VOLUME 50 ANNUAL PUBLICATION OF THE ASSOCIATED STUDENTS OF THE UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO

Gem OF THE Mountains

Foreword

To capture the essence and spirit of the school year is the primary goal of any year book. And it is hoped that Volume 50 of the GEM OF THE MOUNTAINS does this for you, the students of the 1951-1952 school year at the University of Idaho. Echoed on these pages is the scholastic mien of your classes, the quiet chaos of your living group, and the continuous buzz of your social and activity life, from the opening round of registration to the black shrouds and misplaced mortarboards of graduation. So turn now to the visual representations of 1952 as you lived it.

GEM OF THE MOUNTAINS STAFF

Been waiting long? We hope you've been patient, because we've been trying to get it to you as fast as possible. But we kept losing engravings and misplacing copy and so forth. Excuses, excuses, excuses. But anyway, here is your Gem of the Mountains . . . .

You'll notice some changes in arrangement this year. For one, the seniors are broken down into schools, and their majors are given. For two, the military section is placed between the frosh and sophomore sections, because the ROTC's are most closely connected with those classes. For three, the year's sports record has been incorporated into the student life section, and is broken down into fall, winter and spring sports activities. And for four, men's and women's intramural sports have been placed in the living groups section. Confused?

In this book we have tried to depict a year at Idaho as you actually live. We've tried to make the '52 Gem more than dance pictures and sports pictures and a morass of sodden faces. We've tried to inject life into the book by depicting some of the things done by the "little fellow," the guys and gals who never make the headlines. Whether we have succeeded or not is up to our most capricious judge, you.

In following this editorial attack, we've stepped on a few toes. Some people in both the student and university administration refuse to believe that students do the things students do. They would be horrified to know the number of invaders into the steam tunnels, the number of "I" tank climbers, or the gross weekly intake (both monetary and liquid) at Wright's. But students will be students, and Gems (unorthodox and bewildering and shocking as they may be) will be Gems.

Some people sign up to work on the Gem, and then are never seen again. Some of those that we have seen a lot of this year, working diligently on the various staffs, are the people pictured on the opposite page. They are (upper left), Ed Hanson, LaVerne Gibson, Elinor Coleman, Mary Kay Johnson, Mary Carroll, Pat Long, Betty Petersen. (Upper right) Bill Hassler, Parke Gerard, John Thomas, Deral Springer. (Lower left) Sam Cespedes, John Harreld, Bob Bohlman, John Burroughs, Ray Kranches, Pete Byrnes. (Lower right) Caught-off-guard Hassler again, Sue Jones, Faythe Luther, Kate Church, Mary Briggs, Fran Mathisen.

Your President...

JESS BUCHANAN

Under the guidance of J. E. Buchanan, the past six years have seen the transition of the University of Idaho into one of the most modern, up-to-date campuses in the Northwest. With the completion of the new addition on Memorial gymnasium and the near completion of the Home Economics building, President Buchanan is realizing a dream of six years ago come true. The many problems facing the faculty and students of the University have been efficiently solved by Mr. Buchanan, who probably holds the future welfare of the school closer to him than would most men, as he is the first alumnus to become president of his own school.

Your Governor . . .

LEN JORDAN

Among the duties of the Governor of Idaho is that of appointing the members of the Board of Regents, the highest governing body in the state educational system. Governor Jordan is from Grangeville, and has a son attending the University of Idaho, which gives him a more than professional interest in the school. Governor Jordan also was present at the 1951 Homecoming and crowned the annual Homecoming Queen, Leah Jensen.

BOARD OF REGENTS

The Board of Regents, working under a general grant of authority, serves as the governing body of the University of Idaho. Their's is the responsibility of determining the general policy of the administration.

J. L. McCarthy, Alton B. Jones, Emory A. Owen, W. F. McNaughton, Mrs. Marguerite Campbell, John D. Rensberg.

Next, We Present That All-Powerful Quantity
"THE ADMINISTRATION"

To these men are charged the duties of guiding and maintaining the smooth operation of the Idaho administrative machinery. Among the members of this department are Harlow Campbell, Director of Educational Field Service; L. C. Cady, Research Council Secretary, who coordinates the Idaho research program with that of other schools and government projects; Warner Cornish, Family Housing Director, who aids married students in finding apartments; K. A. Dick, Bursar and Business Manager; George Gagon, able University Engineer; D. D. DuSault, Registrar and keeper of the academic records; Rafe Gibbs, Director of Information, who handles all University publicity; Robert Greene, who is in charge of University dormitories; James Lyle, Idaho's capable Alumni Secretary who keeps records of former students and graduates, and L. F. Zimmerman, Librarian, who is in charge of the University's large and well-equipped library.

The Dean of Men...

HERBERT LATTIG

In conjunction with the Idaho Student Affairs office is H. E. Lattig, Dean of Men, who serves as advisor and counselor to Idaho's male students. Mr. Lattig is also a member of various administrative committees in addition to his work with campus men students.

The Dean of Women...

LOUISE CARTER

Idaho's Dean of Women has under her jurisdiction a total of 775 campus coeds for guidance, aid, and friendliness. Dean Carter in this capacity performs her many duties, both social and disciplinary, with the best interests of Idaho coeds in mind.

STUDENT AFFAIRS

The principal concern of these five men is that of the health and welfare of the student body of the University of Idaho, both mental and physical. These are handled by Dr. Alley and Dr. Owens and Counselors Decker and Bond, while the fifth member of the group, Guy Wicks, travels throughout the State of Idaho, contacting and speaking to prospective University students. The members of the student body, as well as the faculty, owe these men a vote of thanks.

STUDENT UNION . . .

CENTRALIZED MECCA FOR ACTIVE IDAHO STUDENT MEMBERSHIP

Completing its first full year of service, the Idaho Student Union has become the center of student campus activities. Here also is the home of Idaho's traditional Blue Bucket, which serves as a meeting place and cafeteria for students and faculty, and where the customary between-classes cup of coffee is enjoyed. The tables in the Bucket also serve the chess and bridge addicts.

The first floor of the Union contains the offices of the Student Union Manager, the ASUI General Manager, and of The Argonaut, school newspaper—also two private dining rooms and the student-owned bookstore.

On the second floor there are three large, modern ballrooms, where Idaho's all-campus dances and functions are held, a small, well-equipped theatre and the Dipper, a coke and dance room.

On the third and top floor there are several conference rooms for the use of the students, the Executive Board room, the office of the AWS president, the women students' lounge, KUOI, the University radio station, a reading and study room, equipped with desks, comfortable chairs and the latest magazines, and the office of The Gem, school yearbook.

Downstairs from the main lobby is the game room. Here in spare moments the students may play pool, snooker or bowl on one of the eight up-to-date alleys.

The recently finished Student Union Building, which cost over $650,000, was paid for, is maintained by, and administered by the Associated Students of the University of Idaho, for the use, benefit and enjoyment of the student body.

General Manager

GALE MIX

Congenial Gale Mix not only has the duties of ASUI General Manager, but those of Director and Manager of Athletics as well. In this capacity Gale represents Idaho at the annual PCC Athletic Conference and this year attended the NCAA convention in Cincinnati. During the past year his office took over the management of the funds of the various campus honoraries.

ASUI PRESIDENT . . .

Four years of activity were crowned with the ASUI presidency for Hyde Jacobs, industrious senior, majoring in Agronomy. A veteran of sixteen months' service in the Air Corps, Hyde is the first married student to become president of the ASUI. Among the many accomplishments during his administration were the AWS-faculty committee for setting rules for coeds. He also made a two-weeks speaking tour of Idaho high schools with University Field Agent Guy Wicks, to interest high school students in their University.

Among the activities participated in by Hyde prior to becoming ASUI president were Lambda Delta Sigma, religious honorary, Blue Key, national honor fraternity, Silver Lance, senior men's honorary, and Alpha Zeta, agricultural honorary.

Hyde was elected on the ticket of the Independent Party, after having served on committees and in various capacities in the Idaho student government. Hyde hails from Declo, a town in the southeastern part of Idaho, and graduated this year from the College of Agriculture with high honors. Jacobs intends to continue his schooling at the University, working toward his master's degree.

EXECUTIVE BOARD

The student-elected Executive Board, governing body of the Associated Students of the University of Idaho, is comprised of nine elected members and three ex-officio members. In addition to working with student committees and representatives of the faculty, the Executive Board handled not only the student blood drive, but encouraged the campus fraternities to substitute "Help Week" for "Hell Week." The idea behind this is that the initiates expend their energy in performing helpful tasks on the campus and in town rather than simply being hazed. The Executive Board also set up the AWS Faculty Joint Committee for setting rules and regulations for campus coeds, appointed and aided the members of the Campus Chest Committee, appointed a committee to expand and improve the freshman orientation program, instigated a larger and more thorough program for the student leadership conference, and appointed the heads of the various ASUI committees.

... Committees

These are the major committees and boards in the ASUI student government structure. The students serving on these boards have entrusted to them various and sundry jobs and functions. One committee is in charge of the Student Union building . . . another is charged with approving the appointments to the various student publications and the policies under which they operate. The students belonging to these groups and to the others not listed here control the government of the ASUI, and its effectiveness and smoothness rest in their hands.

Associated Women Students is Idaho's campus-wide organization whose major goal this year was the betterment of student-faculty relations. The AWS acted as a go-between for Dean Carter, women students and housemothers. Weekly meetings are attended by representatives elected from each living group. Among the main projects of the group were late permission for Homecoming weekend, exchange schedules, and AWS faculty teas. They worked in conjunction with Mortar Board, Women's Recreational Association and Panhellenic Council. The queen of the annual May Fete is chosen in the AWS elections along with her attendants. AWS also sponsors an exchange luncheon with the Washington State College Women's Council.

Bonese Collins, Jan Fulton, Dr. Raymond Berry, Mary Rand, Dr. Herson Snyder, work on the AWS Apple Polishing project.

Row One: Norma Stralovich, Sue Jones, Doris Moore (Publicity Committee); Bonese Collins (Apple Polishing Committee); Alice Henry (Point System); Jan Fulton (Social Committee); Jane Matthews (Election Committee). Row Two: Nathalie Bales, Jody Ennis, Leah Jensen, Peggy Densow, Peggy George, Barbara Dudgeon, Diane Simpson, Marietta Cloos.

