*The Indian whispered by his tepee fire,
That long ago a star fell from the sky,
And lodged among the summits of the hills,
Never to be found, but beckoning at dawn.
E-dah-hoe, the Light upon the Mountains!
A high and troubled vision in the west,
To all men different yet to all the same.*

Foreword

The rising sun meant for the Indian the coming of another day; the renewal of a positive phenomena; the activity of life. Its eternal aspects suggested stability; the splendor of its reflection on snow-covered mountains or on wooded valleys stirred him to awe. It was his land—"E-dah-hoe," which means "Gem of the Mountains," or "light coming down the mountain." ¶ Between the years of 1843 and 1857, hardy pioneers with oxen and white-topped prairie schooners moved slowly westward. Long trains crept over the plains of the middle west, traversed mountain ranges and forded treacherous streams. Men and their families encountered disease, famine and death in seeking western wealth, the wealth of "E-dah-hoe." Hostile Indians attacked the smaller trains or drove the cattle off at night, but no such hardships could stop western migration. The adventure was historically unique. The spirit which motivated the western movement took a common-place folk from a prosaic environment into an ever-changing environment which made living a zealous process. ¶ In building this book we have attempted to associate the past with the present, displaying something of the colorful romance which characterize the lives of the red men, the adventures of discoverers, explorers, and the settlers of our land. A series of epics relate us with the past; a pictorial university year relates us with the present and a founder's spirit as it is manifest in posterity. Our adventure is in seeking educational enlightenment which is a pleasant and colorful pursuit. With the help of our artists and through the inspiration of an Idaho dramatist we have sought to depict these contributions of time in this, an Idaho year book.

The history of white men's activities in our State of Idaho began on August 12, 1805. This day brought a party of thirty-three doughty frontiersmen, led by the sandy-haired Lewis, and Sacajawea, the bird-woman, to the land of the Gem State, "E-dah-hoe," the Light on the Mountains. One hundred twenty-three years ago across the Rocky Mountain divide into Lemhi Pass, there came an expedition known as the Lewis and Clark exploring party sent out by Thomas Jefferson. ☺ This heterogeneous band consisted of Captain Meriwether Lewis, the private secretary of President Jefferson; Lewis' friend, Captain William Clark; Sacajawea, the Shoshoni; Chaboneau, the bird-woman's husband; Baptiste, the papoose; an ebony-skinned servant, York, the wonder of the aborigines; three interpreters; fourteen United States soldiers bearing a flag of fifteen stars; and nine Kentucky frontiersmen. ☺ From May 14, 1804, the day of departure from St. Louis, Missouri, they had fought the elements, savages, grizzly bears, rattlers, accidents and disappointment. They had canoed and trekked nearly one and one-half thousand miles by this August day. ☺ What a feeling of o'erwhelming emotion the two leaders must have felt as they viewed the westward flowing streams and heard the rills gurgling back, retracing their steps. Before them lay the great Pacific Northwest, virgin land of pine, nugget and flake gold, fur-bearing animals and terrestrial harvests. ☺ It was their achievement—the conquering of the Divide, the journey down the Salmon, the Clark Fork, thru the Lo Lo Trail to Weippe Prairie and "Canoe Camp" on down the Clearwater—passed Lewiston—the Snake, the Columbia and on October 16th to the Pacific Ocean. Thus claim was given to the area of three future states: Idaho, Washington and Oregon. The Journals of that party brought the Missouri fur men, the King George men, Missionaries, the advance guard of "Joe Meek" and, inevitably, the emigrants, miners and cattlemen, who clinched the claim of the United States to the Great Northwest and to Idaho, the "Gem" of the area.

THE YEAR 1927-1928 brings a great change to the administration of the University of Idaho. Commencement, 1928, will see the inauguration of a new president. Another name will be added to those inscribed on the windows of the Auditorium, marking this year as one of deep significance.

ALFRED HIRAM UPHAM holds a very warm place in our hearts. Throughout seven years he has been a leader in Idaho education, a moulder of Idaho spirit, an inspiration to Idaho students. We lose in him not merely a president, but a friend.

FREDERICK JAMES KELLY comes to us from Minnesota to be our leader in future years. His introductory visit to the campus in March was sufficient to inspire students and faculty with confidence in the man who will shoulder the cares, the responsibilities, and the pleasures of the Growing and Greater Idaho.

We extend a double message to these our presidents—to DOCTOR UPHAM, farewell, and to DOCTOR KELLY, welcome.

IT IS hard to leave Idaho. But to have lived at Idaho seven years and have enjoyed the friendships there is a privilege anyone might covet. Men come and go. Institutions great in service may fortunately be perpetuated for many lifetimes. Each of us makes such contribution as he can in passing and is blest and profited by the experience. In Idaho and all she represents I have a great and abiding faith. My fondest wish for my successor is that he will guide her much farther on the pathway to a realization of all her abundant possibilities.

A. H. Upham

IT is a rich heritage which my predecessors have left to me. This heritage is not chiefly in brick and stone. It is in the high standards incorporated into the student morale of the University. Nothing can prevent achievement when students want to achieve. Great obstacles can be overcome if students want to overcome them, but insignificant difficulties can block progress if students are looking for excuses for low achievement.

Building on the fine student spirit of the past, it is my hope to see cooperation between the students and the faculty grow ever closer and closer to the end that each student shall attain to his own best self. In such an undertaking, the teacher can guide, but the student must pull. When the teacher must drive, then the learner is not a student. Idaho will continue to exist for students.

State Board of Education

THE GOVERNING of the University of Idaho is done by an Association called the State Board of Education and Board of Regents of the University of Idaho. It is a system not in common use by other states, but which has worked out very satisfactorily in Idaho. The educational governing system formerly consisted of a State Board of Education and a Board for each of the state educational institutions, which included the schools at Lewiston, St. Anthony, Pocatello, Albion and Caldwell. Later each of these was combined with the State Board of Education, with the exception of the Board of Regents of the University, which remained as a separate board. Then these two boards were combined by appointing the same persons to each of them. The Board is appointed by the governor and the term of office is five years, with one member's term expiring each year.

The present members of the Board and its officers are: President, Clency St. Clair, Idaho Falls, whose term expires in 1930; Vice-President, Stanly A. Easton, Kellog, 1931; Secretary, Asher B. Wilson, Twin Falls, 1932; Mrs. J. G. H. Graveley, of Boise, 1929; and Huntington Taylor, Coeur d'Alene. Mrs. Mabelle McConnell Allen, Boise, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, is an ex-officio member of the

VINCENT

State Board of Education. The Board elects the Commissioner of Education, who is Mr. W. D. Vincent.

Administration

WHILE the powers of governing the University lie in the State Board of Education and Board of Regents of the University, the direct running of the school is executed by administrative officers consisting of an Executive Secretary to the President, Registrar, Bursar, University Editor, and Librarian. These act in the capacity of representatives of the Board of Regents.

Mr. L. F. Parsons is Executive Secretary to the President, and his duties closely resemble those of a comptroller. He prepares and adjusts budgets for the departments of the University.

Mr. Frank Stanton is Bursar and in this capacity collects all fees and charges from the students and distributes them among the various funds. He also has charge of distributing all state and federal funds, as well as the dormitory accounts. All supplies for the University are ordered and paid for through his office.

Miss Ella Olesen as Registrar has charge of all scholastic work, keeps records of all grades, credits, enrollment and matriculation requirements, as well as requirements for degrees.

Miss Belle Sweet is University Librarian, and she is in complete charge of the University Library, which has grown to be one of considerable size and importance.

Mr. Edward Mason is University Editor, and he directs all publicity, corresponds with prospective students, and edits the Catalog.

THE IDEALS which the University of Idaho holds up to her students should aid them in developing a loyalty to themselves and a loyalty to the University and State; they should also aid them in maintaining standards which will warrant the Institution's finest commendations for them as they go out into real service. Since it is true that the highest type of citizenship bears the marks of truth, square dealing, friendship, and virtue of the noblest kind, and that these qualities must be engraved in home and school, the University expects to note these standards before she finally places her stamp of approval.

The University awaits the coming of youth, places about them an arm of protection here, and through the years holds them in affection and esteem as she observes them earning their way to places of honor and distinction.

Samuel J. French

ON COMPLETING twenty-five years as Dean of the University Faculty, one's thoughts turn back inevitably to the faculty and the University of April, 1903. Gone are all but a few stragglers from those lofty sentinel poplars that surrounded the old campus; gone likewise the rugged "Old Guard" of the faculty that knew the pioneer days.

Increase and progress! We now count more faculty members than there were then collegiate students. No longer far down the list of American Universities, we now are recognized as among the best institutions of the land.

A quarter-century ago three newly organized divisions—the Colleges of Letters and Science, Agriculture, and Engineering—and the numerically superior "Prep" constituted the whole University. None of these had deans till years later. The "Purchasing Agent and Registrar" made what few scholastic records were kept. All matters of admission, advanced standing, registration, time-table, scholarship, and graduation requirements in all curricula were handled in his class-room by the one and only dean, who still had time to know every student and teach three languages.

Good old days! Better new days! Brighter still the days to come!

J. S. Eldridge

THE RESULTS of our educational system are being challenged today as, perhaps, never before. The question most commonly asked is: are we getting the kind of men and women we should for money spent in education? We have enough professional men, but cannot we have more that we can trust?

This is a direct challenge to the College of Letters and Science, for its chief aim is the development of a proper attitude towards life and it should take the lead in the making of men. In an intellectual age, such as this, with the greatest freedom of thought and action, we should not expect to be controlled by laws, customs, or fears; but rather develop a control within ourselves based on a knowledge of the facts, experience, and a philosophy of life worked out individually. If education in Idaho is to be satisfactory, students must think their way through and develop sufficient self-control to be able to govern their action by their judgment.

Mr. Frazier

THE COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE consists of the instructional division, the agricultural experiment station, and the extension service in agriculture and home economics.

The laboratory facilities are excellent and the flocks and herds of the Idaho College of Agriculture have a reputation for excellence far beyond the borders of the Gem State. The various departments of study, eleven in all, offer a wide choice and range of subjects in the field of science as related to agriculture.

The graduates are leaders in applying modern science and economic principles to production and marketing. They are research workers for state and national institutions, county agents and extension field specialists, teachers in secondary schools and college class rooms, managers of orchards and grain and livestock farms, are engaged in seed merchandising, creamery operation, and other business undertakings closely related to agriculture, and a considerable number are operating farming enterprises of their own.

Close contacts with the people of the State are maintained through the extension organization of county agents, field specialists and home demonstration and club agents.

J. Addins

THE COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING is organized, primarily, to give training in Civil, Electrical, Mechanical, and Chemical Engineering. Simultaneously with the technical training, really as a by-product of this training, the College must teach its students to think clearly and to work. At the conclusion of their studies it must send them out into the world prepared to become self-supporting units of society, possessed of practical ideals and rudiments of leadership, and capable of contributing to the advancement of our civilization.

Ivan Crawford

WITHIN recent years a sentiment has been growing that justice can only be effectively administered by an efficiently trained and professionally minded bar, and to this end greater attention is now being paid to legal education than at any other time in the history of our country.

The College of Law of the University of Idaho has a part in this nationwide movement, and is directing its activities toward the training of persons for the practice of the law, instilling in them a knowledge of basic legal principles and a fair conception of the purposes and ends to which those principles should be directed.

The College of Law is a member of the Association of American Law Schools and is on the approved list of law schools of the American Bar Association. It stands before the people of Idaho as advocating and representing a high degree of professional training and the highest ideals of professional practice.

Silas A. Harris

THE FUNCTION of the School of Mines is to prepare students to do their part as citizens by aiding in the discovery and production of minerals. Never in the world's history have we been so dependent upon minerals as today. Steel, concrete and clay products are used almost to the exclusion of all other materials in modern construction; copper, lead, zinc, aluminum and a host of minor metals are indispensable in the conduct of modern industry—natural gas, coal and petroleum constitute, aside from water power, our only available sources of energy; and gold, silver, platinum, diamonds and other precious stones are in greater demand than ever before for decoration, ornament and other evidences of conspicuous waste.

In the words of Simon Guggenheim, President of the American Smelting & Refining Company:

“The room is still wide and inviting to those who bring to the mineral industry the right ambition and the proper qualities. Mineral production has become a complex industry, involving a multitude of elements, each calling for the highest and best talent available, and offering a wider field for the capable man than ever before.”

Francis R. Tomson

THE MAJOR ACTIVITIES of the School of Forestry may be summarized under four heads: Instruction, research, tree distribution, and public relations.

Instruction involves the training of young men for the profession of forestry and occupies the major part of the time of the forest faculty. High standards are maintained and graduates are everywhere meeting with success, and are reflecting great credit upon the School.

The School is also achieving fame in the field of research, and it has been necessary to organize this activity into a separate division of the University, the Idaho Forest Experiment Station. This new Station will add distinct strength to the School's whole program.

The School maintains the largest state-controlled forest nursery in the west, and is this year distributing about one-half million trees to the farmers for woodlot, windbreak, and ornamental purposes.

In its public relations work, the School carries on a persistent campaign to bring home to the people of the state the value and importance of Idaho's great forest resources, and the part they play in the every-day life of the people.

F. G. Miller

THE SCHOOL OF EDUCATION was established by the Board of Education for the purpose of training teachers for the schools of Idaho. It began in 1920 with twenty-six students. This year there are three hundred eighty-six undergraduates. More than half of the graduate students of the University take either a major or a minor in Education.

While the School of Education has grown rapidly in numbers, the increase is not sufficient to keep up with the increasing demand for Idaho trained teachers. The Placement Service, under the direction of Bernice McCoy, is in touch with all of the schools of the state. The increased number of Idaho graduates is doing much to strengthen state consciousness, and the School is promoting the greatly desired professional attitude among teachers. The most marked change in the past five years is found in the increasing demand for graduate courses and the master's degree.

J. A. Messenger

THE PURPOSE of the School of Business Administration is to serve both the youth of Idaho and the business interests of Idaho.

In carrying out the former of these objectives, the School undertakes: (1) to provide adequate instruction in the fundamentals of modern business, that is, business economics, finance, labor management, marketing and selling, and control (accounting and statistics); (2) to insure that its graduates are not only well grounded in modern business sciences but that they leave the University as cultivated men and women; hence the insistence on cultural studies; (3) to promote a higher standard of business ethics by striving to imbue its students with professional ideals.

The second objective, that of serving the business interests of the State, is sought not only through the subject matter of instruction but through the research activities of the School in the field of marketing, transportation, finance, taxation and so on, the results of which are published regularly in The Idaho Economic Bulletin.

Harrison Chase

THE SCOPE of the Graduate School covers graduate study throughout the University. More than thirty departments offer majors toward advanced degrees and many of the departments offer several majors. The aim of the Graduate School is to encourage advanced study, promote research, and to organize the store of human knowledge to the end that it may serve the needs of our present-day life. In recent years the graduate school has also endeavored to give respectability to the art of teaching on the part of college faculties. By fostering the spirit of inquiry and research in the members of its staff it not only reacts powerfully on undergraduate instruction, but through its graduate courses it furnishes expert and standard preparation for those who are planning to become college teachers as well as for those who are planning to become investigators. In recent years the Graduate School has experienced a remarkable growth, both from the standpoint of enrollment and standards. It is rapidly gaining in prestige and is most favorably recognized by the largest graduate schools in the country. At least forty graduate students will receive higher degrees this June and most of them have already received appointments to very lucrative and influential positions.

J. E. Hodsdon

THE ACADEMIC COUNCIL was founded in September, 1925, by Doctor A. H. UPHAM, and is composed of what was formerly the Advisory Council to the President, the University Curriculum Committee, and the University Scholarship Committee. The President of the University is ex-officio chairman of the council and in his absence the Dean of the Faculty presides at the meetings which are held every Wednesday at 4:00 P. M. in the President's office. The council was formed because of the growth of the University Faculty, which became so large that it was too unwieldy in matters that were formerly handled by it.

It is composed of the President, all the Deans, the Registrar, directors of departments, and two members elected each year from the Faculty. Department directors who acted this year are Miss Jensen of the Home Economics Department, Miss McCoy of the Non-Resident Study Department, Colonel Chrisman, Commandant of Cadets, and Professor Kratt of the Music Curriculum. The two other members are Professors Taylor and Chenoweth.

The council takes up all academic questions, cases of probation, removals from school, changes in curriculum, some matters of administration, and leaves of absence of groups such as the Glee Club or Pep Band. Any changes in policy are discussed by the council before they are presented to the general Faculty. No disciplinary matters are taken up by the council.

They have a regular order of procedure which is rather interesting, and from which they seldom deviate. All members must rise to address the chairman. Much of the work is delegated to sub-committees, which make investigations and then report to the council.

The Rendezvous of Pierre's Hole is most reminiscent of the fur-trading days of a century ago. The three Teton Mountains look down from their position in Wyoming upon this natural amphitheater—so well afforded with sparkling water and stately trees. Here, the trappers and the red-skins gathered to barter bales of fur for trinkets and fire-water. The trafficking completed, the Mountainmen went in for a good time. Flat kegs, suitable for packing, cards, horse-racing and even an occasional dead Indian afforded the excitement. Thrilling, indeed, are the Hudson Bay Company's files which record the story of successful pack-trains laden with bales of fur, as they wound their way out of Southern Idaho down the Snake and Columbia rivers to the post at Vancouver. We owe as much to these Mountainmen as to the scientists of present institutions in their searches for unknowns. They gave us geographical nomenclature. Kullyspell House—now Hope—was founded by David Thompson of the North West Fur Company, in 1809. Donald McKenzie, of the same Canadian company, gave us the names of Weiser, Boise, Malad, Payette and Portneuf. Andrew Henry, of the Missouri Fur Company, built several log cabins in the fall of 1810, later known as Fort Henry and now St. Anthony. John Jacob Astor organized the Pacific Fur Company and sent out the Wilson Price Hunt party in 1810 which paid the first visit to Pierre's Hole. Tom McKay of the Hudson Bay Company erected Fort Boise in 1834, little realizing that he was sponsoring a future state capital. & Innumerable other names such as Jed Smith, Joseph Meek and Robert Newell recall to our minds the Golden Age of trapping in Idaho from 1820 to 1830. Captain Bonneville gave us the name of Bear Lake and much geographical knowledge of our state to the East. Few names stand out among the many obscure and unknown trappers, yet these picturesque Mountainmen made the recesses and courses of our state a well-thumbed book for the immigrant. They gave the East to believe that our West was a virgin land abounding with life.

