Here are the . . . FRESHMEN ... and here is our theme

Slip into the spanky new shoes of this spanky new frosh couple and follow them through the happy confusion of first year college, changing from the proverbial green to the comfortable, settled down graduate of the freshman class. Recall the disappointment as the professor posted the nine weeks grades, and finally the proud wearing of the pin . . .

MISS ANN CARSON

The Three Seasons of

Fall has fell and Mr. Study Hall rears his gruesome head in the form of physics books that might as well be written in Greek. Our freshmen become students as well as cogs in the wheel of social life.

Winter ends the threat of a nervous breakdown with a nice relaxing Christmas vacation, only to return to the confusion and chaos of registration again.

Beautiful Spring and picnic time is welcomed in with sleeping sickness in classes and amnesia at night, and our frosh are almost ready to sign their papers as "sophomore"...

Our Year at Idaho

And finally beautiful Spring at the University.

. . . our couple finds Winter and the usual winter sports.

The Students Arrive . . .

They find a parking place and unpack-

-then meet to talk over the summers highlights-and settle in for another term . . .

Rush is on, and coeds have time to enjoy themselves before the real work starts . . .

School has begun, lines form, application cards and more lines start the season . . .

for a year at Idaho

Conducting your trip . . .

Although Governor Jordan is a graduate of the University of Oregon, he has long had both official and personal interest in the University of Idaho. As governor, it is his duty to appoint the members of the University Board of Regents. As a father, he has sent two sons and a daughter to the University. Joseph came here in 1947, then went on to West Point. Patricia was graduated in 1950 as a major in home economics, and Stephen was a junior this year in engineering.

Traditionally the Governor attends commencement exercises, but Len Jordan has found time to be here also for Homecoming and other activities. As a man who rose from a sheep ranch at the bottom of Hell's Canyon to the highest position in the State, he has brought inspiration to our halls of ivy.

GOVERNOR LEN JORDAN

Alton B. Jones; J. L. McCarthy, Orofino; J. E. Graham, Rexburg; Governor Len Jordan, Boise; Mrs. Marguerite Campbell, New Meadows; Dr. A. R. McCabe, St. Maries; and John D. Remsberg, Jr., Rupert.

The book you hold will grow in value with the years. It is your book of memories of University of Idaho days, and memories are always enhanced by the years. By the same token, the knowledge you have gained at the University will grow in value with the years. The primary mission of the University is to teach you to thinkto have initiative and ideas-regardless of the particular profession for which you are being trained. As a thinking man or woman, you will have the ability to cope. with both the material and the abstract, and individuals and nations rise or fall in their handling of the abstract. As a thinking man or woman, you will not only enrich your own life with the years, but the lives of those around you. Treasure then this book and what you have learned in the period it represents.

THE PRESIDENT J. E. BUCHANAN

Mr. and Mrs. Buchanan entertain noted guest speakers.

They welcome you to Idaho

Donna Shively Business Manager

Another issue of the Gem has been sweated out and is in the hands of our public. It has been a big job, but lots of fun. To all of you we hope that you are pleased, and if you're not, come around and help put out a better Gem next year. To the staff goes the credit for a job "well done." There were the usual foul-ups and missed deadlines, and of course, the switch of plans by the editor when he was called into the Air Force, but Dorothy and Darlene took over the reins and did a good job, even though it meant a great deal of extra work. We hope that the copy is correct and that the names are in the proper places; if any of the Phi Kappa Tau's are around we apologize. The staff and the editors are hoping that the organization and plan of the book is to the liking of all of you, and that each of you will appear in the book several times. The aim of the book is to picture you, the student, as you live a year at Idaho.

JoElla Hamilton Editor

The return to school and the start of another year -- the happy meetings and visiting with friends-- the sunny fall afternoons to cut a class and head for the Bucket and coffee. Bright colors of a football crowd -- Homecoming and the floats built with such loving care. All these and more are a part of fall at Idaho. Slowly the days become shorter and the air more brisk-- football season ends and we drift into winter.

Fall

Rush

Madeline Meltvedt, Gamma Phi Rush Chairman, and Jo Ann DeShazer, house President, combine efforts to make a success of rush.

The photographer catches Fred Magee, Jim Hanzel, and Dean Bent doing some "rushing" at the Sigma Nu house.

The modernized Theta house offers the pros and cons of Theta sorority life to the rushees at a hen session.

Members of fraternities and sororities came back to school in the fall laden with paint, paint brushes and new furnishings to prepare for a hectic rush week. (If you thought rush was bad this year, pledges, just wait until you're on the inside.) Houses were redecorated to impress the prospective rushees and house capacities were increased this year to take care of the many men and women who went Greek. For new coeds who had been going barefoot during the summer, walking in high heels to three and four parties each day proved to be quite an ordeal. This plus being heckled by fraternity boys, and stuffed with all sorts of undigestible goodies at the different sorority houses made for an unforgettable week. Wolf whistles were in order as the coeds paraded to rush parties. Dress varied from pedal pushers to taffetas. Silence period for rushees was received with relief by some males; others found it difficult to commute with the girls of their dreams. Boys rush was more formal than in previous years. Members of fraternities served lunch and dinner to men rushees at regularly scheduled parties. Coeds trudged wearily to the SUB on the last day of rush and squeals of delight were heard as each girl opened her final bid envelope. More screaming was heard as the rushees were received by the members at each house. The girls moved into their new living quarters and the new pledges were guests at a formal dinner in the evening. Boys concluded their rushing with a formal dinner. Thus a five day rush period was successfully terminated.

Sometimes they only make it halfway to class-it's even more crowded at night.

Classes Begin

A moment of freedom before Frosh English class begins.

"Say a few words in the mike, Shirley."

With registration finished, the following Monday most eight o'clock classes were skipped by the older students, while all the frosh trudged to their classes. By the time four o'clock rolled around, old and new students were getting acquainted in the Bucket, Nest, or Perch over a cup of coffee, a coke, or a friendly card game. That first weekend many students discovered the Dipper and the juke box. This is still a popular place with the students for dancing in the evenings. Students also found entertainment in the basement of the SUB by bowling, playing ping-pong or making use of the pool tables. The first week of school saw many frosh rushing around the campus entering various campus activities. Some started playing in intramural sports, working on the Argonaut and helping out at KUOI. Church groups also had good turn-outs at their first organized meetings. With classes beginning, Wednesday night exchanges between living groups started for the freshmen, featuring an hour of dancing and getting acquainted.

The University students were 100% behind the football team as is shown by the enthusiasm in this shot.

"Check my crazy penitentiary picture," everyone moaned as they picked up their personalized activity cards.

Miss Jan Cole, 1953 Homecoming Queen

HOMECOMING

Homecoming events started off with a bang as alums returned to their alma mater this fall. The pajama parade, pep rally and fireworks were held the evening before Homecoming. The following day most living groups were represented with a float in the annual parade. Halftime activities at the football game included band routines and crowning of the queen. After the game, open house was held in the various living groups. The big day was climaxed by an all campus dance at the Student Union.

