KNOWLEDGE

"Acquire knowledge. It enableth its possessor to distinguish right from wrong; it is our friend on the desert, our society in solitude, our companion when friendless; it guideth us to happiness; it sustainth us in misery; it is an ornament among friends, and an armor against enemies."

The University of Idaho, the background against which we acquire KNOWLEDGE.

Greeting old friends, making new friends, discussing classes and campus activities—part of the knowledge gained in the informal atmosphere at our University.

Educational Experiences: The solemn lowering of the flag and the memorial service in November when President Kennedy was killed; gleaning facts from a textbook or writing a paper during a quiet evening in the library; your favorite instructor holding class amid the beautiful surroundings in the Arboretum on a sunny spring afternoon.

A class in volleyball, intense concentration on an intramural baseball game, the excitement as Idaho scores in varsity basketball, even the lazy enjoyment of a game of pool are experiences which help each Idaho student develop a well-rounded personality.

Your adviser helps you make the all important decision of what classes are best for you to take. . . . You finally make it through the confusion of registration. . . . The actual acquisition of knowledge useful to you in your future profession comes in a classroom situation.

National politics on a small scale were in the spotlight for the Mock Political Convention. Student politicians were serious, feelings were high, and tempers sometimes flared, but candidates for National offices were finally nominated.

The University of Idaho's 75th year of service to the State of Idaho was commemorated in 1964 with a convocation and a banquet featuring a diamond-shaped ice formation and a cake replica of the first Administration Building.

Activities, activities, activities—
everything from fireworks to Christmas caroling to a friendly dunking in Paradise Creek.

Our beautiful new Student Union Building was finally completed this year. Telegrams of congratulations came from all over the world at the dedication of the SUB, which is in use by Idaho students and visitors at least 17 hours a day.

Idaho's famed Vandaleers entertained at the dedication banquet for the SUB.

The newest addition to the Idaho campus is the Physical Sciences building. Its modern laboratory facilities for teaching and research, including an observatory, will enable Idaho graduates to keep pace with the demands of the scientific world.

Academics

Acquire knowledge . . . Academics forms the biggest and most important part of each student's University of Idaho career. Each student must work diligently to meet the high standards set at the University.

Students get personal help from the instructor in a business lab.

Chemistry lab requires strict concentration

Students learn first hand about their particular branch of engineering in the Kirtley Engineering Laboratories.

Governor Robert E. Smylie

Governor Smylie, governor of the state of Idaho for the past ten years, is a frequent and welcome visitor to our campus. Certainly, his interest in higher education is appreciated and needed by the students of the University. The dedication of state leaders such as Governor Smylie in formulating policies and making decisions is a definite tribute to democratic government.

Governor Smylie was on the University campus to participate in the 75th Anniversary Celebration ceremonies.

President D. R. Theophilus

Surely there is no other university president more interested in the welfare of students than our own president, D. R. Theophilus. In the last ten years the door to the president's offices has always been open to any student wishing to speak with him. President Theophilus is most understanding and helpful and has been a forceful instrument in aiding the growth of the University.

Dr. Theophilus was among the speakers at the dedication of the new Wallace Residence Center in October 1963.

The Board of Regents: Curtis Eaton, Twin Falls; Delmer Engelking, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Boise; Ezra Hawkes, Pocatello; Elvon Hampton, Genesee; and John Peacock, Kellogg.

Board of Regents

Coordinating and directing the activities of the University, the Board of Regents is the governing body for the University of Idaho. It obtains its authority directly from the Constitution of the State of Idaho and is responsible to the people of the State. All policies and official acts of the University must be established or approved by the Board.

Administration

A well developed and organized administration is continually at work for the University of Idaho. The many tasks managed by this busy group of officials include the administration of University publications and news, dormitories, student health services, registration, finances, as well as supervising our library and taking care of student records and student expenses to the university.

Vice Presidents

Two vice-presidents were delegated to help alleviate some of the burden from the office of the President. Mr. Steffans, who is vice-president in charge of academic affairs, was especially busy in April, when the University of Idaho was investigated for accreditation. Mr. Steffans was in charge of this evaluation, which is conducted by delegates from the Northwest Association of Secondary and Higher Schools every ten years. We can be very proud, too, of our vice-president of financial affairs, Mr. Kenneth A. Dick, who has served during the past school year as the president of the National Association of College and University Business Officers.

Student Affairs

The people who coordinate and guide student affairs are of vital importance at the University of Idaho, where they also act as a link between the students and the administration. With patience and understanding, they are capable and willing to help students with vocational and personal problems.

Honoraries

PHI ETA SIGMA

Phi Eta Sigma is active in promoting scholarship on the University of Idaho campus. Members of this national men's honorary serve as tutors in freshman courses, hold intellectual discussions with members of the faculty, and often go in teams to discuss scholarship with the different living groups. A 3.5 grade average during the freshman year is required for membership.

ALPHA LAMBDA DELTA

Alpha Lambda Delta is a national women's scholastic honorary, for which a 3.5 grade average is required during the freshman year. Annually a tea is held in the fall in honor of those women who have earned a 3.0 grade average and above at mid-term. On Mothers Day Weekend each year a joint initiation banquet is held with Phi Eta Sigma.

College of Letters and Science

BOYD A. MARTIN
Dean
College of Letters and Science

Organized at the University of Idaho in 1901, the College of Letters and Science is dedicated to both a liberal education and professional training in a selected field. The college is divided into nine major fields: Art & Architecture, Biological Science, Communications, Humanities, Home Economics, Mathematics, Music, Physical Science, and Social Science. Each of these departments provides the student with a fine education and makes an effective contribution toward the advancement of integrity, character, and personal development.

Phi Beta Kappa

Phi Beta Kappa's purpose is to promote and recognize high scholarship in the College of Letters and Science. To be eligible for membership a student must maintain the highest scholastic standards throughout his college career. Alumni of Idaho working on some academic endeavor and making outstanding achievement may be chosen for membership.

College of Letters and Science

ALPHA EPSILON RHO

Alpha Epsilon Rho, national radio-TV honorary, was installed a year ago on the Idaho campus. The purpose of this new honorary is to serve as a means of extending recognition to outstanding students in this field.

PHI MU ALPHA SINFONIA

The purpose of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia is to further the cause of good music on the Idaho campus. Male students who actively participate in one of the major musical organizations on campus and have a 2.5 GPA may join. Each year the chapter sponsors an American Music Concert. The members usher for music recitals and concerts. There is also an annual tea for music students, faculty, and other persons interested in musical activities.

THETA SIGMA PHI

Theta Sigma Phi, women's journalism honorary, promotes writing as a career among women students and women of the community. Junior women majoring in journalism with a 3.00 accumulative in journalism subjects and a 2.5 accumulative in other classes are eligible. Membership is also available to women who have done exceptional work in campus journalism activities and who possess high scholarship.

Row One: Walter Stewart, Adviser; Kip Peterson, President; Rose Weber, Adviser; Helen Cross, Adviser. Row Two: Karen Stroschein, Joyce Arthur, Jane Watts, Janice Craig, Dianne Stone.

College of Letters and Science

DELTA SIGMA RHO

Delta Sigma Rho recognizes outstanding students in debate. A pre-requisite for membership is that the student must have competed in at least six debates. Idaho's fine debate record is but one indication of the hard work put forth by this honorary and its adviser, Dr. Whitehead.

SIGMA ALPHA IOTA

Sigma Alpha Iota is a professional fraternity for women in the field of music. The requirements for membership are an over-all grade point average of 2.8 with no grades below 3.0 in music courses. Members of Sigma Alpha Iota usher at musical functions on campus. They also act as hostesses for community concert performances and musicals.

PHI UPSILON OMICRON

Phi Upsilon Omicron is an honorary and service group for home economics majors. To be eligible for membership, a student must be a sophomore and have a 2.8 accumulative.

College of Letters and Science

SIGMA DELTA CHI

Sigma Delta Chi is a national journalism fraternity for outstanding students active in journalism on the Idaho campus. The organization provides opportunity for association with professional men in the fields of journalism, radio, and television.

Row One: Jerry Brown, Fred Freeman, Mark Brown.
Row Two: Jim Manning, Bob Hofmann, Rick Wilhite.
Not pictured: Bert Cross, Head of the Department of Journalism.

PI GAMMA MU

Pi Gamma Mu is an honorary for social science majors. Members are juniors and seniors who have at least 20 credits in the social sciences and a 3.0 grade average.

Lynn Robson helps some children model clay in Child Development Lab, a course offered by the Home Economics Department.

College of Letters and Science

Rosanna Chambers, a senior mathematics major from Pocatello, surveys the globe in search of her academic destination for the fall of 1964. Miss Chambers, who was tapped for Phi Beta Kappa in her junior year at the University, received a Fulbright grant for studies at the University of Muenster in Bad Godesberg, Germany, and will further her education at that European university next fall.

Dr. William B. Hunter, Jr., Head of the Department of Humanities and Professor of English, and senior English major Carol McCrea discuss the works of a contemporary author. Since Dr. Hunter came to the University in 1959 the Department of Humanities has been constantly improving and expanding.

Dr. E. Malcolm Hause, Professor of History and Political Administration, instructs social science students in History 135, Economic History of Europe. This course is but one of many which embrace other cultures, deal with world-wide relations, and promote the "liberal" education of Letters and Science students.