A plea to General William Clark of four foot-sore Columbia River Indians for guidance in the ways of God, aroused the East to missionary activity. In response to this request, made at St. Louis, the American Board of Commissioners of Foreign Missions acted. February, 1836, the Spalding and Whitman newly-weds left for the West. It was the first journey made by white women across the American continent. Dr. and Mrs. Marcus Whitman located at Walla Walla—home of our neighbor institution. Reverend and Mrs. Henry Spalding opened a mission at the foot of Thunder Hill in the Lapwai Valley. ☉ Twelve miles above Lewiston there stands the wind-swept and decaying timber-hewn cabin which formed the Spalding mission on the Nez Perce Reservation. Here the missionary, man and wife, had opened a school for the Red-Skins. The mistress taught them household arts, guiding their fingers in spinning, weaving and sewing. Meanwhile, her husband encouraged agricultural pursuits and revealed the Gospels which he had printed on a seal press, number 14, sent to him in 1839 by a Honolulu mission. In a small log house, Eliza Spalding Warren, Idaho's first white child, was born. Missionary work continued without interruption until November 29, 1847, the eleventh anniversary of the arrival at Lapwai, when the Cayuse Indians rose and drove the missionaries out. Shortly before his death in 1874, Reverend Henry Spalding returned to the mission where he and his wife are now buried. ☉ The service of the Black Robes in Idaho during that romantic decade, 1840-1850, or of the the Mormon missionaries in the Lemhi Valley in 1855, might be dwelled on with equal emphasis. In July, 1840, Father Peter J. De Smet preached to the Indians in Pierre's Hole, so famous in the annals of the fur trade. Through his efforts, the historic Old Mission of Cataldo—peg-bound—came into being. In 1846 it served a useful purpose; now it is but a house on the Yellowstone trail, which tourists view with curiosity. All have their chapters in Idaho history: these three missionary groups have aided by contributing their elements.

Westward—Ho! By the 1840s, the Pacific Northwest had become a visioned land of abundance and opportunity. Lewis and Clark had informed the East with their vivid dairy of the journey. Jason Lee, missionary of the Willamette, John C. Fremont, Kit Carson, Francis Parkman and others had made the West popular. The emigrants came, first in caravans of ten or a dozen prairie schooners, then by thousands, in trains of white-topped Saratoga wagons. Slogans of Pike's Peak or Bust, Westward Ho! and Head'n West adorned the canvas tops. ☺ The Great Migration was in full force by 1843. Men had what they called the Oregon fever. They followed the line of greatest markedness across the sandy plains to the Rockies, the Oregon Trail. First marked by buffalo, then roving Indian bands, now it became a deeply rutted ribbon winding from Independence, Missouri, to Oregon City on the Willamette River. The Oregon Trail entered Idaho near the present town of Border, Wyoming; passed Bear River Valley, Fort Hall, south of Snake River; crossed at Glenns Ferry, thence to the Boise River; crossed at Caldwell and again at Fort Boise. In 1845, some three thousand left their Eastern homes, taking chickens, stock, antiques, kitchen stoves and carved furniture in their impetuousness. Much of this lay along the Trail, marking the emigrants' impatience with the tedious traveling and the necessity to lighten the oxen's loads. ☺ It is said fifteen thousand met death enroute to where the Oregon rolls. But many more thousands lived to reach the new land. Ezra Meeker, C. W. Moore, Van Orman and other living Idahoans can tell of the trials of the Oregon Trail. The savages lay in wait for dusk, the small band of prairie schooners, and unpreparedness. They would rush the circled wagons, reaping scalps and horses. But the larger divisions, captained by such as Jesse Applegate, gave a feeling of security. From a circle of fifty fires, rosy faces and horn-piping fiddles revealed an atmosphere of stirring intrepidity and purpose. Only such could have lived through to found our State.

CONFERENCE CHAMPIONS

1927 Football

FIGHTING their way to a tie with Stanford University and the University of Southern California for the championship of the Pacific Coast Conference, the 1927 Idaho Vandals proved one of the greatest football teams in Idaho history. Though being twice tied in the conference race, the Silver and Gold consistently outplayed its opponents, and was undefeated in the conference. The fact that Idaho did not meet either Stanford or U.S.C. during the season is no fault of hers, as attempts were made to schedule encounters with those teams before their seasons were full. Idaho was not given a place on either's schedule, however, and a three-way tie was the result. A 3-3 tie with the powerful St. Mary's squad certainly put the Erbmen on a par with any conference team.

The initial call on September 15 found ten lettermen from last year and a host of excellent material from the 1926 freshman team all eager to do the moleskins again.

With a season of Coach Erb's style of play behind them, the squad whipped into shape very quickly. Brimhall, Chas. Diehl, Hutchinson, Beall, and O'Brien formed a nucleus for the line, with Jacoby, Perrins, and Walmsley, veteran ball carriers for the backfield. Big Bill Kershnik was schooled to fill Sody Owings' shoes at fullback, and Burgher, former half, was shifted to end. Burgher was called upon to do the punting. Hult, Robertson and Paul Hutchinson soon won berths as halfbacks.

Kirkpatrick from the 1926 frosh was converted into a center, and despite his inexperience at that post, served admirably through the season. Speck Diehl and Sumpter from the frosh filled gaps at tackle and guard, and Price, another rook, won his spurs as running mate for Burgher on the ends.

The first games of the season saw Charlie trying out several different combinations and working in as many players as possible. For the first time in years the Vandals were well equipped with capable reserves for all positions. No longer was it necessary for Charlie to worry over what he should do if one or more of his first eleven were injured. With equally good men on the bench, it was possible for the coach to substitute frequently without weakening the strength of the team on the field. The constant injection of fresh men in the lineup served to hearten a weary team and keep it at full strength throughout the game. Stark, Hjort, Harris, Christians, Jensen and Wendell proved excellent reserves for line posts, and were called into the game regularly during the season. Barrett, Norman and Cheyne frequently replaced the regular backs and displayed great ability under fire.

With a forward wall averaging close to 200 pounds, and a well-rounded backfield, the Erbmen were able to employ a versatile attack that was unfathomable. The linemen opened up regular highways in the opposing lines, through which Robertson, Hutchinson and Kershisnik ploughed for yardage at will. The accurate passing and wide runs by Perrins, Jacoby and Burgher kept the defense ever on the alert.

The defensive strength of that machine was evidenced by the fact that but 48 points were scored against them in eight games, while they were rolling up a total of 123 counts themselves. The work of Capt. Diehl and his linemen, backed by Kershisnik at full, stopped everything that was directed at them and the much-heralded passing attacks of several opponents were cut short by the Vandal backfield.

The power of attack and defense developed markedly as the season progressed, the Vandals reaching their peak at the O.A.C. game.

AN OFF-TACKLE SMASH GOES OVER

Montana State 12 — Idaho 19

U SING nothing but straight football, Idaho rang up the curtain for the 1927 gridiron season by handing the Montana State Bobcats a 19 to 12 beating on the home field. The long-awaited opener was a real battle, with Jacoby clinching the victory by a 20-yard run for a touchdown after the final gun. The play, a wide end run, started just as the gun barked, and "Red" dashed through the whole Montana team, hurdling three would-be tacklers, to make the final score.

Idaho received the kickoff, and without once losing possession of the ball, drove 80 yards down the field for the first touchdown. Bill Kershishnik, making his debut as varsity fullback, bore the brunt of the attack. Jacoby, Hult and Hutchinson alternated with Big Bill in pounding the Bobcat line, and Kershishnik went over from the three yard line just six minutes after the kick-off. The try for point failed. Idaho's second counter came shortly after the end of the first quarter. Hutch, Jake, Hult and Bill continued to smack the line with deadly precision, and Kershishnik again carried the ball over, after Jacoby had placed it on Montana's one-yard line. Sumpter kicked the goal, making the count 13-0 for Idaho.

The Bobcats opened up with a dazzling passing attack near the end of the half, and scored their first touchdown on a 25-yard heave. They scored again in the last quarter when they intercepted an Idaho pass in midfield, and, after a few line gains, completed another 25-yard toss over the goal. A third Montana drive was stopped short when Chuck Diehl snared one of their deadly passes in midfield; and the Vandals began the final drive that ended in Jacoby's brilliant 20-yard sprint for the last score of the afternoon.

HULT RIPS OFF ELEVEN YARDS

Oregon 0 — Idaho 0

ONE OF the most bitterly fought "Oregon games" in history ended with honors even when Idaho battled the Lemon-Yellow gridders to a scoreless tie at Eugene October 8th. The Vandals carried the fight to Oregon throughout the game, but after the first quarter were never able to get within striking distance of the Webfoot goal line. To many who saw the battle, it can never be satisfactorily explained how Oregon managed to stop the Vandals' smashing backs in that first quarter. The Erbmen had carried the ball nearly the length of the field, after a series of punts and scrimmages; but with the ball on the two-yard line four Vandal linemen were "out on their feet," and Oregon held for downs. The Webfeet punted out of danger, and the scoring opportunity was gone. Idaho continued to crash the Lemon-Yellow line for long gains, but penalties and fumbles kept the ball in midfield most of the time.

Oregon threatened near the close of the second period, when, aided by Idaho offside penalties, they worked the ball to the eight-yard line by clever lateral passes and end runs. A fourth down place kick failed, however, and Idaho punted out. Late in the final period a "break" nearly gave the Webfooters a score when they grabbed a fumbled ball on Idaho's 18-yard line. From there they carried it to the one-yard line, but the gun saved the day.

The game was featured by startling plays and excellent punting by both teams. Oregon worked a triple pass successfully on several occasions, and made most of their yardage on wide open plays. The Vandals terrified the home fans with their terrific smashing attack; countless substitutions being necessary as green-shirted linemen and backs went down before the battering onslaughts of a desperate Idaho team.

Whitman 0 — Idaho 40

A RELIGIOUSLY inspired company of young Missionaries arrived in Moscow October 15th with the avowed purpose of converting a Vandal tribe to Christianity. They left hurriedly shortly thereafter, sadly convinced that Vandalism was a mighty fine thing after all. Given but a scant two touchdown margin over the Missionaries by "well informed" critics, the Erbmen kicked the dope bucket clear over the Ad Building to smother Whitman under a 40 to 0 avalanche. Fully determined to square up with somebody for the Oregon upset, the Vandals greeted Borleske's men with such a volley of end runs, reverses, fake reverses, long passes, and what have you, that Whitman didn't have a chance. With the home turf under foot the Vandals put on a fierce tribal dance that sent the Missionaries scurrying back to Walla Walla for a supply of bigger and better glass beads with which to charm the heathen. It was truly a Vandal holiday. With Burgher gaining from 10 to 15 yards on every exchange of punts, the Erbmen repeatedly gained possession of the ball about the Whitman 20-yard line, from where it was a simple matter to punch it over the goal. Or whenever Holgrem, Whitman punter, did manage to get off a long one, Jacoby promptly obliged by running it back from 15 to 30 yards.

SUMPTER

Idaho opened the first quarter with a punting duel, and after exactly five of Burgher's long spirals, took the ball on Whitman's 20-yard line. From here

C. HUTCHINSON

Robertson made 15 yards around left end, and Kershishnik carried it over. Sumpter converted the try for point, and the whole system was now reduced to a formula. More punting, a 30-yard run by Jacoby, and the ball was again deep in Whitman territory. Robertson, Kershishnik and Hutchinson packed it to the goal line, and "Big Bill" carried it over for the second time. The formula was slightly varied for the third count. Idaho gained the ball in midfield, and Burgher immediately shot a 15-yard pass to Sammy Perrins. In three more plays Idaho had scored her third touchdown, Norman packing the ball over the line. Score at the half stood Idaho 19, Whitman 0.

The second half was a continuation of the first, with the old formula ringing up three more touchdowns. The Erbmen were still going strong when the timer's gun stopped them at 40 to 0.

Montana 6 — Idaho 42

BEGINNING right where they left off in the Missionary game, the Vandals ran up six more touchdowns on the following Saturday to crush the University of Montana Grizzlies 42 to 6 in the second conference game of the year. The Grizzlies, lone weapon, their passing game, was smeared from the first by the fast charging Idaho forwards. On the other hand, the Erbmen cut loose with an aerial attack all their own, completing ten out of twelve passes. Montana's sole count came in the third period when Davis snared a long pass from Chinske, and ran 33 yards through a broken field for the touchdown.

O'BRIEN

After exchanging the ball back and forth by frequent fumbles, the Vandals secured possession in midfield shortly after the first quarter opened. Mixing straight line bucks with a spinner or two, Jacoby, Kershisnik, Robertson and Hutchinson, composing the Idaho battering ram, drove through, around and over the Grizzly line to the three-yard mark, from where Robbie carried the ball over for the first touchdown. Sumpter kicked the goal, giving Idaho seven points. The second quarter saw another succession of fumbles and recoveries, with Idaho gaining ground on every exchange of punts. Near the end of the half Burgher got away a long twisting spiral to the Montana two-yard line. Chinske, kicking from behind his own goal line, sliced the ball, and the Vandals recovered on the 15-yard line. Hult smashed through tackle for ten yards in two tries, and Kershisnik plowed the remaining five yards on the next play. Sumpter again added the seventh point as the half ended.

Idaho scored again in the third quarter, and Montana came back with their lone tally. In the final period the Vandals completely swamped the fast-tiring Montanans, scoring three more touchdowns in rapid succession.

The Erbmen rolled up a total of 305 yards from scrimmage during the sixty minutes of play, and added 84 more through the air in completing ten out of twelve passes. Montana amassed but 211 yards from scrimmage, but completed seven out of eighteen passes for 103 yards.

Kain, left half, was practically the whole Montana team, carrying the ball for long gains, running interference, and blocking on passes until he was taken exhausted from the game in the last quarter. His brilliant playing won the admiration of friend and foe alike.

By this overwhelming victory over Montana Idaho kept her coast conference slate clean, and established herself on a par with the leaders, as no other conference squad had yet run up 42 points against the Grizzlies.

St. Mary's 3 — Idaho 3

SMASHING the old dope pail into a thousand bits, the fighting Vandals held the famous St. Mary's gridders, conquerors of both Stanford and California, to a 3-3 tie at San Francisco, November 5th. Matching the powerful St. Mary's line in speed and aggressiveness, the Vandal forwards smothered every line play before it got started, and smeared the Saints' brilliant passing game. The whole Idaho team shared the glory of that afternoon, coming from behind in the last few minutes to tie the score, and throwing a scare into the Californians that the "native sons" will not soon forget. But to Captain Diehl, Darwin Burgher and "Phat" Sumpter go the highest honors of the day. It was Diehl's stalwart defensive work on the line that nipped many a St. Mary's rally in the bud. It was "Burg's" 50-, 60- and 70-yard punts that kept the Saints with their backs to the wall throughout the game. And it was the amiable "Fort" Sumpter, Idaho's underslung guard, who thumped over a place kick from a difficult angle on the 25-yard line to save the Erbmens from defeat. "Fat" was the coolest man on the field as he kicked that saving field goal to tie the count at 3-3. The Saints had scored their three points in the second quarter, when a "break" gave them the ball on Idaho's nine-yard mark. A long pass had been grounded, but St. Mary's was given the ball here because of alleged interference with the receiver. Unable to smash it across from the nine-yard line in three downs, the Saints place-kicked on fourth down from directly in front of the goal posts on the 20-yard line.

Idaho's chance in the closing minutes came as a result of a 70-yard spiral by Burgher. The punt soared over the safety's head and rolled to St. Mary's 21-yard line. The Saints punted back to midfield. Kershisnik smashed for four, and a 10-yard pass, Burgher to Jacoby, netted first down on the Saint's 37-yard line. Perrins made five on a fake reverse, but the next two plays were spilled. Barrett went in at quarter, and immediately surprised the Saint's by forward passing to Burgher for 15 yards and a first down on St. Mary's 17. The next three plays were smeared by the now desperate Saints, and it was place kick or nothing. And Sumpter did his stuff.

The Saints filled the air with passes in the remaining minutes of play, but to no avail, as the Erbmen kept the receivers well covered.

Washington State 7 — Idaho 7

THE GREATEST CROWD ever assembled at Rogers Field, Pullman, saw the University of Idaho Vandals run over, under, through and around a stubborn Cougar foe, only to be tied 7-7 when a slippery ball got away from an Idaho safety and was recovered by Washington State for a touchdown. Ten thousand rabid fans saw the Erbmen roll up 231 yards from scrimmage to a mere 72 for Pullman, and make 13 first downs to the Staters' two, only to have the Cougars presented with the tying score in the last half. The Silver and Gold was forced to down the same bitter medicine that Pullman tasted two years ago, when "Nellie" Nelson scooped up a fumble and sprinted 60 yards for a touchdown, giving Idaho the long end of a 7-6 score.

The Erbmen scored their counter just eight minutes after the kickoff. On the first play after receiving the Staters' kick, Burgher, from a punt formation, passed ten yards to Hutchinson, who added 15 more before Meeker spilled him. "Butch" was the lone Cougar between Hutch and the goal, and it looked momentarily as though Idaho would score on the first play. But the half-pint safety eluded two interference runners to nail his man. Idaho then punted, and Chuck Diehl downed Meeker in his tracks. Pullman's return kick was short, and Idaho, gaining 15 yards on the exchange, took the pigskin in midfield. Big Bill and Hutch here began the march that resulted in the score. Smashing off-tackle for six, eight and ten yards at a clip, the Vandal ball-toters pounded the State line like triphammers. Some beautiful holes were opened up by the Vandal forwards on this march, and just seven minutes before the end of the first quarter Kershisnik went over. Burgher kicked the goal.

