held every two weeks. Talks are frequently given by prominent men in the mining industry and by members of the faculty.

Each year the Club holds its "Muckers Ball" in the gymnasium, and the "Muckers' Smudge," an all-college smoker.

Members of the Engineering faculty and all students registered in the College of Engineering are eligible to membership in this organization. Its purpose is to bring a closer relationship between the different departments of the College of Engineering, and give a broader understanding of engineering and all allied subjects. To accomplish this various social activities are held during the year, and prominent practising engineers are obtained to speak on technical subjects.

In the good old days the English Club was a popular organization to which everyone belonged and which no one attended except once a year to elect officers. In 1917 Dr. G. M. Miller came to Idaho as head of the English Department. From that time, as a result of his efforts, the English Club has been one of the most active organizations on the campus. In addition to stimulating an interest in English through regular programs, the club each year has made a definite contribution to dramatic or literary activities on the campus. It first revived dramatics, a department now directed by "English 37" and "The Curtain." In 1923 the club sponsored "The Blue Bucket," a student magazine which has now been taken over by the A. S. U. I. This year the club has maintained a circulating library of new fiction. The books have been in constant demand, and have been made conveniently accessible to the students through the efforts of the librarian, Charlotte Jones.

Eligibility to membership is based upon excellency and interest in English, and upon participation in dramatics, publications and debate. English instructors and English majors are ex-officio members.

Bench and Bar Association

OFFICERS

Winton Arnold	Chief Justice
Errol Hillman	Associate Justice
Robert Cummins	Clerk

The Bench and Bar Association was organized in 1912. Its membership includes all of the students regularly enrolled in the College of Law. The purpose of the Association is to effect a unity of action among the students and faculty and to preserve and enrich the traditions of the law school. The Association has established and maintained the "Honor System" in the law school for several years; is responsible for the "Lawyer's Court" and other things of benefit to those studying law. It is through the Association that prominent lawyers, judges, and men of note in law, are brought to the school to speak before its meetings, and in this way the law school is kept in touch with new developments of the law in the courts of this state and of the neighboring states.

The Inter-Fraternity Council, composed of two representatives from each fraternity on the campus, exists for the purpose of affording an organization for working out the problems which confront men's Greek Letter organizations. It is also the aim of this organization to foster and promote a better spirit of co-operation amongst the organized groups on the campus, and to provide a means for combining their united efforts for the good of the University.

Fifty Years of Progress

1874-1924

Fifty years ago, Dr. Fred Skogg started in his chosen work at the University of Idaho—that of professor of janitetics.

Dr. Skogg was and is thoroughly qualified for his present profession. He had spent a fortune in acquiring his education at the Janitorial Institute of Medicine, where he devoted twelve years to intensive study and research in his chosen field.

DR. FRED SKOGG, M. O. P.

He had special courses of instruction at the Lewiston Normal. Since coming to Idaho he has worked wonders for the struggling mass of unhealthy college students. His premier contribution to the improvement of collegiate life has been his Canned Sleep, a concoction replacing the need of slumber. For this the University Poker Club bestowed upon him the degree of Doctor of the Chip.

Dr. Skogg's remedies have brought absolute relief to the majority of his users. He was instrumental in installing the campus lamps to light the students over the paths of righteousness. The doctor induced the health committee to furnish cushions for the arboretum—a sterling work.

It became impossible for him to see personally and prescribe for all the students who wanted and needed the benefit of his long training and careful study, and he resolved to embody his work in an almanac garnished with fragrant testimonials.

The Satirist

Keep This Almanac of Useless Information for Future Reference

YOU will want to refer to this almanac many times during the summer. It contains authentic dope on the year's happenings and much valuable material for the student. It also contains information about Dr. Skogg's Peerless Remedies and may testimonials from sufferers who have been relieved by these pain destroyers.

$5,000.00 reward will be paid by the Skogg Foundation to any person who finds an atom of truth in any of these statements.

