Foreword

Today we, as students of the University of Idaho, are proud to live in our State, the "Gem of the Mountains." Nowhere in the Nation are mountains more stupendous; forests so vast; gorges, waterfalls, caverns and other natural phenomena of such spectacular grandeur.

We have seen a complete transformation in this past year, not only with our change in State executives and University faculty; but in the vast increase of student enrollment. The 3700 students, married and single, old and new, found living accommodations in quonset huts, trailers and in crowded campus dormitories. Yet there are many things at Idaho that never change—basic things that hang on and stamp her with tradition.

This is truly the beginning of a new era at Idaho. We at "Idaho" have ideals to look for, to live up to, and to work towards.

Governor C. A. Robins

Governor of the State of Idaho

Northern Idaho rejoiced after final results from last November's general elections had been tabulated. For the first time in many a year a northern Idaho man had been elected Governor of the state as voters from the southern border to the northern border registered their approval of Dr. C. A. Robins for the post of chief executive.

A medical man by profession, Robins had dabbled in politics on the side. Hailing from St. Maries, he had been elected for three consecutive terms to the Idaho legislature from Benewah county. He was elected to a fourth in 1944, but resigned because he was the only physician left in the county at the time.

Dr. Robins located at St. Maries in 1919 where he has since practiced his profession and operated a hospital. Prior to settling down in St. Maries, he served as a lieutenant in the army medical corps during World War I.

President of the University of Idaho

President J. E. Buchanan

Six things, it seems to me, merit permanent recording in this year's Gem.

First, the year just closing saw more students registered at the University of Idaho than ever gathered here in any previous year.

Second, two out of every three students were World War II veterans. We began the long-promised educational pay-off to our fighting men and women.

Third, Idaho students were mighty good sports in accepting the crowded conditions in classes, laboratories, and living quarters. The University housed and instructed more students than was thought possible a year ago.

Fourth, the twenty-ninth session of the State Legislature gave the University the largest appropriation the institution has ever received. Best of all, the legislature gave the University every cent it requested. By this action, the legislators indicated their approval of the University and its three-fold program of Teaching, Research, and Service for the State of Idaho.

Fifth, the University launched what it hopes will be a successful physical education and athletic program.

Sixth, University of Idaho alumni all over the state organized into local and regional units to work for the future welfare of their alma mater.

From every angle, better days appear to be ahead.

Board of Regents

Final decisions on educational problems of the University lie in the hands of the Idaho Board of Regents, supreme governing body of Gem State education. Meeting quarterly, this six-member board coordinates policies, gives final approval on all decisions.

The Board of Regents this year will no doubt be remembered as the educational fathers who, along with the Idaho Educational Association and the twenty-ninth legislature, did more for Idaho's schools than had been done in the past three decades.

Highlights stemming from this year's efforts were the bill creating the "State College of Idaho" at Pocatello, which authorized four-year degree-granting courses in the Arts and Sciences, and the approval of the largest budget ever submitted by the University.

This year has seen a general increase in educational problems of the state as a whole. Solving these problems has meant more work for the Board of Regents. The results obtained are a good criterion of the board's efforts.

New members this year include Alton B. Jones, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, and Mrs. Maude C. Houston.

Administrative Officials

Administrative officials of the University found the year of 1946-1947 a busy one as they tried to maintain housing and classroom facilities on an equal basis with sky-high enrollment figures.

An all-out drive prior to the first semester to obtain adequate housing for students found the administrative hierarchy well occupied, making the most of what they had, and providing for new living quarters for both married and single students. The housing situation eased somewhat during the second semester as University bigwigs threw open the doors of Pine Hall to unmarried men.

Increased classroom space also occupied an important place on the program as new buildings went up in back of the Ad Building.

Smooth operation of the school during the second semester was a well-earned tribute to the administrative staff. With two exceptions, the staff was composed of personnel with long experience in their jobs. Kenneth A. Dick replaced Frank Stanton as Bursar, while L. C. Warner was named to succeed Evelyn M. Albrecht as Purchasing Agent.

Herbert E. Lattig

Mrs. Louise S. Carter

Dean of Men

Known as a conscientious and able administrator, Dean of Men HERBERT E. LATTIG gives helpful advice to his "boys," and coordinates his activities with those of the Veteran's Administration. With the large increase in enrollment, the path to his desk is well worn. Many a worried look has been replaced by one of relief when "Dad" Lattig gives the solution.

Dean of Women

In two years as Idaho's Dean of Women, Dean LOUISE S. CARTER has compiled a fine record of achievement in maintaining the high standards of campus women's groups. She is both counselor and companion, disciplinarian and advisor. Her interest is in helping the Associated Women Students maintain a high scholastic average, and still have fun.

University Deans

Now in his fourth year at Idaho, Dean W. J. BROCKELBANK was named Acting Dean of the College of Law in the fall of 1945. He studied both in the United States and Europe; has taught in numerous colleges throughout the country. When not delving into legal problems, Dean Brockelbank likes to play golf and study languages.

In a state where mining is one of the leading industries, the School of Mines, headed by Dean ARTHUR W. FAHRENWALD, has been assuming increasing importance. Considered an expert in his field, Dean Fahrenwald is probably best known for his flotation process, which is a standard operating procedure for American mining companies. He also maintains an active interest in all sports.

Dean RALPH H. FARMER came to Idaho in 1927 and now is Dean of the School of Business Administration. After graduating from Oberlin College in Ohio, he launched a career centered around teaching and banking. Started instructing business students near Cleveland, Ohio before moving on to the University of Minnesota. He has also taught banking during several summer sessions at the University of Washington.

University Deans

Dean CHARLES W. HUNGERFORD joined the Idaho faculty in 1919 after a World War I stint as a food conservation specialist with the Department of Agriculture. He took charge of the rapidly growing Graduate School in 1931; has held the job ever since. He still retains a fond interest in one of his first loves—plant pathology; finds time to advise troubled Palouse farmers on plant ills.

When an Idaho graduate, Dean J. E. Buchanan, was named University President last year, it was another Idaho graduate, Dr. ALLEN S. JANSSEN, who replaced him as Dean of the College of Engineering. Dean Janssen received his Master's Degree here in 1931; worked up to head the Civil Engineering Department before being named Acting Dean of the school which graduated him. He was recently appointed to the State Board of Engineering Examiners.

Another veteran Vandal educator is Dean DWIGHT S. JEFFERS of the School of Forestry. A Yale graduate, Dean Jeffers is a nature lover and is at home in any outdoor atmosphere. His work as head of the School of Forestry has brought it recognition as one of the top ranking in the nation. He emphasizes practical work for his future foresters.

University Deans

One of the best known of Idaho deans is white-haired T. S. KERR, head man in the College of Letters and Science since 1937. Since his arrival as an University faculty member in 1924, Dean Kerr has been one of the busiest of the Vandal teaching staff. As an authority on business law, he has published several books on the subject; finds time to help formulate Vandal athletic policy as a member of Idaho's athletic faculty board.

New dean of the Vandal College of Agriculture is Dr. D. R. THEOPHILUS, long-time Idaho faculty member, who took over the job of guiding the courses of ambitious young agricultural students last fall. Dean Theophilus did most of his studying at Iowa State College, receiving three degrees from that school. He has a daughter attending the University, a son in high school.

Comparatively speaking, Dean J. F. WELTZIN is a newcomer to the ranks of Vandal teachers. However, seventeen years of educational experience are ample proof of the qualifications he possesses for his present position. He was appointed the Dean of the School of Education in the fall of 1944 after having previously directed a school of education at Denver. He studied at the University of North Dakota and at Columbia. In his spare time he manages to write numerous articles on education.

Department Heads

Long-awaited material recognition came at last to Idaho's hard-working faculty as much-needed pay boosts were given the go-ahead by state government machinery. Faced by rising costs of living, Vandal faculty members found the road to higher salaries a rough one. Some solved the problem by accepting more lucrative offers elsewhere; most remained on the Moscow campus to sweat out legislative action.

On the shoulders of the department heads and faculty members pictured on the following pages lies the burden of educating Idaho youth. Final results of Gem State higher education depends largely upon them. Rarely making the headlines, these men and women have done much to overcome the problem of heavy post-war enrollment and the resulting overcrowded classrooms, heavy schedules, and after-hour instruction.

Gripes of faculty members are numerous, but they subordinate them to listen to student problems. For struggling, bewildered freshmen and school-wise seniors and graduate students, these faculty members are advisors, teachers, and pals. Their efforts in adverse circumstances have done much to place the University near the top among western educational institutions.

STUDENT SPOKESMEN

Gale Mix, Graduate Manager

Graduate Manager

Graduate Manager GALE MIX is one of the most familiar and busy figures on the campus. In his first fully active post-war year, listening to the complaints and filling the requests of the numerous activity groups, the executive board and student body, has become a job of huge proportions. Among the major projects accomplished this year was the reestablishment of the Pep Band and of the agriculture judging teams. Contracts for the building of the badly needed golf clubhouse were completed this spring.

Another step forward has been the construction of the winter sports area, which will be completed next summer with facilities for skiing, skating and for summer picnics. Gale Mix, in his direction of the executive board, has made this past year one of distinction.

Don Carlson, Director of Athletic Publicity

Athletic News Director

Job of reviving state and nation-wide interest in Idaho athletic teams went this year to energetic DON CARLSON, Vandal graduate and 1943 GEM editor. Date of Carlson's assumption of the job saw a marked increase in the amount of Idaho athletic publicity appearing in Gem State papers. From New York to California Vandal publicity spread, largely through Carlson's efforts. In his absence, student Clark Chandler took over.