A punting duel featured the remainder of the half, with Burgher consistently out-kicking both Horan and McDonald, the Cougar punters. Burgher's long kicks were nullified, however, by the brilliant returns of Meeker. The Cougar mite ran back every spiral for long gains. He was especially aided in this by the defensive work of the State half-backs, who clipped out the Vandal ends as they went down the field, leaving Meeker free to return for from 15 to 30 yards.

With a seven-point lead the Erbmen continued the kicking game the second half, and were holding the Cougar at bay until the unexpected "break." Five minutes after the half opened the aforementioned punt got away from the Idaho safety and rolled over the goal line. When the referee finally got to the bottom of a pile who dived for the ball, Jenne, of W.S.C., was on the bottom with his arms securely wrapped around the pigskin. Meeker kicked the try for point, tying the score, and the Cougar fans went wild.

Idaho made a desperate attempt to put over another touchdown in the last quarter, but the Staters held for downs whenever the ball got into dangerous territory; and the game ended with W.S.C. giving thanks to Allah for a tie score. Dame Fortune smiled on the Cougar, and another W.S.C.-Idaho game became history.

Oregon Aggies 7 — Idaho 12

HAMMERING to a touchdown in a desperate march from the 35-yard line in the last three minutes of play, the Idaho Vandals came from behind to beat the Aggies 12-7, and avenge the 3-0 defeat of last season. It was by long odds the greatest battle of the 1927 season for Idaho, and marked the close of a successful conference schedule. Said The Oregonian sports staff, "It was the best game of football played in Portland in recent years, and in the end the stronger team won out, though Idaho held the smaller end of a 7-6 score until the final moments." The Orangemen had scored a touchdown on an intercepted pass just two minutes after the opening kick-off, and though the Erbmen came back with a touchdown in the second quarter, they failed to kick the goal. From then on Idaho's powerful attack tore the Aggie line to shreds, but was unable to score again until that last drive.

Burgher kicked off to open the game and O.A.C. punted on the second down, giving Idaho the ball on her own 24-yard line. The Vandals attempted a forward pass from punt formation, but an alert Aggie end snared the ball and raced 30 yards for an O.A.C. score. Idaho again kicked off, and played a watchful waiting game for the rest of the quarter, which ended as the Erbmen recovered an Aggie fumble on the 44-yard line.

After several punt exchanges, the Vandal machine got under way from the Aggies' 43-yard mark. Hutchinson hit center for nine yards, and he smashed over tackle on the next play for four more and a first down. Kershishnik hit the tackle hole for nine yards and repeated the play for a first down on the Orange 19-yard string. Hutchinson gained two yards on a smash over center. Again Hutch took the ball. This time he plunged through a great hole at left guard, then reversed his field, and aided by excellent interference, raced 18 yards across the goal line for a touchdown. Idaho missed the kick, and the score stood 7-6, O.A.C. Near the end of the half Idaho carried the ball from midfield to the O.A.C. 11-yard line in five plays, but lost it when an attempted place kick went wild.

The third quarter saw the Vandals desperately trying to overcome that one point lead, and the Aggies trying just as desperately to stop them. A powerful drive began from the 49-yard line when Burgher passed to Big Bill from punt formation, gaining 14 yards. Hutch and Bill smashed from here to a first and ten on O.A.C.'s 26. On a spinner, Kershishnik ploughed to the 15-yard mark. The Aggies were fighting stubbornly now, and the going was tougher. Four smashes brought the ball to the five-yard line, and it was first and goal. Jacoby and Hutch made but two yards in three tries; and on the last down the Orange defense stopped Big Bill but a scant three feet from the goal.

The last assault was do or die. From the 35-yard line Perrins and Bill made six, and a fourth down pass was good for 12 more when Bill took the ball away from three Aggies. Robbie fought his way to the four-yard line, and Perrins, on a beautiful end run, made the winning score from the one-yard mark.

Gonzaga 13 — Idaho 0

COMING as an anti-climax to the conference schedule, the post-season game with Gonzaga University at Spokane Thanksgiving Day proved disastrous to the hitherto undefeated Vandals. The real peak of Idaho's season was the O.A.C. encounter, toward which the Erbmen had pointed, and with that battle over the team experienced the natural "let down" that follows on the heels of a hard schedule. The result was that the Irishmen, playing at the top of their stride after a mediocre season, handed Idaho a 13-0 pasting. The Vandals were mentally unprepared for the brand of ball that Gonzaga furnished. The Irish, on the other hand, counting on just such a relaxation on their opponents' part, were "pointed" for this very game, and they played as they had never played all season. Idaho made more yardage from scrimmage, and more first downs than Gonzaga, but the old punch that won the Aggie game was gone.

Of the game itself, there is little to be said. It was a case of too much Hunting. Fanny Hunting, Gonzaga quarter, ended his brilliant career by scoring both touchdowns against the Vandals. He passed, punted and skirted the ends with bewildering speed, and figured in every play. Gonzaga scored first in the second quarter when, after they were given the ball on Idaho's 20-yard line, Hunting snared a pass and raced over the line; and again in the last period when they recovered a Vandal fumble, a long pass put the ball on the one-foot line, and Fanny stepped over on the next play. Coach Erb sent in sub after sub, but the Vandal attack could not get going.

MONTANA FAILS TO GAIN

Tribute

THE 1927 VARSITY performed as a well-coordinated unit, working for team play and faultless precision at all times. Every man was responsible for his part in every play, as is every cog in a smooth running machine; and likewise every man shared in the glory of each victory. Nevertheless, there were men outstanding among them, and it would be ungrateful if no mention were made of them, especially of those who have played their last game for Idaho.

To Captain Charles Diehl go the high honors of the year. Diehl's power and speed on the line, his ability to quickly diagnose plays, and his capable leadership on the field won him recognition up and down the coast, and he was almost universally chosen as all-coast guard. Glenn Jacoby, playing his third year at quarterback, was ever steady and dependable, and his brilliant performance as safety will be missed next year. These two veterans were awarded the official "I" football blanket in recognition of their three years of play.

Second-year sweaters went to Darwin Burgher, captain-elect; to Con Dewey, Carl Hutchinson, Maurice Brimhall, Sam Perrins, and Wilfred Walmsley. James O'Brien, Harvey Sumpter, Fred Robertson, Walter Price, Bill Kershnik, Lester Kirkpatrick, Orville Hult, Gordon Diehl and Paul Hutchinson won their first awards in varsity competition. With the return of these fifteen lettermen next fall, Coach Erb will have a splendid array of football talent for the 1928 Idaho Vandals.

Freshman Football

BETWEEN seventy-five and a hundred enthusiastic rooks greeted Frosh Coach Rich Fox when he issued first call for freshmen football. This number was soon trimmed down to a playing squad of about thirty men who were carried through the season. Faced with four tough games, the yearlings settled down to hard work. Despite suffering severely from injuries throughout the season, ineligibility, and withdrawals, the Vandal Babes won three of the four encounters by overwhelming scores.

Opening up against the Spokane University gridders at Spokane, the frosh battered their way to an 18-6 decision. With the Montana cubs leading 14-13 at the end of the third quarter at Missoula two weeks later, the Vandal Yearlings cut loose in the last quarter and scored three touchdowns to defeat Montana 31-14. The greatest frosh team in W.S.C.'s history downed the Idaho first-year men 28-0 at Moscow November 5th; but the crippled Babes came back the following Saturday to mop up on Cheney Normal, closing their season with a 25-0 victory.

Numeral sweaters were awarded to Martin (Capt.), Fannon, Hall, Ehrhardt, Scatterday, Swindeman, Wendle, Carlson, Rosenbaum, Bessler, Sproat, Booker, Summercamp, Rutledge, Redmon, Owens, Richardson, Stanfield and Werner. Many of these Babes will give the veterans a hard fight for positions on the 1928 Varsity.

Basketball 1927-28

IDAHO entered her seventh season of Pacific Coast Conference basketball under the tutelage of a new basketball mentor, Richard A. Fox, former Vandal star forward. To succeed Dave MacMillan, who had led Idaho to two conference championships, and who in his seven years here had never seen one of his teams finish below third place, was a mighty tough assignment for a new coach, especially for one who was stepping into conference circles for the first time. Offsetting this handicap, however, was the fact that Rich had played three years under the old master, and was well versed in the Idaho style of play.

Fox had been extraordinarily successful as coach of Pocatello high school's basketball men, his team winning the state championship in 1926-27, and placing among the best four at the national interscholastic tournament at Chicago. Rich proved himself the logical successor to Mac when in this, his first year here at Idaho, the team again finished in third place.

JACOBY

GREENE

Basketball work began early in December, when a large turnout, including three lettermen, began drilling. Jacoby and Burgher joined the others soon after football was over. After a lengthy weeding-out process the squad was cut to about fifteen. Greene, Canine, Jacoby, Dawald and Burgher, lettermen; Collins, Silverthorne and Stellmon from last year; and Tatro, Stowell, McMillan, Thornhill, Drummond, Barrett and Christians, newcomers, made up a playing squad that was carried through the season. A spirited fight for positions kept the boys at top speed, with sophomores crowding the veterans hard for places. Thornhill alternated at the Darwin Burgher, who ably by bad arches in hard grind. Three of these, Canine, have played in alma mater, and their ership will be missed who was placed on the cal team, won his second and Thornhill, McMillan, Drummond and Stowell received their first Varsity basketball awards.

The Vandal cagemen won eight out of twelve starts on a pre-season barn-storming trip through northern Idaho and Montana during the Christmas holidays. Two games were dropped to Montana State, and one each to the Sparklers, a semi-pro Spokane team, and the Potlatch Athletic Club, these last two outfits being composed of ex-college all-stars. Idaho defeated both the Sparklers and Montana State in return games, as well as several other independent teams. Whitman College basketeers fell before the Vandals on the home floor just prior to the opening of the conference schedule, 27-24. These pre-season games put the squad in excellent shape. Fox was now better able to get a line on his men, and the younger players profited greatly from the experience gained on the barnstorming trip. The style of basketball put up by most of Idaho's opponents in these pre-season games was equal to, if not faster than, coast conference competition. Montana State College decisively trimmed several conference teams, and Whitman's cagemen have seldom bowed to coast teams in basketball. The Sparklers of Spokane boast numerous ex-college players on their squad, and as a team would be a credit to any college, large or small. Against such teams as these the Vandals developed speed and confidence for the conference race.

THE VANDAL cagemen opened their conference season with a three-game trip to the coast, losing each start by a narrow margin. O.A.C. barely nosed them out at Corvallis, 31-28, and Oregon took a hard-fought game the next night at Eugene, 29-23. Washington played in championship form to take a 27-19 battle from the travel-weary Vandals at Seattle, and Idaho returned home in the cellar.

Rested from their coast jaunt, the Vandals played a bang-up game to trounce Montana in the first home conference game to the tune of 48-26. Idaho used a short, fast passing attack, which baffled the Montana defense, seldom finding it necessary to take long shots. Montana, on the other hand, was forced to adopt long range shooting, as the Vandals guarded closely under the basket. McMillan was high point man for Idaho with 15 tallies. The Foxmen repeated the victory against Gonzaga the following night 25-18, in a rough and tumble battle in which the second string played half the time.

Leading all the way Rich's men shoved W.S.C. further into the cellar in a fast game at Pullman February 4, winning by the count of 35-24. Stowell led the attack with 10 points. The University of Washington Huskies got the scare of their young lives when Idaho swept them off their feet for the better part of a furious game at Moscow February 11. The Vandals led 16-12 at half time, but the Husky aces, Snider and James, looped them in from all angles in the last few minutes to take a well-earned victory, 34-26. Baskets by Burgher, McMillan, Greene and Jacoby put Idaho out in front before Washington could get under way, but in the second half the northern division champions caught up with and passed the desperate Vandals.

THE COUGARS came over to Moscow a week later to avenge themselves on Idaho, but the Vandals again trimmed their whiskers, this time 37-26. The game was played behind closed doors, due to fear of an epidemic, but was nevertheless well fought, with W.S.C. holding its own until the last few minutes. Stowell led the Vandal scorers with 12 counters, Jacoby being second high with nine.

Playing an uphill battle against Oregon three nights later, the Vandals weakened in the last five minutes of play, and the Webfeet took their second victory over Idaho 32-23. Inability of the Vandal cagemen to cash in on free throws cost them heavily, as Idaho converted but five out of 17 attempts. Burgher and McMillan tied for high score with six each.

In the best game of the season on the home court Idaho downed O.A.C. by a spirited rally in the closing moments, 22-20. The battle was featured by close checking and long shots by the invaders. Idaho led at half time 12-6, but the Aggies crept up to a one-point lead, 20-19, with but four minutes to go. They tried a stalling game then, but Idaho recovered the ball, and Burgher came down the center of the floor to drop one through the hoop for the lead. He then added a free toss, and Idaho hung on to her two-point lead until the gun. McMillan was again high man with 10 tallies, followed by Stowell and Burgher, who had six each. Idaho committed but two personal fouls during the game, the Aggies missing both free throws.

Whitman beat the Vandals at Walla Walla the next week in a close game, and Montana repeated the feat at Missoula 38-35. Idaho closed her season with a 32-21 victory over the embattled Irishmen of Gonzaga at Spokane February 29.

Freshman Basketball

WINNING but two out of nine games, the Vandal Freshmen cagers experienced a rather disastrous season. Constant reorganization, caused by first-year men dropping out of school, prevented Frosh Coach "Stew" Beam from developing a winning combination, though there was some good material among the yearlings. The Babes dropped their opener to the Moscow High quintet, but evened up the two-game series in the next meeting. Lewiston High won a close decision from the Frosh at Lewiston 26-25; but Endicott had little difficulty in romping off with a 23-14 victory at Endicott. Bellingham Normal squeezed out a 31-24 win over the Babes in a fast game on the local court, when the Frosh slowed up in the last half.

In a four-game series with the Cougar Freshmen, the yearlings dropped three tough games. The Cubs took the first one by gaining a 14-point lead at half time, and hanging on to it to win, 35-20. Showing a decided reversal of form, Idaho played the best game of the season to even the count at Pullman, winning 34-28. W.S.C. walked away with the third battle 46-18 at Pullman, when the yearlings went to pieces. The Cougar Cubs won the final game at Moscow 35-22, after the Babes battled them on even terms for the best part of the game.

Six Freshmen qualified for awards at the close of the season, and "1931" sweaters were received by Carlson, Oud, Milliner, Duffy, Doyle and Wendel.

LINDLEY HALL

Intramural Basketball

IN ONE of the most hotly contested intramural basketball tournaments the campus has ever enjoyed, Lindley Hall won the championship by going through the season undefeated. The various house teams were divided into two leagues, and some high class basketball was displayed by the leading teams. In the "A" league the Kappa Sigs lost but one game and earned the right to meet the champs of the rival league. Beta Chi and the Betas were runners-up, losing only to the Polecat quintet. Lindley Hall sailed through the "B" league undefeated, though closely pressed by the Sigma Chis and the S.A.E.'s.

In the final series for the intramural cup the Hall men decisively defeated the Kappa Sigs in two straight games, thereby winning the campus championship. Many stellar players were unearthed as a result of the intramural race, several of them of potential varsity calibre. Coach Rich Fox selected a first and second all-star team at the close of the intramural schedule, as follows: First team, Lawrence, Beta Theta Pi, and Herndon, Lindley Hall, forwards; O'Brien, Kappa Sigma, center; and Glase, Beta Chi, and Rutledge, Lindley Hall, guards. Second team places went to Beyer, Sigma Chi, and James, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, forwards; Rosenbaum, Lindley Hall, center; Hodson, Delta Chi, and Drummond, Beta Theta Pi, guards. O'Brien of Kappa Sigma was high scorer for the season with 64 points.

~ Track ~

THE 1927 VARSITY SQUAD

The 1927 Track Season

UNDER the excellent coaching of George Philbrook, ex-Notre Dame star, Idaho's track team experienced one of the most successful seasons in recent years. Seven Idaho records of long standing were shattered during the season, and several others nearly equalled. Though dual meets were lost to Montana, Washington State, and the University of Washington, the Vandals proved tough competition in every meet. W.S.C. took her dual meet from Idaho by one point, 66-65, while the mile relay decided the winner of the Washington meet, which ended 69½ to 61½ in favor of the Huskies. In the sectional and all-conference meets Idaho standard-bearers placed well in the stiff competition which featured the Pacific Coast track this past year.

COACH
GEO. PHILBROOK

A large squad of cinder path aspirants started training in Lewis Court early in the spring, and moved out of doors as soon as weather permitted. Cleaver and Mathews, besides running in the cross country events, represented Idaho in the one and two-mile runs. Gehrke, Aschenbrenner, Guernsey and Hjort were entered in the half-mile runs, with Klinger and Campbell running the 440. In the sprints Perrins, Cook, and Davidson were making fast time, though the former was forced out of the competition from swollen muscles. Pagoaga, Chaney and Yribar did the pole-vaulting, and Kyle, O'Brien, Pickett and Briscoe handled the high jump. Idaho was represented in the hurdles by Thompson and Mitchell, and in the broad jump by Norman, Briscoe, Cook, Pagoaga and Thompson.

FOUR OF THE RECORD BREAKERS

Pickett, Collins, Harris, Hutchinson and Diehl gave the Vandals numerous counters in the field events. The squad was somewhat stronger in field events and in the distance runs than in the sprints. Five long-standing records were broken in these departments by very respectable margins.

Of the seven Idaho records broken, the oldest one to fall was the mile run made nearly a quarter century ago by Hec Edmundson in 4:32. Cleaver ran the distance in 4:31 against Washington. He also set a new record for the two-mile, when he completed it in 9:32. Mitchell now is the record-holder in the 120-yard hurdles, with the time of 15.5, 3-10ths better than the old mark. Thompson broke a 20-year-old mark when he ran the 220-yard hurdles in 24.6, and Pickett broke his own record when he heaved the discus a distance of 142 ft. 2 ins. He also established a new record in the high jump with 5 ft. 11 ins. The old mark, 5 ft. 10 ins., had stood since 1911. Pagoaga cleared the bar in the pole vault at 12 ft. 1 inch to break the seventh record in track.

The shattering of these records and the all-around splendid performance of the Vandal cinder men are largely due to the fine condition the men were kept in by their trainer, Captain Will Bryan, who will handle the 1928 track team.