The Book of

Keep Dr. Skogg's Remedies in Your Vanity Case

DR. SKOGG'S REMEDIES, if taken when the early symptoms appear at the beginning of the semester, frequently ward off an attack of indisposition and falling hair, which so frequently ensues as the semester draws to a close.

They help to keep you comfortable in the first stages of an acute attack until the alibi or check from home arrives. In many chronic cases, these remedies have brought relief after many other stringent treatments and medicines have failed.

Hundreds of weary students have been admirably benefited by the use of Dr. Skogg's remedies, and yet these are not cure-alls, and they may not benefit you if it is too late. We do not want your money unless you are satisfied and gratified and feel that we have given you value received.

Simply return the empty package to the Bursar's office and he will gleefully return to you the purchase price, in addition to a personally autographed photo of Dr. Skogg.

Short Method of Figuring Prof. Barton's Method of Marking

Multiply your age by the number of times Professor Brosnan has used the words, "Pioneer stock, fine old family." Divide by the number of ponies used in the quiz. Add one O'Cedar mop. Subtract 2. This answer will give the "norm." Multiply the norm by the number of credits Ella Oleson has stolen from unsuspecting students, add the number of golf knickers, divide by the length of time devoted to study, then subtract five. This will give the correct answer, the most scientific method yet devised.

Arthur Golden Secures Wonderful Results

Dear Mr. Skogg:

I am writing this letter to avoid any misapprehensions that my picture, which has been published far and wide in the past, might have caused your company. The picture depicted me with a gigantic bump on my head and bore the caption, "After one bottle of Dr. Skogg's Hair Restorer." I wish to state that this was not the case. The clerk became confused over my order and sent me a bottle of your bust developer instead. I wish to absolve the company from all blame in the matter.

Yours truly,

ARTHUR D. GOLDEN.

Nervous, Flunking, Irritable Take Dr. Skogg's Nervine

NATURE works by fixed laws (says Dean M. F. Angell). If you violate the laws of health and the registrar you must pay the penalty. Too much study, too much fun and frolic, lack of fresh romance—all have their effects on the nervous system.

You may become subject to hysteria, nervous prostration, nervous dyspepsia, disappointment in love, or even probation. Quiet, peace, calm, serenity and morning slumber will tend to restore health; but a good, reliable medicine will make recovery more certain.

A few doses of Dr. Skogg's Nervine will work wonders in the early stages of any nervous disorder. Why not get a bottle and carry it to class for emergencies?

Remedy Causes Pain and Pants to Disappear

Dear Dr. Skogg:

Last night I had a terrible headache. I being a student, this was no uncommon occurrence, but the pains at this particular time were so consuming that I ran to the phone, called Hodgin's Drug Store, and ordered a bottle of your Anti-Pain Remedy. I took a couple of drops of the medicine, then went to bed. I also dropped a couple of drops on my pants. My headache disappeared immediately, and this morning when I awoke my pants had also disappeared. Now, dear Doctor, I want to know where my pants are.

Yours hopefully,
DALE VOHS.

Honest Testimonials from Honest People

WE receive thousands of epistles and fragments of parchment nightly telling of the benefits derived from Dr. Skogg's Spasm-Killer. Space and the canons of good taste permit us to publish only a sample of them.

They come from every department of the college—the horse barns, "Harmony" Hall, the glee clubs, the university club.

We're proud of these tributes to our medicine, proud that so many pale and anemic students have found relief in using our preparations. We believe that everyone states the plain, unshel-lacked truth.

We have never published a fraudulent testimonial nor used one without the full consent of the writer. These testimonials will point your course to better health and a great Idaho spirit.

Hints to Housekeepers

Put a few slices of raw potatoes into the soup that lacks salt. The average person coming into contact with this slick morsel will forget the lack of saline.

To cut new bread, dip your knife in hot water, then saw back and forth on the loaf.

Put a couple of raw oysters in the guest's pocket; they will be appreciated as an afternoon lunch.