Student assistance in the Graduate Manager's office came from Bob McLaughlin, Mrs. Marilyn Gorshe, and Clark Chandler

Mrs. Virginia Christiansen, Secretary to the Graduate Manager

Secretary to Graduate Manager

Mrs. VIRGINIA CHRISTIANSEN, cashier and secretary to the graduate manager, has a big job on her hands, that of handling all the finances which go through this office. Capable efforts of "Ginny" result in the smooth operation of an office which handles everything from ticket sales to issuance of "I" sweaters. Assistants in the office this year have been Mrs. Marilyn Gorshe and Bob McLaughlin.

ASUI PREXY

ASUI activities this year were formulated under the leadership of NORM FREDERIKIND, senior physical education major who returned from war service to finish his studying.

Not a back-slapping politician, Norm's quiet sincerity kept student support for his administration and unity among executive board members. He wore a haggard look for several months when basketball and ASUI work made every day a busy one for him.

Norm climbed to the key political spot in campus life in a few short weeks, and prior to last spring's elections concentrated on "I" Club work. Elected by the United Party, he made "fair play" the year's theme song and both Greeks and Independents acknowledged his success in carrying out this policy.

ASUI Executive Board

Political angles received secondary consideration in executive board activity this year as members pursued a bi-partisan policy in handling campus affairs. Members voted along individual rather than party lines to stymie political significance of the slim Greek majority.

Greeks elected were Bob McLaughlin, Don Anderson, Frances Rhea, J. T. Peterson, and Boyd Hansen, along with ASUI Prexy Norm Fredekind. Independents named to the board were Walt Smith, Sylvan Jeppesen, Ann Price, and Geraldine Merrill. Dick Eimers and Romaine Galey, Argonaut editors; Dr. H. Walter Steffens, advisor; Graduate Manager Gale Mix; and AWS President Ethel Jane Kopelman sit in as ex-officio members.

Building received much of the board's attention as they approved construction of a golf course club house, a new track in Neale Stadium, and improvement of the winter sports area.

Reorganization of the Pep Band, playing host to the Association of Idaho student body presidents, cooperation with the faculty in revision of campus traffic rules, and selection of a committee to get the new Student Union Building under way were other board projects.

Routine business included proposing amendments to the ASUI constitution, selection of committee heads, and approval of awards.

ASSOCIATED

Ethel Jane Kopelman, A.W.S. President

The Associated Women Students chose ETHEL JANE KOPELMAN as their president for this year. "Scotty," a sociology major, served as Delta Delta Delta house president. Membership in Spurs, Cardinal Key, Mortar Board and Phi Beta Kappa are but a few of her accomplishments. She was chosen to appear in "Who's Who in American Colleges."

A.W.S. Council

Officers elected by the Associated Women's Council and junior and senior council representatives from each women's living group compose the body of the council. Major project for the year was the introduction of a new orientation program under the leadership of the president and orientation chairman, Lucile Thompson. Council members supervised the panel discussions held with new women students to explain the campus to them and answer their questions about it. Delta Tau Gamma members acted as counselors during registration week. Plans have been made to develop this program more fully in the coming year. During the year the traditional AWS Carnival was resumed with Jane Thompson as its chairman and John Dailey representing the co-sponsoring group, the "I" Club. The constitution was revised and, crowning the year, was the annual Mothers' Day Mayfete. Ann Price reigned as May Queen attended by Margaret Arnold as Maid of Honor and Page Myrna Ritchey.

SENIORS

SENIOR

The Seniors "dood" it again! They followed their performance of last year, when as Juniors they became noted for unique themes. Under the direction of Betty Ann Craggs and Adair Hilligoss, the seniors finally unveiled their theme, "The Dog-gonedest Week in History." Students turned out enthusiastically for the dog show, begging, borrowing, or - - - dogs for the show.

JOHN KRIER returned from the service to become proctor at Willis Sweet Hall and to be elected president of the Senior class. Before the war he was very active in campus affairs.

GEORGE WALSH was selected by the seniors as vice-president. He was also president of Chrisman Hall first semester and is a member of the Independent Council. Other activities include Sigma Tau, Associated Engineers, being chairman of the latter.

"ZEB" HODGE, secretary of the Senior Class, has a long list of other activities to her credit. She was Forney Hall president first semester, was a member of the Independent Council, calendar committee, WAA, homecoming committee and the activities board. She was chosen for "Who's Who in American Colleges," was on the AWS council and, being an art major, was vice-president of the Attie Club.

Second Semester Officers: Treasurer "Ole" Olson, Secretary Ruth Gochnour, Vice-President Don Hyder and Ray Broadhead, who was their President

OFFICERS

Sigma Chi was awarded two first prizes for the "mangiest" and the "mostest" dogs, as well as second prize for the best-dressed mutt, Sigma Alpha Epsilon capturing this first place. Climaxing the week's festivities was the semi-formal Senior Ball.

RAY BROADHEAD, president of the seniors second semester, having returned from three years' navy service, has been active on the campus as Independent Caucus vice-president and as a member of the Senior Week committee first semester.

DON HYDER, stepping up from his position of class treasurer first semester, was elected vice-president. He is a member of Zi Sigma Phi, national forestry honorary and is social chairman and kitchen manager of the Campus Club.

"OLE" OLSON, treasurer of the class of '47, is also active in intra-mural sports. Besides this he is the senior representative for Lindley Hall.

RUTH GOCHNOUR, secretary of the seniors, has been active in various campus groups. She was a Spur, a member of the Independent Council and on the Senior Week committee.

JUNIOR

"Mardi-Gras" was the theme of Junior week, under the leadership of Earl Hayes and Ruth Valadon. Lavish decorations distinguished the successful Junior Prom. Under E. J. Marty's direction, the Juniors practiced weekly for their annual serenade, but it was rained out.

PRESIDENT KENNY LEMON headed the officers. This SAE is a member of Curtain Club and has been active in dramatics and other campus endeavors.

DONNA CHAPMAN, vice-president, is one of the campus's busiest co-eds. She has distinguished herself by her multi-activities and by her high scholarship in receiving the Mortar Board plaque.

Junior Secretary "MIKE" ARNOLD also has her hand in most campus activities, politically, scholastically, and socially. She was May Fete maid of honor and Junior Prom decorations co-chairman second semester.

Theta EVE SMITH found her major in business handy for her job as class treasurer. Phi Chi Theta honorary president, her three years here have been three years of solid activity.

Second semester officers: Bob Jones, President; Sharon O'Donnell, Secretary; Barbara Spaeth, Treasurer; and Marian Eisenhauer, Vice-President

OFFICERS

The adjectives spectacular, unique and colorful all fit the Junior Week Mardi-Gras rally. One of the most successful rallies held at Idaho, trophies were awarded to Phi Gamma Delta and Hays Hall for their original and colorful contributions.

Second semester head of the class of '48 was BOB JONES, who calls the Phi Delt house and Twin Falls home. He is a pre-dent major and has been prominent on the campus.

Pi Phi MARIAN EISENHAUER acted as vice-president. She has been active in music, Home Ec, Westminster Guild, and WAA.

Secretary SHARON O'DONNELL kept the minutes for the class second semester. She is noted for being a diligent worker in her many campus activities.

BARBARA SPAETH was the busy Junior treasurer from the white-frame Kappa house. Besides serving on numerous ASUI committees, she is active in Westminster Guild and as a member of the Gem staff.

SOPHOMORES

Sophomore

"Chip" Walter, Vice-President; Bob Pettijohn, Secretary; John Morley, President; Herbert Greenberg, Treasurer

Under the direction of their well-chosen officers, the traditional Sophomore Holly Week was a highly successful achievement. Commencing with an assembly, "Christmas Carousel," the week got off to a good start. The Sophomores also serenaded all living groups on the campus.

JOHN MORLEY, president first semester, comes from Idaho Falls to pursue his major in business. Last year he was treasurer of the Freshman class. A member of the golf team, he won the University golf tournament, and still had time to serve as social chairman for the LDS house.

"CHIP" WALTER, probably best known for his participation in University dramatic productions, was chosen vice-president by the Sophomores first semester. He is also president of Curtain, dramatics honorary, is a member of Vandaleers, and serves on the activities board.

BOB PETTIJOHN, secretary of the Sophomores, calls Melba his home town. He is social chairman of the Campus Club, belongs to the Associated Engineers' organization, and claims he's going to be a chemical engineer.

HERBERT GREENBERG, chosen treasurer first semester, is from Deer Park, Washington. He is a member of Tau Mem Aleph, works on the Argonaut, and participates in various other campus activities.

Officers

Despite the opposition of the weather, most houses participated in the erecting of Christmas decorations. The Sophomores awarded trophies to the winning houses, Ridenbaugh and Sigma Chi. Climaxing the week's festivities was the "Old-Fashioned Christmas" semi-formal held in the Memorial Gym, at which Shirley Gustafson was crowned queen by John Morley.

Second semester JAN GARBER, pert Gamma Phi, headed the Sophomores as president. Beside holding this office, she is president of Spurs, and is a member of Westminster Guild and Hell Divers. She also participated in intra-mural debates.

ROLLAND TIPSWORD, more commonly known as "Tip," was elected vice-president second semester. Among his other activities are Phi Eta Sigma, past vice-president and present social chairman of the Delt house, and membership in University Singers.

JEANNE HOFMANN, busy Spur, was the Sophomore's choice for secretary second semester. She is a member of Alpha Lambda Delta, Kappa Phi, and Phi Upsilon Omicron. Jeanne also is a member of Radio Club and the Gem staff.

