FROM year to year the Gem of the Mountains incorporates in an enduring form a record of personalities, events and incidents; and these volumes, in future years, will each be accepted as a chapter in the history of the University. But the realities, the factors which cannot be set down upon the printed page—the toil and the play, the silent hours of study, the tears and the triumphs and above all the friendships that have been established—these factors will have etched their indelible imprint upon the scroll of memory and will forever remain, constituting a part of that indefinable something called character. Fortunate are they who, as a result of their experience, learn the worth and truth of these lines:

“Self reverence, self knowledge, self control—
These three alone lead life to sovereign power!
Yet not for power—power of itself would come uncalled for!
But to live by law, acting the law we live by without fear—
Because right is right, to follow right were wisdom
In the scorn of consequences.”

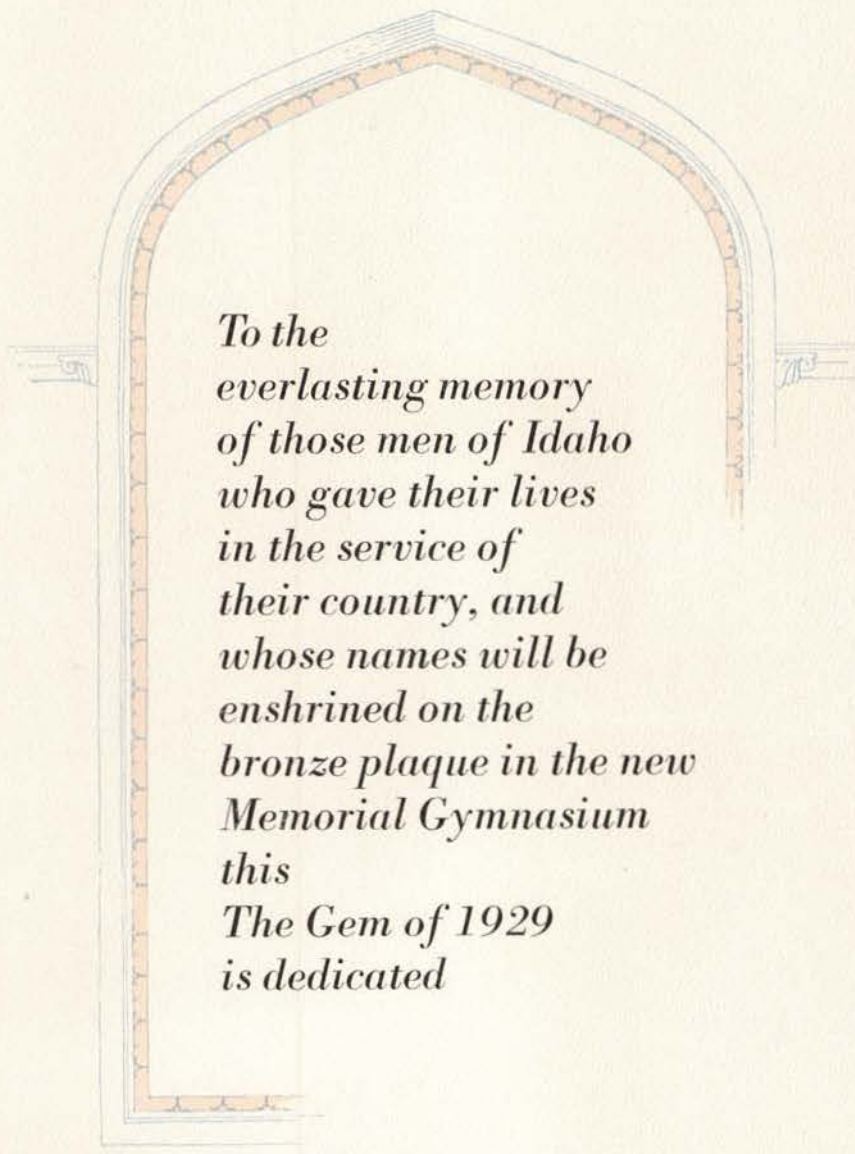

H. C. Baldridge

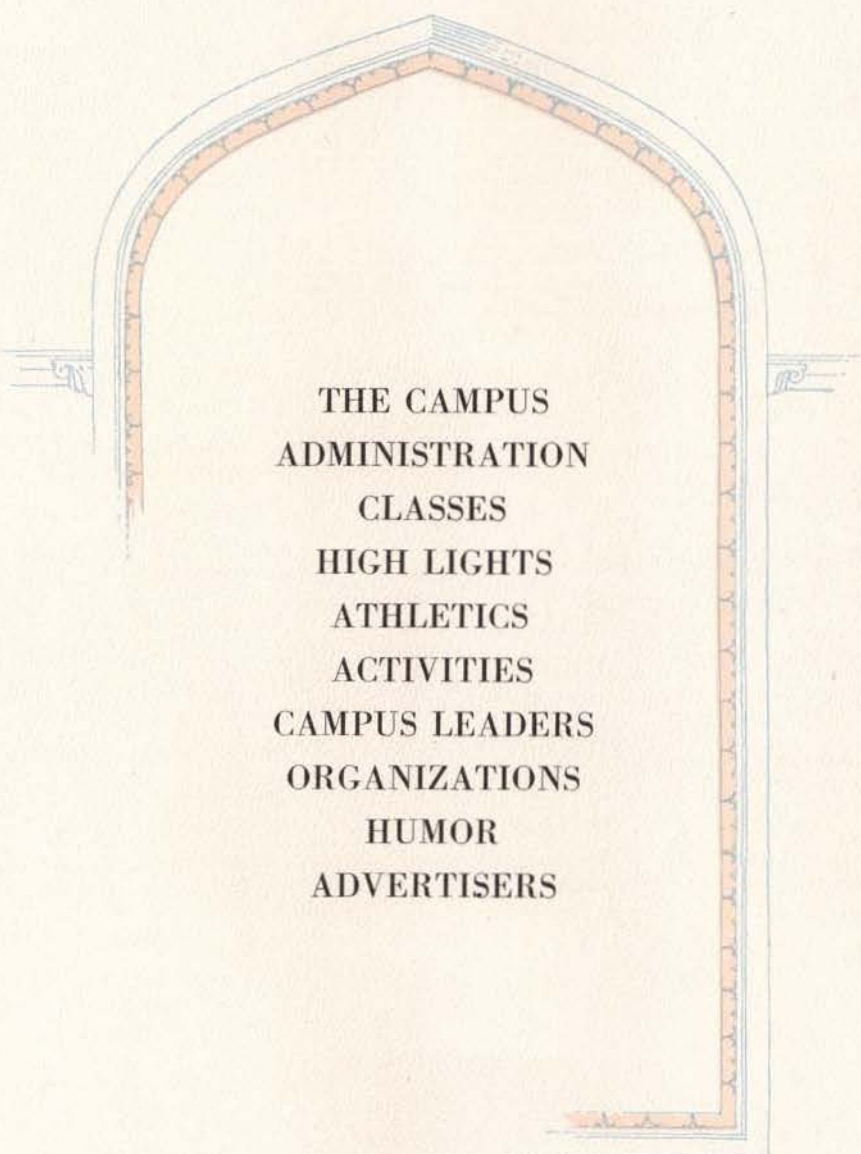

THE first year of my sojourn on the beautiful campus of the University of Idaho is drawing to a close. My freshman experiences are about over. I can hardly expect any subsequent year to be crowded as full of thrills as has this one.

The most vivid impression which this year's experience has made upon my mind is that Idaho students are very frank and friendly. They are facing the adventure of their education with assurance and zest typical of wholesome youth. As years go on, I hope to see them manifest a bit more of initiative and interest in the problems of student self government. I shall hope also to see in them a growing curiosity concerning things intellectual. But I have a firm faith, that with their sound character, their genuineness and their eager spirit of cooperation an ever greater and greater university will develop under the guidance of a faculty imbued with the courage of educational pioneers.

FOREWORD

The happy memories of another year at Idaho, though its true friendships, its problems and its joys are now most vivid in our minds, will gradually fade and die. The collegiate year 1928-29 has been a busy year. Since it has fallen our lot to observe and record the activities and experiences of our fellow students, we have endeavored, as have past editors, to construct a volume that will call to mind pleasant thoughts of the past in the time that is to come. ¶ But our signal purpose in editing this book has been to give credit where credit is due; to portray equally all phases of our life: academic as well as athletic, social and political.

THE MEMORIAL GYMNASIUM

In the spring of nineteen twenty-three a joint committee consisting of members of the American Legion of the State and of University alumni was formed to consider plans for the erection of a war memorial on the campus of the University of Idaho. During the spring and summer of the same year the project was put before the Legion convention and the alumni association, and the proposal to build a memorial in the form of a modern gymnasium was accepted by both. An association was formed and later incorporated under the laws of the state. The board of directors for the association were: R. D. Leeper of Lewiston, president; J. S. Arner, vice president; Paul Davis, second vice president; George Horton, secretary-treasurer; Harry Einhouse and L. V. Patch.

Paul Davis was commander of the Legion at this time and shortly thereafter was made director of the drive for funds which was conducted by counties throughout the state. Later, the corporation secured the services of the Ward Systems company to complete the drive, which fell short of the required amount. Slightly more than $100,000 was raised, the corporation bonding for the balance and entering into a contract with the University concerning control and ownership of the new building after its completion. The site of the building on the north side of MacLean field was dedicated two years ago with the erection of a flagpole. Immediately following a formal ceremony of turning up the first spadeful of earth, in the summer of 1927, construction was begun and continued steadily till the building was completed, in spite of a severe winter which materially handicapped the contractors. The pouring of concrete for the massive foundations and lower walls of the structure was completed during the winter of 1927-28. Coming of spring saw the heavy steel girders being hoisted into place and the brick walls gradually rise skyward. By June the new building had taken on definite size and shape, and work on the interior had begun. When the students returned to school in September, 1928, their new gymnasium was practically completed and ready for use, its beautiful walls and tower rising majestically above MacLean field.

In addition to constituting a lasting memorial to Idaho's war dead, the new edifice is an attractive addition to the beautiful buildings on the Idaho campus, and has become an important center in our student life. The completion of the much needed structure has made possible a very extensive program of physical education for all students, and has given Idaho's athletic teams a home of which they are justly proud. The spacious gymnasium floor is one of the finest on the Pacific coast. Comfortable quarters are provided for a progressive military department.

On November 3, 1928, preceding the annual homecoming game with Washington State College, Colonel L. V. Patch, speaking in behalf of the Idaho War Memorial Association, officially presented the building to the University. The State was represented by Lieutenant-Governor Oscar E. Hailey. Mr. R. D. Leeper delivered the main address in which he explained the reason for the location, saying that in being here the Memorial was made useful, that it was a proper inspiration to the youth of the state, and a fitting honor to university students and faculty members who served and sacrificed in the Spanish-American and World Wars. He expressed his hope that "It would serve the people of our state in the spiritual conception out of which it had arisen."

In keeping with its purpose as a Memorial in honor of the war veterans who gave their lives to their country, a bronze tablet is to be installed in the building, giving the names of all veterans of Idaho who made the supreme sacrifice in service, some nine hundred being included. This memorial tablet, together with trophies of war, will be placed in the tower. A German fieldpiece will guard the main entrance.

The Commissioner of Education

TODAY we are recognizing the value of a college education more than ever before in the practical affairs of our country. President Hoover in choosing a cabinet, looked wisely toward college men for his advisors. Industries of all kinds are seeking men of high educational standing for the key position all along the line. The professions long since have demanded a well-rounded education as a prime requisite in their entrance conditions.

In fact, wherever there is a real service to be performed, be it public or private, we as a nation are demanding trained workers. So it is that a college education is no longer a luxury—it has become a necessity. The inexorable law of supply and demand has forced upon us rather suddenly the need for more college graduates.

A few years back some people were prone to look upon college attendance as a fad indulged in by the wealthy and overly ambitious, but not so now. Public service, industry and professions are demanding a higher and still higher type of educational attainment.

Idaho has given rather generously of her wealth to provide a University wherein her youth may be trained for this larger service, and you, the students, are to be in demand in just the proportion that you take advantage of your opportunities.

Board of Regents

FIVE MEMBERS and one ex-officio member make up the governing body of the University, this being the State Board of Education and Board of Regents of the University of Idaho. Although members of the board reside in various parts of the state, it is the policy of the organization to meet on the campus at Moscow in the fall and again at commencement time in the spring of each year.

Appointment to the board is made by the Governor of the State of Idaho. Each appointee serves a term of five years, and the terms are arranged so that one term expires each year. The board is at present made up of the following: Clency St. Clair of Idaho Falls, president, term expiring in 1930; Stanly A. Easton of Kellogg, vice-president, term expiring in 1931; Asher B. Wilson of Twin Falls, secretary, term expiring in 1932; Huntington Taylor of Coeur d'Alene, term expiring in 1933; Mrs. J. G. H. Graveley of Boise, term expiring in 1929; and Mrs. Myrtle Davis of Boise, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, who is an ex-officio member.

Administrative Officers

DIRECT administration of the University of Idaho on the campus rests with the Administrative Officers of the University. It puts into operation those things authorized by the State Board of Education and Board of Regents, as well as carries out work that must be done in order that the University continue as an institution. The Administrative Officers, as listed in the catalog of the University, are automatically designated by virtue of their offices.

Administration officials are: Frederick J. Kelly, president of the University; Irving W. Jones, assistant president of the University; L. F. Parsons, comptroller of the University; Permeal J. French, dean of women; Francis Jenkins, proctor; Frank Stanton, bursar; Mary Belle Sweet, librarian; Ella L. Olesen, registrar; Edward F. Mason, university editor and secretary of the faculty; Helen R. Kersey, assistant dean of women; Theodore W. Turner, assistant proctor; George E. Horton, graduate manager; and Oren A. Fitzgerald, director of publicity.

IRVING W. JONES

Assistant President

FOR THE first time in the history of the institution, the University of Idaho has an assistant president. This system was inaugurated by President F. J. Kelly when he brought Irving W. Jones to Idaho from the University of Minnesota to fill the position. Mr. Jones has become a popular figure on the University of Idaho campus.

Establishment of the office of assistant president was made necessary partly on the general principle that the duties of a university president are too great for any one man to handle. Then, too, the president must be absent from the campus many times fulfilling his duties and during such periods the assistant president exercises executive power. Many administrative problems have been worked out by President Kelly and Mr. Jones.

ETHEL LARSON
Secretary to the President's office

Mr. Jones was originally trained as a musician. He then went into educational work and has gradually come into the administrative field. He received his Ph.B. degree at the University of Wisconsin and then held professorships at Beloit College, University of Texas, University of Wisconsin and Minnesota.

DEAN PERMEAL JANE FRENCH

Dean of Women

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO students are on the campus but a short time before they come into contact with one of the busiest persons here, this being Miss Permeal J. French, dean of women. Upon her falls the responsibility of developing ideals in each student in order that when he goes out into the state he will be the highest type of citizen. Her office in the Administration building is becoming more popular each year as the meeting place of men and women to discuss problems relating to campus conduct.

Miss French came to the University of Idaho in 1908 as the first dean of women. Her stay on the campus has been broken but once, that being a one-year leave of absence in 1920-21. Miss French is a true native of Idaho. She was born at Idaho City and was partially educated in Idaho schools. She was the first woman to hold the office of State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

During the years Miss French has spent as Dean of Women she has contributed much to Idaho's younger generations. Her work is known throughout the West.

DEAN JAY GLOVER ELDRIDGE

University Faculty

TWENTY-SIX years ago the Board of Regents of the University of Idaho created the office of dean of the University faculty and appointed the present dean of the faculty, J. G. Eldridge. The board thus abolished the executive committee, which for eleven years handled student and administrative affairs. When Dean Eldridge was appointed he had many and varied duties, but in 1920 Dr. A. H. Upham, who was president at that time, developed an effective organization. Committees on scholarship, courses of study, and the granting of degrees were formed, and Dean Eldridge acted as the chairman of these meetings. The Academic Council was formed in 1925, with Dr. Upham as the chairman and Dean Eldridge as vice-chairman. This plan is followed at the present.

DOROTHY ROUSE
Secretary

Dean Eldridge is also head of the department of modern languages, and he has spent much time in Europe studying. His last trip was made in 1927.

During his many years of service here Dean Eldridge has become a prominent figure on the campus. He has seen the University progress and looks ahead.

College of Letters and Science

THE LARGEST division of the University of Idaho is the College of Letters and Science. The chief aim of this college is the development among students of a proper attitude toward life. The college has the only non-professional curriculum in the University.

During the past two years students here have been denied association with M. F. Angell, dean of the college, due to the fact that he has been acting executive dean of the University of Idaho, Southern Branch, at Pocatello. Dean Angell will be back on the main campus next fall. During his absence the college has been under the direction of J. G. Eldridge, dean of the faculty.

The College of Letters and Science was the first department formed in the University, and it has been one of the most progressive in the institution. It is the first branch to adopt the Junior College plan, which will be inaugurated in the fall.

Dean Angell is one of the leading educators in the country and has done much in bringing the University to the high level which it now maintains.

DEAN EDWARD JOHN IDDINGS

College of Agriculture

IDAHO's College of Agriculture is giving to the state a service that cannot be estimated in a few words. Through the organization, made up of the instructional division, the agricultural experiment station, and the extension service in agriculture and home economics, every corner of the state is reached. At the head of this organization is Dean E. J. Iddings, a man whose ability cannot be surpassed in the West. He has held the position since 1915.

MRS. MARGARET MABERLY
Secretary

At the University the college offers facilities and instruction sufficient to prepare the student for scientific farming, research work, extension work, and survey. Laboratories are maintained by the college for agricultural chemistry, agricultural engineering, agronomy, animal husbandry, bacteriology, dairy husbandry, horticulture, plant pathology and poultry. Five experimental stations are also maintained at various places in the state along with other equipment.

Dean Iddings is known throughout the West. One big contribution is in developing the agricultural extension work of the University so that all people engaged in agricultural work may be benefitted.

DEAN ROBERT McNAIR DAVIS

College of Law

GRADUATES of the College of Law at the University of Idaho are stepping into the lead in the legal profession, and are holding important official positions in Idaho and in other parts of the country. The college was organized at Idaho in 1909 and has grown to be one of the outstanding branches of the University. At the head of the college is Dean Robert McNair Davis, sixth dean of the college and outstanding in law circles of the United States.

Much improvement has been made by the present administration of the College of Law in the standards of legal education. The college is cooperating with the commissioners of the Idaho Bar in bringing about higher requirements for admission into the legal profession. A high scholastic standard is maintained in the college.

Policies of professional education for the state are formulated by the dean, who also cooperates with the bar associations, the Association of American Law Schools, and bar examiners. Dean Davis stresses service as the ultimate motive of law students. Dean Davis returned to the campus last fall after a year's leave of absence, during which time he was continuing his study.

DEAN IVAN CHARLES CRAWFORD

College of Engineering

AS YEARS go by, the University of Idaho College of Engineering becomes more and more prominent throughout the country. Idaho points to its engineering graduates with pride. Although the college is comparatively young on the Idaho campus, it has developed rapidly, and a large per cent of this can be attributed to the work done by Dean Ivan C. Crawford, head of the college since 1923. The college has four departments giving training in civil, electrical, mechanical and chemical engineering.

NEVA RICE
Secretary

Laboratories of each of the departments contain the best of equipment, which is always at the disposal of the student. Engineering students are instilled under the leadership of Dean Crawford with the desire for attainment, and upon graduation the outstanding persons in each department are employed by nationally prominent engineering concerns. Many of Idaho's graduates have brought fame to their Alma Mater.

The college also strives to send men into the world prepared to become self-supporting units of society, capable of contributing to the advancement of our civilization, says Dean Crawford.

DEAN FRANCIS GARNER MILLER

School of Forestry

UNDER the guidance of Dean F. G. Miller the School of Forestry has grown since its establishment in 1917. Lumbering and other related industries are important in Idaho, and the demand for trained foresters is great. Before 1917 the University had a department of forestry which was founded in 1907.