JUNE 4-5, 1927

THE PICK of Idaho's cinder men were entered in the Coast Conference championship meet at Los Angeles, June 4-5, competing against some 300 athletes, representing twenty schools and colleges of the Pacific Coast. Though but four Vandals competed in the big meet, Idaho won sixth place. Don Cleaver capped his most successful year on the cinder path by winning the gruelling two-mile run in the fast time of 9 minutes 34 4-5 seconds. Running the best race of his career, Cleaver defeated Gillette, of Montana, national and Devine, of College, with a most the tape. Mitchell in the 120-yard high Thompson finished low hurdles.

A second meet with the Cougar Babes was lost by a much closer score at Moscow, May 27, when the Vandal yearling cinder men netted a total of 50 points to Pullman's 80. Track numerals were awarded at the close of a very brief season to Thornhill, Macan, Thomas, Griffith, Stowell, Nieman, Crawford, Pierson and Kershnik.

THE TURKEY RUNNERS

Intramural Cross Country

WINNING three out of ten possible places, the marathon runners representing Tau Mem Aleph, the town men's organization, took the silver loving cup and numerous turkeys in the first annual intramural cross country run October 29. Unexpected enthusiasm was shown over the event, teams being entered by almost every group house or hall on the campus. The silver loving cup was donated by Captain Will Bryan, and the turkeys by the A.S.U.I. Tau Kappa Iota, Phi Gamma Delta and Lindley Hall tied for second place with two men each, with the result that Sigma Chi took fifth with but one entrant finishing in the first ten.

Chisholm, running for Lindley Hall, finished the mile and two-thirds stretch in first place. As the course was hilly, his time of 9:35 was very good. Platt, T.M.A., followed 100 yards behind him for second place. Long of T.K.I. finished third, closely pressed by Stowell, Phi Gamma Delta. Fifth place went to T.K.I. when Jennings came in but 50 yards behind Stowell. DuSault gave Sigma Chi her lone count when he finished sixth in the race. Raide, Lindley Hall, beat Ingle of T.M.A. by inches for seventh place, and Wicks, T.M.A., finished about 60 yards ahead of Coonrod of Phi Gamma Delta for ninth and tenth positions respectively.

Only two awards were given to Varsity cross country men at the end of their season. Don Cleaver and Art Mathews, both lettermen in this sport as well as in track, received the hard-earned "I" sweaters with the brown striped sleeve, indicative of victories in the grueling cross country.

May 11	Washington State vs. Idaho at Moscow
May 12	Idaho vs. Washington State at Pullman
May 18-19	Whitman College vs. Idaho at Moscow

COACH
DAVE MAC MILLAN

WITH the first appearance of spring in 1927, some ten lettermen, together with a host of likely material from the season before, and from the 1926 Freshman club, began warming up for the baseball campaign. With a letterman for every position on the nine, and a wealth of new material, indications pointed towards a successful season. Under the coaching of MacMillan, assisted by Chas. Erb, the candidates put in long hours of fielding and batting practice and occasional practice games. The rainy spring weather handicapped the team and the coaches, as it was frequently impossible to hold any kind of practice.

For his battery men, Mac had the veteran "Lief" Erickson and Gene Stockdale from last year's crew, and Lawrence, Grabner and Lindsey from the '26 Frosh. Of these five, Erickson and Grabner were port-siders, giving the Vandals a well-balanced staff of moundsmen. "Red" Sullivan and "Pat" Howerton, two veteran backstops, were back to alternate behind the mask. For the one infield hole, Mac had "Shorty" Cheyne, who had played stellar ball at short on the yearling team. The rest of the infield and the three outfield berths were held down by experienced lettermen.

The black-ringed sweaters were awarded at the end of the season to Sullivan and Howerton, catchers; Erickson and Lawrence, pitchers; George Greene, first base; "Polly" Lehrbas, second base; Carl Murray, third base; "Shorty" Cheyne, shortstop; Horland Simmons, left field; John Baird, center field, and Harold Ficke, right field.

The season opened officially, if not auspiciously, with the Vandals being rudely upset by the College of Idaho club 10 to 6. "Whitey" Lawrence, making his debut as a Varsity hurler, got off to a shaky start, and was touched up for two runs in the first inning and three more in the second. Infield errors were responsible for three of these tallies. Lawrence was taken out in the seventh, after holding the Coyotes scoreless for four innings. Stockdale, who relieved him, was greeted lustily with a succession of blows that counted for five runs.

The Vandal batsmen fared well enough off the offerings of the Caldwell hurlers. They matched the Coyote hitters run for run until the seventh frame, but were unable to overcome the big lead the latter gained off Stockdale in a seventh inning batting rally. Idaho had men on bases each inning, but could count for no more than six runs to the Coyotes' ten. Greene, Baird, Lehrbas and Cheyne led the attack on the C. of I. hurlers.

The Whitman Series

THE FIRST TWO GAMES against the Missionaries were at Walla Walla, the home club taking both. In the opener the Vandals battled on even terms for ten innings in a game that was almost called on account of darkness. "Scoop" Karlson, Whitman captain, lifted a fast one over the center fielder's head in the eleventh inning, driving in two runs to take the game 11-9. The game was loosely played, Whitman making seven errors and Idaho nine. The second game went to Whitman by the score of 10-3. Though the count was more one-sided than the day before, it was a much better played game than the first.

The first game at Moscow, on May 18, also went nine innings to a tie score of nine-all. The tenth inning was scoreless, but the Missionaries shoved across the winning run in the eleventh frame to take the game 10 to 9. Lawrence, Grabner and Greene were on the mound for Idaho at successive stages of the game. Each pitched good ball for an inning or two, but were unable to keep the pace long enough to prevent runs. Sullivan caught the whole game.

The second game was a free-hitting contest, the Missionaries again taking the measure of the Vandal club, 10 to 3. Stockdale started on the mound for Idaho, but was relieved in the fourth inning, after three runs had been scored by Whitman. Erickson was in until the sixth, and Greene finished the game. Idaho scored her three runs in the fifth inning, but was unable to get a man around the bases after that frame.

The Montana Series

THE VANDALS took the first game at Missoula by the count of 4-3 in a real old-fashioned ball game. The Grizzlies came within an ace of tying the score in the ninth inning, but their rally was nipped by a splendid bit of playing, when Erickson, covering home plate, took a throw from center field and tagged the runner from third. Idaho scored on an error in the second, and added three more in the sixth on triples by Baird and Murray, a walk and a passed ball. Erickson allowed but four scattered hits, and was given errorless support. Idaho won the second battle 9-6 by clouting Montana hurlers all over the lot. Cheyne started the fireworks in the second with a three-bagger, and Idaho made a total of eleven hits. Presented with a substantial lead Whitey Lawrence chucked great ball for the nine frames, allowing but three dinky hits.

The Vandal ball tossers continued the winning streak at Montana's expense in the next two games at Moscow. The first was a comedy of errors, with Idaho winning out 7 to 4. A high wind bothered the outfielders during the game, and resulted in the misjudging of several flies. In spite of many boots, Idaho turned in some snappy fielding at times.

Erickson won his ball game in the ninth inning of the last encounter when he laid down a perfect bunt to bring in the winning score, 4-3. The game was close throughout and the Vandals had to play real baseball to win. Simmons played a great game in the outfield and scored the winning run from third on Erickson's bunt.

The Washington State Series

AFTER nine innings of baseball Washington State's wrecking crew fell on the Idaho moundsmen in the tenth frame for four runs and the old ball game, 10-6. Erickson pitched good ball up until the last inning, striking out twelve and walking but two. He was touched for four homers, but the Vandals came back and tied the count each time. Greene picked one out of the groove in the seventh and laced it clear into the new gym grounds. Erickson also got a homer. In the fatal tenth a Cougar home run started the rally and then everybody hit.

Idaho evened up the series the next afternoon at Pullman when Lawrence, recruit hurler, tamed the Cougars in their own lair, 7-2. With the score tied at two-all in the eighth, Idaho opened up and drove three Cougar moundsmen to the showers, scoring five runs. Lawrence allowed the heavy hitting Staters but seven blows.

The third meeting, humorously called a ball game, went to W.S.C. by the score of 18 to 12. Homers, triples and doubles rained all over the lot, with the Cougars getting most of them. Ficke of Idaho crashed out two of the longest hits ever recorded on McLean field, and Baird pulled some great circus catches in the outfield. An eight-run rally in the third, aided by Vandal errors, put the last game of the year on ice for W.S.C. Grabner replaced Lawrence in this frame after hits and boots had driven the former off the mound, and he finished the game in good form. His teammates, however, were unable to regain the lead and Pullman took the victory 10 to 5.

Freshman Baseball

THE FROSH club managed to break even in a four-game season, defeating both Lewiston Normal and Endicott High School, but dropping a brace of games to the Washington State College Freshmen. Lack of a regular practice field hindered the progress of the yearling crew. The Varsity used the regular diamond nightly, forcing the Babes to practice on the old fair grounds, which field was in very poor shape.

The Frosh spotted Lewiston Normal to a four-run lead in the first inning but settled down to win the game against the teachers 9-4. Endicott high put up a good brand of ball, holding the Babes at two-all until the seventh. In this canto a blow by Brock drove home three runs and broke up the game. Hamling crashed out a four-base swat for the Frosh in the first inning.

The Cougar Cubs won the first game against Idaho's first year men by knocking a home run with the bases loaded. That was all the scoring W.S.C. did, but it was enough to take the decision, as McMillan made Idaho's lone run, giving the State Frosh a 4 to 1 margin.

The last game on the Frosh schedule went to Pullman by 12 to 1. Judy struck out seven Cougar batsmen, but was hit freely in nearly every inning. Price scored the Babe's sole tally.

Freshmen receiving numeral sweaters for baseball were: Hamling, Judy, Sautter, Brock, Mitchell, Beardsmore, Thornhill, McMillan, Price and Sumpter.

VARSITY WRESTLERS

Wrestling

THOUGH wrestling is considered a minor sport, much interest was manifested in the two matches with the Washington State College grapplers.

With the return of August Miller, former Idaho wrestler and one of the outstanding lightweight amateur wrestlers of the northwest, the Varsity prospects seemed to be very favorable. Arthur Griffin and Kenneth Platt trained for the 138-pound class, Thomas Boardman at 128 pounds, Virgil Eastman at 148 pounds, and Clarence McCall at 178 pounds. The schedule consisted of two meets with W.S.C. In the first match the Idaho team lost by a score of 39 to 18 at Moscow. The Cougar mat men won three falls and two decisions and Idaho took three decisions. The lone representative in the Freshman class, Pond, 138-pounder, won two decisions from Hoveland of W.S.C. Boardman mastered Kal Hall in the first round and in the following two won decisions to win the match. Sackett, W.S.C., won a fall from Eastman in the 138-pound class. Two decisions were easily won by Miller, Idaho captain. Paul Rudy put up a game battle against Driskell, but was unable to win a decision in his class. Brick McCall fought gamely, but to no avail, against H. Berridge in the heavyweight division. In the return match Idaho went down to defeat before the W.S.C. mat men by a score of 54 to 18, in spite of the fact that Tom Boardman took two decisions from his opponent. Idaho earned her 18 points early in the match, when Boardman made twelve and Gus Miller added six more in the feature bout of the program. Kroll, Idaho, lost two falls to Wenzel. Griffin, Idaho, was thrown twice by Sackett after keeping the Washington Stater on even terms at the starting of each round. McCall, Idaho, lost the last bout to Driskill.

VARSITY TENNIS SQUAD

Tennis

A GREAT DEAL of interest is being shown in tennis this season, despite its being classed a minor sport. This has been due principally to the erection of the new tennis courts north of Ridenbaugh Hall. Construction of these courts was started last summer and they were completed at the start of the present school year. The total playing space consists of four courts of regulation size and are of asphalt construction. The problem of drainage was taken care of so that they are kept dry except in very wet weather. Strong back-stops were made so that all exercise is confined to the courts. Considerable playing was done last fall, and the appearance of spring weather has made the courts a very popular place and a good means for exercise. A schedule has not been made thus far for the coming season, but will probably include matches with Whitman and W.S.C. The Varsity squad will consist of eight men, four of whom will compose a team. Beardslee Merrill, Hayden Carney, Charles Carney, Clifford Coons, Cyprin Taylor, Floyd Albertson, Robert Ailshie and Bill Calloway will make up the Varsity Squad. An all-college tournament is being conducted in order to pick the best players on the campus, and they in turn may challenge any of the Varsity players. If they win two out of three sets they will take the former's place on the team. Due to the interest shown in tennis this year and the good courts on which to practice, it is expected that the Vandal tennis team will make a favorable showing.

Activities

The fever and boom of placer gold made Idaho a state overnight. Towns and roads were built on every side in shorter time than maps and books were bound. Contemporaneously with the mining movements in British Columbia and as a recoil from the Strike of '49, similar occupation of new regions took place. From Missouri, California, Minnesota and from all directions came Abe Lincoln men, Confederates and Independents—for this was just as our Civil War broke out. To one observer, the town of Florence appeared as a camp of a thousand fires burning in the twilight. The area gained recognition and population to justify President Harrison's engrossing the bill which admitted our Territory as the forty-third state in the Union, July 3, 1890. ☺ Admiration is due the plucky prospectors, who, with their burros laden with provisions, picks and pans, followed the gravel bottomed streams. In the summer of 1860, Captain E. D. Pierce made a discovery on Canal Gulch of Oro Fino Creek which started the stampede to our area. Lewiston—our first capital—was founded in June, 1861. The Salmon River mining area was opened up. Elk City, Florence, Warren's diggings symbolize those discoveries whose golden gravel-bars laid secure foundations for Idaho. One pan of pay-dirt from Baboon Gulch yielded $500. Weiser took out $6,600 in one day. In 1862, George Grimes and Moses Splawn opened up the Boise Basin. This find rivalled in richness the most famous California placers. Some $15 m. in gold dust were taken out of there in boots, sacks, boxes and pouches. Precious quartz discoveries followed. Michael Jordan made a find in the future Owyhee County, which built our present Silver City. Between 1870 and 1880, quartz fields were located in Custer County. In 1864, near Bonanza, the Charles Dickens mine was discovered. In 1884, we had the great stampede to the Coeur d'Alenes, the richest lead-silver district in the world. ☺ The endless stream of mineral wealth has enriched the world by $800,000,000. To the Mining Era of Idaho, we owe our rapid obtainance of statehood and the assurance of its development.

GEORGE HORTON

The Graduate Manager

GEORGE HORTON, or "Cap" as he is called by his numerous friends, has been graduate manager of the A.S.U.I. for three years. He is an alumnus of the University of Idaho, appointed by the President of the University, in consultation with the executive board. Mr. Horton graduated from Idaho in the class of 1906. While in college, he was captain of the famous football team that defeated the Universities of Washington and Spokane for the Northwest Championship. He won honors and awards in baseball and track.

Mr. Horton is general manager of all student activities and all departments. He has general control of athletics, publications, debate, music, dramatics and inter-collegiate competition in stock judging, the six major departments of the student body, and works with the student managers of these activities, who are responsible to him. He has charge of all the A.S.U.I. property and funds and is responsible directly to the executive board. At the beginning of each semester the graduate manager and his assistants compile an A.S.U.I. budget to submit to the board for its approval.

Besides his duties as general manager of the A.S.U.I., Mr. Horton is secretary-treasurer of the Memorial Building Association. The latter association just now is helping to build on the Idaho campus a Memorial Gymnasium costing $300,000.00.

These activities give only a brief summary of the many and varied duties of this popular Idaho alumnus, admired by the students for his untiring service and helpfulness as regards all A.S.U.I. interests.

Associated Student Body

THE TWENTY-TWO HUNDRED students of the University of Idaho are organized into an association for the promotion of all collegiate and intercollegiate activities. Every person enrolled in the University who has paid the regular association dues is a member. The body fosters and encourages debate, music, publications, dramatics, and athletics. Great interest is manifested by everyone in the new Memorial Gymnasium, now under construction. The Alumni Association, the American Legion, and the students of the University have contributed to the fund for this building, which is so badly needed. One of the things of which the association is most proud is the decidedly democratic spirit which exists upon the Idaho campus. It is one of the few Universities of any size, if not the only one, where student greets student with a friendly "Hello," whether or not they are formally acquainted. This is a tradition sacred to the spirit of loyal Idahoans.

The Association has had a remarkably successful year for 1927-1928. The activities have been splendid, and a laudable spirit has been manifested in supporting all Association affairs. The officers for this year are: Frank Click, President; George Yost, Vice-President; and Josephine Brossard, Secretary. Frank Click has made a very capable President. He was formerly a member of the executive board, and is also a member of Scabbard and Blade, and Blue Key. George Yost has done some very efficient work as Vice-President. He is an outstanding figure on the campus, having been president of the Junior class, a member of Blue Key, as well as other honoraries, and a capable chairman on a number of student committees. Josephine Brossard has proved herself a competent officer as Secretary. Josephine is well-known among all Idaho students as an active worker, and is a splendid student. The officers are to be commended for the efficient way in which they have guided the A.S.U.I. through the year.

DEAN CRAWFORD
Faculty Adviser

The Executive Board

THE EXECUTIVE BOARD represents the students' association of the University. It examines all accounts submitted to it by the graduate manager and student managers, has charge of A.S.U.I. property, and controls all A.S.U.I. organizations, including publications. It appoints the student managers, levies student assessments, and grants all insignia.

The Executive Board is composed of the three officers of the student body: Frank Click, President, who acts as Chairman of the Board; George Yost, Vice-President, and Josephine Brossard, Secretary. There are six elected members: Murtha Cline and George Paulson, Senior men; Lucile Eaton, Senior woman; Alice Waldrop, Junior woman, and Alden Tall and Leonard Harmon, Junior men. Dean Arnold is Junior man for the second semester in the place of Leonard Harmon. Besides these regular members of the Board, there are three ex-officio members without vote: Mildred Perry, President of the Associated Women; Horace Porter, Cheer Leader, and Burton Moore, Argonaut editor. The graduate manager is also a member of the Board. Dean Crawford, faculty advisor for the Board, appointed by the University President from Executive Board recommendations, has filled this post for four years, which expresses his interest in student affairs.