PAT DWYER, Tri-Delt Spur, was treasurer of the Sophomore class second semester. She is also a member of Alpha Lambda Delta and Greek Caucus, and has participated in various other campus activities.

Freshman

First semester officers: Bob Moulton, Vice-President; Paul Rigtrup, President; Betty Tellin, Secretary; and Jack Vassar, Treasurer

Bustles and moustachioed swains coupled with barber-shop quartets set the theme for the annual Freshman-week dance. This year they over-passed the assembly of former years to concentrate their efforts on their May 16 dance. During intermission of the semi-formal "Gay Nineties" ball, entertainment followed the themata.

President PAUL RIGTRUP arrived on the Idaho campus for the first time from Burley. The business major, who hangs his hat at Lindley Hall, has been active in debate.

BOB MOULTON, vice-president, has already taken part in numerous campus activities. He is a member of Intercollegiate Knights, a member of the International Relations Club, and president of C.S.M.Y.F.

BETTY TELLIN of Hays Hall was elected secretary of the Freshmen. As a member of the Vandaleers and of the University Singers, she took part in "Sing, Singleton, Sing," and in the annual concerts.

Independent Caucus member JACK VASSAR served the Freshmen as first semester treasurer. He takes his phone calls at Willis Sweet Hall.

Officers

Highlight of the festive ball was the drawing of a raffle by Willard Beitz. Prize for the winning number was a 1927 Model "T" Ford auto. Officers of both semesters took part in the arrangements for the dance, since it falls during the second semester.

HAROLD JENSEN returned from service in the AAF to continue his long deferred education in political science. In addition to his post of president of the freshman class, he wields the gavel for the Idaho Club and is a member of the independent party caucus.

Vice-president of the youngest Idaho class is BRUCE STUCKI, who is a member of the Intercollegiate Knights, is treasurer of the LDS house, and in connection with his work in Vandaleers has danced in "Sing, Singleton, Sing" and for the Junior Prom.

Blond PAT SLACK, secretary for the busy frosh, hangs her bandanna at Hays Hall and participates in numerous class and campus activities, among them WAA.

DOUG KRAMER, who hails from Gooding, acted as treasurer for the class. He lives at Willis Sweet Hall, is a member of IK and of the "I-Vets" council. He also served on the election board.

Second semester officers: Doug Kramer, Treasurer; Pat Slack, Secretary; Harold Jensen, President; and Bruce Stucki, Vice-President

GEM OF

Editor

Trouble and more trouble is routine for GEM editors, as Ora White, yearbook boss, found out. Increased enrollment resulted in increased problems—problems which were put out of mind only when final approval had been given by Printer Ralph York in Boise. Every once in a while, however, an outburst of laughter reminded passers-by that editorship also brought enjoyment and satisfaction.

The GEM office became a second home to Editor White when she ascended to the top editorial spot of the yearbook after a long activity career on the campus. Starting in the summer months she spent many of her waking hours working on the book—dreaming up ideas, planning layouts, formulating a staff.

Ora White, Editor

Associate Editor

Associate Editor Dayle Molen helped Editor White to see that the campus got an annual with style, interesting reading matter and lots of pictures, even though it meant little time for study and long hours at the office. With the continued assistance of "Smiles," the final deadline was reached and the reek of liquid glue from the GEM office was a thing of the past.

Business Manager

Little seen in the GEM office, but indispensable to its publication, was the business staff, which was responsible for advertisements, sale of space to organizations, and distribution.

A 1946-1947 innovation of having every student purchase a yearbook in registration line eased the first-semester worries of the GEM business staff this year; the resulting increase in the number of books to be distributed added more last semester problems.

Big boss on the business staff was Dona Harding, a major in commercial education and an experienced worker. To help her she had three assistant business managers—Earl Hayes, Donna Chapman, and Ivan Woods.

GEM OF THE

Editorial Staff

Recognition for hard-working GEM staff heads came only at the end of the year when students, thumbing yearbook pages, discovered the "behind the scenes" personnel of the annual.

For the first time since pre-war days men garnered a majority of staff head positions as they flocked back to the campus in increasing numbers. Some were veterans of pre-war student publications, but there was also new blood among staff members.

The task of lining up clubs and honoraries for pictures was in the hands of organization co-editors Barbara Spaeth and Dick Beier.

Key job of handling photography was split this year as Bert Dingle and Don Robertson alternated as editors of the photo section. When Dingle left school at semester time Robertson took over.

Responsible for the cartoons sprinkled throughout the GEM was Bob Neuman, Art Editor. Chief of the copy staff was Editor Bob Booth, who supervised copy writers and did much of the work himself. Co-editors of the Administration section were Bob Briggs and Jack Peters.

MOUNTAINS

Production Staff

Chief problem of Editor White's assistants came in lining up student help. From the many who signed up at school's start, few responded when actual work appeared. The few who did found themselves overburdened with typing, collecting information, photomounting, and working out an enormous amount of detail—one of the crosses GEM workers must bear. Consequently, staff heads often found themselves holding the sack; wound up doing much of the work themselves.

Co-editors of the activities section were Elizabeth Robinson and Donna Chapman, who scheduled pictures and wrote copy. Jeanne Hoffmann was in charge of the editorial secretarial staff while Geneva Ferguson headed the class section. All four of the above jobs involved much typing, checking, and detail work.

Secretarial chief for the business staff was Glessnor Bradbury. Job of supervising copy writing and taking of pictures for the athletic section went to Jack Taylor. Underclassmen Phil Schnell and Bill Hansen were in charge of photomounting.

THE IDAHO

Editor

Not the first woman editor of the Argonaut, but one of the best, Romaine Galey filled the post that traditionally falls to a masculine journalism major.

The energetic Boise girl started working on the paper in her freshman year; finally took over the chair of editor-in-chief in the spring semester of 1946.

When the school bells rang in the fall of that year she brought the paper back to the twice-a-week schedule of pre-war years by her ingenuity and ability to organize those working on the paper with her. At the end of the first semester, after three and one-half years of service to the students on their paper, she turned over the Arg office to a new crew.

Business Manager

Pat King, senior journalism major, led the parade of men back to the editorial room and business office of the Argonaut. As business manager he replaced able Louise Schlegel, who had directed that section of the paper the previous year.

With the aid of Advertising Manager Sharon O'Donnell, Pat gathered his crew of ad chasers each Wednesday and Friday afternoon to scour the Moscow business district and the campus for the Arg's life-blood—advertisements.

ARGONAUT

Editor

A succession of women editors, broken only once in the war years, ended with the passing of the paste pot and blue pencil to Dick Eimers, junior in journalism and war veteran.

Returning to the clatter of the Argonaut office after an army sponsored tour of the U.S. and Europe, he turned out feature articles until the managing editor's chair became vacant when Ladd Hamilton resigned.

Guided by the experience of hard-working women editors on the staff, Dick picked up Jason's pen at the start of the second semester. Under the new editor, the Arg staff was composed chiefly of freshmen and sophomores, which predicts a happy future for the papers of the next few years.

Business Manager

Five years with the army, much of it overseas, dulled none of Art Riddle's desire to become a journalist. An eager eye for errors put the Boise man on the proof-reading staff in the fall of the school year when mistakes were many and complaints of readers almost as plentiful.

His zeal in the search for perfect copy and fine judgment of the value of news landed him the thankless job of managing editor for the second semester. As such, he will automatically inherit the headaches and small glories of the editor next year.

THE IDAHO

Editorial Staff

The school year of 1946-1947 brought many new faces to the Argonaut news room, and found as many more ready to take a rest after laboring during the war years with short staffs, short news, and short ads.

Gene Rose, frosh baseball ace, took over the sports desk from long-time Arg slave Clark Chandler, who devoted more of his time to the ASUI news bureau.

New life came to the campus distribution gang with the load divided between Eds and Co-Eds. Every Monday and Friday afternoon Maurice Paulsen and Martha Rigby got together as rewrite editor and co-news editor to fight the battle of the paper.

Spade work for the sheet was done by the society crew, the multitude of reporters, and the feature writers, who sometimes worried the editor, but never missed an issue. They are the backbone of the paper, and worked with real interest when harsh words and an occasional by-line were the only reward other than personal satisfaction.

ARGONAUT

Production Staff

Faithful to the Argonaut for her entire college career, Frances Rhea turned over the news editor's job to Geneva Ferguson and Martha Rigby at the end of the first semester.

Without the backshop crew at the Idahonian, the paper never would have been. Jerry Riddle and Joe Shinn of the campus distribution staff saw much of the "back-shop boys" as they waited for the Arg to come off the press.

Both newcomers, Night Editor Olevia Smith and Feature Editor Stan Godecke became main gears in the Argonaut machine. Smitty and Lee Bath read miles of proof in the late evening hours, many times saving the skin of a careless editor.

The "ad chasers" under Sharon O'Donnell and the mail distribution staff with Rosemary Meehan in charge gave many thankless hours to the paper that many cursed but everyone read. All were part of a staff that never missed a deadline.

BLOT

A new publication was introduced to the campus this fall. BLOT was established by a group of students who felt the need for a University magazine in which student work could be published and which could be used to disseminate student opinion. Elizabeth Robinson and Maurice Paulsen edited the December issue and in February Bob Booth replaced Elizabeth, continuing through the year. Tom Butterfield became the business manager during second semester. Two cover contests were sponsored by the magazine during the year. The first named Irene Kirsch "On-the-Blot-Girl" and Joe Schmidt was elected "Blot Gentleman of Distinction."

