GREAT SEAL OF
ESTO PERPETUA
THE STATE OF IDAHO

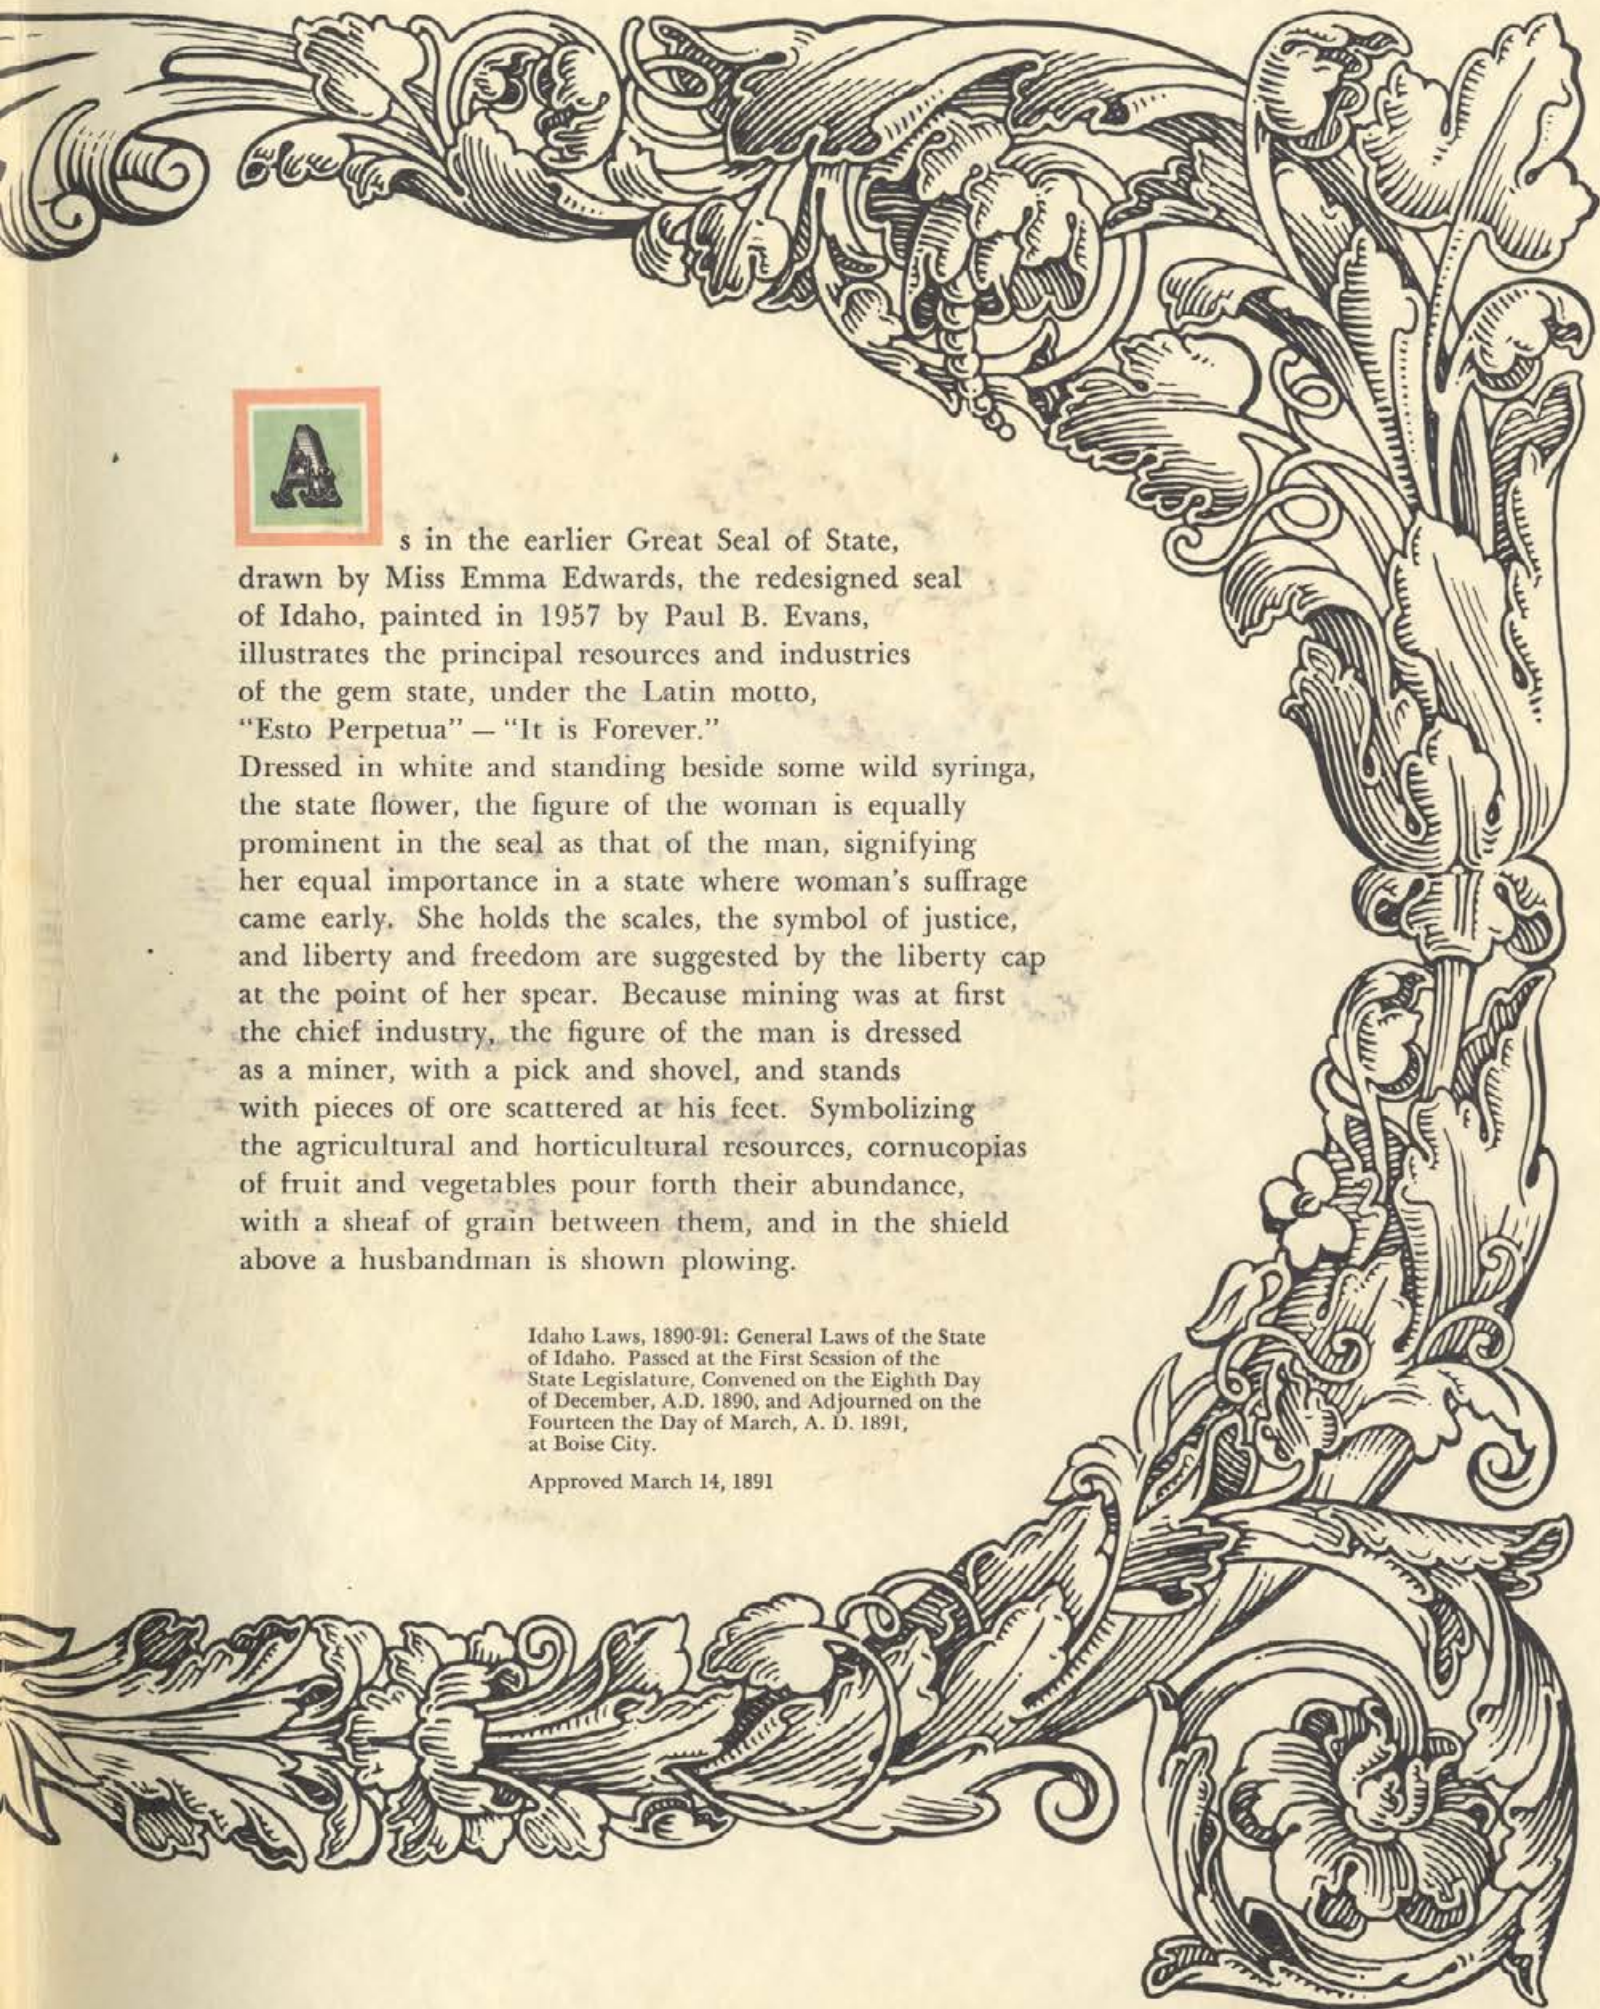

As in the earlier Great Seal of State, drawn by Miss Emma Edwards, the redesigned seal of Idaho, painted in 1957 by Paul B. Evans, illustrates the principal resources and industries of the gem state, under the Latin motto, "Esto Perpetua" — "It is Forever."

Dressed in white and standing beside some wild syringa, the state flower, the figure of the woman is equally prominent in the seal as that of the man, signifying her equal importance in a state where woman's suffrage came early. She holds the scales, the symbol of justice, and liberty and freedom are suggested by the liberty cap at the point of her spear. Because mining was at first the chief industry, the figure of the man is dressed as a miner, with a pick and shovel, and stands with pieces of ore scattered at his feet. Symbolizing the agricultural and horticultural resources, cornucopias of fruit and vegetables pour forth their abundance, with a sheaf of grain between them, and in the shield above a husbandman is shown plowing.

Idaho Laws, 1890-91: General Laws of the State of Idaho. Passed at the First Session of the State Legislature, Convened on the Eighth Day of December, A.D. 1890, and Adjourned on the Fourteen the Day of March, A. D. 1891, at Boise City.

DEDICATION

he stature of a college is estimated by measuring the length of the strides made by its graduates.

Then the length of these strides is held up against the ivy walls. When this procedure is followed at the University of Idaho, it is found that the school indeed stands tall. The University of Idaho has become known as a quality institution, and the alumni are primarily responsible for this image. They are the proof. Students who are pictured in this book will in time add to the proof. But the graduates of years past are the inspiration of today.

To them — the alumni of the University of Idaho — this book is dedicated.

Nestled away in the Palouse hills, a setting of unequaled beauty is found for the University of Idaho.

Indeed an inspiring campus, Idaho with its beautiful buildings, trees, rolling lawns and a feeling of friendship has become home to thousands of Idahoans and others since 1892.

A home for worship, the Campus Christian Center has become the home for many seeking individual meditation or group worship and singing.

A long walk, a long talk, maybe a game of softball, just relaxing in the sun—those leisure hours at the University of Idaho.

Academics and activities pave the life of the student at the University of Idaho. Idaho life in 1963 was filled with studies, a new SUB, a new dorm, a new Science building and a great ball team.

The place to be in '63. The University of Idaho was no exception to the centennial theme as the campus was alive as students, parents, alums and friends came in record numbers to be a part of Idaho's first University.

The graduating class of 1963 ended four record breaking and pace setting years on June 9 as over 1,000 degrees were granted. Activities and educational experiences have given the new graduates the essential elements to test life.

When higher education was really high on the hill—the University of Idaho's first Administration Building as it looked in 1899.

Academics holds the spotlight at the University of Idaho. Few universities in the United States can boast of eight under-graduate colleges and one graduate school on one campus.

The College of Letters and Science and the College of Agriculture were organized in 1901 to provide the first spokes of the University Wheel. Following, Engineering, in 1907; Law, in 1909; Mines, Forestry, Education and Business, in 1953; the wheel was completed. The graduate program was initiated in 1913 with the doctoral program being introduced in 1959.

Governor Robert E. Smylie

Governor Robert E. Smylie began his third consecutive term as Governor of the State of Idaho on January 7, 1963. During his past two terms Governor Smylie has always been an avid supporter of higher education and the University of Idaho. The State of Idaho and the University of Idaho both are indeed fortunate to have such a man as Governor Smylie occupy the office of Chief Executive of the State. Governor Smylie was also featured as Commencement Speaker for the graduation exercises on June 9, 1963.

Governor Smylie proclaimed April 21, 1963, as "College Bowl Day" throughout the State of Idaho in honor of the University's College Bowl Team which traveled to New York City to compete on the "General Electric College Bowl". ASUI Public Relations Director Dave Soper presented the proclamation to Governor Smylie for his signature.