Dramatic Resume

THE CURTAIN slowly rises, lights become dim, and the audience drops into spell-bound silence. A feeling of awe and wonder, as though a dream, passes over our drama-lovers, and in a few short moments life in its many phases and emotions is set forth among gay scenery and artistic costumes.

When looking back over the vast number of plays produced in the short school year, the most potent impression gained is wonderment at the unusually large number of plays which have been so excellently produced by our untiring and inspirational Director, John H. Cushman, who has been very competently aided by Marie Johnson and Mrs. Harry Brenn, both former University of Idaho students, and active in this work while university undergraduates.

When recalling a production, very few of us ever think of the Director, and yet it is he who has the power to make or break a play. Mr. Cushman made his several major productions, among which were Twelfth Night, Good Gracious Annabelle, Not Herbert, and The Butter and Egg Man. Miss Marie Johnson and Mrs. Harry Brenn did excellent work with One-Act plays, of which twenty-four were produced during the school year. Other members of the staff were Clair Gale, manager of the A.S.U.I. dramatics; T. J. Prichard and Mr. Stageberg. Members of the production staff were: Misses Maude Garnett, and Woodworth, and Messrs. Fleming, St. Clair, McGrath, Hubbard, Patchin, Walker, Kershaw and Chapman, all of whom have shown themselves to be very capable in their dramatic endeavors.

Drama has long since worked itself into the life of the student body, and the absence of it would leave an empty space in the school life which no other activity could replace. The true worth and merit of this division of student activities is shown in the type of work it has attempted, and very successfully completed. The types of plays selected for University audiences are to be especially considered. They all have been intense; all have dealt with life in its most dramatic moments, and plays of various types have been selected which have been along the lines of modern drama as well as Greek drama in their intensity. Mr. Cushman, with insight and shrewdness, has selected his plays and his casts so that at all times he has a play which embodies a universal appeal, and these have been presented by casts of talented student actors who have maintained a standard.

“May Day”

“Therefore, like a May month flowereth and flourished in many gardens—”
—Morte d’Arthur.

As in the old days Merrie England paid homage to its sovereign queen, so the Idaho students pay homage to their Alma Mater with votive dances summoned from the past.

The May Day Masque was presented on the University Campus May 19 and began with a ceremonial procession from the University gardens of all the senior girls in classic Grecian robes, carrying a syringa chain. Josephine Keane was May Queen. She was attended by her maid of honor, Norma Geddes, and her page, Margaret Haga. Following the coronation of the May Queen, Mortar Board had its pledging, after which the Senior girls presented “The Program of the Ages.” In this, the various types of dances illustrated the different ages from Ancient Egypt down to the present time. A feature of the program was a Chinese dance by Chang Yu Change, which was taken from the Chinese opera, “Floral Goddess.” Others having major parts in “The Program of the Ages” were: Edith Eklund, who gave an Egyptian dance; a Grecian dance by Ruth Greene was effective, while Georgetta Miller and Olive Eklund in the Grecian Spring dance made a very impressive number, as well as Tess Burke and Maurine Godfrey in “The Minuet.” Songs were sung between dances by the double quartette, composed of Mrs. Russell, Alice Ross, Kate Easter, Josephine Throckmorton, Sam Perrins, Oral Luke, Carl Remington, and Norman Luvaas. Following the singing, Silver Lance had its pledging. George Austin was general chairman of Campus Day, and Ruth White was in charge of the May Day Masque.

"TWELFTH NIGHT IN A LAUNDRY"

Stuntfest—1927

"Twelfth Night in a Laundry," a take-off on Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night," was the prize-winning stunt captured by the Junior class, while the Freshman composition, "Hello, Idaho," won first place among the class songs. The Stunt-Fest, which was given May 20 and 21, may well be remembered as one of the outstanding events in which members of the various classes had an opportunity to show their originality. Both performances were well attended and well received, for the stunts were exceptionally good, making it very hard to decide the winners.

The Sophomore stunt, "Rollo's Bad Dream," was cleverly presented. In the struggle between good English and barbarism, the rules of good usage won out and saved the day. Ballet dancers represented symbols on Dr. George Morey Miller's theme tablet. It was written by Estelle Pickerell and directed by Cameron King.

The Senior stunt was a take-off on the play, "Blue Beard," being an ultra-modern version of that tale transferred to life on the Idaho campus.

"Worsfer Ware" was presented by the class of '30, and was written by Bob Page and directed by Bob Brown.

The Senior Loyalty Song was written by John Taylor. "All Hail to Idaho," the Sophomore song, was cleverly written by Vera Clark and Clair Gale; "On Vandals" was the Junior song, the words and music being written by Florence Oberg and Marjorie Albertson.

Edson Morris was general chairman. Ruth White was chairman of the Senior stunt, Alene Honeywell of the Junior stunt, Estelle Pickerell, Sophomore, and Viola Weidman of the Freshman stunt.

Twelfth Night

Brightly colored settings and rich mediaeval costumes unfolded scene after scene, in the modern version of Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night," given in April, 1927. Professor John H. Cushman directed the production. The play was a compact, rollicking presentation of one of Shakespeare's most pleasing comedies.

John Taylor gave a remarkable characterization of the Falstaffian rogue, Sir Toby Belch. The high comedy part of Malvolio, a difficult characterization, was well done by Beardslee Merrill. Beulah Brown as Viola was a charming heroine. Maitland Hubbard played a rollicking clown and Sir Andrew Aue-cheek, was well mastered by Robert St. Clair. Cameron King as Orsino, the Duke of Illyria, in both make-up and interpretation, gave a romantic touch to the cakes-and-ale comedy. A stately Olivia was played by Lois Russell, and a vivacious Maria was presented by Alene Honeywell. Other characters were enacted by Robert Brown as Sebastian; Arthur Ensign, Antonio; Dean Newhouse, Curio; Burdette Belknap, the sea captain; Clair Gale and Jas. Dunn.

The Light on the Mountains

"The Light on the Mountains" portrayed in drama, dance and song the history of the State from the time of Indian occupation to the present day. It opened with the old Indian prophecy of the coming of the white man. Episode I told of Lewis and Clark, the Bird Woman, Sacajawea, and of their expedition in 1805. David Thompson, the trader, and John Reed, a trapper, as pathfinders, and the missionaries in Idaho were also portrayed in real life.

Episode II brought to mind the discovery of gold, while still another portrayed the famous epic of the Nez Percés in 1877. The finale, "Past and Present," closed with a very effective scene which showed on the distant hilltop the motionless figure of the Indian horseman—"E-dah-ho."

Idaho's historical pageant, with name of Indian origin, was written by Talbot Jennings, and was given June 4, 1927. The cast, which consisted of no less than three hundred persons, some of whom were Nez Perce Indians, was directed by John H. Cushman, while Miss Lillian Wirt of the Physical Education Department had charge of the dances, and David Nyvall, Jr., composed the music for the play. Mr. H. C. Davidson was very efficient in his part as frontiersman who gave the prologue for each scene. Abe Goff did the part of the Indian horseman, while Marie Gauer was selected to characterize the part of the Indian Bird Woman who guides Lewis and Clark during their exploration trip. The part of Merriwether Lewis was taken by

CLARK SACAJAWEA LEWIS

William Guernsey, and that of Clark by Dwight Disney. George Grimes, discoverer of gold in the Boise Basin, was Dean Newhouse; Chief Joseph, James Allen; Walking Thunder, the Indian medicine man, John Taylor. Other members in the cast having speaking parts were Sidney McClellan, Wilfred Coons, Glen Shern, Thomas Aston, Frank Egbers, Beardslee Merrill, Arthur Peavey, the Rev. H. H. Mitchell, Robert St. Clair, Burdette Belknap, Maitland Hubbard.

The central organization for the production was composed of Professor John H. Cushman, head of the dramatics department, as director; George Horton, graduate manager, and Talbot Jennings, author. Beardslee Merrill was named general student chairman and Leroy Long was chairman of the committee on costumes and properties. Others assisting were George Yost, Herbert Wunderlich, Clair Gale, Dan Warren, Josephine Keane, Hugh Carroll, Wellington Pierce, Hal Bowen, and Cameron King.

The original music, as written by David Nyvall, Jr., was an added feature. Mr. Nyvall has caught a martial swing descriptive of the west, of the soldiers, and the Indians. In his overture he pictures great desert wastes, the monotony of the vast expanses of sand and greasewood so typical of the west. In the background is the monotonous and ever-menacing beat of the Indian tom-tom.

ANNOUNCER

The pageant may be classed as a group of one-act plays which are tied together by a central theme.

Good Gracious Annabelle

Elaborate stage settings carrying out the futuristic idea made a spectacular sight for the opening of "Good Gracious Annabelle," the three-act romantic farce-comedy by Clare Kunner. The cast included the best of student talent in dramatics. Alene Honeywell took advantage of her lead and was exceptionally fine as Annabelle, while James Allen, as George Wimbleton, portrayed to perfection a drunken dude. Jean Collette, as the under cook, brought laughs every time she spoke a word; and Frank Egbers as James Ludgate, George Wimbleton's man, made a fitting butler. Beardslee Merrill as John Rawson, a western mine owner of great wealth, also exhibited a unique bit of acting.

Other characters were: James Dunn as Wickham, a house detective; Burdette Belknap as Wilbur

Jennings, a poet; Beulah Brown as Ethel Dean, an artist in distress; Dean Newhouse as Alfred Weatherby, whose father can no longer pay his bills; Louise Lamielle, Gwendolyn Morley, a poor girl at the mercy of her rich parents; Maitland Hubbard, Alec, a page boy; Robert St. Clair as Harry Murchison, whose income is large but uncertain; Arthur Ensign, Wm. Gosling, a lawyer; and Arthur Peavey, Titcomb, a clerk at the St. Swithin.

The cast supported the leading people admirably, and all helped materially to make the play one of the best ever presented here. The plot of the play is centered around Annabelle's lack of money for a period of three months. She was threatened by a process-server as a correspondent, and therefore had to conceal herself, and she and her friends took jobs as servants at a country estate.

Not Herbert

Not for several years has a mystery play been presented by the Dramatic Department, and no play attended with such intense enjoyment as "Not Herbert," a four-act mystery play given February 9 and 10. The exceptionally strong cast, led in the men's roles by Beardslee Merrill, and in the women's cast by Beulah Brown as Ruth Webster, made this production one of the best of the year.

Asplendid comedy is present throughout the entire play. The climax arises from the mystery plot, in which valuable jewelry is missed from the home of a rich New York family. All evidence points toward the guilty one, which the actors formally believe is not Herbert.

Alden, whose fear of the dark is a typical family characteristic, is led into strange and unknown places, due to this great weakness. The characteristic proves fatal to him, whom family friends think a demure poet.

Around Herbert and Tracy Sutton, played by Harold Packer, the mystery plot is almost entirely centered. Mr. Stephen Alden, as the blustering father, was portrayed by Arthur Ensign. Burdette Belknap played Fletcher, the butler and faithful servant of Herbert. James Allen as Fanshaw, the chief of the Fanshaw Detective Agency, played a difficult part. Beulah Brown was Ruth Webster, Herbert's sweetheart; Louise Lamielle, Cynthia; Alene Honeywell, Polly; and Pauline Brown was Herbert's mother, Mrs.

Alden; Violet Spurgeon, Mrs. Blaine; Jim, a policeman, Marion Fleming; Frank Egbers, George, a crook.

Advanced Play Production Class

To the personal inspiration and ability of Mrs. Harry Brenn and Miss Marie Johnson can be given the credit for the exceptional success of the One-Act Plays produced during the school year. This year, more than ever, has stress been given to the production of a great number of plays, which have been enjoyed and enthusiastically received by the Idaho students.

The first group presented by the Dramatic Department was given on November 3 and 4 under the auspices of the Idaho Chapter of A.A.U.W. Miss Johnson presented "The Man Upstairs," which centered around the humorous and tragic incident of an unfortunate man entering the wrong rooms of an apartment house. The cast included Robert Page, Pauline Brown, Ethel Lafferty, Flo Mathewson, Arthur Chapman, and Gladys Barth. The second play presented by Miss Johnson was "Creatures of Impulse," exemplifying the ancient idea of the terrible spell of a grouchy witch. Frank McKeown, Gordon Kershaw, Ryle Lewis, Harry Robb, Carol Feltis, Amne Johnson and Leona Diedericksen were characters in this play.

"The Purple Dream" was directed by Mrs. Harry Brenn. It is a fanciful play of an old maid who has a dream, around which the story revolves. The cast included Lucille Howe, Miriam Howerton, Grace Parsons, Winton Steele, Jess Honeywell, and Gordon Kershaw. "All Gummed Up" was the last of the group of plays. The cast was composed of Dan McGrath, George Justice, Violet Spurgeon, Harold Packer, William Renfrew and Germaine Gimble.

Elementary Play Production Class

Three peppy comedies and one play of a slightly tragic nature comprised the plays given December 8 and 9. The plays were "The Organ," "One Egg," "The Dear Departed," and "The Major and the Manicure." The cast for "The Organ" was: A. Chapman, H. Douglas, S. Miller, R. St. Clair, J. Rawlins, W. Steele, E. Miller, J. Dunn, R. Page, G. Kershaw, D. McGrath, R. Eddy and G. Miller. The characters of the cast for "One Egg" were: D. Warner, G. Brown, L. McKinney and H. Otness. "The Dear Departed" was the third play presented. L. Woodworth, T. Smith, M. Flemming, F. Buckingham and G. Justice comprised the cast. The last of this group was "The Major and the Manicure." J. Sheehan, E. Lafferty, P. Hockaday, E. Pickrell and P. Walker were the characters in this play.

Another group was presented later in the school year. These were "Grandma Pulls the String," "Post Mortems," "Judge Lynch," and "The Kelly Kid." James Allen, Estelle Pickerell, Robert St. Clair, and Arthur Peavey were in the cast for "Post Mortem," while the cast for "Judge Lynch" included Helen Douglas, Germaine Gimble, Winton Steele, Arthur Chapman and Herman Otness.

"The Kelly Kid" cast was composed of Pat Walker, Leona Diedericksen, Jack Sheehan, Beryl Smith, Warren Gochenour, Jean Collette, and Louise McKinney. "Grandma Pulls the String" was the last play and included Pauline Brown, Edith Miller, Jean Rawlins, Beulah Bangs, Louise Lamielle, Dean Newhouse and Dan McGrath in the cast. As a whole, all were well attended and the one-act productions were enjoyed by the students.

One Act Plays

Comedy, pastoral romance, tragi-comedy and mystery marked the unique group of one-act productions given January 19 and 20. The cast for "Dickie Bird" was: Edith Miller, Miriam Howerton, Amne Johnson and Dean Newhouse. A pastoral romance was presented in "Blackberrian." The cast was composed of the Misses Yeo, Collette, Eaton, Barth, and Gimble. The utter futility of trying to overcome environment is the theme of "The Store," a tragi-comedy. Frank McKeown, Lucile Howe, Grace Parsons, James McDevitt, Bud Robb and Pauline Brown were the cast. Mystery, detectives and stolen jewelry were the predominant features of "Pearls." Polly, Beulah Bangs, and Peggy, Mrs. Brenn, are bothered by the possibility of their brother having stolen some pearls. Maitland Hubbard and William Renfrew played the role of Lewes, while George Justice played the part of a self-assured detective.

Black-face comedy struck a new note in campus dramatics March 22 and 23, when "The Melancholy Dame" was presented along with three other one-act plays. A cheap negro cabaret was the scene, which included snappy dancing, verbal warfare and threatened murder. The cast was composed of Ethel Lafferty, Virginia Neal, George Justice, Estelle Pickrell, Arthur Chapman, Louise Lamielle, Pat Walker, Winton Steele, Louise McKinney and Jack Sheehan. Clever lines abounded in "A Cup of Tea." Wilfred Wendall, a poet, portrayed by Harold Packer, is extracted from a romantic tangle with Mrs. Waring, Grace Parsons. The whole affair is settled by the artist's wife, Pauline Hockaday. Jess Honeywell acted as Mr. Waring. Mystery in a shop girls' dormitory is the theme of "Miss Tassey." The cast included Violet Spurgeon, Lillian Woodworth, Amne Johnson and Gladys Barth. "The Killer" was somewhat dramatic in tone and gave opportunity for rapid action and unexpected occurrences. It had a pleasingly happy ending with a villain in handcuffs and the girl in the arms of her lover. The characters were Mac Hardwick, Miriam Howerton, Arthur Ensign and Frank McKeown.

The last group, given late in the spring, was especially enjoyed by the students. This group included four plays, which were: "Gas, Air and Earl," "The Eldest," "The Blue Serge Suit," and "'Twas Ever Thus." Those having character parts in "Gas, Air and Earl" were Violet Spurgeon, Louise Lamielle, Dean Newhouse, Germaine Gimble and Winton Steele. The cast for "The Eldest" included Gladys Barth, Amne Johnson, Robert St. Clair, Marion Fleming, Mac Hardwick and Lillian Woodworth. The cast for "The Blue Serge Suit" included Hazel Simonds, Alfred Buckingham, Arthur Chapman and Robert Page. Louise McKinney, Herman Otness, Arthur Peavey, Helen Douglas and Pat Walker were in "'Twas Ever Thus," the last of the group.

The production of One-Act-Plays has been very successful throughout the school year and they have been well attended, expressing increased popularity.

MUSIC

THE UNIVERSITY is exceptionally fortunate in securing for the position of head of the Music Department Mr. Theodore Kratt, who is a man of wide experience in the field of music, both as a singer and a director. Before coming to Idaho Professor Kratt conducted a studio at Kimball Hall, Chicago. His work in Chicago was richly varied, he being connected for five years with the Chicago Comic Opera Company as leading baritone; conductor of the Chicago Chopin Male Chorus of one hundred and fifty voices; the Chicago Festival Chorus of two hundred voices; the Des Plains Choral Society; as well as director of music in several Illinois High Schools. Mr. Kratt has studied at the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, the Chicago Musical College, Northwestern University and he has also had advanced study with such foremost modern teachers as Fery Lulek, Herbert Witherspoon, Felix Borowski, Edgar Stillman Kelley, Harold Beckett Gibbs and Louis Victor Saar.