Freshman Handbook

The ASUI Freshman Handbook was distributed to new students in registration lines this fall and describes student activities and organizations to the enrollees. It also includes a complete copy of the ASUI constitution and by-laws. Appointed to edit the handbook for 1946-1947 was Joyce McMahon, who compiled the material last spring in order to have the handbook available to students this year. This first post-war edition of the ASUI Freshman Handbook contained all the constitutional revisions, amendments, and organizational changes made on the campus in the last three years, during which no handbook was issued.

A.W.S Handbook

Published annually, the AWS handbook contains revised rules, regulations, honoraries and hints on campus dress for incoming women students. The handy booklet is distributed to them when they arrive in the fall. It is also of great use to older students who wish to brush up on regulations. "The Co-ed Code of the Associated Women Students" is illustrated with cartoons and sketches of campus life. Evelyn Fisher, editor, Marina Dochios and Lucile Thompson were in charge of rewriting this year's issue.

The Idaho Forester

Published annually by the students of the School of Forestry, The Idaho Forester was edited this year by Steele Barnett. It is distributed to all active forestry students, alumni and organizations in the Idaho area. Written material covers all activities, field trips of the foresters, and an alumni directory. Faculty adviser is Dr. Deters.

The Idaho Engineer

The Idaho Engineer, official publication of the Idaho Society of Engineers, is published four times yearly for the promotion of the profession. Editors of the past year have been: first semester, Bob Smith; second semester, Charles Ohms.

Publications Board

Dick Eimers, Romaine Galey, Ann Price, Gale Mix, Ora White, Dr. P. T. Scott, Norman Fredekind

The publications board recommends to the ASUI executive board all appointments for editorial positions on the various publications, generally formulates policies relative to them, and is responsible in their legal matters. The board consists of the graduate manager, journalism head, ASUI president, Argonaut and Gem editors and business managers, and a member of the ASUI executive board.

Alumni Secretary

Job of coordinating activities of Vandal alumni this year went to James M. Lyle, an Idaho graduate and a veteran Gem State educator. When Bill Olson, pre-war alumni secretary, submitted his resignation after return from service, the Idaho Alumni Association and President Jess Buchanan promptly appointed Lyle to the position.

After graduating from the University in 1929, Lyle embarked on an educational guidance career, serving as assistant State Superintendent of Schools and as Superintendent of Schools in several Idaho cities. With the outbreak of war he entered the army, then returned to the campus as Veteran's Counselor, a job he held until he received his present appointment.

Lyle's biggest problem at the present is bringing up to date the records of more than 10,000 Vandal alumni, records which were neglected during wartime. At the same time, his work calls for stimulation of interest among Idaho graduates who have been out of touch with their alma mater.

University Singers

University Singers again became a mixed group with the addition of many veterans back on the campus this year. The large group gives opportunity for a wide selection of music. This organization is open to anyone who desires to sing, and may be taken either for credit or activity. Regular attendance is required.

Director Beecher, working with this group, has helped the members to enjoy music while learning the fundamentals. In the spring the program included numerous different types of music. Fred Waring arrangements, songs by Gershwin, and a cappella numbers all added to the variety.

Norman Logan, senior music student and assistant director, has also worked with the group during the second semester.

Pep Band

First semester reorganization of the University Pep Band under the direction of Jack Furey found a great amount of heretofore undiscovered talent in the numerous returning veterans who had served in GI bands and orchestras. For the first time in the history of the band a member of the music faculty, Edmund J. Marty, director of bands, was elected to the post of advisor; Adair Hilligoss was appointed rehearsal director. The nucleus of the organization, drawn from the "Gentlemen of Note," was whipped into shape within two weeks after school began. Pre-seasonal appearances were made during football games and rallies. Before homecoming the band was sent to the Wallace-Kellogg area to celebrate Idaho's first post-war homecoming. The band took to the road, playing for high schools and residents of Orofino and Lewiston, appearing eventually throughout the whole Coeur d'Alene area. They also performed before the Spokane, Washington Rotary Club and broadcast over radio stations KXLY and KGA. On the agenda for the entire season were football games and athletic contests for which the band played.

Pep Band members warm up for the annual band show, revived for this first post-war year.

Pep Band Show

Major project of the second semester Pep Band under the direction of George Hartwell and Pete Barrington was the Pep Band show held March 21 and 22. Instrumentation for the show was six saxophones, five trumpets, four trombones, two french horns, two pianos, drums, bass viol and bass horn. Manager Fred Willett was in charge of the production. An attempt was successfully made to demonstrate the flexibility of modern American music as contrasted against the usual stereotyped "commercial" swing or jazz.

Military Band

Freshman and sophomore men in the ROTC program make up the entire personnel of the Military Band. This is the first post-war year for the organization and by second semester it reached its full strength. Under the direction of Edmund J. Marty, the band distinguished itself primarily as a marching unit and in drill and field exhibitions. Rehearsals for the latter are held regularly.

Woodwinds: Freiermuth, Achenbach, Bitter, Doggett, Johnson, Toevs, Harding, Long, Truesdell, Baum, Boyer, Curtis, Daily, Folkins, Guderjohn, Huff, Kelley, Norman, Stucki, Turnbull; Brasses: Manson, Meyer, Powell, Schnell, Clark, Nichols, Riches, Walker, Largent, Coats, Kass, Sutton; Percussions: Frandsen, Ioset, Jordon, Mink, Spoerhase; Drum Major: Manson.

KUOI

In the fall of 1945, a group of students determined that there should be a radio station on the campus, borrowed equipment from the University, NROTC, and from private individuals, and set up shop in a corner of the double "E" lab, in the engineering annex. In November of this year the first broadcasts made from the resultant station were celebrated in an all-student anniversary party. This year also saw the station move to an especially constructed studio in the engineering annex. Originally operating on a frequency of 650 kilocycles, KUOI was transferred to 660 with its affiliation with the Intercollegiate Broadcasting System and has increased from two to five watts in power. The station now has a regular schedule of programs, covering campus activities for 14 hours each day. Special "on-the-spot" broadcasts of concerts, assemblies and athletic contests are regularly featured. The station is self-supporting, gaining funds by broadcasting music from its collection of over 800 records for living groups' dances.

Dramatics

Small, capable, energetic and encouraging, Miss Jean Collette has furthered remarkably the advancement of drama on the Idaho campus. She tackles the job of difficult and unusual plays and presents as nearly a professional production as possible with the limited facilities placed within her reach. Under her direction student interest in drama has steadily grown in the decade and a half she has been working here. During preparation for a production, she works tirelessly day and night overseeing the construction of stage sets, organizing working crews and polishing actors' lines for the opening night. It is a difficult job that this talented and responsible individual takes upon herself, but one that she accomplishes with a vengeance. Were it not for her dogged determination, the students of Idaho might not have had the opportunity to see many fine plays.

Besides her yearly ASUI showings, Miss Collette also supervises the production of a series of one-act plays each semester.

Jean Collette, Director

Shirley Brandt ties Ned Bouler's tie behind the scenes in "Brief Candle."

"Brief Candle"

As a spring production, the ASUI presented "Brief Candle," by Robert Hare Powell. The play covered one evening in the lives of an aged woman, her son, and the discontented young wife of an unromantic business man, many years her senior.

Marina Dochios as octogenarian Miss Tica says, "All of us old people are tired," to Rodney (Gayle Manion) and Cynthia (Enid Almquist).

"You're never troubled by moonlight and old-fashioned gardens and music," remonstrates Cynthia, the dissatisfied wife, to her husband, Gordon, as played by Gene Rothe.

"Seven Keys to Baldpate"

"Seven Keys to Baldpate," a distinct departure from the usual Idaho production, was the summer play. It is one that has enjoyed great popularity in amateur production. By George M. Cohan, the mystery is the story of an author who goes to a forsaken inn in search of an idea for a "chiller" and finds himself in the midst of one.

"So you tried to double-cross me . . ." Jim Cargan, the crooked mayor, threatens blackmailer Myra Thornhill. The mayor's man Friday looks on. Jim Fowler played the mayor, Margaret Arnold the blackmailer, and Bill Gudmundson the aide.

"He's burned the money!" scream the members of the cast, as the hermit (Maurice Paulsen) throws it into the fireplace.

"I Remember Mama"

John Van Druten's comedy, "I Remember Mama" was presented in November. An adaptation of the novel, "Mama's Bank Account," by Kathryn Forbes, the play, which was written to be presented on a turn-table set, was admirably produced on the conventional one of the University.

"Show me your teeth . . . You brush them goot?" asks Uncle Chris (Otis Walters) of Katrin (Darlene Henderson), the "only boy," and Christine.

"Get out! Get out! I don't want you here. Get out!" Uncle Chris admonishes the three aunts, Trina, Sigrid and Jenny, played by Di Bowler, Nancy Smith and Margaret Payne respectively, while Mama and Katrin look on.

"Who's the most beautiful baby in San Francisco?" Aunt Trina delightedly coos at her offspring, while her husband Mr. Torkelson (Kenneth Lemon) beams.

Mama philosophizes, "Comes a time when you've got to get down on your knees." Midge Dean and Darlene Henderson carried a good deal of the three-act play with expert hands.

"Sing, Singleton, Sing"

A singing senator, an election campaign and a marvelous potato elixir complicated the plot of the hilarious musical comedy. It was set on a dude ranch near Sun Valley. With music by Hall Macklin and lyrics by Ted Sherman and Geoffrey Coope, the original comedy was a highlight of the production year.