President D. R. Theophilus

Dr. D. R. Theophilus, President of the University of Idaho, takes great pride in the University of Idaho—its students, faculty, and alumni. Likewise, they too can indeed be proud of their President. President Theophilus has ably served the University and the State for over thirty years in the positions of Head of the Dairy Science Department, Dean of the College of Agriculture, and now as President of the University for the past nine years. President Theophilus has worked hard for the University of Idaho, constantly striving to improve upon the quality of education, research and services offered by the University. Those at the University of Idaho in the past, those now in attendance, and those who will come in the future are and will be greatly indebted to our President—Dr. D. R. Theophilus.

President Theophilus has always worked closely with the students and here he presides at the Grand Opening of the Dipper in the new Student Union Building.

Board of Regents

The Board of Regents is the governing body for the University of Idaho and it obtains its authority and powers directly from the Constitution of the State of Idaho. All policies and official acts of the University must be established or approved by the Board of Regents. This group coordinates and directs the many University activities and is directly responsible to the people of the State of Idaho.

Seated around the table they are: Elvon Hampton, Genesee; Delmer Engelking, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, ex-officio, Boise; John Peacock, Kellogg; Claude V. Marcus, Boise; Ezra Hawkes; and Curtis T. Eaton, Twin Falls.

Administration

Registration, publications, finances, the student health services, the library, the dormitories—all these and countless other duties are capably performed by our competent administration and these gentlemen are truly indispensable in the rendering by the University to its students and the citizens of the State the very best in education, research, and service.

Student Affairs

The University of Idaho takes pride in its Office of Student Affairs and its counselling program. Acting as a link between the students and the administration, the Office of Student Affairs is always ready to help the students with vocational and personal problems. The patience and understanding of Dean Decker, Dean Neely, Chief Counsellor Bond, and Associate Dean Wicks enable them to be of valuable service to the University.

College of Letters and Science

To provide students with a fine liberal education, the College of Letters and Science was organized at the University in 1901. Although Dr. Charles Shattuck was the first official dean, Dean Eldridge had been previously in charge of the administration of the college in addition to his other duties.

One of the early projects of President Buchanan was the reorganization of the College of Letters and Science into subject matter fields. Dean T. S. Kerr of the college recommended in the 1947-48 Biennial Report that the number of divisions be consolidated from 13 into 8—Art and Architecture, Biological Science, English and Allied Subjects (later to be known as Humanities), Home Economics, Music, Physical Sciences and Social Sciences. Each of these departments provides the student with a fine education and makes an effective contribution toward making the College of Letters and Sciences a true credit to the University of Idaho.

Phi Beta Kappa

The purpose of Phi Beta Kappa is to promote and recognize high scholarship in the College of Letters and Science. To be eligible for membership a student must: have senior standing and completed four semesters at the University of Idaho with a 3.66 accumulative; have senior standing and completed five semesters at the University of Idaho with a 3.5 accumulative; or have junior standing and completed five semesters at Idaho with a 3.66 accumulative. Alumni of Idaho working on some scholastic endeavor and making outstanding achievement may be chosen for membership.

College of Letters and Science

ALPHA EPSILON DELTA

Alpha Epsilon Delta, national pre-medical and pre-dentistry honorary, encourages excellence in scholarship, and stimulates interest in those professions.

ALPHA EPSILON RHO

Alpha Epsilon Rho, national Radio-TV honorary was installed on the University of Idaho campus this year. Ten charter members and three associate members were initiated into the new honorary which grew out of the old Radio and Television Guild, a club consisting of Radio-TV majors. The purpose of the new honorary is to serve as a means of extending recognition to outstanding students in this particular field of study.

DELTA SIGMA RHO

Delta Sigma Rho recognizes outstanding students in debate. A prerequisite for membership is that the student must have competed in at least six debates. Idaho's fine debate record is but just one indication of the hard work put forth by this honorary and its adviser, Dr. Whitehead.

SIGMA DELTA CHI

Sigma Delta Chi is a national journalism fraternity for outstanding students active in journalism on the Idaho campus. The organization provides opportunity for association with professional men in the fields of journalism, radio, and television.

PHI UPSILON OMICRON

Phi Upsilon Omicron is an honorary and service group for home economics majors. To be eligible for membership, the student must be a Sophomore and have a 2.8 accumulative.

THETA SIGMA PHI

Theta Sigma Phi, women's journalism honorary, promotes journalism among women students and women of the community. Junior women majoring in journalism with a 3.0 in journalism subjects and 2.5 accumulative in other classes are eligible. Membership is also available to women who have done exceptional work in campus journalism activities and who possess high scholarship.

Row One—Walter Bunge, Adviser; Kip Peterson, Lillian Kirschner, Mrs. John Weber, Idona Kellogg, Karen Smith.

College of Letters and Science

SIGMA ALPHA IOTA

Sigma Alpha Iota is a professional fraternity for women in the field of music. The requirements for membership are an over-all grade point average of 2.8 with no grades below 3.0 in music courses. Members of Sigma Alpha Iota usher at musical functions on campus. They also act as hostesses for community concert performers and musicales.

PI GAMMA MU

Pi Gamma Mu is an honorary for social science majors. Members are juniors and seniors who have at least 20 credits in the social sciences and a 3.0 grade average.

PHI MU ALPHA SINFONIA

The purpose of Phi Mu Alpha is to further the cause of good music on the campus. Male students who actively participate in one of the major musical organizations of campus and have a 2.5 accumulative may join. Each year the chapter sponsors an American Music Concert. The members usher for music recitals and concerts. There is also an annual tea for music students, faculty, and other persons interested in musical activities.

College of Letters and Science

Mrs. Elna Grahn, assistant professor in mathematics, conducts a pilot class in Math I from which broadcasts are made to other classes in various other rooms.

Brian Harris relaxes on the Ad lawn before his departure to study Philosophy on a Fulbright Scholarship at the University of Marburg in Germany.

College of Letters and Science

Construction started in early Fall on our new Physical Science Building just opposite the Library. With the total cost to be over $3 million, it will truly be a great asset to the University and the State. The present Science Building is to be remodeled for the biological sciences.

Dr. Hunter and Dr. Cor demonstrate the facilities that are available to all students in the Language Lab located on third floor in the Ad Building.

Home Economics students entertain small children in the nursery as part of their course in child development.

DON A. MARSHALL
Associate Dean
College of Agriculture

The College of Agriculture in 1901 became one of the first schools to attain the status of a college. Its first dean, Dean Edwin Elliot, was appointed by the Board of Regents in 1908. The College of Agriculture has grown and expanded on the Idaho Campus and throughout the State as a whole. It has Branch Experiment Stations and Agricultural Extension Service Agents in all parts of the State and it has always played a very vital role in the State's number one industry—farming. It is with the College of Agriculture that we can most readily see how the University serves the State by means of education, research, and service.

ALPHA ZETA

Alpha Zeta is an agriculture service honorary which provides for better relation between the ag students and the faculty members of the College of Agriculture and also offers opportunities for developing leadership abilities among its members. To be eligible a student must be in the upper one-third of his class and receive a 2.7 grade average for three semesters.

Dean Kraus congratulates Bruce Green, center, as he shows him the plaque upon which his name will be inscribed as being the Outstanding Graduating Senior in the College of Agriculture for 1963. Dale Kalbfleisch, President of Alpha Zeta, looks on as Bruce receives his award.

Dr. John P. Baker, Department of Animal Husbandry, watches as Monty Lee Howard, graduate student, prepares a digestion sample to be placed in the stomach of a living cow. Howard's project involves the rate of forage breakdown by various micro-organisms taking place in the cow's stomach.

Jack Randolph, animal husbandry student, displays one of the College's prize-winning Herford bulls. Jack was one of Idaho's two students to be chosen to take part in the International Farm Youth Exchange Program. He will spend six months in Venezuela learning of their customs and life in an attempt to further better understanding in the world.

College of Engineering

The history of the College of Engineering begins in 1901 when it was organized as the School of Applied Sciences. In just six short years it had advanced so greatly that it was re-organized as the College of Engineering with four departments—Civil Engineering, Mining Engineering and Metallurgy, Mechanical Engineering, and Electrical Engineering. Since that time it has undergone other changes reflecting its growth in both quality and quantity of the education it offers. Since that time in 1907, the Mining Engineering and Metallurgy Department has been moved to the College of Mines and the Departments of Chemical Engineering and Agricultural Engineering have been added to its curriculum. Dean Allen S. Janssen has served as Dean of the College of Engineering since 1946 and he has indeed brought many honors to the College and the University.

ALLEN S. JANSSEN
Dean
College of Engineering

SIGMA TAU

Sigma Tau is an honorary established to give recognition to the outstanding men in the field of engineering. The group strives to attain practicability, sociability, and scholastic ability. In order to be eligible a student must be of junior standing with a 3.0 grade point or better. Members are selected by the group and membership is for life.

Row One—T. C. Rednour, Steve Allred, Ken Temple, Jerald Heimbach, John Read. Row Two—R. R. Furgason, Marvin Wineger, Richard Jacobsen, Jerry Okeson, Rudy Herst, Leo McGonagle, Clark Brewington. Row Three—James Hemphill, Joe Luse, Harald Jensen, Jim Macki, Glade Weight, Tom Semeter, B. K. Will, Bruce Dunn, Roger Bissell. Row Four—Lyle Parks, Bob Smith, Norman Young, Bob Vannoy, Alvin Mong, Joe Murphy, Bill Martin, Maurice Hoffman.

The display made by the American Institute of Chemical Engineers created a great deal of curiosity at the annual open house held at the College of Engineering.

EARL F. COOK
Dean
College of Mines

College of Mines

Since it was established in 1917, the College of Mines has offered curricula leading to a Bachelor of Science in Mining Engineering, Metallurgical Engineering, Geological Engineering, Geology, and Geography. This year 22 seniors were graduated from the College.

Located in one of the chief mining regions of the world, the University of Idaho offers valuable opportunities for studying the natural geological structures situated in this area. The Mines Summer Camp offers additional opportunities to study deposits of ore materials, fossiliferous rocks, and igneous rocks.

These students are becoming familiar with various equipment used in mine safety and rescue work.

Mrs. Sandra Clark began this year to do research for her graduate work in Geology, one of the departments of the College of Mines.

College of Mines

These two mining students are screening material in the process of determining the particular analysis of the different ore samples.

The beautiful Mines Building is indeed an improvement over the old facilities. The University and the State will always remain deeply indebted to the mining industry which helped make such a building possible.

Students enrolled in the safety engineering course taught by the College of Mines are seen leaving the Mines Building for some practical experience conducted in the University's steam tunnels.

Mrs. Sandra Clark shows her diploma to Dean Cook and to Dr. Harry Caldwell. She has every right to be proud for she was the first woman to graduate in Geology from the University of Idaho. She plans to do graduate work also at the University of Idaho.

College of Forestry

Through the years, the College of Forestry has become one of the outstanding forestry schools in the nation. By means of land gifts and purchases, the experimental forest program has developed into one of the largest in the country. These experimental forests provide countless opportunities for the forestry student to gain practical knowledge in his field.

President Lindley was responsible for the changing of Forestry from a Department to a School and it was President Buchanan who recommended in 1953 that the School of Forestry be organized as a College. A four-year program is offered to the student in Forest Management, Wildlife Management, Range Management, Fishery Management, and Wood Utilization Technology.

ERNEST W. WOHLLETZ

College of Forestry

Members of the faculty and students of the College of Forestry put in place a special net to trap fish as they swim up-stream. The purpose of the project was to study the various aspects of fish breeding and migration.

The College of Forestry can boast many firsts, including the rarity of having such a beautiful student as Barbara Vars, senior woman majoring in Wood Utilization Technology.

President Theophilus dedicates the new Forestry Science Laboratory built by the U. S. Forest Service just east of the campus. The new building and its facilities is just more evidence of the caliber of our outstanding College of Forestry.

J. FREDRICK WELTZIN
Dean
College of Education

College of Education

In order to meet the growing demand for teachers in the state of Idaho, a School of Education was established at the University of Idaho in June, 1920. Dr. Messenger became Dean when the School of Education was established and held that position until he retired in 1944. Dean Weltzin then assumed that position and now is serving his 19th year as Dean. Dean Weltzin announced this Spring that he will be relinquishing his Deanship to devote full time to research and teaching. The University owes much to Dean Weltzin for during his 19 years as Dean of the College of Education it has grown from 128 to well over 900 students. The College offers programs in Education, Psychology, Business Education, Music Education, Industrial Arts Education, and Physical Education.

PHI EPSILON KAPPA

Phi Epsilon Kappa is the only national professional fraternity for male students and teachers of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation. It brings to its members an appreciation of their duties toward life, toward their profession, and toward their fellows. The establishment of Idaho chapter has added immeasurably to the status of the Physical Education program.

Roy Bowman and Father Peplinski proudly show to Dean Weltzin the awards they received from the local chapter of Phi Delta Kappa, national professional fraternity in Education. Paul E. Kunkel, President of the local chapter, presented the awards to the two students for their outstanding achievement in the field of Education.

The Women's Physical Education Department provides a varied program for women entering into that particular field. They supplement their work and teaching by also actively supporting the WRA program on campus.

College of Business

The College of Business provides professional training for young men and women who plan to make business their career. Perhaps nothing speaks better for the College of Business than the success of its graduates and the continuing demand for more of them. Graduates head one of the nation's largest chains of super-markets. They hold high positions in major insurance companies, banks, and countless other business enterprises. The College has one of the nation's most outstanding records in successfully preparing students for examinations leading to Certified Public Accountant certificates. Both stability and status have been developed in the faculty. Eleven members out of the total of sixteen possess either doctorate degrees or CPA certificates.

DAVID D. KENDRICK
Dean
College of Business

ALPHA KAPPA PSI

Alpha Kappa Psi, the national professional fraternity for businessmen, was only recently re-activated on the Idaho campus but it has immediately developed into one of the most active professional fraternities on campus. At their meetings they have had guest speakers from industry, government, and the professional fields of accounting and economics.

College of Law

PHILLIP E. PETERSON
Dean
College of Law

The College of Law was established in 1909. Its primary purpose has been to afford a thorough and scientific legal education for students who are fitted by intellectual maturity and previous academic training to pursue professional study under university methods of instruction. One can obtain ample proof that the College of Law has successfully fulfilled this purpose by merely checking on the outstanding accomplishments of its graduates. The College of Law is the only law school in Idaho and it is a member of the Association of American Law Schools, the highest accrediting agency in the United States for law schools. It is also approved by the American Bar Association.