In the vicinity of the University campus can be found much heavy forest areas and lumber camps. These furnish many advantages for the students in research work and practical experience. Trips are made by forestry students to study conditions in mills, logging camps, virgin and cut-over forests, and other problems.

The School of Forestry endeavors to equip Idaho men and women so that they may combat successfully such problems as present themselves, such as economic operation, conservation, and reforestation. Success is shown by the national recognition given the school. Graduates of the University of Idaho School of Forestry are quickly placed in important positions in the United States and other countries.

ACTING DEAN ERNEST WILLIAM ELLIS

School of Mines

MINING interests of Idaho receive material aid through the University of Idaho School of Mines. Training of students in aiding in the discovery and production of minerals is the aim of the school.

Dean F. A. Thomson headed the school from 1917 until the spring of 1928, when he resigned. Following his resignation, Ernest W. Ellis, assistant professor of mining and metallurgy, was named as acting dean. He served in this position for five months, then resigned to become metallurgical expert with the Anaconda Copper Mining Company of Montana. Since Professor Ellis' resignation President Kelly has handled all administrative matters for the school pending appointment of a dean.

MRS. INEZ TRACY
Secretary

Graduates of the Idaho School of Mines have been successful in the practical field. Mining alumni are filling important positions from Alaska to Mexico and from Eastern Canada to New Caledonia.

Applied and practical research work can be carried on in the school through its relations with the State Bureau of Mines and Geology. Mining interests of north Idaho contribute their plants for use as laboratories.

DEAN JAMES FRANKLIN MESSENGER

School of Education

A DIVISION of the University of Idaho that has contributed much toward the development of education in the State of Idaho is the School of Education. Since the school was organized in 1920, the University has supplied a great number of teachers in elementary and high schools of the state. High offices of the state, such as commissioner of education, state superintendent of public instruction, have been held by Idaho graduates. Not all have stayed in Idaho, there being more graduates teaching in Oregon, Washington and California than in Idaho.

When the school was authorized, J. Franklin Messenger was named as dean, and under his leadership the school has grown by leaps and bounds. Dean Messenger came to the Idaho campus from the University of Vermont in 1920 to head the school. He has a national standing as a progressive educator, being a fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, a member of the American Psychological Association, and a member of the National Association of College Teachers of Education.

GEORGIE LITTLE
Secretary

School of Business

ONE OF THE last divisions to be designated in the University of Idaho is the School of Business, created in 1925. Political science and economics have been offered by the University since 1894, but until 1915-1916 there was not a big enough demand for the course to organize a department. The demand for business training grew until in 1925 the School of Business was authorized and H. C. Dale named as dean.

The position of dean was held by Dean Dale until the spring of 1928, when he resigned to accept a similar position at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio. During the present school year, Ralph H. Farmer has acted as the head of the school.

A study of business problems is taken up in the School of Business and the purpose of the school is to train men and women so they may be capable of solving such problems of production and finance, labor distribution, including national and international transportation, as well as those related to Idaho.

Appointment of Mr. Farmer as full dean of the School of Business was announced recently.

DEAN JERRY EDWARD WODSEDALEK

Graduate School

GRADUATE study throughout the University of Idaho is covered by the Graduate School. Original research is carried on by those students in the school under the direction of faculty members, the initiative being taken by such students. More than thirty departments offer majors toward advanced degrees, while a number of departments offer several majors.

Demand for graduate work grew to such a point that in 1925 it became necessary to establish a Graduate School. J. E. Wodsedalek was named as dean of the school. General supervision of the entire field of graduate work in the University is under the dean. To promote graduate study and research, the Graduate School offers a number of fellowships with annual stipends of five hundred dollars, along with teaching fellowships and scholarships.

Dean Wodsedalek is away from the campus this year on his sabbatical leave of absence. He is doing considerable research work and study along with some teaching at the University of Minnesota. Dean Eldridge is acting head of the school during this year.

TURNER

JENKINS

Assistant Dean of Women and Proctors of Men

STUDENT activities and affairs that do not come under the scope of the A.S.U.I. are handled by three members of the faculty. These members are Miss Helen R. Kersey, assistant dean of women, Francis Jenkins and Theodore W. Turner, proctors. Dormitories of the University are managed by these faculty representatives.

Miss Kersey works with the dean of women on matters pertaining to university women. Miss Kersey came to the University of Idaho campus last fall, filling the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mrs. Louise Blomquist, who became dean of women at Whitman College, Walla Walla, Washington. Miss Kersey is a graduate of DePauw University, Greencastle, Indiana, and following graduation she studied social service work. For two years prior to her coming to the University, Miss Kersey was supervisor of Red Cross work in Idaho.

In the position of proctor, Mr. Turner has supervision of all men's dormitories and the men living therein. His duties include handling of feeding, housing and discipline in the halls. Mr. Turner is also in charge of the student employment bureau. Mr. Turner is a graduate of the University of Idaho, receiving his degree in 1926. While in college he was one of the leading men on the campus, and for four years he acted as yell king. He is a charter member of the Idaho chapter of Blue Key, national honorary upperclassman service fraternity, and originator of the Idaho chapter of the Intercollegiate Knights. Following graduation, Mr. Turner served one year as principal of the schools at Emmett, Idaho, returning to Idaho as assistant proctor in August, 1927.

A man who has seen the University of Idaho grow from one building to its present size is Proctor Jenkins. For more than twenty-five years Mr. Jenkins has served the University. He was at one time registrar and for years he was bursar. Mr. Jenkins is a man of extremely high ideals.

The Graduate Manager of the A. S. U. I.

AT THE head of the business affairs of the Associated Student Body of the University of Idaho is one of the busiest men on the campus, and this man is George E. Horton, better known as "Cap." As graduate manager "Cap" has charge of all property and funds of the association. He also has general control over athletics, publications, music, dramatics, debate and intercollegiate competition in stock judging.

"Cap" Horton and his derby hat were important factors on the campus back in about 1903. In fact, he was graduated from the University of Idaho in 1906. Going further back into history, back to 1900, it is found that Mr. Horton was the captain of the Idaho football team that defeated the Universities of Washington and Spokane for the championship of the Northwest. It was then that he got the name of "Cap." During his college career he was also a track and baseball man. As a member of the student committee "Cap" helped draft the first constitution of the A.S.U.I. He was also a member of the first committee to make athletic awards. He was under-graduate football manager in 1905 and he brought the University of Washington grid team here for a game which gave Idaho the championship. In those days, because of the distance of Seattle from Moscow, it was considered a major business promotion to move a team that far, and also when Idaho had only enough men for about two squads.

Horton took over his duties as graduate manager in 1925. But prior to this he was for two years an instructor at the university engineering shops. During a year of the World War he taught in the mechanical department.

The job of graduate manager requires a man who is more or less a "jack of all trades" because of its many and varied duties. And the man who is the present manager is filling the bill in fine shape. "Cap" has charge of expenditure of all class funds which are deposited in the student treasury. Handling all of the affairs related to athletics, publications, government, and any number of other details, the graduate manager has plenty to do. He also represents Idaho at Pacific Coast Conference meetings, where he, along with the athletic coach, lines up Idaho's conference games.

The duties of keeping the A.S.U.I. affairs clearly outlined and straight takes a man of much ability, and "Cap" has made a good record since becoming graduate manager here.

GEORGE HORTON

The President of the A.S.U.I.

THROUGH the office of chief executive, the Associated Student Body of the University of Idaho is brought into contact with other student and business organizations of the country. The presidency, a goal sought by all college politicians, is held this year by Alvin H. Reading.

Going by the nickname of "Al," Reading has been one of the leading figures on the Idaho campus during his four years in the college. Debating was probably his major extra-curricular activity up to this year. In the spring of 1928, "Al" was named president of the A.S.U.I., defeating a strong opponent by a very close margin in the hardest fought campaign seen on the campus in many years.

During the year 1928-1929, Reading has guided the destinies of the A.S.U.I. with a steady hand and headed the student body in one of the best years in the history of the University of Idaho. As president of the student body, Reading acts as chairman of meetings of the executive board, the governing body of the organization. Close cooperation between the students and the officials has aided very materially in making this year a successful one.

Last spring Mr. Reading accompanied Frank Click, then the student body president, to a meeting of Pacific Coast college and university student body chief executives at the University of Montana at Missoula, Montana. He was named secretary of the Pacific Coast organization. Then, shortly before the Christmas recess, Al attended a meeting of the National Student Federation of America, at Columbia, Missouri. Mr. Reading is a member of Blue Key, national honorary service fraternity for upper classmen, which is helping to build up the University.

Upon completion of the new Memorial Gymnasium this fall, the general A.S.U.I. offices were all moved from the Administration Building to the new structure. This gives the officers of the student organization a real place to work.

An organization, easily capable of handling such matters as may come up before the student body, was perfected by President Reading this year, and he has accomplished much for Idaho.

Each year the office of Associated Student Body president has assumed more importance and come into a closer relation with the University. President Reading has cooperated in every way possible with the office of the President of the University to better the institution.

The Associated Students

PROMOTION OF student initiative and leadership stand out as the most important functions of the Associated Students of the University of Idaho, an organization which embraces all students enrolled in the University of Idaho who have paid all regular association dues. All collegiate and intercollegiate activities are sponsored by the A.S.U.I.

With the inauguration of the present administration of the University of Idaho practically all student problems were placed in the hands of the A.S.U.I. The student body organization was put upon a basis which places upon it the responsibilities of student control. This is part of the educational plan of President F. J. Kelly of the University, making student government as much a part of the education of men and women on the campus as classroom work.

Machinery for the operation of the A.S.U.I. is provided for in the Constitution of the organization. Officers of the student body, including the president, vice-president and secretary, along with a number of minor officers, are selected at a general election held each spring. All legislative and executive powers are vested in an executive board.

Activities promoted by the association are those in the field of athletics, music, debate and publications. Any member of the association is entitled to participate in any activity fostered by the A.S.U.I., providing he meets requirements stipulated by the regulations of the University. Awards are made to those doing exceptional work in each activity.

Officers of the A.S.U.I. for 1928-29 are Alvin H. Reading, president; Burton F. Ellis, vice-president; and Neva Rice, secretary. Contact between the administration and the governing body of the A.S.U.I. is established through a faculty advisor. Dean Ivan C. Crawford of the College of Engineering has held this position for five years. Because of his keen interest in student affairs and broad-minded views, Dean Crawford has been chosen unanimously each year.

The Executive Board

LEGISLATIVE and executive power of the Associated Students of the University of Idaho is placed in the hands of an Executive Board. Delving back into history, it is found that the Executive Board came into existence in 1924 during the administration of Talbot Jennings as student body head. The board is provided for in the constitution of the association.

The president of the A.S.U.I. acts as chairman of the Executive Board, while other officers on the board are: Burton F. Ellis, vice-president, and Neva Rice, secretary. Six members of the board are elected by the student body. These are: Aldon Tall, Samuel C. Hutchings, senior men; Ethel Lafferty, senior woman; George Huber and Clayton Loosli, junior men; Francis Gallet, junior woman. Three ex-officio members of the board, without vote, are: Helen Taylor, president of the Associated Women; Horace Porter, yell king, and Cecil Hagen, editor of The Argonaut. The graduate manager automatically becomes a member of the board. Dean Ivan C. Crawford is faculty advisor.

Athletics

RALPH F. HUTCHINSON

The Director of Athletics

RALPH F. HUTCHINSON, ex-all-American quarterback of Princeton varsity fame, was named director of athletics at the University of Idaho by the Board of Regents in the summer of 1928 and assumed his duties on the main campus last September. "Hutch," as he is familiarly called by those who know him, came to Moscow from the Southern Branch of the University at Pocatello, where his athletic teams enjoyed outstanding success in competition with those of much larger institutions.

Coach Hutchinson has made an enviable record both as an athlete and as a coach since his matriculation at Princeton University in 1903. He was "old Nassau's" varsity quarterback for three years, displacing in this position no less a personage than Bill Roper, present Princeton coach. "Hutch" also starred in baseball and track; and previous to his college entrance held the interscholastic record in the high hurdles.

As director of athletics at Idaho, Hutchinson has charge of all phases of athletics and physical education. The success of this year's extensive intramural program can be laid to "Hutch's" keen interest in athletics for everybody. "Hutch" is also head track coach and assistant varsity football coach.

SIGGINS

The Idaho Yell Kings

THE CHEER LEADERS, Edwin Siggins and Horace Porter, were more than mere leaders of cheers. They were accomplished acrobats and tumblers, and wherever they accompanied Idaho athletic teams, the crowds were captivated by their clever antics on the sidelines. Always original, they were as well received before the spectators at the Stanford-Idaho game at San Francisco as they were at home. Their repertoire of stunts included imaginary tight-rope walking, mock football plays, the time-worn Tunney long count, resuscitation efforts and numerous other crazy little acts.

The Season of 1928

THE PROSPECTS for a successful 1928 gridiron season at Idaho appeared weak when Head Coach Charley Erb was confronted with the difficult task of finding men to replace the graduated stars who were so instrumental in the success of the conference winning team of 1927. Gone were the ever-reliable "Chuck" Diehl, and Carl Hutchinson, massive 230-pound tackle; Con Dewey, veteran linesman, and Glenn "Red" Jacoby, who was varsity quarterback for three years. True, there were twelve returning lettermen, but those lost by graduation formed the backbone of the famed Vandal line that was feared and respected by all opponents.

Recruits from the Freshman team of 1927 aided materially in the rebuilding process that faced Charley. Martin plugged the hole at guard, and Dittman, Sproat, Jouno and Carlson saw much service on the line during the season. In the backfield Halliday and Owens won regular berths, and other new men appeared in the lineup, yet not for sufficient time to earn a letter. After the first game of the season, Idaho played "heads-up" ball, tying Gonzaga and defeating Whitman. These games found the backs hitting much harder, and the line in mid-season form. Particularly elating was the work of Kershisnik and Hutchinson in the backfield and Burgher and Martin on the line. A "star" who was long in obscurity was Herby Owens, diminutive half, who ran off-tackle and end plays to perfection. When Price was injured, Dittman capably held down the end position opposite Burgher.

CHAS. F. ERB

That Idaho had a powerful first string able to hold its own with any eleven in the conference was evidenced in several games. The lack of reserves was the one dominating weakness. After holding the first elevens of both Stanford and U.S.C. even for the first halves, lack of reserve material was a handicap to substitutions, and the fresh players of the California teams ran wild in the later periods. Present indications point to a greater supply of reserve material for the 1930 Idaho Varsity football team than ever before. In the six weeks of spring practice Coach Leo Calland uncovered a wealth of backs and recruited several husky linemen from the Frosh team to plug the forward wall weakness. With the Calland system calling for specialization of the backs, he will experience little trouble moulding a winning team from the splendid array for the 1930 conference race.

1928 VARSITY SQUAD

The regrets and deep feeling of loss by the student body of the University of Idaho was expressed in an open letter that was written by the members of the Idaho Varsity football squad when it was announced that Coach Charley Erb's resignation had been accepted by the University:

"We, the football team of the University of Idaho, wish to let the public know our thought and opinion of Charles Erb. We regret, every one of us, the fact that he has resigned. We feel that a loss has come to us and to the University, both as a football coach and a man.

"During the three years that he has been at Idaho, he has been a wonderful example to us morally and as a leader. * * * During his time here we have had the best season that Idaho has ever experienced, tying for the Pacific Coast championship by going through the conference undefeated.

"Charley does not stand for football alone, but has strongly upheld the scholarship of his men.

* * * The whole faculty has appreciated this fact, and think a lot of him for the cooperation he has given them.

"We all love him and feel that the boys who will make up his next team will feel likewise."

Montana State 15 ~ Idaho 13

THE USUAL first game weakness appeared when the Montana State Bobcats opened the 1928 football schedule of Idaho by winning 15 to 13. Idaho led until the closing minutes, when a well directed Montana pass was completed for a touchdown and victory.

Starke's recovery of a Bobcat fumble on their 22-yard line early in the first quarter placed Idaho in a scoring position. In four plays Hutchinson carried the ball over. Gaining possession of the ball, Montana swept to Idaho's three-yard line before losing the ball on downs. Burgher's punt was blocked and he recovered for a safety. Three plays later Gardner, Bobcat half, dashed 45 yards around end for a touchdown to place the visitors in the lead, 8 to 6. In the third quarter, Hutchinson again went over to give Idaho the lead.

With two minutes left to play Montana took the ball on her own 25-yard line and gained 55 yards by passes and line jabs. On the fourth down, with 13 yards to go, Richards tossed a high pass that completed for victory.

Gonzaga 6 ~ Idaho 6

TWO HARD-FIGHTING elevens battled evenly, and the final score of Gonzaga 6-Idaho 6 justly told the story of comparative strength of the two teams as they played that afternoon in Spokane. Gonzaga outplayed Idaho throughout the first half, and only a great defensive stand by the Vandals kept the Irish from scoring. The half ended in a scoreless tie.

Taking advantage of a short kick early in the third quarter, the Idaho backs smashed their way to the Bulldog four-yard stripe, where Hutchinson crashed over for a touchdown. The try for point failed.

Idaho repeatedly made first downs, only to be forced to punt when the Irish line stiffened. In the punting department, Burgher outkicked Ingram and Hunting, only to have the advantage lost by sensational returns by Hunting and McGrath, who averaged 11 yards returning the punts.

DIEHL

Receiving the ball in mid-field after a kicking duel, Gonzaga swept into Idaho to the 28-yard line. A 15-yard penalty was imposed, but on the next play Ralls raced for 19 yards on a criss-cross. After several futile attempts to gain through the line, Gonzaga passed for 14 yards to make it first down on Idaho's 10-yard line. Four line plays made another first down, inches short of a touchdown. On his second attempt, Smith hurled himself over the line to tie the score. The game remained dead-locked when Captain-elect Diehl broke through to block McGrath's attempt for extra point. The defensive work of Martin and generalship of Robertson were outstanding.

Whitman 13 ~ Idaho 26

IN A FREE-SCORING game full of thrills and open play, Idaho defeated Whitman 26 to 13. Using an attack consisting of powerful line smashes, flashy end runs and bewildering passes, the Vandals rolled up a total of 438 yards from scrimmage. The feature play of the day was the sensational 98-yard dash to touchdown from kickoff by Applegate, speedy Missionary quarterback.

Idaho's first touchdown came as a result of Hutchinson's 15-yard pass to Burgher, who ran the remaining nine yards to touchdown. Soon after the second quarter had started, the Vandals worked the ball to the 23-yard line, where Burgher took a pass from Cheyne and dashed 23 yards for the second touchdown. The half ended with Idaho leading 12 to 0.

Idaho kicked off to open the third quarter and Applegate sprinted the length of the field to score. He was aided by perfect interference and was not molested in his jaunt. Shortly after he again scored on a 35-yard run.

The third Vandal touchdown was scored when Perrins dashed 14 yards around end, and Kershishnik added the fourth when he broke through the visitors' line and ran 38 yards. Sumpter converted after the two final touchdowns.

Stanford 47 ~ Idaho 0

AFTER HOLDING the Stanford first team to one touchdown during the first half, a valiant band of Vandal warriors succumbed to the Cardinal attack in the second half and lost 47 to 0. For two quarters the Idaho gridders fought Stanford to a standstill and thrice repulsed their charges, only to have "Spud" Lewis slip around end on a lateral pass to score and convert his point, to leave the half-time score Stanford 7, Idaho 0.

Smothered under an avalanche of reserves, Idaho saw two Redshirt touchdowns in the third period and four more in the final quarter, with Lewis contributing four of the total. It was Stanford deception and an utter lack of substitutes to rush into the fray that made the score so lop-sided.

In this game Burgher proved his triple threat ability. Once, while standing behind his own goal line, he passed to Dittman, who ran 30 yards before being downed. On the next play he kicked and caught the Stanford safety, Frentrup, napping, and the ball rolled many yards. Later in the game, instead of punting from behind his goal, he eluded several tacklers and ran 18 yards before being downed.