Independent Caucus, the group that chooses the candidates and sets the policies for the members of the Idaho Independent Party, is composed of a representative for every fifty students residing in the University dormitories. The officers for the first semester were Dick Gibbs, president; Mary Gerard, secretary; and Verl King, vice-president. The second semester president was Stowell Johnstone.

United Caucus is made up of two members from each sorority and fraternity. The closely-knit United Caucus placed all but two of its candidates in the class elections this year. First semester president Robin Faisant was assisted by Terry Carson, secretary, and Roger Swanstrom, treasurer. The second semester officers were Pat Duffy, president; Joan DeShazer, secretary; and Bob Foley, treasurer.

Groups

This year a new party sprang into the ranks of ASUI political frays in the form of a Third Party Association. New policies and platforms for efficient student government functioning were brought forth by the TPA members which came from nearly every campus living group, both Independent and Greek houses. Tom Mitchell was the TPA president for the Third Party group with Jody Ennis serving as secretary.

Dean T. S. Kerr

As the College of Letters and Science was established in the year 1900, it is classed as the oldest division of the University. The eight departments composing the college are Art and Architecture, Biological Sciences, Home Economics, Humanities, Mathematics, Music, Physical Sciences, and Social Sciences. More room is being given to the division yearly as other offices and classrooms are being moved into the new division buildings. The Administration building is now primarily devoted to the functioning of the L and S departments.

Students enrolled in this division also learn through special curricula in foreign service, pre-dental and pre-medical studies among other specialized divisions. The aim of those in the College of Letters and Science is not primarily vocational, but rather cultural learning as a value in living. In four years the student has a chance to explore many subjects in a more general course than in other college divisions.

THIS SPRING THE MUSIC DEPARTMENT WAS HOST to over 3,000 high school musicians in the state Music Festival. Here a young vocalist leisurely hits a high "C" in the Music building recital hall.

PROFESSOR WAYNE F. YOUNG of journalism instructs his reporting students on the whys and hows of court reporting, to which the second semester is largely devoted.

The Radio-TV Guild Prepares for Action

Formed only this spring, the Radio-TV Guild plans to help the Radio Center produce programs of a professional calibre that will create interest in the University among high school students and alumni. By so doing, they also hope to create more academic interest in the Radio Center. Investigation of television is also planned for the wide-open future.

The Class of 1952—Letters & Science

STUDENTS IN LIFE DRAWING CLASSES learn to draw human bodies with a true perspective, as shown by getting an approximation with a pencil held at arm's length.

An Artist's Dream Come True

Art and architecture are a big part of study in the College of Letters and Science. Design, painting, and commercial art along with photography are given big play as part of the well-rounded presentation of subjects in this University division.

Pi Gamma Mu

Established at Idaho last year under the direction of Dr. Boyd Martin, Pi Gamma Mu this year filled out its second year of service to the Social Science department. Social Science majors with a high scholastic average are eligible to become members.

DESIGN I IS A BASIC ART CLASS, in which future artists, commercial artists, and interior decorators learn the basic principles of balance, pattern, and movement within a design.

The Class of 1952—Letters & Science

FEARING THE WORST from Mr. Cushman and his Shakespeare exam. Mary Thompson, Jackie Lee, Marv Alexander, Clyde Winters and Ginny Orazem do some Bucket boning. The people in the background who are trying to louse up this absolutely unposed picture remain unidentifiable.

Who's Who in L&S

Senior personalities are wide and varied in Letters and Science, probably due to the fact that it is the largest of University divisions. Rating high on the list are Jan Fulton, Virginia Orazem, Don Hardy, Jerry McKee, Harry Turner, Beverly Benson and many others who have both grades and activities in L and S.

Alpha Epsilon Delta

A grade point of 2.80 is necessary to become a member of Alpha Epsilon Delta, national pre-med honorary. A varied series of social events characterized this year's organization. Dr. W. H. Cone was faculty advisor, and Dr. D. A. Gustafson of the Chemistry department was an honorary member.

Row One: D. A. Gustafson, Dorothy Sylvester, Shirley Craig, Marilyn Dustin, W. H. Cone . . . Row Two: Kiyooka Hori, Toshio Kaku, Angelo Larus, Bill Boyden, Harold Henrie, Mich Kaku.

POWER MACHINERY OF ALL KINDS is found in the machine tool laboratory and students in mechanical and civil engineering become well acquainted with all of them.

THE USE OF ENGINEERING AND POWER EQUIPMENT in wood processing and manufacture is not neglected in the college of engineering. Here a power saw is demonstrated.

COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING

AGRICULTURAL, MECHANICAL, ELECTRICAL, CHEMICAL AND CIVIL ENGINEERING

Dean Allen S. Janssen

Graduates from Idaho's College of Engineering are as sought after as a Hollywood blonde. These students receive offers, hundreds of job openings which are turned down yearly, from every phase of engineering study and work. Among 150 or more engineering colleges in the country, the College of Engineering ranks as medium-sized and is nationally recognized as a training center for engineers.

The new Engineering building is a boon to study in this division as new drafting rooms, class rooms, and offices offer a revived incentive to engineering study. In addition there is a new chemical engineering lab, hydraulic and irrigation lab, and new mechanical engineering lab facilities, to name a few.

The College of Engineering offers to the qualified student programs of training in practical and economic application of sciences, control and utilization of the forces, materials and energy of nature, and in the organization and direction of human effort for the improvement of certain phases of life for better living.

COURSES IN SURVEYING are required of all engineering students, plus students of forestry and mining. And like all other surveyors, Jack McCreight and Bob Gromme finish off their field notes before drawing up their campus map.

THE AGRICULTURAL ENGINEERING CURRICULUM not only provides a well-rounded program for its own students, but also offers many courses to agriculture students. Here both engineers and aggies learn acetylene welding in the basement of the Ag Engineering building.

THE CLASS OF 1952—ENGINEERING

PROUDLY DISPLAYING THEIR WARES are a group of students of M.E. 54, who made the 8-inch circular saws before them. Under the guidance of Professor Silha, the group includes Womeldorf, Telgener, Collins, Richardson, Boam, Cray, Armintrout, Jordan Van Schaack, Lower, Brown, McCartney, Caward, Martin, Noble and Lundall.

N. F. HINDLE, Mechanical Engineering

SIGMA TAU

Engineering honorary open to engineering majors in the upper third of their class is Sigma Tau. It was locally founded in 1922. This group promotes high scholastic standards and sociability among all engineering students. The new engineering building completed last year rates high on the list of the engineering students.

Engineers' Ball

The Engineers' Ball, more or less jointly sponsored by all the engineering societies, features booths of each of these departments.

A.S.A.E.

Yoshimi Hosoda led the group of agricultural engineers for the year. The group was established in 1925 to acquaint agricultural engineers with the profession. Participation in the Engineers' Ball and Little International were the main activities of the year. Other officers are Bill Henneberry, vice-president; Darrell Larsen, secretary; and Lindley Walkington, scribe.

A.S.M.E.

The purpose of the group of mechanical engineers is to develop leaders and broaden interest and knowledge in the field. Mechanical engineers were organized into this group October 5, 1925.

A.S.C.E.

Jim Martin was head of the civil engineers for the year. Anyone enrolled in civil engineering is eligible to join the group. Movies were shown at meetings and noted men were obtained to speak on some current topic. Other officers were Elmer Peterson, vice-president; Alan Huggins, secretary; and Sidney Scribner, treasurer.

A.I.E.E.

Organized for the purpose of furthering interest in electrical engineering, the group held meetings and a banquet for the members. Officers included in the picture are: Raymond Weholt, vice-president; Allan Marshall, secretary; and Jim Henry, treasurer.

This social club is open to any chemical engineer. It was formed to promote interest in chemical engineering. Meetings were held bi-monthly. Other activities of the group included field trips and a spring picnic.

The Idaho Engineer

The Idaho Engineer, official publication of the College of Engineering, is published four times yearly from the office, deep in the depths of the Engineering building. It is largely a technical journal, containing articles of interest to engineers and other related trades. News of the activities of all the engineering clubs on the campus is featured, as well as a column, "From the Dean's Scratch Pad."

The College of Agriculture has long been rated as one of the top of its kind in the United States. With its new "million dollar home" in the Agricultural Science building, plus the recent Dairy Science building, the college is able to give Ag majors a well-rounded education. Provisions are made for a broad cultural education as well as the required specialized training in the agriculture field. Thirteen departments are included in the curricula, including Animal Husbandry, Dairy Husbandry, Horticulture, Poultry Husbandry, Veterinary Science and Agricultural Chemistry, Economics, Education, and Engineering.

Each year the Aggies participate and "show off" their wares at the Little International presentation of fitting, showing, and various judgings. The College of Agriculture and Agricultural Experiment Station also share as equipment: 740 acres of deeded land and 12 permanent buildings. In addition, the University owns or leases 800 acres located at five other points in the state for agricultural usage.

THE LARGE UNIVERSITY FARM gives a broad outdoor laboratory for the students to put into actual application the theory they learn in the classrooms.

THE LITTLE INTERNATIONAL puts the College of Agriculture in the limelight. The Ag Ed float shown above won first honors in the mile-long parade

Alpha Zeta

Three satisfactorily completed semesters in the College of Agriculture and a minimum grade point average of 2.7 are requirements for initiation into this group. Purpose for which the organization was developed is furthering the cause of agriculture and developing leaders in this field. Each year Alpha Zeta holds a joint initiation with the WSC chapter.

Judging Teams

ANIMAL HUSBANDRY TEAM: Professor C. W. Hodgson, Dale Breckenridge, Harold Johnston, Norm Fitzsimmons, Clayton Turner, and Wallace Taylor.

Two Idaho dairy teams, the dairy cattle judging team and the dairy products team, set a new record at the 1951 Pacific International Livestock Exposition by winning first in their divisions. It was the first time one institution carried home championships in both these departments. The animal husbandry judging team got a fourth place in the same show. Dr. Walter R. Harvey coached the dairy cattle team, and Professor Elmer D. McGlasson directed the products group. The win by the dairy cattle team was the second consecutive championship for Idaho in that division. The dairy products team turned in one of the best overall scores at the Pacific International. Both winning teams spent months in pre-show practice sessions.