"Chip" Walter as Senator Singleton is greeted on his arrival at Ma Randall's (Betty Smith) dude ranch by a chorus of Dudes (the Vandaleers).

Bette West, the "comely wench," repulses the Senator's effeminate secretary (Maurice Paulsen) in the humorous song, "The Cowboy and the Wench."

Judy Singleton (Pat Jordan) and Steve Maxwell (Bill Davidson) discuss merits of "Moonlight in Sun Valley." It was directed by Robert Walls, instructor of music.

The male chorus and Patti Utgard, director of the dancing, look appreciatively on the chorus as they dance "A Hundred Years from Now." They were: Pat Miller, Dawn Barnes, Mary Stanek, Dorothy Dean Stanley, Marilyn Clark, Betty Telling and Virginia Dreher.

Bob Leeper, Jerry Riddle and Bob Hoffman adjust the "moon" on stage crew.

Margo (Margaret Burson) attempts to elude the eager senator during a "rehearsal" for a broadcast.

Debate

With the school's increase in enrollment and the influx of veterans this year, the caliber and size of the debate team greatly increased. A. E. Whitehead, debate coach, found that this year he could depend on at least four good men's teams as contrasted with the one of the previous season. Opening the season on December 6 at Walla Walla, the women's teams tied for first place with Whitman and W.S.C. in the annual triangular meet. The three teams, which were composed of Geneva Ferguson, Carol Fitch, Joyce Keeton, Rayola Ritchey, Ethel Turner, and Joyce Taylor, won four debates and lost an equal number. After a preliminary session at Gonzaga, the men's teams started their season a week later, meeting Whitman and W.S.C. at Pullman. Repeating last year's performance, the veteran-bolstered squad took the tourney and gained possession of the new meet trophy by winning six out of eight debates. The team members were David Weeks, Richard Boren, Jack Menge, Blaine Evans, Roscoe Buckland, and Frank Cannon. Northwest junior college teams gathered at Moscow for the Inland Empire Junior College meet January 21 and 22. W.S.C. won the tourney, with Idaho tying for second.

Varsity

In the February 15 Lewiston meet Idaho debaters garnered two victories against six defeats to place third in the triangular contest with Lewiston Normal and W.S.C. In the year's major tournament, held at Linfield College in McMinnville, Oregon, on February 27 and 28 and March 1, Idaho was represented by Geneva Ferguson and Frances Rhea in the women's division and Jack Menge, Blaine Evans, Roscoe Buckland, Frank Cannon, Richard Rigby, Paul Rigtrup, Richard Boren and David Weeks in the men's group. Idaho placed four teams in the finals, with Blaine Evans taking individual honors by winning the senior men's impromptu contest in a field of 45 speakers. Because of the teams' showing at Linfield, Idaho was chosen first alternate for the Northwest District in the national tourney at Westpoint, New York, May 1 and 2. That choice was based upon the performance of the two teams composed of Frances Rhea, Geneva Ferguson, Jack Menge and Blaine Evans. The final meet of the year was held at Missoula April 17 and 18.

Debate

For the first time since the war, the men's intramural debate teams saw action. The subject was "Resolved that labor should have a direct share in the management of industry." The meet was under the direction of Blaine Evans and Jack Menge. Faculty member judges chose the Lindley Hall debaters for first place, with Sigma Chi running a close second. For its achievement in winning the tournament Lindley Hall was awarded the new men's intramural traveling award, which is to be given to the winning men's group each year. In women's intramural debate, the Alpha Phis' teams took top honors, debating the question "Resolved that the federal government should revise its labor legislation to provide control over strikes and industrial disputes."

The winning team remained undefeated throughout the entire tourney, which was held from October 23 to November 6, while Forney Hall's second place team suffered but one defeat. The Delta Sigma Rho debate trophy was awarded the winning Alpha Phis by the national forensics honorary whose name it bears. Eleonore Andrews and Joyce McMahon were in charge of the faculty-judged tourney.

ROTC

The ROTC unit was established on the Idaho campus January 8, 1917. Since then innumerable students have taken elementary and advanced courses in Military Science. Outstanding graduates of these courses were noted for valor in World Wars I and II, and an enviable record was made by others. Among those faculty member graduates who participated in ROTC as students here are President Jesse Buchanan and Bursar Kenneth Dick. The Corps' stated mission is the preparation of junior officers who will serve the nation's need in time of emergency. The War Department for that reason furnishes weapons, uniforms, text books and instructors to the University. Students, too, receive government allowances, due for increase soon by congressional action. Heading Idaho's Reserve Officers' Training Corps is Colonel Benjamin H. Hensley, Professor of Military Science and Tactics. Major F. V. Smith is the Assistant Professor of Military Science and Tactics, and Adjutant. Other instructors in the military science department are M/Sgt. Paul Curd, M/Sgt. Jefferson D. Morgan, S/Sgt. Charles V. Kramer, 1st/Sgt. Tris D. Faulkner, and 1st/Sgt. Edgar H. Harris.

NROTC

There's a little Annapolis on the Idaho campus, far from the roaring sea usually associated with Navy life.

It's the local Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps, a group of qualified students chosen by the Navy to take training—with pay—leading to an active commission. Forty students enlisted in the peacetime program last fall, thirty of them freshmen. Several who were among the 180 Navy men on active duty here last year returned to continue their training.

Under the command of Captain S. H. Ambruster, the peacetime program trains civilian students who wear the Navy blue and gold only for drill and take one course in naval science each semester in addition to their regular studies. They are paid either $50 a month in addition to tuition fees, books, and uniform, or $20 a month subsistence during junior and senior years, according to the terms of their contracts. They depart soon on summer training cruises in the Pacific, to Hawaii, Panama, and ports undesignated. At graduation in a formal ceremony they are commissioned Ensigns, U.S.N. or U.S.N.R.

At times during the year the Navy has passed on some of its wealth of material by showing Navy-made war movies to students and faculty. An open-house and Navy Day exhibit, and half-time entertainment at the Homecoming game are other of the unit's activities.

Judging Teams

Idaho's judging teams added another successful year to their record when they journeyed to the Pacific International Livestock Show in Portland this fall. For the third time the livestock judging team won the plaque awarded for first place. A win next year would give Idaho permanent possession of the plaque. Won also were individual honors.

In the dairy cattle judging contest, Idaho again carried off top honors. The team, under the direction of Dr. D. L. Fourt, won two trophies to be added to the collection in Morrill Hall. The dairy products team, which is coached by Dr. H. C. Hansen, placed third in judging ice cream, milk, butter and cheese, to furnish their trophy to the collection.

Director of Athletics

For the first time in three years Idaho had a full-time Director of Athletics as George Greene returned from a stretch of duty in the Navy to resume the job he relinquished in the spring of 1943.

As head of Vandal athletic activities Greene had his hands full with Idaho showings in all sports hitting rock bottom. Much of his time after football season ended was spent in searching for a grid coach to succeed "Babe" Brown.

Greene's worries are not yet at an end, as revamping of the Idaho athletic situation still continues. His job will be one of the key spots in the drive to place Vandal teams near the top after a long cellar-dwelling career.

George Greene, Director of Athletics

Athletic Faculty Board

Working behind the scenes of the Idaho athletic show is the athletic faculty board, little known to Vandal students but instrumental in developing Idaho athletic policy.

Yell Leaders

Vandal yell leaders found the going tough this year as Idaho teams lost consistently in both football and basketball. With Vandal spirit hitting a new low, the yell team worked hard making the best of a bad deal.

Bright spot in a dull year came in the first Oregon State basketball game when Idaho cheer leaders found themselves with one hundred per cent backing from both students and players. Enthusiasm in other contests was on a par with team performances.

Red-headed Art Humphrey, a cross country letterman, led the team as yell king. Steve Gilbert and Jack Krehbiel were Humphrey's male assistants, with Ceva Jean Bates and Ella Marie Farnlun providing feminine influence.

Student Activity Board

Responsible for the organization of student rallies was the student activity board. Football occupied the board's attention the first semester; in the spring the committee, with new personnel, sponsored a welcome for "Dixie" Howell, Idaho's new grid coach.

VANDALS' DARK YEAR BRINGS HOPE for BRIGHTER FUTURE

Pre-season experts said the Vandals would be a dark horse in coast conference play. The opening game told a different story. Trouble hit the Idaho squad in their initial contest when Stanford's Indians massacred the Vandals 45-0. It was only a preview of what was yet to come. After dropping eight games while winning one, J. A. "Babe" Brown resigned as head coach and for the third time in six years Idaho big-wigs were sifting applications in a search for a new headman.

After the Stanford team had burst the bubble of Idaho optimism, W.S.C. salted the wounds with a 32-0 trouncing. Jerry Williams, a 1942 Vandal freshman star, was the big gun in the Cougar attack as he scored three times.

The Vandals finally dented an opponent's goal line in their next game but Marquette ran roughshod for a 46-6 victory. Quarterback Jim Hammond scored the lone Idaho tally.

A last quarter San Jose rally spoiled the first home appearance for the Vandals, although they showed plenty of life in spite of a 26-14 defeat. After San Jose had scored on the first four plays of the game, Idaho came back with Jim Hatch going 45 yards to the Spartan's eight. Fullback Bill Miklich then broke through a gaping hole at left tackle for the counter. Carl Munson passed to Glenn Lynam for the other Vandal score.