Homecoming and the pajama parade bring many wolf calls as girls parade the men's living groups.

The Idaho pep band musically "out-noises" the enthusiastic crowd at the big pre-game pep rally.

Winner of the float competition in the men's division was Delta Sigma Phi with a big white bell.

The Kappa Alpha Theta's wished their way to women's division first place with "Wishing You Well."

The stands were packed for the annual Homecoming game which this year pitted the Vandals and the Oregon State Beavers. Vandal boosters from all over helped fill Neale stadium.

Moscow streets were lined with interested by-standers as the University of Idaho students strutted their stuff in the yearly Homecoming parade under sunny skies.

U. of I. coeds vie for the title "1953 Homecoming Queen." It must have been difficult for the male students to choose from such a lovely group of girls.

The floats were built and the decorations put up.

Night turns to day as hours and hours of labor, goofin', and T.P. go into the spectacular homecoming floats. The members think up the clever ideas and the pledges poke the paper.

Dancin' and romancin' in the Student Union Ballroom were a fitting climax to the weekend festivities.

Cold winds start to blow. Winter dances, skiing and all of the other winter activities are beginning. We campus folks are preparing for the Holiday Season. It's one of the best seasons in Moscow's round. Activity people rush out into the cold and slush -- and there are those who prefer to stay inside and dream by the fire. Memories of the snow and cold will fade, but those of the activities and fun will linger on and on.

Winter

Holly Week

Jingle Bells rang all through the week as the sophomores dashed through Holly Week. Under the direction of John Bahr, the class president, and his many capable committees, this week of fun and activities will long be remembered. The sophomore Holly Week has been an Idaho tradition from 'way back when, and the very name brings thoughts of Christmas trees, mistletoe, tinsel, caroling, snow, and all the other wonderful things that go with Christmas at Idaho.

The members of the class transformed the Student Union ballrooms into a "Winter Wonderland" for the semi-formal dance climaxing the week. Here the Holly Queen, Janet Campbell, was crowned to reign over the dance. Then, all too soon, the week was over and its memories were placed with the others of the fun-filled winter

Which one do you suppose he's taking to the Holly Dance? Lucky guy to have such a choice!

The Ad lawn was also transformed into a "Winter Wonderland" by a heavy snowfall this winter.

You would have to be pretty fast to catch these gals on the Women's Ski Team once they get started. They spend many hours at Emida while the snow lasts.

Dances

Benfer Benefit

Bill Parsons, ASUI president, gives Nancy the money collected from the students. Colleen Hinchey, AWS president, is one of the many students who visited Nancy in Idaho Falls.

Once again the University of Idaho showed its large and open heart when the students put on the Benfer Benefit Dance. It all began when Nancy returned to the campus to start her sophomore year. The house was cleaned; the skits were ready. The rushees arrived and the entertainment started. While performing in one of the skits Nancy's grass skirt brushed the flame of a candle and blazed into sudden fury. When the flames were finally extinguished Nancy had been badly burned over twothirds of her body. As soon as possible Nancy was flown to the Idaho Falls hospital to be near her parents. Nancy has spent a major portion of the year under doctor's care. The students responded to the tragedy by holding a drive and dance to raise money to help, and collected over one thousand dollars.

Registering Again

Some days it's cheaper to stay in bed.

The Ag Club got the worst of the tug of war with the Foresters.

Frosh Week

The Class of '57 got together and organized their annual Frosh Week, which was held in March. Climaxing their activities was their dance with the theme "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling." Royalty was selected to reign over the dance. The honor of king and queen going to Bill Davis, ATO, and Mary McLeod, Hays Hall. Class officers and their committees were in charge of the dance and week's activities.

A large crowd attended the dance held in the SUB.

Who fell in?

"Mary, Queen of Scots"

Miss Jean Collette and Mr. Edward Chavez, who directed the play, were always on hand to give a suggestion when needed.

The ASUI drama department outdid itself this winter in its presentation of "Mary, Queen of Scots." With authentic costumes and sets of the period, the audience was transported back into history to get an inside view of the dramatic story of the young queen's life. The many hours of practicing and the numerous problems with sets, costumes, and make-up were richly rewarded when both students and faculty acclaimed the production among the best ever presented.

Now, does she look like the type of a gal who would cut off her sister's head? Oh, well, looks are deceiving.

Spring...after the nasty weather of cold, wind and snow Moscow shows its other side. Baseballs are thrown in the streets and student life stirs itself out of doors. It's the time of the picnic and the hayride. Tops are down on the convertibles -spring fever is epidemic and professors are irked with dreamy eyed scholars. Students sun themselves on the lawns -or walk long in the Arboretum. Frosh Comp. moves outside for a period or two. These are the golden days of which memories are made.

Blue Key Winners

Twenty - five entertaining acts completed another successful Blue Key Talent Show. Del Naser assisted by Ken Wright insured a smooth running show. This year another competitive section was added due to the increase in entries, making a total of five cups that were awarded.

Leaving Campus

The school year wound to a dramatic close with water fights and outdoor classes. (See cuts) All the campus basked in those warm spring days (intermittent showers and hail storms also reported). Spring cruises and frolics to Moscow mountain helped the last few weeks speed by.

And then came final week—this was mixed in with spring dances, concerts, and picnics but it managed to put a solemn side on everything. Ah yes, cramming 'till midnight, no-doz, and rushing next morning to class armed with a piece of toast and a pencil. Everything happened all too swiftly, and soon it was departure time. Leave takings were made and everyone looked forward to seeing each other next fall.

Here in our book are printed the organizations, committees and clubs we work on, with and for. These are the discussed, cussed, sometimes boycotted but always loved activities representing the extracurricular side of our education. Some say it's good, and some say it's not. At any rate it takes a great deal of time, effort and, yes, even work. Here they are, the shots formal and informal. We hope you all appear.

The Wise . . . We, They Govern

The ASUI office staff, Jean Duffy, Bill Bolby and Jean Wright, gear the wheels that in turn keep the University rolling smoothly.

The ASUI prexy, Bill Parsons, acts as chief engineer in directing all the campus business.

The Executive Board had a busy year planning all campus policies. They proved themselves wise and able rulers.

New project for the year was Tuesday night dinner exchanges between the girls' houses—proved to be an excellent way for making new friends.

The AWS council is represented by one member of each living group. On such matters as late permissions, wearing jeans on campus, and study table regulations, this board acts as the Emily Post of social life for

The Golden Fleece

Home of Idaho's busiest people is the Argonaut Office—melting pot for all the campus news. The Arg has been edited this year by Al Dieffenbach and the old Jersey City Kid came through in fine style, especially his April Fool's edition. Hats off to Admiral Farragut!

Together with his managing editor Fred Williams, Al took hold of the campus problems and gave them full treatment in his editorials. Not everyone may agree with the Arg's position during this past year, but all must agree that the paper has been widely read and has furnished the students a good coverage of the campus problems.