LOCATED DEEP WITHIN THE METALLURGY BUILDING, these analysis furnaces are used to produce the high temperature that is necessary to process many ores.

School of Mines

Metallurgical, Geological, and Mining Engineering

Dean A. W. Fahrenwald

As the University of Idaho is situated in perhaps one of the foremost mining regions of the United States, it provides courses in the technology of mining industries. The School of Mines has under its jurisdiction Geology, Mining, and Metallurgy.

The School of Mines is advantageously located in a vast mining region in a radius of about 300 miles. In this circle active mining centers are located and provide invaluable opportunities to supplement instruction in the classroom. Here in this region the students are able to observe the best technical practice. Students also supplement geological study by a field examination of famous mineral deposits.

In addition to these lab facilities, the mining student has the use of labs of the departments of Engineering, Chemistry and Physics, as well as those of Letters and Science.

ON ONE OF MANY FIELD TRIPS taken by mining students, Professor W. W. Staley checks with his students the geological structure of a "rib" on the side of a drift.

JOE RUMBLE AND LEES BURROWS check the workings of a ball mill on a field trip. Such trips give students familiarity with machinery and equipment that a textbook alone cannot offer.

Dean Donald Hart

Professional training for men and women who plan to make business their career is provided by the School of Business Administration. Established here at the University in 1925, the school instructs its students in the fundamentals of economic life and modern business methods. This division also offers specific training in business techniques, as in accounting and secretarial practice.

Instruction is divided into eight principal divisions with seven majors and the combined curriculum in business and law. Included as the seven majors are General Business, Accounting, Economics, Extractive Industries, Foreign Trade, Merchandising and Advertising, and Secretarial Studies.

IT IS A BASIC DESIRE of many people in the University, including some in Business Administration, to own a business establishment like Wright's, and enjoy the benefits therefrom.

SCHOOL OF EDUCATION

Elementary, Secondary, Music and Business Education

Dean J. F. Weltzin

Teaching in this day and age is classed as one of the foremost professions in the world. Idaho's School of Education was organized in 1920 and it prepares its students for careers as teachers, supervisors, administrators, psychologists, and personnel officers.

The various programs of study meet certification requirements of the state, those of many other states, and various accrediting agencies. Included in the education study as such phases as Music Education, Business Education, and Physical Education. Students who complete a four-year teacher-training program are eligible to receive elementary or high school certificates.

The Moscow public schools are utilized as laboratories for student teaching. Thus actual schoolroom conditions are provided for those in the School of Education.

A LARGE ROOM ON THE AD SECOND FLOOR comprises the education workshop, where future pedagogues can gain valuable information about the curriculums and courses they will soon be teaching.

STUDENT TEACHING IS REQUIRED of all students seeking a teaching certificate. This can either be for two weeks full time at one's home town, or for a semester once a day at the Moscow high school.

THE LIBRARY AT THE UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, enriched with over 300,000 volumes, is never without a patron. And during final weeks, it usually is filled to overflowing.

The Library . . .

The Sleeper's Haven

No matter in what field of study, every Idaho student has at one time graced the first or second floor libraries. He may sleep, read his hometown paper, or actually study or do research work. One never knows exactly what he may see in the library . . . from lovers to card fiends. However, most of the time it's good plain studying!

MUCH OF THE LIBRARY'S CONVENIENCE is due to Lee Zimmerman, enterprising librarian. Here he demonstrates some of his posters to lure students into the rich lore of fact and fiction awaiting them.

SUMMER-SCHOOL CLINICS for crippled and retarded children not only provide the children with a chance for advancement, but give supervised experience to the many teachers participating.

UNDER THE GUIDANCE OF GEORGE FITZGERALD, the Industrial Arts department became very popular with students in just its second year on the campus.

THEN EARLY ONE APRIL MORNING, an overheated radiator ignited a fire that razed the building. Notice the before and after effect of the two upper pictures.

The Life and Times of Industrial Arts

A JAGGED HOLE MARKS THE EFFECT of the $20,000 fire in the Industrial Arts building. The structure, located behind Ridenbaugh Hall, was formerly the Engineering Drawing building.

ALTHOUGH ALL ITS POWER AND HAND TOOLS were lost and its building destroyed, the department was soon moved to a partially vacant building near the heating plant, where nearly full-scale operations were resumed in only two weeks.

THE COLLEGE OF LAW is the only division of the University which must maintain its own library . . . and to the law students, this library is virtually a second home.

College of Law

Dean E. S. Stimson

Special problems of Idaho law is a main contribution which the College of Law affords its students. However, the curriculum covers a minimum period of three academic years and prepares the students for general practice of law in any state. In instructing members in this division the case system of instruction is used, supplemented by reading, statute examination and other sources, solution of problems, and reports upon legal questions.

The University of Idaho College of Law is the only law school in Idaho and graduates are qualified to take bar examinations in any state in the United States. Students entering the law school must have completed two years of instruction in an accredited college.

AMONG THE LIST OF 1952 LAW GRADUATES were these three women, Ina May Wheeler, Kathryn Ann Mautz, and Jeanne Pollett. In addition, Mrs. Pollett earned a 4.0 her last semester, something of a record.

JOE ZAVESKY, BOB GALLOWAY, BOB LYONS AND REG REEVES get a little on-the-spot practice as they match their collective wits in a legal battle over a mythical legal action.

Bench and Bar

Founded to promote a better understanding between law students and faculty members, this year's Bench and Bar featured a number of prominent speakers in the legal field to give the students a broader understanding of important points of law. The organization also helps to familiarize new students with the law library and other systems peculiar to the department. This year's president was Ray Cox and Dean Edward Stimson was the faculty advisor.

ALTHOUGH LOCATED IN ONE OF IDAHO'S VACATION AREAS, the summer camp is not all play and relaxation, nor all outside work among the towering pines.

THE FORESTRY SUMMER CAMP at Payette Lakes provides the foresters with a chance to study on actual location. And, as is shown above, they work hard but eat well.

SCHOOL OF FORESTRY

FOREST, RANGE AND WILDLIFE MANAGEMENT WOOD UTILIZATION

Dean D. S. Jeffers

Well-known for attracting out-of-state students is the School of Forestry. This division of Idaho academic life has a high national rating among other forestry schools in various colleges and universities. The School of Forestry is able to develop professional foresters, as it is within a short distance of forests and among some of the largest sawmills and logging camps in the United States. An eight-weeks summer camp on the shores of Payette Lakes provides actual field work in forestry.

The arboretum, comprising more than 150 tree species, is maintained by this school for various studies, as well as other campus-wide interest in the arboretum! Other "outdoor classrooms" are maintained by this school for laboratory facilities. These, combined with classroom teaching and experimentation, provide the necessary background for an adequate forester.

STUDYING THE VARIOUS FOOD HABITS of the many forest and range animals occupies the idle hours of these forestry students—Alfred Marsh, Duane Pyrah, and Joe Basile.

NO, THIS ISN'T THE NORTHWEST SCHOOL OF TAXIDERMISTRY, but a class in skin studies. Both theory and practice are studied at the renowned Idaho School of Forestry.

The Idaho Forester

The Idaho Forester, published at the end of each college year, is a technical journal, senior yearbook, and School of Forestry newspaper all wrapped up in one. It circulates not only about the campus to the students, but also throughout the whole state, to keep alumni and other associates up on the activities of the School of Forestry, its faculty, and students. Editor of the 1952 volume was Howbert Bonnett.

Xi Sigma Pi

Initiations were the outstanding events of the year for Xi Sigma Pi, forestry honorary. The purposes of this organization are the attainment of high standards in professional forestry and the maintaining of a high degree of scholarship on the part of forestry students. Kenneth Knoerr was the forester, assisted by William Leavell, associate forester and Joseph Basile, secretary and fiscal agent.

Row One: Edwin Coswell, William Gleaves, William Leavell, George Zappettini, Lee Sharp, Joseph Basile, Kenneth Knoerr, Robert Van Kleeck . . . Row Two: Elmer Skjeie, Howard Chadwick, Virgil Pratt, Frank Pitkin, William Pringle, Fred Johnson . . . Row Three: O. R. Ingersoll, William Nagel, M. E. Deters, E. W. Tisdale, T. F. Giles, K. E. Herman, Herbert Schroeder . . . Row Four: Ernest Wohletz, Roger Bay, Arland Hofstrand, R. H. Seale, Mitchell Steffensen, Duane Pyrah . . . Row Five: A. W. Slipp, James Edlefsen, Ken Hungerford, William Schreck, T. D. Burleigh, Carl McCrillis, Boyce Coffey.

THE SCHOOL OF FORESTRY has quite a collection of big game heads, but they are for scholastic purposes, not hunting trophies.

STUDENTS IN FORESTRY learn far more than merely the scientific names of all the trees. The land they grow in and the wildlife also occupy a major portion of the forester's curriculum.

Ring-necked pheasants, which are prize targets to many Idaho hunters, are often the subject of research into their diseases and other factors that lessen their number.

Bill Leavell and Joe Thackaberry are intent in investigating the food habits of some of Idaho's game birds.

GEORGE ZAPPETTINI and HOWARD MORTON sought advanced degrees in forestry and agriculture, respectively, by doing advanced research on halogeton, a livestock-killing weed threatening Idaho sheep and cattlemen.

IT TOOK GERTRUDE VALLEJOS, right, nearly three years to get to the University of Idaho to do graduate work in home economics and nutrition. Professor Margaret Ritchie introduces her (above, right) to some of the Home Ec department's equipment.

CHECKING OXYGEN CONTENT of the water in a farm fish pond was the research project of Ernest Snyder and Cecil Martin, standing. Their work pertained to the winter survival of fish in such ponds.

Graduate School

Dr. H. Walter Steffens
Dean of the Graduate School

A total of 226 men and women received advanced degrees this year from the University of Idaho, attesting to the popularity of the Graduate School. These students are given an opportunity to become better acquainted with their specialized fields, and in addition provide valuable research contributions to the state.

Research fellowships and teaching assistantships provide incentives for such graduate study. These awards are available in amounts from $750 to $1000.

Serving his first year as Dean of the Graduate School was Dr. H. Walter Steffens, assisted by the Graduate Council, consisting of nine men appointed by President Buchanan from all divisions of the school. L. C. Cady serves as Council secretary.