The lead did not halt the procession of Stanford men, and Coach Glenn "Pop" Warner used a total of 44 footballers that disastrous afternoon. That Stanford was one of the leading elevens in the United States last season was borne out later in the year by the one-sided victory over the Army at New York. As "Pop" Warner told Coach Erb, "Your team would give any eleven a real game," so we believe it to be borne out that Idaho was not humiliated but lost only to a greater number.

After the first half Idaho was constantly on the defensive, completely bewildered by the double and triple passes as well as the Warner deception in general. The substitutes that Warner sent into fray did the harm, after the first eleven was held to one touchdown during the first half. Simpkins, Smalling, Lewis and Frentrup gave Idaho the real trouble after "Biff" Hoffman, Wilton, Sims and Fleishacker had failed to dent the Vandal line for substantial gains.

U. C. L. A. 6 - Idaho 20

AFTER STAKING the University of California at Los Angeles to a six-point lead in the first quarter, Coach Erb's Vandals came back strong to batter the foe into submission and win 20 to 6.

Immediately after the UCLA score, Perrins carried the ball the length of the field on eight plays for the tying touchdown. Then the "pony" backfield swung into action to give the spectators the thrill of diversion after watching lumbering backs crash the lines. The little fellows, Cheyne, Robertson, Owens, Perrins, and Nordby, with the weight average 160 pounds, literally ran tackles and ends ragged.

Idaho received the ball in midfield to start the second quarter, when a UCLA back fumbled after intercepting a Vandal pass. Cheyne passed 20 yards to Burgher, who ran the remaining distance to the goal, to leave the score 13 to 6 after Sumpter converted.

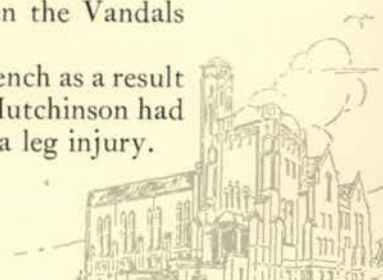

Taking the ball on three successive plays, Cheyne made 42 yards to place the ball on the 10-yard line. Perrins promptly took it over on an end run. Sumpter's conversion ended the scoring for the afternoon, but not the thrills.

The Southerners fought stubbornly and thrice advanced the ball to within scoring distance, only to meet a stubborn Idaho line that could not be penetrated. Once the visitors lost the ball when Fleming attempted to pass on the fourth down, and Burgher, Idaho captain, broke through to smear him for an 18-yard loss.

The splendid end play of Dittman was outstanding for Idaho, while the line-smashing of Fields and interference of Thoe for the Californians was brilliant.

Idaho gained 384 yards from scrimmage and registered 18 first downs. Cheyne's bullet passes aided materially in the scoring, when the Vandals completed eight of eleven attempts.

The Vandals defeated the Uclas with several men on the bench as a result of injuries sustained in the Stanford game a week previous. Hutchinson had his nose broken, Hult had a wrenched knee, and Diehl had a leg injury.

Washington State 26 ~ Idaho 0

PLAYING UNDER near-perfect weather conditions and before a crowd of 12,000 people, the Washington State Cougars showed smart football to capture the Annual Homecoming Classic honors by defeating Idaho 26 to 0.

The winners' first score resulted from the individual efforts of Ted Rohwer, who advanced the ball 60 yards to the two-yard line, where Hein crashed over on the first play. After this score, W.S.C. kicked off, and Hutchinson received the ball and dashed to midfield, where he was brought down by the last man remaining between him and the Cougar goal. A first down was made and with the aid of a 15-yard penalty, Idaho had possession of the ball on Washington State's 31-yard line. Three line plays netted five yards and Jensen made first down on an end around end play. Two more smashes netted seven yards, but Dressel shattered Idaho's hopes when he leaped high in the air to snag a pass. Washington State punted out of danger and the half ended before the Vandals could again approach scoring range.

Opening the second half, Idaho received the kickoff and returned it to the 30-yard mark. On the next play Burgher dropped back and heaved a long pass, which was intercepted by Horan, who ran 46 yards to touchdown. Martin blocked the try for point. After a punting exchange, in which the Cougars gained due to Lainhart's returns, Hutchinson's pass was intercepted by Lainhart, who did not stop until he had crossed Idaho's goal line for the third touchdown.

Washington State kicked short to Brimhall, who advanced the ball to midfield. After unsuccessful thrusts at the Cougar line, a punting duel followed, with Idaho gaining 15 yards on the exchange. Taking the offensive, Perrins and Kershishnik alternated to take the ball to the Crimson and Gray 12-yard line, only to lose possession of the ball when the necessary drive was lacking. McDonald punted out of danger and again a Vandal drive carried them deep in the Washington State territory. Zarick was rushed into the game, but the Cougars regained possession of the ball when he was smeared for a 24-yard loss on an attempted triple pass.

The visitors swept their way to their fourth and final touchdown on a series of passes. Buckley failed on try for point and the score was 26 to 0.

The yardage figures were practically even, but making the most of the breaks spelled the difference between victory and loss. In his final game before Idaho students, Perrins shone brilliantly.

Montana 6 ~ Idaho 21

FOLLOWING the disastrous Homecoming game with the Cougars, Idaho journeyed to Missoula to completely outclass Montana and emerge victorious by the score of 21 to 6. Montana's lone score came in the first quarter when Lewis, Grizzly center, recovered a Vandal fumble and trotted unmolested 20 yards to touchdown.

After twice being stopped on the Montana 15-yard line, Kershisnik tossed a 15-yard pass to Burgher for the victor's first score. The recovery of a Grizzly fumble at the start of the second quarter left Idaho in a scoring position. Line smashes by Kershisnik and Robertson placed the ball on the four-yard stripe, where the former lunged over for the scoring touchdown.

The third and last touchdown of the game found Owens carrying the ball over from the Montana seven-yard line. Idaho scored more than four times the total yardage from scrimmage than the losers registered, and amassed a total of 18 first downs to three. Sumpter converted after each touchdown with a place kick.

Major Milburn's line proved easy for the heavier Vandals, who rolled up more than 300 yards from scrimmage, and in turn smeared every advance attempted by the Grizzlies. The line play and passing of Captain Burgher, the terrific smashing by Kershisnik, and the end runs by little Herby Owens combined to present an attack that was more than Montana could handle.

This, Montana's Homecoming game, was witnessed by less than 1,000.

U. S. C. 28 ~ Idaho 7

AFTER influenza had taken its toll of Vandal warriors, Coach Charley Erb was able to muster but a squad of 19 men to face the powerful University of Southern California football eleven when they met at the Coliseum at Los Angeles. The overwhelming defeat suffered at the hands of Stanford earlier in the season left the lack of reserves a more important issue than had been realized.

During the first half the play was divided, with both threatening the opponents' goal, but neither possessing the punch necessary to drive over a touchdown. Three times the Trojans advanced deep into the Vandals' territory only to be repulsed, and twice Idaho was held when they had swept up the field to a scoring position. In the first quarter Perrins gained nearly 100 yards on off-tackle plays and end runs, but the power was lacking to break into the scoring column.

Soon after the opening kickoff of the second half, Williams, U.S.C. quarterback, crossed the Idaho goal line for the first score of the game. Strongly aided by Saunders, Williams again registered a touchdown in this period. Hill made the third touchdown for the winners in this quarter when he dove over the line on a line smash. Hibb's conversion after each touchdown left the score at the end of the third quarter U.S.C. 21, Idaho 0.

Undaunted by the Trojan lead, the Erbmen started a passing attack that carried them over the U.S.C. goal line. Burgher was on the tossing end of the passes and completed 10 out of 14 attempts for the afternoon. The scoring play for Idaho came when Kershisnik made six yards in three plunges for touchdown. Burgher added the extra point.

With Hill carrying the ball, the Californians marched the length of the field for their fourth and final touchdown. The entire second half marked a procession of Trojan reserves on and off the field, while the limited group of Vandals strove valiantly to compete with the overwhelming odds.

The Trojans led the Vandals in yardage from scrimmage, 212 to 159. Williams and Hibbs outkicked Burgher by averaging 46 yards per boot.

Resume of Season

DESPITE the fact that Idaho ended the football season with the unimpressive record of two conference wins and three losses, the class of the Idaho opponents must be taken into consideration. With limited material for substitution, any team becomes a first half aggregation, regardless of true strength. This was borne out in the games with Stanford and the University of Southern California.

To lose to such teams is no disgrace, but to establish better first-half records against Stanford and U.S.C. than did the Army and Notre Dame is no small amount of praise for Coach Charley Erb and his Vandals.

The greatest loss by graduation will be Captain Darwin Burgher, who has for three years been a dependable cog in the Vandal football machine. After starring in the backfield in his first year of varsity competition, Burgher was shifted to end, and his passing, kicking and defensive work was respected by all Idaho opponents. Sammy Perrins, speedy halfback for three years, also played his last game of college football against the U.S.C. Trojans on the final game of the 1928 football schedule. Maurice Brimhall is the third man who will receive his three-stripe sweater for football. Brimhall's dependable line work has stopped many plays that were intended to pass his territory.

Players who received second year awards are: Gordon Diehl and Orville Hult, captains-elect; Lester Kirkpatrick, Paul Hutchinson, Walter Price, Lyle Starke, William Kershnik, Harvey Sumpter and Fred Robertson. Clarence Dittman, Elmer Martin, Arthur Cheyne, Harold Carlson, James Halliday and Herbert Owens won their first sweater for varsity football. Prospects for a successful season in 1929 are bright with fifteen returning lettermen.

With fifteen lettermen returning, and an abundance of Varsity material from the freshman squad, all indications point to a successful season for Idaho's new football coach, Leo B. Calland.

1928 FRESHMAN SQUAD

Freshman Football

COACH GLENN JACOBY'S call for freshmen grid candidates brought a turnout of sixty men. Several all-state men were included, as well as high school luminaries of other states.

Practice started October 1, and with less than two weeks' practice the yearlings journeyed to Seattle to meet the University of Washington babes. Handicapped by injuries, short practice and scholastic ineligibilities, the Vandals lost 19 to 0. The time limit had permitted only the drilling in fundamentals of the game, with very little practice of offensive plays.

One week later they played a scoreless tie with the Washington State frosh. This game marked strong defensive play on the part of both elevens, neither possessing the power to score. The yardage figures were practically even, with the W.S.C. frosh gaining the edge on first downs. Idaho's sole offensive threat was in her passing attack.

Games were played with Cheney and Ellensburg Normal schools, both of which were lost by a small margin.

The nineteen men who received numerals were: Joe Cass, Cal Southers, Paul Petzoldt, Ernest Bauman, Arthur Spaugy, John Rushton, Homer Seifert, Jack Lee, John Corkery, Emmett Davis, Howard Berg, Wes Shurtliff, William Hall, Fred Wilkie, Chris Paulsen, Mark Maxwell, Marius Hanford, Louis Ridge and Nat Congdon.

The outstanding recruits for the 1929 varsity squad from this group are Wes Shurtliff, Emmett Davis, John Corkery and Chris Paulsen.

The Season of 1928-1929

LED BY Frank McMillin, all-Conference forward, the Idaho basketball team experienced a successful season to finish in second place in the northwest division of the Pacific Coast Conference, with six wins and four losses. Washington and Oregon State administered double defeats to the Vandals, while Idaho twice conquered Washington State, Oregon and Montana.

Immediately following the completion of the football season, Coach Rich Fox issued a call for basketball and a squad of twenty-five men greeted him, among them five letter men from the previous year, Stowell, McMillin, Burgher, Drummond and Thornhill. Hard hit by compulsory vaccination, the Vandals played their first pre-season games during the Christmas holidays, when they met the fast Sparklers quintet from Spokane, Ellensburg Normal, Whitman College and Montana State College.

The first game was played in Moscow, with Whitman College as opponents. With the five lettermen starting the game, the Vandal hoopsters scored at will to win 51 to 40, McMillin leading with 25 points. The Foxmen next journeyed to Spokane, where they defeated the Sparklers in a two-game series, winning the first 41 to 16 and the second 30 to 26. The following night they met Ellensburg at Moscow and won 26 to 23, when Cheyne and Stowell tossed baskets with but thirty seconds of play remaining. Stowell was the only regular used in this contest and Fox attempted to repeat to give his court artists a rest for the series with Montana State. The Normal lads rushed into an early lead, but the late injection of the lettermen into the fray failed to stem the tide, Ellensburg winning 41 to 28. Montana State took two games from the Vandals by the scores of 44 to 21 and 54 to 40. Led by "Cat" Thompson, the Bobcats gave an unparalleled exhibition of basket shooting to conquer the Idaho basketballers. Thompson was later named with McMillin in the group of eight best forwards in the United States. With the training season behind them, the Vandals practiced two weeks without games in preparation for the 1929 Conference race, which opened here January 21, with Oregon State as the opponents. This game proved to be one of the most closely contested and interesting games of the 1929 season.

Conference Games

AFTER a five-minute overtime period, the Idaho basketball team emerged victorious over the Montana Grizzlies at Missoula in the first Conference game. Trailing at half-time, the Vandals flashed into action to catch the Grizzlies as the final gun barked. Montana scored first in the overtime period, but two free tosses and a field goal gave the Vandals victory by the score of 33 to 31. Frank McMillin, flashy junior forward, scored 17 points in this game, to take the lead in conference scoring, which he did not relinquish throughout the season.

Oregon State's husky basketball team opened the season in Moscow by defeating the Vandals 23 to 22, after one of the most thrilling finishes ever seen here. Idaho was leading at half time 16 to 10, and with eight minutes of play remaining in the second half the Staters were trailing 21 to 14. Ballard started the Beavers to victory when he tossed a field goal, and a moment later added another. O'Brien added another for Oregon, but Stowell reduced this by tossing a free throw. Oregon was not to be denied, and with the remaining time a matter of seconds Callahan threw a long goal that spelled victory for the invaders and defeat for the Vandals. With ten seconds of play remaining, Stowell tossed from mid-court, but the ball rolled from the rim to end the game.

Adopting the tactics used by the Oregon State hoopsters two nights previous, Coach Fox's Vandals came from behind to tie the University of Oregon 35 to 35, and then add four points during the five-minute overtime period, to win 39 to 35. After gaining a 12 to 8 lead at half time, the Vandals gave up the lead to the Oregonians, who were ahead 35 to 31 with one minute of play remaining. Bobby Drummond made good a long throw to bring Idaho within two points of the visitors and Frank McMillin evened the count when he tossed a basket in the final minute. Idaho stalled the remaining seconds, and after the brief rest soon scored the winning baskets and hung desperately to the lead for the second conference victory of the season. McMillin, Burgher and Stowell accounted for 31 points of the team's total.

Playing the best basketball displayed during the 1929 season, the Vandals completely smothered the Washington State Cougars under an avalanche of baskets that left the visitors gasping as they read the final score of 56 to 21. The passing, dribbling and basket-shooting of the Idaho quintet was uncanny, and the Cougars were powerless to slow the attack. Goals rained through the baskets in torrents and Idaho led at half time 24 to 7. With the second half ten minutes old, Coach Fox substituted an entire new team, and these lads took up the burden with the score 46 to 13, to add 10 points to the losers 8. Frank McMillin and Harold Stowell led the scoring with 21 and 18 digits respectively. Endslow was high point man for the Staters with 6.

Idaho's hopes for a conference title went glimmering when the University of Washington quintet administered a 38 to 28 defeat to the locals at Moscow. Harold McClary, the six foot five inch center for the Huskies, was a "tower" of strength for the invaders, his height giving the Purple and Gold the possession of the ball after every tip-off. Idaho trailed at half-time 26 to 16, and the best that they could do in the second half was to score evenly with the winners. Stan Jaloff led the scoring attack for the visitors by counting 11 points, while McMillin led Idaho with 9 counters. Milt Berenson, Husky guard, was in form, and, as usual, was ejected from the game on personal fouls. Percy Bolstad gave the local enthusiasts something to talk about with his speedy play, both on the offensive and defensive.

Playing before seven hundred Idaho students who had journeyed to Pullman to witness the contest, Idaho played spotty basketball to conquer the Cougars 38 to 26. The game was won in the first five minutes, when the Vandals scored 11 points before the Crimson and Gray found the hoop. Clinging to this lead, the score at half time was Idaho 22, Washington State 11. Captain Darwin Burgher turned in his best performance of the year to tally 17 points while holding Endslow, the Cougar ace, to one basket. The entire Idaho team functioned well on floor play, but missed many easy shots to reduce the scoring total many points. Buckley was high man for the losers with 9 points.

In the first game of the coast invasion, Coach Rich Fox's warriors went down to defeat before the University of Washington at Seattle, 39 to 27. Apparently overcome by stage fright, Idaho missed many set-up shots to give the Huskies a two-point half-time lead of 18 to 16. The Vandals completely wilted under a barrage of shots in the second half, and after fifteen minutes of play were trailing 39 to 22. Idaho held the Purple and Gold scoreless the remainder of the game, but could only add five points to their total. Again McClary and Jaloff proved to be the stumbling blocks, the latter scoring 16 points and the tall center accounting for 10 of the winning points. McMillin led the Idaho scorers with 9 points, with Stowell and Drummond following with 6 each.

After being forced to third place in the conference race by the defeat suffered at the hands of Washington, Idaho conquered Oregon 29 to 27 to return to second place with five victories and three defeats. The play was fast and closely contested throughout, and the issue was only decided when McMillin tossed a basket from mid-court to break the deadlock. The scoring of Ridings and Milligan, veteran Webfoot guards, was instrumental for the close game. This was the second time this season that the Vandals defeated Coach Rinehart's men after trailing until the last minute of play. Thornhill's guarding featured the Idaho defense.

The following night the Vandals traveled to Corvallis, where they were defeated by Oregon State 43 to 38. The offense of the Orange and Black could not be stopped and they maintained a lead throughout the game. Although twice defeated by Washington State, the Beavers proved to be a stumbling block for the Vandals. Edwards, Ballard and Wascher led the attack for the winners.

The Vandals closed the 1929 basketball season in Moscow with a win over the improved Montana Grizzlies, 44 to 31. Idaho scored freely during the first half to lead 25 to 8. The Montanans came back strongly and launched a drive that fell short of winning, but in doing so came within nine points of catching the Vandals, after being hopelessly outclassed early in the second half 34 to 12. Rule and Rankin scored 10 and 9 counters respectively to lead the visitors, while Stowell with 14 points and McMillin with 15 led the winners. Duffy, Cheyne, Carlson and Collins played in this contest in addition to the five lettermen.

At the close of the basketball season, six members of the Varsity squad received sweaters in recognition of their play. A three-ringed coat sweater was awarded to Captain Darwin K. Burgher. Harold Stowell, Robert Drummond, Frank McMillin and Harold Thornhill won second-year awards; while Harold Carlson received his first Varsity basketball sweater. Milford Collins, Arthur Cheyne and Hugh Duffy played in a number of games during the season but were lacking in the time played to be eligible for letters. Collins alternated as substitute center and guard during the conference games and gave indications of being a tremendous asset to the 1930 basketball team. Art Cheyne, the diminutive forward, failed by very few minutes to be entitled to the sweater award which would have made him a three letter man this year. Cheyne made a letter in football and is regarded as a certainty to repeat at baseball, where he has played shortstop for the past two seasons. Duffy, a speedy forward who showed much promise, is but a sophomore and found it exceedingly difficult to oust Stowell or McMillan for a forward berth. His natural ability will make him a valuable man to next year's team.

With five of the letter winners back in suits next year Fox will have an excellent nucleus for his Varsity machine. His lone problem will be the development of a man for center position, which is vacated by Captain Burgher after three seasons of stellar play. Likely material from this year's freshman squad will give Coach Fox plenty of capable men from which to mold another winning Vandal team. The other northern universities will lose more heavily by graduation, two and three men being lost to next year's teams, so that Vandal followers may confidentially expect a successful season in Idaho basketball next year.