Homecoming was a moral triumph for the Vandals, but a scoring victory for Oregon's Ducks. After the visitors had tallied three times for a 19-0 halftime lead, Idaho roared back in the second half, sparked by 155-pound Bill Williams playing his first collegiate ball game. Williams hit receivers eight times in sixteen attempts, passing to Orville Barnes for one score, and setting up the other for Willard Beitz's short plunge. Final gun saw Idaho still threatening with the Ducks out in front 26-13.

Montana and Oregon State dampened the revitalized Vandal hopes with easy victories on successive weekends. The Grizzlies took possession of the "little brown stein" again with a 19-0 triumph, while O.S.C. waxed the Vandals 34-0.

Idaho Dads were the guests as the Vandals chalked up their lone victory of the season, defeating Portland 20-6. Williams passed twice to Carl Kiilsgaard for scores while John Kivus got the other tally with a 45-yard sprint.

Inability to make extra points cost the Vandals another win as Fresno State eked out a 13-12 decision. Beitz gave Idaho an early lead with a 59-yard scoring dash while a pass from Williams to John Christenson was good for the second touchdown.

As this dark year drew to a close, Vandal supporters' hopes for a brighter future were bolstered with prospects of a new coach, new policies, and the manpower to form a new and stronger team . . . 1947 is another year.

Coach J. A. "Babe" Brown

"Babe" Brown Bows Out

Vandal football coach J. A. "Babe" Brown, fresh from a 1946 northern division cage crown and a Seattle Athletic Club "Coach of the Year" accolade, ran into a hornet's nest in second year as head mentor of the Idaho gridders.

From the time that the over-rated Idaho pigskin squad lost a one-sided opener to Stanford's under-rated Indians, the pressure was on Babe. It was never off until the ex-Idaho athlete submitted his resignation at the conclusion of the season.

For Brown it was a sad climax to a meteoric career in college coaching. War-time exigencies moved Brown from his frosh coaching job to the top Vandal athletic spot. The post-war era was his undoing and "Babe" found that fans forget winners quicker than they forgive losers.

Assistant Coaches

Assistant coaching staff of the 1946 Idaho grid squad was strictly an all-Idaho affair as three old grads worked with "Babe" Brown in teaching football to squad aspirants.

Walt Price, long a member of the Vandal coaching hierarchy, returned from the army in time to take over his old position as line coach. Ray Davis celebrated his Marine Corps discharge by signing on as backfield mentor, while Steve Belko, an all-time Idaho athletic great, took over the helm for the Jayvee team.

Managers

To a trio of hard-working student football managers went much grief and little thanks last fall. Life of equipment jockeys was a routine, unspectacular grind—tracking down grid gear and assisting coaches and trainer. Reward for these long hours of effort are trips with the team and letter sweaters.

Head man of this unheralded triumvirate was George Neumayer with able assistance from John LaFrenz and John Kovich.

Vandals Welcome New Coach

Responsible for much of the resurgent hope of Vandal sports followers was the announcement that Millard "Dixie" Howell, youthful southern grid great, would be the new Idaho coach.

To Idaho football fans, changes in coaching staffs are not new, since many mentors have come and gone in Vandal athletic history. However, Howell's appointment brought hopeful gleams to the eyes of even the most pessimistic of Gem State supporters.

If the Alabama all-American's coaching here is on a par with his past performances, there will be an upward shift in Idaho pigskin fortunes. After a brilliant career at the University of Alabama, Howell coached at the University of Mexico, Loyola of New Orleans, and Arizona State College, then returned to his alma mater to become backfield coach for the Crimson Tide.

With statewide support, which he seems to have, Howell's choice may be the answer to the prayers of victory-starved Vandal fans.

Number sixteen on the list of Idaho football coaches is Millard "Dixie" Howell. The ex-Alabama star was named after "Babe" Brown resigned at the conclusion of the 1946 season.

Junior Varsity

Two close losses to Washington State meant the difference between a winning and losing season for the Vandal junior varsity. The Idaho yearlings won one, tied one, and lost two.

After W.S.C. had edged the Vandals in a thrilling 24-20 contest at Neale Stadium, the Idaho gridders came back the following week to chalk up a 12-7 victory over Boise Junior College at Boise.

Playing in a sea of mud at Kellogg, the Vandals battled Montana's unbeaten jayvee squad to a 6-6 tie, then wound up the season by dropping a heartbreaking 6-0 finale to W.S.C.

Title Holding Vandals

Drop to Conference Cellar

The story of the 1946-1947 Idaho basketball season makes sad reading. In a thirty-game season, the luckless Vandals won only four; posted only one major victory all year. They plummeted from the heights attained last year as northern division titleholders to the depths of the conference cellar.

Plagued by injuries to key men and a tough schedule, Coach Wicks ran into trouble in trying to develop an effective combination. Fred Quinn, Jack Phoenix, Bill Carbaugh, and Don Dillard were all out of action at various times due to injuries, and Quinn's loss to the team shortly after the start of conference competition was a disastrous blow.

Highlights of the sorry season were the Idaho barnstorming tour through the east and middle west, and a startling upset over Oregon State, Pacific Coast titleholders and one of the top teams in the nation. The Vandal triumph over the rampaging Beavers was the only Idaho conference victory.

After an auspicious start with two opening victories over Whitman, the Idaho squad ran into trouble. The Vandals invaded Madison Square Garden for the first time; dropped a tough eleven-point decision to C.C.N.Y. Loss of Quinn late in the second half contributed materially to the Idaho defeat.

Barnstorming games in the south and middle west all ended in Idaho defeats. Georgetown, St. Joseph's of Philadelphia, Kentucky, Kansas, and Wyoming all stopped Coach Guy Wicks' cagers. Idaho Southern Branch poured salt in Vandals' sores by a seven-point win. Lone triumph of the two-week road trip came with an easy 60-35 victory over Boise Junior College.

If the pre-season record was dismal, the conference season was even more disillusioning to Idaho rooters. The Vandals dropped thirteen in a row before they outran, outplayed, and outscored Oregon State in a 57-46 victory. Western sportswriters labeled it "the upset of the year."

Finishing last was nothing new to the Idaho casaba squad. It marked the eighth time in the last ten years that the Gem Staters have finished in the northern division cellar; thirteenth time in the division's 24-year history.

Bad luck played a leading role in the Vandal debacle. Quinn quit the squad with a sore back in the middle of the season; Dillard transferred to Idaho Southern Branch; and Phoenix and Carbaugh only occasionally approached their 1946 form.

Big gun in the Idaho attack was John Evans, junior forward, who ended the season ninth in conference scoring. Phoenix led pre-season point makers. Grant Mortensen, Norm Fredekind, and Wendell Christensen were other outstanding players for Idaho.

Jack Phoenix (15) goes up for a lay-in against Washington State. John Evans (17), John Taylor (16), Bill Carbaugh (4), and Mortensen stand by for a possible rebound.

Coach Guy Wicks

Guy Wicks

Genial Guy Wicks stepped into a hornet's nest when he resumed his position as varsity basketball coach after a tour of duty with the U.S. Navy.

With a returning northern division championship team to build around, Wicks found his highly-rated Vandals playing one of the toughest schedules in Idaho cage history in a year when top-notch teams were the rule rather than the exception.

Criticized roundly from all sides, the stocky tutor gained some measure of consolation when the Vandals posted a stunning upset victory over Oregon State. Season's record was one of the poorest ever posted by the veteran coach in a career of winning teams.

Assistants

Steve Belko, an ex-Idaho athletic star, was at the helm of junior varsity cagers this season, his first on the Moscow campus since his collegiate days. Belko assumed his post after making a fine record coaching high school ball in Coeur d'Alene and Lewiston.

Under the skillful leadership of Steve Belko, the Vandal Babe cagers started slowly but made steady progress in posting a season's record of seven victories against five defeats. Like their bigger varsity brothers, the Jayvees found the going rough against Washington State as the Cougar Kittens waxed them four consecutive times.

The Idaho yearlings captured two games each from the Moscow All-Stars, Palouse town team, and North Idaho junior college, and split with the strong Coeur d'Alene All-Stars.

Bill Eimers, a junior guard of varsity caliber, was the sparkplug for the Jayvees although Belko came up with numerous other prospects for future varsity play.

Guy Wicks

Stocky Guy Wicks returned from the wars last spring in time to resume his duties as head coach of the Idaho baseball squad.

Last and first season at Idaho for the genial Vandal mentor, before he embarked upon a tour of duty with the armed forces, was in 1942.

An Idaho grad, Wicks came to Moscow after turning out some of the finest cage teams in the west at Idaho, Southern Branch. He replaced Forrest Two-good when the latter was ousted in a 1941 athletic department house cleaning.

Under Wicks, the Idaho diamondmen showed improvement over previous seasons despite erratic fielding and hitting.

Vandals Lose

Despite the return of Guy Wicks as head baseball coach, season's showing for the Vandal nine was still dismal, as the Idaho squad again finished in the northern division cellar with five triumphs against eleven defeats.

Inability to hit and field consistently told the story of the Idaho record. High-schoolish fielding blew many well-pitched games, and hitting, with one or two exceptions, was erratic.

Non-conference games gave fans a preview of what was to come later as the Vandal diamondmen dropped eight contests while winning six. Brightest spot in the schedule was a 7-1 decision over Victoria of the Western International pro league.

The Idaho team fared little better once the northern division season started. Washington State, Oregon, and Oregon State all captured three out of four games from the Vandals while the Wickmen managed an even split with Washington.