DR. WILLIAM CONE, right, and E. E. SPIKER test the new electron microscope that was donated this year to the University. Such a microscope is much more powerful than the ordinary optical variety, and promises much in the field of research.

...Pronounced "Juniors"

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS were Earl Dawson, vice-president; Nancy Weitz, treasurer; Ann Royer, secretary; Bruce McIntosh, president.

This year's junior class took over the handling of a campus function rather than sponsoring any given function. The group, under their four class officers, planned with Chairman Ted Torok the Campus Chest drive and succeeded in getting campus-wide cooperation for the cause. The group did not sponsor a junior prom this year due to an overcrowded calendar of other campus events.

OF THE JUNIOR PROM . . .

Led by their lanky prexy, Bruce McIntosh, the juniors made class history by promoting a Junior Prom that wasn't a financial failure. This was accomplished by getting away from the magnetism of a "big name" band, and instead featuring just a good local outfit.

In addition, the boys and girls of '53 threw their efforts behind the Campus Chest, helping to make it the success that it was. Ah, those juniors are up-and-coming people. Watch for them next year.

Class of '54...

Sophomores

LEADING THE SOPHOMORE CLASS this year were Bill Parsons, vice-president; Merlyn Maule, secretary; Larry Hyer, president; and Rich Collins, secretary.

The annual sophomore Holly Week was again the big splash of the 1954 class members. The sophomores chose Margaret Alley to reign over the week's festivities prior to Christmas holidays, which included a serenade to all living groups by sophomores and a semi-formal all-campus dance.

AFROTC

Growing by leaps and bounds, the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps has become the largest of the three divisions. Special training is given in administration and communications to the juniors and seniors taking advanced AFROTC.

Lieut. Colonel O. J. Mosman
Professor of Air Science and Tactics

The Military Departments Have Three CO's...

NROTC

Idaho is one of the few schools in the West having a NROTC unit. Regular midshipmen, who are chosen by competitive exams, receive $50 a month for their four-year stay, and gain the rank of ensign upon their graduation. Over 140 men are enrolled in the NROTC program.

Captain T. C. Thomas
Professor of Naval Science

ROTC

Training in engineering, supply, and communications is offered by the Army Reserve Officers Training Corps, which is the oldest of the three military units at the University. Under the Morrill Act, all land-grant colleges (such as Idaho) are required to offer military training facilities.

Colonel Charles F. Hudson
Professor of Military Science and Tactics

Unification Was Shattered When the Drill Teams Met

FIRST PLACE and the David Trophy went again to the Idaho Navy drill squad. Also competing besides Idaho navy drill squad, were teams from WSC and Gonzaga.

SECOND PLACE, amid anguished cries, was awarded the Idaho Air Force marching unit. Competition was close, and the flyboys thought it too close.

FIELD TELEPHONES kept all the defending units in touch with one another. Casualties of the operation were reported as light, since blank ammo was used.

A MACHINE-GUN AMBUSH is manned by three diligent sophomore cadets. Realism, to simulate battle conditions, was the key to the whole maneuver.

The Army Holds a War, in the Arboretum Yet!

MIDSHIPMAN JAMES VARLEY is given an award for being the outstanding Naval Science senior.

The Navy Makes An Award . . .

and Work Awhile, Then Play Awhile...

SUMMER CRUISES offer Idaho navy students a chance to get the actual "feel" of some of their equipment.

AND THEN THERE ARE THE LEISURE MOMENTS, as these middies in Panama illustrate.

ARMY ENGINEERING SENIORS Walbrecht, Pilkington, Reese, Williams, Martin, and Johnson construct a model Bailey bridge.

*The Army Uses Models
To Supplement the Text*

And the Air Force Makes Some Awards of Its Own

COL. MOSMAN STEPS OUT to award Cadet Gene Thometz an award for showing the most promise as an air force officer. Cadet Colonel Don Ringe was awarded the American Legion award for demonstrated leadership.

And They All Cooperate in the Memorial Day Services

A WREATH IS PLACED at the base of "Old Ole," the Spanish-American War memorial statue on the Ad lawn during the Memorial Day services.

A SALUTE TO THE WAR DEAD is fired by a squad composed of elements of all military divisions, as their commanding officers stand in background.

Freshmen

REIGNING OVER THE FRESHMAN CLASS this year were Flip Kleffner as president; Pat Miller, treasurer; Dorothy Wahl, secretary; and Jay Buhler, vice-president.

The "fifty-fivers" kept busy this year with everything from challenging the sophomores during a blood drive to accomplishing business at a new Freshman Council. The class members showed the spark and initiative which should be present in all beginning college classes. St. Patrick's Day was the setting for the freshman class dance, at which time they chose Norma Cox and Stan Tate to reign as Shamrock royalty.

September . . . Registration

THE BLESSED QUIET OF SATURDAY MORNING catches a few stragglers who, cleverly enough, waited to avoid the rush.

BUT
HOME EC.

Wake me early, mother, for I'm to be first in the registration line . . . ah, yes, registration—the students' undoing . . . couldn't freely inhale that fresh Moscow air until it was over . . . chalked up a cozy year-round enrollment of 3,114 . . . the long lines grew shorter second semester, 'cause we had a kind of leisurely attitude toward the whole thing . . . some say it was post-final mental fatigue . . . anyway, rejoice, children, for it's a part of your past now . . . come to think of it, it's part of your future, too.

NUMBER 20841 gets a personal photograph for her activity card.

A SMILE OR A SIGH for those ominous eight o'clocks.

Rush

A LITTLE CASUAL FIRE-EATING to give the rushees some idea of life at the Delt house.

MID-SEMESTER RUSH AT THE TRI-DELT HOUSE and the usual feminine chit-chat.

RUSHEES AT THE PHI TAU HOUSE spotted talent in their midst.

FRESHMAN ORIENTATION COMMITTEE

Nine of the busiest people on campus in the fall of the school year are the Freshman Orientation committee members. Those ambitious souls included this year: Row One: Bud Hagan, Ken Kornher, Stowell Johnstone, Larry Hyer, Ed Smith . . . Row Two: John Tovey, Bonese Collins, Liz Winegar, John Burroughs.

PANHELLENIC COUNCIL

INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL

Supervision of men's rush and social and scholastic aid to the fraternities were the duties of the Interfraternity Council members. Row One: Ralph Hartwell, Chuck Bottinelli, Lloyd Dunn, Stan Riggers, John Koster . . . Row Two: Donald Deerkop, David Lau, Gene McNea, Bob Rowett, Harry Duchene, Dal Naser, Doug O'Brien . . . Row Three: Don Prisky, James Varley, Lees Burrows, Bob Nelson, Vern Thomas, Dick Moore, and Gene Hamblin.

MISS KAY MORSE, 1951 Queen of the Violets. Kay was selected by members of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

October . . .

THE EPIC OF FREDERICKA FROGHAMMER, standing (on the right) has become a business school legend. Enrolled in Dr. Howard's Advanced Statistics class, Fredericka missed the first four weeks of school, then proved a little slow in her studies. Later the truth was revealed, and it seems that the other students in the class had pulled a fast one on their professor, since Fredericka Froghammer was (believe it or not) a fictitious name.

OUR EDITOR, weary of the confusion at the Gem office, retreats to his room where all is in order.

TWO SIGMA NU's hold the modest trophy won by their house for making the greatest scholastic progress this past year. Frank Gunn of Delta Tau Delta and Joanne Hopkins of Kappa Kappa Gamma hold the scholarship cups won by their respective houses for the highest scholastic averages on campus. President Buchanan looks on.

STUDENTS COMBINE FORCES to rally against the Grizzlies for the forthcoming Idaho-Montana game.

The following is the text of my statement for broadcast about the University of Idaho—Moscow, Idaho—not Russia—congratulations to the students of the University of Idaho for collecting 1014 pints of blood in three days. That should make Moscow, Russia, sit up and take notice.

I especially admire the Idaho student body for the unique idea of challenging other student bodies to meet its record. It is one of the most concrete ways I can think of to express the very real appreciation of Americans for the sacrifices which are being made on their behalf.

Sincerely,
Drew Pearson.

It was good to hear about the tremendous support to the Blood Donor Program given by the students and faculty of the University of Idaho. They are certainly to be congratulated for their excellent record.

My best wishes!
Sincerely,
Aurthur Godfrey.

Blood Drive

THAT'S
O.K.
I GOT
USE...

WITH NERVOUS but good-natured apprehension, a line of drips wait to give drops for October's drive.

STUDENTS WATCH the quota line rise on the "I" tank as donors push to make the April goal.

BLOOD-GIVING assumed the importance of a major sport and merited an all-campus rally in April.

STUDENTS WERE SOFTENED into the blood-giving mood by good entertainment atop the entrance to the Student Union building.

THAT'S RIGHT, HONEY . . . I'll give out with the wisecracks, you give out with the blood. The gentleman on the left is an I.K.—the unselfish lady on the right is, needless to say, a Spur.

BLOOD COLLECTED IN IDAHO'S APRIL DRIVE is here being loaded into a C-46 transport plane to be flown to Los Angeles for processing.

Don't be drips, give drops! . . . with this soul-stirring phrase as our motto, Idaho students made this the bloodiest school in the country . . . last spring's drive wiped out records claimed by WSC, ISC, UCLA and Yale . . . this year October's 1,000 pints surpassed Harvard . . . chairman Jim Dunham saw that our cheeks were still rosy, so he sallied forth into an April drive with Idaho's 3,000 gallant little givers trailing along to break another record . . . this time 59% of the students gave their precious pint . . . that topped the University of British Columbia . . . April's drive saw a rally, the "Corpuscle Capers" Ball and a Plasma Princess yet! . . . on top of that, I'il old Moscow got nationwide acclaim from Life magazine, Drew Pearson and Arthur Godfrey.

BLOOD DRIVE CHAIRMAN JIM DUNHAM is seen here with Den Housley and Victor Ransom, who constructed this miniature "I" tower so that students could check the progress of the drive.

LET'S MAKE IT A FAMILY AFFAIR . . . here Mr. and Mrs. Hyde Jacobs sponsor a joint campaign.

TOM HENNESSEY gives out with a chorus of "Bloody Mary" to soothe the lady's shattered nerves.