Place a tube of dental flax, a dozen toothpicks and a fork near the guest's plate, to avoid any embarrassment on his part should something become lodged in his teeth.

Should the conversation become strained the difficulty may be overcome by simply remarking to your neighbor, "My good friend, I see you have dropped some gravy on your front."

A piece of flannel, soaked in tallow, makes a very serviceable muffler for talkative guests.

Abe Goff Preserved for the Common People

Dear Doctor Skogg:

I used to have one or two spells of dysentery every summer from the time I was a child of twelve years. Your Laxative Tablets, which are so free from disagreeable effects and which taste like candy, appealed to me, so I ate two boxes. Since that time I have never been troubled with my old affliction, and the mere sight of one of your bottles of pills is enough to send me into hysteria.

Yours,

ABE GOFF.

When You Feel Tired, Take Dr. Skogg's Tonic

DO YOU feel tired and listless? Is your literary appetite poor? Do small weekly quizzes look big to you?

There are main causes for that "tired feeling"—improper assimilation of Prof. Wodsedalek's lectures, and a legion of other causes. A terrific appetite, rouged cheeks, and gurgling eyes are blessings that we do not appreciate until after the storm.

Dr. Skogg's tonic is a scientific combination of Paradise water, Palouse mud and malted gun grease, spiced with herbs from the Home Economics department.

Bath Tubs

There were no bath tubs in America prior to 1840. In 1842, Adam Thompson, of Cincinnati, Ohio, who had seen and used bath tubs while on a business trip to England, built a tub 7 feet long and 4 feet wide for his own use. The water for this tub was pumped into an upper tank by hand. He had an ingenious contrivance consisting of a coil placed in his kitchen chimney by which he could get hot water.

He gave a party on Christmas Day after installing his tub, and all the men present tried it. The same idea is prevalent today, as is seen by the activities of fraternities along this line. Although we of the present generation are blessed by having in our homes shining tile and marble structures where one may lave his body, still we doubt if there is a single person who cannot look back with joy to the day when he curled himself into an old-fashioned tub and shouted, "Ma, come wash my back!"

Joe Cogan Cured of Gamma Phi Fever

Dear Doctor Skogg:

Had been suffering for two years from an acute attack of Gamma Phi fever in a virulent form. Indeed was daily becoming worse, until I tried one application of your wonderful Pi Phi Fever Poultice, which drew the pain out and left me a well man.

Yours thankfully, JOE COGAN.

Special Offer to Bird Lovers

WE WILL send you an unusually attractive set of samples consisting of Arboretum antidotes, Chemistry removers and Lindley Hall love potions. These three remedies are put up in an attractive box, which, when emptied, is easily converted into a beautiful bird cage. Special booklets of information valuable to sufferers from these disorders are recommended to our users.

Hints to Females

If your hair is oily, loosen it up, let it down your back and sit it in the sunshine.

To remove fish scales, leave fish in cold water for fifty minutes. Then skin fish.

Traces of finger prints about your neck may be removed by a liberal application of white shoe polish.

Love letters may be sealed and kept from the inquisitive eye by a small application of "Mum" on the flap of the envelope.

Barton Has Hair-Raising Experience

Dear Doctor Skogg:

Becoming somewhat bald along about the age of 83, I ordered a case of your wonderful hair restorer. I drank 11 bottles with wonderful success. The cork on the twelfth bottle, which I kept under my pillow, became loosened one night and the entire contents of the bottle was soaked into our hair mattress. Since this time it has been necessary to shave this mattress twice a week.

Sincerely,

DR. J. W. BARTON.

Dr. Skogg Foils Insidious Home-Wrecker

UNTIL recently the worst enemy of the home was breaking the hearts of millions. HALITOSIS had baffled the Keely Cure, Bob Leitch and Leo Fleming, but Dr. Skogg's Breath Exterminator makes it possible for loving couples, fraternity brothers, and Phi Delts to mingle together on the same couch without fear of olfactory punishment. This can even be used as an antidote for onions.