Moot Court provides the law student with the opportunity to gain practical experience in presenting cases before the public and helps to build self-assurance that is essential to a successful lawyer.

Adult Education

President D. R. Theophilus was responsible for the creation of the Division of Adult Education and Summer School in 1959. Its first director was Dr. Thomas L. Dable. The Division supervises Summer School, Extension Courses, and Correspondence Courses. Dr. Kooi, the present Director, also is in charge of the Central Placement Service and this is of invaluable aid to the Seniors seeking employment following their graduation from the University. Workshops, conferences, and special programs are all under the direction of the Division of Adult Education. This division of the University, though relatively new, has indeed measured up to its expectations and much more can be expected from it in the future as the University grows and the services it offers to the State increase in both number and quality.

RAYMOND K. KOOI
Director
Adult Education and Summer School

The Placement Office arranges conferences in which graduating Seniors can interview prospective employers.

Mrs. Coffman of the Placement Office instructs a graduating Senior how to fill in the necessary forms to receive his teacher's certificate.

Robert Clark, College of Business, addresses a conference conducted for liquid fertilizer dealers. This is typical of the many workshops and conferences under the direction of the Division of Adult Education and Summer School.

Graduate School

Organized in 1925, the Graduate School now meets the needs of many college graduates who desire additional training and education for their respective specialized fields. The first master's degree was awarded in 1897 and this year six doctorate degrees and over 160 graduate degrees were earned from the University of Idaho. The school offers extensive specialization in more than fifty departments.

Roger Rogelstad, graduate student in arts, runs the press and machine involved in the printing of his thesis.

Ann Ingebritsen works with Dr. O. B. Weeks of the Bacteriology Department on research for the Idaho Heart Association.

Graduate School

Chris Ryk, a civil engineering graduate student, and his assistant, Arnie Friling, an undergraduate civil engineer, take field measurements of air flow through an asphalt pavement as part of a graduate research project sponsored by the Idaho Department of Highways and conducted through the Engineering Experiment Station at the University of Idaho.

Eric Halfhill, entomology graduate student, demonstrates the new vacuum sweep for collecting entomology samples. He is experimenting with the machine in his study of pea aphid parasites in alfalfa.

Lewis Walker and Kurt Moller, graduate students in agricultural economics, talk to each other concerning their separate graduate projects. Lewis worked on the congressional history, operation and implications in the Pacific Northwest of Public Law 480. Kurt did research study on the cost of growing potatoes in South Central Idaho.

Brent Thomas and George Irving, graduate students in chemical engineering, operate apparatus for high vacuum studies on catalysts. Dr. Jack Lunsford looks on as they do their research.

Honoraries

PHI KAPPA PHI

Phi Kappa Phi emphasizes scholarships through election to membership. This honorary is open to all departments of the University. Seniors and a few second semester juniors are eligible for membership in the honorary. Membership is, however, limited to less than 10 per cent of the graduating seniors.

ALPHA LAMBDA DELTA

Alpha Lambda Delta, national freshman women's scholastic honorary, recognizes outstanding academic achievement among Freshman women. To be eligible for membership a student must have a 3.5 first semester or accumulative 3.5 for her Freshman year.

PHI ETA SIGMA

Phi Eta Sigma provides recognition and honor to male Freshman students who attain high scholastic standing. Any freshman who attains a 3.5 grade point average is eligible for membership. Initiates remain active during their entire Sophomore year.

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO

MOSCOW, IDAHO

Faculty,
University of Idaho,
invite you to attend the Annual Commencement,
June 7-11, 1896.

The Class of 1900—well-sprinkled with uniforms of Spanish-American War.

From the six lone individuals who formed the first class in 1892 the University of Idaho used this fledgling beginning to become one of the major institutions across the nation.

Of these six people, four were graduated in 1896 with Bachelor's degrees. Approximately 4,700 students enrolled the fall semester in 1962, just 70 years later, and in June 1963, over 1,000 degrees were granted at commencement.

Top Seniors

WILLIAM CHARLES BOWES

Bound for a career as an officer in the U.S. Navy, this New Yorker made a name for himself on the Idaho campus. Bill easily captured the position of ASUI Vice-President during the Spring ASUI Elections of his Junior year and he went on to fill the position as head of the newly formed Activities Council. It was solely due to Bill's untiring efforts and able leadership that Activities Council was able to mature and grow into an effective and efficient working unit of student government. Bill, majoring in chemical engineering, served as Duke of Idaho's Intercollegiate Knights during his Junior year, which also saw him tapped for membership into Blue Key and Silver Lance. Bill, despite his heavy academic load and many extracurricular activities, was still able to take an active part in his fraternity, Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

ALYCE JOY TAYLOR

Having entered the University as a transfer student, it is truly amazing the record that Alyce Joy accumulated during her two years at Idaho. This coed from Idaho Falls was quick to enter the political arena upon her arrival on campus. She represented her living group, McConnell Hall, on Residence Hall Council and quickly advanced to the top spot in that organization. During her reign as President, RHC was host for the Inter-mountain Convention of Residence Hall Councils, which brought some 200 delegates to the Idaho campus. From here Alyce Joy went on to gain a position on the ASUI Executive Board where she undertook the difficult task of revising the ASUI Constitution and Regulations. Alyce Joy did not quit working when the campaigning was over, but instead worked constantly to see that those she represented—the student body, Campus Union Party, and McConnell Hall—were aware of the various issues confronting student government and had ample opportunity to have their views heard.

HOWARD BRUCE GREEN

This agricultural economics major from McCammon, Idaho, was named as the outstanding agricultural student in his class for three years. Bruce's outstanding record in the College of Agriculture warranted his membership in Alpha Zeta, national agricultural honorary; Ag Council; and his receiving many ag awards and scholarships. Bruce was also enrolled in the Advanced Army ROTC Program and he received his commission as a "Distinguished Military Graduate". Bruce, a member of Farmhouse Fraternity, was also tapped for membership in Blue Key and served on various class and ASUI committees. Bruce's immediate plans call for graduate school and then the research phase of agricultural economics.

Top Seniors

THOMAS CURTIS EISENBARTH

Coming to the University from Weiser, Tom managed to combine academic excellence with extracurricular activities and still come out on top. A member of Willis Sweet Hall, Tom was elected to the ASUI Executive Board on the Campus Union Party ticket during his Junior year. Tom also worked on the Gem staff for three years, serving as an Associate Editor his Junior year. He was chosen for membership in Blue Key during the fall semester of his Junior year and also was chairman of the 1961 Homecoming Parade. Despite the fact that Tom spent his Senior year in the College of Law on the Combined Business and Law Curriculum, he managed to accumulate an outstanding record of service in student government and in his living group.

BARBARA LYNNE BLAIR

A Finance major from Spokane, Washington, Barbara served her class as Secretary during her Junior year; served her sorority, Pi Beta Phi, as President and as a representative to Pan-Hellenic; and served her University as a member of countless ASUI and SUB committees and as a Pom-Pon girl. For her endless service and her scholastic achievements, Barbara was awarded membership in Alpha Lambda Delta, Spurs, and Mortar Board and was twice chosen as the outstanding woman in the College of Business Administration.

JAMES COLLIER HERNDON

Jim was known by all the readers of the Argonaut as its seventy-first Jason. Jim worked his way up to the Editor's desk via sports reporting, having served two years as Sports Editor. Jim always went to the story and did not wait for the story to come to him. Under his able leadership, the Argonaut was always quick to comment on any and all issues—whether it involved some state official, the state legislature, University personnel, University policies, or student government. Jim's opinion, though not always heeded, was always respected by all those involved. Jim, a journalism major from Salmon, was a member of Sigma Chi Fraternity and was tapped for membership in Blue Key and Sigma Delta Chi, national journalism honorary. Besides serving as an Ex-Officio member on E-Board, he served for three years as a member of the Athletic Coordination Committee.

Top Seniors

RONALD CARLTON HOUGHTALIN

Not a native Idahoan, but one known by almost all of the students after his four years at the University, Ron worked from the ranks of ordinary student to President of the Associated Students of the University of Idaho. Ron capably fulfilled the office of ASUI President and set a standard of leadership which future ASUI Presidents will indeed have a difficult task to equal. In addition to his outstanding service to the ASUI and the University, Ron, a psychology major from Ann Arbor, Michigan, was President of his fraternity, Delta Sigma Phi, and a member of Silver Lance, Blue Key, and Intercollegiate Knights. His fraternity and Campus Union Party can take pride in Ron's many accomplishments while at the University.

IDORA LEE MOORE

A campus beauty queen with a Phi Beta Kappa key—this is the only way to adequately describe this English major from Lewiston. Idora Lee holds the titles of Miss U of I and Queen of the May Fete and justifiably indeed. But an array of beauty contest titles is not Idora Lee's only mark to fame. Idora Lee graduated from the University with the highest grade point average for the women of her graduating class. Besides membership in Phi Beta Kappa, this member of the Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority also holds memberships in Phi Kappa Phi, Alpha Lambda Delta, and Mortar Board. The women students saw fit to elect Idora Lee as President of the Associated Women Students, a position she adequately fulfilled. Idora Lee's beauty and bubbling personality were a familiar sight on campus and at all athletic games where she performed as one of Idaho's famed Pom-Pon girls.

LYLE HOMER PARKS

Lyle was as much at ease on a basketball court as in a chemistry lab. Both of these endeavors brought countless honors to this lad from Kendrick. Lyle played basketball all four of his years at Idaho and he earned his Varsity letter three of those four years. An indispensable defense player, Lyle was Captain during his Senior year and was twice chosen as the most inspirational player by his fellow team-mates. His outstanding scholastic achievements as a student majoring in chemical engineering merited his membership in Sigma Tau, the engineering honorary. Lyle's contribution to the University of Idaho in the classroom and on the basketball court won him membership also in Silver Lance, senior men's honorary.

Top Seniors

DANA JO ANDREWS

Vivacious and pretty, Dana worked her way from a mere staff member to become Editor of the special Idaho Territorial Centennial issue of the Gem of the Mountains. Living in Alpha Phi Sorority, this French major from Hazelton was also active in countless other campus activities. Dana played an important role in organizing the Air Force ROTC Angel Flight and was an active member of the Vandalettes for three years. Dana also represented her sorority on various Pan-Hellenic committees.

SEWARD HAIGHT FRENCH, III

With a shrewd accountant's mind, Skip applied his talents to the ASUI Budget in his position as a member of the ASUI Executive Board. During his four years at the University of Idaho, Skip played an active role on the Student Union Committee and gained membership in Intercollegiate Knights, Blue Key, and Silver Lance. Skip, a business major from Idaho Falls, also served as President of his living group, Phi Delta Theta Fraternity, and as their representative to Inter-Fraternity Council. Easily recognized by his huge notebook, Skip was indeed one of the most highly respected student leaders by the members of the administration, the faculty, and the student body.

JAMES ANTHONY METCALF

With a politician's mind and a journalist's ability, Jim established for himself a notable record on the University campus. Coming to the University from Nampa, Jim served the Argonaut in various positions, filling the post of Managing Editor his Senior year. Jim's service to the Argonaut alone was enough to merit his membership in Blue Key and Sigma Delta Chi, national journalism honorary. However, Jim was also active in his fraternity, Delta Sigma Phi, and other campus activities.

Top Seniors

ELEANOR EILEEN UNZICKER

This vivacious Home Economics major from Buhl was a finalist in both Homecoming Queen and Holly Queen contests. She has also held membership in Alpha Lambda Delta, Spurs, Mortar Board, Phi Kappa Phi, and Phi Upsilon Omicron—thus Eleanor has ably proven that beauty and brains can be mixed. Eleanor has held various offices in Alpha Phi Sorority and in the Vandallettes and was one of United Party's candidates for the ASUI Executive Board during her Junior year. During her Senior year, Eleanor was chosen by the American Association of University Women (Moscow Branch) as the recipient of their "Outstanding Senior Woman Award".

NEIL CHARLES MODIE

"Jason 70" is perhaps the most appropriate phrase to describe Neil because he lived up to the reputation of past outstanding Argonaut Jasons during his stay in the Editor's spot. Coming to the University from Lewiston, Neil worked his way from reporter to editor and manager to make and keep many campus friends on his way up. A member of the Beta Theta Pi Fraternity, Neil was also chosen for membership in Blue Key and Sigma Delta Chi, journalistic society, during his stay at the University of Idaho.

BRUCE THOMAS DUNN

This award was presented to Bruce posthumously after he was killed in a tragic two-car automobile accident on the night of March 29, 1963. The son of Prof. and Mrs. Alfred Dunn, Bruce was a native of Moscow and grew up in constant close association with the University of Idaho. Bruce was an outstanding Electrical Engineering student and was tapped for membership in Sigma Tau, the engineering honorary, during his Junior year. Bruce was also selected as a member of the University's "College Bowl" Team, which tends to prove Bruce's great intellectual ability. His fellow team-mates went on to make an excellent showing in the contest and their winnings were set aside to establish the "Bruce Dunn Memorial Fund".

Top Seniors

CLARENCE EDWARD CHAPMAN

This Business and Applied Science major graduated "Cum Laude" from the University of Idaho; however, scholastic achievements alone do not account for Clare's outstanding college record. During his Senior year, Clare headed the Idaho chapter of Blue Key, national men's scholastic and service honorary; commanded the Army ROTC Cadet Brigade; received his commission as a Second Lieutenant in the U.S. Army Reserve as "Distinguished Military Graduate"; and was selected as the recipient of the highly coveted "Jewett Scholarship" to Harvard University's Graduate School of Business. Clare's senior year was indeed truly indicative of his other three years at Idaho where he ably served his University, his fellow students, and his Farmhouse Fraternity.

GARY ALDEN CARLSON

President of his Junior Class, President of the Inter-Fraternity Council, and President of his Beta Theta Pi Fraternity have been only a few of the many extra-curricular activities of this senior from Boise. Gary also excelled in his scholastic endeavors with membership in Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Kappa Phi, Blue Key, and Silver Lance as ample proof of his success in this field. Gary was also the unsuccessful United Party candidate for ASUI President during his Junior year. Perhaps the most important highlight of Gary's college career was his selection by the American Chemical Society as one of the nation's top twelve graduating college seniors in the field of chemistry. Gary's immediate plans call for graduate study and the University can justifiably expect many outstanding accomplishments from Gary in the future.