Babe Curfman Takes Reins As Vandals' Head Coach

The University of Idaho's gridiron glory was somewhat limited in the 1951 campaign as the Vandals struggled through the season with a record of two wins against seven defeats.

In hope of piling up more points on the Vandal side of the ledger, new Head Coach Babe Curfman installed the split-T offense. However, inexperience prevailed throughout the season and Idaho's scoring punch was woefully lacking except in the Dad's Day battle with San Jose State.

Strong throughout the campaign for the Curfman turfmen was their defense against enemy ground attacks. Leading the Vandal stoppers were linebackers Bob Holder and Mel Bertrand. Though of slighter build than a great majority of their contemporary backers in the collegiate game, Bob and Mel made up for their lack of size with stubborn aggressiveness. They were undoubtedly the most underrated gridders on the Coast in 1951.

Hampered incessantly with injuries and foul weather conditions, the Idaho gridmen had the satisfaction of looking forward to the season of 1952 with the loss of only seven seniors. Indeed, the outlook for '52 appears much brighter.

The 1951 Vandals, under their new head coach, Babe Curfman, opened the gridiron season against the Cowboys of Wyoming in Laramie and trudged home on the shallow end of a 28-0 score. The Idaho split-T offense appeared lacking and uncoordinated as it offered the Cowboys nothing more than a defensive workout. Meanwhile the Vandal defense had its moments of flashing superiority, but failed to stop tailback Harry Geldien, who scored three TD's.

Idaho's Vandals felt the sting of defeat, 28-7, in their initial "home" game at Boise's Bronco stadium as San Francisco unleashed an overwhelming ground offensive. Sparked by fullback Ollie Matson, who charged into the end zone three times, the Dons were never threatened. San Francisco encountered a stubborn Idaho defense until linebacker Bob Holder was injured in the third period. Freshman Jay Buhler tallied the lone Idaho score.

FRESHMAN FULLBACK FLIP KLEFFNER rides a bucking Cowboy as he moves down the pasture with a one-man interference in the person of junior back Dave Murphy. Wyoming slapped the Vandals with a 28-0 defeat.

SAN FRANCISCO HALFBACK JOE SCUDERO fails to gain as Tackle George McCarty hits the Don back low and Bob Holder nails him high. Several other Vandal and Don players move in to join the party, of which the Dons were the "life." 28-7.

"COME TO PAPA," bellows Jay Buhler as he reaches for an aerial from the pitching arm of Wayne Anderson in the Oregon State battle at Spokane. End George Macinko (22) drops back to settle a Beaver's hash.

Oregon State's Beavers exploded for three touchdowns in the second period to hand the Vandals a 34-6 licking at Spokane's Memorial stadium. It was the second "home" game of the season and the third straight defeat for Idaho. The Vandal six-pointer came in the opening period on a 69-yard pass play from Wayne Anderson to Jerry Ogle. OSC pushed across fewer first downs than Idaho, but topped the Vandals in all other departments.

IDAHO	12
MONTANA	9

Coach Curfman's turfmen traveled to Missoula for an encounter with Montana State University and returned with the "Little Brown Stein" by virtue of a 12-9 victory. Speedster Glen Christian returned from the injury ward to tally both touchdowns. Also starring on offense for the Vandals was frosh Jay Buhler, who racked up 107 yards. The Vandals held a 12-2 halftime lead, but allowed one more score by the determined Grizzlies.

With Glen Christian rolling to three touchdowns, which made five in two contests for Chris, Idaho mowed down the Spartans of San Jose State, 40-7, before a rain-soaked Dad's Day crowd at Neale Stadium. Also in the scoring column for the Vandals were Walt Dell, Bill Lawr, and Flip Kleffner. The Vandal defense, sparked by Bob Holder, Steve Douglas, and Mel Bertrand, held the Spartan rushing attack to a net gain of zero.

In a battle for the PCC cellar, the Oregon Ducks edged the Vandals, 14-13, at Eugene. Paced by their potent freshman halfback, George Shaw, the Webfeet came from behind in the final minutes of the contest to salt away the victory. Shaw was a thorn in the side of Vandal passers all afternoon as he took three Idaho aerials from the sky. In addition, he tossed both touchdown passes for the Ducks. Walt Dell and Jay Buhler counted the Idaho six-pointers.

AS ELUSIVE AS A GREASED PIGSKIN is the oval for this unhappy San Jose back. Vandal end Ray Lewis (33) charges in to add to the confusion while a gay Spartan displays feats of strength in his personal sideshow, or is he trying to trip the ref?

PETE HESTER AND BOB HOLDER drag down a Duck in the Oregon tussle at Eugene while Mel Bertrand (18) picks himself off the turf. Vandals Steve Douglas (27) and Ray Lewis (33), wishing he had a paddle, rush in to offer their assistance.

A stunned group of Washington State Cougars left the muddy confines of Neale Stadium with a 9-6 victory in the annual Homecoming fracas. The feline's feeble showing was the direct result of a staunch defensive effort rendered by a game Vandal forward wall and its ace linebackers, Bob Holder and Mel Bertrand. Jay Buhler tallied the lone Idaho TD in the early minutes as the Vandals held the "high-scoring" Cougar to its scoring low of the season.

The Vandals closed the 1951 grid season in rather disappointing style as they bowed, 40-19, to the University of Utah before a "Turkey Day" audience at Salt Lake City. Idaho opened the scoring on a 63-yard touchdown trek by Glen Christian, but the Redskin ground attack coupled with the fine passing of Tom Dublinski soon turned the tide of battle toward Utah. Included in the Idaho 19-point output were touchdowns by Jerry Ogle and Walt Dell.

For the second consecutive season, the Vandals saw an Arizona eleven get the best of them in a night contest. Losing to "Whizzer" White and his Tempe teammates last season, Idaho this year took it on the chin, 13-6, from a clawing group of Wildcats from Arizona "U." Injuries from the WSC contest of a week earlier, plus several casualties in this fray seriously hampered Idaho's efforts. Cutting the cake for Idaho's lone slice was Glen Christian.

INTERCOLLEGIATE KNIGHTS

As a campus service honorary, the Intercollegiate Knights have well lived up to their designation. Attired in a white sweater with a silver and gold knight's head as an emblem, the IK's are seen at all football, basketball, and boxing events as ushers. This year the group, which includes two freshmen electees with a 2.0 grade average or above, were host to the national conclave, at which time Idaho's head officer, Bill Ringert, was chosen as national Royal Duke or vice-president. To conclude a successful year, Jerry Schiedeman was chosen "Knight of the Knights" and Dave Poulton received the Holy Grail Cup for outstanding service.

LIKE BALLERINAS in their first night performance, Kurt Storch of Arizona and Idaho's Walt Dell vie for possession of the pigskin. Arizona's Wildcats handed the Vandals a 13-6 defeat.

IN ADDITION TO SELLING PROGRAMS and ushering at all home Vandal football games, the IK's were host to the national Intercollegiate Knights convention in April. Here several Ball and Chain IK's register a delegate from Utah State College.

CAGERS FULFIL EXPERTS' WISHES; FINISH SECOND IN NORTHERN DIVISION

Coach Chuck Finley's Vandal cagers finally made the experts' predictions come true as they battled to a second-place standing in the Northern Division race with a record of nine wins and seven defeats.

The Vandals opened the campaign in fine style as they dropped the eventual champions, Washington's Huskies, 56-51, at Seattle. However, the powerful Huskie crew obliterated any Vandal hope in the remaining games of the series and dropped but one other conference game to win the ND bunting going away.

Against the remaining Northern Division opposition, the Vandals split in four contests with Oregon, copped three of four from the Oregon State Beavers, and tripped the rival WSC Cougars in three battles for the first time since the championship campaign of 1946.

Four seniors turned in their Silver and Gold uniforms after the season's finale. Undoubtedly the loss of Sam Jenkins, Herb Millard, Stu Dollinger, and Bob White will be felt by the 1952-53 Finley quintet. Jenkins and Millard were honored by their Vandal teammates as the most inspirational and most outstanding players.

Above Top: "OH, YOU CAUGHT ME WITHOUT MY MAKE-UP," groans Dwight Morrison, while teammate Bruce McIntosh drives in for a layup despite the hairy arm of a Cougar defender reaching for the pill. WSC's Phil Brown (6) appears determined to stop the play also.

Finley men Win Ten, Drop Six During Pre-Conference Play

Seven straight victories were chalked up by the Idaho quintet in pre-conference play before the AAU Phillips Oilers throttled the streak, 87-51. From this point, the Vandals found extra-curricular activity less enviable, as they could garner but three wins in the next nine contests. Included in the trio of wins, however, was a 58-46 trouncing of Wyoming's Cowboys, Skyline conference winners, in the Oklahoma City tournament.

The organization for the men who have earned their big "I" in varsity athletic competition is appropriately termed the "I" club. Among the activities of this group is playing host to the Vandal Boosters and presenting an "I" blanket to the outstanding Booster. First semester officers included Myron Hodgson, president; Chuck Weinmann, vice-president; Bob Holder, secretary; and Dick Newton, treasurer. Bud Lawson took the helm second semester, assisted by Pat Duffy, Bruce Sweeney, and Glen Casebolt.

Typical Football Weather

Such was the weather that greeted Vandal football fans at the two home games last fall. This shot was taken at the Dad's Day contest with San Jose. The fans weren't too wet, however, to cheer the Vandals to a 40-7 victory.

ONE OF THE TOP SLATMEN on the Vandal ski team was Dave Fellin. Fellin, a senior, will be a serious loss to Coach Harold E. Davey's ski team of '53.

Idaho's slopesliders failed to win a meet during the season's competition, but like many Idaho squads in other sports, the skiers are also a young and comparatively inexperienced group. Ski Mentor Harold E. Davey's team was headed by Captain John Harrington, Bill Marr, and Dave Fellin. Top supporting roles were played by George Poulas, Otto Seka Phil Longo, and Dave Armstrong. Only one man, Fellin, will be lost to the slatmen next season.

A SERIOUS LOSS to next season's Idaho tank hopes resulted with the departure of senior distance star Dick Wartena. Dick was a constant scoring threat for the Vandals during his swim career.