With no consolation to be found in league standings, Idaho fans found some satisfaction in individual performances. Konopka ran away with the conference batting crown and picked up a pro contract with the Spokane Indians. "Buck" Bybee finished second among the Idaho hitters while all around play of Bill Carbaugh placed him among the best in the league. John Dailey, "Lefty" Auer, and Fred Klink pitched well enough to win more often than they did.

Mike Ryan Resigns

One of the toughest blows to hit the University in many a year came last fall when hard-working Mike Ryan, dean of Idaho coaches, resigned to accept a position as track coach at the University of Wyoming.

After eleven years of developing Vandal track and cross-country teams, of nursing injured athletes, of fighting for more adequate athletic facilities, Mike left the campus for greener fields.

To Mike must go the credit for building up Idaho track teams until they were an annual threat in the northern division title meets. To him also must go the credit for development of cross-country as a collegiate sport in the northwest.

If any coach at Idaho was indispensable, Mike was the one.

Vandals Win

After winning all but one of five dual meets during the season, performance of Idaho trackmen fell off in the northern division title meet as they finished last in the six-team race.

With canny Mike Ryan making the most of limited material, the Vandals depended on team balance rather than individual brilliance. Handicapped by bad weather and injuries, Ryan still managed to mold a squad which finished only ten points behind Oregon State's winning team.

After capturing two dual meets from Washington State and one from Whitman, the Vandals dropped a one-sided meet to O.S.C. The Idaho squad came back, however, to stop Montana's Grizzlies. Northern division title meet saw Max Lattig capture the only Vandal first place with a top pole vault effort of 12 feet 6 inches.

Ted Lake, Lattig, and freshman Dick Dexter made the trip to the National Collegiate championships at Minneapolis. Dexter accounted for Idaho's only points in the meet with a sixth in the two-mile run. Winners of the Douglas Dingle trophy were broad-jumper Ned Bowler and javelin ace Bob Smith. The award is given annually to the most outstanding trackmen, with only team members eligible to vote.

Stan Hiserman

Fresh from a 42-month stretch in the Army Air Corps and a short hitch as head coach at a California high school, Stan Hiserman made his debut in Vandal coaching circles a better than creditable one in the 1946 cross-country season. The ex-Stanford ace stepped into the spacious brogans of Mike Ryan; molded a team which was beaten only once all year.

Hiserman first hit the national sports limelight while an undergraduate at the Palo Alto school as one of the country's top sprinters. He was a member of the Stanford sprint relay team which still holds the world's record. In 1939 when a senior, he captained the "Big Red" cinder team, then graduated into the California coaching system.

If individual performances are any criteria of what is to come, Vandal track teams will be tough to beat in the future.

Harriers Second

Brilliant Vandal individual performances weren't quite good enough in the Pacific Coast cross-country championships as a well-balanced University of British Columbia squad edged Idaho for team honors 42-46.

It marked the third year in a row that the Idaho harriers had placed second on the coast. In Coach Stan Hiserman's first year at the helm, the Vandals won all three of their dual meets before bowing in the title meet.

Vic Dyrvall, leather-lunged veteran of many a distance run in pre-war days, joined the squad in time for the title meet; ran off with individual honors, covering the four-mile course in 19:50. Ward Stroschein and Art Humphrey finished third and fourth but British Columbia team strength proved to be the difference in the winning margin.

Nine Idaho runners finished ahead of the first Whitman thin-clad as the Vandals opened the season with a one-sided triumph over the Missionaries. Al Denman placed first on the soggy wheatfield course.

Humphrey captured firsts in both Washington State meets as the Idaho harriers won both by decisive margins. Stroschein, Humphrey, and Denman sparked the Vandal squad in all pre-season meets.

Commander Ken L. Butler, Idaho NROTC faculty member, took over the job of coaching Vandal mittmen when Louis August turned down unprofitable Idaho offers. Butler's capabilities as a boxing mentor were evident as he coached the Vandal squad to an undefeated dual meet season.

Vandal national boxing champions. Three-time winner Laune Erickson and freshman Herb Carlson pose with a few medals and trophies.

Vandals Tie for National Honors

Vandal boxing entered the initial year of another potential "golden era" as the Idaho mittmen, under the able guidance of Coach Ken Butler, fought their way to a tie for national collegiate honors with the University of Wisconsin.

In the national title meet, two Vandals, Laune Erickson in the 175-pound class and Herb Carlson in the 155-pound class, carried off crowns. For Erickson, it was the third time he had won the national championship, a trick turned only once previously, and that by Idaho's Ted Kara in pre-war days. It was Carlson's first college mitt title. Both finished the season undefeated.

Bad luck teamed up with a rough San Jose team to take the Pacific coast team title away from Idaho after the Vandals had romped through an undefeated dual meet season. Coach Ken Butler's men still carried off more individual crowns than any other team as Erickson, Carlson, and Ray Engberson all came out on top in their divisions. Defending champion Bill Williams dropped a tough decision in the coast meet after he got out of a sick bed to go through with the bout.

Ineligibility knocked one Idaho leather slinger out of competition when Larry Hanson, undefeated freshman heavyweight, failed to get by scholastic obstacles. Other members of the Vandal team were Ray Radford, Paul Williams, Ted Diehl, Darrell Titus, Verl King, and Warren Briggs.

National champion Herb Carlson knocks Cougar Vern Dimke off balance with a hard right to the jaw . . . Right: Idaho's Ray Radford and Marv Perry of WSC mix it up in a 125-pound bout. Perry squeezed out a decision over the Vandal mittman.

John Morley, Walt Kelm, Frank McGinnis . . . Inset: Frank James, coach.

Paul Thome, Ed Bulla, and Bob Dwyer, new coach.

Golf

After an auspicious opening season victory over Washington State, Vandal linkmen saw the tide turn as they dropped four consecutive dual meets, then finished last in the northern division championships at Eugene.

With the lone victory under their belts, Idaho golfers found the going tough on their tour of northern division schools. Oregon, Oregon State, and Washington all put the skids under Coach Frank James' team, while W.S.C. evened the season's series in the final dual meet of the season.

Tennis

Reinforced by returning veterans of pre-war Vandal tennis meets, the Idaho team fared better than usual in splitting four dual meets.

An opening season triumph over Oregon State sent the Idaho netters off to a flying start. They followed that up with a 7-0 whitewashing of Whitman's out-manned racket wielders.

Montana upset the dope bucket with a 6-1 edge over Idaho, and Washington State eked out a 4-3 win in the final dual meet of the season.

In the conference championships at Eugene in May the Vandals faltered badly to finish last.

Swimming

Vandal "splashers" came out on the bottom in northern division competition but won a number of honors in individual swimming and diving.

Dual meet results were consistent only in that the Idaho tankmen lost all. Don Anderson, Reuben Johnson, and Winston Bishop garnered most of our points, managing to hit the end of the pool first and second, or show the best form on the board.

Johnson was the only man to place in the conference meet, gaining Idaho's two points. A rough traveling schedule and lack of a full-time coach hurt the Vandal squad. Anderson acted as coach and team captain.

Wrestling

In an abbreviated season, a makeshift Idaho wrestling team returned to college competition with a two-meet schedule. The Vandal grapplers met Washington State in both meets but failed to win either. There was no northern division championship meet slated this year.

In the first W.S.C. meet Leonard Malstrom, competing in the 155-pound class, was the only Vandal to come out on top. Malstrom also accounted for the only other Idaho individual win of the season in the second brawl with the Cougars.

J. A. "Babe" Brown, one-time collegiate wrestling great, coached the Vandal matmen.

Skiing

The Vandal snowmen wound up a fine "skison" with a brilliant third-place effort in the Pacific Coast conference intercollegiate meet at Martin, Washington. After moving into the lead on the second day of the three-day meet the Idaho squad faltered on the final day to finish behind Washington and W.S.C.

With Jack Numbers, Lou Berriochoa, and Larry Remaklus as standouts, and a team of topflight slatmen, the Vandals competed at Sun Valley, Wallace, Potlatch, McCall, Spokane, and Martin, and each time came away with colors flying.

"Babe" Brown coached the ski team with Numbers as captain.

Rifle Team

Idaho's ROTC rifle team, traditionally among the best in the country, was a winner again this year, taking first place in the William Randolph Hearst trophy match in the Sixth Army Area. Twenty-nine other colleges and universities participated. The Vandal sharpshooters also placed in the Sixth Army intercollegiate match.

At Gem press time the team was being considered for national honors in the Hearst match and was practicing for the National Rifle Association championships, scheduled for March and April.

The team is under the guidance of Colonel B. H. Hensley, and is coached by Master Sergeant J. D. Morgan.

Intramurals

Over 1600 men, about two-thirds of the male population of the Idaho campus, took an active and enthusiastic part in intramural sports this year to make the program the highlight of the school athletic activity.

Success of the program is emphasized by the interest shown in inquiries received from other universities and colleges, and by the spirit shown by both those who played and those who cheered their teams to victories in some tough competition. Under the direction of intramural director Leon Green, and Alpha Phi Chi, 'mural managers' honorary, and with some officiating aid from some twenty-two varsity athletes, the men scrapped for points, plaques, and the coveted intramural trophy in football, volleyball, basketball, swimming, softball, ping pong, track, golf and horseshoes.

Competing houses and halls were divided into four leagues of twenty-two teams. At Gem press time the Sigma Nu house was out in front of the pack in their quest for their third straight 'mural title. Running closely behind were Sigma Chi and Delta Chi followed by a host of other outfits. Final outcome was still in doubt with results of softball, track, golf, and horseshoes still undecided.