Through Mr. Kratt and his assistants, the musical organizations on the campus have accomplished much in the interests of the University.

A great increase in musical activity has been a result of his painstaking efforts. The enrollment in the music courses doubled and the number of music majors is twenty per cent greater than ever before. A new curriculum, including ten new courses, was introduced, thus placing Idaho's music department on a par with those of the leading schools in the country. A degree of Bachelor of Public School Music is now obtainable, in addition to that of Bachelor of Music.

Completing the organization of the music faculty are Miss Agnes Crawford Clark, Professor David Nyvall, piano; Miss Jennie F. W. Johnson, voice; Miss Maude Garnett, public school music; and Professor Carl Claus, instructor in violin. All have done very fine work, each instructor giving a recital during the year, which was well received by large audiences. In addition to his regular work, Mr. Nyvall conducted the famous Idaho Pep Band, an organization unparalleled in its field on the Pacific Coast. Mr. Claus directed an excellent University orchestra during the year, while Miss Garnett was in charge of the State high school music contest last spring.

University Quartet

THE YEAR 1928 brought great progress in the work of the University Quartet. The members were selected soon after the opening of school in the fall, but only after keen competition among the male voices on the campus. The four were: Forest Brigham, first tenor; Oral Luke, second tenor; William Shamberger, first bass, and Norman Luvaas, second bass. Professor Kratt was their director, and his personality and enthusiastic leadership was responsible in a large measure for the progress of the organization.

The Quartet as a whole manifested keen musical intelligence in all their productions, their programs making heavy demands on their tonal and interpretative ability. Their repertoire, which included forty memorized selections, appealed to all lovers of music. Their offerings ranged from the most technical serious numbers to the light and humorous encores. The quality of each man's voice, and their pleasing harmony when singing together, ever captivated their large audiences, whose genuine applause brought them back again and again.

The University Quartet led a strenuous existence from September on, giving numerous programs for local organizations and often appearing at the A.S.U.I. assemblies. They were always an added feature at variety debates and were much sought after by the music followers in surrounding towns. The group entertained radio fans from Station KGA at Spokane, and sang special numbers on the concert tour with the University Glee Club through northern Idaho and Washington.

This year's Quartet merited its recognition as one of the most important musical organizations on the Idaho campus.

Treble Clef Club

THE TREBLE CLEF CLUB made its first appearance during the year at the assembly music program in November and was well received by the student audience. This organization of feminine songsters is composed of sixty voices, selected on a competitive basis, due to the increased interest manifested by the women students.

Professor Kratt, Director, with his unusual skill as an organizer, has done much toward the success of the Women's Glee Club. The members throughout the year have shown fine enthusiasm, due to his excellent conductorship and personality.

The women's organization gave various programs for student assemblies during the year and was instrumental in putting over a successful music week. It participated in an annual joint concert with the Men's Glee Club in the spring, and also broadcasted a delightful program over KGA at Spokane.

Their repertoire included a wide range of selections. Thus they were able to please their listeners not only by the fine quality of their singing but also by their great variety of programs. Goldie Smith was student manager of the Treble Clef Club.

University Glee Club

A NEW interest was shown on the campus in the men's vocal organization, the University Glee Club, under the leadership of Professor Kratt, Director of Music. Sixty male voices comprised this group of singers, and throughout the school year the organization functioned on a large number of programs. They appeared before the student assemblies in concert numbers, sang for many local gatherings, and made a number of trips to nearby towns, and in all performances were heartily welcomed.

The Glee Club made a tour of northern Idaho and eastern Washington from April 29 to May 7, presenting programs in Bonners Ferry, Sandpoint, Kellogg, Wallace, Coeur d'Alene and Spokane. Special numbers by the University Quartet and solo numbers by individual members of the Glee Club gave variety to their programs. An immensely appreciative audience attended a concert given by the combined men's and women's Glee Clubs at the University Auditorium this spring.

Through the work of Professor Kratt, this year's University Glee Club played a much more prominent part in Idaho music circles. In addition to them being very popular with the students and faculty here on the campus, they became one of the best means of publicity that the University could have. James K. Allen handled the business affairs of the organization.

Orchestra

A NEW standard was set for student musical activity at Idaho when the forty-piece University Symphony Orchestra presented its first concert of the year. The Orchestra is the largest in the history of the University, the instruments being unusually well balanced.

The Orchestra, under the conductorship of Professor Carl Claus, presented two concerts during the year in addition to playing on several programs given by the music department and for the weekly assemblies. Miss Isabel Clark and Mrs. Lois Russell were soloists for the concerts.

The programs at all times were so organized as to administer to native as well as to cultivated tastes, and Mr. Claus may well be complimented for the striking evidence of the artistry of his organization in the way it followed the baton, as well as the skill shown in the presentation of the orchestral numbers, which in most cases were very difficult.

The members of the Orchestra were: First violins: Pauline Baker, Helen Rae, Vivian Edmiston, Jean Edmiston, Janet Hawkins, Lucile Howe, Ruth Newhouse, Grace Ellis, Harold Kirklin, Ada Henry and Dorothy Messenger; second violins were Edward Hodgson, Nina Newman, Karleen Morse, Marvelle Fraley,

Lucy Hurley, Mary Williams, Aldon Tall, Asael Tall and Joe Fanzick; violas, Marcella Kraemer, Del Mutch, and Rachel Perrenoud; cellos, Esther Mitchell, H. A. Howe, Blake Sargent, Caryl Thompson; basses, Leigh Gittins, John Sandmeyer and Orville Howe; flutes, G. D. Hodge; horns, Paul Dumvill, C. McConnell and Clarence Bell; the trumpets, Arthur Kryger, Lowell Howe and Floyd Suter; trombone, Gilbert Burns; piano, D. Whitenack; tympani, W. Hawkins.

Idaho Pep Band

THE IDAHO PEP BAND enjoyed the most successful year since its organization on the University campus. Under the leadership of Mr. David Nyvall, Jr., the band provided a varied program, consisting of popular and classical numbers. The Pep band accompanied the football team to Portland last fall and it received much commendation through Pacific coast journals for the concerts presented in that city. In addition to this, the organization has done its part to carry out the Idaho spirit by playing at all athletic contests. The band gave its annual concert in the University Auditorium on April 3, the Director's last appearance with his organization. Mr. Nyvall has been the leader of the Pep Band for four years and is largely responsible for its success. The program was opened with music composed by Professor Nyvall for the pageant, "Light on the Mountains" and this was followed by "Shadows," a revue of former Pep Band shows. The third part of this program consisted of a novelty skit entitled "The Village Band," which brought down the house. Stirring marches and songs of Idaho ended the concert.

Gene Beebe, student manager, and Samuel Hutchings, student leader of the Pep Band, deserve much credit for their sincere work. The members of the band are: G. Beebe, S. Hutchings, T. McGonigle, H. Gittens, J. Pearson, A. Kryger, H. Walden, C.

State High School Music Contest

THE STATE HIGH SCHOOL MUSIC CONTEST, which was held on the University Campus May 2 to 7, 1927, proved to be a very successful as well as inspirational week. The program, which was arranged by Miss Maude Garnett of the University Music Department and Mrs. Bertrum Marten, working in behalf of the Moscow Music Club, commenced Sunday. On Monday the preliminaries for the State High School Music contestants took place, the finals being the following day. The winners, of which there were six, gave a delightful concert in the evening in the University Auditorium. They were assisted by the University Orchestra, String Quartet and Glee Clubs.

Fifty-three high school students competed in the state contest, at which Dean Kimbrouk of the Music Department of Washington State College, Professor Havlick and Professor Nasmygh, also of Washington State College, acted as judges. A scholarship of sixty dollars, which entitled the winner to one year's instruction in music at the University, was the first prize, the second prize being a silver medal and the third prize a bronze medal.

The winners receiving first prize were: Soprano, Thelma Lee, Lewiston; baritone, Kendrick Hawkes, Preston; piano, Marguerite McMahon, Nampa; tenor, Burnis Brigham, Moscow; violin, York Kildea, Coeur d'Alene; contralto, Agnes Ramstedt, Moscow.

The contest was a decided success from the standpoint of the number of entrants and the class of talent displayed. Twenty-one high schools scattered throughout Idaho represented the best of junior artists in the State.

The Reserve Officers Training Corps

THE RESERVE OFFICERS TRAINING CORPS at the University of Idaho for two consecutive years has been placed in the honor class with distinguished rating among the units of the United States. This is an achievement that less than half a hundred units in the country can boast. Only five units in the West were accorded this honor last year following official inspection by war department officers. As a result of its rating a percentage of the graduates from advanced courses at Idaho are entitled to enter the regular army as second lieutenants without examination other than tests for physical fitness.

Training, which carries the student through all the phases of military instruction, is not intended to prepare the cadets for war, as pacifistically inclined critics are arguing. On the contrary, it is equipping them for peace. It is well known among military men that "preparedness for war is the best insurance for peace." It is held that the man well acquainted with the cost of war will bend every effort to prevent it. And for this reason the Reserve Officers Training Corps is doing a monumental work in the direction of peace.

Whatever honor has fallen to the Corps at Idaho is due to the untiring efforts of Col. Edward R. Chrisman, Commandant, and his staff of commissioned and non-commissioned officers. These are: Major Francis R. Fuller, executive officer; Captain R. B. Crenshaw, Lieut. Charles H. Hart, Jr., Sergeant Frank L. Barnum and Sergeant Lonie Woods.

DANCING CLASS

Women's Activities

LARGER turn-outs for sports than in any previous year shows the rapid advancement that the Physical Education Department for Women is making. The increased interest in woman's athletics has made the Woman's Athletic Association one of the most active organizations on the campus. The group has increased in membership from 66 to 89 members the past year. Much of the success and interest in this work is due to the assistance of Miss Lillian Wirt, who is coach of all athletics except rifle, and who is W.A.A. advisor.

The aim of woman's athletics is to develop as many girls as possible through various sports and activities in such a way that they will benefit by their training in after-college life. For this reason only inter-class tournaments are carried on in all the sports except co-ed rifle activity. In addition to the concession which W.A.A. has to sell food at all University games, the second annual dance festival was given this year. The dances which were presented in the program, Taps and Terpsichore, were selected from the dancing and gym classes, with a large group of girls participating. The proceeds of this program were placed in the treasury as an addition to a newly-created fund. This fund has been started for the purpose of building a cabin on Moscow mountain which will be used as a goal for hikers and over-night trips. The committee chairmen were: J. Little, general chairman; D. Neal, costumes; M. Kraemer, business; V.

WIRT

Cornell, head usher; N. Brown, publicity; L. Woodworth, staging and lighting; and M. Ward, make-up.

SENIOR CHAMPIONS

Volleyball

DURING the third week of school the volleyball call was issued by Genevieve Budrow, manager, and was answered by a larger number of girls than during any other year. Practices were held in Lewis Court four days of each week.

Competition for teams was so keen that a new system for picking them was devised. Each girl was watched and the number of correct plays, errors, and the times that she handled the ball were recorded. The six girls in each class with the highest scores were given places on first teams, the next six in each class made second teams, and two substitutes were picked from each class. One hundred points were awarded to first team members, fifty to second teams, and twenty-five to substitutes.

The tournament, which was played during the week before the Thanksgiving vacation, was won by the Senior team. This team has held the championship for two years in succession. Members were: Avish Bowdish, Mildred Williams, Eleanor Beamer, Delilah Budrow, Edith Houston, Barbara Rugg, Leah Tuttle, and Carrel Carter.

In the second team tournament the Juniors were victorious, winning every game played.

During volleyball season many girls were earning points for hiking. Fifty points are given for sixty miles hiked during a semester. Each hike must be at least three miles long and must be reported within three days. A map hanging near the W.A.A. bulletin board shows distances and routes which may be taken. Hiking is an all-year sport, and many girls completed their sixty miles in the snow, while others hiked in the spring.

Basketball

THE large turnout for basketball showed the game to be the most popular of all women's sports. Practices began the week after Thanksgiving vacation and were held twice each week until the first of February, when first and second teams were chosen. Such a large number of Freshmen girls turned out that two second teams were picked from this class.

The tournament, which was played during the first week of the second semester, was won by the Sophomores. The Freshman team came second and the Seniors third. Members of the Sophomore team were: Dorothy Neal, Margaret Scilley, Jessie Little, Bernice Parish, LaReta Beeson, and Virginia Peck. Margie Green, W.A.A. basketball manager, had charge of the tournament.

Idaho entered the World Free Throw Tournament and made a very good showing. The Senior team, which included girls over twenty-one years old, placed fourth, while the intermediate team took seventh place. Each girl was allowed sixty shots, and the five who made the highest scores received fifty points and their ratings were sent to headquarters at Charleston, South Carolina. Members of the Senior team were: Margie Green, Barbara Rugg, LaReta Beeson, Delilah Budrow, and Virginia Cornell. Those scoring in the intermediate section were: Maxine Fagerstedt, Georgia Hall, Margaret Fowler, Lillian Woodworth, and Helen Huntley.

Swimming practices began as soon as basketball season closed, and an inter-class tournament was held March 18. Those who took first places received thirty-five points, second places twenty-five points, and third places fifteen points. The three with the largest number of points were Opal Garret, Lillian Woodworth, and Alta Tupper.

FRESHMAN CHAMPIONS

Baseball

DURING April and May the campus lawn was the scene for busy women practicing baseball four days of each week. The 1927 championship was won by the Freshman team after an enthusiastic tournament. Members of this team were: Mildred Hausen, Dorothy Fredrickson, LaReta Beeson, Florence Skinner, Mildred Axtell, Lillian Woodworth, Dorothy Perkins, Jane Reid, Helen Kerr, and Lillian Hejtmanek. Dorothy Sage, Marylou Craven, and Dorothy Neal were substitutes. The games were played on a diamond on the lawn at the side of the Administration building, and a twelve-inch indoor ball was used.

The tennis season comes during baseball season, but as group practices were not necessary, many girls were able to turn out for both sports. A challenge board was put up and any girl might play the girl whose name came above hers on the board. After two weeks the four girls in each class who were at the head of the challenge board played in the inter-class tournament and received one hundred points. The Freshman team, which was composed of LaReta Beeson, Edith Bradshaw, Jane Reid, and Lillian Woodworth, won the championship. LaReta Beeson, who was the only undefeated player, received the tennis cup which is awarded each year to the girl who wins the largest number of games.

The 1928 tournament had not been played at the printing of this book, but it will be conducted in much the same manner. Zola Geddes is tennis manager this spring.

The last sport in the spring, and also the newest, is horseshoe pitching. Last year Dorothy Tolleth, Margie Green, Norma Geddes, Thelma Lincoln, and Eleanor Beamer received points for the tournament which was held at the Alpha Chi Omega house. Practices were held this year on W.A.A. courts under the direction of Gwendolyn Griffith, manager.

RIFLE TEAM

Rifle

THIS YEAR the woman's rifle team completed its third consecutive season, under the direction of Major F. L. Fuller and Captain B. M. Crenshaw. In November fifty-seven aspirants for marksmanship honors answered the call issued by the rifle manager, Elva Reid. After several weeks' practice the squad was narrowed down to about twenty members.

Scores fired this year were noticeably lower than those of last year, owing to the change of targets. Since the new bullseye is one-tenth of an inch smaller than the one used heretofore, high scores are less frequent.

Two special matches were scheduled. The first was the National Intercollegiate match, conducted by the Dot and Circle organization, which was fired the week of March 24. The second was a match fired at Pullman by seven women and seven men against a like team from Washington State College, on March 31. The terms of the challenge for this match required that the losing team buy the winners a dinner.

The following girls fired the ten highest average scores for the season: Avis Bowdish, Alta Tupper, Elva Reid, Marylou Craven, Elsie Warm, LaReta Beeson, Bee Bangs, Lillian Woodworth, Opal Garret, Helen Dalton.

Scores in matches fired this year were as follows:

"I" WOMEN

Women's "I" Club

THE WOMEN'S "I" CLUB was organized March 28 by twelve enthusiastic charter members. This is the first year that more than four girls with "I" sweaters have been on the campus at a time, but since the number of points required for a sweater has been reduced from a thousand to eight hundred, more girls have been able to receive this distinction. Long and faithful effort is necessary to earn the sweater, and practically all sports must be participated in before the total number of points is awarded.

Margie Green was elected president, LaReta Beeson vice-president, Lillian Woodworth secretary, and Alta Tupper treasurer of the new organization, and definite plans were formulated for a program for next year.

Two projects are to be sponsored by the Women's "I" Club. The first is to arouse interest in sports by organizing a program similar to the "Big Sister" movement. Athletic advisors will be appointed for each Freshman girl, and they will show her how she can earn points for a sweater and take part in various sports. The other main project is the working out of some definite point system for high schools in the State. This will interest girls in sports and in W.A.A. even before they enter the University.

About six more girls will be able to earn their sweaters after baseball and tennis seasons, so that the total membership before the end of the year will be about seventeen. This organization will form a sort of nucleus to W.A.A. and will be able to take up problems which would be unwieldy.

Members are: Margie Green, LaReta Beeson, Lillian Woodworth, Alta Tupper, Barbara Rugg, Edith Houston, Norma Geddes, Marguerite Ames Elva Reid, Thelma Smith, Avis Bowdish, and Eleanor Beamer.

Debate

HERBERT WUNLERLICH	- - - - -	Manager and Freshman Coach
INA McMURRAY	- - - - -	Women's Manager

MUCH favorable recognition was given Idaho debate teams this past year, not only in the Northwest, but throughout the country. Facing a heavy schedule with strong teams, Idaho's debaters made a record that a much larger school might envy.

The high points of this successful debate season were the winning of the International Trophy in the triangular debate with British Columbia and Montana, and the choice of the Idaho-Marquette debate as one of the six nationally selected to be represented in the University Debater's Handbook. This last distinction was shared by no other western team.

Even more significant is the increasing interest and appreciation shown in forensics on the Idaho campus. The students were brought to realize that debate can be made interesting, and the turnouts for many of the debates augurs well for the future.