CHARLES FREDRICK WARREN, JR.

Hailing from Lewiston, Fred was quick to establish his name in the political arena of student government at Idaho. Rising through the ranks of United Party, Fred successfully gained a position on the ASUI Executive Board during his Senior year. Fred served the E-Board in the capacity of chairman of the Student Faculty Retreat at Camp Lutherhaven. Fred, a member of the Sigma Nu Fraternity, was tapped for membership into Blue Key and he ably fulfilled the emcee spot for their annual Talent Show. More schooling lies in the future for Fred also as he goes on to Dentistry School at George Washington University in Washington, D.C.

The backbone of any institution is organization and the student organizations at Idaho are no exception. The Argonaut first appeared in November of 1898 and the Gem of the Mountains in 1902. These are the only two student activities which have maintained much resemblance to their predecessors. The Students' Athletic Association was the forerunner of the Associated Students, but time has made its changes. Many other clubs, groups and organizations have come and gone but all have been an integral part of the University of Idaho.

Students Arriving

An all time peak enrollment hit the University of Idaho in 1962-1963. First semester figures showed a total of 4,558 students enrolled in resident study. There were: 853 seniors; 984 juniors; 1,024 sophomores; 1,321 freshmen; 350 graduate students; and 21 special students. The man to woman ratio was 1,343 women to 3,210 men, or approximately 2.5 men to every woman on the Idaho campus. All facilities at the University of Idaho were filled to their capacity, and many students had to live and study under temporary conditions.

Rush

Joyful screams and tears along with sighs of relief marked the annual "squeal day", which climaxed rush week as 205 freshmen coeds raced into the awaiting arms of their new sisters. With the feeling of having made the biggest decision in their lives, these girls pledged the sororities of their choice. The end of girls' rush on September 17, 1962 marked the beginning of boys' rush with its many luncheon and dinner dates. The 16 national fraternities ended rush with the pledging of 296 men.

Frosh Orientation

"New Student Days" provided the 1600 frosh with a look at campus life. The week of September 16-21 was highlighted by lectures and many get-acquainted parties.

Residence Hall Picnic was part of the orientation activities in preparation for the coming year.

"Don't forget to come back for seconds," was the cry heard during the annual Independent Picnic.

Registration

Both semesters' registration for the 1962-63 year were conducted in the Memorial Gymnasium. Once again records were broken as the enrollment reached a high of 4,558, which provided the U of I classrooms with more of an overflow of students than ever before.

Even though the main attraction this year is based around the new SUB addition, the original building still functions as the central meeting place for afternoon coke dates; for entertainment after the game; and for those bowling enthusiasts. With the moving of the ASUI office, more space has been found to enlarge the "Bucket." This made possible the attendance of larger crowds: at the big Pep Rally on Dad's Day; the annual Holly Week Style Show with the contestants styling the "latest;" and the Election Smokers. The opening of the Blue Bucket Inn Pancake House provided the student with a perfect spot to come on Sunday evenings. Many a Saturday afternoon finds students relaxing to "Jazz in the Bucket."

SUB

Faculty members also find the SUB a convenient place to meet and relax.

You may pick up your annual in the ASUI office—and here Carol Hussa passes them out.

Dad's Day

With the theme "All I's on Dad," the weekend was highlighted with the seminar on taxation, the Quartet contest, the individual lawn decorations, the Dad's Day Dance on Saturday evening, and the Limelitters on Sunday.

"The Brown Mountain Boys," representing the Farmhouse with their selection of folk songs, came in first in the men's division of the Song Fest.

Chosen first in the women's division was the Kappa Quartet with their ensemble of "old favorites."

The Gamma Phi's took first place in the registration contest with 41 per cent of their Dads registering. The annual Dad's Day game was well attended by parents, alums, and friends. The participation of 15 high school bands, the University of Idaho Band and the Vandalettes added much color to the weekend festivities.

Desire for "baubles, Bengals, and beads" gave Gamma Phi's first place in lawn decorations.

Residence Hall Council Convention

120 representatives from 18 colleges and universities were guests on the Idaho campus in October to discuss living conditions in residence halls. The main theme, "Activity and Continuity in RHC," was actively discussed and challenged during the convention.

The 1962 Homecoming schedule was filled from Friday noon until Sunday evening with the following: pajama parade of frosh women, the pep rally at McLean Field, the downtown parade, the Oregon State game, an alumni buffet supper at the Elks' Temple, and the "Blue Champagne" dance climaxed the busy weekend.

Campus Conventions

The annual High School Journalism Conference brings students to the Idaho campus from practically every high school in the State.

As always, the University of Idaho campus was again this year the meeting place for many different conventions. The campus is a central point here in the Northwest and an ideal location for conventions where the delegates will be coming from the surrounding states. The facilities of the new SUB will undoubtedly bring even more conventions to the Idaho campus in the future.

The Idaho Bar Association held their Fall meeting on the Idaho campus and lawyers from throughout the State were in attendance.

Tory Nelson, IRHC Vice-President, conducts a session of the Inter-mountain Association of Residence Hall Councils Convention. This convention brought 132 delegates from other universities and colleges to the Idaho campus.

Holly Week

With "Holly Daze" as the theme for Holly Week, the sophomore class presented a fun-filled week—climaxed by the crowning of Miss Kathy Baxter. The week was highlighted by: the sophomores Christmas caroling; the style show where each contestant modeled a sport outfit and evening dress. During the dance, the winners of the Lambda Chi Alpha door decoration contest were announced. Later the outstanding sophomore in each college was named as follows: Craig MacPhee, College of Business; Paul Gravelle, College of Forestry; Donna Leaverton, Letters and Science; Paul Anderson, College of Agriculture; and Mike Olson, College of Engineering.

A mosaic Christmas scene of the Three Wise Men traveling to Nazareth won the Alpha Gams first place in the door decoration contest.

As winners in the men's division, the Sigma Nus covered the door with gold foil and bows and converted two pillars into candles.

New Student Union

The grand and spacious "New SUB" was partially finished in 1962-63. Coming to the campus at a cost of $2,113,800, the actual construction was started in September, 1961. Construction was done in stages with the bowling alley opening in November of 1962. The ASUI office, Alumni office, student offices, main lobby, Argonaut office and Dipper opened in January of '63. The largest ballroom, 13,800 square feet, in Idaho opened in February accommodating 2400 dancers. Although only partially completed, the new addition is certainly a welcome and attractive entrance to the Idaho campus.

The Dipper abounds with atmosphere as the raised seating area overlooking the dance floor gives an impression of sophistication.

Campus Chest

This year's Campus Chest weekend began with a bang and a song from "Louis," who presented evening entertainment marking the first official use of the new SUB ballroom with 2400 attending. The second event that weekend was the house auctioning where each house sold an exchange party to the highest bidder and the proceeds went to charity. Among other activities were Bingo games, a little blackjack, and individual entertainment on the Saturday night program.

Blood Drive

Aiming for a quota of 750 pints, the annual Blood Drive opened with the slogan, "Roll up your sleeve, there's a life in your hands." Surpassing any record of the past seven years, the University gave 903 pints of blood. Blood Drive Chairman, Ray Rocha, said one reason for the record turnout was that more faculty and townspeople gave blood. Trophies and certificates for the winners and participants in the living group competition were awarded at a dance sponsored by Alpha Epsilon Delta, pre-med honorary.

Blue Key

As usual, many talented students participated in the annual Blue Key Talent Show, and to witness the talent of the 14 acts was a crowd of 2500. The four division trophies were awarded to: Alice Fulcher, Kappa, who sang a street song from "Naughty Marietta" to claim the women's individual trophy; the single men's award was won by folksinger Skipper Botsford; Dave Bell, Phi Delt, and Mike Fuehrer, Teke, gained a first in the small group category with a drum combo. To add some wit and humor, general chairman, Fred Warren, and co-emcee, Wanek Stein, teamed together.

Frosh Week

Frosh week was highlighted this year with the featuring of the "Four Preps," a nationally known vocal group. Following their performance, a dance was held with nearly 1400 people attending. Previous to the dance, activities included a pep rally, freshmen-sophomore tug-of-war, and the legs contests. There was an apparent dispute as to who won the tug-o-war, but it was certain that Jim Wohrer, Kappa Sig, and Linda Bithell, Pi Beta Phi, were winners with the best looking legs. The grand finale was at the dance on Friday, March 15, as Dolora Cook, Pi Phi and Bob Dutton, Delt, were crowned Frosh Queen and King.

Once again Paradise Creek is the site for the annual tug-o-war.

Engineers' Ball

Sponsored by the Associated Engineers, the Engineers' Ball, a semi-formal dance, was attended by some 250 couples who danced to the music of the "Moonlighters." Seven displays were erected by the various engineering organizations and the one built by the American Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers received first place. During intermission Mike Olson, Campus Club, was announced as being the "Outstanding Freshman in Engineering" and was presented with a trophy by Sigma Tau, the Engineering honorary.

"The Moonlighters" filled the air with danceable music while the engineers put aside their slide rules to enjoy an evening of dancing.

Even an engineering student can have fun!

Foresters' Ball

The forestry students observed Forestry Week, April 28 through May 4, with the theme of forestry research. The week included planting trees and shrubs at the new U. S. Forest Service Genetics Lab, a cross-cut and power saw tree-cutting contest, and, of course, the annual Foresters' Ball.

The Foresters' Wives provided the intermission entertainment by putting on several skits.

Campus Elections

The Spring ASUI elections saw a record 2659 students turn out to cast their ballots for their favorite candidates. When the results were in and tabulated, Campus Union Party walked away with the honors. CUP candidates Bill Frates and Carvel Whiting garnished both the top spots of ASUI President and Vice President while Campus Union Party also was able to retain their majority on the Executive Board for the second straight year. Jim Bounds and Gene Harder were the unsuccessful standard bearers for United Party while Clif Eldred added that extra touch to the campaign by bolting the United Party to run for the top spot as an unaffiliated candidate. Enthusiasm ran high during the entire campaign which consisted of posters, billboards, smokers, debates, rallies, and living group visitations.

The candidates were all under pressure, but all fared well despite the barrage of loaded questions that were fired at them during the smoker held in the lounge of Willis Sweet Hall.

Election Day climaxed the two weeks of constant campaigning with a record number of students casting their ballots.

Jim Bounds, United candidate, interjected a bit of humor at the ASUI sponsored debate held in the new SUB ballroom.

Campus Elections

Marlene Finney, United candidate for Executive Board, expressed her views concerning student recruitment at the smoker held in the lounge at Willis Sweet Hall.

The polls were located in various buildings around the campus and many of the students took advantage of class breaks to exercise their right to cast their vote.

Bill Frates easily and quickly adjusted to his new position as ASUI President after his election to replace Ron Houghtalin as head of the Idaho students.

The lounge of Willis Sweet Hall was packed as many interested students turned out to view their favorite candidates in action.

SAE Olympics

After one postponement and weather threatening another, Ethel Steel House came through to win the Sig Alph Olympics. Excitement and cheering filled the Ad lawn as each living group gave encouragement to their own contestants in egg tossing, the four-legged race, a potato sack race, wheelbarrow racing, the tug-of-war, tennis ball push, football punt, the 25 yard crawl, and the pie eating contest. Alpha Phis, Kappas, and Gamma Phis placed second, third, and fourth respectively. The prize for the best designed flag went to the Gamma Phis.

Mother's Day Weekend

This year marked the 54th annual May Fete with the weather cooperating in all possible ways. The first big event was the Song Fest where the living groups were honored for performances. With Saturday, dawned the thrilling Phi Delt turtle race and the winner's trophy went to Alpha Phi with their turtle, "Road Runner." The race was followed by special buffet-luncheons for the mothers in each living group. The actual May Fete ceremony headed by Idora Lee Moore, May Queen, followed with the installation of the new Spurs and IKs and the tapping of Mortar Board, Silver Lance and the Outstanding Seniors.

Graduation

The University of Idaho held its sixty-eighth Commencement on Sunday, June 9, 1963, in Memorial Gymnasium. However, this particular Commencement set many firsts. It was the first time in the University's history that over 1000 degrees were issued at one exercise; the first Commencement where the Governor of the State gave the Commencement Address; and the first Commencement to be televised over closed-circuit television. This year's Commencement saw 1027 graduates receive diplomas from the University in addition to three honorary degrees and two citations of merit upon retirement being issued. A large crowd witnessed the ceremonies which brought mixed emotions to the graduating Seniors. Other weekend events were a reception for the Class of '63, alumni banquet and meetings, and an open house and exhibit at the Library.

Dr. D. R. Theophilus, President of the University of Idaho, gave the welcoming address at this year's Commencement—the University's sixty-eighth.

Captain Harry Davey, Professor of Naval Science, led the academic procession into Memorial Gymnasium followed by Governor Smylie and President Theophilus.

Many of the Seniors were able to watch their own procession as they passed the various television monitor sets that were placed throughout the Memorial Gymnasium.

Over sixty of the graduating class also received their officer's commissions at special ceremonies during Commencement.

Graduation

Television cameras were placed both in and outside Memorial Gymnasium as to give the best coverage of both the processional and commencement ceremonies to those who chose to watch over the closed-circuit television.

Captain Davey lead the swearing-in ceremonies for all three branches of the military services when those graduates who had completed the various ROTC programs received their officer's commissions.

Governor Robert E. Smylie gave the Commencement Address which was entitled "Light for Many Lamps." In this interesting and enlightening speech, Governor Smylie told the graduating Seniors that the only debt they owed for the wonderful education they had received here at Idaho was to be sure to insure that others to follow would have similar lights to follow.

Immediately following Commencement, the graduates meet parents, wives, friends, and teachers on the steps of Memorial Gymnasium and the lawns by the Library to be congratulated and wished the best of luck in their new endeavors.

Miss U of I Pageant

The climax of the 7th annual beauty pageant sponsored by the Intercollegiate Knights was the crowning of Miss Idora Lee Moore, Kappa. The final decision was made on the basis of talent, poise, beauty, and personality. The other finalists were: Rose Marie Marler, Alpha Chi; Carolyn Wyllie, Gamma Phi; Melodie Smyser, Alpha Phi; Karen Oleson, Hays. During intermission, the crowd was entertained by Blue Key winner Skip Botsford with his folk songs and the "Singing Sigs" from the Sigma Chi house. Arlen Marley, head of the pageant committee, said that the show was a great success.