Alpha Phi Chi

'Mural Champs

Touch Football

Sparked by Billy Williams, the Sigma Nu squad defeated the Campus Club to retain the touch football crown. Fraternity league standings saw the Sigma Nus on top followed by Sigma Chi and Kappa Sigma teams. The Campus Club captured Independent League honors followed by Lindley Hall and Willis Sweet.

Volleyball

The Sigma Nus, paced by big Don Holder, walked off with their second crown of the year by winning volleyball honors. Titles in other leagues went to the Fijis in League II, Lindley Hall in League III, and Campus Club No. 2 team in League IV.

Basketball

Delta Chi's smooth-working squad took the championship in basketball by defeating Willis Sweet's No. 2 team in the league playoff by a 34-25 count. Presnell and K ilsgaard were high scorers for their teams. Campus Club and the L.D.S. won in their respective leagues with records of 5-1 and 6-1.

'Mural Champs

Swimming

Swimming competition saw a big turnout of men with 289 participating in relays, backstroke, free style, breast stroke, and diving. Sigma Chi's team carried off the championship, but were forced to share honors with Reuben Johnson of Kappa Sigma and George Vajda of Lindley Hall, both of whom broke pool records.

Softball

A well-balanced Kappa Sigma softball team outclassed all opponents to win the school championship. Nucleus of the team was the battery of Dick Sodorff and Tom Lyda. Merle Hamilton and Dennis Sheehy provided steady influences in the infield, with Willard Beitz and Keith Whaley sparking the hitting.

'Mural Trophy

Each year the trophy shown at right goes to the high point team in the complete intramural program. Permanent possession of the trophy is gained by the hall or house winning the trophy three years in a row. Last year it went again to the Sigma Nus, who, at this writing, seem well on their way to gaining permanent possession of the trophy.

Women's

Athletics

Moscow's mild spring weather inspires softball enthusiasts who compete for top honors in the annual tournament sponsored by WAA. Last spring's championship was captured by the Juniors with Twyla Shear as captain.

Under the competent instruction of the P.E. Department, women take time off from tiresome book work to learn the fascinating game of tennis. WAA puts tennis in its minor sports division; Bernice Evans walked off with last year's trophy.

Women golfers find the classes offered by the Women's P.E. Department helpful in improving their game. The minor sports golf tournament cup was awarded last spring to Editha Warren.

Women's Athletic Association

W.A.A., boasting more members than any other activity for women on the campus, keeps members busy and interested with practice and tournament play in all sports. Wholesome recreation, physical fitness, and skill in athletics are the gratifying rewards of active participation.

Women's "I" Club

Active W.A.A. members who have earned a minimum of 1250 points are eligible to wear the white sweaters and gold emblems of the Women's "I" Club. Ambitious members work toward the 2000 points necessary to earn an "I" blanket. They are: Front row, Mrs. Minnie Connolly, advisor; Olive Dittmon, Marina Dochios, Rosemary Meehan . . . Back row, Ella Mae Lyda, Elizabeth Sutton, LaLene Cargill, Vivian Heien, Margaret Justice.

W. A. A. Executive Board

Women's

Each year the Women's Athletic Association sponsors, as its first activity, an indoor picnic welcoming all new women students to the Idaho campus. There they are introduced to the officers and the functions of WAA are outlined. Those are the principal purposes for the meeting, but it is also held for sheer enjoyment.

During Autumn's crisp weather girl sports enthusiasts, who want to work toward the 100 points necessary for WAA membership, turn out for the invigorating matches of soccer, first of the major sports tournaments. This year top honors were awarded to the Sophomore team.

During the winter season indoor sports gained activity precedence. Indoor volleyball teams were organized from each living group, and class teams were chosen from these representative groups for the purpose of awarding individual points. Ridenbaugh Hall, under the captainship of Twyla Shear, fought its way to the top, winning the tournament championship.

Minor sports also claimed much interest for women during the major sports tournaments. Table tennis honors were awarded to Naoma Grant and her sister Violette, shuffleboard first went to Betty Draper, Hays Hall, and Margaret Justice of Ridenbaugh claimed the golf trophy awarded last spring.

Sports

Potential Hell Divers material was discovered in the swimming classes and many girls turned out for the annual duffer swimming meet. Leisure points for WAA membership were also awarded to recreational swimmers.

Archery enthusiasts were given ample opportunity to display their talents during the annual meeting of the National Inter-Collegiate Telegraphic Association. Practice periods were long and activities were confined indoors and out, depending upon the weather.

Hays Hall placed first in the basketball league, showing much skill and teamwork. The advent of the Spring season marks the ending of the major sports activity with the softball play-offs.

Modern dance classes under the direction of Miss Patti Utgard have proved to be nothing short of sensational. Under her direction, Orchesis, modern dance organization for advanced students, was organized on the Idaho campus for the first time this year. Members have performed before university, high school, and out-of-town groups.

Versatile Miss Utgard also teaches the medieval art of fencing. Warmer weather finds the fencers laying down their foils in exchange for the implements of field hockey.

Badminton and grass and court sports in the minor bracket are expected to carry through the summer months, completing the year.

Twenty-four outstanding University men and women are chosen from the University of Idaho to be listed in the national publication, "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges," a publication listing America's leading college students, and a brief resume of their activities. These students are chosen on the basis of character, scholarship, and leadership in extra-curricular activities. Recently a placement service has been established which will help those listed in this publication secure desirable positions.

Working in conjunction with the Independent Caucus, the Independent Council also includes representatives from all Independent groups. The Council plans social affairs and betters friendly relations among the Independents on the campus. Open house at Forney, Ridenbaugh, and Hays halls at the beginning of each semester was sponsored by this group. Also among its activities were the election mixers at the Bucket before class elections. A big function of the year was "Cement Mixer," held on the tennis courts the night before ASUI elections.

Members of the organization are the president and rush chairman of each sorority on the campus. Pan-Hellenic Council has established the tradition of passing the presidency from one sorority to another. After her junior year as secretary-treasurer, that member automatically becomes president in her senior year.

This year it has been the object of the Council not only to make closer the relationship of the eight sororities, but to have more cooperation with the Independent houses. Under the fine gavel-wielding of LaLene Cargill, the organization regulated and conducted pre-school rushing.

Sigma Nu

The boys of the "White Star" sing as their choice, "Ten thousand brothers wear you, ten thousand others share you." Highlight of the winter season is the Sigma Nu-Gamma Phi Christmas party; in the spring, they are noted for their picnics.

Tau Kappa Epsilon

'Mid cannon's roar, on Campus boulevard, live the TKEs. They, like the Sigma Chis and Kappa Sigs, sing of an ideal sweetheart. In their annual dance they assume the garb of the apache and Pigalle atmosphere straight from Montemarte.

Tau Mem Aleph

Like Delta Tau Gamma, Tau Mem Aleph started its life as a national on this campus. Its annual dances, "A Shanty in Old Shanty Town" and Artists' and Models' ball kept them in the social whirl. The group contributed over 125 off-campus men to student affairs.

*I looked out from my classroom to a road winding in the frost
and as my eyes searched in vain,
I heard a voice softly calling
"Climb higher, climb higher . . ."*
DAVE STIDOLPH, '47

Line—lines—lines. The eternal line assumed greater proportions with the largest enrollment in the University's history, over thirty-seven hundred. Along the Administration building, it was made agreeable in the shade of the Auditorium or in the warm autumn sun—that long wait for identification pictures and the end of the trail in the women's gymnasium.

Veterans back "in a column of files" as they pass approval of the Administration . . . the last lap . . . the women's gym and the beginning of the end . . . A prospective forester looks up to the profession's idol, Paul Bunyan . . . Bridge always helps . . . crowded conditions force some into the men's gym during rush week . . . those registration pictures that never flatter . . . more lines . . . The thirty-five hundredth regisree registers . . . Registration.

We came . . . We saw

... We conquered!

What some go thru for a suntan (or sleep).

A clear warm day in June, as we, the graduating Senior Class, walk down University Avenue. Faculty, alumni, mothers and dads, gather to see a new group of men and women receive their diplomas to enter the world. To see us now, who can pick the future successes or failures? We can not, nor do we care to. The University has provided us with a formal education. The rest is within us. As we walk down University Avenue the sight of the old Administration Building gives us a feeling of dignity. The view ahead of the impressive gymnasium gives us a feeling of new-born courage and inspiration. We will succeed. It is deep within us.

*The speaker's stand, as President Dale delivers his address . . . Commencement Speaker Admiral Chormley, President Dale, and an early graduate . . . March in May . . . *An Institution
As Old as the University Itself*

WHEN DAVIDS' STORE was founded there was written into its policies an inflexible rule concerning the reliability of merchandise. It is not too much to say that our present growth is due entirely to the policy of never selling anything—however small—that we can not fully guarantee. And the most impressive phase of the success that has come to us lies not in its magnitude but in the ever-growing satisfaction, so freely voiced by thousands of our customers, in the reliability of their purchases.

TWIN FALLS, IDAHO

IDAHO IS GROWING

And for more than 30 years Idaho Power Company has been a partner in that growth—bringing dependable, low-cost electric service to the Snake River Valley, pioneering farm electrification, working with agriculture, business and industry to create new wealth and to bring more comfort and convenience to all citizens.

MOSCOW, IDAHO

Time Out . . .

To relax and listen to hot or sentimental strains of music played by the best bands in the land . . . to enjoy dancing at the many campus affairs held throughout the year . . . to meet your friends at informal gatherings or club meetings held in the various rooms of the building. Lasting friendships are made in college and memories originating under Blue Bucket hospitality will linger throughout a lifetime.