The outlook for next year's men's team is especially promising, as all of this year's participants will return, with the exception of Herbert Wunderlich and Farnsworth Jennings. Several unusually capable Freshmen will be available to replace these men graduating. Both Women and Freshmen debates occupied a more important position than before, and the results were so encouraging that they promise to expand a great deal more in the coming year.

It is indicative of the direction of Coach H. Carter Davidson that the team has been largely developed from inexperienced material. Sufficient credit can hardly be given him for the many hours he has so liberally given. Much of the improvement in Idaho's forensics must be ascribed to his skillful and thorough leadership. The team members also found Professor Frederick Moreau of the Law School ever ready to aid and advise them in preparation of their cases.

Marquette Debate

THE MARQUETTE UNIVERSITY'S Negative Team, composed of Herman Geske, Major Younce and Mark Sable, met an Idaho affirmative team composed of George Huber, Ralph Peterson and Farnsworth Jennings, March 26 on the question: "RESOLVED, That the Power of the Press Has Increased, Is Increasing, and Should Be Diminished." The press question, while new in the Northwest, has received much attention in debating circles, and was of great interest. The 3-0 decision in favor of Marquette did not indicate the real character of the debate. Though Marquette was undoubtedly the stronger team, the contest was close throughout.

The excellence of the constructive speeches for both sides is manifest in that the debate was chosen by the editors of the Debater's Handbook as one of the best of the year.

Both the Marquette and the Idaho speakers excelled in banter and repartee, and furnished many laughs for the audience. Neither team, however, sacrificed logic in argument for humor, and the debate was as instructive as it was entertaining.

Varsity Debates

QUESTION: Resolved, That the United States should cease to protect by armed intervention investors and investments in foreign countries, except after declaration of war.

Utah Aggies — Idaho

Something new in the way of debating was presented at Moscow on February 23, when an Idaho speaker, Dean Newhouse, debated for the affirmative with a Utah Aggie speaker. George Huber, Idaho, with the second Utah speaker, defended the negative side. The almost extemporaneous speeches were excellent. The debate was a non-decision affair.

Weber College — Idaho

Herbert Wunderlich and John Ewing met a traveling debate team from Weber College, Utah, on March 21 in a non-decision debate. The affirmative case by Idaho and the negative by Weber College were both well developed.

QUESTION: Resolved, That the United States policy of armed intervention in Nicaragua is unjustifiable.

Washington — Oregon — Idaho

TRIANGULAR DEBATE

The final debates of the year were with the Universities of Oregon and Washington on March 29. Though both Idaho teams were defeated, they did very well in keeping up the high standard of this year's debating. The Idaho affirmative men who met Oregon at Moscow were John Ewing and Walter Dean, and the negative team which debated at Seattle consisted of Dean Newhouse and Walter Slaughter.

TRIANGULAR DEBATE

On November 30 an Idaho negative debate team consisting of George Huber and Farnsworth Jennings defeated British Columbia at Vancouver by a 3-0 decision. The same evening Dean Newhouse and Herbert Wunderlich defeated a Montana negative team at Moscow by a similar score. The International Trophy was awarded the winning Idaho teams.

DUAL DEBATE

Walter Slaughter, Alvin Reading and Ralph Peterson, an Idaho negative team, won from W.S.C. at Pullman the afternoon of December 15. The same evening, at Moscow, Washington evened the score by defeating the Idaho affirmative men, Walter Dean, Loren Hughes and John Ewing. All of the teams presented very creditable cases.

Redlands—Idaho

DUAL DEBATE

On March 26 the investment question was debated before the Spokane Chamber of Commerce by an Idaho affirmative team composed of Herbert Wunderlich and John Ewing, and the strong Redlands team. The latter won by an audience decision, but according to reports the teams were quite evenly matched and the debate was well prepared.

DUAL DEBATE

The first co-ed debates of the year were with W.S.C. December 9. Helen Hunter, Mary Galloway and Josephine Brossard, negative team, debated at Pullman. The affirmative speakers, Dorothy Kienholz, Pauline Brown and Alice Waldrop, debated at Moscow. Both Idaho teams won decisions.

Whitman — Idaho

February 15, Helen Hunter and Josephine Brossard met an affirmative team from Whitman College. The no-decision contest was one of the best of the season.

QUESTION: Resolved, That we are trying to give too many people a college education.

Oregon State College — Idaho

Pauline Brown and Charlotte Smith, negative speakers, were defeated at Corvallis the evening of February 23. The same evening, Mary Galloway and Elsie Warm, affirmative speakers, lost to a Corvallis team here.

Oregon — Washington — Idaho

On April 10, an Idaho negative team, Josephine Brossard and Ina McMurray, met the University of Oregon team at Moscow. April 12, Thelma Melgard and Charlotte Smith, affirmative speakers, met Washington at Seattle. The debate decided the northwest championship.

Freshman Debate

Freshman debate, which was begun only last year, received considerable prominence this season, and proved to be a worthy addition to the forensic program. The showing made by this year's squad certainly warrants an even more extensive schedule for next year. Six men were used on the team, most of whom should prove a real addition to the varisty. The schedule consisted of three dual debates, two of which were with W.S.C. and the other with Gonzaga. A different question was developed for each contest.

The first Freshman debate was with Washington State College on the question: "Resolved, That the Republican party should be returned to power in 1928." December 31, the negative team of Gochenour, Adams and Peterson lost to Pullman, but the affirmative team at Moscow, consisting of O'Leary, Mark and Vincent, was victorious. The question for the Gonzaga debate was: "Resolved, That Mussolini is a benefit to Italy and civilization." The debate was held on February 23, and the negative team of Vincent and Mark was defeated, while the affirmative team at Moscow, composed of Gochenour and Adams, was awarded the decision. The Moscow debate was held in the high school auditorium and won a genuine ovation from students and visitors. The last debate was with W.S.C., May 10, on the question: "Resolved, That the United States should retain a tariff for revenue only."

Intramural Debate

The past school year marked great advancement in the field of intramural forensics. Several potential varsity debaters were revealed who may strengthen the University squad next year. Much interest was shown by the fact that not a single team forfeited a debate during the season. This interest was due largely to the efforts of Coach Davidson and Maurice Nelson, manager. The questions discussed ranged from local campus problems to those of national importance. Two interesting local questions were: "Resolved, That Idaho should have a student book store," and "Resolved, That student government is a failure at the University of Idaho." These questions were well discussed and proved very instructive to participants and the audiences. The following teams debated in the semi-finals: Tau Mem Aleph, represented by George Ross and Orville Baird; Forney Hall, represented by Georgia Hall and Henrietta Paroz, and Beta Theta Pi, represented by James Allen and John Patric. In the finals Tau Mem Aleph won from Forney Hall by a 2-1 decision. The subject was "Resolved, That advertising plays too great a part in our public life."

It is with decided delight that the fortunate co-ed confides to the world at large the glad tidings that she has been bid to the Athletic ball. There is a certain anticipation and excitement about the first all-college formal of the year that is never surpassed. The Athletic ball this year more than satisfied the most exacting co-ed's Cinderella dream, as she whirled about under the bright-colored streamers that floated out from a huge letter "I" in the center of the room.

Against the background of a dark blue eastern sky dotted with twinkling stars, the dancers were silhouetted for a moment, to disappear again into the colorful whirling crowd, only to reappear when the beautifully colored lights playfully singled them out. There was a round, mellow moon, too, with the class numerals on its face, in the midst of bright stars that blinked out the letters "U. of I." Brightly striped Arabian tents and lounges, heaped high with pillows, gave the finishing touch to the charming oriental atmosphere of the scene.

The military atmosphere gives a formal note to the Military Ball which is never to be found at any other social function on our campus. Multi-colored lights cast fantastic shadows over the walls as they played among the whirling dancers and caught the splash of evening dresses and the gleam of metal and shiny leather. The room was effectively hung with banners representing the history of the American flag, from those curious ones of Revolutionary days down to our present Stars and Stripes.

Unique innovations characterized the twenty-sixth annual Junior Prom which defied the age-old superstition against Friday the thirteenth by successfully crowning the year's social season. The decorative scheme was most striking. Immense, colorful, fantastic paintings done in futuristic manner occupied sixteen panels and served as a nucleus, with the orchestra screened behind another. Colored spotlights and illuminated balloons covered the ceiling and shed their multi-colored lights on the best attended all-college formal of the year.

Social Activities

Rush week gone, an epidemic of pledge dances spread over the campus, and each house celebrated the arrival of its prospective new members, with everyone having heaps of fun. Poor pledges—how soon they were to be sadly disillusioned.

The Bury-the-Hatchet dance at the Gym settled once again the ancient war between the Freshmen and Sophomores.

With the coming of new House Mothers and new Patrons, there were a great many delightful teas and receptions in their honor given during the first months of the year.

On October 15, the Ag Bawl was once more the center of attraction, with bales of hay and sheaves of corn scattered about. In one corner a miniature stable gave a realistic touch to the affair and made the dancers in their hick costumes very appropriate people to have around.

The next week-end the co-eds once again assembled in their multi-colored, multi-varied costumes for the Co-ed Prom. Lurking among the crowd of feminine dancers, a few were found who were truly masqueraders, and these unlucky masculine intruders were promptly and forcefully introduced to the hard Gym steps by a crowd of jubilant girls.

There were several Junior Mixers scattered through the year, brought to a climax in the last, a Junior party, on Thursday night of Junior week, after the parade. Then followed the Prom on Friday night, and on Saturday night the Cabaret, which with much hilarity and noise, marked the end of a most successful and colorful Junior week.

On November 19, the annual dance of the Associated Foresters was given in the Gym, which had been transformed into a forest of fir trees for the occasion.

Mortar Board gave several delightful affairs during the year, including a bridge tea and a reception at Home-coming for the alumns. Their matinee dance was as popular as always, and it was truly appropriate, this being Leap Year, that the co-eds were given the long-sought opportunity of thus honoring their secret sorrows or their public joys.

Starting with the Beta barn dance on October 28, a great many novelty dances were given by the various fraternities and sororities throughout the year. On November 5, the A.T.O.'s gave their annual Tin Can dance, and a "rattling" good time was had by all.

The night of December 16 was the inspiration for three other unusual affairs. On that night the S.A.E.'s with much shouting and shooting, celebrated their Forty-Niners' dance. The Gamma Phi Bowery dance was a place of great festivity and wild costuming, while the T.K.E. House on the hill was turned into an Apache den, where much noise and fun was the rule.

On March 31, the Pi Sigs gave their annual April Fool dance, which was as much fun and as surprisingly foolish as always. The Phi Delts had a rather more formal note in their Story Book Ball, which is given only once in four years. The house was transformed into a castle, and the dancers were costumed to represent story book characters.

Many house dances were given throughout the year by the various groups. Before vacation there was a deluge of Christmas dances, and when we were once again back at the old grind, initiation dances became most popular. Then there were a great many beautiful formals, some of them dinner dances, and as the spring approached, a shower of spring informals was the vogue.

Second semester was started off with a bang at the Miners' dance on the first Monday night of the new term, and it was followed by the Associated Engineers' dance on the next week-end. Both of them were well attended and most enjoyable affairs.

Fortunate was the girl whose man wore an "I" sweater, for that and that only entitled her to attend the "I" Club informal on March 3.

Once again the Betas, Phi Delts, and Sigma Chis celebrated the time-honored Miami Triad, and once again it must be listed as one of the most outstanding dances of the University of Idaho season.

Several charming bridge teas were given by various women's organizations on the campus. Mortar Board gave a beautifully appointed party early in the year, as did also the girls belonging to the Home Economics Club. Phi Chi Theta entertained at a lovely bridge tea on February 4, followed by another tea given by the Spurs the next month.

Our social review would not be complete without commenting on the Pre-Med Formal, which this year was given at the Beta House. The Pre-Meds and Pre-Nurses should be complimented on their social ability as well as their scientific knowledge.

Scabbard and Blade, the National Honorary Military Fraternity, gave two very effective dinner dances during the year, and it was indeed an honor to be included in the guest list.

Those who aspire to business as a profession forgot their worries but remembered their girl friends and took them to the Alpha Kappa Psi dance on February 11.

A most enjoyable all-college dance was the one given by the Inter-Collegiate Knights on February 18, at the Blue Bucket.

Spring brought with it two of the enjoyable social functions which are high spots in every underclassman memory book.

The Sophomore Frolic and Freshman Glee were all one could wish for in pep and fun.

Warm Idaho days change the trend of student interests. Moscow Mountain offers an attraction and an inducement for fraternities to schedule picnics on the social calendar. These outings mean a day of enjoyment in the pines.

PI SIGMA RHO

Mary McClintock Upham Scholarship Cup

Several years ago, Mrs. Elizabeth Kidder Lindley offered a silver loving cup to the group of women on the University of Idaho campus, the majority of whose members live in the same house, attaining for a year the highest comparative scholastic average. Pi Beta Phi fraternity won permanent possession of this cup in 1925, having obtained it for the third consecutive year.

To carry on the tradition, the Mary McClintock Upham Scholarship Cup, named for its donor, Mrs. Upham, was presented for the women's organizations in 1926. This was won for the first time by the Pi Sigma Rho Sorority on a 4.914 average. For another year they have maintained their place at the head of the list and are again awarded the trophy, this time with a 4.938 average. The winning group has its name inscribed on the cup each time and keeps it in custody until the next year award is made. If won again by Pi Sigma Rho, the cup will become its permanent award. Hence, keen competition for the trophy this year is manifest.

TAU KAPPA EPSILON

Burton L. French Scholarship Cup

The Burton L. French Scholarship Cup is an award to the group of men on the campus, having a general home for the accommodation of not less than sixty per cent of its membership, which has attained for a year the highest competitive scholarship average. This cup was won for three successive years by the Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity, which thus came into permanent possession of the trophy. Another cup was offered by Mr. French upon the same basis as the first one. This was won in 1923-24 by Sigma Chi, which surpassed Sigma Alpha Epsilon by one-thousandth of one point. The next year it was won by Tau Kappa Iota on an average of 4.612, but the next year the trophy went to Beta Chi on an average of 4.692. This last year Tau Kappa Epsilon recovered the lost cup with an average of 4.657.

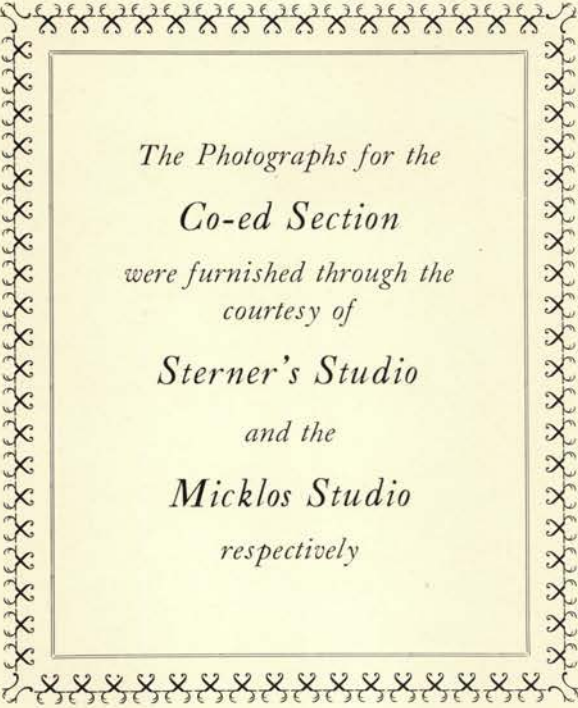

Groups of students eligible to competition for the Burton L. French Cup are such definite groups of men students as fraternities, cooperative societies and other organizations. Each group attaining the highest average scholarship for the year has its name and the year inscribed upon the cup. The cup becomes the permanent possession of the group which wins it for three successive years.

Delta Sigma, local journalistic fraternity, was formed on the Idaho campus in 1926 from what was then known as the Press Club. All members of the fraternity plan to enter the professional field. The fraternity is now working toward petitioning Sigma Delta Chi, national honorary journalistic fraternity. This year the local fraternity entertained on the campus members of the North Idaho Editorial Association at its fall convention. The group is attempting to put itself before newspaper men of Idaho and establish a close relationship with them.

The English Club, though one of the oldest organizations in the University, did not function with a definite purpose until Dr. G. M. Miller became the head of the English Department in 1917. The group since that time has been an important factor in stimulating interest in all branches of English work.

In 1923 it founded The Blue Bucket Magazine, which now is controlled by the A.S.U.I. For the past three years the club has maintained a book shelf of current literature for the use of all university students. It has conducted two art exhibits, and has initiated the movement for the placing of chimes on the University campus.

The English Club has a membership composed of all instructors, majors and minors in the department, as well as students who have distinguished themselves in composition, in journalism, in dramatics, and in debate.

The Graduate Club is an organization of all the students doing graduate work in the University. Its activities make it possible for the members to become more familiar with the study and research which is being done in the Graduate School and affords an opportunity to promote fellowship among graduate students. It was organized in 1926, because the growth of the Graduate School made such an organization necessary in order to bring the graduate students into touch with one another. The graduate students are scattered throughout all the schools and colleges of the University and come in little contact with each other except in this way.

This year, besides the executive committee meetings, there have been several meetings of the whole club. One of these was social in nature, a dinner and social hour given on March 8. At other meetings, the business of the club has been transacted, and various faculty members or other speakers of note have addressed the club on subjects of research character.

The Associated Engineers

OFFICERS

President - - - - -	GUS BJORK
Vice-President - - - - -	JAMES NORELL
Secretary-Treasurer - - - - -	CURRIE TEED

The Associated Engineers is composed of the faculty and all students enrolled in the College of Engineering. Its purpose is to bring about a closer relationship between the different departments of the college and a broader understanding of engineering. This is accomplished by various social activities and the securing of prominent practicing engineers to present technical subjects to the organization.

The Associated Engineers sponsor the biennial engineers' show, which is a complete exhibit of all the Engineering Schools. A banquet is held preceding the Christmas holidays and a smoker the first part of the year. The main social event of the year is the Engineers' Dance. The official magazine of the organization is The Idaho Engineer, published semi-annually.