How to Succeed

Many volumes have been written upon this subject, but probably the treatise that has aroused the most comment is the one by Hon. "Honest" Abe Goff, Ph.D., A.M., B.A., LL.D. Goff at present is the president of the Homeless Club, a voluntary association of down and out men. In part he says, "Be faithful to your superiors, obey every command." This bit of advice he acquired through his early military training at the University of Idaho.

The following interview with Honest Abe is interesting. He said: "Work at the task in hand. Let no obstacle come in your path. I strove for years to become the worst of all bums, and now my realization is reached." Here Abe wiped a tear from his eye as he reached into his pocket and brought forth a grimy "Bull Durham" sack. From the sack he took an object and, holding it up to the light, said: "Oh, Jody! I owe it all to you—this incentive to become great and honored. As of old, I drink to your health!" Here the guard, aroused by Abe's passionate utterances, gave me notice to depart.

Fitzke Becomes Iron Man

Dear Doctor Skogg:

Before beginning my training for the annual Idaho-W. S. C. football game I went to Doctor Einhouse who found my blood to be in very bad condition. He prescribed a course of treatment which I followed without success. I happened to be reading a copy of Police Gazette and noticed one of your Nuxated Iron ads and read your alluring statements. I immediately procured a bottle and took the entire contents, with wonderful success. I have, up to the present time, taken 27 bottles of Nuxated Iron and feel like a new man.

Sport writers all over the west have referred to me as the iron man of the conference, little realizing how close they came to hitting the mark. I owe my great success on the football field and basket-ball court to Nuxated Iron and recommend it to all coming athletes. Signed

PAUL "BOB" FITZKE.

A Skin You Love to Touch

ROUGH, scaly, pimply black-heads in profusion are too evident on the complexions of many of Idaho's fairer sex, according to Dr. Fred Skogg. This condition may easily be overcome by a liberal application of the Skogg Pink Mud for Pale People. The Doctor has devoted some twelve years in search of a clay that would have medicinal and beauty qualities, but it was not until he came in contact with the earth directly in the rear of the university cow barns that he was crowned with success.

The great value of Dr. Skogg's Pink Mud lies in the fact that it may be applied during the day without the least discomfort or ill appearance, the shade blending in perfectly with the complexion. This hard clay also affords the girls a wonderful protection when out with Kappa Sig dates, for who cares to make love to a clay model.

Dr. Skogg's Tips on Etiquette

In Dean Skogg's personally compiled book on etiquette, which he gives gratis with each bottle of Canned Sleep, we find the following instructions for getting by big on the Idaho campus:

1. Seize upon the passing of a piece of bread as an opportunity for indoor practice in throwing the discuss.
2. Playfully flick fragments of butter at your host if the conversation lags.
3. Fortify yourself at the table by barricading your plate with all the victuals within reach.
4. Spite your neighbors at the table by treacherously slipping him a liberal portion of mashed potato on the bottom of the gravy bowl as a token of your generosity.
5. Mysteriously flavor the reservoir of your favorite co-ed's atomizer with Hod Pelan's snooze.
6. Place a quart of Nervine in each gallon of punch.
7. Use your head for something besides a hatrack, if possible.

Health—Most of Us Can Have It

IN addressing the 2000 cadets of the local R. O. T. C. unit camped on the banks of Paradise Creek, Dr. Skogg of University of Idaho said: "Good health is the natural state of mankind and Ags. To abuse this inheritance is a sin. Only on rare occasions do we hear of a man who abuses all the laws of health and yet survives." In citing a incident he mentioned the case of Lonie Woods who has probably chewed more tobacco than any other twelve men and yet seems in perfect physical condition.

At this dread time with its many maladies, it is especially important that we take good care of our bodies and eat nice clean butter and nice fresh eggs.