College of Agriculture

JAMES E. KRAUS
Dean
College of Agriculture

DON A. MARSHALL
Associate Dean
College of Agriculture

In 1901 the College of Agriculture of the University of Idaho was created. Since that time, the College has progressed with the State, providing expanded services. At the present time the College maintains 990 acres of land in the Moscow area and 1,700 acres at experiment stations throughout Idaho. Nearly three hundred students are enrolled in the College of Agriculture in such major programs as agricultural chemistry, agricultural economics, agricultural education, agricultural engineering, agronomy, animal husbandry, bacteriology, dairy science, entomology, horticulture, plant pathology, and poultry husbandry.

ALPHA ZETA

This agricultural honorary promotes scholarship and leadership among its members and provides services for the College of Agriculture. To be eligible for this honorary a student must be in the upper one-third of his class and receive a 2.7 grade average for three semesters.

AG COUNCIL

The Ag Council coordinates the student activities within the College of Agriculture. The Council consists of a representative from each department and two faculty advisers.

AGGIE HONOR ROLL

Women enroll in agriculture courses, too. Professor Woodbury lends a helping hand to a student during Home Flower Growing Laboratory.

ALLEN S. JANSSEN
Dean
College of Engineering

College of Engineering

The College of Engineering, recognized as one of the finest engineering schools in the United States, began in 1901 when it was organized as the School of Applied Sciences. In just six short years it had advanced so greatly that it was re-organized as the College of Engineering with four departments—Civil Engineering, Mining Engineering and Metallurgy, Mechanical Engineering, and Electrical Engineering. A year later, Chemical Engineering and Agricultural Engineering had been added to its curriculum.

SIGMA TAU

Sigma Tau is an honorary established to give recognition to the outstanding men in the field of engineering. The group strives to attain practicability, sociability, and scholastic ability. In order to be eligible, a student must be of junior standing with a 3.0 grade point or better. Members are selected by the group and membership is for life.

College of Mines

Established in 1917, the College of Mines has offered curricula leading to Bachelor of Science in Mining Engineering, Metallurgical Engineering, Geological Engineering, Geology, and Geography degrees. Located near one of the chief mining regions of the world, the University of Idaho offers valuable opportunities for studying the natural geological structures situated in this area. The Mines Summer Camp offers additional opportunities to study deposits of ore materials, fossiliferous rocks, and igneous rocks.

ROLLAND R. REID
Acting Dean
College of Mines

Modern instruments of the mining industry, as well as a pictorial depiction of older mining techniques, are displayed in this showcase in the modern College of Mines building.

An example of nature's artistry, this geologic "mosaic" is actually a key to earth structure and composition.

College of Mines

James Macki, an outstanding senior metallurgical engineering major in the College of Mines, receives the J. R. Simplot award for achievement and $100 from Rolland H. Reid, acting dean of the College of Mines.

Above: Students enrolled in Fundamentals of Geology study the properties of various minerals in one of the well-equipped laboratories in the Mines Building. Below: Rocks and minerals that give Idaho its mineral wealth are continually displayed in modern display cases in the College of Mines Building.

College of Forestry

Nationally top-rated, the College of Forestry is a nation-wide attraction, drawing students from every state and many foreign countries. The students participate in a program which deals with fish, forests, range, wildlife, plants, game birds and wood utilization. By means of land gifts which include a tree nursery, and a large arboretum, the experimental forest program has developed into one of the largest in the country. These experimental forests provide countless opportunities for the forestry student to gain practical knowledge in his field. A four-year program is offered to the student in Forest Management, Wildlife Management, Range Management, Fishery Management, and Wood Utilization Technology.

ERNEST W. WOHLLETZ
Dean

XI SIGMA PI

The purpose of Xi Sigma Pi is to promote the interest of the professional aspects of forestry to students. Meetings are composed of professional speakers who give insight into the various fields of forestry. The upper 25 percent of the juniors and seniors in forestry are eligible for membership.

Jon Bergquist and Richard Olson receive Crown-Zellerbach awards from Dean Wohletz. Each year two of these scholarships are given to juniors and/or seniors in the College of Forestry.

The identification, classification, distribution, and associations of important tree species of the United States are the subject matter of Dendrology. Professor Frederic Johnson is shown here instructing a group of forest managers.

A group of wildlife managers rests for a few minutes during a field trip to the Fish Creek Elk Exclosure in the Clearwater National Forest.

College of Education

Established at the University of Idaho in 1920 to meet the growing demand for teachers in Idaho, the College of Education offers a program which leads to a teacher's certificate and qualifies graduates to teach in Idaho and other states. The College offers programs in Education, Psychology, Business Education, Music Education, Industrial Arts Education, and Physical Education.

EVERETT V. SAMUELSON
Dean
College of Education

PHI EPSILON KAPPA

Phi Epsilon Kappa is the only national professional fraternity for male students and teachers of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation. It brings to its members an appreciation of their duties toward life, toward their profession, and toward their fellow members. The establishment of the Idaho chapter has added immeasurably to the status of the Physical Education program.

Row One: Gary Smith, Gene Bates, Larry Deric, Bill Closson, Jim Keaton, Mike Houck, Ralph Hassman. Row Two: Hugh Fulton, Fred Crowell, Nelson Levias, M. E. Don Burnette, president of the Industrial Arts Student Association, presents a plaque to Dr. Biggam in recognition of his fine service and advisership to the club during the annual Industrial Arts Banquet.

College of Education

Each graduate of the College of Education gains practical and professional experience in his chosen profession during a nine-weeks period of student teaching. Chuck White, a senior in the College of Education is shown here instructing a class in one of Moscow's public schools.

Dick Arnot demonstrates woodworking technique as he constructs the base for a coffee table. Woodworking, a course offered by the Industrial Arts Division, is just one of the many practical courses offered by the College of Education.

Dr. John Green, Professor of Education, gives valuable suggestions to his class during a recitation section of Foundations of Education.

College of Business

Providing professional training for young men and women who plan to make business their career is the purpose of the College of Business. Perhaps nothing speaks better for the College of Business than the success of its graduates and the continuing demand for them. One graduate is the head of one of the nation's largest chains of super-markets. High positions are held in major insurance companies, banks, and countless other business enterprises by other graduates of the College. The College has one of the nation's most outstanding records in successfully preparing students for examinations leading to Certified Public Accountant certificates. Both stability and status have been developed in the faculty. The majority of the faculty of the College of Business possess either doctorate degrees or CPA certificates.

ALPHA KAPPA PSI

Alpha Kappa Psi, the national professional fraternity for businessmen, was only recently reactivated on the Idaho campus but it has immediately developed into one of the most active professional fraternities on campus. A 2.2 grade average is required of anyone in the College of Business or any economics major in order to be eligible for Alpha Kappa Psi. The purpose of this fraternity is to offer leadership experience in business dealings by giving the student the opportunity to help the University Administration.

Graduate School

Organized in 1925, the Graduate School of the University of Idaho now meets the needs of many college graduates who desire additional training in their respective fields. The first Master's degree was awarded in 1897 and since then the Graduate School has been providing the opportunity for advanced students to develop within themselves the ability to make creative advancement. The School offers extensive specialization in more than fifty departments.

Graduate School

Part of Miss Carolyn Clore's duties as a graduate student with a teaching assistantship in English include teaching two sections of freshman composition. Miss Clore, a native of Buhl, Idaho, received her B.A. from the University in 1963.

Howard Borer, graduate student in mathematics, instructs a section of Math 50, Calculus and Analytic Geometry I, in addition to his graduate courses.

Gilbert Gross, an M.S. candidate in Chemical Engineering from Akron, Ohio, is shown working on his research project which will provide him with the material he needs for his thesis.

PHILLIP E. PETERSON
Dean
College of Law

College of Law

The only law school in the State of Idaho, The University of Idaho College of Law affords a thorough and scientific legal education for students who are fitted by intellectual maturity and previous academic training to pursue the professional study of law. Proof of the success of the College is found by merely checking on the outstanding accomplishments of its graduates. A member of the highest accrediting agency in the United States for law schools, The Association of American Law Schools, it is also approved by the American Bar Association.

Adult Education

Created in 1959, the Division of Adult Education and Summer School supervises summer school, extension courses, and correspondence courses. It provides University educational opportunity to more than four thousand students throughout the State. The Division offers extension classes in over 35 Idaho communities, operates resident-credit centers in Boise and Mountain Home (Air Force Base), and offers approximately 180 correspondence courses in 38 areas, conferences, and workshops for business and professional groups. The on-campus services of the Division include an extensive summer school program and the Placement Service, an invaluable aid to the seniors seeking employment following their graduation from the University.

RAYMOND K. KOOI
Director
Adult Education and Summer School

Placement Director Sid Miller talks with Dottie Carson about opportunities for graduating seniors. Below: The University's services have reached a state-wide magnitude through the Division of Adult Education. Shown here is an extension course in Calculus.

One of the many valuable courses offered by the Division is this course in methods of teaching the blind to read.

Classes

The culmination of all the years of acquiring knowledge at the University of Idaho comes on commencement day.

Holly Week and the Holly Dance sponsored by the sophomore class help create the Christmas spirit in December.

Top Seniors

Graduating from the University in only seven semesters, this coed from Twin Falls attained the distinction of being the first woman ever to earn a perfect 4.00 grade-point average. A botany major, Jan became a member of every honorary she was eligible for during her college career. She became a member of Alpha Lambda Delta during her freshman year, was selected to Spurs as a sophomore, was a junior member of Phi Beta Kappa, and was a member of Mortar Board as a senior. She is an associate member of Sigma Xi, the national scientific honorary, and a member of Phi Sigma, the biological sciences honorary. Jan also held various offices in her sorority, Kappa Kappa Gamma, and served as secretary-treasurer of Panhellenic during her junior year. Jan began work on a plant research project in 1964, which she plans to complete while working for her M.S. next year.