Coach Eric Kirkland's Vandal splashmen had a rather disappointing season as far as the meet results are concerned. Nevertheless, Coach Kirkland had under his guidance a young squad which showed its lack of experience, yet gained enough experience in return to anticipate a better season when the 1953 swim campaign rolls around. One of the less known but determined performers on the tank team was Pete Vajda, who was awarded the most inspirational trophy for his efforts.

Coach Frank Young's mittmen probably didn't experience as prosperous a season as several in the past, yet they certainly provided plenty of competition. Home bouts were especially satisfying to the Vandal backers as the Idahoans grabbed a pair of wins over Washington State and Minnesota and tied a powerful Gonzaga team. The story was a little different on the road as they bowed to San Jose and Gonzaga and tied the Cougars.

Below, Left: LARRY MOYER hides his face with his mitt but not for long. The meaty paw of Idaho's light-heavy slugger is destined for the profile of WSC's Gordy Gladson. Moyer grabbed the decision.

DON ANDERSON is getting the squeeze play from Washington State's Rod Hahn in their 156-pound battle at Memorial gym. Anderson received the judges' nod for the win.

MINNESOTA'S DON ILLIES tries to maneuver around a long right from Idaho's 165-pounder Don Anderson. Don Anderson that is, copped the decision for the Vandals.

CALIFORNIA'S JOHN SLAYBAUGH and Sam Nichols are at it again in the Pacific Coast tourney. Same fight, but a different round, and the Vandal mittman still takes the win.

When tournament time rolled around, the Vandal mittmen were on hand to add their share of the thrills. In the Pacific Coast Intercollegiate tournament, the Idaho forces failed to win the crown for the first time in four years. Nevertheless, they garnered a pair of individual championships as Frankie Echevarria and Larry Moyer retained their titles. As a team, the Vandals finished fourth.

Echevarria culminated a brilliant collegiate career in the NCAA finals at Madison, Wisconsin, when he captured the 119-pound championship. Frankie also copped the LaRowe trophy as the tournament's outstanding boxer. Meanwhile, the Vandals tied for fifth place.

KING'S BATTLE with San Jose's Bill Mendosa was a different story, however. King copped the decision after flooring the Spartan swinger in the third round as shown above.

LARRY MOYER brings a pained expression to the map of Gonzaga's Barrie Jackson in the PCI tourney. Moyer, having moved up to the heavyweight bracket, went on to win this bout and the title bout as well.

TRACK...

Coach Stan Hiserman's Vandal cindermen found the 1952 track season rather successful as they copped victories in two out of five dual meets.

The Idaho thinclads opened the season in fine style by taking a pre-conference meet from the Whitworth Pirates by an 88-42 margin.

The Northern Division season opened with Washington State's invasion of Neale Stadium. The perennial powerhouse at Cougarville again produced a winner, 93½-37½.

Oregon State played host to the Vandals at Corvallis and showed their hospitality by bowing to the Idaho cindermen, 74-57.

Oregon and Washington closed out the dual meet season with 78-53 and 88½-42½ victories over the Silver and Gold team.

OREGON'S BILL FELL scampers to a win in the century over the Vandals' speedster, Dick Newton. Fell trekked the distance in 9.7 seconds.

TRACK—1952

Northern Division meet hopes took a severe blow for the Vandals when Bruce Sweeney came down with the measles. The energetic Sweeney had been counted on for the hurdles, the broad jump, and the high jump. A consistent scorer in all these events, he was definitely missed, as indicated by Idaho's meager scoring total. As is the usual case in Northern Division track, the Washington State Cougars copped the division title.

Dave Martindale hit the headlines for the Vandals in the Pacific Coast Conference meet at Los Angeles. The Idaho pole vaulter topped 14 feet 2½ inches to cop the event. His effort ranked him second in the nation among collegiate performers and eighth nationally among all vaulters.

Hiserman's lineup throughout the season found many younger athletes in competition, thus providing them with experience for the campaigns ahead. With graduation losses not too heavy, Hiserman's cindermen ought to find some plush Saturday afternoons awaiting them in the future.

Above: DAVE MARTINDALE soars through space and over the crossbar in the pole vault event. Martindale copped the PCC title with an effort of 14 feet 2½ inches.

Middle: ONE OF THE UP-AND-COMING PERFORMERS for Coach Hiserman's thinclads is Bruce West. Bruce, as a sophomore, gained valuable experience in the javelin event.

Below: IDAHO'S TOP DISCUS MAN was Darwin Cogswell. His loss by next season's team will be definitely felt in the field events.

TUMBLERS

Idaho's gymnastic group, under the direction of Dick Smith, was accepted as an organization in 1952. Bill Shaw served the newly-accepted group as president and was assisted by George Peterson, vice-president, and Gerald Ames, secretary-treasurer.

The gymnasts' number one function of the year was its second annual gymnastic exhibition. The group even drafted a few comely coeds to aid in the production.

In addition, several meets were held during the year with the gymnasts of Washington State College.

ASUI RODEO TEAM

The rough and ready Vandal Riders rodeo team did quite a bit of bronc busting and bulldogging in '52. In the Northwest Intercollegiate rodeo at Coeur d'Alene the Vandal cowboys stalked off with third place honors.

After a hard ride through final examinations in June, the Idaho team journeyed to Portland for the National Intercollegiate rodeo in conjunction with the Rose festival.

Leading Idaho riders were Howard Harris, bareback riding; Les Matthews, saddle bronc riding; and Jim Gerard, bull riding.

BASEBALL

Vandal baseball hopes for a more successful season than in years past came true in the 1952 campaign, even though the final outcome wasn't too sparkling.

In pre-conference play, the diamondmen of Coach Chuck Finley grabbed five of six contests as they whipped Whitman three times, topped the Washington State Pen nine once, and split a pair with Seattle University.

This fine early season showing was enough to predict that the Vandals were going to make a better showing in Northern Division play than their 0-14 record of the previous season.

It took only two games in league competition to prove this point. In their second contest with the Washington Huskies at Seattle, the Idaho nine scored a 9-5 victory. On the remainder of their road trip, the Vandals split two-game sets with the Oregon Ducks and the Oregon State Beavers to boast a 3-3 mark with the home season ahead. This road trip split was the first in Idaho baseball history.

However, the Vandal diamondmen might as well have played their remaining battles on the road, for they failed to garner a home victory until they topped Washington in the season's finale. Insult was added to injury as the rival Washington State Cougars nailed the Idahoans in all four games.

LEADING STICK MAN for the 1952 Vandals was Catcher Jerry Ogle with a .328 average.

A MIGHTY MITE with the willow was Mel Brown, who won second best batting honors with .327.

EARL HUFFMAN literally comes floating across the plate with a Vandal tally in the WSC series. It was one of few, as the Cougars enjoyed Vandal meat to the tune of four wins during the season.

The Vandal baseballers finished the 1952 Northern Division campaign in their usual resting place, the cellar, with a record of four wins and 11 losses. Opening the season with three wins in six starts on the road, the Idaho nine came back to Vandalville in hopes of raising a little Cain on the home pasture.

However, eight losses in the next nine contests greeted the Silver and Gold and their cellar berth was cinched. The Washington State Cougars were especially bitter in their actions as they plastered the Vandals with four losses. Buck Bailey's forces showed no mercy as they racked up 1-0, 7-2, 4-3, and 9-3 victories.

"I'M NOT THROUGH WITH YOU YET," bellows boisterous Buck. Stewart is all ears, but fails to wilt under the scorching breath of the irate Bailey.

The lone Vandal win on the home lot came as a jolt to the University of Washington title hopes, as Idaho nipped the Huskies, 9-8, in the season finale. The win marked finis to a 14-game losing streak on the home field and gave hurler Cless Hinckley his initial conference victory in three years of mound toil.

Two Idaho regulars chalked up batting marks over .300. Catcher Jerry Ogle led with .328, followed by Mel Brown's .327 mark.

HERE'S A LITTLE MORE first base action as the Cougars' Glen Krane fails to beat the peg to Idaho's initial sack guardian, Flip Kleffner.

CLESS HINCKLEY aids his own cause by scoring in the win over Washington. That fierce-looking Huskie catcher is Sam Mitchell, who was named to the ND first nine even though he couldn't catch a pop foul if it were suspended on a string.

Idaho's net picture for the 1952 season was far from being bright, as the Idaho racquetmen were able to garner but a pair of wins in eight dual matches. In the Northern Division finals, fortune continued to run dry as the netmen were shut out of the scoring column.

Captain John Schober, Darrell Keulpman, Bob Rowles, Bob Zimmerman, and Max Nunenkamp all turned in fine efforts for the Vandals, but lacked the experience of their polished opponents. All five entered singles play while Zimmerman-Rowles and Schober-Keulpman formed the doubles.

One stroke kept the Vandal linksmen from annexing the Northern Division title. As it was, the Washington Huskies copped the crown on the Vandals' home course.

The golf season as a whole was dotted with misfortune, commencing with the death of Coach Frank James. The Vandals then whipped Whitman and topped Washington State twice to open the season before bowing to Washington, OSC, and Oregon to end the dual meet campaign.

THESE SEVEN OLD MEN comprised Silver Lance, senior men's service honorary. They became members of the organization at the annual May Fete ceremonies—last year! The general air of sobriety may be accredited to the great deliberation undertaken by them in choosing their new pledges.

SENIOR MORTAR BOARD MEMBERS held the interest of every onlooker during their annual suspense-filled presentation of a red rose to each of the new pledges. Butterflies in the stomach, a rather profound sense of awe, and a fine feeling of scholastic satisfaction attend each of the black-robed coeds pictured here.

Pantie Raid

FROM THE SUBLIME TO THE RIDICULOUS—we abandoned the dignity of May Fete festivities for the all-night, all-campus, all-popular Pantie Raid! Above left: Stowell Johnstone takes bids for Willis Sweet's generous contribution to the auction. George Masenko keeps his eye on the coin. At right, ASUI prexy Ray Cox (in the striped pair) enlists the aid of Pat Dyson, Fred DeFrancisco, Gary Sessions and Louise Gourley to help count the loot.

"HOW'S ABOUT THIS LITTLE NUMBER, dearie?" . . . Tom Mitchell overestimates Bonese Collins a bit, but the sentiment is nice.