The job of publishing a paper is a large one, and if you don't believe it go down and help give them a hand some Monday or Thursday night. Last minute deadlines, sayings like "who swiped my story" or "you've dummied in twenty inches too many" leave vivid memories to all the staff members. The GEM is proud of its sister publication and hopes Idaho's bi-weekly newspaper will continue in the fine style next year.

Members of the Arg Staff

KUOI

The Voice of the Vandal under the able management of the station director, Chuck White, (picture left), carried out its activities very efficiently this year. One of KUOI's main objectives this year was to install lines to the various living groups, enabling each group to get KUOI on their radios. In the past, KUOI has been able to reach only the SUB and a few surrounding living groups. The Voice of the Vandal has carried the music from several of the campus dances this year. Each year the station has gotten more equipment and reached more of the Idaho students. This was also the year of the great debate over whether to go on FM or to remain on AM. The AM won and KUOI is still broadcasting as usual to the campus area. It has been a good year for the station and its fans.

The live wires behind production this year: Jerry Chandler, record librarian; Bob McBirney, chief engineer; Roger Groth, publicity director; Donald Bundy, production director; Chuck White, station director; John Hughes, program director.

Winning 65 per cent of their 215 debates in competition, Idaho's debaters marked a very successful year. Big moment of the season—Charles Oldam and Lee Anderson capably represented Idaho in the contest with Oxford debaters. MISS JEAN COLLETTE Dramatics Department Head

"The Doctor In Spite of Himself," (right) a threeact farce written by the satirist Jean Baptiste Poquelin delighted the audience. A perfect ending of the spring season.

Under the direction of Miss Jean Collette assisted by Edmund Chavez, the Thespians completed another year. Rehearsals, costumes, promptings, last minute qualms all passed with the final thud of the curtain. A successful year, much work, many memories.

Remember the snappy "Go, Vandal Go," black and white uniforms and precision marchings at our football halftime—this was our University band! Ably directed by Warren Bellis, the band presented a folk music concert on January 8th.

University Pep Band

Enthusiasm from Idaho's Pep Band sparked student spirit in a big way this year. Mel Curtis, student director, led the band in its truckside coordination of rallies and half-time entertainment at home basketball games. Warren Bellis was faculty advisor of the organization this season.

University Orchestra

Providing a most outstanding concert season was the University Orchestra, directed by Carl Claus. Programs of contemporary and classical music were presented and both students and faculty members soloed with the orchestra.

The Idaho music students joined forces and presented Mozart's "Marriage of Figaro." With the combined talents of Norman Logan as Figaro, and Margaret Fox as Susanna, the University Music Department proved that opera can be entertaining.

Attic Club

A group of students whose interest lies in art and architecture.

They are famous for their card parties, and the auctions of art objects that take place at them. The Attic Club members also sell and produce Christmas cards which are unusual and very popular. The club has had an active group this past year and has been headed by Barbara Higgins. The group have had a dance this year, a picnic and held several student art exhibits to round out their year's program.

Skí Club

The slat men and women whose big moments come while sliding down the rolling Palouse hills. The big topic of conversation can be the last run of the day or the last broken bone. These guys and gals usually can be easily told from the general run of the campus by the pleased expressions when the cold white stuff shows its face. The club has been active this year working on the new Vandal ski area, and taking trips to other ski runs.

Orchesis

Club devoted to the muse of the dance. These girls and boys are interested in the interpretation and performance of the dance.

The members of the club presented a program of interpretive dancing during the spring. The group sent delegates to the Northwest Dance Symposium held at Seattle. The club was presided over by Miss Denise Darwin who has been active in modern dancing for several semesters.

Vandal Riders

These are the students of the university who have a big interest in horses and rodeoing. They have fought long and hard for official recognition which has finally been achieved in some measure this year. They have been very successful in the collegiate rodeos and other meets entered. The club has been headed this year by Darrel Schnitker who took over the reins from Howard "Bull" Harris.

Vandal Flyers

The theme song of this group could well be "Into the Air Junior Birdmen," since here are the students who have flight on their minds. The club has been interested in buying a new plane this year to replace one of their old ones. Members have participated in many activities, including some of the Flying Farmer breakfasts. Bert Zimmerly has held the position of president this year.

Radio TV Guild

Take a good look at these students, you may be seeing and hearing them soon. These are the future hopefuls of the radio and video fields. The club put on several television shows over Spokane's channel four, and produced several radio shows as well. The club MC is Warren Peterson and is advised by Bob Tracy, head of the Radio Department where the shows are produced. The group is open to any student, but is made up primarily of radio students.

Idaho's Foresters had another bang-up year climaxed with a very successful Forestry Week during April. Led by prexy Larry Smith, the Foresters made their annual trips to nearby high schools where individual members gave speeches on conservation and other aspects of Forestry.

Associated Foresters again showed the Aggies who's boss by pulling them through their own manure pile in a tug-o-war on the Ad Lawn. Joe Helle was selected as the Forester most outstanding as a senior.

After this year, the Associated Foresters will be looked upon as a real hotshot group.

Queen Billie Hanchey reigned over the 1954 Little International Livestock Show—one of the most successful and best attended events of its kind. Morrie Martin walked away with the "best all-around man" title for his judging and showing. Runner-up was Charles Starr.

The Show was directed by Clyde Wilson while the Club was led by President Clyde Murphy. The Foresters claimed a victory in the tugowar after the rope broke, but they have not yet offered to have a run-

As if a challenge from the Foresters wasn't enough, we were also baited into a basketball game by the Lawyers. We lost.

Associated Engineers

The Associate Engineers is an organization on the campus composed of engineering students of every field. The main function of the organization is to correlate all the engineering chapters for major functions and to present work accomplished by the students to the public by way of the Idaho Engineer, which is a co-function of the organization. This year's officers were Frank Muller-Karger, president and Gene Burbidge, secretary-treasurer. Their big social event was the Engineers' Ball held on February 6.

The Army ROTC unit was established on the Idaho campus January 3, 1917. Since then it has produced innumerable collegetrained officers for the regular army and the army reserve. Students graduating from this program are commissioned into the field in which they obtained their degree.

Keeping with its slogans, "Better prepared to better serve," and "Learn today—lead tomorrow," the Idaho unit provided for its basic and advanced students not only the best in officer training, but many instructional extra activities.

This year the detachment was headed by Lt. Col. James A. Moore, serving his first year at Idaho as professor of Military Science and tactics.

There's a little Annapolis on the Idaho campus, far from the roaring sea usually associated with the navy life. Herein study the swabbies of Latah County, the men who are chosen by the navy to take training—with pay—leading to an active commission in the United States Navy or Marine corps.

The Navy, long noted for its snappy marching on campus, the gung-ho attitude of its members, and the fineness of its program has completed one of the most successful years on record for the Idaho detachment.

The midshipmen are divided into two groups, the contracts and the regulars. All take the same course of instruction during the academic year, but each summer the regulars attend a summer cruise.

The Navy building is located on lower campus and can be identified by its mast, navigation lights, and the spanking white superstructure and the friendly sign, "Welcome on Board."