JANICE RIEMAN GISLER

Bound for a career as a lawyer, Merlyn was indispensable to the University in his being the first chairman of the Judicial Council formed by the University in 1963. Merlyn directed the other members of Judicial Council in developing the procedures, policies, and regulations that will be followed by the Council in the coming years. Presently a senior in the College of Law, Merlyn has been a member of Bench and Bar and on the staff of the "Law Review." As an undergraduate, Merlyn was an Intercollegiate Knight, and as a senior, he was selected to Silver Lance. Merlyn has also been an active member of his fraternity, Delta Sigma Phi.

MERLYN WESLEY CLARK

A prime example of the successful combination of scholarship, leadership, and service, this vivacious elementary education major was also a campus beauty queen. Nancy became a member of Alpha Lambda Delta scholarship honorary and was chosen "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi" when she was a freshman. As a sophomore, Nancy was president of Spurs, a Navy Color Girl Finalist, and selected to AFROTC Angel Flight. She next served as junior adviser for Spurs and was a Homecoming Queen Finalist. Nancy worked hard for her sorority, Gamma Phi Beta, and was rewarded by being elected president. She was also a member of Mortar Board and of Phi Kappa Phi, the all-college scholarship honorary.

NANCY JEAN YOUNT

Top Seniors

LORENZO CARVEL WHITING

This electrical engineering major from Salmon, Idaho, did an outstanding job as A.S.U.I. Vice-President and chairman of Activities Council. Respected, well-liked, and always ready to help, Carvel gained experience for the vice-presidential position by serving on the Executive Board during his junior year. His other college activities included Intercollegiate Knights, Lambda Delta Sigma president, and the American Institute of Electrical Engineers. For his service to the University, he was awarded membership in Blue Key and Silver Lance, and for his scholarship, he was awarded membership in Sigma Tau engineering honorary.

JULIE JOAN STRICKLING

The contributions that Julie has made to our University can be shown in part by the Gem of the Mountains. She has served on the Gem staff throughout her college career and this year has been Co-Editor. In addition to the Gem, Julie has contributed her time to seeing many projects carried through to completion while working in Spurs, Mortar Board, Wesley Foundation, and various campus committees. From Wendell, Idaho, she has served her living group, Delta Delta Delta, in many capacities. While being active on campus, this coed who is majoring in English, has also been a leader in scholarship as a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

JAMES DINNEN CLEARY

Coming to the University from Seattle, Washington, Dinnen served as vice president of the Western Regional Interfraternity Council in 1963-64. Dinnen served the University in many capacities through IFC, as a member of the Athletic Board of Control, as an Intercollegiate Knight, as a member of Blue Key, and as a member of various University committees. Musically talented, this economics major was a winner in the Blue Key Talent Show as a freshman, and he directed his own musical group as a senior. Dinnen was active in United Party, and served his living group, Phi Delta Theta, in many capacities.

Top Seniors

Phil, a native of Caldwell, Idaho, has been a hard-working participant in the University's activities. He has been active in campus political circles as well as the Young Republican Club. He has been dedicated to the numerous responsibilities he has assumed—President of his fraternity, Sigma Nu; Public Relations Director for the ASUI, member of the Athletic Board of Control, member of Interfraternity Council, and campaign manager for United Party his sophomore year. While ASUI Public Relations Director, Phil brought forth several new ideas that have now become traditional because of their excellence. Among these are the ASUI-sponsored luncheons for high school student body presidents at the Boise football game, the Chamber of Commerce-Executive Board banquet, and the awarding of service citations to Moscow people for their contributions to the University.

JOHN PHILIP REBERGER

MARY LYNNE EVANS

Mary Lynne's four years at Idaho have been a whirlwind of taking part in activities, having lots of fun, and maintaining top grades as an English major along the way! To name just a few of her activities as an underclassman, M. L. was an Alpha Lambda Delta, Chairman of the New Students' Days Dance, Vice President of her pledge class in Alpha Phi sorority, Secretary of Spurs, Chairman of Blood Drive Publicity Committee, and a member of Vandalettes and Ski Club. After serving as Junior Class Secretary and Secretary of United Party, Mary Lynne tested her election-winning ability to the fullest when she ran for and won a position on the ASUI Executive Board in the spring of 1963. She was soon to become Chairman of the Educational Improvement Committee and a member of Mortar Board as well. Proving that one vivacious person can do all this and still be a top student, Mary Lynne was tapped for Phi Beta Kappa and Phi Kappa Phi during her senior year. An out-of-stater who chose the U of I, Mary Lynne hails from Baker, Oregon.

Countless hours of work and activity are tied up in the words "Intercollegiate Knights" for Gene Harder. Named a page in IK's in the spring of his freshman year, Gene worked his way up to being Duke of the University's chapter during his junior year, and then to being Royal King (National President) of the organization as a senior. Idaho is proud to claim this fine example of the service and leadership to which Intercollegiate Knights are dedicated, for Gene has traveled thousands of miles to fulfill the obligations of his office. On our own campus, Gene has participated in the activities of his fraternity, Delta Tau Delta, and has been a member of Young Republicans and Blue Key. He served as Vice President of his Junior Class and was active in the reorganization of Alpha Kappa Psi. Graduating with a major in accounting, Eugene came to the University from his hometown, Jerome, Idaho.

VIRGINIA CAROL COPE

An excellent example of how to get a lot of things done, "Ginger" has maintained a balance between academics and extra-curricular activities. She has served her sorority, Kappa Kappa Gamma, as Pledge Class Secretary, Chapter Public Relations Chairman, House Manager, and President. At the same time, she worked her way up through the ranks of the Gem staff to become Co-Editor, having first served as Residence Editor and Associate Editor. Virginia reorganized and was journalism editor of the 1963 AWS handbook. She was an active member of Communications Board and Mortar Board. After graduating in seven semesters, this slender math major from Eagle, Idaho, accepted a teaching assistantship from the U of I Department of Mathematics for spring semester of 1963-64. She will continue her graduate work in math at Michigan State University next fall.

Big Jim is bound for the University of Washington Medical School in the fall of 1964. His academic efforts at Idaho have been aimed toward acceptance into Medical School, a goal now achieved. Along with his studies, Jim has held a commendable number of responsible positions in student government and activities. As a freshman and a pledge of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, he was chosen President of Junior Interfraternity Council. He also held a spot on the Frosh Basketball team. These activities later led him to two years on the Varsity Basketball Team, the Presidency of IFC, and membership in IK's, Mu Epsilon Delta, Blue Key, and Silver Lance. During his junior year, Jim was elected to the ASUI Executive Board and was Idaho's delegate to the National IFC Convention in Pittsburgh, Wendell, Idaho, can be justly proud of the way that Jim Scheel has represented his hometown at the University.

JAMES EDWARD SCHEEL

BARBARA JO CLARK

Barbara is a top senior in every respect. She came to the University from Ogden, Utah, and established a remarkable record of service to the U of I. As a freshman, Barb was Treasurer of her class, President of her Kappa Kappa Gamma pledge class, and a member of Junior Panhellenic. She has been a member of Spurs, Women's "I" Club, Vandalettes, Physical Education Majors' Club, and Mortar Board. Perhaps the most time-consuming of her many activities were being Vice President and President of Panhellenic, Publicity Area Director for Activities Council, dorm assistant at Pine Hall first semester of her senior year, and Editor of the newsletter of the Association of College Unions. Barb is as enthusiastic about her major, P. E., and a future in teaching as she has been about the University of Idaho, and she plans to put her education to use next fall as a teacher at Clarkston, Washington.

Top Seniors

PENNY PARBERRY IVERSON

Penny is a Moscow girl who has distinguished herself at the University by doing everything she attempts remarkably well. Many of her activities have centered around good scholarship, not only for herself, but for everyone around her. She was scholarship chairman of her pledge class at Pi Beta Phi, and she later spent a year as scholarship chairman of Panhellenic. Penny also served her sorority as Rush Chairman and President. She was elected President of Alpha Lambda Delta to serve during her sophomore year, and she then became junior adviser to the group at the end of her term of office. As a senior, she was a member of Mortar Board and Phi Kappa Phi.

WILFRID W. LONGETEIG

Bill has found time aside from his business and law studies to participate in a list of activities that would be several pages long! He was elected Court Jester of IK's, was a delegate to the Blue Key national convention, and was tapped for Silver Lance. He has held offices in his fraternity, Beta Theta Pi, and he belongs to Alpha Kappa Psi, Phi Alpha Delta, and Bench and Bar. He brought the first civil suit before the Student Judicial Council and was a finalist in the College of Law's Moot Court Competition. From Craigmont, Idaho, Bill was the budget man for the ASUI Executive Board of 1963-64. He will return to the University next fall to continue his law studies.

ROBERT ALTON MCFARLAND

A history major with a real eye for politics is Bob McFarland. He has been active in class and living group activities throughout college. He was a member of Pershing Rifles and Army ROTC Drill Team and Color Guard. During the 1963-64 school year, Bob really hit his stride in his political interests. He became First Vice President of the Young Democrats of the State of Idaho and was named a delegate to the national convention. He was also President of the Idaho Center for Education in Politics and the Chairman in charge of the Mock Political Convention held on campus in March.

KAREN SMITH STROSCHIN

Working on the Argonaut and keeping track of the political situation accounted for a great deal of Karen's time at the University. A journalism major from Marsing, Idaho, Karen can discuss knowledgeably a vast variety of subjects. She was an active participant in Intercollegiate Debate and was tapped for Delta Sigma Rho, debate honorary. As a junior, Karen was News Editor and Social Editor of the Argonaut, Secretary of Theta Sigma Phi, and President of the Idaho Center for Education in Politics. She also found time to represent her sorority, Delta Delta Delta, at national convention. She became "Jason" of the Argonaut in the fall of 1963.