The Ag Club is composed of students in the College of Agriculture. Its purpose is to further extra-curricular educational activities, to promote various club enterprises, and for social activities.

The Ag Bawl, an all-college dance held in the fall, and the Little International, held in the spring, are the principal events sponsored by this organization through the year. The Little International, fashioned after the large livestock shows at Chicago and Portland, is one of the greatest educational activities that can be sponsored, because it gives the student much which cannot be obtained from books or classrooms. Given in the evening, it terminates the annual Ag Day activities, when all Agricultural students engage in livestock judging and allied activities.

The Ag Club this year was especially fortunate in hearing Dean Iddings' talks on agriculture in the other parts of the world. Dean Iddings, who made a 40,000-mile trip around the world, told of agriculture in Australia, New Zealand, Egypt, and so forth, in interesting talks before the club.

The University of Idaho judging teams, composed of members of the Ag Club, hold an enviable place in competition with teams on the Pacific Coast.

The Home Economics Club was organized for promoting good fellowship among the girls of the department and an interest in Home Economics work. All women in the University who are enrolled in Home Economics are members of the club. The Home Economics Club is affiliated with the American Home Economics Association, and is a member of the Idaho State Federation of Women's Clubs.

The girls have charge of the Co-Ed Prom, the proceeds of which go to maintain a loan scholarship fund open to girls of the department. In the spring an exhibit is given by the club of the work done in the Home Economics Department.

The Bench and Bar Association was first organized in 1912. All students regularly enrolled in the College of Law are members of the Association. The purposes and function of the Bench and Bar Association are to cultivate fellowship among law students; to preserve the traditions of the Law School; to promote scholarship among its members; to encourage a professional attitude toward the study of law, and to develop among its members those ethical standards which will make them most useful as practitioners of law.

The Bench and Bar Association was largely instrumental in securing the adoption of the "Honor System" in the Law School. The Law School was the first school of the University of Idaho to adopt the "Honor System," and the only school that has thus far successfully maintained it. Upon the Bench and Bar Association, in general, and upon each member thereof, in particular, rests the duty and obligation of maintaining and enforcing this fundamental tradition of the Law School.

Pre-Med Club

OFFICERS

President - - - - - RYLE LEWIS
 Secretary-Treasurer - - - - - JAMES LYLE

The Pre-Med Club is composed of all men registered in the Pre-Med curriculum. Its chief aim is to install in the members an interest in subjects allied to the medical profession. This is brought about by having physicians and others interested in science to address the Club on scientific topics of interest. The Pre-Med Formal and picnic, besides the smokers which are held from time to time throughout the year are a few of the outstanding events that help to bind this organization into a better and stronger group.

Idaho Student Chapter of the A.S.C.E., founded in 1852, was installed in 1926. The object of the parent organization is to maintain a contact with the embryo engineers in the more prominent civil engineering schools.

Meetings of the Chapter are held bi-monthly. Talks are given by members on subjects pertaining to the profession, and addresses are made before the organization by men prominent in the field. In this manner members achieve a practical aspect of their future vocation that is unobtainable in any college curriculum.

“I” Club

The “I” Club is composed of all University men who have been officially awarded a letter for participation in intercollegiate athletics, according to the provisions of the Associated Student Body constitution. It was formed as a common meeting ground for all athletes, to aid in keeping Idaho athletics clean, to build up the University’s athletic activity, and to enforce student traditions.

The L.S.A.A. is an organization of all the Lutheran students on the campus. It is the purpose and endeavor of this organization to care for the spiritual and material welfare of the Lutheran students at the University by helping to keep such students with the church, by fostering Christian fellowship, and by affording a means whereby Lutheran students may consider and act upon their common problems in conformity with the common faith of the Lutheran Church of America. It is trying to make possible the Lutheran students' fullest contribution toward the religious life of the campus and toward the work of the Lutheran Church.

The organization meets the first Sunday evening of every month, at which time a program is given. The program consists of musical numbers, humorous selections, and a short Bible study. The message brought at each of these meetings is of sound value and edification to the students.

The College Life of Helen of Troy, Idaho

I

Helen of Troy, Idaho, was ready for the Great Adventure. She was going to College. She had everything she needed—compact, Old Golds, slicker, ukulele. As she stood on the platform waiting for the twice-a-week train that was to carry her to Moscow, Helen felt that she was about to experience Life. Of course, Helen had been to the movies—there was a movie house in Troy that ran every Saturday night, and once Helen had gone to Lewiston—but she had always wanted a taste of College Life. So now she was ready to jump into college with both feet. She would make quite a splash, too, for she wore sixes.

Helen turned for a last look at her folks as the Moscow-Troy Special whistled around the curve.

“Good-by, Helen,” said her mother. “Take keer o’ yourself.”

“Good-by, Muggins,” said her father. “Don’t get none o’ them wild college notions into yer haid. If ye need more’n twelve dollars a month, let me know.”

“Good-by, Maw,” said Helen, chewing her gum desperately to keep back the tears. “Good-by, Paw. Don’t fergit ter feed the pigs.”

The whistle blew. The train started with a jerk, throwing Helen on the floor in a sitting position. Helen waved her U. of I. pennant and shouted. She was on her way to college!

II

A big crowd was at the station to meet Helen, including a good-looking boy who was standing close to her. Helen tried to make an impression on him. She did. She poked her umbrella into his eye.

Then a tall, capable looking girl came up to Helen and told her she was her big sister. Helen thought a big brother would be more to the point, but she walked up to the campus with her, anyway. She held on to her carpet bag, though, for she wasn't going to let none of them co-eds put nothing over on her.

On the way up to the campus Helen was almost run over by Phil Cox's Ford from stopping in the middle of the street to stare at the big buildings and the S.A.E. house. Up to that time she had never seen anything bigger than the service station back at Troy.

When Helen reached her room she found out she had to live with a roommate. She didn't like that, but the only vacant room was up on the third floor where the roof leaked, so Helen stayed where she was.

As it turned out, Helen was very fortunate in her roommate. Her roommate had been to college before, and knew all about it. True, she had flunked out last year and had gone home on the Sob Special, but she knew all about college anyway. She gave Helen the low-down about everything from Siggins to Prof. Barton's psychology course. You couldn't fool her.

III

Registration was quite an event in Helen's career. She thought the signs meant what they said, so she was ready to start at 8:30. But she got tired waiting and fell asleep. When she woke up it was 11:30, so she was fifteen minutes late.

Helen didn't take the English Test because she had decided to register in Dairy Husbandry. She wasn't interested in the dairy part of it, but she was going to do her best to get a husband. They made her take a lot of other stuff, too—mathematics and history and French. She didn't know what good French would do her. You couldn't talk French to a cow, or to a husband, either. Not the kind of husband Helen was going to get, anyway.

They gave her a long piece of paper to fill out. Helen hadn't learned to write in Troy High School, but her roommate said it didn't make any difference. Nobody ever read those things anyway. So Helen just scribbled all over the blank and handed it in.

They made her pay eight dollars and fifty cents to join an association, although her father had told her not to join none o' them society clubs. Helen wrote and told him the eight-fifty was for The Argonaut. She hoped he wouldn't see The Argonaut.

IV

Helen went to her first class the next day. She giggled all through it. Her seat was right in front of the instructor, and she thought he was making eyes at her. The rest of the class laughed, too, but not for the same reason.

Then she went to assembly. A lot of students and Dick King were there. They sang songs and the President of the University made a speech. The President said if they ever had any personal troubles to come and see him. So Helen went to him and told him her laundry hadn't come back yet. He coughed and said he would see what he could do about it.

Helen went to a Freshman Mixer that week, too. But somebody found two Freshmen in the crowd, and the party broke up.

The next Sunday Helen and her roommate went walking. They went past the new gymnasium, which had been started fifteen years before. Progress had been rapid, and already the foundations were dug.

They stopped at The Nest to get something to drink. Helen spent her week's allowance on three coca colas. Then they went up into the arboretum. They didn't meet anyone there except Bus Gorman and Art Simm, who were playing marbles.

V

Helen got a big thrill out of her first football game. She didn't know anything about football, but she had a good time eating peanuts and talking to her roommate. The man next to them said for cripes' sake, shut up, so they moved down to the bottom row, walking over many indignant feet in the process.

By the time the second half started, all their peanuts were gone, so the girls decided to enjoy the game. Soon everyone started yelling.

"What is it?" said Helen. "Did we beat the game?"

"Touchdown!" said the girl next to her. "He kicked the goal, too."

"The silly! Did it hurt his foot?"

"No, you goose! We made a score!"

The home team was walking all over its opponents, who were becoming more and more bedraggled as the game progressed. Helen sat in silent and painstaking thought for a few minutes, then got up and yelled frantically for the losing side. Fully half the spectators looked at her, much as they would at an unbalanced bulldog, so she meekly sat down again.

"Well," she murmured, when her roommate asked her what the big idea was, "I felt sorry for them."

VI

One morning Helen slept through an eight o'clock, so she went to the Infirmary. She was just in the middle of a story in a Cosmopolitan dated March, 1903, when her name was called.

"What is the trouble?" snapped out the nurse.

Helen looked blank. "Trouble? Why, none. I just came for my excuse."

"I mean what is your illness? Cold?"

A sudden light dawned in the remote depths of Helen's consciousness. She was supposed to be sick when she came to the Infirmary!

"Why, yes," she stuttered. "A cold? Yes, it's a cold. Yes, I have a cold. Yes, that's what it is. A cold."

"How long have you had it?"

"Just now. I mean since last night. It came on me sudden—sort of."

"Since last night?"

"Yes. I had a headache. At least I think it was a headache. My head ached, anyway. My stomach hurt me, too. Oh, and I couldn't sleep, either. Yes, I have a pretty bad cold."

Helen went in to the doctor.

"Let me see your symptoms," said the doctor.

"How dare you?" gasped Helen. "I have a cold, sir."

"A cold, eh? Well, fix this young lady an orange cocktail."

"An orange cocktail?" thought Helen. "My, I'll come here often."

The cocktail was brought. Helen drank it greedily, smiled, and gulped suddenly. Her face showed indignation, then severe pain, then utter helplessness. She turned green.

"Orange cocktail!" she muttered.

"Hah! hah!" said the doctor.

"My God!" said Helen.

VII

The day the R.O.T.C. began wearing their uniforms Helen wrote home that war was declared. Paw and Maw had been wanting to see the little girl at college anyway, so they came up to see the President and tell him that if this here war business wasn't stopped they would by gum withdraw their darter from college. The President explained six times very carefully, and then went home and took a big strong dose of bromo-seltzer.

Helen was very glad to see her Paw and Maw. They went to assembly and sat in the back so they could get out early. But some boys with white sweaters made them stay in their seats. Paw asked who they were, and was told they were members of the Ball and Chain Chapter of Knights. Paw was durned if he'd allow his darter to associate with escaped convicts, and he was going to speak to the President about it.

Paw and Maw stayed with Helen that night. They had brought along a tent and camping equipment, for Paw had thought it all out that as long as the University had provided a campus, he would, by gum, camp on it. The tent attracted a good deal of attention from Argonaut reporters and the Kappa Sigs, who didn't have any place to play football.

VIII

Helen's first date was quite an affair. The boys came about eight-thirty, and by a quarter of ten the girls were nearly ready. On the way downstairs Helen tripped on her dress and fell on the floor, from where she gracefully extended her hand to the boys.

Helen's date would have been good-looking if he hadn't been cross-eyed. After fifteen minutes of embarrassed but conscientious conversation, they all four went to the dance. Helen had never danced before, and acted like it. But her partner didn't know a dancing-pump from any other kind, so they got along beautifully.

On the way home Helen felt that she had at last met Love. A mighty Passion was sweeping through her. She felt irresistibly drawn to the man at her side. Something within her clamored for release. Something pressed deep inside her, making her cry out with pain. She was about to go mad with the torture.

Somewhere, deep in the folds of her garments, a safety pin had come loose.

IX

The years passed quickly for Helen. College changed her outlook on life. She would just as soon flunk out as not now. She had become polished, hard, blase, indifferent. She had done many things. She had carved her name on the Senior Table at Elsea's. She had gone to a Co-Ed Prom, but there were too many boys there. She had gone to the Asylum at Orofino with a psychology class, and had to get a writ of habeas corpus to get out again. She had gone to a picnic on Moscow Mountain, and wished she hadn't. She had attended two A.S.U.I. meetings, and had even voted once at an election. But her college days were growing fewer. She knew it, and wept, for she still had five credits of Spanish to make up.

As Helen looked back over her four years of college, she wondered if she had made any mistakes. Of course, there was that sneak date with Herb Wunderlich, but the Dean hadn't caught her. Then, too, she might have paid more attention to her studies. If she could do it again, she would study a lot harder. But, after all, grades weren't everything. Helen's grades weren't much of anything. She might have gone out for activities, too. There was always the W.A.A. and the Cosmopolitan Club. Well, it was nearly over, anyway. It wouldn't be long now.

X

Then came the great day, the day that she had prayed for for four years. Helen almost had to pray five years, but she petitioned and was allowed to graduate. Helen of Troy, Idaho, took her place with Walmsley and Chet Kerr and walked down the aisle. (NOTE.—Walmsley and Chet weren't really graduating; this was a slip of the typewriter.) As the orchestra played "Idaho, Mother of Mine," Helen walked down the aisle and sat in the wrong chair.

The climax of Helen's life was at hand. She was about to face the world. She would never graduate again, and she almost didn't make it this time. If only Miss Olesen didn't check over her records in the next half hour Helen would have her diploma.

The audience was silent as Helen went up to the platform after the speeches to get her diploma. It was still silent as she came back. It was asleep.

But Helen of Troy, Idaho, was oblivious. She took her diploma in both hands. She turned and looked out on the world with lips parted in a half smile, a light of great attainment and ambition in her eyes. She sighed once, then went back to Troy and lived there the rest of her life.

Our Class Government Functions

This particular scene takes place at a Junior mixer held in the Blue Bucket Inn. The time is not specified, as it is not just to favor any open meeting held by any one class officer.

PREXY BERGLUND: "Now, fellow Juniors, if you'll all gather round in a large circle, we'll have a short business meeting. As you know, next week is Junior Week, and my committees have been working hard on the various events. (Business of shifting feet and there is a slight cough as if clearing the throat.) These committees will now tell you what they have accomplished.

"First I'll call on Mr. Ryle Lewis, our efficient chairman of Junior Week. Mr. Lewis!"

LEWIS (in a loud, clear voice, suggesting confidence): "Waal, fellow Juniors, my committee has been working hard for the last month and we have things pretty well lined up for the best Junior Week in history. Everything is all arranged and taken care of. (Afterthought) We have the pick of material."

PREXY: "That's fine. I'm sure the members of the class are pleased to learn all the details of the week and to know that things are lined up. Next we'll call on Mr. Clair Gale, chairman of the cabaret. Mr. Gale!"

GALE: "Fellow Juniors, my committee has been working hard for the last month and we have things pretty well lined up for the best cabaret in history. Everything is all arranged and taken care of."

PREXY: "That's fine, Mr. Gale. (Business of shifting hands from coat to trouser pockets, and there is another slight cough as if clearing the throat.) Next, we will hear the report of Mr. Jack Sheehan, chairman of the Prom. Mr. Sheehan!"

SHEEHAN: "Fellow Juniors, my committee has been working hard for the last month, and we have things pretty well lined up for the best Prom in history. Everything is all arranged and taken care of."

PREXY: "That's fine. We'll now have Mr. Sam Hutchings explain the time, place and events of the Junior parade, of which he is chairman. Mr. Hutchings!"

HUTCHINGS: "Fellow Juniors, my committee has been working hard for the last month and we have things pretty well lined up for the best parade in history. Everything is all arranged and taken care of."

PREXY: "That, fellow Juniors, concludes the reports of the committees. I'm sure (pause for clearing of throat) that you are satisfied with the reports of the committees, now that you know of the events as they will take place on Junior Week. Of course, fellow Juniors, my committee chairmen are retaining a few ideas for last-minute surprises which are always effective in Junior Week programs. (Business of groping for one more thought before closing.)

"Ah, yes! Now, fellow Juniors, we'll close our meeting, as everything has all been arranged and taken care of."

THE story of the University of Idaho is woven into the history of the State and into the lives of its people.

¶ Established in 1889, while Idaho was yet a territory, the University gave living proof of the conviction of those early founders concerning “the stability of a republican form of government depending mainly upon the intelligence of the people * * *.”

¶ So the University was opened, in an uncompleted building in a plowed field; and on horseback and bicycle and by stage coach, as well as by train, the students came.

¶ Ten thousand students have entered the University’s portals since then. She has assembled rich resources of scholarly achievement; she boasts a beautiful campus and valuable equipment. Her alumni and former students now are found in all corners of the commonwealth. Her ministrations, by service to the industries and professions, by non-resident instruction, and by the addition of the Southern Branch at Pocatello, extend throughout the State.

¶ She has gone far to fulfill the vision of one of those same founders that she would become “one of the great universities of the United States.”

The Editor and Manager wish to express

Appreciation

FOR

The spirit and enthusiasm shown by the editorial and managerial staff members while giving their time to the production of the 1928 Gem of the Mountains. The assistance was freely given and consistent from start to finish.

The interest and time given by Charles Dimond, who made the photographs for the scenic section, the title pages, and many other sections throughout the book.

The service given by Fred S. Wiman of the Western Engraving & Colortype Company, Seattle, and his interest in this book.

The enthusiasm manifest by Ralph W. York of the Sams-York Company, of Boise, in printing the annual and the diligent care he took to perfect the work.

The willing cooperation given by Sterner's Studio and the Miklos Studio to deliver student pictures on time.

The services of Mrs. Evelyn Kratt, who drew the division page charcoal drawings and painted the frontispiece, and those of Professor O. C. R. Stageberg, who made the dedication page wood block cut.

The spirit shown by our instructors, who willingly contributed in any way possible to the production of The Gem.

*“O'er the treetops all is at rest,
In wood and valley scarce a breath
stirs through the leaves;
The birds are silent, silent in the forest.
Only wait, only wait, ere long thou too shalt rest.”*

—The Wanderer's Evening Song.