The Navy rifle team and pistol team.

Always ready for competition, the drill team.

Air Force ROTC The Flyboys

This year the Air Force ROTC has inaugurated an entirely new program for the training of her future officers. The new course, complete with new manuals and teaching aids provided by the Air University at Montgomery, Alabama, is more generalized, and was set up to acquaint the cadet with the general program of this branch of the service.

Leadership training is the prime objective of this course. With the program of simulated base conditions and complete cadet drill control this unit is striving to produce better officers for our peace and war needs.

Cadet Col. Leih and his staff of cadet officers have completed an extremely successful year. Class work and interest in the corps have been stimulated by the diverse and numerous activities of the year.

Last year's song fest winner, the choir of the Air Force detachment, presented two television shows from Spokane. Add to this the drill team, rifle squad, military ball, and summer camp and you have the story of the Idaho detachment.

Where we eat, sleep and sometimes study, the . . .

Dorothy Carter Editor

The eating, the sleeping and studying take up a large part of our time, so to most of us this part of our book is the important one. Here are the pictures of the men and women living on campus—often used for selecting dates, looking up that "cute one" seen in the Bucket and just finding out who is who. Almost all Idaho students appear here except those living off campus—your friends, exchanges, dances and some of the "goofing off" that you long will recall.

Higher learning.

Kappas hold dance.

This year we Kappas tried a new criteria for success—to be a campus wheel, you have to look like one . . . Dolores Anderson, vice-president of Mortar Board, led a crusade to heat the hurrah bushes . . . Nancy Jutila, president of Spurs . . . Florence Carroll, LaVonne Wilson, and Ellie Horsman ripple their biceps in WRA activities, the rest of us keep our muscles in our heads . . . due to an ample supply of Benzidrene and sheer grit we pulled through the Scholarship Award . . . Carolyn Sanderson was rushed to the local "Witch Doctor" via stretcher, her acute appendicitis attacks were diagnosed as over-eating . . . this was an understatement . . . Going social.

You can lead a horse to water, but you can't make him drink!

"The Secret Grip of Delta Sigma Phi"

Once again the annual football slatter with Gamma Delta chapter at WSC took place... Then there was the Christmas fireside with the girls decorating the tree... Exworthy enters the Blue Key Talent show in the serious division, has nervous breakdown, and wins first in the individual comedy acts. The Delta Sigs still have some pressing problems... getting Harry a date... Shorty's harmonica... Dudley's debts... Only one last phrase is left to be said... "Mathers has left."

Sigma Nu

The white star of Sigma Nu, the bright star of Sigma Nu . . . "

A moment of silence-

Once again the White Star selected as their sweetheart Ethel Watkins who carries a lot of weight with the boys... Other social successes were the White Rose dance and the romantic spring cruise at Coeur d'Alene. "I'll do it the first chance I get" is an oft heard phrase uttered by such characters as "Little Red Eagle" Carbon, "Zoomer" Zimmerly, and "Howdy Doody" Wescott... they may have picked the names up from the new SN curriculum—TV 01, 11, 121, and 399... quite a few fellows announcing the new major... The active men and women . . .

John Hughes Editor

Teams -- varsity, frosh and intramural...
the people who keep the Vandal flag flying. Football, basketball, baseball, tennis, track, golf, field hockey and all the other myriad activities -- the boys and girls who give their all for the game. Here are the Vandals as they take on the foe -- here are the conference, the non-conference and the traditional games. Each has its place in the Idaho picture. As seasons go it's only been fair, but here it is.

Sports

GO BIG I-Vandal cheering section whooping it up at one of the top notch basketball games last winter.

Staff Resigns

After three years of guiding the Idaho football program, Raymond A. (Babe) Curfman, center, and his staff resigned after their squad completed a dismal 1 win, 8 loss season. Plagued by injuries throughout the year and a lack of available material was the instrumental factor in the popular coaches' resignations. His assistants through the year were Chuck Gottfried, line; Dixie White, backs; Clem Parberry, frosh (he remains at Idaho as head baseball coach); and Mack Flenniken, line.

1953 Vandals—The thirty-five man Vandal grid team is pictured here before embarking on a road trip. Left to right, front row: Teverbaugh, Armitage, Caudill, Faraca, Lawr. Fray. Grunst, Patrick, Falash, and Hess. Second row: Johnson, Payne, Lee, Barton, Frostenson, Patrick, Bittner, Faulkner, Allison, and Gorrell. Third row: Giles. West. Waller, Emerson, Roark, Leigh, Mendiola, and Randolph, Rear row: Colin Campbell, mgr., Kleffner, Bertrand, Pickett, Eidman, Buhler, Haines, Hall and Bill Scotford, mgr.

Halfback Dick Pickett picks up valuable yards for Idaho in the San Jose tussle.

Bertrand, center; Eidam, quarterback; Kleffner, fullback.

Idaho 7, San Jose State 34

The Vandals fought like winners during the first half, but heat, plus strong San Jose reserve strength led to a 34-6 loss in the season opener. Flip Kleffner led the Idaho offensive to a 7-6 half-time lead but found it rough going during the final stanza.

Idaho O, Utah 21

Idaho suffered their second straight loss of the young year when they faced the Utah Redskins at Salt Lake. The second road trip in many weeks proved fatal as the Redskins romped 27-goose-eggs. The Utes capitalized on a powerful ground game to penetrate the thin Vandal defenses.

Roark, tackle; West, end; Buhler, halfback.

Jack Cross, Ute back, hollers for help as the Vandals mass around him.

Armitage, tackle; Fray, guard; Hess, tackle.

Idaho 14, BYU 20

Seven costly Idaho fumbles overshadowed a brilliant performance by fullback Jay Buhler as the BYU Cougars took a last ditch 20-14 win. Buhler's spectacle nearly made up for the slippery-itis as he ran the kick-off back 96 yards, the longest in Idaho history, and snagged a George Eidam pass for another TD. He added the extra point with a sure toe.

A Montana U. pass is knocked out of the air.

Mel Bertrand snags an aerial off the BYU quarterback assisted by George Eidam (34),

Idaho 20, Montana 12

Having given Montana a two TD head start, the Vandals, led by George Eidam and Flip Kleffner, took their only game of the season. Babe Curfman utilized several strategy and lineup changes to outsmart the Grizzlies 20-12.

Emerson, guard; Gorrell, halfback; Allison, halfback.

Jay Buhler legs it down the sidelines in picking up a chunk of yardage against the WSC Cougars when the two teams renewed rivalry in the annual battle of the Palouse.

Idaho 13, WSC 30

More than 10,000 spectators witnessed the Vandals give the WSC Cougars a good scare in the first half then settle down to their usual diminutive role in the second stanza and a 30-13 loss. Ducke, Washington was the big gun for the Staters as he broke the Idaho secondary wide open time and time again. Kleffner got off a Pacific Coast Conference record breaking punt of 82 yards in the game.

Bittner, fullback; Frostenson, halfback; Pickett, halfback; Payne, guard.