CLIFTON L. ELDRED

Clif, a Sigma Chi from Fruitland, Idaho, has truly dedicated himself to the service of his fellow students. He has been a member of IK's, Blue Key, and Silver Lance. He served on the ASUI Executive Board and was a candidate for ASUI President his senior year. He has also been active in Model United Nations, Young Republicans, and Young Americans for Freedom. While acting as Chairman of the Educational Improvement Committee, Clif originated the weekly student television program, "Probe," and acted as moderator for the series. Clif, who was "Aggie of the Year" in 1963, has been a member of Alpha Zeta and President of Agricultural Council.

LINDA RAE KINNEY

This witty senior from Ontario, Oregon, will be fondly remembered by every senior woman who uses her senior key privileges, for, as President of AWS, Linda was instrumental in bringing about this and several other significant changes in the Associated Women Students' regulations. Although centered around AWS for the past two years, Linda's activities covered a wide range of interests. She participated in Intercollegiate Debate for two years, was Treasurer of Spurs and took an active part in Hays Hall activities for the three years she lived there. As a senior, she became a student assistant at Pine Hall and a member of Mortar Board.

KAREN ILENE PETERSON

Journalism and top grades have been the by-words for "Kip," an energetic blonde from Middleton, Idaho. She worked as a reporter, news editor, social editor, and associate editor of the Argonaut, and thus she had well earned the title of "Jason" which was hers during second semester of her senior year. She helped bring into being and served as technical editor of the "I" literary magazine. Tapped for Theta Sigma Phi, journalism honorary, Kip served one year as Treasurer and one as President of the organization. Maintaining her high G. P. A. in spite of long hours spent at the Argonaut office, Kip was named a senior Phi Beta Kappa and Phi Kappa Phi.

ROBERT HARLAND CARLSON

Bob, who calls Twin Falls his home, has indeed contributed generously of his time and abilities to the University. He has devoted a lot of his energy to his fraternity, Delta Chi, serving as a delegate to conventions and House Manager-Treasurer. In addition, as a senior he assumed the responsibilities of being a part-time field secretary for Delta Chi at the national level. He has been a member of several honoraries—Phi Eta Sigma, Intercollegiate Knights, Alpha Kappa Psi, and Blue Key. Bob has worked diligently on Activities Council and the Student Union Program Council, and he has served as First Vice President of the Association of College Unions Region 11.

Dr. Jan Brunvand leads "The Forum," a group discussion in The Burning Stake.

A wireframe sphere is centered in the lower half of the page. A horizontal band, possibly representing a cross-section or a specific activity, passes through the middle of the sphere. The sphere is composed of a grid of lines that create a three-dimensional effect. The background is a dark, solid color, which makes the white wireframe stand out. The overall composition is minimalist and geometric.

Activities

Participation in activities make a well-rounded person, and knowledge gained through activities is easy to get at our University. Whether browsing through the book store, or taking part in some of the activities the faculty contributes to, or giving blood during the annual blood drive, or dancing any way you want to at one of the many dances held on campus each year, there is always something to be gained.

The friendly smiles and willing hands of Idaho Spurs and IK's are ready to help.

With hopefulness and anticipation a new freshman begins her college career.

Students Arriving

1964-1965 proved to be another record-breaking year with respect to enrollment figures. The figure soared above 5,300 as students flocked to the campus in late September, causing living quarters to bulge at the seams. Two hundred students were temporarily housed in the bomb shelter of the new Wallace Residence until their dorms were completed in mid-November.

Old friendships are renewed and new acquaintances made as another school year opens.

Rush

The number pledged during women's rush exceeded that of any previous year with a total of 225. The week was filled with five fun days of tours and parties and culminated in the annual Squeal Day. The most unusual part of the women's rush was the fact that five sets of twins went through rush and the members had to take a second look! Men's rush saw the pledging of 327 men to 16 fraternities during their five-day period which began the day that the women pledged.

Conventions

Because the University of Idaho is a central point in the Northwest, it was again this year the meeting place for many different conventions. The excellent facilities provided by the new Student Union are expected to bring more conventions to the University of Idaho campus in coming years.

Top: Many displays are set up for each convention. This one is for the Idaho Editors Convention which was held in May. Bottom: Jay-C-Ettes were pleased with the large turn-out for their convention.

Registration for the Professors' Seminar on "Federal Aid to Higher Learning" was handled efficiently by members of the Intercollegiate Knights in the lobby of the Student Union.

The Intercollegiate Knight Convention included the usual conferences and business meeting, but a queen contest gave the convention an added spark.

Frosh Orientation

Freshmen were introduced to the University of Idaho campus during Frosh Orientation Week. Activities began with the annual freshman convocation and an address to the students by President Theophilus, continued with pre-registration, a tea to introduce freshman women to Mrs. Neely and the leading women students at the University, and several freshman "mixers." The week was brought to a conclusion with registration and the beginning of classes.

Freshmen had a wide array of cookies to choose from at the tea table.

Registration

This year's registration hit an all-time high with approximately 5,074 students registered first semester. Second semester's enrollment dropped to about 4,764. Both semester's registration for the year 1963-64 were held in the Memorial Gymnasium.

Hootenanny

The Northern Enterprises, Inc., Spokane, presented eight folk-singing groups who alternated with a group of square dancers for this year's Hootenanny. The college age performers are all from the Northwest area, and have been organized for about 6 to 8 months.

Parents Day

Parent's Day was highlighted by the professor's seminar on "Federal Aid to Higher Education," guided tours of the new SUB, the Vandal's victory, a Victory Buffet Dinner, the talent show which was won by the SAE's Deacon Street Three, the Parent's Day Dance, and Registration of Parents contest won by Delta Delta Delta and Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Henry Mancini

Four thousand persons packed Memorial Gymnasium on Friday evening, October 11, to hear Henry Mancini and his academy award-winning 40-piece orchestra play his best-selling selections and medleys of tunes by Peter Rose and Victor Young. The two hour concert ended in a standing ovation and four encores for Mancini.

Henry Mancini began the concert with the theme of Holly Golightly's Japanese neighbor in "Breakfast at Tiffany's."

During the performance Mancini proved to the crowd that he is a pianist as well as director as he sat down at the keyboard to play 1962's academy award-winning theme song, "The Days of Wine and Roses."

Homecoming

The 1963 Homecoming weekend was very exciting. Not only did we win 64-6 against U. of Pacific, but the weekend was climaxed by the crowning of two queens, Jeri Ross and Kathy Baxter. Twelve thousand viewed the Idaho victory, and during the game the "I" Club blanket was presented to the Vandal Booster of the Year, George Klein of Grangeville. Spirits were high on the U. of I. campus!

Martin Denny

Martin Denny and his group imported the lush tropical atmosphere of Hawaii to Idaho's SUB dedication in late October. Denny's group, playing exotic music produced with rare primitive instruments, drew a capacity crowd to the new ballroom and made the event quite successful.

Master of Ceremonies Denny adds a bit of spice to his already lively performance.

The U of I campus was buzzing with activities on the October 25-28 weekend. A number of luncheons and banquets filled Friday and Saturday. President D. R. Theophilus acted as Master of Ceremonies at the Friday evening dedication banquet, and Ezra Hawkes, president of the Board of Regents, gave the dedication address. The Vandaleers completed the program with their special Centennial presentation. While the students were busy with their activities, the visitors attended convention of the editors and publishers of Idaho newspapers, the Annual Asphalt Institute, and the Association of College Schools of Architecture. General themes at luncheons centered around Social and Professional Concerns in the Teaching Program. The Idaho-San Jose game was another highlight as Idaho came through with a 28-12 victory Saturday afternoon. Featured entertainer at the Saturday dance was Martin Denny, who presented an evening program of music ranging from the conventional to the exotic. The dedication of the SUB brought over 55 letters of congratulations in one day from all fifty states and from the late President Kennedy.

Mock Political Convention

Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., United States Ambassador to South Vietnam, and Republican Minority Leader Everett S. Dirksen were the presidential and vice-presidential choices of Idaho students at the bi-partisan Mock Political Convention which was held in the Student Union Ballroom on March 15 and 16. The confab was opened by State Republican Chairman John McMurray who lauded the two-party system of American politics. Keynote speakers Lloyd Walker, State Democratic Chairman, and State Senator Perry Swisher, R-Bannock, focused their addresses on Republican contender Barry Goldwater. During the convention, Idaho students expressed their opinions on such important national problems and questions as civil rights, the medicare program, federal aid to education, and continued farm price supports.

The convention opened with the presentation of the Stars and Stripes by the Army Color Guard.

Balloons and confetti were just two of the items that made the convention seem like the real thing.

The delegation from Colorado followed neighboring Arizona's precedent and went Goldwater all the way.

The ballroom was filled to capacity as Idaho students participated in this annual invaluable campus experience in American politics.

In the waning hours of the convention tired delegates took final action—but Goldwater fans refused to let the fire die under their favorite son.

WSU Walk

With the temperature around 45 degrees and a "slight drizzle" falling, about 125 Vandal fans started on the 38th walk to Pullman. When the Washington State Police Escort suggested that the walk stop due to poor visibility, the entire group switched to the railroad tracks for the remaining few miles. Approximately three hours later, they arrived at the Compton Union Building on the WSU Campus, tired and soaked but full of Idaho spirit.