It all started when newly-elected ASUI prexy Ray Cox turned what might have been a campus-wide riot into a mass celebration of 2500 hypnotized students . . . how? . . . well, the Pantie Raid craze had swept campuses all across the country . . . Idaho was getting the fever . . . seems the only thing to do was make it legal . . . thus, a 3:00 a.m. mass movement of campus males into women's living groups . . . breakfast, yet . . . on to the Union to auction off the undies . . . returns went to the Crippled Children's foundation.

HANDS ACROSS THE BORDER as University of Idaho President J. E. Buchanan introduces commencement speaker C. Clement French, president of the State College of Washington.

June . . .

Over 700 graduates donned cap and gown apparel June 8 for the 57th commencement exercises at the University. During baccalaureate services the day previous, the seniors heard the Rev. Harold Masted and at commencement the featured speaker was C. Clement French of Washington State College. A capacity crowd viewed the graduation ceremonies, which also saw the presentation of awards, two honorary doctorate degrees, and the granting of diplomas. Pre-commencement activities centered around alumni and individual student activities.

Farewell To . . .

GRADUATES begin the processional march to the gymnasium, led by Col. O. J. Mosman, Air Force.

THE GRADUATING CLASS of 1952 prepares to leave baccalaureate ceremonies as Dr. George S. Tanner gives benediction.

The Class of '52

VISITING ALUMNI were honored June 7 at a banquet which featured reunions of all classes ending in the numbers 2 and 7. A special program in honor of President J. E. Buchanan was prepared by his classmates of 1927.

UNIVERSITY FACULTY MEMBERS begin the procession as graduates follow closely behind.

"Hurry up and finish with that typewriter," "Who has that write-up?," "Let's get on the move, we haven't got all night." All these sounds can be heard from a room at the end of the hall on the first floor of the Student Union on Monday and Thursday afternoons. It is the Arg staff putting out our bi-weekly campus paper. Most of the people on campus who read the Idaho Argonaut do not realize how much time and effort the staff puts into making this publication of interest and a source of information. Everyone from the reporters up through the editor is busy doing his part to keep our campus informed on the happenings of the University.

The Argonaut is an excellent means of keeping up on campus events, both those that are coming and those that have passed. Another helpful feature of the Arg was the "Coming Events" column, which gave notices of meetings. Another significant part of the Arg is the sports' section. In the sports' section information can be found on Idaho sports from the intra-murals up through the major sports. After the sporting events have taken place the sports staff is busy writing them up as they happened. The Argonaut was guided during the first semester by Bert Johnson, who hails from Mullan. Bert was succeeded at the helm of the Argonaut by Don Hardy, a journalism major from Parma. Hardy will edit the Arg only one semester, as he is a graduating senior.

"... this is the Voice of the Vandal"

KUOI

"The Voice of the Vandal" can be heard beaming out across the campus from September to May. Presenting a program of recorded music and transcribed features, KUOI is fast becoming popular with the students. Located on the third floor of the Student Union building, it gives many students the opportunity to practice announcing or to learn the operation of a radio station. During the past year KUOI has been under the direction of Bob Burnham, station manager.

KEY

Listing names, home addresses, campus addresses, majors, and years of graduation, the Kampus Key is one of the most convenient tools busy committee heads and others have. Kampus Key is published by Blue Key at the beginning of each year as a service to the student body. This year's editor was Bert Johnson, who was also Arg editor.

ASUI HANDBOOK...

VIRGINIA ORAZEM, Editor, ASUI Handbook

Things are new and puzzling to entering freshmen and new students. To help them understand the student's life at the University of Idaho, a copy of the Student Handbook is given them upon arrival, if not sooner. The Handbook, to be distributed to new and old students alike next year, was edited by Virginia Orazem, a senior journalism major.

SIGMA DELTA CHI

Sigma Delta Chi is better known as the men's national journalism honorary, with the special affinity for pillows. Conrad Christensen led the group of journalists this year. Membership in Sigma Delta Chi is open to all men showing interest, ability, and scholarship in the journalistic field.

THETA SIGMA

Local journalism honorary for coeds outstanding in journalism and work on campus publications. . . . Tapping of sophomore women takes place each spring. Joyce Becker, president, has led the group in petitioning for a national charter in Theta Sigma Phi, national fraternity for women journalists.

DRAMA

Miss Jean Collette
Head, Department of Dramatics

"The Main Line" was the title of the first major ASUI production of the year. It was an old-fashioned melodrama, complete with villain, hero and pretty girls. The railroad theme was carried out even to the programs. It was directed by Miss Collette.

Shakespeare's "Hamlet" was the second major play of the year. This tragedy was presented in full, with interesting side-lights given on the characters by members of the cast. Special sets designed and created by Mr. Chavez heightened the effect of the entire play.

"Ladies of the Jury," a comedy about what the power of one woman can do to sway opinion, was presented as the final production of the year. This production saw many senior students giving their final performance on an Idaho stage.

CURTAIN CLUB

Backstage work as well as appearing in play productions is required for membership in the Curtain Club. Students eligible for Curtain Club are tapped following the final performance of a production. Officers for the year were Joan Coble, president; Andy Tozier, vice-president; Bonese Collins, treasurer; and Stowell Johnstone, secretary.

Students in the classes of Advanced Play Production are required to put to use their knowledge of the direction of a play. Each semester a series of three one-act plays is produced. These are directed by students with fellow students doing the acting. The neophytes are assisted with the technical problems by Miss Collette and Mr. Chavez. In the spring one-acts an arena production was put on which was a new addition to the productions.

"CHRISTMAS CAROL," directed by Doris Moore.

"THE LONG CHRISTMAS DINNER," directed by Marvin Alexander.

"THE TWO SHEPHERDS," directed by Judy Coble.

ONE-ACT PLAYS

"THE DOCTOR IN SPIKE OF HIMSELF," directed by Jo Magee.

"BOX AND COX," directed by Rod Greening.

"THE INTRUDER," under the direction of Morton Grinker.

MOMENTS MUSICALE

In almost every week, music can be heard from some performance in the Music building. Student recitals during the day for music students and concerts by the Vandaleers may all be heard. Before we can have music we must have instructors, so all during the day in their various studios and classrooms the instructors are busy with their classes and private lessons. During the year Senior Recitals may be heard, as all the senior music students fulfill their requirements for graduation. Concerts by the University Singers and the Vandaleers are highlights of the program of vocal music. In the spring on the lawn of the Ad building music by the University Concert Band can be heard. The annual Pep Band Show brings jazz along with the classical to the Idaho campus. After Easter the entire state had a chance to hear and see Idaho musicians at their best—the Pep Band took a three-day tour of Northern Idaho, while the Vandaleers made a week-long tour of the southern part of the state. They presented music to, for, and about Idaho at its best.

Prof. Elwin Schwartz, Miriam Little, Agnes Schult, Marian Frykman, Robert Hardesty.

Sigma Alpha Iota

Sigma Alpha Iota, national professional music honorary for women, is for majors and minors in the field of music who show promise as musicians. It has for its purpose the encouragement of the highest ideals of professional musicians. Each fall it sponsors receptions for new music students, and each spring it conducts a spring tea. SAI was one of the co-sponsors of the Song Fest in addition to helping with the Music Festival.

Phi Mu Alpha

Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, national music fraternity for men, has for its aims the development of true fraternal spirit, advancement of the mutual welfare and brotherhood of music students, and the creation of a sense of loyalty to the alma mater. Phi Mu Alpha takes part in many campus activities. These music students work hard in many behind the scene activities of the music department. Perhaps the best known of their activities is the annual Song Fest on Mother's Day, which they co-sponsor with Sigma Alpha Iota.

Music Hall

HALL M. MACKLIN

The life of a music major is an inspired one in the new surroundings. The new Music Hall, which replaces many of the frame buildings located in the southeastern corner of the campus, has been the fulfillment of a dream for Mr. Hall Macklin. Completed for use this fall and dedicated during the Idaho State Music Festival, it is an example of the finest in Gothic architecture.

One of the most important and gratifying of all ASUI activities is intercollegiate and intramural debate. Competition is keen in the inter-living group tussles, and in the intercollegiate field Idaho has placed winning teams in national acclaim. This year Idaho sent Chuck McDevitt and Dean Holyoak to West Point, where they reached the semi-finals in the national tourney.

Delta Sigma Rho

Delta Sigma Rho is a national honorary fraternity designed to promote interest in debating. Here on the Idaho campus, the group sponsors the intramural debate tournaments as well as playing host at competitions held here. The members participate all year in various tournaments held in the Northwest region.

The men's intramural debate was won by the Navy team, composed of Herb Pendergast and Fred Williams. The women's intramural debate was won by Faythe Luther and Sally Landers. The women's winning house was Alpha Chi Omega. The intramural debates are sponsored by Delta Sigma Rho and were administered by Ken Kornher.

In the spring of each year the Public Events Forum begins to plan a program for next year's Public Events assemblies. Under the direction of Dean J. F. Weltzin, they present a well-rounded program of speakers.

Public Events Speakers

DR. DONALD WILSON, first in the series of the year's Public Events speakers, spoke on the subject, "My Six Convicts." Dr. Wilson had been a psychologist in a prison and spoke on prison conditions and ways of improving them.

VIVENNE BENNETT, the speaker who concluded the first semester assemblies, presented a different type of program. The program consisted of a costumed, dramatic recital, "Comedy Classics Through the Ages." Miss Bennett played the parts of both men and women in the various plays.

LELAND STOWE, a newspaper journalist, presented this address, "Education For Peace—Our Long Term Job," on the afternoon of February 25. Mr. Stowe presented the viewpoint that unless we helped to educate the world so that they would accept peace we would never have peace.

OGDEN NASH, noted humorist, presented a program of his own poetry entitled, "Midway Through Nash." Mr. Nash is noted for his "bad" poetry. Mr. Nash was the concluding speaker in this year's Public Events assemblies.

EILEEN FARRELL gave a concert in Pullman on November 20, to begin the 1951-52 Moscow-Pullman Community Concert Series. Miss Farrell, a dramatic soprano, came to Pullman from several network appearances and from making several recordings for Victor Records.

The GRAUDANS, a husband and wife duo, appeared in the Memorial Gymnasium on November 21 to provide a recital of classical and semi-classical music for a combined audience of Moscow and Pullman townspeople and students. Mr. Graudan is a cellist and Mrs. Graudan is a pianist. Each had achieved success as a soloist prior to forming the duo.