Waller, fullback; Caudill, guard; Lee, fullback; Haines, quarterback.

Idaho O, OSC 19

A fired up OSC club in search of its first football win of the year, found it at Moscow and ruined Homecoming for some 9,200 grads and friends who gathered to see the game and all the color and pageantry of the annual event. The Beavers could do no wrong in that one and set back the perfect hosts when the latter wouldn't even think of starting a sustained drive.

Randolph can't help here as Jay Buhler is swarmed upon by OSC Beavers.

Homecoming action finds Tommy Little (35) carrying to pay dirt for OSC in the Idaho shellacking.

George Eidam rambles for the Vandals against the Ducks.

Grunst, end; Barton, center; T. Falash, guard.

Idaho 6, Oregon 25

George Shaw led the Oregon Ducks to a 25-6 win at Eugene in the renewal of their ND rivalry. Eddie Allison climaxed a 67-yard Vandal drive with a short touchdown jaunt to prevent the invaders from being blanked. Flip Kleffner and Ted Frostenson were injured and lost to the team for the remainder of the season.

Idaho O, College of Pacific 33

A sparse Dad's Day crowd saw the Vandals taken in on the chin 33-0 in the final home game. Passing by Bill Jacobs and Roy Ottoson to all-American end Ken Buck, literally broke the backs of Idaho defenders and at no time did the hosts threaten with a big offensive. Jacobs threw for three scores.

Patrick, halfback; Faraca, guard; Leigh, tackle.

Art Liebscher gets it from all sides as Idaho tacklers swarm in for the kill.

J. Neil (Skip) Stahley, Head Football Coach, 1954.

Idaho 7, Utah State 19

Larry Gorrell, reserve halfback, sparked the Vandals in their final outing with a good show of running power, but this wasn't enough as Utah State rose up and handed the invaders their eighth season loss 19-7. The game was played in Boise at Bronco Stadium. Idaho thus wound up their season with but one win, that being over Montana, and eight losses. The Vandals played with mostly reserve strength as most of the regulars were either injured or dropped from the squad.

Stahley Holds Reins Now

J. Neil Stahley, known on campus as Skip, succeeds Babe Curfman at the helm of the Idaho football program. Stahley, a former head coach at Brown and Toledo universitics resigned his backfield job with the Chicago Cards of the pro ranks to take the position at Vandalville. He will have as assistants, John H. (Jay) Pattee, former head coach at Stetson College, Florida; Earl Klapstein, head coach at Stockton College, California, and Eugene (Gene) Stauber, assistant coach at University of Delaware. The staff found some eighty varsity candidates eager to start work during spring training and feel satisfied with results there. "We're rarin' to go," is the harmonious reply of all hard-working staffers.

Randolph, tackle; Mendiola, end; Hall, half-back.

BOBBY GARRISON up and in for the Vandals in an Oregon Duck conquest during the 1954 season.

GATHER AROUND GANG—Head basketball coach Chuck Finley gives his big five (Garrison, Flynn, Morrison, Melton and Falash) a deserved rest. The unorthodox rest period huddle caused much conversation around the Northern Division loop.

MEETS CHALLENGE—Harlan Hodges, former basketball coach at Murray State, Kentucky has accepted the challenge to maintain the University of Idaho basketball standings by succeeding Charles L. (Chuck) Finley, who resigned to take a similar position at Mississippi Southern University.

Hodges, who has a better than 80 win percentage as a college coach, is famous for his high-scoring, fast-breaking style of ball which he installed effectively at Murray State. Hodges brought his former teams into national rankings in his seven years there.

FAST BREAKS—Lefty Melton (in top photo) serves up a two pointer for Idaho against Gonzaga and No. 34, Bob Falash goes in for an easy basket against Montana in pre-conference action.

Idaho was ranked among the top twenty teams in the nation for its pre-season showing. The lone loss was at the hands of the Montana Grizzlies at Missoula. The Vandal five had little trouble with their other opponents as a result of clever ball handling and fast breaking offense built around Garrison and Melton.

And the Swede Walked Around Olay—Tall man at the Idaho-OSC sideshow, Wade (Swede) Halbrook, 7 foot 3 inches into the horizon, doesn't get into this scrap typical of the hard fighting action that took place throughout the Moscow series.

Vandals 3-1

Idaho made it three out of four over the Ducks when they swept a two game series at Vandalville. The fete of winning the series was something Idaho had been unable to do in many years. Idaho's big five evenly shared the scoring honors in the four game conquest. The Ducks easily dumped the invaders in the season opener at Eugene 81-63 but were outraced the following night 60-53.

At Moscow, Coach Chuck Finley had a chance to substitute freely in the later stages of each game as the Vandals came through with 14 point winning margins each night.

Up and In-With four busy Beavers swarming about, Bob Garrison (4) drives in with one of his leaping layins to bucket a pair for the Vandals.

Nice check Swede-Agile Lefty Melton completely fakes string bean Halbrook in an exhibition of Idaho's superb ball handling which they demonstrated throughout the season. The pass to Morrison later turned into a two point bucket.

Idaho 2, OSC 2

The Vandals split the four game Oregon State series with wins at home and on the road. The Beavers later went on to take the conference by a two-game margin. The Vandals played impressive ball at Moscow on the first date scoring a well-played 70-55 win. The OSC giant, Swede Halbrook, turned in 35 points from his point of advantage despite the expert checking of Big Red and Rog Lillibridge. The fast break and faultless ball handling literally outworked the Beaver quintette. The following night OSC poured it on 69-53. A single point favored OSC in the scoring totals for the two series.

Idaho proved to be a home floor ball club when they met the WSC Cougars on the maple courts for they dropped both tilts played at Pullman but took a pair at Memorial gym. The Cougar unorthodox pivot style of play baffled the Vandal five more than once as the cellar dwellers rose up time after time in all games to give them a good scare. The deliberate ball-control playing of the Palouse rivals also cramped Idaho's style.

Hassled Cougar—Ron Bennik, 16, WSC scoring acc, has one of his shots nicely checked by Idaho's Totten, 5, and Morrison, 42. Wait For Me! Bob Swanson, Cougar floor captain wearing jersey number 10, can't keep up with Idaho's racehorse Bob Garrison.

Vandals 2, Husky 2

Spoilers is a good term to give the Washington Huskies. Idaho invaded the Hec Edmundsen Pavilion in mid-season only to drop both games to the vastly weakened Huskies and ruin their chances for advancing in the Northern Division standings. The jinx (that Washington can't be beaten on their own court) certainly was effective in the Idaho case.

Orin Foots Fulton and the Vandal big five got revenge at Moscow however in a clean sweep that put them in a tie for second place. Fulton, who had seen little action all season came in and bucketed 12 points and used his height to slow up the towering Washington lineup. In the closing game of the season Bobby Garrison drove in for a score that gave Idaho a 77-76 victory in the waning seconds.