SUB Life

Idaho's spacious and luxurious Student Union is the nucleus of student activities. With the new addition to the building, which was dedicated this year, the University has become a center for state-wide conventions. But to the Idaho student, the SUB is a "home away from home"—a place to relax, study, and feel at home.

Parents enjoyed the facilities of the SUB this fall during Parent's Day

The SUB is the scene of countless campus and living group dances during the year. Erected by the student funds, the students now benefit from the services provided by their fine building.

The Student Union becomes a place for international cultural exchange each month when the India Student Association uses its facilities.

Idaho debaters Steve Meyer and Troy Smith debate the issue of "Federal Aid to Education" against a Washington State team. In this case the Student Union was used for academic purposes.

Smorgasbords are a common occurrence at the Student Union. Students frequently partake of the delicious foods prepared by the Student Union Food Service.

The Blue Bucket Inn has been a popular attraction on the Student Union program. Each Sunday evening special foods are offered to students at reasonable prices. The usual Sunday evening menu includes pancakes of various kinds. Occasionally the menu changes and buffets featuring foods of various nations are offered. This year a German buffet and two Chinese buffets highlighted the Blue Bucket menu. Miss Ann Albee served as student chairman of the Blue Bucket Inn.

SUB Life

Recreation is a key item in student services offered by the Student Union. Bowling classes offered by the Physical Education Department use the facilities of the SUB.

Keeping pace with the season, Mrs. Farnsworth, the SUB decorating committee members and SUB employees decorate the Student Union's Christmas tree.

This pretty waitress invites the public to a charming oriental atmosphere and tempting exotic food during the Blue Bucket Inn's Chinese buffet.

Holly Week

Caroling, a style show, and the Holly Dance highlighted the 1963 Holly Week. The sophomore class caroling party on Thursday preceded the announcement of the finalists for Holly Queen. The grand finale of the week was the dance, with the crowning of Chris Hunt, Forney, during intermission. Outstanding sophomores named were Gerald Tell, Shoup, College of Engineering; Bob Bushnell, SAE, College of Letters and Science; Steve Schmidt, Farm House, College of Agriculture; Fred Brackebusch, off campus, College of Mines; and Marcia Knutsen, Houston, College of Education. The Lambda Chis awarded first-place trophies to the Alpha Chis and the Theta Chis, winners of the door decoration contest for living groups.

Holly Week ended on a dreamy note with the dance on Saturday night.

The Alpha Chis won the annual Lambda Chi door decoration contest with their display, a Christmas tree of individually colored circles.

With this stained glass window effect, the Theta Chis won first place in the men's division.

The University of Idaho students donated 781 pints of blood during the annual three-day Blood Drive this spring, exceeding the goal of 750 pints set by the Red Cross. In the living group competition, Delta Delta Delta sorority and Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity received first prizes. Eleven other fraternities were credited with over 100 percent of their quota. The men's and women's groups with the least participation were each given a bottle of Geritol as an inspiration for next year.

Blue Key Talent Show

A variety of sixteen acts comprised the program for the Blue Key Talent Show. Masters of Ceremonies, Jim Johnston, Farm House, and Greg Malcom, Phi Delt, provided a line of famous jokes and satire of the "Blue Key variety." The show was sponsored by Blue Key, the upperclassmen's honorary, under the direction of Buzz McCabe, Phi Delt.

Frosh Week

Frosh Week was filled with fun and excitement. The week included the annual legs contest, the tug-of-war, and the Frosh dance. The winners of the legs contest, Camilla Good, Pi Phi, and Ron Porter, Fiji, were selected before an enthusiastic crowd in the Bucket, where there was standing room only. Saturday morning found Paradise Creek deep and the water cold. The Frosh rallied over the Sophomores to win the tug-of-war contest. The week came to a close with the crowning of the Frosh Royalty: Dick Parsons, Willis Sweet, and Zoe Anne Gripton, Pi Phi. The entire week was considered a success by the freshman class.

Dr. Lawrence H. Chamberlain spoke at the convocation honoring the 75th year since the University's founding.

75th Anniversary Celebration

Dr. Chamberlain, a member of the University faculty in the Thirties, and now vice-president of Columbia University, gave the major address at the University's 75th Anniversary Convocation. Other speakers were Governor Robert E. Smylie; Ezra M. Hawkes, president of the Board of Regents; James Roper, president of the Alumni Association; and William Frates Wither- spoon, ASUI president. Climaxing the convocation was the announcement by President Theophilus of a gift of a carillon to the University.

It was a happy 75th birthday as the University celebrated a combination of triumph over the past years and challenge of the years to come.

Everyone listened attentively to the worthy words spoken in memory of the University's founding.

Spring Dances

The long-anticipated arrival of Spring each year brings a new surge of enthusiasm to the campus in the form of spring formals, raunch dances, and cruises.

ASUI Elections

Idaho students participated in the ASUI elections with moderate enthusiasm this spring but, most important, a new factor made its appearance and will be significant in future elections. Immediately following the announcement that United Party had disbanded, seven independent candidates threw their hats into the ring of campus politics. Five of these candidates succeeded in their bids for offices while their powerful opponent, CUP Party, garnered six positions. Jim Johnston, running independently, won the ASUI Presidency by a margin of 151 votes. His vice-presidential running mate, Larry Nye, was successful in his bid, winning by 583 votes. Running independently, Larry Grimes, Bill McCann, and John Sackett were elected to Executive Board. Campus Union Party candidates who were successful E-Board candidates included L. S. Oberoi, Gerald Huettig, Cathy Lyon, Nancy Grubb, Craig McPhee, and Tom Bates.

At the smoker in the Bucket, Jim Johnston discussed his views on a particular issue of current importance.

Bill Witherspoon, outgoing ASUI President, installed the newly-elected E-Board members at a banquet held just prior to spring vacation.

George Alberts, E-Board candidate, clarified his position with respect to political issues at the Election Eve Smoker.

Climaxing the 10 days of vigorous campaigning, students voted for candidates of their choice—and the "die" for next year's student government was cast.

ASUI Elections

Election Board members put in many hours counting ballots on March 12th.

Newly married and engaged senior women stepped through the Pansy Ring, and then watched a trousseau style show, climaxed by the appearance of the wedding party. Karen Smith Stroschein wore her own wedding dress as the bride, and her attendants were Marilyn Parish, Lynn Earp, and Dee Coonts. Mother's Day Weekend

Mother's Day Weekend on the Idaho campus is always packed with activity. Traditional events include the Helldivers' show and Song Fest on Friday night and on Saturday, the Phi Delt Turtle Derby, May Fete with its many awards, and the Orchesis and Pre-Orchesis show. This year Sunday was very special because the David Memorial Carillon was dedicated. It was given to the University by the David family in memory of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. David. Graduation

A record number of graduates—1,077—including eight doctoral candidates—were awarded degrees during the University of Idaho's 69th commencement exercises June 14, 1964. Commissions, honorary degrees, certificates of merit on retirement, and other special awards such as 75 "putting husband through" certificates brought the total of persons honored to more than 1,200. Robert V. Hansberger, president of Boise Cascade Corp., addressed the graduates on the topic "Fence Worship," warning people not to become lazy and confine their thinking within a certain few areas of conformity.

Jan Rieman Gisler received the Lindley Award to the outstanding graduate in the Class of 1964. Senior awards were made at the practice session the day before commencement exercises.

50-year graduates, members of the Class of 1914, were honored at the commencement exercises.

The first of the procession of 1,077 graduates enter the Memorial Gymnasium.

Robert V. Hansberger, president of Boise Cascade Corporation, was the commencement speaker for the University of Idaho Class of 1964.

Graduation

Captain Davey, Dr. Theophilus, and Mr. Hansberger led the long line of faculty and graduates into the ceremonies.

1,077 degree seekers and 4,000 well-wishers filled Memorial Gymnasium to capacity.

A wife receives congratulations from her husband on her "P.H.T." degree, one of 75 "putting husband through" degrees granted this year.

The library lawn was a good place for congratulating the new graduates and taking pictures of the proud degree-holders.

Professors visited various living groups in the fall as part of the freshman orientation program.

Idaho's senior women became acquainted with the American Association of University Women at the AAUW Tea.

Campus Life

Throughout the year many note-worthy events occur on the University of Idaho campus. Some of these are humorous, some are meditative, some combine the excitement of winning with the sorrow of losing. But each comprises a part of the great kaleidoscope of events known as campus life.

The cogs of the machinery of student government at work—campus elections.

Fine Arts at Idaho add a touch of refinement to the academic atmosphere.

University housemothers enjoyed their annual tea in the Student Union this spring.

The Theta Sigma Phi Banquet was held in the Moscow Hotel Dining Room. Mrs. Dorothy Powers spoke to the members and initiates on journalism as a profession.

Campus Life

Once again this year the AWS sponsored a highly successful tea, the purpose of which was to acquaint new women students and returning women students.

The class of 1966, the first two-time loser in the history of the University, lost the annual Frosh-Soph Tug-of-War on Paradise Creek.

Vandaleers

The Vandaleers, under the direction of Glen R. Lockery, can be proud of their performances throughout the year. Included in their many appearances are a Christmas Tour of the Panhandle, a Spring tour of Southern Idaho, participation in "Belshazzar's Feast," and performance at the 75th Anniversary Celebration. This select group is also asked to sing at many of the conventions held at the University. The final performance of the year is at Commencement and always ends a very successful year.

Singing for convention luncheons keeps the Vandaleers busy throughout the year.