THE NEW FLOOR

Pacific Coast Conference

SEASON 1928-1929

THE PLAYOFF for the conference championship was held in Seattle on March 1 and 2, when the California Golden Bears defeated the Washington Huskies two straight games by scores of 43 to 31 and 30 to 27. In the first fray the Golden Bears piled up an early lead, mainly due to the excellent shooting of Captain Vern Corbin, and the Huskies failed to threaten seriously. The second tilt was more closely contested, with Washington striving vainly to overcome the 21 to 6 lead that the California hoopsters piled up at the end of the first half. The Huskies were aided when Corbin, Stevens and Coffield were ejected from the game on personal fouls, but even this could not turn victory into defeat for the athletes from the sunny state.

Frank McMillin, Idaho Varsity forward, was chosen on all the Pacific coast selections. Leading the northwest division of the conference by scoring 127 points in ten games and fouling but six times during the entire season, were factors which played an important part in his being named. McMillin's deadly one-handed shots and effective left-handed passing made him feared and respected by all opponents. McMillin was also named on several national selections, being selected by Alan J. Gould, celebrated sports critic, as one of the best eight forwards in the United States.

McMillin was voted a miniature gold basketball by the executive board of the University of Idaho as all Pacific coast forward.

1928-29 FRESHMAN SQUAD

Freshman Basketball

THE Idaho Freshman basketball team, coached by Glenn Jacoby, completed a season intermingled with victories and defeats. Suffering from loss of men due to ineligibility and departure from school, Coach Jacoby was confronted with the difficult problem of changing lineups in the attempt to turn out a winning team. The Frosh played two games with the Lewiston Normal, losing both; winning from Moscow high school twice; defeating North Central high school from Spokane and losing to Lewis and Clark high school, also of Spokane. A close, hard-fought contest was lost to the Palouse Athletic Club.

The Washington State Kittens won three of the four-game series played with the local Frosh. The first game, which was played in Pullman, resulted in a W.S.C. victory, 34 to 31, after Idaho had led at half time 15 to 13. Scheckloth and Holstein starred for the winners, the latter counting 18 points. Wes Shurtliff and Stanton Hale were the leading performers for the Idaho yearlings. The Cougars won the second game 55 to 29. The Kittens scored early and had the Vandal babes completely smothered, Carlson scoring 24 points.

The third game was also a loss for Idaho. The Babes started early and led at half time 19 to 12, only to have the Kittens start a scoring orgy that made the final score 40 to 28. The Vandal babes were victorious in the fourth tilt 32 to 30.

Numeral sweaters were awarded to Wesley Shurtliff, Arthur Spaugy, Jack Lee, Stanton Hale, William Hall, Edward Hurley, LaVerne Randall, and Henry Sneddon, who fulfilled the requirement of playing fifty per cent of the playing season's time.

1928-29 STATE CHAMPIONS

State Interscholastic Tournament

THE EIGHT district winners who represented all sections of Idaho at the State High School Basketball Meet, which was held in Moscow March 14, 15, 16 and 18, were Salmon City, Rexburg, Pocatello, Twin Falls, Boise, Lewiston, Coeur d'Alene and Moscow.

The opening day saw Twin Falls and Lewiston eliminated, while the second marked the departure of Rexburg, Salmon, Boise and Moscow from the tournament. Pocatello lost to Coeur d'Alene the first day 20 to 19, so the 34 to 21 victory of the Railroad lads made a third game necessary. This was also won by Pocatello, 23 to 14. The game started slowly and the half ended with the winners leading 9 to 8. McOmber and Thomas tossed baskets to put Pocatello in the lead and added more before the final gun.

Madison high school, Rexburg, was awarded the sportsmanship trophy, while Pocatello received the winner's cup and Coeur d'Alene the runner's-up trophy. The members of the Pocatello team who received gold basketballs were Golden Ahlstrom, Kenneth McOmber, Hugh Daley, Afton Barrett, William Thomas, Calvin McOmber, Vernon McGaugh and Robert Leute.

The all-state team was composed of Peterson, Coeur d'Alene, and Nelson, Moscow, forwards; McOmber, Pocatello, center; Ahlstrom, Pocatello, and Rebensdorf, Coeur d'Alene, guards. The second team was composed of Thomas and Barrett, Pocatello, forwards; Boughton, Coeur d'Alene, center; Wakeman, Boise, and Wilson, Moscow, guards.

1928 VARSITY TRACK SQUAD

The Season of 1928

THE 1928 Idaho track team, coached by Captain Will C. Bryan, experienced a season sparkling with individual performances without victories in dual meets. Injuries and inclement weather reduced the hopes of the Vandal tracksters greatly, but overcoming these handicaps the athletes brought fame and glory to the University. The first outdoor workouts were held in April, barely two weeks before the Triangular meet which was held in Spokane, with Washington State, Gonzaga and Idaho competing. The Idaho tracksters placed second to the Cougars with a total of $53\frac{1}{2}$ points. On May 11, Idaho met Washington State in a dual meet which was won by the Staters 84 to 47. Don Cleaver broke the Idaho record by winning the mile run in 4 minutes and 26 seconds. Hein, W.S.C., tossed the discus 155 feet to win this event. The next was a dual meet at Moscow with Montana, which was won by the Grizzlies by the score of $70\frac{1}{2}$ to $60\frac{1}{2}$. The Idaho medley relay team placed second in the Seattle relay carnival and was entered in the Pacific Coast conference meet, which was held in Missoula on June 3. Don Cleaver won the two-mile race at Missoula and the Idaho mile relay team finished fourth to give the Vandals a total of six points. Cleaver was sent to Chicago to participate in the national track meet which was held in the Windy City June 9. The Idaho captain was nosed out by inches to lose the two-mile event to Abbott, the Illinois ace, after leading until the last twenty yards.

CAPT. W. C. BRYAN

Pacific Coast Conference Meet

MISSOULA, JUNE 3, 1929

THE University of Washington won the Pacific Coast conference track meet which was held in Missoula, Montana, June 3, by amassing a total of $42\frac{1}{2}$ points. Oregon State was second with $33\frac{1}{2}$. This meet drew the pick of the Pacific Coast and all schools were represented with the exception of California and Stanford. Their track teams were participating in the east at the time and were unable to take part in the conference events. Don Cleaver, diminutive Vandal track captain, won the two-mile run in 9 minutes and 43 seconds. Oregon State won the relay, but the Idaho team, composed of Johnson, Norman, Hodson and Stowell, placed fourth to add a point to Cleaver's winning markers in the distance event. The weather was unfavorable, causing slow times and preventing the participation of Charles Borah, the speedy sprinter from the University of Southern California, who was expected to capture both sprints.

National Intercollegiate Meet

CHICAGO, ILLINOIS

AFTER winning the two-mile race at the Pacific Coast conference meet at Missoula, Captain Don Cleaver and Coach Will C. Bryan went to Chicago, where Cleaver entered the two-mile event in the national collegiate meet. The race between Cleaver and Dave Abbott, of the University of Illinois, was the feature of the meet, the Vandal captain losing only after giving the mid-west champ a battle the entire distance. The time recorded was 9 minutes and 28 seconds, and less than two feet separated Cleaver and Abbott as the latter broke the tape.

Freshman Track

THE TURNOUT for Frosh track was small and with the poor training facilities at hand, little hope was entertained for a winning team. The yearlings engaged in but one meet, which was held with the Cougar babes May 25. Washington State won by the one-sided score of 100 to 31, but the meet uncovered some men who have Varsity possibilities. Heath won distance races to lead the Vandals in scoring. Sweely won the broad jump, closely followed by Bradshaw. Mooberry of Washington State was also a double winner to tie Heath for high point honors. Heath and Sweely were awarded numeral sweaters for their work.

TWIN FALLS STATE CHAMPIONS

State Interscholastic Meet

THE STATE high school track meet which was held in Moscow May 12 was won by Twin Falls with 28 points, while Boise was a close second with 26 markers. Over one hundred athletes from all parts of the state participated and the meet was a huge success. The Twin Falls athletes won three first places and the relay, but captured enough second and third places to give them victory over the lads from the Capital City. Lemp, of Boise, was high point man with firsts in the high hurdles and high jump, and a second in the broad jump. Williams, of Teton, won both weight events and Jossis, of Meridian, captured both sprints in near-record time. Jossis won the century in 10 seconds and the furlong in 22 seconds flat.

Robertson, Twin Falls hurdler, turned in the only record-breaking performance when he won the 220-yard hurdles in 25.4 seconds, breaking the record of Alvord, also of Twin Falls. Other first place winners were: P. Tucker, Caldwell, quarter-mile; Goiceechea, Salmon City, half-mile; Streifus, Twin Falls, pole vault; Jacoby, Twin Falls, broad jump; and Justus, Coeur d'Alene, javelin. The performance of Williams, Teton weight man, was noteworthy, for he rose from a sick bed to compete and capture the shot with a mighty heave of 45 feet 5 inches, and came back to toss the discus 118 feet 3 inches to outdistance Fry of Boise, who was a close second. Lemp's all-around work was the outstanding individual performance. He bettered 5 feet 7 inches in the high jump and won the 120-yard hurdles over Bethel of Lewiston, who pressed him. To climax the day, he finished a close second to Jacoby of Twin Falls, who leaped over 21 feet to win the broad jump.

The 1928 Baseball Season

WITH EIGHT veterans and a quantity of likely material from the 1927 freshman nine out for the first practice late in March, Idaho's 1928 baseball campaign looked fairly promising. Coach Fox's practice program for the squad was hampered somewhat by poor weather, however; and the first game found the regulars with but a few outdoor skirmishes under their belts for conditioning.

The turnout showed a strong defensive infield, with McMillin on first, Greene on the second sack, Cheyne at short, and Murray on the hot corner. McMillin was the lone newcomer to the infield, the other three having won their spurs in previous years. "Whitey" Lawrence, hurling his second year for the Varsity, was supported on the mound by Grabner and Richardson; and Sullivan, two-year backstop, did the catching with Sumpter in reserve. Ficke and Jacoby were the only two veterans left in the gardens. Baird's shoes were ably filled by Price. Homling, outfielder, and Daubert, a south-paw twirler, furnished new material for the squad.

The Vandal baseball season opened early in April with an Easter vacation barnstorming tour. The Idaho club walloped Lewiston Normal twice, and repeated the feat against the Orofino Athletic Club in the next two games. Sumpter gave the "nuts" a treat by displaying his phenomenal "fly ball" peg to second during the contests. George Greene played the Babe Ruth act by calling on his old cronies at the asylum to autograph baseballs for them.

The conference season opened at Pullman April 27 with a victory over the Cougars and ended several weeks later under reverse circumstances, Washington State finally winning the northwest division title.

At the end of the season three ringed sweaters went to Sullivan, Greene, Murray and Jacoby, two year awards to Cheyne, Lawrence and Ficke; and first awards to Greeling, Price, Richardson, Grabner and McMillin. Of this list five will return for the season of 1929.

Non-Conference Games

IN THE first collegiate competition of the season Idaho split a two-game series with Whitman. After winning the opening game in a hectic encounter 9-7, Idaho dropped the second 3-2 in a pitchers' battle.

The Idaho sluggers added more victories to their list of non-conference battles by trouncing the Gonzaga nine in two straight games. In the first encounter, Idaho shoved across scores in the second and third innings, while the Bulldogs' lone tally came in the sixth, when the center fielder smacked out a three-bagger, the only long hit of the game. After trailing Gonzaga from the fourth frame, Idaho hit a batting streak in the eighth, which, coupled with a Gonzaga error, gave the Vandals three rings and the second victory of the series, 5 to 4.

Winning both games by a margin of only one run, the Vandals chalked up two more wins against the Missionaries in the return series at Moscow. The first game was featured by a pitching duel between Richardson, Idaho, and Webster, Whitman's southpaw ace, that was not decided until the ninth inning. The score: Idaho 6, Whitman 5. In the second game the Vandals came back in their half of the eighth inning to score the deciding run to win 11-10, after the Walla Walla men had garnered six runs off the Idaho pitchers.

Idaho ended its very successful season by splitting a two-game series with Gonzaga at the Natatorium Park, Spokane. The first game went to the Bulldogs 6 to 5, but in the second Idaho converted 12 hits and 4 Gonzaga errors into eight runs to break a one-run tie existing up to the fifth inning, and won 8 to 1.

Montana Series

IN THE first of a two-game series with Montana at Missoula, the Vandal batsmen went down to defeat by a score of 3 to 1. This was Idaho's first loss of the year with the exception of a pre-season game at Orofino. Idaho came back in the second encounter to hit the Grizzlies off their feet to the count of 7-2.

The Vandals settled all doubts as to their superiority over Montana on the diamond by winning both of a two-game series on their home field. The first game was a very uncertain contest, when Idaho, with a six-run lead up to the eighth inning went into a slump that almost proved costly. Lawrence, star Vandal hurler, weakened in this inning to allow five singles, the last of which brought in three runs. With one down in the ninth Montana threatened to tie the score, but the day was saved when Lawrence cut off a man at the home plate and Cheyne picked up a hot one, tagged second and forced a third out. Idaho tallied 11 hits for 6 runs, to their opponents' 8 hits and 4 runs.

While Everett Richardson, Vandal hurler, was being touched for 12 hits, Idaho's slugging crew drove Rafferty, Grizzly chucker, from the mound in gathering 11 runs and won the second game of the series, 11-8. Eight home runs and 23 hits made the contest practically a track meet. Art Cheyne, diminutive shortstop, added color to the already gala affair with his expert fielding and slugging ability, clouting out two home runs in his two trips to the plate. Despite Richardson's loose pitching, the terrific hitting of his mates kept him in the lead. Cheyne's home runs came with men on bases. Twice with the hit and run sign on, he reached far to drive out homers.

Washington State Series

IN THEIR first conference game of the season, the Vandal ball club converted 13 hits into 12 runs to defeat the Washington State Cougars 12-5. The game was played on Rogers field in a blinding dust storm that made fielding erratic. Cheyne, with three hits, two of them home runs, in five times at bat and Price, with three hits in five trips to the plate, led the hitters for the day. The second game of the series was postponed indefinitely because of wet weather.

The baseball championship for the eastern division of the Pacific Coast Conference was left to be decided by a fourth game between Idaho and W.S.C. when these teams split a two-game series at Moscow and Pullman respectively. Allowing but two hits, Everett Lawrence, letterman twirler, pitched Idaho to a 2-0 victory before the largest crowd of Idaho fans that turned out during the season. The Vandals dropped the second game at Pullman by a 2-1 score. Grabner pitched shutout ball for eight innings and received excellent support, only one error being made. Jacoby made the best fielding play of the day in the sixth inning by cutting off Buckley at first base after the W.S.C. third sacker had poled out a hot grounder.

Vandal scoring rallies in the sixth, seventh and ninth innings fell one run short of tying the 10-run lead W.S.C. had piled up early in the game, and the Cougars won the championship of the eastern division, 11-10. Idaho scored two runs in the ninth inning with the tying tally remaining on second base as the slug-fest ended.

Washington State next played Oregon State for the championship of the northwest division of the Pacific Coast conference and emerged victorious.

Freshman Baseball

IN ANSWER to Coach Richard Fox's call for freshman baseball aspirants thirty-five yearling ball tossers had their first practice late in April. The training facilities for the frosh squad were and still are inadequate, there being but one practice field for baseball available to University students and the Varsity used that. A temporary diamond was laid out on the football field for the use of the first-year men. This arrangement proved to be a complete success except that spring football practice was on at the time, and the frosh diamond aspirants were subject to attack from behind at all times by end runs, cross bucks, and an occasional fake reverse. In spite of the handicaps the freshmen did get a little practice by pig-tailing for the Varsity occasionally.

The only two games on the yearling schedule were two against the Cougar Kittens from Washington State College. The Pullman frosh had a pretty fair ball club and handed the homeless Baby Vandals a sound thrashing on both occasions. There were many promising players in the Idaho lineup, but lack of practice slowed the team work up.

The fact that only two games were scheduled for them was no fault of the freshmen, yet the executive board refused to grant numerals to the men. The following freshmen were members of the team: Lester Fuller, first base; John Eaton, second base; Lawrence Burton, shortstop; Burt Richardson, third base; Matt Beglan, catcher; Bus Grimm, Vernon Vavricks, "Lefty" Wilson and Harold Jacobs, pitchers; and Al Morgan, Clarence Doyle and Elmer Martin, outfielders.

BETA THETA PI

Volleyball

THE INTRAMURAL volleyball tournament was handled on the double elimination basis, with a consolation tournament being held for the losers. The consolation winner in turn played the team finishing in second place for the right to that position. Being a comparatively new sport for men on the campus, it was feared that there would be a lack of interest in the sport, but as the season progressed enthusiasm increased and the contests were well attended.

The Beta Theta Pi team, composed of James Vance, Vernon Eaton, Darold Smith, Everett Lawrence, Harold Drummond and Kenneth Marchesi, won the intramural championship by defeating Phi Delta Theta, winners of the "B" league. The score of the championship series was 15-13, 15-3, 15-9. After losing the opening game, the Phi Delts wilted to permit the winners to crash through and win the last two games quickly.

The Lindley Hall team, captained by Paul Boyd, won the second place in "B" league by defeating Phi Gamma Delta two out of three torrid games by the scores of 16-14, 13-15 and 15-5. Alpha Tau Omega was defeated by Lambda Chi for second place in "A" league in straight games. By virtue of winning the "A" league championship, the Betas were awarded 75 points and an additional 25 points for defeating the Phi Delts in the championship series. Phi Delta Theta won 75 points as champions of "B" league, with Lindley Hall receiving 50 points for second place. Lambda Chi Alpha won 50 points for finishing second in the "A" league.

BETA THETA PI

Cross-Country

CHARLES HEATH covered himself with glory when he won the two and one-fifth miles cross country race to give Beta Theta Pi first place in this branch of intramural sport and add 100 points to the increasing total of that group. The race, which was run November 7, started at dusk and, run entirely on University ground, finished on McLean Field under the rays of the football field flood lights. Heath, who was outstanding with his distance running on last year's frosh track squad, finished several hundred yards ahead of his nearest competitor to win in the excellent time of 11 minutes and 6 seconds.

The athletes who followed Heath are: Ralph Ormsby, Kappa Sigma; Phil DuSault, Sigma Chi; William Carlson, Lindley Hall; Andrew Little, Beta Theta Pi; Jere Long, Tau Kappa Epsilon; Fred Roberts, Tau Mem Aleph; Maurice Muzzey, Tau Kappa Epsilon; Byron Sewell, Delta Chi; William Leaton, Sigma Chi; Herman Hilfiker, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; and Jack Storjahann, unattached.

Points were based on the first twelve men to place, the winner receiving twelve points, second place eleven, etc. On the basis of this scoring the group totals were: Beta 20, Sigma Chi 13, Tau Kappa Epsilon 12, Kappa Sigma 11, Lindley Hall 9, Tau Mem Aleph 6, Delta Chi 4, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon 2.

The participants were forced to train vigorously for the race and each contestant was examined before the start, thus eliminating any chance of injury from the grind.

BETA THETA PI

Basketball

AFTER playing three hotly contested tilts, the Betas were returned winners over Sigma Alpha Epsilon in the series for the intramural basketball championship. The Betas won the first 22 to 12, but the S.A.E. quintet evened the count with a 24 to 23 victory. In the third and deciding game the "A" league champs merged victorious by the score of 21 to 19, after the S.A.E. team had held a 13 to 10 lead at half-time. Eaton sank the winning basket with only thirty seconds of play remaining. The Betas won the championship of "A" league by winning seven games and having no defeats while the S.A.E.'s likewise went through the regular schedule undefeated.

Kappa Sigma was second in the "A" league with five victories and two defeats, while Sigma Nu followed the S.A.E. team in "B" league with five wins and one loss.

The player's named on The Argonaut's all-intramural team are: Barrett, S.A.E., and Lawrence, Beta, forwards; Sommercamp, Kappa Sigma, center; Peterson, S.A.E., and Brimhall, Beta, guards. The second team included: Beyer, Sigma Chi, and Eaton, Beta, forwards; Smith, Beta, center; Glase, Beta Chi, and Norman, Sigma Nu, guards.