Idaho Drops Boxing

Increased operational costs and an apparent lack of general interest toward boxing caused the University administration to drop the sport from its athletic program. The 1954 Vandals fought to an unimpressive record of one draw and five losses. Highlighting the season, however, was the winning of the runner-up spot in the National Collegiate Athletic Association 147-pound division by the Vandal captain, Lynn Nichols. He also received a sportsmanship trophy at the Pacific Coast Invitational match. Pictured lower left is Coach Frank Young, who finished his sixth year as the Idaho ring tutor.

Gordon Gladson, NCAA champion fighter from WSC, had to pull the final match of the Idaho season out of the fire for the Cougars with a split decision over Idaho's battling Don Anderson. The second round found Gladson behind on points as Anderson knocked him to the floor but the courageous boxer came back in the final round to out exchange the Vandal fighter. Idaho wins were turned in by Nichols, Manderville, Wadsworth and Titus. Less than 1,000 fans were on hand to see the match.

Capt. Sam Nichols crossed to the jaw of WSC opponent Ken Baugess with a jarring punch in the final Idaho match of the year and possibly for a great many years. The sport was dropped as of 1954.

Lynn Nichols, Vandal Captain, proudly displays the Dee Portal sportsmanship award which he received at the PCI boxing championships. Nichols was runner-up in the NCAA 147 lb. division at the national matches. Lynn won the Pacific Coast 147 lb. championship for the second straight year, His name will go down with other outstanding Vandal champions such as Ted Kara. Laune Erickson, Herb Carlson and Frankie Echevarria. At upper right Nichols ducks under a jab sent by SJS opponent Jack Montgomery.

Enuff Earnings?

The Idaho Vandal skiers proudly show off their medals, trophies, and plaques which they won in competition over the 1954 season. The skiers chalked up one of the most impressive records in the school's history with a fourth at the International Intercollegiate ski meet at Banff, Alberta, first in the Northwest NCAA regional ski meet at Stevens Pass, and placed fourth in the nation at the national meet at Reno, Nevada.

Olaf Stavik, Torre Kristofferson, Reidar Ullevaalseter, and Norm Geertsen led the skiers throughout the season. Capt. Henry Burnett, coach, will be lost to the squad in 1955 as he has been transferred to overseas duty with the Army.

On Your Mark, Get Set, SPLASH!

And they're off (upper left) for another gruelling race in Idaho swimming competition during 1954. Coach Eric Kirkland led the swimmers to the finest season since World War II as they picked up dual meet victories over Oregon and Eastern Washington College of Education.

Rich Bradbury, being congratulated by fellow co-captain Don Medley, left, received the "Inspirational Swimmer" award.

LOU GOURLEY, EM CLARK SHINE

Lou Gourley and Em Clark, Vandal Distance runners were consistent winners in dual meets for the Idaho cinder team, but proved to be the only shining light of the season as the squad dropped five meets. Gourley placed second in the two-mile run in a post-season meet that pitted the PCC best against the Big Ten stars. Gourley was ranked among the top five two-milers in the nation last year as a junior with his best effort at 9:15. Clark set a new dual meet record in the OSC-Idaho meet.

Led by squad captain Phil Weitz, the 1954 golf team established a dual meet record of two wins, two losses and one tie to record one of the best marks in the history of the sport at the University. The Vandal divot diggers split the fairways at the Northern Division match for a third place, Idaho drubbed WSC twice, tied the strong University of Washington team which hadn't been stopped in over 60 consecutive matches, and placed first in the Inland Empire Collegiate tournament. Weitz set a new University course record, burning up the layout in a seven under par 63. Top par shooters for Idaho were Weitz, Tom Miller, Dave Powell, and Bob Campbell.

Athletics' Forgotten Men

Pictured below are what some call athletics' forgotten men, the equipment manager and the fellows that keep weary muscles and brawn in shape, the trainers, Marv Glasscock, left, finished another successful year handling all of the athletic equipment. Pictured right are Head Trainer Joe Glander and his able student assistant, Jack Parker.

Mike Cygler, hustling Vandal secondbaseman, makes the circle for the turn at first base and is on his way to second after whacking a two-base hit against the Oregon Ducks.

Vandals Prove Spoilers

Idaho could produce but two wins during the 1954 baseball rebuilding campaign but those two victories seemed the spoilers to two top Northern Division clubs. Ken Hallett and Gary Barton, the Vandals' two top chuckers, led the way to stopping OSC and Washington, just when it looked like either one might slip in ahead of the Oregon Ducks for the championship. As a result, the Beavers and Huskies wound up in a tie for second place.

Baseball Rebuilding

Pictured at right is baseball coach Clem Parberry who is faced with the job of building up Idaho's baseball standards that the school might cope with Northern Division clubs in the near future. Parberry is enthusiastically going about his task and is determined that in the next year or so the Vandals will be up near the top. In 1954 McLean Field was reseeded in the outfield and a new infield was cut. Baseball fans can look for new uniforms in 1955 and also some help from last year's frosh squad to bring along the 1955 club. Mike Cygler and Larry Morrison are the only members of 1954's team that will be missing.

Frosh Sports

FOOTBALL

Idaho dropped two hard fought games. One 13-2 to WSC and the other to Washington's Pups.

SWIMMING

Frosh swimmers topped WSC in dual meets and forecast better varsity teams for future.

BASKETBALL

Had mediocre season with bright points being two varsity prospects, Gary Moore a guard, and Gary McEwen, 6-6 center.

TRACK

Lost both dual meets to WSC. Dale Richardson, high jumper and broad jumper and a trio of hurdlers paced by Bruce Fuller high spots of season. Coach Stan Hiserman expects much from these competitors.

The activities of the Women's Recreational Association were under the direction of their prexy, Denise Darwin. They started the fall rolling with intramural tennis matches. Volleyball, badminton, basketball, softball, golf, bowling followed with spring tennis matches ending up the year. Outstanding girl in the department this year was Wanda Gray. Any girl is welcomed to participate in these activities.

Here they are from Seniors to Frosh, the . . .

Barbara Taylor Editor

It seems a long haul when you're a freshman -- four long years to go. But every senior will tell you it's only a short time in retrospect. Faces pass from the freshman through the sophomore and junior to the senior pages surprisingly fast. Well, here they are, the students of the Idaho Student Body. Names, faces, home town -- it's all here for the record.

Classes

College of Letters and Science

Under the ever-watchful eye of Dean T. S. Kerr, the work of the college progresses.

Working with clay in the pottery laboratory is one of the varied classes in the College of Art and Architecture which satisfies creative impulses.

Bacteriology, a fascinating study of a minute world, offers a challenging major with a satisfying future. Bunsen burners, microscopes and Dr. Cherrington are familiar sights in the above lab.

In the College

This, the liberal arts college of the University, is the oldest and largest divisionlargest both in enrollment and number of courses offered. Work is presented in most of the general fields of learning of which the major curricula are administered by the eight academic departments of the college: Art and Architecture, Biological Sciences, Home Economics, Humanities, Mathematics, Music, Physical Sciences, and Social Sciences. Each department offers a wide choice of study ranging from broad and general to highly technical research courses. A special attraction is the general course offered to undecided freshmen, who may thus become acquainted with its many phases before branching out into a speciaThere's more to life than just studying for those who enroll in the College of Letters and Science. Besides enjoying the recreation open to everyone, they carry on a well-rounded program of activities more or less related to studies but far removed from the atmosphere of the classroom.