Vandaleers

Throughout the school year, the Vandaleers perform on countless occasions and wherever they travel and perform, they leave a lasting impression. Truly, the Vandaleers are Idaho's "good-will ambassadors." Under the direction of Glen Lockery, the Vandaleers again presented the Christmas Candle-light Concert, their Spring Concert, and their tour through the State in addition to singing for the State Legislature and for Commencement.

The Vandaleers won state-wide acclaim with their "Light On The Mountain"—a pageant portraying the history of Idaho including the coming of Lewis and Clark and the Nez Perce Indian Wars.

University Singers

The University Singers, under the able direction of Mr. Norman Logan, meet twice weekly. The group is open to all who enjoy singing and all are welcomed. The Singers give an annual concert each Fall Semester and always perform during the Mother's Day Weekend. This year they sang selections from "Brigadoon" for the annual May Fete and then finished out the year by giving a joint concert with the University Concert Band.

The University Singers added that "extra touch" to the May Fete by filling the air with sweet music to blend in perfectly with the fragrance of the many flowers.

University Symphony Orchestra

The University of Idaho Symphony Orchestra consists of about sixty-five members. Each year the Orchestra presents three major concerts in the University Auditorium, transcribes radio broadcasts in cooperation with the Radio-TV Center, assists in the production of musical shows and operas, and presents occasional off-campus concerts in the North Idaho area.

Gerald Doggett, Senior, takes a much deserved round of applause at the final performance of the year.

Rae Patten receives a dozen roses from Bonnie Herzinger at her last performance with the University Symphony Orchestra.

Phillip Goffman directs the University Concert Band at their Spring Concert held in connection with the University Singers. The Concert Band, a result of increased enrollment in the Music Department, made its second appearance and presented a selection of marches and light overtures.

University Bands

The University Bands consist of the following different units—Symphonic Band, Concert Band, Brass Band, Varsity Band, and the ROTC Band. Under the over-all direction of Warren Bellis, the different bands appear at pep rallies, parades, football and basketball games, and at various concerts throughout the State.

The University Marching Band joined in with thirteen high school bands to play "Here We Have Idaho" at the 1962 Homecoming Football game.

Music Recitals

Recital Hall in the Music Building was the scene of many recitals during the school year as both Seniors and members of the faculty presented enlightening recitals.

A student-faculty recital featured the brasses, the violins, and the harpsichord.

Mr. Turner, tenor, presented his recital assisted by Miss Frykman at the piano.

A faculty trio—LeRoy Bauer, violin; Thomas Turner, piano; and David Whisner, cello.

Clarinetist Gerald Doggett and his accompanist, Angela Sherbenow, at his Senior Recital.

Delores Kinney holds the bouquet of red roses that were presented her after her recital.

Faculty Highlights

School year 1962-1963 saw two long time members of the University faculty retire after a combined total of over 76 years of teaching and service to the University of Idaho. Ralph H. Farmer, Professor and Emeritus Dean, College of Business, and Donald D. DuSault, Registrar Emeritus, announced their retirement and both were honored at Commencement by receiving certificates of merit.

Dr. J. Frederick Weltzin also announced early this school year that he would be relinquishing the Deanship of the College of Education to devote full time to teaching and research.

Idaho is justifiably proud of these three gentlemen and their untiring contributions to an ever better University of Idaho.

Dean J. Frederick Weltzin receives a beautiful desk pen set in honor of his relinquishing his Deanship of the College of Education to assume full-time teaching and research. Dean Weltzin was the College's second dean and during his 19 years as Dean the enrollment in the College of Education increased from 128 to over 900 students.

Prof. M. E. Deters escorts Donald D. DuSault, Registrar Emeritus, to the stage during Commencement at which time Mr. DuSault was presented the "Citation of Merit Upon Retirement." This ceremony climaxed forty years of service to the University and the State by Mr. DuSault.

University of Idaho President, Dr. D. R. Theophilus, tells the audience at Commencement of the outstanding record accumulated by Ralph H. Farmer, Emeritus Dean of College of Business, during his long service to the University of Idaho. Mr. Farmer also received the "Citation of Merit Upon Retirement" at Commencement.

The 500 member University of Idaho Air Force ROTC Cadet wing was formally adopted by the Air Force's 84th Fighter Squadron at Spokane, Washington. As a symbol of the tie, Col. Lester Johnson (left), Commander of the Fighter Squadron, presented a model of a supersonic F-106 fighter to Cadet Commander Thomas Heinz. Present at the ceremony besides the full contingent of Air Force ROTC Cadets were University President D. R. Theophilus, Lt. Col. Anthony Engels, Commander of the ROTC units, and Academic Vice President H. Walter Steffens.

Public Events

Many prominent and world-wide famous guests visit the Idaho campus to speak to the students and faculty about current affairs and world problems. In addition, the Community Concert series also brings to our campus celebrated persons.

Mr. Jorge Bolet, world-known pianist, chats with Dr. Miyares from Idaho's Language Department.

Public Events

Mr. G. L. Moore, having accompanied many of the truly great world musicians, gave an enlightening and humorous talk about the many funny and unusual incidents that occurred to him when he was accompanying these individuals on the piano.

Dr. Willy Ley, expert rocket scientist, addressed a Public Events assembly and told the capacity crowd that two-thirds of all scientific discoveries since the first satellite can be validly claimed by the United States.

Dr. S. B. Rolland of the History Department told the Idaho student body about Idaho's early history at the University's observance commemorating Idaho's Territorial Centennial.

Frank Gervasi, a famous war correspondent, talked at one of the Public Events assemblies on the subject of the Common Market and its effects on the American economy.

"The Mad Woman of Chaillot"

The first ASUI play of 1962-63 was presented November 2. A two act comedy, "The Mad Woman of Chaillot" is an interesting tale of the greedy rich who attempt to destroy the city for selfish reasons and the mad woman who discovers the plot and with the aid of other ladies, sets a plan for destroying the evil elements in the world.

Diane Fawson as the mad woman holds a tea party at which she and her cohorts, Donna Morgan and Linda Ensign, discuss the fate of Paris.

The show opens with the introduction of the President and financiers to the prospector and his plot for blowing up Paris.

In sympathizing with the boy who almost drowned in carrying out the plot of the financiers, the mad woman overhears the discussion concerning Paris' destruction.

Wendy Henson as Rumpelstiltskin offers consolation to the young maiden, Jeri Lee Cragg, by spinning the straw into gold in return for her first born child.

Rumpelstiltskin, after the maiden regretfully receives his offer, gleefully spins the straw into gold.

"Rumpelstiltskin"

"Rumpelstiltskin," the story of a young maiden and an evil dwarf, was the annual children's theatre presented for the Moscow grade schools by the University drama students on December 14.

At the end of the world, Marya Dobler as Mother Hulda and Rumpelstiltskin are in search of the promised child.

The third act opens in a tableau as the court praises the birth of the King and Queen's son.

"J. B."

"J. B.," a Pulitzer Prize-winning play by Archibald MacLeish, was presented by the University Drama Department on March 8-9. Buzz McCabe played the role of J. B., a modern-day Job who overcomes, through his faith in God, the trials of the present society.

J. B., Buzz McCabe, and Sarah, Linda Talbot, are happy with their five children.

Zeus, Lorenzo Nelson, assumes his role as God, while Nickles, Trav Huff, decides to play the role of J. B.'s adversary.

J. B. comforts Sarah after their children have all been killed.

Zeus in his role as God admonishes J. B. for his doubts and tells him to have faith and he will be saved.

Children's Play

"CINDERELLA"

"Cinderella," complete with a floating dress and a magic pumpkin, was presented for the entertainment of Moscow grade school children on April 26-27. Two court buffoons took the place of Cinderella's stepsisters for this performance, and the mice drawing Cinderella's pumpkin coach danced to original choreography by Nancy Woodworth. Edmund Chavez designed abstract sets for the production, which director Karen Beck said was done to preserve an air of fantasy for the children.

Pam Whittemore, fairy godmother, waves her hand to make a beautiful ball gown appear for Cinderella, Jerry Lee Gragg, while her pumpkin coach staffed with footman and coachman and drawn by three dancing mice waits to carry her off to the ball.

Cinderella hears about the Prince's Ball from her unkind sisters, Nicki McDonnell and Susan Zenier, and her mother, Joyce Fischer.

The Prince, Leslie Beck, and the court buffoons, Dave Hill and John Lukens, anxiously look on as one sister tries to get her foot into the glass slipper.

Cinderella dreams of the handsome prince she met at the ball.

Orchesis and Pre-Orchesis

The Orchesis and Pre-Orchesis presented "Tour d' Arts" as part of the many activities held on Mother's Day Weekend. Ten Orchesis members and thirteen Pre-Orchesis members took part in the show which featured ten selections based on various artistic concepts such as sculpture, music, architecture, and modern art. Linda Werner on percussions and Angela Sherbenow on the piano accompanied the two groups as they went through their routines.

Members of Orchesis and their adviser, Miss Rowe

These three members of Orchesis do their conception of the artistic form of sculpture.

Here the members demonstrate their impressions of modern art.

Helldivers

The Helldivers gave two performances during the school year. The highlight of their performance given during Mother's Day Weekend was a water pageant featuring night-life in famous cities throughout the world. It was entitled "A Night on the Town" and was thoroughly enjoyed by all those in attendance at both their Friday and Saturday performances.

Some of the Helldivers perform some intricate acrobatics during their show for Mother's Day Weekend.

The Helldivers portray "Midnight in Moscow," a portion of their pageant entitled "A Night on the Town."

The various members display some intricate movements as they swim about in the pool in Memorial Gym.

Campus Life

The activities are many and varied on the Idaho campus and during the Spring, one can view many different scenes on a single stroll around the campus.

The various living groups are always busy on work projects to help add to the beauty of our campus and here the ATO's install a new sidewalk leading from their driveway to their front door.

Construction was everywhere but the end result will certainly discount any temporary inconvenience, noise, and dust.

The annual Art Auction always draws many art lovers from near and far.

"The Blue Bucket Inn" provides an ideal place to get that Sunday evening meal.

Idaho Centennial

1863 1963

The University of Idaho has long been famed for its debating teams. On this team of 1901-'02 were Claude Gibson, Miles Reed and Burton L. French (whose eloquence was later heard in Congress when he became a U.S. representative).

Voice of the Vandals, the Argonaut moved to new offices in the basement of the SUB addition.

The old swimmin' hole of the Twenties and Thirties—otherwise, the fountain in front of the Administration Building where "I" dunked freshmen who forgot to wear their green caps.

It's always a mystery how so much is carted to college—and why. Students arriving in September, 1942.

ASUI activities lead the parade on the Idaho campus. From impromptu activities such as the panty raids to the numberless planned activities like the traditional Hulme fight now a part of Frosh Week, the campus in Moscow has never lacked an appropriate setting for varied activities. As in the past, dances remain the big attraction and almost every weekend finds some dance bringing students together to form a friendship bond that will last through the coming years.

The famed University of Idaho Special from Southern Idaho steams into Moscow in 1925.

RON HOUGHTALIN
ASUI President

ASUI

"I feel that the most important job that the ASUI President has to accomplish is to strive to make as many of the students as possible aware of the opportunities awaiting them in student government. There exist countless things that college students can do and accomplish on a local, state, or national basis if they are merely cognizant of the many happenings that go on around them. The world and higher education are in a constant process of evolution and student government can and should play an important role in all of these changes.

"ASUI activities are but just one way of affording the student the opportunity to tackle a particular problem, to work with one another, and to arrive at a workable solution. This contact, whether it be with foreign students, faculty members, administrators, legislators, or business men, is invaluable for much can be learned on all sides.

"All of the students have the right to have their ideas presented and problems heard, and it is only through a mixed E-Board that this can be done adequately, as was the case this year. It takes a long while to ascertain properly whether student government is well worth the time, effort, and money involved. However, I personally feel that the Idaho students are heading in the proper direction and will continue to do so."

Executive Board

The Executive Board, comprised of four United Party and five Campus Union Party members, was well balanced this year and able to bring out most sides of the issues brought before it carrying out its duty of providing for the organized conduct of student affairs and promoting the educational, cultural, social, and athletic activities of the students at the University of Idaho.

The Foreign Student Program was brought into proper perspective this year; the Board feels this will have a far-reaching effect on relations with the University and with the United States of the foreign students when they return home. Activities Council was incorporated into the ASUI structure as a valuable and necessary part of student government under Vice President Bill Bowes. The entire Executive Board participated in furthering and expanding the public relations aspect of student government by hosting Idaho Legislators, members of the Idaho Board of Regents, and other visitors. Judicial Council began functioning with its first group of Justices after several years of planning.

ASUI Office

Gale Mix, Student Union manager, and his associates were kept jumping the entire year what with the many activities and functions held in connection with the opening of the new SUB addition. Though at times it did get hectic, a successful and busy year was had by all. The new SUB became the hub of all campus life and it was solely due to the efforts of "Uncle" Gale and his little "helpers" that our Student Union program again brought honor and distinction to the University of Idaho.

GALE MIX

Student Union

Gerri Gough and Rae Kozlowski were indispensable and definitely added to the efficiency and success of all ASUI activities.

Mary Humphreys, cafeteria manager; Dean L. Vettrus, food service manager; and Marie Bippes, assistant food manager, take a breather from their busy pace of serving the students.

James Bowlby, game room manager, carefully reads about the new bowling equipment that was installed during the remodeling of the game room.

Public Relations

This year marked the third year of effective operation by the ASUI Office of Public Relations. The duties, responsibilities, and activities of this became well established under the capable leadership of J. Phil Reberger. With the promotion of the University of Idaho as a primary goal, the office sponsored a luncheon for high school student body presidents; a successful luncheon with the Board of Regents and the Executive Board; an effective student recruitment program; a tour of the University campus for the members of the state legislature and hosted by outstanding students; and several other effective programs.

J. Phil Reberger succeeded Carl Berry as Public Relations Director with great capabilities and a realization of the need for the University of Idaho to promote itself as an outstanding institution of learning.