The "feature" game was played post-season when the two teams that had played throughout the tournament without a victory met to decide the worst team. The Tekes defeated Alpha Tau Omega 20 to 10, in the game for the cellar championship.

The leading scorers of the tournament were: Barrett, Lawrence, Beyer, Sommercamp and Brock.

BETA THETA PI

Swimming

THE SWIMMING MEET was made a part of the regular intramural program and the events were run off April 5, 8 and 9. The first two evenings were occupied in running off the preliminaries, while all the finals were completed on the last night. The Betas captured first place to bring their total of consecutive intramural victories to four, giving them a lead of more than double that of their nearest rivals, Kappa Sigma.

Sweeping to victory in both relay events, the 50-yard free stroke, the 50-yard backstroke, the 100- and 200-yard free style events, the Betas forged into an early lead and were never headed. Richter and Grimm were double winners and swam in the relays. McGonigle, Kappa Sigma, swam the 50-yard breast stroke in 40 seconds to win this race from Ostrander, who was a close second.

The Delta Chis held sway in the plunge for distance, with Spence winning first place and Collier second. The winning plunge was 55 feet. In the underwater swim, Mitchell, Phi Gamma Delta, set a new Idaho record when he swam 205 feet to win over McGonigle, who had registered 185 feet. The diving event was closely contested, and it was a difficult task for the judge to select the winner. Sheridan, Kappa Sigma, won over a large field with a total of 63.2 points. Shurtliff, Alpha Tau Omega, was second with 69.2 points, while Adams, Sigma Chi, was a close third with 62.4 points. The point total for the meet was distributed as follows: Beta Theta Pi, 33; Kappa Sigma, 14; Phi Gamma Delta, 13; Alpha Tau Omega, 8; Delta Chi, 8; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 7; Lambda Chi Alpha, 4; Lindley Hall, 2; and Sigma Chi, 1.

INTRAMURAL MANAGERS

Intramural Program

THE 1928-29 intramural program as drawn up by Director of Physical Education Ralph Hutchinson was the most extensive that Idaho students had ever witnessed. Eight branches of sport were included in the program: volleyball, cross-country, basketball, swimming, indoor and outdoor baseball, tennis and track.

The method of award was also changed from the former plan of awarding a trophy for each event. The plan called for the awards for each branch to be made on a point basis with a trophy to be awarded to the group having the largest number of points at the end of the season. The groups were divided into leagues, "A" and "B." "A" league includes Beta Theta Pi, Lambda Chi, Alpha Tau Omega, Ridenbaugh Hall, Beta Chi, Tau Mem Aleph, Kappa Sigma and Delta Chi. "B" league embraces Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Phi Gamma Delta, Lindley Hall, Sigma Nu, Sigma Chi, Tau Kappa Epsilon and Phi Delta Theta.

The points were awarded on the basis of 75 points to each league winner and 50 points to second place, with an additional 25 to the winner of the play-off between the leaders of the two leagues. The swimming meet and cross-country run were on a point system, due to the fact that the races were completed without elimination and league differentiation.

Coaches Rich Fox and Stewart Beam gave much of their time in the task of making this program a huge success.

Activities

TAU KAPPA EPSILON

The Burton L. French Scholarship Cup

THE BURTON L. FRENCH Scholarship Cup is an award to the group of men on the University of Idaho campus, having a general home for the accommodation of not less than sixty per cent of its members, which has attained for a year the highest competitive scholarship average. Groups of men students eligible for competition for the cup are such definite groups as fraternities, cooperative societies and other organizations. The cup becomes the permanent possession of the group which wins it for three successive years.

This cup was won for three successive years by the Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity, which thus became the permanent possessor of the trophy. Another cup was offered by Mr. French on the same basis as the first one. Tau Kappa Epsilon won the cup this year with the average of 4.636. This is the third time that they have won the trophy, so the second cup is now the permanent possession of Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity.

Mr. French has graciously offered a third cup, which will be up for competition for men's groups next year.

KAPPA ALPHA THETA

The Mary McClintock Upham Scholarship Cup

THE TRADITION of offering a silver loving cup to the group of women on the University of Idaho campus attaining for a year the highest comparative scholarship average was begun by Mrs. Elizabeth Kidder Lindley in 1922. The regulations governing the presentation of the cup stated that any group of women, the majority of whose members lived in the same house, attaining the highest scholarship average for a year should have temporary possession of the cup until such time when one group should win it three times consecutively, when they shall receive the cup permanently.

The Pi Beta Phi Sorority won the permanent possession of this cup in 1925, so Mrs. Mary McClintock Upham offered a similar cup to carry on the tradition. The cup was won for two successive years by Alpha Phi, then Pi Sigma Rho, but last year when almost in sight of their goal of permanent possession, the cup was won by Kappa Alpha Theta. Kappa Alpha Theta won the cup with the splendid average of 5.024, and had the honor of having three members of Phi Beta Kappa in the house last year. The winning group has its name inscribed on the cup each time, so there are three names on the cup at present, and there will be at least two more, if not many more, before the cup becomes the permanent possession of any group.

STOWASSER

Sigma Tau Medal

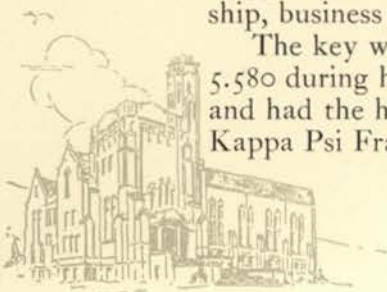

THE SIGMA TAU Scholarship Medal is given each year by the Idaho Chapter of Sigma Tau to the sophomore who, in his freshman year, has made the highest grades in the College of Engineering or in the School of Mines. Sigma Tau is a national honorary engineering fraternity which has as its ideal high scholarship and outstanding ability in its field. The fraternity has done much to further this ideal among its members, and takes this method of spurring on to greater effort the freshman, who is just beginning his technical education.

The medal was won last year by Harold Wayland of the College of Engineering with an average of 5.853.

Alpha Kappa Psi Key

THE ALPHA KAPPA PSI prize is a golden key given by the Alpha Kappa Psi fraternity to the man in the School of Business Administration who attains the highest scholarship average during his sophomore year. Alpha Kappa Psi is a national honorary business fraternity with ideals of scholarship, business ability and integrity.

The key was won last year by Allen Stowasser, who had an average of 5.580 during his sophomore year. Mr. Stowasser is majoring in accounting and had the honor this year of being pledged and initiated into the Alpha Kappa Psi Fraternity.

GRABNER

LAWRENCE

Charles Erb Scholarship Cup

THE CHARLES ERB Scholarship Cup is a silver loving cup which is given to the letterman with the highest scholastic average. Mr. Erb is awarding this cup with the idea of furthering scholarship among athletes. The cup was first offered in 1927 and was won by Everett Lawrence, veteran varsity baseball pitcher, with an average of 5.371. Last year Mr. Lawrence again won the cup, this time with an average of 5.618. He very generously gave the award to the next high man, who was Floren Grabner, with an average of 5.514. Mr. Lawrence and Mr. Grabner are the outstanding pitchers of the Idaho Varsity baseball nine.

Xi Sigma Pi Tablet

EACH YEAR Epsilon Chapter of Xi Sigma Pi engraves on a bronze tablet in the Administration Building the names of the four forestry students of highest scholarship average in the four classes. Xi Sigma Pi is a national honorary forestry fraternity.

This last year the men whose names appear on the tablet are: Senior, Charles E. Fox with an average of 5.813; Junior, George J. Illichevsky with an average of 5.711; Sophomore, George M. Jemison with an average of 5.444; Freshman, Fred R. Newcomer with an average of 5.162. This is the third time that Mr. Illichevsky's name has appeared on the tablet.

JENNINGS

The Rhodes Scholarship

THE RHODES SCHOLARSHIP, through the bequest of the late Cecil Rhodes, consists of a scholarship of approximately $1,900 a year at Oxford University. These are tenable for three years and appointments are made in two out of every three years by the committee of selection, consisting for the most part of former Rhodes scholars. McKean F. Morrow of Boise is the secretary of this committee for the State of Idaho.

According to the terms of the Rhodes will, the candidate must have completed his sophomore year and must be distinguished by:

"(1) His literary and scholastic attainments; (2) his fondness for and success in manly outdoor sports, such as cricket, football and the like; (3) his qualities of manhood, truth, courage, devotion to duty, sympathy for, and protection of, the weak, kindness, unselfishness and fellowship, and (4) his exhibition during school days of moral force of character and of instincts to lead and to take an interest in his schoolmates."

The Rhodes scholar appointed this year was Farnsworth Leroy Jennings. Mr. Jennings was graduated in 1928 with highest honors for his four years in the University. He is a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon social fraternity and of Phi Beta Kappa. While in college he was outstanding in debate and in creative writing both for The Blue Bucket and Under the Helmet.

Dramatic Activity

IN DRAMA as in nothing else do we find the greatest reflection and expression of life and the best opportunity for character study. Through the years our department of drama has met every expectation of the University and has enhanced the interest of incoming students for this work. The historic pageant has given the people of the state an intense interest in this department and a realization of what can be done for their own children in dramatic work at the University of Idaho. The dramatic department probably creates greater interest than most departments because of the fascination that the stage has for everyone—for those who themselves have ability to act, and for those who enjoy being the audience.

Those not interested personally in dramatic work but who know its great value in the development of poise and personality are hoping that more students on the campus will realize the importance of stage training.

It is felt that the great success of the department is due to the unusual skill of the director, John H. Cushman, and his capable assistants, Hester Yost Brenn and Alene Honeywell Curtis, both of whom spent several years in dramatics at the University.

As Maude Sheerer, dramatic reader of New York City, said on her visit here, "If we want to know the world and are unable to travel, there is no way by which we may learn it more truly than through drama."

The May Fete

THE STORY of The Drama of the Seasons was enacted in dance at the May Fete on May 16, 1928. Barbara Rugg, May Queen, was Persephone, who, according to Greek mythology, had been stolen away from her mother, Demeter, Margaret Scilley. She had been carried off to the underworld to be the bride of Hades, represented by Jane Reid. Demeter, in anger and grief, pronounced the curse of winter, of winds and snow, drought and famine as long as her daughter should be kept from her. Flowers withered and all plant life died. Finally, Zeus, alarmed at these conditions on earth, sent his messenger Hermes, Olive Giffen, to tell the goddess that her daughter would be returned for six months of every year. Persephone was summoned back to earth and there was great rejoicing and dancing as the lost daughter was crowned Queen of the Returning Spring. In this processional of Persephone came the Maid of Honor, Ersie Trauger, and the Page, Loise Dunlap. It was quite an unusual feature to have the May Queen and her attendants a part of the pageant itself. The Queen wore the white satin dress made in Greek style which, since 1927, has been handed down traditionally to each succeeding May Queen.

There was some comment on the unusual and beautiful color effects employed in the sixty-five individual dances and in the dances around the two Maypoles. A new site was chosen for this May Fete, on the northern end of the campus, where the space was less broken up by walks and trees. This site will probably be used by succeeding May Festivals.

According to custom, there was the usual Processional of Senior Women, followed by Mortar Board and Silver Lance pledging.

Maypole dances and costumes were under the direction of Mrs. Florence Richardson Goff and pageant dances and costumes were supervised by Miss L. Janette Wirt.

THE SCENE OF ALL COLLEGE PLAYS—THE AUDITORIUM

Stuntfest—1928

THE WAY OF ALL FROSH brought the Senior Class to the fore by winning first place in the annual Stunt Fest. As the title and the stunt indicated, the Seniors saw Samuel Butler's novel in a slightly different light. However, all the elements of a good story were represented in their little sketch, such as a vamp who used her mascaroed eyes on "Pa" Kallikak, a whole family of little, bawling Kallikaks, interested Pullman passengers, and "Ma," who was kept busy diverting "Pa's" attention from the flirtatious woman.

In the Song Contest as well the Seniors scored, "The 'I' Song," a very good march written by Mrs. Lois Russell, winning first prize. It was sung by fourteen senior men, who by their actions gave the appearance of a pep rally.

The Juniors staged a very realistic trial in their stunt, "Try and Get Your Man." "Idaho Flights," by Clair Gale and Ethel Lafferty, made a big hit as the Junior Song. The Juniors presented it in a very clever manner by representing a section of the stadium at a football game.

"Every Fourth Year," put on by the Sophomores, was a take-off on the pageant, "The Light on the Mountains," in which clever conversation was carried on between groups of Indians who were out playing golf, and Sacajawea, represented as a modern young woman. This class sang an Idaho pep song written by Margaret Becker.

"Free Shines in 'A' Flat" proved to be a minstrel show, the contribution of the Freshman class. These blackface singers entertained with novel songs, dances and jokes. Their song, "Memories of Idaho," was composed by Joe Pearson.

The survival of that barbarity, militarism, is satirized by George Bernard Shaw in “Arms and the Man.” He successfully ridicules the prevalent superstition that the donning of a uniform changes the nature of the wearer and makes him a real hero. The cast worked together in excellent unity to show the fallacy of such a notion and forced us to laugh with Mr. Shaw at our perverted ideas of war.

Advanced Play Production

THE Advanced Play Production Class is occupied principally with the staging of three-act plays. However, they also put on the more difficult of the one-act plays and assist the elementary classes in producing their plays. The presence of a more advanced dramatic student in a play with beginners often proves to be a valuable help. When this class was not working on the long plays, they put on several one-act plays. "The Weak Spot," "The Vanishing Princess" and "Two Crooks and a Lady" comprise this group of shorter plays.

Elementary Play Production

TECHNIQUE of acting and mechanics of the stage are studied first by the Elementary Class in Play Production. Their initial experience in acting comes in pantomime work. When they have learned something about scenery, lighting, costuming and stage presence, they go on to make-up work and spend their time learning to make up for all stock characters. The remainder of the year is devoted to folk-dancing, through which the budding actors are expected to develop grace and ease and to attain poise in general stage manners. During the entire year they appear in the greater number of one-act plays that are produced.

One Act Plays

DESPERATE crooks and dainty fairies, gypsies and lady thieves, conceited salesmen and match-making mothers were all to be found in the one-act plays of this season. The most jaded taste could certainly be pleased by some of these plays, for every variety of subject and plot, of character and setting, was represented in this well-chosen group.

"The Vanishing Princess," with Frank McKeown, Louise Lamielle, Harry Robb, and Harold Packer would please those who like magicians and jumping-jacks and all such strange things. "Tired" was a clever little play about two sisters who were dissatisfied with their lot. The cast was made up of Cora Jensen, Lillian Woodworth, Helen Wann, Melvin Stewart, Mary Murphy and Ruth Randall. In "Two Crooks and a Lady" there was enough excitement to keep one awake for a week. Pistols and stolen diamonds were the big features of this exciting crook melodrama with the following cast: Jess Honeywell, Estelle Pickrell, Miriam Howerton, Virginia Grant, Arthur Ensign and Frank McKeown. "The Home for the Friendly" was mainly a collection of friendly freaks with high-powered souls and poetic dispositions. Donald Corless, Stanley Dolan, Charles Herndon, Lois Kennedy, Merle Frizzelle, Milton Lockwood, Frances Gallet, Mary Ellen Adams and Jeraldine Sherfey composed the cast.

The next group of plays was headed by "The Master Salesman," starring one of those salesmen whose technique is so good that it frightens his victim. Merle Frizzelle, Alice Nash and Warren Gochenour took the parts in this play. "Smarty's Party" was a tragi-comedy of a mother and her "smarty" son—"When Smarty gives a party—nobody can come—but Smarty—not even his mother." The cast was: Zelda Newcomb, Stanton Hale, Frances Larson and Eleanor Williams. "Thank You, Doctor," with Clayne Robison, Dorothy Pierce, Charles Herndon, Esther Johnston and Harry Robb, was another thief story. "Changing Places" showed the tragic result when husband and wife become dissatisfied and decide to change places. The following composed the cast: Dan McGrath, Cora Jensen, Vernon Hudelson, and Margaret Foss.

"Good Medicine," a group of pantomimes, "The Weak Spot" and "Evening Dress Indispensable" comprised the last group of plays. The first of these, played by Stanton Hale, Lois Kennedy and Frances Gallet, was a story of an old lady trying to find an honest doctor. "The Weak Spot" was shown to be that weakness which everyone has for superstition. These parts were taken by Arthur Ensign, Germaine Gimble and Carol Feltis. "Evening Dress Indispensable" was the story of a thoughtful mother trying to lead her ultra-modern daughter into a wise marriage. The cast was as follows: Bertha Moore, Eleanor Williams, Frank McKeown, Joe Pearson, Clayne Robison and Helen Heimsoth.

In these one-act plays considerable talent was displayed which it is hoped will be developed in the three-act plays for next year.

The Music Department

THE MUSIC DEPARTMENT of the University of Idaho has had an unusually active and successful year, under the very able direction of Professor Theodore Kratt with the assistance of Miss Maude Garnett and Professor Carl Claus. Much of the credit for the successful year is due to Professor Kratt. Besides his work as head of the department, Mr. Kratt has had personal charge of the Men's Glee Club and has been active in the field of music throughout the state as president of the Idaho State Music Teachers Association. Mr. Kratt's services have also been in much demand as judge of music contests, both in Idaho and in other states. He was judge at the Montana State Music Contest held at Bozeman, Montana, and was selected for the honor of conducting the all-state chorus, composed of all competing choruses, when it appeared in concert on the final night of the contest. Mr. Kratt was also judge of the Idaho State Music Contest held in Coeur d'Alene in June.

The most outstanding achievement of the department was the production of the oratorio, Mendelssohn's "Elijah," on May 12 and 13. This oratorio was presented by a choral group of two hundred voices, the largest of its kind ever assembled under University direction. Professor Kratt personally directed the production and is responsible for its success.

Professor Carl Claus, director of the orchestra, is much in demand as a concert violinist. He has appeared before the Chamber of Commerce, Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs, and with Miss Mariam Treleven in joint recital before the Musical Arts Society of Spokane. Mr. Claus appeared also with Miss Agnes Crawford in joint recital and in the faculty recital.

Miss Maude Garnett, director of the Treble Clef Club, is active in executive capacities in the field of music throughout the state. Miss Garnett is president of the Moscow Music Club and first vice-president of the State Federation of Music Teachers, and has been active in directing high school music contests sponsored by the University of Idaho Department of Music.

University Orchestra

UNDER THE direction of Professor Carl Claus, the University Symphony Orchestra has set a new record for activity during the past year with an unusual number of public appearances and a personnel larger than that of any previous year. From a membership of eight or ten only a few years ago, the University Orchestra has grown to forty-two pieces.

The quality of the work of the orchestra has kept pace with its growth in size and the standard of excellence attained by the present organization was well evidenced by the unusually fine concert program presented in January.

Other activities of the orchestra include its appearance in joint recital with the Men's Glee Club and the Treble Clef Club, appearances at plays given by the Dramatics department and its accompaniment of the oratorio, Mendelssohn's "Elijah," given under the direction of the Department of Music. Members of the orchestra were: First Violins: York Kildea, Norman Stedtfeld, Jean Edmiston, Ruth Newhouse, Vivian Edmiston, Portia Glindeman, Harold Kirklin, Helen Parrott; Second Violins: Lucy Hurley, Nina Newman, Karleen Morse, Agnes McKeirnan, Aldon Tall, Asael Tall, Virginia Vanderhoff, Charles Selle; Violas: Russell Hodgson, Marcella Kraemer, Dorothy Messenger; Violoncellos: Estelle Ruick, Esther Mitchell, Lucie Womack, Oren Boone; Basses: Lucile Glindeman, Marjorie Jones; Flutes: Anna J. Tucker, Ruth Burns, Walter Friberg; Clarinets: Leigh Gittins, John Sandmeyer, Dolores Holmes; Baritone Saxophone: Ralph L. Olmstead; Horns: Charles McConnell, Lamar Ferguson; Trumpets: Floyd Suter, Harold Wheeler, Charles Ratcliffe; Trombones: Theodore Sandmeyer, Malcolm Renfrew; Piano: Dorothy Whitenack; Percussion: William Hawkins.