Drama-interested students act in plays; the debate teams travel as far as Los Angeles; art students hold exhibits; journalists fill positions on the student newspaper and work on programs for KUOI, the campus radio station.

Thus the interests acquired in classes and their correlating clubs can make college years fuller and more rewarding, as well as creating opportunities for a richer life long after graduation.

College of Education

DEAN J. F. WELTZIN

Awaiting the graduates of the College of Education is a challenging and satisfying career—for theirs is the art of bringing knowledge to new generations. One of the University's main functions is the preparing of teachers in both general areas of elementary and secondary education and the specialized fields offered by them thus helping to alleviate the great teacher shortage.

Each of the three major departments, Education, Psychology, and Physical Education, of the college prepares the student in a field of major specialization. It also equips him to teach in one or more minor fields, or to perform some specialty service.

The work of the college is carried on by a staff of 30 in six departmental subdivisions: Education, Psychology, Physical Education, Business Education, Industrial Arts Education, and Library Science.

Teacher education provides a broad, general education as well as technical training, especially at the University of Idaho where prospective teachers have constant contact with a well-qualified faculty in all phases of training.

Kappa Delta Pi

Composing this honorary are those education students with an accumulative 3.0 grade average.

College Faculty

Each of the faculty, on the basis of his qualifications and experience, offers service in all phases of teacher training. In addition, there is a complete staff of subject-matter specialists in all the fields of teaching. The members of the faculty form an advisory system which provides each student with individual aid in developing his academic program.

College of Engineering

DEAN A. S. JANSSEN

All the buildings, highways, communications, and machines for every purpose which play such a vital part in our lives are the work of engineers; . . . "they are the pioneers of all generations and places." Their field involves a practical application of science and accumulated experience for the benefit of mankind.

The University of Idaho College of Engineering ranks as medium size among those in the United States and Idaho men have regularly shown what they can do in competition with others. Recent years have brought an increasing demand for engineers and a future with unlimited opportunities.

An engineer usually specializes in a particular branch of the profession. Some of the important curricula within the field are: Agricultural Engineering, Chemical Engineering, Civil Engineering, Electrical Engineering, and Mechanical Engineering.

College of Agriculture

DEAN D. R. THEOPHILUS

"The spirit of Idaho runs deep—nowhere is the spirit of loyalty and earnest effort stronger than in those students who attend the College of Agriculture and who expect to draw their future livelihood from Idaho soil."

Agriculture has been universally in existence for many, many centuries and everyone looks forward to its being with us for many years to come. It is the basic industry of this country and its survival and constant improvement directly effect the well-being of everyone.

The College of Agriculture on the Idaho campus has always been rated as one of the top agriculture schools in the nation. The students, following graduation, go forth as dairymen, poultrymen, seedsmen, orchardists, and many others.

Practicing a three-fold program of teaching, research, and service, the University has a farm of 800 acres with purebred animals and equipment for extensive scientific study. The research in the experiment station turns out numerous scientific findings each year which are converted to practical improvements and new ways for better utilization of the land and its products.

FARMERS IN ACTION

The activity shown on the left is that of measuring water widths to determine seepage from an irrigation canal. On the right are students transplanting trees from the university nursery.

Department Heads

Directing work for the college are: Front row: Professor C. E. Lampman, poultry husbandry; Professor Charles Hungerford, plant pathology; Professor J. W. College of Law

DEAN E. S. STIMSON

The College of Law at the University of Idaho is a member of the Association of American Law Schools—a principal force in the improvement of legal education in this country.

The study of law may be undertaken with a view to special professional objectives, or to larger general objectives. Endeavor in the field leads directly to the three careers of lawyer, judge, or law teacher.

The curriculum covers a period of three school years and is designed to prepare its graduates for the general practice of law in any state. The course of study covers in broad outline, the great divisions of commercial law, property relationship, public law and administration, and procedure and judicial administration.

The members of the teaching staff, all well-trained legal scholars, give their entire time to instruction and research. Their practice of law has preceded their teaching. Preparatory to entering the College of Law students gain through a regular college education the maturity of thought, judgment, and expression that are of peculiar importance in this field.

During the course of time, the law library becomes a second home to the prospective lawyers. Hours are spent delving into huge volumes, studying cases—and catching 20 winks.

Caught in an informal discussion are the members of the College faculty. Prof. William Brockelbank, Prof. Philip Peterson, Dean Edward Stimson, Prof. Herbert Berman, and Prof. George Bell.

College of Business Administration

DEAN DONALD J. HART

Into the College of Business Administration go those who will be the executives, stenographers, and managers of a future year, filled with competitive spirit and tremendous opportunities. It is through their efforts that the economic wants of our world will be satisfied.

The "say-so" of the department comes from the secondfloor office of Dean Hart and the adjoining "suite" of rooms down the corridor. Through the teachings of this hierarchy, the students learn to think for themselves on the basis of business principles of economics, accounting, finance, marketing, and management.

Through association with his fellow students, some of whom will someday be his business associates and competitors, the student learns an appreciation of his social responsibilities.

For virtually every type of ability, business has a place. Idaho students select a major field from among nine: Accounting, Business and Law, Economics, Extractive Industries, Finance, Foreign Trade, General Business, Marketing, and Secretarial Studies.

Practice makes for speed and achievement in typing, a skill required for nearly all those who enter the field of Business. Graduates of the University of Idaho College of Business Administration have been outstandingly successful in the business world, not only in Idaho, but all over the entire United States and foreign countries.

The Faculty

Meeting to discuss recent events and future procedure are the members of the business faculty. Standing: Professor Ralph Farmer, finance; Elton Rayack, finance; M. A. Unger, economics; Eldon S. Hendriksen, accounting; James A. Defenbach, accounting; Sverre Scheldrup, personnel and labor economics; Dean Hart; Charles Marshall, marketing. Sitting: Miss Ruth Anderson, secretarial studies; Miss Beverly Skillingberg, secretarial studies, W. J. Wilde, accounting. Ellis Austin, economics; Howard Jensen, accounting: Dr. Edwin Graue, economics.

Representing the State of Idaho at the 58th annual Congress of American Industry of the National Association of Manufacturers was Harvey Hoff, a Caldwell junior in business administration. Hoff was selected for the trip on the basis of scholarship, personality and leadership qualities. Here he meets Sinclair Weeks, U.S. Secretary of Commerce, in New York City.

College of Mines

DEAN A. W. FAHRENWALD

Seeking past the earth's surface into the possibilities of subsurface treasure are the eyes of the modern miner and prospector, trained in the science of geology. This field requires great training and a spirit of adventure for discovering new ore bodies and favorable prospecting areas.