Gary Mahn and Marlene Finney worked diligently as chairmen of the Student Recruitment program.

The University of Idaho was very proud to be represented by Steve Merlan, Burton Hunter, George Alberts, and Bill Siverly on the General Electric College Bowl in New York City.

Activities Council

The directors of the Activities Council act as the coordinating body for all campus activities. The five areas covered are the Recreation area, Services area, Events area, Social area, and Cultural and Educational area. The chairman of the group is the ASUI Vice President, Bill Bowes. Row One: Mary Lynne Evans, Services; Bill Bowes, Chairman; Patt Kelly, Recreational. Row Two: Keith Huetig, Social; Bob Carlson, Cultural and Educational; John Gamble, Events.

SERVICES AREA

Services Area included Calendar Committee, Hospitality Committee, Blue Bucket Inn, Seasonal Decorations Committee. The area fulfilled its purpose of serving the University community through the Sunday-evening pancake inns, semester calendars, campus tours, and SUB open house and decorations. Row One: Cathy Jones. Row Two: Mary Lynne Evans, Jody Wiegand, Will Swenson.

RECREATION AREA

Recreation area has directed recreation in the SUB as well as off-campus during the year. After the completion of the new SUB, the committee will direct SUB movies, bowling, and activities in the arts and crafts room. Chris Wales, Patt Kelly, director; Ted Burke.

Activities Council

SOCIAL AREA

As one of the small committees under Activities Council, the Social Area has done outstanding work. Main concerns were all-campus dances and Jazz-in-the-Bucket, which was held quite regularly with success in the new Dipper. Left to Right: Gene Harder, Sherrie McGuire, Keith Huettig, Director.

EVENTS AREA

Events program area has done an excellent job of coordinating and directing campus events during the past year. Major happenings under its jurisdiction are Homecomings, Dad's Day, New Student Days, Campus Chest, and the Blood Drive. Left to Right: Dick Jennings, Pat Killien, John Gamble, Director; James Morfitt, Mark Brown.

CULTURAL AND EDUCATIONAL AREA

Among other things, the Cultural and Educational Area has been in charge of the many exhibits in the lounge of the new SUB, which have been enjoyed by many students. Other areas of interest handled by the committee included coffee hours and forums, discussions, classical music, and music for the Blue Bucket Inn and the new listening room in the SUB. Left to Right: Bob Carlson, Director; Jim Taylor, Bob McFarland, Lorenzo Nelson.

Dana and Warren look over the layout for the special Centennial issue.

Gem of the Mountains

With the celebration of the Idaho Centennial, a great amount of money, time and hard work was devoted to the Gem as a centennial issue. It was for this reason that the book acquired a new look with the elaborate, old-fashioned artwork and the historical pictures. Despite the Sub construction and the absence of a co-editor each semester, the staff worked in the corner on third floor with confusion and some long hours, but a feeling of satisfaction and relief as the last page was sent off to Caxton Printers.

"Avoid the last minute confusion" is certainly not the motto of the staff as Dana Andrews, Nona Kay Shern, Dick Slaughter, and Julie Strickling check over last minute pages.

Gem of the Mountains

THE GEM OF THE MOUNTAINS is prepared each year by a volunteer staff of willing, capable, and enthusiastic students. The GEM office, staff headquarters, is located on the third floor of the SUB. This year's GEM is built around a historical theme, and is to be regarded as Idaho's centennial issue.

An important man on the staff, co-editor Warren Reynolds has held this position of importance for the past two years.

With her constant enthusiasm for the GEM, co-editor Dana Andrews has been a great encouragement to the rest of the staff.

Assistant editors Virginia Cope and Julie Strickling supervise and assist the editors of the various sections in meeting their deadlines.

Argonaut

The name "Argonaut" literally means "one who sailed with Jason in search of the Golden Fleece." To this year's Arg, the Golden Fleece was Truth and Reason. With two fine Jasons at the helm, Neil Modie and Jim Herndon, the course was not always smooth, but it was indeed sure.

The Arg, the independent voice of the student body, was quick to comment on this year's legislature, LCNS, and the loyalty oath. It provided complete coverage of the ASUI elections in one of the most interesting elections for a long time. But, news for news sake was not its only role. The special Centennial issue drew comments of praise from all over the State. With the University dedicated to a three-fold purpose—education, research, and service—the Arg with its special edition on the various research programs being carried on by the University called this aspect to the attention of its many readers.

Technically speaking, the Argonaut continued to be a pace-setter and trend-maker with its open format, unique design, and unusual layout. Once again the comment has been made, and justifiably too, that the Argonaut is more professional than the professionals.

Jane Watts and Kip Petersen check a news release for information that may lead to an article in the next Arg.

Mr. Bert Cross of the Department of Journalism assists Karen Smith, Jim Metcalf, and Kip Petersen with their articles for the Arg.

The new Argonaut Offices in the basement of the new SUB provide a "professional air" for the many students working on each issue of the Arg.

Jim Faucher and Larry McBride, sports writers, collaborate on an article commenting on Idaho's outstanding basketball season.

KUOI

1963 was a year of work but no sound for KUOI. The year was spent in revamping the transmission system and improving the control room equipment on the third floor of the SUB. Stan Baldwin, the head engineer for KUOI, spent many thankless hours on the planning, building, testing and installing of the new transistorized transmitters in several of the living groups. A great deal of time was also dedicated to other work on all parts of the station. Walt Johnson proved to be a great asset in the developing of the new system. Alvin Burgemeister was also a big help when extra work needed to be done. All in all, this was a year of many delays and setbacks but, more important, of real progress in the building of a good "Voice of the Vandal," with the managing capabilities of the KUOI manager Perry Olson.

Ervin Hirning and Rick Wilhite go over material for introducing the new KUOI station to the University listeners.

Stan Baldwin, head engineer, and Perry Olson, station manager, critically evaluated each mechanical part of the station in contributing to a stronger and better station for the University of Idaho.

AWS

All women at the University are members of the Associated Women Students of the University of Idaho. The group acts as a co-ordinating council in creating a spirit of harmony among women students, to help every coed derive the best from college living, to provide opportunities for leadership, and to regulate women's standards. This council is composed of the president and one representative from each women's living group.

A new project for AWS this year was an all-campus Scholar's Tea for women with a 3.33 grade point average. Each year AWS holds a clothes drive for the State Hospital North and this year AWS gave them several paintings at Christmas. They were also given 400 used Christmas cards for therapy uses.

Silver Lance, a local senior men's honorary, chooses its members from among the junior men who have maintained high scholarship while actively participating in campus activities and taps them during a suspenseful ceremony at the May Fete. The honorary presents the scholastic side of campus to visiting Moms by sponsoring a faculty forum during Mother's Weekend.

Spurs

These thirty girls were selected from their Freshman class on the basis of scholarship, activities, and genuine interest in the campus and fellow students. While they are sophomores they carry out their motto of "At Your Service" with a smile while they usher at games, plays and campus activities. This year they added visits to the Old Folks Home and working at the Moscow Opportunity School to their long list of Campus and Community projects. Spurs also have many traditions such as moving in the Freshman girls, secret sisters, caroling with the IK's at Christmas time, a kidnap breakfast and banquet, delivering of Spur-O-Grams on April Fools Day, supporting a Korean Orphan, and sponsoring Song Fest. Miss Rosemary Aten is the Spur adviser.

Members of the national sophomore men's honorary, Intercollegiate Knights, are tapped during the latter part of April and spend the following year helping with several campus activities. IK's begin the year by moving in freshmen and sponsoring the semi-annual used book sale. They also participate with Spurs in ushering, registering, and the Blood Drive, and annually sponsor the Miss U of I pageant. Gene Harder, duke of the Idaho chapter during the past year, was recently named duke of the National order of IK's.

Eugene Harder, local and national duke

Carl Johannesen was chosen "Knight of Knights" by the Spurs for his many hours of service to IK's and to the university. Marcia Studebaker, president of Spurs, presented the award at May Fete.

Watts, L. J. Porter, Raymond Newell, Jon Schierman, Wayne Tayson, Richard Wasill.

ELECTRICAL ENGINEERS

Students of this group are associated with the American Association of Electrical Engineers and meet together to exchange various ideas and to practice the skills of communication, cooperation and organization in the electrical engineering profession.

AUTOMOTIVE ENGINEERS

Members of the Automotive Engineers are active in participating in meetings with professional members of the profession and learning of the recent developments in this field. These college students are also welcome to join the National Automotive Engineers after graduation from the University of Idaho.

AGRICULTURAL ENGINEERS

The American Society of Agricultural Engineers stresses agricultural engineering as a professional career. Ag Science Day is participated in by this group and a scholarship is given to a student each year.

MECHANICAL ENGINEERS

This group operates as a student branch of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers in order to better acquaint its members with the practice and theory of mechanical engineering.

STUDENT AFFILIATE OF ACS

The purpose of the Student Affiliate of the American Chemical Society is to acquaint undergraduates enrolled in work leading to a degree in chemistry or chemical engineering with the professional society representing the field of chemistry. Members are given training in the organization of meetings, reports, and the communication of information.

AIA

The student branch of the American Institute of Architects enables student architects to learn more about their profession. Darwin Doss has served the group as president and several professional architects have visited the group in the past year.

SIEA

The Student Idaho Education Association is a pre-professional group for training prospective teachers. Its purpose is to orient students in problems of teaching and what to expect in their profession. It also sponsors the Winter Conference of Future Teachers of America of Northern Idaho and sends a delegate to the Idaho Education Association Conference.

John Green, Adviser; Janice Craig, Marilyn Hereth, Sue Solomon, Garry Loeffler, President.

FFA

The purpose of the college chapter of the Future Farmers of America is to acquaint students, who did not have high school membership, with the group. The club is mainly composed of agriculture education majors, but any interested student may join.

ALDRICH ENTOMOLOGY CLUB

The Entomology Club is in its second year and strives to bring the department closer together. Their activities include guest speakers, annual picnic, and a newsletter.

DAIRY CLUB

The Dairy Club provides social and educational activities for dairy science majors. The group has many projects throughout the year.

AG ECONOMICS

The Ag Econ club has been very beneficial to anyone interested in the agricultural economics field. Several speakers attend their meetings and enable students to fully understand their field.

ASSOCIATED FORESTERS

The Associated Foresters encourages a professional attitude among students in the College of Forestry. This year the group sponsored the Foresters Ball.

BLOCK AND BRIDLE

Students in animal husbandry participate in this organization to familiarize themselves with various techniques of the profession, including livestock judging, working at the barns, and caring for the animals.

RODEO CLUB

This group is affiliated with the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association and participates in all the rodeos in their region. Schools in this region are as follows: University of Montana, Montana State University, Idaho State University, Utah State, Ricks College, Western Montana State College of Education, Eastern Montana State College of Education, Washington State University, and Brigham Young College. The National Finals will be held in Denver, Colorado.

HOME EC CLUB

The purpose of Home Ec. Club is to set up activities for home economics students throughout the academic year, such as a Home Ec Day and a tea for the faculty.

Row One: Ann Marie Baum, Bladys Bellinger, Erma J. Jackle, Carol Husa, Reporter; Jackie Kimberling, Treasurer; Emily Bamesberger, Secretary; Marion Featherstone, Ruth Ridenour. Row Two: Darlene Slind, Florence Aller, Judy McKendrick, Elaine Nielsen, Kay Jordan, Darlene Dougherty, Kathy Hohnson, Carol Read, Kathleen Koskella, RexAnn Lancaster, Gladene Gallup, Marian Johnson, Joanna Blood, Margaret Ritchie. Row Three: Karyl Lambeth, Beverly Wallace, Claudine Becker, Merrily-Dawn Fruechtenicht, Carol Thornock, Sandra Stelger, Sharon Swenson, Glenda Knighton, Shirley Newcomb.

HOME EC SENIORS

The Home Ec seniors held a breakfast and a hat style show in the spring.

Up and down through the years, Idaho's athletic program has had an interesting air about it. Consistently facing major competition from the beginning, the Idaho Vandals have gained name and fame by upsetting favored opposition. Football gave Idaho its start in 1893 and the athletic fortune was launched. Many different sports have put in their appearance on the campus . . . some still in existence and the others long forgotten. In 1910 tug-of-war was a competitive sport but now it is reduced to a Frosh Week activity. Guaranteeing Idaho fans sports for years to come are the Vandal Boosters whose work and determination have provided many an athletic scholarship to aid an outstanding athlete.

Athletic Director

J. Neil "Skip" Stahley goes into his ninth season on the Idaho campus and his first with the sole duties of athletic director. He began his career at Idaho as football coach in 1954. In 1960 he assumed the dual role of athletic director and head coach. After two seasons in this capacity, he asked to be relieved of the coaching responsibilities in order to devote full attention to the administration of the athletic department.

During his tenure as a head coach he turned out nine professional football players. In last season's playoff games four former Vandals were on the six squads engaged in the three contests.

Publicity Director

Tom Hartley, Athletic Publicity Director for Vandal sports, again turned in a remarkable season. Serving as a liaison between Idaho coaches and newspaper, radio and television reporters, Tom is always on the move. Traveling in advance of the team he made all arrangements regarding publicity, accommodations and transportation.

Ben Keane, former Idaho cager, is responsible for the equipment for all of the major sports at the University of Idaho. Ben is combination manager, laundry operator, painter, shoe maker and seamstress for the Vandals. Football Summary

The Idaho footballers, a young team with only four seniors surprised a lot of their opponents this year. Except for the final minutes of many games the Vandal record would have been much better than the 2-7-1 mark they recorded. High spots of the season were wins over Idaho State College and a highly favored Arizona eleven. The Vandals also played a great game in a losing effort against a powerful Utah squad. Idaho had the lead with only seconds to go when the Utags opened up an unstoppable air attack. Idaho fans were disappointed when the Vandals lost both games to the Montana schools, when Idaho was favored to at least split the series. The "Battle of the Palouse" was one of the most exciting games of the year, as the Vandals fought through the Cougars as well as a snowstorm to tie the game with six minutes left. Again passing in the last minutes defeated the Vandals. Idaho figures to have a very strong team for the 1963 season as only four players were lost due to graduation—Joe Cramer, Larry Stachler, Bob Ames and Ron Kulm.