University Glee Club

SEVERAL noteworthy appearances have been made this year by the University of Idaho Glee Club, which has appeared at University affairs and has also sung before various business organizations in Moscow. The organization this year has a membership of thirty-two. Members are chosen on a competitive basis and the care with which Professor Kratt, Director of the Club, made his selections has resulted in the building up of a strong personnel of more than ordinary talent.

The Glee Club appeared in joint recital with the Treble Clef Club and the University Symphony Orchestra during Music Week. During April the Glee Club made a concert tour, their itinerary including Coeur d'Alene, Sandpoint and Wallace in Idaho, and Spokane, Washington. While in Spokane the club broadcasted over Station KHQ. Excellent work has been done this year by the Men's Quartet, a sub-organization of the Glee Club, under the student managership of John Soden. Members of the quartet were Forest Brigham, Clarence Sample, William Shamberger and Conway Adams. Members of the club are:

Treble Clef Club

THE UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO has been fortunate to have on its campus a vocal organization of such exceptionally high quality as this year's Treble Clef Club. Under the direction of Miss Maude Garnett the club made its first appearance at a December assembly, where it presented a varied and interesting Christmas program.

The annual concert of the club, given on May 9, was noteworthy for the highly artistic work of the club as a whole and for the especially fine work of the sextet, composed of Rachel Jenks, Florence Oberg, Miriam Burton, Pauline Paterka, Elizabeth McBirney and Agnes Ramstedt. This year the sextet also appeared twice in concert numbers before the Inland Empire Teachers Association in Spokane. Members of the Association complimented the work of the sextet highly.

University of Idaho Pep Band

FOR THE first time since its organization, the University of Idaho Pep Band is entirely under student direction and its student director, Sam Hutchings and student manager, Tom McGonigle, deserve a large share of the credit for the unusually successful year enjoyed by the organization.

The band has received much commendation throughout the year, especially last fall following its trip to California, when it accompanied the University of Idaho football team to San Francisco at the time of the Idaho-Stanford game. While on this trip the Pep Band appeared in several public performances which were received with enthusiasm by the audiences, and which served to establish a unique name and reputation for this University organization along the west coast.

Besides its appearance at athletic events during the year, the Band presented its annual concert on April 24. The feature of this year's program was the starring of a special twelve-piece orchestra in several popular jazz numbers. The remainder of the program was taken up with the presentation of classical band numbers by the entire band. The program showed thoughtful care in planning and unusually fine talent and spirit in presentation. The excellent quality of Mr. Hutchings' work as director was evidenced in the artistic manner in which these heavier numbers were handled by the band.

The Idaho Pep Band, always a popular organization in the University, has received this year more than its usual quota of enthusiastic commendation, and has been entirely deserving of every word of praise spoken in its behalf.

Members of the Pep Band were: Trumpets: Maurice Nelson, Joe Pearson, Arthur Kryger, Floyd Suter, Harry Walden; Clarinets: Sam Hutchings, Leigh Gittins, Thomas McGonigle, Robert Nixon; Trombones: Aldon Tall, Ray Kelley, Peter Pence, Walden Reiniger; Altos: Charles McConnell, Dale Goss, Hoyt Stephenson, Melvin Fuller; Snare Drum: Charles Terhune; Bass Drum: Allen Stowasser; Baritone: Frederick Sanger; Bass Horn: Frank Rettig.

University String Quartet

THE UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO String Quartet, under the direction of Professor Carl Claus, has become one of the outstanding musical organizations of the University. This year's Quartet had an exceptionally talented personnel. Its members were: Professor Carl Claus, First Violin; York Kildea, Second Violin; Ruth Newhouse, Viola; and Estelle Ruick, Cello.

The present Quartet has been the most active of any in the history of its organization. It has appeared at vesper services at the University throughout the year, and has been much in demand by organizations outside of the University. It has filled numerous engagements with Moscow business clubs, and has appeared a number of times before the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs and the Moscow Chamber of Commerce. The Quartet also appeared in joint recital with the Men's Glee Club, the Treble Clef Club and the University Symphony Orchestra, given under the auspices of the Department of Music.

One of the most creditable accomplishments of the Quartet for the year was its successful and popular concert tour of northern Idaho in connection with the Men's Glee Club tour. The Quartet proved popular with Idaho audiences and added much to the effectiveness of the Glee Club recitals.

Appearances of the Quartet this year have been greeted with more than usual enthusiasm and much of the credit for its popularity with the public and the highly artistic quality of its work is due to Professor Claus, whose able conductorship and excellence as an artist and member of the group have brought the quartet to its present standard of artistic achievement.

The Reserve Officers Training Corps

THE present commendable standing of the University of Idaho unit of the Reserve Officers Training Corps is duly recognized by the fact that it has twice been given distinguished rating. The success of the operation of this unit is due largely to the persistent and conscientious supervision of Colonel E. R. Chrisman. The excellent cooperation of the present Regular Army Staff in all the activities and instructions undertaken renders military training in this unit a privilege. This is attested to by the fact that many applicants for the advanced course could not be accommodated, due to capacity enrollment this year.

The rapid developments in modern warfare resulting from the World War have necessitated a scientific preparation and training if we expect to cope successfully with other World Powers in case of necessity. The statement, "To be prepared is to enjoy peace," is no fallacy. It is this belief and this hope that has prompted Congress to pass measures providing for compulsory military training in all the land grant colleges. It is on these training centers that the nation is confidently depending for efficient and successful leadership in its future military engagements. We feel that the instructors of this unit fully appreciate this fact, and have the welfare of the nation at heart in their earnest endeavors to produce capable junior officers.

Supplementing the practical and theoretical military knowledge to be gained from this instruction, the students are also imbued with a sense of responsibility, cooperation and discipline, which are invaluable assets to members of any society in any walks of life.

The Advanced Course students secure further practical training at the R.O.T.C. summer camp which is conducted at Fort George Wright, at Spokane, Washington.

All expenses incurred by the student while at this camp are defrayed by the government. The work is made enjoyable as well as profitable by practical field and tactic problems, which afford to these students healthful exercise and a valuable and useful knowledge.

Cadet officers from several northwest universities and colleges are brought together at this camp. Interest in the camp life is maintained by competition in the work and in athletic sports.

Those associated with the Military Department of the University of Idaho are certainly to be commended for their ceaseless and untiring efforts for a better unit on the campus and may well regard it as an asset of no small significance. At the present time it is certainly a source of distinct pride to both students and institution.

Judging Teams

ANIMAL HUSBANDRY JUDGING TEAM

THE Idaho Animal Husbandry Team placed first at the Pacific International Livestock Show held at Portland last fall in competition with six other universities and state colleges. The Idaho Animal Husbandry Teams have established an enviable record. In the last ten years they have never been below third place in the Portland contests. Professor Hickman is to be complimented on his fine work in coaching these teams that have made such prized records for the University of Idaho.

DAIRY PRODUCTS JUDGING TEAM

The Dairy Products Judging Team placed second at the Pacific International Show, losing first by a few points. Clinton Wiswall of Idaho was high point man in judging ice cream, and was awarded a silver loving cup. Daniel Courtney deserves honorable mention for being high point man on the Idaho team.

DAIRY CATTLE JUDGING TEAM

The Dairy Cattle Judging Team competing in the Pacific International Livestock Show at Portland took an easy first place, winning handily over its nearest competitor. All members of the team had exceptional scores, especially Ralph Magnuson, who was high point man for Idaho. A team such as this certainly merits a good deal of commendation for the showing they have made.

GRAIN JUDGING TEAM

The Grain Judging Team placed second in the grain judging contest of the Pacific International Livestock Show held at Portland last fall. The Idaho Grain Judging Teams have established an enviable record in the last few years, which has been due, in a large measure, to Coach Hulbert.

WIRT

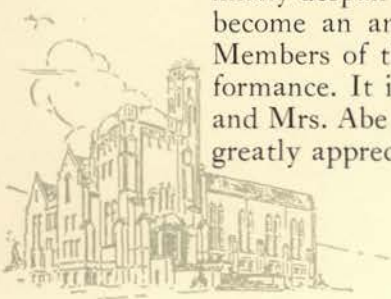

Women's Activities

THE Physical Education Department for Women has improved constantly in the last three years. The number of women turning out for each sport is much larger than ever before. This is partly due to the Women's "I" Club, which has as one of its purposes the stimulating of interest in women's athletics, and very much due to the splendid influence of Miss Lillian Wirt, coach of all women's athletics except rifle. By her friendly spirit and leadership, she has done much toward improving the health of University women, besides creating sportsmanship.

The Woman's Athletic Association is the organization of all women who make at least one hundred points for winning a position on a class team. Members of first teams are given one hundred points and second team members fifty. Girls earning eight hundred points are awarded "I" sweaters. Those who have won sweaters, passed posture tests, and the requirements for good sportsmanship compose the Women's "I" Club. Two of the most athletic girls have earned sixteen hundred points and won "I" blankets.

W.A.A. does not participate in any intercollegiate matches, since they do not develop women to an advantage in their lives after college. Rifle matches, however, are carried on with many schools in the United States by telegraph.

Hiking and keeping Health Rules are excellent activities in W.A.A. Fifty points are given for hiking sixty miles in a semester. No hike can be of a shorter distance than three miles. During the spring and fall kind motorists finally despair of offering rides to determined hikers. The Dance Festival has become an annual presentation of the Physical Education Department. Members of the clogging, natural dancing, and gym classes give the performance. It is always very successful and the artistic work of Miss Wirt and Mrs. Abe Goff in the setting, costuming and training of the dancers is greatly appreciated.

Taps and Terpsichore

THE Annual Dance Festival, presented by W.A.A., this year represented a trip around the world on the ship "Taps and Terpsichore." Dances of European, Asiatic and American countries were skillfully performed. A group of sailors entertained with snappy clogging numbers between stops at each country, where folk, natural and classical dances were presented. The programs gave an introduction to each part of the tour by means of rhymed couplets of apt wording.

Miss Lillian Wirt arranged the dances and directed the entire performance. Mrs. Abe Goff had charge of the costumes and setting of folk dances.

W.A.A. committee chairmen for the Festival were: Georgia Hall, general chairman; Gwendolyn Griffith, costumes; LaReta Beeson, properties; Elsie Warm, publicity; Dorothy Rouse, business; Kathryn West, program continuity; Lillian Woodworth, staging and lighting; Grace Parsons, make-up; Norma Geddes, head usher.

Those who took part in solo dances were: Bess Louise Hogg, Florence Rudger, Mildred Axtell, Genevieve Budrow, Virginia Cornell, Ruth Newhouse, Nina Newman, Dorothy Nixon, Dorothy Taylor, Lillian Woodworth, Helen Borden, Bernice Hartenbower, Erma Williams, Dorothy Sanford, Helen Mains, Ruth Garver, Shirley Cunningham, Katherine Nikkelson, Dorothy Minnoch, Helen Benson, Bertha Moore, Lois Fredrickson, Doris Brower, Velma Myers, Alice Nash and Virginia Vance. Sixty others took part in larger group dances.

The proceeds were used in the investigation of women's athletics in high schools and helping defray expenses of W.A.A. delegates to convention.

SENIOR TEAM

Volleyball

THE VOLLEYBALL season opened with great enthusiasm this year. Early in November, at the announcement of Virginia Cornell, volleyball sport-manager, about one hundred girls started regular practice twice a week.

A large number of freshmen as well as girls in other classes who had no previous experience in the game, turned out in addition to the old players. The whole group attended practices exceptionally well, so that at the end of the season it was difficult to make the selections for the teams. Girls who showed skill and best knowledge of the game were chosen to represent each class and help in the choosing of the teams. First teams were chosen for each of the classes, two Freshman and Sophomore second teams, and one Junior and Senior second team.

The teams were so well matched that three first teams and three second teams were tied at the end of the tournament, and deciding games had to be played off after Christmas. The final game between the Seniors and Juniors was very exciting. All the class members came to cheer their teams and put a lot of pep into the game.

Members of the winning Senior team are: Virginia Cornell, Maryvina Goldsmith, Margie Green, Lorraine Christenson, Lulu Grace Allen. Substitute: Clara Swanson.

Unusually good sportsmanship and friendly rivalry characterized volleyball this year. With the growing interest every year, volleyball has become one of the major sports with the most participants and finest spirit.

JUNIOR TEAM

Basketball

A LARGE TURNOUT for basketball showed the game to be the most popular of all women's sports. Practices began the week after Christmas vacation and were held every week until the last of February. Then first and second teams were chosen for the tournament, which ran from February 25 to March 16. The spirit and cooperation of the girls was fine, competition running high. The final game, between the Seniors and Juniors, was won by the latter. This game was the closest and most cleverly played game of the season. Members of this team were: LaReta Beeson, Thelma Myers, Bernice Parish, Marcella Kraemer, Dorothy Neal and Margaret Fowler. The Seniors came second, and the Freshmen third. Lorraine Christenson, W.A.A. basketball manager, had charge of the tournament.

Idaho entered the World Free Throw Tournament and made a very good showing. Each girl was allowed sixty shots. The five who made the highest scores received fifty points, and their ratings were sent to headquarters at Memphis, Tennessee. Members of the Senior team were: LaReta Beeson, Virginia Cornell, Georgia Hall, Luella McFadden and Lois Larkam. Those scoring in the intermediate team were: Dorothy Sage, Margaret Fowler, Virginia Peck, Alma Johnson, and Mildred Axtell.

Swimming practices began soon after basketball season closed, and an interclass tournament was held March 18. Those who took first places received thirty-five points, second places twenty-five points, and third places fifteen points. The three with the largest number of points were: Opal Garret, Lillian Woodworth and Marion McGonigle.

JUNIOR TEAM

Baseball

BASEBALL last spring created much interest among the students. There was a large turnout for the practices in March, and the tournament in April was well attended by enthusiastic rooters. The 1928 championship was won by the Junior girls, consisting of: Marion White as captain, Alta Tupper Lulu Grace Allen, Lorraine Christensen, Virginia Cornell, Zola Geddes, Ruth Rowell, Goldie Smith and Clara Swanson as regular team members. Georgia Hall, Pauline Clare, and Margie Green were substitutes. This same group of girls, who play a good cooperative game, won the championship when they were Freshmen. The games were played on a diamond on the lawn at the north side of the Administration building, and a twelve-inch indoor baseball was used.

The tennis season came during baseball season, but as group practices were not necessary, many girls were able to turn out for both sports. A challenge board was put up and any girl might play the girl whose name came above hers on the board. After two weeks the four girls in each class who were at the head of the challenge board played in the interclass tournament, and they received one hundred points. The Sophomore team, which was composed of Jane Reid, Edith Bradshaw, LaReta Beeson and Lillian Woodworth, won the championship. Lynn Cowgill, the undefeated player who became girls champion, received the tennis cup which is awarded to the girl who wins the largest number of games.

Already the girls are practicing for the 1929 tournament. LaReta Beeson, W.A.A. tennis manager, is anticipating many interesting games.

Eighteen girls won twenty-five points for fall horseshoe pitching, under the direction of Georgia Hall, W.A.A. manager.

WOMEN'S RIFLE TEAM

Rifle

THIS YEAR about seventy-five girls turned out for rifle practice. For a few weeks the rifle range was overcrowded, and then the ranks gradually thinned to about twenty. Alta Tupper, the rifle manager, challenged and accepted matches with schools all over the United States.

Major F. L. Fuller and Captain B. M. Crenshaw direct the girls. The team greatly appreciates the interest they have shown in the matches and the time they have given to their instruction.

During the season the men's rifle team challenged the girls to a match for a dinner at the Moscow Hotel. The men's team won, but Miss Lillian Woodworth carried off the honors for the women by shooting the highest score and winning a prize offered to the women by Major Fuller, and also one for both men and women offered by Lieutenant Hart, instructor for the men.

The following girls received the ten highest average scores this year: Alta Tupper, Lillian Woodworth, Marylou Craven, Ruth Ragan, Dorothy Perkins, Opal Garrett, Elsie Geddes, Shirley Cunningham, LaReta Beeson and Lucile Glindeman. The scores for matches this year are as follows:

University of South Dakota	476	487	University of Nebraska	983	958

Women's "I" Club

THE Women's "I" Club has been sponsoring two projects this year. The first has been to arouse interest in women's sports. The other project has been to work out a definite plan of a point system for high schools throughout the state. This will interest women in sports and in the University Women's Athletic Association even before they enter the University.

The "I" Club was organized March 12, 1928, when twelve enthusiastic members elected their officers and began work with much interest and determination to make the organization one of the outstanding ones on the campus.

The number of "I" sweaters on the campus has increased a great deal since the organization began. Eight hundred points are required to earn an official "I" sweater, but an additional honor, consisting of an "I" blanket, is given to those who have the distinction of winning sixteen hundred points in women's sports. Two girls have received this honor. They are LaReta Beeson and Margie Green.

Members of the association are: Margie Green, who is President of the organization; LaReta Beeson, Vice-President; Lillian Woodworth, Secretary; Alta Tupper, Treasurer; Marguerite Ames, Genevieve Budrow, Lorraine Christenson, Pauline Clare, Virginia Cornell, Marylou Craven, Norma Geddes, Marion White, Maryvina Goldsmith, Dorothy Neal, Florence Skinner and Zola Geddes.

The Midwestern Tour

IN THE Mid-west from December 10 to December 19 there toured, this year, three forensic representatives of the University of Idaho. Two of them, Walter Slaughter and George Huber, were student debaters. Jasper V. Garland, the third, was Idaho's debate coach. Loyal and representative, they intended to make a name for Idaho. Adept and versatile, their purpose was to engage in debate the representatives of eight mid-western universities. There were three questions upon which they were prepared. The subjects dealt with the current problems presented by the plea of temporary insanity in defense for crime, armed protection of American capital in foreign countries and the jury system.

The results of the debates were conspicuous, satisfying, for of seven debates Idaho won five. The institutions which were met, the University of Montana, Montana State College, North Dakota Agricultural College, Loyola University, Marquette University, the University of Chicago, the University of Dubuque, rank high in intercollegiate debate standings.

Seniors and faculty will recall that this tour is the first that Idaho debaters have taken in three years. In the last tour Idaho debaters challenged western schools, tangled, and were successful. In distance, the trip of 1929 surpassed that of 1926, for it covered three thousand miles.

The Vandal speakers were impressed and pleased by the great support given to debates in the universities visited, and by the treatment given to them while upon other campuses.

That George Huber, junior, will return to Idaho is fortunate. He has taken a very active part throughout the debate season this year. Not only did he debate, but he also took charge of the management for the second semester. If Mr. Slaughter returns, Idaho will be assured of one of the strongest debate teams of her conference.

Varsity Debate

THE PURPOSE of intercollegiate debate in the more advanced institutions of learning is no longer to win debates primarily, but to develop logical, forceful public speakers; nor is it longer customary to judge schools by the number of decisions which they win. It is, instead, by the grade and ranking of the schools with which its teams debate that an institution is judged. Idaho has been fortunate in pursuing this advanced course. Her debaters have profited greatly by the training, and her opponents have ranked among the highest of the western schools.

The spotlight of an interesting season rests particularly upon the mid-western tour and upon the great percentage of victories gained. Though not directly in the debate line, a strong high-light which must be mentioned is the meeting of the Pacific Forensic League, which was held in Moscow on March 28, 29 and 30. Idaho was host to the representatives, both faculty and student, of ten western schools. The representatives were sent by the University of Southern California at Los Angeles, the University of California, Stanford University, the University of Arizona, Pomona College, Washington State College, Oregon State College, Whitman College, and Willamette University. The contest included oratorical and extemporaneous fields. John Ewing, Idaho's representative in both contests, was successful in taking second place in extemporaneous speaking, thus allowing Idaho to place for the first time since becoming a member of the conference.