TODD DUNCAN, Negro baritone, performed in the Memorial Gym to a capacity crowd. Mr. Duncan began his career when he sang Porgy in Gershwin's "Porgy and Bess." Later Mr. Duncan went on to sing with the New York City Opera Company.

VIRTUOSI DI ROMA, a fourteen-piece ensemble with Renato Fasano directing, gave the fourth concert in the series in WSC's Bohler Gym on February 21. Each of the members of the group is a specialist in his own field. This is the second tour of America the group has made.

ALEC TEMPLETON won a large audience on March 13 in Moscow. This blind pianist played everything from classical to popular selections. To please the audience he made a melody from three notes, and also played several popular selections at once.

WILLIAM KAPPELL finished the 1951-52 Concert Series by giving the final concert in Pullman. Kapell was the youngest of the artists in the series. Still in his early twenties, William Kapell made his first professional appearance in 1942 in New York with the Philharmonic Symphony.

And Community Concerts

The Community Concert Series is sponsored jointly by the towns of Moscow and Pullman, with Idaho and WSC each contributing to the necessary funds. The Moscow committee chooses half of the six artists and the Pullman committee chooses the other three.

WHEN DID NEALE STADIUM have this kind of weather?

BELIEVE IT OR NOT, this game is solitaire (multiple, that is).

THE I-TANK is Idaho's biggest and bestest landmark. Here is the home of the campus golden water with its deliciously nauseating taste.

UNDOUBTEDLY THE MOST FRAGILE VANDAL, this side of Gaul, this neon creation is Idaho's answer to Washington State's "nature boy."

LANDMARKS

THIS LOVELY VIEW of dear old Science Hall proves that beauty is only skin deep. At least she certainly could use some chlorophyll. Don't be half-safe.

A TETRA CHI PARTY in Boise and watercolors combined to create these ghoulish characters. This might be called occupational therapy.

Hall Hostesses

HALL LIFE

Hall living is characterized by a closely-knit grouping which harmonizes with other campus group life to the enth degree. Halls afford semi-private bedrooms and large dining rooms, each filled with over 100 oncomers. Hall life isn't without its tubbings for pin recipients, engaged ones, seniors, and of-icers. Serving as the "guiding hand" for each living group is a housemother for the women's halls and proctors and hostesses for the men's residence halls.

The Idaho student has his choice of six spacious halls among the men and three women's living groups in which to make his college home.

GREEK LIFE

From the split second that rush is over in the fall, respective pledges and members of Idaho's fraternities and sororities begin a new phase of their lives and college careers. Each house has its own traditions and standards which signify the fraternity system in American colleges and universities. On the Idaho campus life is varied, yet the same, in the 14 men's fraternities and the eight women's groups in Greek living.

Social functions include formal dances, pledge and initiate functions, picnics and firesides. Songs of each individual group and their pins help to recognize the members. For pin passing in the fraternities is the necessary ritual called tubbing which ranges from the Sigma Chi stocks to the Fiji flagpole dousing.

On the whole, Idaho's Greek groups and Independent groups are well coordinated and live harmoniously.

THE HEIGHT of comfort.

Picnics and Parties

THE DRAMA CREW WASN'T SATISFIED with one strike picnic after "Ladies of the Jury." They had to have three of the wonderful, wonderful affairs.

WHAT IS A PICNIC without a hot dog? I dunno, but ask these Attic Club members. They know.

The year started out as usual. The fall was punctuated with a few picnics, and the winter with innumerable lusty snowball fights. But an unidentified madness hit the campus in the spring, and all one heard was picnic, picnic, picnic. The words "Party? Where?" became a battle-cry. But tensions were released, frustrations were unleashed, and a helluva time was had by all.

FORNEY AND RIDENBAUGH HALLS combined forces on a "suppressed desire" party somewhere in the depths of Forney. After-closing-hour "hen parties" were not at all uncommon.

THE INFAMOUS TETRA CHI HOUSE on Circle Drive hosts a "beaux arts ball," with costumes from famous plays, songs, or other works of art. It was a great success, except that no one got around to dancing.

HEADING THE UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO'S vast intramural athletic program are Bill Eimers (left) and Leon Greene.

TO COORDINATE THE INTRAMURAL ACTIVITIES of the various living groups is the job of the intramural managers, who have periodical meetings with the directors to plan and schedule the individual sports.

Intramurals

Phi Delta Theta's intramural teams annexed trophies in swimming, skiing, and track to pace the way toward the all-campus championship. The Phi Delts made good enough showings in the other sports to rack up a point total of 1752.5 to stave off a 1701.5 challenging total by Beta Theta Pi. Willis Sweet Hall captured third place with 1640.5, Kappa Sigma took fourth with 1528.5, and Tau Kappa Epsilon finished fifth with 1486.0. Sigma Chi, Delta Tau Delta, Sigma Nu, Phi Gamma Delta, and Delta Chi rounded out the top ten.

A rundown of the individual sports and champions would find the Phi Delts, Sig Chis, and Delts each collecting three trophies. Lindley Hall opened the season by stashing away the touch football title. The Phi Delts followed by capturing the swimming crown, while the Delts played the "rackets" by annexing both the tennis and table tennis crowns.

Sigma Chi grabbed volleyball honors, Betas took cross country, Chrisman Hall captured "A" basketball, and Sigma Chi returned to the headlines with a title in "B" basketball. The Delts chalked up their third trophy with the bowling title, Sigma Chi took horseshoes, the Fijis were victorious in softball, Betas captured golf, and the Phi Delts won track to round out the year.

1952 ALL-CAMPUS CHAMPIONS were the Phi Delts, who captured individual trophies in swimming, track and skiing. The Betas finished a close second with Willis Sweet taking third-place honors.

DELTA TAU DELTA captured the first of three trophies by taking tennis honors. Individual winner in this event was Idaho Club's John Schober.

THE PHI DELTS started on their way toward the all-campus trophy with a big splash as they captured the swimming meet. Rich Bradbury set a new 50-yard backstroke mark and the PDT relay team splashed to a new record.

TOUCH FOOTBALL WINNER was Lindley Hall. After running rampant through the Independent league, Lindley walked all over Sigma Nu's Greek champions for the campus title.

SIGMA NU AND CHRISMAN HALL met in the "A" basketball finals, and the Chrisman boys edged a bigger Sigma Nu team with a determined second-half rally for the championship.

DELTA TAU DELTA proved to be as efficient playing tennis inside as well as out and copped the ping pong championship. Bryan Lawrence of DTD was the campus individual winner.

SIGMA CHI'S "B" basketball team ripped the nets for two points in the last minute of an overtime period to whip the Phi Deltas and gain the "B" cage title.

THE DELTA TAU DELTA KEGLERS fashioned a win over Delta Sigma Phi in the championship battle to capture the Delta's third intramural trophy of the year.

SIGMA CHI paraded through the volleyball season without a defeat to win the campus title. In the championship series, Sigma Chi dropped the Independent champions, Campus Club.

RICHARD SCHMIDT AND DeWITT BOWLES ran one-two in the annual cross-country "turkey" chase. However, the Betas posted the best team score to win championship honors.

BETA THETA PI captured its second trophy of the year as they won the golf championship. Vernon Batt of the Betas annexed medalist honors.

THE PHI GAMMA DELTA good hit, good field, no pitch softball team waltzed past the Independent champions, Lindley Hall, to win the campus title.

SIGMA CHI packed away its third trophy of the year by pitching its way to the championship in the horse-shoe tournament.

PHI DELTA THETA clinched the all-campus trophy by posting a win in the season's final event, track. It was also the third title win of the year for the Phi Deltas.

Of Sex and Free Love . . .

And another year has closed on life at the University of Idaho. The time covered between September, 1951 and June, 1952 saw new laurels and honors bestowed on Idaho, and also saw a pleasant balance of achievements and disappointments for Idaho students.

For this was the year that Idaho recaptured the nationwide collegiate blood title, in regard to percentage of students giving blood. It was the ASUI, you remember, that initiated the first student-sponsored blood drive that has since become commonplace among the nation's campuses (or campi, if you prefer).

This was the year that the Third Party Association, wading through Argonaut and presidential opposition, came into semi-power with the election of Ray Cox to the ASUI presidency and two TPA'ers to the Exec board.

This was the year of the Cox-conceived Reverse Panty Raid, beginning at three in the morning, and including a pre-dawn dance, downtown serpentine, and a classless Friday, for those courageous enough to benefit from it.

And this was the year of the picnic and party. Any organized resistance faded as the year faded, until the last month of school, when students floated to classes and were poured into bed. But a grand time was had by all, except the administration, who failed to realize that a college education is more than a simple quest for good grades.

We of The Gem staff have tried to provide sufficient visual memories of these and many other events in this, the 50th volume of The Gem of the Mountains. Compared to past Gems, you will find the arrangement unique, to say the least. The key to this edition is supposed to be integration. Whether we have succeeded or not is entirely up to you, our severest critic.

Naturally, orchids go all over the place when it comes to giving credit for the book. Andy Tozier and Sheila Janssen, who did in two weeks what the living groups editor couldn't do in two semesters, are at the top of the list. And certainly this book couldn't be published without the full help and cooperation of all the other staff members, with Carla Brodd, Bill Boyden, Bob Stivers, Jack Marineau, and Jean Whittemore as standouts.

To Gale Mix go special, ultra-rare Lower Hindustani orchids for all the invaluable assistance he gave us all, and, from the editor's standpoint, for never inquiring how far the Gem was behind. It gets a little embarrassing when you have to say, "Oh, four or five months or so."

Another carton of orchids go to Bob Freeman and Ralph York of Syms-York Company, and to Ken Miller, of Western Engraving Company, for multi-assistance and unbelievable patience while waiting in April for the November copy to trickle through. Also those fabulous flowers go to Hutchinson's, Rudy's, and Sterner's studios, and Kyle's photo shop, for working super-duper hard to produce our prints on time. And the list goes on and on. To everyone who gave us a lift, a big thanks.

So here is your 1952 Gem of the Mountains. As all editors say in their post-mortem remarks, we hope you like it, and (what the more tactful and discreet don't say) if you don't like it, that's rough, because we really can't do it over again.

Finally, forgive the head on this final burst of hackneyed journalism, but I did want you all to read this, and I knew too well that anxious eyes never pass up the forbidden fruit.