The College of Mines at the University of Idaho is ideally located at the geographical heart of a vast mining area, within which are many famous mines and metallurgical operations. Students are therefore able to supplement classwork by observing the best technical practice and follow up geological study by field examination of famous mineral deposits. Under the jurisdiction of the College of Mines are Geology, Mining, and Metallurgy. The mining engineer is trained to find and develop mining properties, and design and operate the equipment necessary for extracting ore. From the time the ore leaves the mine until the finished metal object reaches the consumer, the technical processes involved are the concern of the metallurgist. Mining geology deals with the theories of metallic and non-metallic deposits, and with the practical application of those theories to orefinding.

The students on the left are busy "making little ones out of big ones." On the right they are extracting sulphur from ore by way of a flotation process.

College of Forestry

DEAN ERNEST WOHLETZ

The forest areas of the great outdoors with their ageold tales of Paul Bunyan and his blue ox, Babe, and the mighty feats of skill and strength of the woodsman has held a strong appeal for many men. In order to prepare for life in these great open spaces and to surpass the achievements of Bunyan and his cohorts, future loggers and lumbermen enroll in the College of Forestry.

Within the laboratories and classrooms, the students delve into specialized fields such as forest, fishery, range, wildlife, and wood utilization; and become better acquainted with trees, wood, plants, big game, game birds, and fish.

The College also administers a large arboretum on the campus, which contains more than 150 species of trees. Nearby is a twenty-acre tree nursery operated for the production of stock for planting throughout the State. For a summer period, all forestry students attend a summer camp on the shores of Payette Lake to put the basic material into application and prepare for specialized work.

Summer Camp

The forestry summer camp on Payette Lakes provides the foresters with an opportunity to pursue their studies while on location. Food preparation, above left, and consumption take care of a good part of the day, but classes and studies also make a claim on time. Located in an Idaho vacation area, the eight-week summer camp is a combination of play and relaxation and outside work.

The Last of the Hotshots

DONNA BRAY Donna comes in a small package -just like dynamite. This peach from Fruitland graced Mortar Board, Greek Caucus and the Pi Phi house.

TOM FLYNN
A lanky ballhawk on the varsity five, Tom found time to marry and win a seat on Executive Board besides being a Silver Lance boy.

BOB HUNTLEY The Navy liked him and so did Chrisman Hall. Bob held co-chairmanship of Religious Em-phasis Week and mixed Blue Key with politics.

DON McCABE A Regent's son who made good, Don was veep of Exec. Board and a Blue Key gun. He also diddled a piano well enough to place in the Talent Show.

ERNIE GOHRBAND A bouncy Kappa with a flair for music, Ernie helped Mortar Board to a good year and feath-ered her cap with the Sigma Alpha lota presidency.

BARBARA PEARCE A yell squad member, Greek Caucus gal, and officer of her junior class, the comely Theta gave Idaho four years of labor.

Graduate School

DEAN L. C. CADY

For the "wise man who continues to seek knowledge" is the opportunity of entrance into the Graduate School. For some, the four-year college course is not sufficient preparation for positions in many of the occupations represented by the undergraduate schools, and they seek to better prepare themselves for life by more education on the graduate level. The Graduate School surrounds its students with those influences which will prepare them for leadership in their chosen field.

Forty-four departments in the various schools and colleges offer majors leading to the Master's Degree . . . which follows after many hours on such work as graduate theses, research projects, and comprehensive written exams. Many of the research projects carried out this year by various students were aimed at the solution of some problem confronting an industry or community in the State, or to further basic knowledge in the development of the State.

Shown here are some of the graduate studies carried on. Arthur Gittins, research fellowship in Entomology, explores the role of honey bees in alfalfa seed pollenization. Hyde Jacobs, graduate technician, grows peas tagged with radioactive calcium for fertilization.

Lucien Laferriere, graduate student in horticulture, studies his giant potato plants to help solve one of the most serious problems in potato growing in Idaho.

Administrators -- the true boosters of the University. For them the college year is filled with the policy and planning, the conferences, the scheduling, the assemblies, registration, final week, activities -- all those things we so often take for granted. These men and women watch us come and go, always helping in our quests for knowledge and fun. To them our vote of thanks for a wonderful year at Idaho.

The busy man with a friendly smile, Gale Mix, takes a minute out to glance at his new picture.

Activities are their business

Ready to help the students with their school supplies is the University Bookstore Staff, including Dick Long, Yvonne Swanstrom, and Shirley Forbes.

Bill Bowlby, ticket manager, and Jean Duffy, secretary, take time from their ASUI duties and give the camera a big smile.

Is it fun, Jan?

The saddest story ever told . . .

Have you heard our sad story? Well, grab a big towel and learn the fate of the 1954 Gem. The year started off quite smoothly with minor tragedies here and there but the general future looked good. Then as fate would have it the day of the letter came! Yes, our editor, Bob Stivers, was summoned to service by the United States Air Force on the first of April. The Staff was proud that their editor could be of service to his country, but with only thirty pages of the Gem completed we felt we needed him more than the Air Force.

Everyone really pitched in and helped to make a success of the yearbook. You would find Rita Schroeder working late at night on the Index, Mary Carroll and her staff mounting and typing the big panels, Dorothy Carter begging the living groups to turn in their snap shots, and John Giles madly hunting for the names of his organizations. The rest of the staff, Nancy Lyle, Jo Ella Hamilton, John Hughes, Bill Burleigh and James Steele worked hard to complete the yearbook and make it something to be proud of. Special rewards should go to Darlene Duffy, the associate editor who will make a fine editor next year. Also, a handful of purple orchids to Allen Kim, without his pictures we would have been out of business.

It takes a lot of people to make a yearbook. The staff really appreciated the help and assistance of Gale Mix, ASUI's activity man, Mr. Swanson of Caxton Printers, and Mr. Miller of Western Engravers. Students too came to help the Gem. One being the Arg. editor, Al Dieffenbach whose sparkling copy is found throughout the book.

I would like to apologize for all the errors found in this yearbook. To the Phi Taus we beg they have patience with us and we promise no mistakes next year. Also, to the Delta Sigs we apologize for the mixup about the beauty section. To all the others we have neglected we hope you understand our rush and confusion.

If you're walking around the Student Union building go up to the third floor and visit the Gem office, situated back in the dark corner. Casanova Giles will entertain you with his paper airplane contests or you can listen to the dreamy music of KUOI on our Ultra-deluxe radio or you might want to type out a term paper or two. In case the office is empty go downstairs and you'll find the gang sipping the famous brown tonic of the Bucket.

In spite of the many tragedies of the 1954 Gem we're very proud of this yearbook. Hope you like it too.

In Memoriam

Dean H. E. Lattig

For many years the University of Idaho student body has appreciated the help and guidance of their Dean of Men, H. E. Lattig. His advice and counsel were a great help to the students; his warm and friendly smile a comfort and joy to everyone.

The position of Dean of Men is a difficult one, involving the troublesome and tiresome part of college life. To Dean Lattig we owe our thanks for making our University life more enjoyable.

The members of the GEM staff as well as the entire student body lost a true friend and loyal school supporter.