For all of these successes Coach Garland must be highly commended. He has given valuable service in both the construction of cases and in the attainment of a desirable speaking manner. Mr. Garland came to Idaho from the University of Indiana, where he obtained his M.A. degree in 1927. He is a member of Tau Kappa Alpha, national honorary public speaking fraternity.

Varsity Debaters

FROM THE standpoint of available speakers, it seems quite certain that next year will prove to be a very successful one for all forensic activities. Of the men listed below, it is understood that at least five of them will return. To fill the places left by those who do not come back there are a number of promising speakers on the freshman squad. Also with the continued guidance of Jasper V. Garland, who came to Idaho this year, debate should take a prominent step forward. The Varsity men are listed below:

Women's Debate

THIS YEAR women have been more active in debate in the University of Idaho than ever before. Nine women have taken part in the debates and two questions have been discussed. The teams have used both the usual system of presenting the case, and the Oregon System, in which one member of the team presents the whole case, while the other member attempts to break down the case offered by the opponents by questions and cross-examination.

The schools with which Idaho women have debated are: Whitman College, Washington State College, the University of Oregon, the University of Washington, and Oregon State College. All but two of the debates were non-decision affairs. In the decision debates, both of which were with Whitman College, Idaho lost one and won one.

The debate subjects dealt with Mussolini, and with the value of college entrance examinations. Idaho teams upheld both sides of the questions during the season.

The women who participated in the debates were Julia Hunter, Margaret Wilson, Thelma Melgard, Gladys Gleason, Dorothy Kienholz, Helen Douglas, Lois Miller, and Lois Porterfield. Marjorie Albertson served as debate manager throughout the season. Much credit is due to Jasper V. Garland, men's debate coach, who instructed the women in cooperation with Miss Albertson, to whom great praise is also due.

Freshman Debate

THE primary purpose of freshman debate is to discover possible varsity material. From that standpoint, the efforts this year have been quite successful, as several men of ability were found. Six men were used in freshman debates this year, and it is from them principally that the varsity squad of next year will be filled. Due to the great importance given to varsity debate this year, it was considered inadvisable to have an extensive schedule of freshman debates. The only contests which took place were with Washington State College.

One of the debates with them was held at Lewiston before the State Normal School. The subject debated was: RESOLVED, That the United States should recognize the Soviet government of Russia. The Idaho team, composed of Paul Petzoldt, Lewis Jones and Ralph W. Olmstead, was unable to successfully prove the affirmative of the question; but good material for the varsity was evidenced.

In a return debate on the same question at W.S.C. Lawrence Hollingshead, Kenneth Jensen and Paris Martin were able to convince a sufficient number of the audience that they were right to make a tie vote possible. The decision in the Lewiston debate had been by judge. The tie given by the W.S.C. audience gave proof of the ability of the freshmen to speak forcefully.

Intramural Debate

FOR THE first time in several years intramural debate assumed a position of interest this year. Such a change may be attributed to two factors. In the first place, the questions debated upon during the season were highly interesting, and in the second place, a new system was used by which the debates were held in the group houses. This latter plan was worked by having the affirmative teams act as dinner hosts to the negative debaters. After the dinner, the debate was held at the house.

Few people are found who will vouch for the quality of the debates as oratory goes. As a matter of fact, it is well known that at one debate both teams upheld the same side of the question. Other incidents of equal note have been rumored about; but, nevertheless, it would be a mistake to say that the season has not been successful. There are few people who did not enjoy the various contests, and there are fewer still who do not say that the plan of holding the debates was not advantageous to interhouse relations.

The debates were held in two divisions this year, the men's groups composing one division and the women's groups the other. The debates were sponsored by Delta Sigma Rho, which gave a loving cup to the winner of each division.

Beta Theta Pi emerged victorious in the men's division, having successfully defeated Ridenbaugh Hall in the semi-finals and Lambda Chi Alpha in the finals. Lambda Chi Alpha had previously defeated Tau Kappa Epsilon in the semi-finals. The Beta Theta Pi team was composed of Burdette Belknap and Warren Gochenour.

In the women's division, Pi Beta Phi defeated the Delta Gamma team in the finals, after having drawn a bye through the semi-finals. Delta Gamma won the right to appear in the finals by vanquishing Forney Hall in the semi-finals. Vera Forbis and Beulah Burnett captured the laurels for Pi Beta Phi.

Serpentine, confetti, paper hats, and squawking horns, as well as some forty tables on each floor converted the Blue Bucket into a real cabaret for one night. The juniors, and many others, lost no opportunity to make merry at this closing event of Junior Week.

Social Events

Rush week was a whirl of new fall clothes, pink teas, and new faces that beamed on Pledge Sunday after the week of breakfasts, dinners, luncheons, firesides—all so lovely and interesting to the newcomers.

The first week was also one of student receptions, church parties, and freshmen mixers (where the puzzle was to "just try to find the freshmen").

The annual Bury the Hatchet dance on October 6 once more waved its peace-making spirit over the irate sophomores and long-suffering freshmen. October 13 marked the first of a long series of pledge dances—the "coming out" parties for the newly-donned pledge pins. The Ag Club gave their dance the latter part of October and the various houses burst into a series of informals which continued through November and which are always welcomed as winter approaches.

October was also a month of bridge teas and receptions for new house mothers, patrons and national officers of the various fraternities. Mortar Board gave a delightful bridge tea, which was followed by a great many others of a similar nature throughout the year.

October 27 was the date upon which the men found themselves for the first time dateless, unheeded and unneeded. The cause of this extraordinary phenomenon was none other than the annual Co-ed Prom, which was as much of a success as ever. This was also the date of the Associated Engineers' dance, the first of the professional dances of the year.

November started with a bang, with the Pep Rally dance in the new gym. It was a most important event, marking as it did the first opening of our new and beautiful gym, and also the celebration of a rather unsatisfactory Homecoming game with W.S.C. of Pullman.

On November 10 Scabbard and Blade gave the first of its delightful formal dinner dances, to the joy of every girl who "rated."

The following week-end the dramatic department presented the first of the groups of one-act plays, which have always proved to be an interesting source of amusement for the University throughout the school year.

This was also a week-end of upper-classmen dances at the various houses, where sophisticated seniors and energetic juniors decided to ignore all inferiors and make merry without them.

November 24 brought with it fun for everyone in the A.T.O. Tin Can dance, which was followed in December by other feature dances—the Beta Kid party, the S.A.E. 49er's dance, the T.K.E. Apache dance, and in January by Sigma Nu's barn dance. These are always looked forward to with great glee as the "fun" dances of the year.

Thanksgiving was a time of much social activity, the Kappa Sigma house party and dance being perhaps the outstanding event of the holiday. The Christmas season is always an inspiration for social functions, and many fraternities gave Christmas dances December 21, the night before vacation began.

The holidays were followed by a lull in campus society. This was first broken by the Athletic Ball on the eleventh, and a procession of house dances, formal and otherwise, followed in quick succession. Then the sophomores, not to be outdone by the juniors, got together for their first mixer on the twenty-third, and that same week-end the Interfraternity Council had its dance.

On the thirtieth dignified seniors threw off all sedateness and romped gayly about at the first senior mixer of the year. The party was so much enjoyed that it was decided to have a great many of them during the year.

The Miners picked February 8 for their dance and the next night the Delta Chis threw open their beautiful new house for something new and different—a garret dance.

The high light, socially speaking, for February was the Pre-Med formal held on the 16th of the month.

February was also a month of music and initiation dances. There were several beautiful concerts given by members of the music department. The proud possessors of shiny new pins were given first opportunities to exhibit them at the many initiation dances which followed in quick succession.

The Mortar Board Spinster Skip on February 22 was a huge success for everyone attending and an hour of infinite sorrow for the man who didn't rate.

With the advent of Easter, spring was officially heralded by the Delta Chi dinner dance and by several Easter breakfasts. May was also the month of the formal house openings of the new Delta Chi and A.T.O. houses. Flowers and moonlight nights, soft breezes and spring formals just naturally go together. Beginning late in March the house formals continued until the end of the year with varying themes of decoration, and they were fittingly climaxed by the Tri-Delts' Installation Ball on May 25. The Miami Triad held in April, the Freshman Glee in May, and a great many picnics brought a happy end to a never-to-be-forgotten social season.

REPRESENTATIVE IDAHOANS

NOT FOR the purpose of novelty, but with regard to the recognition of deserving merit, The Gem of 1929 has inaugurated a section including seven men and five women who have been selected by an impartial committee (of which the editor was not a member) as true representative Idahoans. Our aim has been to single out twelve seniors whose records for their four years at Idaho have shown that they possess the qualities we like to accord a man or woman who, by accomplishment, has attained a position outstanding among undergraduates. As students representing these ideals in men and women of Idaho we have chosen:

Darwin Kilburn Burgher

BECAUSE—by three years of conscientious work on the gridiron and the maple court he has won the admiration and respect of every Idahoan, and was rewarded with the captaincy of both the football and basketball teams in his senior year; and because, unaffected by honors which have been thrust upon him, he is the exemplification of our ideal in that rare combination of man and athlete.

Allen Sheeley Janssen

BECAUSE—since early in his freshman year he has manifested a keen interest in serving the University and his fellow students in every way possible, and in his characteristic unassuming manner has quietly worked toward those ends throughout his college career, achieving recognition in upperclassman years as president of several leading campus organizations.

Estelle Marguerite Pickrell

BECAUSE—throughout her college life she has displayed a positive leadership in every activity she has been interested in, leadership in her class being especially noteworthy; and in so doing has acquired the distinction of being one of the foremost, if not the foremost, woman in her class.

Edward Eli Poulton

BECAUSE—his interests are greater in number and more varied than perhaps any other man on the campus, including membership in many honorary organizations and fraternities, and embracing activity in any problem of student interest with which he comes in contact.

Alvin Henry Reading

BECAUSE—as president of the Student Body no more loyal and conscientious worker in behalf of the students for a better Idaho is to be found, in our belief, on the campus; and as a result a finer cooperation and a more distinctive spirit has arisen, due to his efforts.

Helen Hartley Taylor

BECAUSE—her record as an undergraduate is marked by a series of accomplishments paralleled by few women on the campus, including president of the Associated Women Students and president of the Pan-Hellenic; and her endeavors in women's organizations have been truly influential in and vital to their existence.

Everett Clark Lawrence

BECAUSE—he has proven himself worthy of every honor and deserving of merit through his activity on the baseball nine for three years, as president of the Senior Class the first semester, and certainly not least as a student in every sense of the word.

Norma Geddes

BECAUSE—she has endeared herself to her fellow students with a personality in large measure moulded from contact and constant participation in every problem of interest to the woman student at Idaho; and is thereby deserving of all recognition of merit that may be bestowed upon her.

Burton L. Moore

BECAUSE—he has made his influence apparent in literary and journalistic lines since his advent to the Idaho campus; and by diligent and meritorious effort succeeded, as editor of The Argonaut in his junior year, in placing that publication on a plane equal and above other college newspapers.

Ethel Stanford Lafferty

BECAUSE—not only have her achievements included class leadership and activity in campus affairs as a result of her position as senior woman on the Executive Board, but also have included an interest in drama to such an extent that her name has been outstanding in college dramatics throughout her academic career.

Elmer Alfred Berglund

BECAUSE—he has taken an active part in his class as a leader, realizing his reward as class president during his junior year; and has extended his activities to embrace the entire campus through leadership in various campus service organizations of which he has been a member.

Goldie May Smith

BECAUSE—her interests are perhaps more varied than any woman entered in the University, and include class activity as junior class treasurer, activity in woman's circles as a participant in women's sports, activity in the realm of music through her membership in musical societies, and general activity in campus affairs.

Blue Key is an honorary fraternity formed on the basis of service to the University and to students, and is composed only of those upperclassmen who especially excel in those qualifications of leadership, campus activities, scholarship and personality.

This year Blue Key has further broadened its field of activity and has, in addition to publishing the student handbook and executing all arrangements for Homecoming, sponsored other projects of student interest. Special trains were arranged on two occasions for games, all arrangements for the state high school basketball tournament and high school track meet were made through its medium, and various other projects were promoted.

Theta Sigma, women's local honorary journalistic fraternity, was organized in 1927 to create an interest in journalism as a woman's profession. Qualifications for Theta Sigma are at least three semesters' work on The Argonaut, a good scholastic record, and a major or a minor in journalism.

During the past year Theta Sigma offered a silver loving cup for the best high school paper in the state edited by a girl's staff. The award was made to St. Maries High School. The contest will be conducted annually, and the cup will become the permanent possession of the high school winning it for the third consecutive time.

The English Club, one of the first organizations on the campus, owes its success to Dr. G. M. Miller, who has been head of the English Department since 1917. The meetings of the group play an important part in creating interest in all branches of English work.

The English Club has been outstanding for its initiative measures. In 1923 it founded The Blue Bucket Magazine, which is now sponsored by the A.S.U.I. The English Club Book Shelf furnishes the students with current reading material. The club has conducted two art exhibits and has started a movement for the placing of chimes on the University campus. The English Club sponsored theatrical productions before the creation of the dramatics department. This year, the Club is collaborating with Winged Helmet in editing a year book, From Under the Helmet, in which literary contributions of the Idaho students will be published.

The English Club membership includes all instructors, majors and minors in the department, as well as students who have distinguished themselves in composition, in journalism, in dramatics, and in debate.

The Graduate Club is an organization of all the students doing graduate work in the University. Its activities make it possible for the members to become more familiar with the study and research which is being done in the Graduate School and affords an opportunity to promote fellowship among graduate students. It was organized in 1926, because the growth of the Graduate School made such an organization necessary in order to bring the graduate students into touch with one another. The graduate students are scattered throughout all the schools and colleges of the University and come in little contact with each other except in this way.

The Bench and Bar Association was organized in 1912. All students regularly enrolled in the College of Law are members of the Association. The purposes and function of the Bench and Bar Association are to cultivate fellowship among law students; to preserve the traditions of the Law School; to promote scholarship among its members; to encourage a professional attitude toward the study of law, and to develop among its members those ethical standards which will make them most useful as practitioners of law.

The Bench and Bar Association was largely instrumental in securing the adoption of the "Honor System" in the Law School. The Law School was the first school of the University of Idaho to adopt the "Honor System" and the only school that has thus far successfully maintained it. Upon the Bench and Bar Association, in general, and upon each member thereof, in particular, rests the duty and obligation of maintaining and enforcing this fundamental tradition of the Law School. During the year 1928-1929 Bench and Bar Association has been very instrumental in fostering interest in the College of Law and in promoting the welfare of those registered in the law curriculum.

The Pre-Med Club is composed of all men and women registered in the Pre-Med curriculum. Its chief aim is to instill in the members an interest in subjects allied to the medical profession. This is brought about by having physicians and others interested in science address the club on scientific topics of interest. The Pre-Med formal and picnic, besides the smokers which are held from time to time throughout the year are a few of the outstanding events that help to bind this organization into a better and stronger group.

The Pre-Legal Association was first formed in 1925. It is composed of under-graduate students who have signified their intentions of studying law. The objects of the association are: to stimulate fellowship among those intending to study law; to make a study of parliamentary procedure; to acquaint its members with the requirements, standards and activities of the legal profession; and to better fit its members for the study of law. Much valuable experience is gained through acting as jurymen and diverse other capacities during practice trials held by the law students. The association works in harmony with the Bench and Bar, law school organization, to bring about a closer connection between pre-legal and law students.

HAVING TOLD the nice things about all of you in the preceding sections, it is only fitting that the rest of the story now be told. Accordingly, the following pages, comprising The Jam on the Mountain, a miniature imitation of its big brother, The Gem, will serve as a necessary supplement to the main volume.

GREETINGS

"To the graduates of the University from Idaho: I am positive that you will accomplish those worldly tasks which will entitle you to have your names recorded on the stone tablet in our halls. I welcome you with open arms, and point with pride to the fact that we have the most complete course in rock crushing in the Northwest."

FOREWORD

The title of this volume is by no means to be confused with that state of affairs which exists on Moscow Mountain every warm spring day, when one can't even find parking space for a sheepskin, let alone a blanket.

(Foreword page)

To those loyal students who have cut so many classes in past years that they are now enjoying their fifth year in our classy halls, this volume of The Jam is dedicated.

The Campus

(As it appeared to Sandy McDonald the night of the Junior Cabaret)

A Tour of the Campus

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN (and Fijis, if any are on this bus): You are now approaching the beeyootyfawl campus owned and operated by the University from Edaho, the pet football of the state legislature. On the right, just before we turn into Elm street, you can see the famous old fairgrounds and grandstand, the scene of many an argument on a cold night, and also the scene of some thrilling races between the eds and co-eds and the campus nightwatchman. It is predicted by balmy prophets that the town of Moscow will build a street through this land by 1952, thereby affording another approach to the university; but those who know the town of Moscow declare our grandchildren will never live to tread that street.

We are now driving along Fraternity Row, where all the Greeks live. The barn on your left is the Alpha Phi house, and the lot across the street with all the weeds in it is the future home of the Tri-Delts. Next you see the Lambda Chi mansion with its cute little annex for storage. The Alpha Chis live on the corner opposite. No, lady, there is no stove in their woodshed. That is merely—well, never mind. What? No, madam; that is not the new gymnasium. It is merely the home of all the Betas when they aren't out serenading. Opposite you can see the D.G. morgue and the duplex Phi Delt house. Yes, duplex. You see, they built the house and lived in it one year, and then raised the money to build a roof. The swimming tank and gardens will come later. On your right, ladies and gents, is the Kappa house, the exterior finish of which was once white. Next to that is the Kappa smoking den, where Brimhall acts as housemother. The little house on the corner with the perverted chimney is the Fiji house. Yes, ma'am, that is their crest up on the chimney. Catty-corner is the Delta Chi mansion and next to that is where Chet Kerr and his gang live. Now we are nearing the Sigma Nu and Gamma Phi houses. Oh, yes, miss; they really live in separate houses.

of the University from Edaho

Now, folks, here is Phoney hall on the left and Ridemboy on the right. Hazy hall, where the boss lives, is down there below Phoney. Now we are turning into the half acre of campus proper. On your left is the Engineering building, so-called because all campus politics are engineered in Neva Rice's office in here. Now we approach the majestic Ad building, the only thing that has been on the campus longer than Humpy Ellis. Before you now appears the old gymnasium, which, if it could talk, could tell you of the old days when Edaho was just a pappoose, and rolled stockings were permitted.

Down the lane there is Morrill hall, the home of those Ags. No, lady, we can't drive down that way. The air isn't so good. Here on the corner is the old heating plant, the entrance to the winter quarters of the Arboretum Boosters League. Yes, the pipe line is warm in winter.

We now draw abreast of the New Memorial Gymnasium, which was built last summer and may stand up until next. This magnificent edifice, which so closely resembles St. Paul's of London on a foggy night, is the home of two basketballs, a pair of shoestrings, seven towels and a pair and one-half of baseball socks, any of which articles may be borrowed from Cap Bryan by signing your name in a dozen places and putting up a thousand dollar bond to protect the university against loss by wear. An oversize bird bath also reposes in the basement of this building, in which boys and girls may go bathing at the convenience of the hired help. The only rule is that boys can not go near the pool the same week as the girls are using it.

And, folks, last but not least is the arboretum, where the nightwatchman strolls about in the evenings, listening to the whippoorwills and Gamma Phis. Business has been rotten this year, due to the wet weather, but experts predict it will pick up during summer school.

LO, THE FACULTY

Administration

THE ADMINISTRATION of the University from Idaho rests in the loving paternal care of a board of regents and a university president. The president has the softest job in the state. All he has to do is try to satisfy the big mining moguls of Northern Idaho, the howling politicians in the southeast, our cornfed legislature and the down town coaching staff, to say nothing of the fond papas and mamas of the undergraduates.

Under the president comes that rabid conglomeration known as the faculty, which is composed of a few good professors and a flock of arm-waving desk-pounders. There are also registrars, deans and what-nots on the payroll.