The most noticeable effect of Idaho football was the enthusiasm that prevailed throughout the year. Coach Dee Andros and staff came to an almost incurable situation and in just one year instilled in the team, students, alums and friends the kind of spirit that makes a winning football team. This spirit was most noticeable in the later part of the season and it looks like it has come to Idaho at last.

In opening the 1962 season against Utah State, the Vandals began to show the spirit which was to prevail throughout the season. In spite of two disastrous fumbles in the first half, the Vandals refused to give up and finally scored against the Aggies. Play was largely dominated by Utah State, but it was not the crushing, lop-sided battle which was evidenced in Logan in 1961. Late in the fourth quarter, Mike Whiles intercepted a Utah State pass, and took over as quarterback. Calling one running play and eight passes, he finally tossed to Vern Leyde in the end zone for Idaho's lone touchdown.

Over the years, Idaho has dominated the series with nine wins, six losses, and two ties. Utah State, however, has controlled the play for the last few years, as Idaho's last win came in 1959, 34-7.

Idaho's lone touchdown against Utah State came on a pass play from Mike Whiles to Vern Leyde as the Vandals were downed 45-7.

Idaho made most of its big yardage on a series of end sweeps during the second half.

A crowd of 8,500 fans on Dad's Day saw the Vandals come from behind in the second half and win a 9-6 decision over the Idaho State College Bengals. Idaho State dominated the first half and scored first when Bill Jencks went into the end zone from the Idaho four. The second half, however, saw a newly aggressive Vandal club put on the pressure. After halting the Bengals after the second half kick-off, the Vandals got moving. An ISC personal foul put Idaho into scoring position, and Vandal center John Saith kicked a 28 yard field goal on a fourth and seven situation. The thrills began when, with 4:06 left in the fourth quarter, ISC was forced to punt. Ron Kulm made a 45 yard punt return to the Bengal 44. Galen Rogers picked-up two quick first downs, and with the crowd yelling for all they were worth, Rich Naccarato picked up two more, both on fourth downs. This put Idaho on the Bengal nine, first and goal. Three plays later, Idaho progressed to the three, and elected to go for the win. With tremendous blocking, Naccarato swept around the right end and into the end zone. Bengal end Doug Dillard fumbled the kick-off, and the Vandals contented themselves with running out the clock, elated with their first win of the season.

This year's game was only the third played in this series. Idaho won the first game 32-0 in 1916. In the only other game, the score was 41-7, Idaho.

In the annual battle for the Little Brown Stein, Montana State University emerged victorious, recapturing the trophy from the University of Idaho. Over the years, the Stein has rested most with the University of Idaho, as the Vandals have won 31 of the 45 games. There has been one tie.

A homecoming crowd of 8500 in Missoula watched the Grizzlies take advantage of Idaho fumbles and errors throughout the first three quarters to pile up a 22-0 lead. Idaho finally got rolling in the fourth quarter with the entrance of Gary Gagnon. Gagnon threw passes to Leyde and Stachler in quick succession to set up the first touchdown. A few minutes later Idaho recovered a Montana fumble and Gagnon's passing arm again put Idaho on the scoreboard. The Vandals gained two point conversions after each touchdown on passes to Stachler and Naccarato. By this time, however, the Grizzlies were able to stem the Vandal drive and held their lead for the remainder of the game.

MSC's defense was undoubtedly the best the Vandals ran into this year.

The MSC Homecoming game proved to be exactly what the home fans wanted—a romp for the Bobcats. The Bobcats scored two quick touchdowns in the first quarter and kept their lead. The Vandals were able to muster one threat when Gary Mires carried the ball over after receiving a bad pass from center on a punting situation, thus the Vandals narrowed the first quarter score to 14-7. The Bobcats came back to score again, and the half ended 20-7. Though neither team scored in the third quarter, the Bobcats were able to make two more touchdowns in the fourth period. Idaho garnered their second and final touchdown by taking a kickoff and marching 69 yards in seven plays to score, Mickey Rice taking the ball over. Quarterback Gary Gagnon passed to end Vern Leyde for a two-point conversion. Statistics for the 33-15 contest were heavily in favor of the Bobcats.

In the latest game of a series that started in 1946, the Idaho Vandals and the San Jose Spartans literally slogged to a 12-12 tie. According to San Jose officials it was the first time in 16 years that rain had fallen on a game day, and this time it really poured.

On paper, the game easily belonged to the Spartans, who had 17 first downs to Idaho's three and dominated the statistics in other areas as well. Statistics, however, do not tell the whole story of a ball game. For instance, out of 12 fumbles committed during the game, Idaho recovered eight. Neither team was able to take advantage of the other's errors. San Jose's first touchdown came on a 74 yard drive after recovering an Idaho fumble. They got their second TD when a kick by Mickey Rice was blocked and Spartan tackle Larry Lundy fell on it in the end zone.

Idaho was able to score in the second quarter after Bob Ames recovered a fumble by Spartan Johnny Johnson. Dale Meyer cracked the line twice for nine yards and Galen Rogers carried it over from the one. Idaho's second score came with three minutes left in the game. Mike Mayne had recovered a fumble in the middle of the fourth quarter, and Gary Gagnon unhooked his passing arm. He passed for 33 yards in two plays after which Rogers came in again to run it over. Idaho elected to kick but Siath's attempt sounded like kicking a plastic bag full of water and was low.

The game was not decided until after time had run out. Spartan Rand Carter passed an eight-yard touchdown toss just as the gun sounded, but an official called a backfield-in-motion penalty and nullified the score. It was the first tie in the series, which has seen San Jose win five and Idaho come out on top twice.

Football spirits in Moscow were dampened by the weather and the score as WSU edged Idaho in a blizzard 22-14. Typical of Idaho's late season surge, the final score was in doubt until the last few seconds of the game.

The Vandals showed an unsuppressible desire to win all during the season. Several games were lost only on last-ditch efforts by Idaho's opponents.

U of Utah 25 Idaho 21

In playing their best game of the season up to that point, the Idaho Vandals were defeated by a last minute Utah rally 25-21. Idaho played well together as a team and found themselves leading 21-18 with only a few minutes remaining. With three minutes left Mickey Rice provided one of the highlights of the game by punting out 70 yards to the Utah six-inch line. At that point victory seemed certain for the Vandals, but Utah then unleashed its passing attack and drove 100 yards in three minutes for the winning score.

Since 1908 Utah has won 13 games in the series against 10 wins for Idaho. The last Idaho win came in 1958 when Idaho defeated Utah 20-8 in Boise.

The Vandals showed vigorous offensive spirit throughout the season. During this game with Utah State, Idaho demonstrated an unwillingness to give up by scoring a lone tally in the closing moments of the game.

U of Arizona 12

Idaho 14

The University of Idaho Vandals, smarting from a narrow loss to Utah a week earlier, limited a strongly favored Arizona squad to only 88 yards on the ground and came away from the land of sunshine with a 14-12 upset victory. A shocked crowd of 20,000 watched their home town favorites hand the Vandals the ball seven times on fumbles. According to game-side observers, Dee Andros' club simply outgunned Arizona—all the way around. Vicious Idaho tackling was in large measure a major factor in the seven Arizona fumbles as the Wildcats had fumbled but four times previously during the season.

Gary Mires and Rich Naccarato scored the two big touchdowns, but it was a pass from Gary Gagnon to Cary Smith on a two-point conversion play that provided the victory margin. At one time the Vandals saved themselves from almost certain defeat when they put up a strong goal-line stand that held Arizona on downs only one foot away from paydirt.

The victory was Idaho's second during the eight game series with Arizona. Idaho's only other win came in 1958 when Arizona went down under the Vandal attack 24-16.

The Idaho squad could not get untracked against the powerful Oregon State Beavers. The Oregon eleven repeatedly found holes in the Idaho pass defense, which hadn't been outstanding all season, and rolled to a 32-0 win over an Idaho team whose best effort fell short. All-American Terry Baker and his talented passing arm, which repeatedly found its target proved too much for the Vandals to handle, as was the case with many other OSU opponents. Idaho was able to mold a few offensive threats, but oft-occurring penalties and big losses forced them to give up the ball.

Idaho was able to manage a few offensive thrusts during the game, but they were always thwarted by the powerful Oregon defense.

Washington State 22

Idaho 14

It was a cold and overcast day when the Vandals took on the Washington State University Cougars at Neale Stadium, and for the Idaho eleven the game started out about as encouraging as the weather. The Cougars, running well and completing timely passes built a comfortable half-time lead. With the second half came the snow in the form of a blizzard, but even in these adverse conditions the Vandal spirit shone through. Fighting back with some dazzling plays, including some well-thrown passes, the Vandals tied the score at 14-14 late in the fourth period. Idaho's glory was short-lived, however, as the Cougars stormed back in the final ten minutes to drive 69 yards in 12 plays and hand the Idaho Vandals a bitter 22-14 defeat in the finale of the 1962 football season.

The game was the sixty-third in a series which started in 1893 and has seen Washington State win 45 and Idaho win but 14 games. There have been 3 ties. The last Idaho win came in 1954 when Coach "Skip" Stahley's team emerged on top, 10-0.

Idaho and WSU players found it hard to locate the goal line in the snow as Idaho scored during the fourth quarter.

Frosh Football

Idaho's yearling footballers posted one win in their three-game season—a big one over arch-rival WSU. This game saw the Vandal Babes display some of the potential that had lain dormant throughout the early going. The first game for the frosh was a 27-12 defeat suffered at the hands of the University of Washington frosh. On the heels of this setback came a disastrous 42-7 drubbing by the Columbia Basin Junior College Hawks, one of the top junior college elevens in the country. The Vandal Babes kept trying to make ground but CBJC proved invincible, and the smart quarterbacking of Mike Monahan kept the Vandals with their backs to the wall most of the game. However, these losses made the victory over the Couababes just that much the sweeter. It was Idaho's only game away from home and the yearlings came through in fine style by taking a 22-14 decision. The frosh played some good ball throughout the season and many are expected to help the varsity in future seasons.

Basketball

"Fine!" is the word to describe the 1962-63 Vandal Basketball team. Winning 20 games and losing only 6, Coach Cipriano's club broke 26 season and personal records on their way to the best won-lost record at Idaho in many years. Led by regulars Chuck White, Gus Johnson, Rich Porter, Tom Whitfield and Lyle Parks, the well-balanced team won its opener against Long Beach State 85-68. The Vandals continued their winning ways with four wins over Gonzaga, 63-52; Montana State College, 68-61 and 64-63; and Washington State University, 94-57; then the team entered the Far West Classic. During this time fans and opponents alike had a chance to see Gus Johnson and Company in action. Seats at Memorial Gymnasium were as scarce as snowballs in July. It was a common sight to see the Gym all but filled at 6:00 p.m. with long lines of people waiting for tickets.

With star Gus Johnson sidelined because of an NCAA ruling on eligibility, Idaho traveled to Portland and the Far West Classic and two losses, to Oregon State University, 53-80, and to Seattle, 71-85. A win over arch-rival Washington State helped the Vandals regain their pride as Idaho closed out the Classic with a 1-2 record.

The Vandals started rolling with two wins each over Montana, Washington State, and the University of Oregon before Washington State found the key to victory over the Vandals in a closely fought game. The Vandals sweet revenge for the Cougar loss came in a high-scoring rout of Arthur Crump and Idaho State College. Idaho swept the Oregon series 4-0 with twin wins of 79-61 and 88-76 in Moscow. Coach Cipriano took his charges next on a tour of Southern Idaho, winning 83-76 over Idaho State at Pocatello and 66-57 over Gonzaga at Twin Falls. The win over Idaho State clinched the King Spud Trophy, awarded to the victor of the Idaho-Idaho State Series, for Idaho.

Then came disaster as Seattle ran past the Vandals 77-72 at Moscow. The Vandals were back on the winning road as they overcame Washington's slow-down offense 63-56 and overwhelmed Montana State 106-79. Chuck White broke an all-time scoring record in the latter game with a 41-point total.

The Vandals failed to win again as they lost 50-58 to the University of Washington and 88-95 to Seattle University.

Basketball

Idaho lost its fine basketball coach, Joe Cipriano, this year to Nebraska. Cip will be well remembered for his three years at Vandal-land, posting a fine win-loss record. His teams all had a certain flair, as Slippery Joe was never one for a slow, tight offense. The name Cipriano will always be associated with a fast break, a tight defense, and a thrilling game. Idaho will miss Joe, but we wish him the best of luck at Nebraska.

Basketball Awards

SPORTSMANSHIP

The Oz Thompson Sportsmanship Award went to Chuck White this year. Holder of many Vandal scoring records, among them the most points scored in one game, most scored in one season and most scored during his career at Idaho, White was an outstanding member of Idaho's Cage team.

MOST VALUABLE PLAYER

Gus Johnson, a relative new-comer to the University of Idaho campus, received the Ronald White Award for the Most Valuable Player. He ranked second nationally this year in rebounding, averaging 20.6 rebounds per game. He brought down 466 during the season, a new Idaho record, and was second in scoring with a 19 point per game average. Perhaps his most outstanding ability was that of defense. Many an opponent, driving down-court for a "certain" lay-in was surprised to find the ball batted down at the last instant and fired back up-court for an easy lay-in for Idaho.

MOST INSPIRATIONAL

Lyle Parks won the Jay Gano Award for the second straight year for the Most Inspirational Player. Picked last year for his fine defensive play and fine grades in Engineering, Lyle was called on time and time again this year to hold up this fine reputation. He responded with the enthusiasm for which he is famous.

KING SPUD TROPHY

The King Spud Trophy, awarded to the winner of the Idaho-Idaho State series, went to Idaho this year following two consecutive wins.

Far West Classic

Play was close during the WSU game, which Idaho won 64-63.

The loss of their big man, Gus Johnson, through NCAA rulings proved to be too much for the Vandals to handle as they suffered losses in two out of three games at the Classic. On top of this loss, the Vandals had the misfortune of being matched with the two other top teams of the Northwest—Oregon State and Seattle. Idaho operated largely without an offense in the first game as they lost to the Beavers by an 80-53 margin. No Vandal was able to break into double figures, while the tall Oregon team had five players over 10. Idaho showed a little more scoring punch in the second game but lost again to Seattle University 85-71. Chuck White started to find the scoring range as he put through 16 points. Chuck Kozak presented Coach Cipriano with a mild surprise as he was second high for the night with 14 points. Idaho found the going only slightly easier as they won their only game of the series, 64-63 over the WSU Cougars. White went on a scoring spree and garnered 28 points while Rich Porter connected with 19. Thus the Vandals finished far down the ladder in the tournament though early in the season Vandal fans had hoped that "Gus and Company" would tear the tourney apart.