Hints to Victims of College Life

Dr. Skogg's Canned Sleep will relieve headaches, Vandal Fever, Corns, Inherent Drowsiness and Arboretum-itis quickly and surely, without pain or griping. Many obstinate cases that have resisted the concerted effort of the scholarship committee have yielded to Dr. Skogg's marvelous nature treatment.

We furnish Canned Sleep in both pill and tablet form because the Theta's prefer to take a small pill, while the Pi Sigma Rhos, who cannot take a pill at all, find no difficulty in chewing Dr. Skogg's pleasant Canned Sleep tablets.

You can choose for yourself which one you like better, the pill or tablet, and the one most effective in your case. If you are habitually troubled with the need of sleep, establish a regular hour for making your get-away from the house and revel in nocturnal joys.

Stan Writes Broadway Success

Dear Dr. Skogg:

"I attribute my entire success," states Mr. McLaughlin, "to the creative powers of Dr. Skogg's Nervine which rendered my mind sufficiently fertile for this gigantic production. Before taking Nervine, my plays were flat, insipid, emaciated works which would not even get by George Morey. Now they get by like the 'Book of Job,' and the Poli Negri productions under the influence of Dr. Skogg's Anti-Pain pills have agreed to screen my super scenario." Playfully,

STANTON McLAUGHLIN.

To Cure Aboretum-itis

Through statistical compilation, Dr. Skogg has made the amazing discovery that the most common of all student maladies on the Idaho campus, arboretum-itis, reached its peak simultaneously along with the foot and mouth disease in May.

None are immune to the ravages of this all-engulfing malady, says Dr. Skogg, who, in collaboration with Prof. Eugene Taylor, found that the curve of the intensity of the disease and the full moon had a correlation of .99 44/100.

Then Dr. Skogg set up a medical laboratory in the basement of the Ad building and, entering, swore he would never shave until he had discovered the remedy for this excruciating plague.

In twenty-three days and seven minutes he emerged camouflaged with fourteen inches of beard, harboring three A. S. U. I. blue mice. Triumphantly waving his autotrop, he revealed his cure-all discovery—a marvelous concoction of hurry-up notices, essence of spotlights, and engineering skunk oil, to be taken internally.

CELESTIAL LIGHT!

There was a light in her blue, blue eyes as he waited breathlessly for her answer—a light that was meant for him alone. He puffed nervously at his cigar—but it had gone out. There fell a silence—a silence pregnant with the communion of two vibrant souls. He fumbled for a match and then—then—

He lit his cigar by the light in her eyes.

Here's to the light that lies in a woman's eyes, and lies, and lies.

Making Shopping a Real Pleasure

The selling method in one store may be different from that in another. Both stores may aim high and with good intent.

Naturally the method that better conserves and sustains the interests of the public is the one that will endure.

To serve the people well is, we believe, to serve them alike every business day in the year.

In this store, you find the same unusual money-saving opportunities today as were here in the yesterdays.

This, with new goods arriving almost continuously, makes shopping here a real pleasure.

The variety of styles of Victrola instruments is so comprehensive as to place the accomplishments of the greatest artists within reach of every one who realizes the charm of a musical home. To have one of these Victrolas beneath the Christmas tree this year, is to add that charm for all time. Upon every instrument you will find the famous Victor trade-marks, which are the only complete assurance of that quality, craftsmanship and performance which have given the Victrola its commercial and artistic supremacy. The world-wide use of Crane products under varying conditions for upwards of sixty-eight years, is an indication of the universal acceptance and approval of Crane standards of design and quality. Since 1855, Crane engineers and designers have labored to promote the progress of the various industries and arts which Crane products serve. The Crane name on valves, fittings and pipings specialties used in industrial installations, has become the mark of uniform and dependable quality.

This prestige extends to Crane sanitation and heating fixtures for the home. Meeting the needs of smaller dwellings, Crane equipment also satisfies the exacting requirements of great town and country houses, huge apartment buildings and luxurious hotels and clubs.