Doc Barton at age 18

There are several interesting committees and clubs among the faculty, including the Discipline committee, which maintains order in the ranks of the R.O.T.C.; the Epidemic council, which we petition when we disagree with Ella; the Highway committee, which patrols the walks and lanes at night; and the Faculty Cosmopolitan club, whose members' homes are all outside the United States. Some of the members are Bill Harris (Virginia), George Morey Miller (Stratford-on-Avon), Cap Bryan (Edinburgh), and Irving W. Jones (Minnesota).

Faculty members love to show their independence by trotting up and down the wrong stairs between classes.

Hall of Fame

For membership in the Campus Leaders section of The Jam on the Mountain we respectfully nominate:

BURTON FRENCH "HUMPY" ELLIS, because

1. He has outlasted two presidents, six deans and 137 professors on the Idaho campus.

2. He had sufficient drag someplace to keep his job as vice-president of the student body, even though he was on university probation.

ROBERT IRA DRUMMOND, because

1. He has succeeded in attending this co-educational institution for three years without giving in to his feminine admirers.

2. Though a junior, he is still taking freshman military, due to his love for military courtesy as taught by Lieutenant Hart.

ARFUR SHIMM, because

1. His ability to combine the qualities of saturation and equilibrium is sadly inefficient.

2. His aptitude for mathematics is likewise.

JACK SHEEHAN, because

1. The way that he successfully peddles candy and books before Mother's Day would put P. T. Barnum to shame.

2. His five-for-two rushing coup last fall was an outstanding achievement.

LESTER KIRKPATRICK, because

1. He has managed to stay eligible for football for three successive seasons in spite of his aversion to the printed page.

2. His confidential swagger and his big "I" sweater with the oversize chest measurements bring a hot thrill to every co-ed on the hill.

CASEY WESTCOTT, because

1. By dint of hard work and sheer personal merit he rates senior football manager next fall. In fact, he competed so fiercely for the job that the two men who stood ahead of him flunked out.

OTTO EUBANKS, because

1. He was the Sigma Nu's lone candidate for graduation this year.

PAUL BOYD, because

1. His manly voice and gruffness have made him the envy of every foghorn in New York harbor.

2. His enthusiastic campaigning in the recent election not only raised his stock on the hill, but probably cost a good man the presidency.

ROBERT AILSHIE, because

1. He is another howling good politician gone wrong, for if the Alpha party had had Ailshie as its campaign manager they could have elected even a worse president than they did.

RALPH HAGAN, because

1. Since his column, "I Tank Larry" has been accepted by The Argonaut, his New York ego is greater than ever.

2. As a pledge, he could entertain the brothers with the most classic of smokehouse poetry ever heard on the hill.

EDWIN LINDBERG SIGGINS and

HORACE VIRGIL HOMER PORTER, because

1. Under the guise of Idaho's yell leaders, and at the sacrifice of the real old-time Idaho rooting, they have secured unto themselves more individual publicity and notoriety than even good yell leaders merit.

2. They have painstakingly practiced their age-old stunts game after game for two years before a patient student body, while the organized cheering for the team suffered, that they might be polished in presenting their stuff before Portland and San Francisco crowds, who, fortunately, never saw them before.

3. They have successfully tried to keep the yell king job "in the family," so to speak, one substituting when the other was scholastically ineligible.

THE EXECUTIVE BOARD MEETS

Student Administration

ADMINISTRATION of student affairs at the University from Edaho is vested in a flock of student officers and a beautiful hand-engraved executive board. It has slumbered in their hands for years and is seldom, if ever, disturbed by these august gentlemen. An election is held each spring, at which occasion much mud is thrown about and once in a while some excitement arises, as for example this year, when Ellis' Ford received a new coat of wallpaper in futuristic design. But usually the combine candidates slip into office unnoticed before the rest of us stop to realize all we know about them, and everything runs along smoothly. Within five days after election everyone on the campus has forgotten who was elected, and so student administration lies dormant until next spring. With the inauguration of Doc Kelly this fall, it looked as though the A.S.U.I. officers would have to go to work after all these years, but they managed to stall off prexy's good intentions for student government. Of course, they hold meetings once a week, as required by the A.S.U.I. constitution, but they are careful not to be accused of accomplishing anything worthwhile at said board meetings.

The weekly executive board meeting is one of the most cherished institutions on our dear campus. It is cherished by the three feminine members, Neva Rice, Frances Gallet and Ethel Lafferty, because it gives them an evening to get together officially and gossip. It is cherished by the gents on the board, Messrs. Huber, Hutchings and Loosli, as it gives them an excuse to lay off the books for that night and cut class the next morning. It is cherished by Humpy Ellis because he gets away from his ball and chain that night, and it is cherished by poor old Al Reading because he hopes they'll get something done at the next meeting.

The meetings themselves are classic to withhold. Lafferty and Hutchings play tit-tat-toe on the A.S.U.I.'s best stationery; Loosli, Huber and Gallet whisper the good stories they have heard since last Tuesday night; and Rice, Tall and Ellis lay out the next party ticket. During all this turmoil there stands poor old Al at the head of the table with a little red A.S.U.I. constitution in one hand, a motion for a new sidewalk in the other, and a prayer on his lips, vainly trying to promote legislation. As soon as the members tire of their varied games, someone moves to adjourn; and Al hopefully awaits the next Tuesday night.

Organizations

WE HAVE numerous organizations on our swell campus. They all have nice mottoes and aims, which are framed, hidden away and forgotten about. There being too many to include here, only a few of the prominent ones are worthy of mention:

INTERCOLLEGIATE KNIGHTS: This is a gang of ornery sophomores and freshmen who theoretically are supposed to be of service to the university and student body. By virtue of having taken some unmerciful paddlings in their initiations, they are entitled to wear a white sweater, stand in the way at assemblies, ride around in cars on campus day when everyone else is working, and get into games at Pullman free. They are a fine, enthusiastic body until given something to do. Where real work is required, they are about as useless as the dean's new rules.

IDAHO SPURS: This is a woman's auxiliary to the Intercollegiate Knights and functions with equal efficiency. Like the Knights, their membership is made up of that freshman from each group house or hall who, in the opinion of the upperclassmen in that house, would never make the grade in any other campus activity, so they forthwith make him or her a Knight or a

Spur. The chief function of the Spurs this year has been to cry their eyes out for a private reserved section in the balcony at the Memorial gym, so that, dressed in their white sweaters and short skirts, they could all attend the basketball games and make eyes at the players in a body.

Basketball is a very popular sport at Edaho.

MANAGER'S CLUB AT WORK

ATHLETIC MANAGERS' CLUB: This is an organization of towel-chasers and liniment drinkers over at the gym who have social aspirations. They formed the club so they could get their fraus into the downstairs reserved section at basketball games free of charge. Guests are invited to their dances at one dollar a throw.

BLUE BOTTLE is an honorary organization of publicity seekers who monopolize The Argonaut columns, sell Homecoming programs, and eat four-bit atrocities at the Bucket twice a month.

SILVER PANTS is a senior men's outfit composing the inner circle of Blue Bottle.

ALPHA KAPPA SIGH: An organization of Business majors who got out of taking a foreign language, and consequently have a fair average.

SCABBARD AND BLOOD is a gang of rookies who help Edaho to get "distinguished rating" in R.O.T.C. by throwing a big party for the visiting brigadier generals on inspection.

SIGMA DELTA is composed of half a dozen underclassmen who couldn't wait till their junior year to get into some honorary, so they promoted one.

ENGLISH CLUB is a group of the leading swimmers on the campus who wear slickers to meetings.

To the Editor:

You seem to take a good deal of delight in telling other people how to live, and perhaps that is your business, but it seems to me that you exceed your duty when you arrogate to yourself the right to inform all of those who may happen to enjoy an occasional drink of "Scotch" on occasions.

I have been presented with a fine bottle of Scotch whiskey for graduation and it is before me as I sit at my typewriter and indite this letter to you. It bears the label of "Highland Queen"—a good, fair, well-bodied liquor which I am assured was brought before the war and has been in my friend's cellar ever since. What right has any form of law to make me a criminal if I partake of this gift as it was intended I do by the giver?

I claim that any such law is an invasion of personal liberty. I notice that you have referred often in your excellent column to the so-called certain inalienable rights to their personal liberty, which, as you say, are not consistent with the rights of others. How do you reconcile your statements?

I have just tasted this bottle of liquor, I will confide to you, and I cannot see where or how I am invading the rights of any other person on earth. I find it excellent. It warms my stomach; it inspires my thought. I cannot feel, Mr. Editor, that I have wronged the community or added to the lawlessness of general society in so doing. It makes me tired to be classed as a criminal for any such occasion, and I notify you that before long there will be a revolt against the sort of stuff you are writing.

Just to show you my independence of such truck as you are writing, I have taken another drink of the aforesaid most jubilant Highland Queen, and I will say to you that it is about as smooth a drink as a criminal ever put into his system. This second drink, which I shall soon follow with a third, makes me more certain that those who feel their systems require stimulant should band together, organize, and start a campaign to floor this Volstead business if it can be done.

Now, Mr. Editor, I am no bum, and you can't make me a bum. I like a little drink now and then, and I have taken a third or maybe it is a fourth, and I am more than ever convince that any man who doesn't is a big idiot. You say that this evabion of the law is producing a sta6e of affairs in our Grear nand Glorious Country. You are wronh. This ciuntry is jess as good as it ever was and was a great deal better country and I will leabe it to you f iit wasn8t, when we had free rum.

I wan8t to say to you that this Secitch is all right. A lot of it wouldn't do us any harm. When we ened stimulatory we need it. My grandfayer was brougr up on rum. They had it in the housd all the time. They dranj it freely and even the ministew dranl it when he came to our housa. It8s a pretty kinf of a cointry when a grabdson is better than his gundfaher. I can drink thi sort of Seutcg all day and not be no worse a citoxen than I was befot. I could drink thhis whole quaet audd neger quiberan etelash.

The EPISCOPAL CLUB is an organization composed of all the Pi Phis and a couple of other girls who also needed an excuse to get out nights.

The "I" CLUB is an honorary group of gentlemen registered in the school of education who never buy any new clothes, so the A.S.U.I. furnishes them with a sweater each year. Most of them wear them all day only, but Lester Kirkpatrick sleeps in his.

Publications

The Edaho Jargonot is a little circular put out twice a week by downtown merchants as an advertising medium. Interspersed among the ads one can occasionally but not often find a line or two of news that is not more than three weeks old before it is printed. Copy is censored before publication by Ella.

The Edaho Slop Bucket is the newest literary gem on the campus, and contains all the stories unfit to print in the other campus publications.

The Smell in the Helmet is a booklet put out by the highbrows who were not consulted about the change in style and policy of The Edaho Slop Bucket.

The Jam on the Mountain is a bum collection of homely photographs of buildings, faculty, athletes, scholars and Edaho students edited by a goofy editor and a still goofier staff.

Who's Who Among Co-eds

Here you are boys. No longer will it be necessary for you to worry over who you'll take to the next dance, or what kind of a time you'll have with that blind date. After six months of hard work we have managed to assemble enough statistics to enable you to pick out just the kind of date you may want. Of course it was impossible for us to date all the girls on the campus, but coupling actual experiences with all available information on the subject, we are able to present for the first time on the Idaho campus, a first class, up-to-date, sorority Bradstreet—a real honest-to-John blind date index.

All you'll have to do from now on is to look her up on the following pages, using the helpful legend below to decipher her complete analysis. (This material was gathered by experts.)

More time for pleasure when you cook electrically

Electric Ranges have proved a most important factor in cutting down the time required for household duties and in affording women the opportunity to participate in interesting and beneficial public activities, club work and social affairs.

Aside from being the cleanest, easiest and most convenient method, electric cooking is also the cheapest.

The more you know about the electric range, the more you will marvel at the many time and labor-saving things it will do for you. It is an Electric Servant you can hardly afford to be without.

Although a century apart in time we are as rigidly careful of the Quality of our merchandise as the Old Craftsman.

That is why we don't sell “seconds,” and why, for example, the inner soles of our shoes are made of the same tough, long-wearing leather as the outer.

Quality is that part of your purchase you must trust to our honor, and keeping faith with our customers for over a quarter of a century has built up our business.

ALPHA TAU OMEGA

This is a secret order of college lads sworn under oath to pledge all musicians away from the Fijis. All campus hornblowers except Paul Boyd are either A.T.O.'s or Fijis. The only difference is that one must be able to read and write to make Fiji, while the A.T.O.'s will take anything that can play a horn. Soden and his orchestra room and board here during the winter season. The English translation of the Greek words Alpha Tau Omega is "Association of Terrible Oilcans. Consequently in conversation this is shortened to A.T.O. out of kindness.

Next to musicians Humpy's tong likes athletes. All freshmen numeral men who haven't pledged elsewhere by the second semester go A.T.O. If most of them didn't flunk out each year the A.T.O.'s would have all the varsity next fall.

The shy and retiring little James Wells also lives here.

PHI GAMMA DELTA

This is a secret order of college lads sworn under oath to pledge all musicians away from the A.T.O.'s. This year they are away ahead of the latter tong, as they maintain and support two orchestras while the A.T.O.'s have but one. Both McGinty's and Gale's bands receive board at the Fiji house in return for music after dinner and for dances. The house manager admits that two orchestras eat more than one; but he insists that by alternating the bands every other night the boarders don't get so tired of the same three pieces. At that McGinty's band can't be any worse than Gale's, and vice versa.

This tong used to be known as 600 University Avenue; but as soon as Joe Pearson got far enough along in Greek to figure out what the words Phi Gamma Delta meant he told the rest of the boys. So now they proudly call themselves Phi Gams. Theme tablets by a distinguished alumnus are used to paper the chapter room walls.

SIGMA NU

The fraternal bonds of Sigma Nu are very strong and touching. They'll be stronger yet, and still more touching, when they start building that new house which they have been talking about for ten years. At present, however, they are so strong that the members all stay around for at least five years. It is said that no one is graduating from their house this year. Their one possible candidate was the great Toe Eubanks. He left a little early, though.

The Sigma Nus (they call themselves Shigma Noosh on Saturday nights) have the quaint old custom of having two presidents during the year. This is accomplished by electing a president each fall who will be sure to flunk out at the end of the semester. The Sigma Nus are on intimate terms with the Gamma Phi Beta ladies and other members; terms so intimate, in fact, that the dark green shades (of hatred) have never been drawn between them.

BETA THETA PI

The home of $2100 worth of piano and no one to play the damn thing. In fact, next to the shelf reserved for a scholarship cup, the piano is the most useless fixture on the premises. There is lots of other music in the house, but no one can read it.

If the Betas win the Intramural cup, it is hoped that a small neck be placed on it so they can't all drink out of it at once. The 1929 version of their famous song begins, "Oh, pass the loving cup around before we all pass out."

Though everyone knows the Betas have a nice housemother, few persons know they have two. Benjamin David Carey, Jr., the Boston flash, is the assistant housemother, and serves in this capacity on the road. The Betas maintain chapter rooms in both Spokane and Lewiston, where certain of the brothers convene meetings on weekends, and at these gatherings Carey acts as housemother, chaperone, nursemaid, doctor, valet and chambermaid, all in one.

KAPPA SIGMA

It is only claimed that this fraternity was founded at the University of Bologna in 1400, but it is well known that this word has been its characteristic trait ever since. Also they use lots of it in sandwiches on picnics with pretzels and beer.

The Kappa Sig house was the first brick house on the campus, and consequently is the oldest. It looks it. A fine view of the rear windows of the Theta house may be obtained from the second story windows notwithstanding.

The annual Kappa Sig house party, which occurs around Thanksgiving each year, is the premier social event of the season. Only socially prominent girls are invited, so the women anxiously await the bids to see how they rate on the campus; because any co-ed that gets a bid to the Kappa Sig house party is made. It is held at Thanksgiving time so the boys can be thankful Summerfield didn't come.

SIGMA CHI

It has always been a puzzle to campus engineers just how forty-five men could cram into the Sigma Chi house without tipping it over the hill. The Sigma Chi's are the cosmopolitan group of the fraternities. They have scholars, athletes, activity men, soldiers, a police dog and Frank Hunt all under the same roof. The chapter room in the basement is the place where the brothers hold fraternity meetings once in a while whenever the room isn't being used for poker.

The Sigma Chi's believe in preparedness. An exhibition of their readiness at all times in case of fire or anything else was given last fall when someone called them up and said Summerfield was coming up to raid the place. The brothers piled out of windows, doors and knotholes with bottles, jugs and suitcases, and hit for the tall timber on the high lope. The house was cleared in exactly twenty seconds flat, and not a jug was broken.

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON

The famous Sleep and Eat club occupies one of the most historic houses in the Northwest. It was built by the Indians in 1778 and used as a headquarters by Lewis and Clark in 1805. The S.A.E.'s took it over in recent years and put a stove in it, so that it is now complete and up-to-date in all respects. They hope to have electric lights within five years. Special rates to deserving freshmen.

DELTA CHI

The Delta Chi's have a new home and wanted everyone to know it was new, so they left the concrete mixer out in the front yard all year long as evidence of recent construction. Otherwise one couldn't tell that it was a new house. The exterior finish and the tiny dining room call to mind the famous lines, "Stone walls do not a prison make, nor iron bars a cage." The distance between the social rooms and the attic dance pavilion is conveniently far.

BETA CHI

The Beta Chi fraternity is an honorary architecture students' fraternity. Out of twenty-five members twenty-four are majors in architecture. The twenty-fifth is a lone Ag student who fell out of a Morrill Hall window one night and the boys were so glad to see him they made him stay. Axel Yantzens, the president of all the campus organizations except the Girl Reserves, lives here.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

The Lambda Chi's are an up and coming young bunch of boys. They come up the street every day on their way to the Oriole Nest. The Lambda Chi boys believe in being on time for all social occasions, and consequently they roll around to the sorority houses for dinner about five o'clock on Wednesday night. It was a memorable occasion the day they came after the Kappas at 5:08½ to take them to dinner and found that the girls weren't home from their afternoon dates yet.

TAU KAPPA EPSILON

Tau Kappa Epsilon is a national fraternity for non-resident students. Its members occupy a spacious country estate about two miles from the campus, having promised the administration that they would stay as far away as possible if allowed to organize. The Tekes take correspondence courses at the University and vote at student elections by mail. They are allowed on the campus only on May Day, as they make darn good cheese-cloth dancers.

PHI DELTA THETA

Last but not least we have the Phi Delts, former custodians of THE ARGONAUT. The Phi Delts have led a rather quiet life this year, and for a while it was doubted if they were still on the campus. Someone passed by the house on meeting night and heard the two factions wrangling within, however, and so we are convinced they are still here. They are parking a lot of swell cars out in front lately in an effort to recover former prestige.

*“The world is so full of a number of things,
I’m sure we should all be as happy as kings.”*

But we find this trouble, as we look out—
There’s much that we don’t know much about.

There are things in the sea and things in the sky,
Things hidden for ages from mankind’s eye,
And things on the earth, in sight and out,
That curious searchers now tell us about.

The writers are finding new things to tell,
And inventors inventing new things to sell.
New things to learn make a busy din,
But there’s no more time to be learning them in.

This, in three stanzas, is the problem of higher education in these modern days.

The University of Idaho

boldly faces this problem and seeks to solve it. The University of Idaho, thru its new arrangement of courses, seeks to make its students at home in the world—the world of the past, the present, and the future—quickly and more thoroughly. It seeks to cultivate habits of thought, to offer mental equipment, which will best help Idaho young men and women make their choices as the problems of our rapidly changing life confront them.

Acknowledgment

We wish to express our sincere gratitude

To the members of the editorial and managerial staffs who so willingly gave much time and effort during the past year to the production of The Gem of 1929;

To Ralph W. York and other members of Syms-York Company, Boise, printers of the volume, whose enthusiastic interest and cooperation made working with them a pleasure at all times;

To Charles Dimond for the time he generously gave toward securing more and better photographs for the various sections of the book;

To Mr. and Mrs. Sterner of Sterner's studio, who spent much time in perfecting the still-life photographs for the subdivision pages;