VANDALEER PERSONNEL: Soprano: Kay Ahlschlager, Linda Jo Allen, Gerry Cosby, Sandra Engelking, Diana Gray, Dianne Green, Janet Hall, Carol Johnson, Lorna Kipling, Kathie McConnell, Jan McKeivitt, Karen Nelson, Mary Jodeen Peterson, Cheryl Pratt, Virginia Reynolds, Janet Walker. Alto: Carolyn Beasley, Sandra Brown, Karen Gormsen, Susan Irwin, Kalle Jergensen, Patricia Krous, Karen Longeteig, Donna Meacham, Linda Nelson, Karen Oleson, Nancy Ruth Peterson, Elizabeth Ann Smith, Cheryl Stoker, Judith Stuebbe, Roberta Timm. Tenor: David Cada, Robert Caron, Pete Casebolt, Preston Ellsworth, Leonard Kerbs, Wayne Nugent, Doran Parkins, Robert Perkins, Larry Ratts, Glenn Ritter, George Skramstad, Robert Symms, Tom Schorzman. Bass: Hugh Allen, John Baker, Alvin Burgemeister, Winston Cook, Robert Farnam, James Johnston, Michel Lee, James McConnell, John McDermid, John Mundt, Adrian Nelson, Gary Potratz, Michael Requist, Robert Tanaka.

The annual Christmas Candlelight Concert in Memorial Gym drew a large crowd from the campus and the surrounding area.

University Singers is an organization open, without audition, to all students interested in singing. Their performances this year included participation in "Belshazzar's Feast" first semester and May Fete second semester. "Elijah," an oratorio by Felix Mendelssohn-Bartholdy, was performed in late May. A major choral work such as this is performed only once in every four years. The accompanists for the year were Patti Folz and Melda Williams on Piano and Mrs. Merial Grimm on Organ.

University Singers

The Marching Band is the group on campus that performs for the most people. Some of their performances include parades, half-time shows for all home football games, special pep rallies, and presenting a portion of the half-time show at the WSU-Idaho Game. This group also acts as hosts for the Annual Band Day festivities.

Marching Band

For Homecoming, the traditional "I" was formed at half-time.

A salute to the faculty was included in one of the formations presented while the band played "Pomp and Circumstance."

University Symphony Orchestra

To start out a busy year, the Orchestra performed Vaughn Williams' "Serenade to Music" and participated in "Belshazzar's Feast." The "Serenade to Music" was also presented in connection with the Fine Arts Week in March. Their Spring Concert was held in April and featured Haydn's "Clock Symphony" and "Lieutenant Kije" by Prokofiev. The Annual Concerto Concert was held in May with five seniors as soloists. They were Angela Sherbenou, Piano; Patricia Cannon, Flute; Gay Silha, Violin; Harry Betts, Trombone; and James Schoepflin, Piano.

ORCHESTRA PERSONNEL: Violin: Gay Silha, Lynne Patton, Gilbert Piger, Anita Ankcorn, Lois Lyon, Lawrence Cor, Nelda Lien, Judith Worden, Robert Lewis, Richard Bauer, Lee Seitz. Viola: George Skramstad, Carol Wolfe, Carlan Silha, Larry Ratts. Violoncello: David Whisner, Marjorie Dragoo, Martha Watson, Sue Ellis, Don Harmsworth, Rae Patton. String Bass: Merial Grimm, Joe Goss, Myrick Pullen, Verne Windham. Flute: Norma Hagerman, Patricia Cannon. Oboe: Bertella Hansen, Robert Bares. Clarinet: Woody Bausch, James Schoepflin. Tenor Saxophone: Milly Staples. Bassoon: Judith Brunvand, John Lind. Trumpet: Jeffrey Grimm, Travis McDonough. French Horn: Lawrence Stamper, Travers Huff, Peter Van Horne, Stephan Tennyson. Trombone: Dan Bachelder, Wayne McProud, Roger Fordyce. Tuba: Garry Walker. Percussion: Michael Requist, Diana Gray. Tympani: Phillip Coffman.

"Adagio" from Concerto for Cello and Orchestra by Haydn was performed by Harry Betts, Trombonist.

Patricia Cannon played the second and third movements of Mozart's Concerto No. 1 in G Major. She also gave a Senior Recital in late April.

SYMPHONIC BAND PERSONNEL: Flute: Norma Hagerman, Patricia Cannon, Angela Sherbenou, Glenda Walradt, Sharon Sheeley, Jonathan Wells, Betty Webster. Oboe: Bertella Hansen, Robert Bares. E Flat Clarinet: Joy Walker. Clarinet: James Schoepflin, Woody Bausch, David Wells, Kay Hostetler, Lonny Gunther, Sandra Evans, Bob Aldridge, Barry Boydston, Karen Gormsen, Diana Axtell, Rosanne Becker. Alto Clarinet: David Rash. Bass Clarinet: Susan Mortensen. Bassoon: John Lind. Alto Saxophone: Milly Staples, Kalle Jergensen. Tenor Saxophone: Irena Robison. Baritone Saxophone: Joe Kantola. French Horn: Peter Van Horne, William Burke, Reva Jones, Winston Cook, Pamela Haugen. Cornet: Jeff Grimm, James Hunt, JoAnn Slade, Dennis Lindahl, Travis McDonough, John Lawson. Trumpet: Ervin Hirning, Fritz Sprute. Trombone: Roger Fordyce, Harry Betts, Dale Bening, James McConnell, Jim Dietzman, Wayne McProud. Baritone: Dan Bachelder, William Jones, Ruth Ann Knapp, Richard Bourassa. Tuba: Garry Walker, John Peterson. Percussion: Al Whitby, Diana Gray, Curtis Chase. Tympani: Mike Requist.

University Bands

The University Bands had a very successful year under the direction of Mr. David Seiler and Mr. Phillip Coffman. This department includes five busy organizations. The Marching Band performs in the fall during the football season and the Varsity Pep Band takes over for the basketball games. The Brass Band is styled after the British Brass Bands and plays concerts and assemblies throughout the year. The Concert and Symphonic Bands make up the larger organizations. Members of these groups play major concerts and perform for different campus activities such as May Fete and the 75th Anniversary Celebration. This year the Brass and Symphonic Bands also went on a tour of North-Central Idaho for two days which was very successful. Their final appearance of the year is playing for Commencement.

The combined Concert and Symphonic Bands played Holst's "Moorside March" and Gliere's "Russian Sailor's Dance" in their final concert of the year. JoAnn Slade was trumpet soloist with a chamber band on "Dramatic Essay" by Clifton Williams for their Spring Concert.

Musical Recitals

The Recital Hall in the Music Building is the scene of many concerts throughout the year. Student Recitals are held once a month on Tuesdays at 3:10 p.m. and give students a chance to perform. The evening concerts include Junior and Senior Recitals, Opera Workshop, Brass Band Concerts and Woodwind Ensembles. An annual feature of the Music Department is the Student Composition Workshop which is made up of compositions by students in the department.

Gay Silha, Concertmistress of the Orchestra, played a Senior Recital on the violin accompanied by Judy Sinclair. She was also a soloist with the Orchestra in their Concerto Concert.

Angela Sherbenou, pianist, played a Senior Recital in early April, was feature soloist with the Vandaleers on their tour of Southern Idaho, and performed in the Concerto Concert with the Symphony Orchestra. She also played a recital on the flute.

A Piano Recital and a Clarinet Recital kept James Schoepflin busy this spring. He was a piano soloist in the Concerto Concert in late May.

The University Brass Band is considered unique in that it is the only one of its kind in the Northwest. This Band plays music which is used by the Brass Bands that are common in England. This year two concerts, an assembly at Moscow High School, and a tour of North-Central Idaho with the Symphonic Band were the main appearances of this group.

Dr. J. Chalmers Vincent, Professor of History at the University of Georgia; Dr. Marian C. McKenna, Assistant Professor of History at Manhattanville College of the Sacred Heart in New York; and Dr. C. O. Johnson, Professor Emeritus from Washington State University, all biographers of Senator William E. Borah, were present for the Borah Foundation Lectures in October.

Senator Frank Church discussed Borah's role in American Foreign Policy.

Borah Foundation Lectures

This year the Borah lectures revolved around the centennial celebration in Idaho and were in honor of Senator William E. Borah. Three biographers of Idaho's most famous Senator were on hand in October to discuss "Borah: His Contributions to Peace." Dr. McKenna spoke on "Borah: the Man," Dr. Johnson's topic was "Borah: His Political Impact," and Dr. Vincent's topic was "Borah: the Diplomat." Senator Frank Church participated in the Borah lectures in March when he spoke on the topic "Borah: His Role in American Foreign Policy." Dr. Robert Hosack headed the Borah Committee for 1963-64.

As guest speaker of the Borah Foundation and the Public Events Committee, James J. Wadsworth, former United Nations Ambassador, discussed the "Prospects for Permanent Peace."

Public Events

During the academic year distinguished men and women of world acclaim travel to the Idaho campus to participate in the education process of the University. The programs presented by the Public Events Committee, the Community Concert Association, and the Borah Foundation, all in conjunction with the A.S.U.I., not only enhance the cultural education of the Idaho student, but also educate him in current affairs.

T. H. White, eccentric British novelist, addressed Idaho students on "The Pleasures of Learning" on November 1.

Stopping in Moscow on their way to the World's Fair, the Bayanilian Dance Group presented an enjoyable exhibition before Idaho students and members of the Moscow Community Concert Association.

Dramatist Philip Hanson returned to the Idaho campus this winter—this time with a humorous presentation of Huckleberry Finn. Hanson's remarkable talent drew a capacity crowd to the University auditorium.

On April 29 a group of Danish gymnasts, who were touring the United States prior to the opening of the World's Fair, presented a public events exhibition in Memorial Gymnasium. The team performed graceful and team-coordinated feats before a large crowd of students and townspeople.