TITLE, COPIED OF COURSE THE SMELL OF THE BULL CON

By J. Stanton McLaughlin

Characters in the order of their appearance

KIOTY BILL, Hero of the Argonaut.....	Abe Goff
HASHIS KNICKERSON, Dark, deadly villian.....	Jimmie Chapman
TRULY YOURS, Heroine.....	Maud Carlin
CASSEROLE CAMISOLE, Dark, deadly vampire.....	Elmina Jones

Scene laid in hen house

REAL ONE

Kioty blows in on Speed-ball, is clad in waist-high riding boots and bandanoes. Carries 2 45-caliber pistols, with belts and 2 cartons of Bull Durham, rolls cigarette with one hand and shoots bandits with the other. Says in slow drawl (sub-title): "We gotta have more traditions." Hashis Knickerson, proprietor of the hen house and caretaker of all the chickens, takes twelve long drags from his Camel, exhales and says (sub-title): "Look at me, knee pants and fuzzy lip, ain't that keen?" (Sub-title): "Sure," says Kioty, "I'll make it a tradition." Both suck eggs until soused to the eyeballs. (Cut.)

REAL TWO (I have not as yet laid this scene definitely)

Truly Yours, clad in new traditions, etc., trips into Tappa Nu Keg house. Spies Casserole Camisole and they do battle for the love of Kioty. Truly pulls out handfuls of Casserole's hair, making it look like shingle bob. Casserole faints. Truly steps on her stomach, does a dance of victory, and runs out of the house.

REEL THREE (I have not as yet laid this scene definitely)

Hashis Knickerson realizes the folly of his new tradition, stabs Kioty with a wet sock, shaves off his fuzzy lip and lengthens his knickers. Casserole dies with broken adenoids and Truly comes back to normalcy. She marries Hashis Knickerson. They move to Troy and live unhappily ever after. (Cut.)

Frosh—Have you read "Freckles"?

Co-ed—No, that's just my veil.

Robert—How does that cigar salesman get by?

George—Oh, he just knows the ropes.

Nora—Tell me, John, does bleaching the hair lead to softening of the brain?

John—No, darling, it's generally the softening of the brain that leads to bleaching the hair.

Betty—The man that I marry must be handsome, intelligent and athletic.

Tubby—Gosh, how lucky you met me.

Rah-Rah—Do you flirt?

Co-ed—That's my business.

Rah-Rah—Mine too. Let's form a partnership.

She—Is that the moon rising over there?

He—I'm sure I don't know. I'm a stranger around here myself.

The Baby—Googly-googll-goo-goo.

The Mother—Yes indeed, dear, that's the library.

Capt. Lloyd (after giving command, "odd numbers take one pace to the rear")—You're odd aren't you?

Timid Frosh—I was considered so as a child.

HEARD AT THE NAT

First Student—Why were Dean French and Mr. Williamson discussing the "Freedom of the Seas"?

Second Student—She was afraid he would think it meant one-piece bathing suits.

First History Stude—Did you know that they used to fight in pajamas in the olden days?

Second Hisotry Stude—Impossible!

First History Stude—It says right here, "and ye goode King Arthur went forth into battle with his royale knighties."

HEARD IN WODSEDALEK'S CLASS

Wodsedalek—Who knows where the home of the swallow is?

Vic Cameron—In the stomach, sir.

Judge—I'm going to fine you five dollars for the chickens you have stolen the last two weeks.

Rastus—How'll it be if I pays you seven-fifty! That'll pay up to and including next Saturday night.

Young Lady Shopper—Have you any ice cream forks?

Young Man Clerk (facetiously)—No, but we have some lemonade knives.

Three students were walking along a country road, when they met an old man of patriarchal looks, and, feeling in the mood, decided to have a bit of fun with him.

"Good morning, Father Abraham," said the first "Good morning, Father Isaac," said the second.

"Good morning, Father Jacob," said the third.

The old gentleman looked the students over for a second and then said: "I am neither Abraham, Isaac nor Jacob, but I am Saul, son of Kish. I am looking for my father's asses, and behold I have found them, all three."