Time-out periods were used effectively throughout the season to take a break and smooth out fine points of play.

The Vandals played well during the tournament despite their handicap. The action was lively throughout as this photo clearly shows.

Action during the games with Idaho State was never dull as the hot sense of competition between the two schools sparked fans and players alike.

The King Spud trophy finally found its home in Moscow this year as the Vandals took two successive games from Idaho State. Gus Johnson led the attack in both games for the Vandals, being high in both the scoring and rebounding departments.

Both games were clearly marked by the keen rivalry existing between the two schools. Partisan crowds at both games harassed the opposing team and tempers flared several times during the two contests.

Idaho 106

Idaho's Vandals swept a three-game series from Montana State College this year by scores of 68-61, 64-63, and 106-79. In the first two games, at Bozeman, the Vandals faced rough going as Montana State was shooting well and the Vandals just hung on to their lead in the first and came from behind in the second. The last game, at Moscow, saw the Vandals cut loose a fast breaking spree that far outdistanced the Bobcats.

The Idaho fans gave players a standing ovation several times during the year, including the moment when Chuck White broke the all-time scoring record at Idaho.

The first game in the Oregon series showed promise of several close games as the Ducks forced Idaho into an overtime period before Idaho pulled it out 62-61. The first contest, however, did not foretell the entire story as Idaho won the next three games by wide margins, 88-78; 79-61; and 81-58.

Gus Johnson and Chuck White both gave a preview of what was to come in the first Gonzaga game: Johnson dazzled the fans with his passing and White poured through 23 points. In the second game, at Twin Falls, the Vandals topped the Bulldogs 66-57 in a slow, uninteresting game. The last game of the series, at Moscow, saw Idaho hold a narrow lead into the fourth quarter before they pulled away for the victory.

Vandals and Cougars make a mad scramble for the rebound as Idaho pushes ahead toward one of the biggest victories recorded in the "Battle of the Palouse."

The Vandals again easily captured the championship of the traditional "Battle of the Palouse" rivalry with Washington State University by winning 4 games of the 5-game series. Led by the high scoring of Chuck White and the strong rebounding of Gus Johnson, the Vandal squad's consistency and clever play-making were big factors in the contest victories.

Frosh Basketball

The frosh cagers, supposedly a bit thin on talent, surprised just about everyone concerned and, under the able guidance of coach Ken Maren, registered a fine 11-7 win-loss record. Maren got a fine performance from Ed Haskins from St. Maries, who set the all-time frosh scoring mark of 311 points. Over a span of 18 games, Haskins averaged 17.2 points per game. Jim McElroy from Seattle set the unofficial frosh rebound mark as he pulled down 190 rebounds for a 10.5 per game average. Haskins and McElroy were versatile players, as each finished second in the department won by the other. Oddly enough, the highest point production of the season went to neither player, but to Rod Shinko from San Lorenzo, California, who bucketed 29 points against North Idaho Junior College. Shinko finished third in both scoring and rebounding. The squad would not have been as successful, however, if it had not had the hustle and all-around play of boys like Larry Sappington, Mike Everett, and Mike Lamb. Even when the yearlings were losing, their spirit never failed, and they proved themselves a well-poised team.

Posting a 16-12 record, Idaho Baseballers ran up their fourth winning season in a row. Despite a 5-9 mark in Northern Division play, Idaho beat each of the teams in the five-member league and chased Washington State to the wire for third place.

Veterans Mike Stowe, Herb Dehning and Chuck White paced the team along with sophomore power-hitter Mike Mayne. Dehning was the team's top hitter with a .307 average; he was followed by Stowe at .299 and White at .284. Senior Dave Sewright led the mound staff with a 6-4 mark, followed by junior Mike Glenn at 4-3.

Junior Jeff McQueeney handled the catching duties and hit .281. Sophomore Tom Hoagland also filled in behind the plate, although he was the team's regular left fielder and also saw action at third base. White worked at the shortstop position most of the season, and Fred Thomas regularly handled third. Bob Dehning, Butch Croy and Dick Knapp played second and Stowe was at first. Herb Dehning finished his third season in center field and newcomer Mayne was in right.

Idaho Track

Although hindered early in the year by leg injuries, the Vandal track team nevertheless had a year filled with long trips and broken records. The season opened at WSU with an indoor meet in which Nick Carnefix and Paul Henden set meet records. From there the thinclads traveled to Portland University where Henden became a double winner in the mile and two-mile while Larry Johnson won the shot put and discus. Bob Ruby also joined the record-makers as he went 46 feet, $\frac{1}{4}$ inch in the hop-step-jump. At the OSU-WSU-U of I triangular meet Henden was named the outstanding trackman. A first in track history was made this year as ISU and Idaho clashed on the cinders, with ISU emerging victorious. Carnefix turned in a time of 48.5 in the quarter mile and Henden a 4:16 in the mile when the Vandals faced MSU and Utah State at Missoula. In a WSU dual meet Bob Johnson set the school record of 21.5 in the 220, while teammate Henden ran the two-mile in 9:11.6.

During the Far West Championship the team began to find its place. Johnson tied the old Vandal mark with a 9.7 in the 100. Idaho's sole victory of the year came in a triangular meet: Idaho, 84; Montana, 76; Weber, 20. The Vandal trackmen won 9 of 10 running events, 2 field events as they broke three school records and tied a fourth.

The Frosh also came through and the prospects look good for next year. James Jackson went 13 feet, 9 inches in the pole vault, and Richard Jackson ran the 330 intermediate hurdles in 45.2 to put two new Frosh records on the book.

This was the first year for coach Doug Bashman, a graduate of the University of Oregon. He was a temporary replacement, became permanent, but will be going to Lybia next year where he will coach that country's national track team for the Olympics.

Cross-Country

The Vandal cross-country team had a most successful year. They won four meets over WSU, while they lost one to OSU and one to the Vancouver Olympic Club. The men finished ninth in the United States at the National Championships, beating such schools as Iowa and Notre Dame. This year's team was composed of Paul Henden, Nick Wetter, Dick Douglas, Bernie O'Connell, and Louis Olaso. The entire team will return next season.

It was Paul Henden who was the team's leader, his only loss before the National meet having been to the NCAA defending champion. Henden was selected as an All-American Cross-Country Team member.

Skiing

The ski team had a very interesting season in 1963. The first meet of the season was held at Kimberly, Canada, and attended by the Idaho Alpine team. The big meet of the season was the Idaho invitational, held at McCall and sponsored jointly by the University of Idaho and the McCall Ski Club. The meet was very successful; the Vandals placed third behind Washington and Montana State College. The University of British Columbia placed fourth and Montana State University finished in fifth place. For Idaho, Arnstein Friling won first place in the four-way, Rolf Prydz placed third in the jumping, and the team as a whole placed first in jumping.

At the Northwest Intercollegiate Ski Meet at White Pass, Washington, Idaho placed second, after Montana State College and topping Washington, MSU, U of British Columbia, and University of Alaska. In this meet Rolf Prydz and Bob Trent qualified for the NCAA Regional meet.

Idaho swimmers rewrote the record book in 1962-63 as they splashed to a 4-8 record and sent two tankers to the NCAA championships at Raleigh, North Carolina.

Gary Baker set six new marks and shared in two other relay records. He also won the Far West titles in the 200 butterfly and 200 individual medley, setting meet records in the process. Karl Von Tagen picked off a pair of school records and swam on three record-setting relay quartets. He and Baker went to the Nationals, where Baker finished ninth in the 400 individual medley.

Coach Clarke Mitchell will have his entire tank squad back next season to make further assaults on the record book and lead Idaho into competition in the new Big Sky Conference.

Golf Team

Idaho's 1963 golf squad compiled a 3-3-3 record in dual meets while finishing first and third in two tournaments. The season opener was the Clarkston Collegiate Tournament, which Idaho won by a comfortable margin. Fortune took an about-face, however, when Idaho visited Seattle and was beaten by Seattle U and the University of Washington. The Vandals were right back on the winning track as they soundly defeated Gonzaga and Whitman after the Seattle tragedy. These victories were followed by a pair of ties with Oregon and Oregon State. The last dual competition was a three meet in Clarkston in which Idaho again downed Gonzaga while tying with Washington State. In the Far West Championships in Corvallis, Idaho finished third ahead of Oregon State. 1963 was chiefly a building year as no players will be lost to graduation and in 1964 a pair of excellent transfers will add to the team's power.

Tennis

This year's tennis team had a very ambitious schedule, meeting such schools as the University of Washington, Washington State University, Oregon State University, Portland. However, they won only two of their fifteen meets. Most of the season's work was carried by men who this year first experienced college competition; three were sophomores and three were juniors. The sole returning letterman was John Ferris, who, although coming out late, turned into a good winner. Ferris, Bill Van Orman, and Gene Prescott were the most consistent winners of the team.

This year's coach, Mr. Logan, will be leaving after his second year here at the University.

Intramurals

Dr. Leon Green and Clem Parberry guided the intramural sports program at the University to another successful year. There were a total of 4,185 participants in all sports, basketball being the most popular with 700 "B" participants and 319 "A" participants; football with 741 men playing and volleyball with 529 were next. Sports such as golf, horseshoes, and weight lifting had to limit the number of participants, as facilities did not permit the handling of all those who would have liked to participate.

The cross country was added to the program this year. A new informal handball tournament attracted 42 players. Backstops set up on the softball diamonds for the first time greatly helped that sport.

Lindley Hall garnered the Intramural Championship at Idaho for 1962-63. Winning championships in volleyball and A-basketball, plus a number of second place wins, gave Lindley a handy margin over second place Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

“A” Basketball

A hot shooting Lindley Hall team led by Panhandle star Jack Bloxom swept to an early lead and rolled to an easy 41-28 win over Lambda Chi Alpha, the Greek champions, and the intramural “A” basketball championship.

Bill Schmidt, Rick Hicks, John Whitney, Jim Patterson, Charley Thronbrugh, Larry Strohmeier, Jack Bryant.

“B” Basketball

Sigma Alpha Epsilon claimed first place in intramural “B” basketball as they climaxed the season with a 39-18 triumph over Delta Tau Delta. Another Delta Tau Delta team took third place in the tourney, with the Fijis garnering fourth place.

Ken Johnson, Gary Green, Phil Russell, Larry Burke

Swimming

Phi Delta Theta reigned as intramural swim champions for the third straight year. Sigma Alpha Epsilon was second in total points in the competition.

Bill Mattis and Mel Jones led Alpha Tau Omega in taking 7 first places to win the intramural track meet with a total of 216 points. Sigma Alpha Epsilon was second with 189½ points.

Softball

Delta Tau Delta combined strong hitting and the right arm of Larry Minor to down Gault Hall and claim the 1963 campus intramural softball crown. The Delts had gained the finals with a win over the SAEs for the Greek championship, while Gault won its way into the title game by downing Lindley Hall.

WRA

Fun, friendship and the furthering of recreational interest and activities sum up the purpose of WRA, the Women's Recreation Association. Boasting a seventy per cent participation of the women on campus, the organization gives University of Idaho women students a chance to relax from studies, exercise, and learn the fundamentals and skills of sports.

WRA offers a variety of activities which give every woman a chance to participate in a sport in which she is interested.

Proving that the rocking chair was popular long before Kennedy got to the White House—a room in Ridenbaugh Hall, about 1900.

This house has known the initiation rites of many different groups—among them, Pi Beta Phi, Phi Kappa Tau, Farmhouse . . .

Ridenbaugh Hall was the first permanent residence to be built on the Idaho campus. Costing $17,000 in 1902, Ridenbaugh Hall may be compared with Wallace Dormitory complex, presently under construction, which is costing $3,600,000. Fraternities and sororities have aided and added to the most colorful part of University life, Beta Theta Pi and Gamma Phi Beta being among the oldest chapters on campus. Many veterans and other students have lived in trailer homes nearby and still other of the students have banded together in small groups.

Short on funds in the Great Depression of the Thirties, the March brothers of Lowman towed their own housing to the campus.

Editors' Thank You

The 1963 Gem of the Mountains has been designed to give the students, alumni and friends of the University of Idaho a permanent record of the University's activities and accomplishments during Idaho's Territorial Centennial year.

As editors of the '63 Gem, we hope that this book will be accepted, appreciated and enjoyed as much as we have appreciated having had the opportunity to coordinate and compile it. A compilation of those whose time, effort and material have gone into the making of this book would supply us with a list much too long for individual mention of all. There are, however, those who do deserve acknowledgment in this small way.

PAUL B. EVANS . . . To the man who took a sketchy idea, developed a personal interest and designed the 1963 Gem, we give our special thanks.

JIM GIPSON and DICK PEAD . . . With encouraging suggestions and a hearty word, these two men acted as a liaison between Caxton Printers and the Gem Staff. Also, our appreciation for the technical quality of the printing, particularly the excellent color work by Glenn Spurgeon.

ROY BELL, ARDEN LITERAL and GLENN SPROUSE . . . Our sincerest thanks to these fine photographers who provided us with many an excellent and interesting picture.

RAFE GIBBS and DON WALKER . . . Encouragement, pictures and copy supplied us many ideas with which to work.

GALE MIX . . . Our great middle man who solved a variety of problems for us.

HUTCHINSON'S and RUDY'S . . . Another year of excellent cooperation with the staff and students.

OTHERS . . . Idaho Department of Commerce and Development, George Hatley, the Argonaut editors and staff, Jim Lyle, and scores of others who put in much time and effort.

VIRGINIA COPE and JULIE STRICKLING . . . Editors of next year's Gem, we wish them the very best of luck and we offer our special thanks for all they have done on the '63 Gem.

ROBINSON-PFORZHEIMER TYPOGRAPHICAL COLLECTION . . . Old-fashioned type faces, from this collection at the Printing Office, the New York Public Library, have helped to give our book a unique aspect.