Public Events

Janos Starker, famed cellist, presented a concert as guest artist of the ASUI and Moscow Community Concert Association.

Eddy Gilmore, Pulitzer Prize-winning correspondent of the Associated Press appeared on the University's Public Events platform on Friday, March 6. Gilmore spoke on "Changing Tides in World Affairs" before a large crowd of students and faculty members in Memorial Gymnasium. Gilmore stated, "World War III will never occur . . ." and supported his thesis by expressing his ideas on current trends in Moscow-Washington and Russia-Red China relations.

A Thurber Carnival

The A.S.U.I. and the drama department presented "A Thurber Carnival" October 31-November 2, 1963. The production was a series of sketches written by Thurber. Miss Jean Collette was the director.

Grayson Gibbs, Lorenzo Nelson, Mary Gladhart, and Walter Brennen present "The Unicorn in the Garden."

Joanne Myers portrays the domineering wife and Wallace Lewis the hen-pecked husband in "The Secret Life of Walter Mitty."

"If Grant Had Been Drinking at Appomattox" was presented by Walter Brennen, Lorenzo Nelson, Lloyd Agte, George Pantalone, and Don Volk.

What happens to husbands on gentlemen's night at the department stores during Christmas season? Caryn Snyder, Grayson Gibbs, Lorenzo Nelson, Barbara Ware, and Wallace Lewis answered this question in "Gentlemen Shoppers."

The Court Room scene; "Will Shylock get his pound of flesh?"

Merchant of Venice

"The Merchant of Venice," by William Shakespeare, was given March 19, 20, 21, 1964, in conjunction with the celebration of Shakespeare's 400th anniversary. The play was given during the Fine Art's Week held on campus.

Leonardo, Robert Fisher, and Bassanio, Walter Brennen, question Old Bobbo, Richard Nelson, and his son, Launcelot, played by Terry Bolstad.

Shylock, Lorenzo Nelson, threatening Portia, Linda Steigers, and Antonio, Preston Ellsworth, for his pound of flesh.

Niccolo and Nicollette

The Children's Play was presented December 6-7, 1963, under the direction of Mr. Chavez and Colleen Fordyce. A mean magician turned the Prince into a puppet, but after many trials and tribulations the spell was finally broken.

Nicollette, Karen Sterner, and Shamus, Terry Bolstad, free the puppet Niccolo, Richard Parker.

Shamus tries to attract attention in order to get into the castle by selling his medicine outside the gates of the castle.

Inside the castle, Shamus is going to cure the guards aches and pains with the medicine, while the Duchess, Marilyn Muir, looks on.

The Leprechaun is after the wicked magician, Richard Nelson.

The Rooster, Nikki McDonnell, who thinks he makes the sun come up with his crowing, threatens to have his chickens glue Shamus' shoes to the floor.

Everybody will be happy ever after!

Cecily, Mary Gladhart, is thrilled that Earnest, or Algernon, Mike Wetherell, wants to marry her.

The Importance of Being Earnest

"The Importance of Being Earnest" by Oscar Wilde was presented by the A.S.U.I. Drama Department in the arena theatre April 30-May 6. Directed by Edgar Vandevort, the comedy about London society showed which man was Earnest.

Algy tells Jack, Walter Brennan, about Mr. Bunbury, while Lane, John McMahon, looks on.

Orchesis and Pre-Orchesis

"Out of the Subconscious" was the theme of the show presented by Orchesis and Pre-Orchesis, the modern dance honoraries, on Mother's Day Weekend. The groups also presented "Kaleidoscope of Designs, Shapes, and Sounds" for a Christmas program.

Orchesis: Front—Rosalind Ogletree, Carol Ives, Cookie Fancher. Back—Jackie Smith, Mary Bjstrom, Laurence Byrne.

Pre-Orchesis: Elizabeth Jones, Urania Morris, Becky Tridle, Pat Riddle, Rosalie Maio, Jan Kroll, Carol Custer, Jan Kindschy, Margie Brunn, Carol Groves, Sue Garten. Back—Ann McClintick, Cheryl Barrett, Katey Hawks.

"Primitive Rhythms" are mimicked by Rosalind Ogletree, Laurence Byrne, Chet Adkins, Jackie Smith, and Cookie Fancher.

"I now pronounce you man and wife . . ."—a mock wedding at the Mother's Day show presented by the Helldivers.

Bridesmaids dive for the bridal bouquet.

Helldivers

The Helldivers presented a very entertaining show on Mother's Day Weekend. They performed three times on Friday and Saturday evenings to the theme of "Splashing Through the Year." Their many acts included everything from Fourth of July sparklers to Halloween goblins to a June bridal party. The grand finale depicted by the group was the end of a college year—traditional commencement exercises.

Faculty Achievements

William P. Barnes, professor of mechanical engineering, has 15 years experience in teaching thermodynamics, heat transfer, internal combustion engines, jet propulsion and nuclear engineering. He is a member of eight professional societies and the author of 12 major publications.

Dr. Laurence W. Cor, associate professor of languages, was a Fulbright exchange teacher to France before coming to the University. He is president of the Northwest Association of Teachers of French and the author of several publications.

Twenty-four outstanding faculty members were selected by the Educational Improvement Committee and honored at May Fete for their contributions to higher education. Selection was made on the basis of education, experience, professional memberships, publications, and activities of benefit to the students. In addition to the four men pictured here, the following were also recognized for their noteworthy achievements: William A. Billingsley, music; Alfred Dunn, art; Dr. William Folz, ag economics; Dr. Leon G. Green, physical education; Dr. William B. Hunter, humanities; Dr. Robert Otness, psychology; Dr. Edson Peck, physics; Charles Smiley, mining; Dr. Frederick Weltzin, education; Dr. Guy Anderson, bacteriology; Louis Edwards, Jr., chemical engineering; D. W. Fitzsimmons, ag engineering; Dr. Vail Foy, English; Dr. Robert Hurley, English; Dr. Francis Seaman, philosophy; Lee Sharp, forestry; William Sloan, architecture; and W. Staley, mining engineering.

Dr. Elmer K. Raunio, professor and chairman of chemistry, has taught organic chemistry and biochemistry at the University since 1949. He was a National Science Foundation teaching fellow at Stanford University in 1962-63. Five of his technical publications have appeared in journals of chemistry.

Dr. Robert Hosack, professor of political science, has been with the University for over twenty years. He has served as an adviser for the Model United Nations delegation, cosmopolitan Club, and Pi Gamma Mu. He holds numerous professional memberships in the field of political science.

WILLIAM WITHERSPOON, ASUI President

ASUI

William Witherspoon, ASUI President 1963-64, led the Executive Board and the student government of the University of Idaho to a full and rewarding year. This year was a busy year for Bill. Among the projects were a compact handbook to replace the six previous ones and the establishment of fair booths representing the University at five state fairs. The University of Idaho celebrated its 75th anniversary, and this year's ASUI officers and Executive Board were the 60th in a long line of capable student officers.

A math major, Bill calls Rupert, Idaho, his home. His four years at the University of Idaho have been full and active. During his freshman year he was chairman of the Frosh Dance, an Intercollegiate Knight, and a member of the SUB Dance Committee. His sophomore year was just as active. Bill served as Sophomore Class President, Chairman of Holly Week, and was a member of Blue Key. The following year he was elected to the Executive Board, and he was tapped for Silver Lance, the highest collegiate honorary for men. He rounded out his school career as ASUI President. As President, Bill continually promoted the University and strove more to establish for the University a place of prestige among the people of Idaho.

This year's Executive Board marked the 60th anniversary of the organization of the Associated Students of the University of Idaho. The actions of the E-Board this year proved that just as in 1903, the students in 1963 needed student government and used it. It was a year in which the E-Board not only carried on the traditional functions but also reached out into new areas. Among the new programs instituted by this year's Executive Board were the following: Booths at five different fairs in the state to further the image of the University; Creation of a student speaker's bureau to send talented speakers to speak at their home community about the school; Formation of an ASUI Pep Band to provide informal jazz music at athletic events; Creation of a Varsity Rifle Team to represent the University; Completion of one compact handbook to replace six old booklets; and Creation of an honorary lifetime ASUI membership for outstanding alumni. The above programs, in addition to many minor improvements and the normal activities, made this year's Board a hardworking and active body. They did a fine job in serving their University.

ASUI Office

Under the able leadership of Gale Mix, Student Union Manager, and his associates the SUB enjoyed another year of success. A few highlights were the openings of the remodeled cafeteria and dining rooms, the new bookstore, and the game room, opened when the bookstore left its temporary home. Perhaps the SUB's success can best be exemplified by the telegram display in the main lounge in October on the occasion of the opening of the new addition. The SUB received congratulations from the late President John F. Kennedy and from most of the United States.

Public Relations

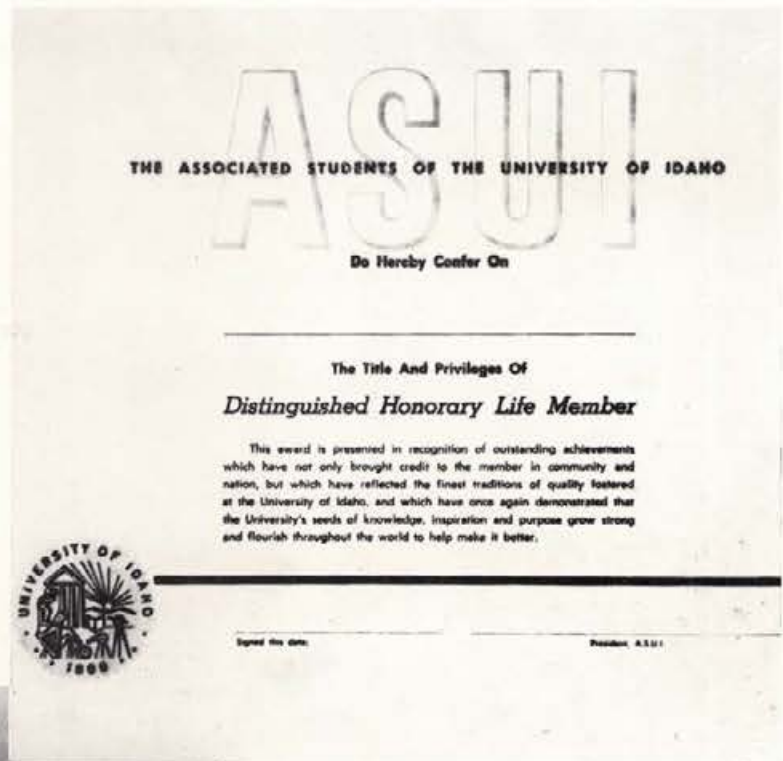

The office of Public Relations, although new, has become an important area of student government. Much of the office's efforts are aimed toward improving the relationships between the City of Moscow and the University of Idaho students. In this sense, the Public Relations Director works on projects such as expanding the student-faculty retreat to incorporate the town as well, engaging in meetings with the Chamber of Commerce, and encouraging joint activities such as the outdoor living show and numerous other projects.

Other projects aimed at improving understanding include the creation of the Honorary Life Membership program in the A.S.U.I., coordination of traditional Boise game activities, hosting the Idaho Association of Student Councils, securing alumni comments on the University and the value of an Idaho education, and, finally, the addition of an associate director.

The Director of Public Relations is further responsible for advising and assisting the Executive Board, the ASUI President and Vice-President in all matters concerning public relations with the Legislature, the Regents, the Administration, the State, the alumni, the community, and the student body.

Certificates of life membership in the ASUI were given to thirteen outstanding Idaho graduates.

Assisting the Executive Board is one of the duties of the Public Relations Director.

Activities Council

The Activities Council, headed by the ASUI Vice-President, is an important part of the student government at the University of Idaho. The council is composed of five program-area directors, including services, recreational, social, cultural and educational, and events. The council schedules and coordinates all campus activities.

EDUCATIONAL AND CULTURAL AREA—The Educational and Cultural Area has helped to broaden the interests of the students at the University of Idaho. The committee has handled exhibits and decorations in the SUB as well as coffee hours and forums. Left to Right: Dick Jennings, director; Susie Beebe, Sally Kimball, Jim Freeman, Julie Hyslop.

Gem of the Mountains

This year's GEM grew in size as the student body increased in number. The 1964 Book is over twenty pages longer. The GEM is designed in a modernistic style with relative simplicity as a contrast to last year's elaborate, old-fashioned Centennial issue. Confusion reigned as usual, but everything seemed to fit together in the end as the book took its final form.

Getting a head start so that the last minute rush will not be quite so great are Julie Strickling, Ruth Ann Knapp, Mary Jo James, Elizabeth Schimmel, and Ann Barnard.

Co-editor Julie Strickling types one of the many pages to be put in the GEM.

Co-editor Virginia Cope checks pictures and copy before they are sent to the printer.

The third floor of the SUB was again alive with activity as the 1964 GEM was fitted together. There was some organization among all the pictures, negatives, copy paper, erasers, pencils, typewriters, and people. The capable staff of volunteer students, ably led by Julie and Ginger, kept close tabs on all campus activities to record in the GEM as memories for all students.

Idaho Argonaut

Two ladies of the Idaho press corps took on the task of editing the Argonaut this year and proved that journalism is far from a man's field exclusively. Mrs. Karen Smith Stroschein, who edited the Argonaut first semester under the name of Miss Karen Smith, and Miss Karen (Kip) Peterson shared duties and honors of Jasons.

The Argonaut's technical mode of production changed from letterpress to offset printing this year, which further distinguished the all-campus newspaper as one of the first college organs to be printed in such a manner.

This year's staff was the first to begin and finish a year in the new Argonaut offices in the basement of the Student Union Building. Staff members kept busy as in past years shuffling between the modern SUB offices and the Moscow Daily Idahonian, where the paper is printed. Campus elections, with dissolution of old parties and realignment of political factions, challenge of Idaho mandatory Bible reading in public schools and extension of University President D. R. Theophilus' tenure were stories which were found first in the Argonaut.

KUOI

KUOI, located on the third floor of the Student Union Building, is the student owned and operated AM radio station. Its primary purpose is to give inexperienced students an opportunity to become familiar with the many aspects of radio station operation. The fields of work in the station are announcing, programming, production, and engineering, plus other aspects such as secretarial work and reporting. From KUOI students often move up for advanced work with the FM radio and television stations of the Radio-Television Department. KUOI is essentially a preliminary training ground. The station operation is advised by Alpha Epsilon Rho, the radio-TV honorary.

Spurs

The girls in Spurs are tapped early in the morning on May Fete Day. They are selected as freshmen on the basis of scholarship, activities, and genuine interest in the University. They serve as sophomores carrying out their "at your service" motto while ushering at games, plays, and any other campus activity. Spurs also have many varied traditions which they do every year. These include helping freshmen women move in, secret sisters, caroling at Christmas with the IK's, kidnap breakfast and banquet, Spur-O-Grams on April Fool's Day, supporting a Korean Orphan, and sponsoring the Song Fest Mother's Day Weekend. The purpose of Spurs is found in their name: S-sacrifice, P-patriotism, U-understanding, R-responsibility, S-service. Miss Rosemary Aten is their adviser.

ROTC

ROTC units of all three military services—Army, Navy, and Air Force are represented on the Idaho campus. The purpose of the ROTC program is to conduct basic and advanced pre-commission military training and to stimulate interest in the military as a career. The ROTC program plays a vital role in maintaining our free society. The cadet, the product of the program, is dedicated to the preservation of peace and the insuring of freedom.

One of the many activities of the ROTC units on the Idaho campus for the 1963-64 academic year was participation in the Armed Forces Day Parade.

ROTC

Fun, Fancy, and Formality . . . all part of the ROTC program here at Idaho. Cadets enjoy many activities available to them solely through ROTC. The pictures on this page illustrate the theory that hard work and constructive "play" make the Idaho cadet a well-rounded man.

Navy

The Idaho Naval Reserve Officer Training Corps, one of 52 such Navy units in major universities throughout the United States, is enjoying its 18th year on the Vandal campus. The purpose of the Naval ROTC is to supplement the Naval officer output of the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis. Providing a four year course in naval subjects, the NROTC produces Navy and Marine officers, qualified for duty in the field upon graduation from Idaho.

Air Force

Air Force ROTC cadets hold their heads high with a pride that comes from association with the officers and airmen of the air age. During their first two years in the Air Science Program, students receive a broad look at the world through the eyes of an airman. The last two years are devoted to a study of air power, the globe, management and leadership. The entire program is geared to produce officers—pilots, navigators and scientists for the United States Air Force. Students soon learn the classroom instruction which makes up only a small part of the whole program. Cadets are urged to seek positions of leadership in a variety of extra-curricular activities—sports, committees, and offices.

ROTC Activities

Some of the most important aspects of the ROTC programs are the activities in which they participate. These military activities are quite successful in producing well-rounded military scholars.

ROTC Parades

At various times during the school year the ROTC units from the University participate in street parades. This year the ROTC participated in the University's Homecoming Parade and in the citywide Armed Forces Day Parade.

Athletics

Knowledge of athletics is easy to obtain at the University of Idaho, both as a participant and as a spectator. Football, basketball, and baseball teams to be proud of highlighted the year. A strong men's Intramural Program again provided ample opportunity for amateur athletes to exhibit their prowess in football, tennis, ping pong, wrestling, basketball, and about any other sport you can think of. The Women's Recreation Association continued its program of organizing sports for women.

The Vandal Rally Committee organizes the rallies for the athletic teams on the Idaho Campus: Jim Petersen, Jackie Johnson, Bonnie Smith, Denny Wheeler, chairman.

DEE ANDROS
Head Coach

Coach Dee Andros, in his second year at Idaho, fielded a team that was quite different from the squads Vandal fans had become accustomed to watching. First of all, the defense gave the opposition no quarter, and many enemy receivers would let passes slip harmlessly through their fingers when they "heard the footsteps." Secondly, the Vandals scored. In only one game, Missouri, did Idaho get shut out, and their 64-6 romp over University of Pacific was the third highest score ever recorded by an Idaho eleven. Third, and best of all, the Vandals posted a winning season. Their final record was 5-4, with the tenth game on the schedule cancelled due to President Kennedy's untimely death. The 1963 version of the Idaho football team also showed a great deal of depth, allowing them to put up as fine a battle in the second half as past elevens had in the first half. Coach Andros, famous for leading his team across the field before each half, deserves a large portion of the credit for Idaho's showing on the gridiron. The spirit and desire he instilled in his men were noticeable and a prime factor in the winning season.

Fresno State . . . 8
 Idaho 32

The 1963 Vandal footballers gave their future opponents an early indication of what to expect as they opened the season with a fine 32-8 victory over a highly-rated Fresno State squad led by Beau Carter, considered one of the finest quarterbacks in the West. Idaho coupled a strong offense, led backs Galen Rogers, Gary Mires, and Mike Jordan with a hard-hitting defense that rendered Carter powerless to make the task look almost easy. The win was the Vandals' first in season openers of the past thirteen years and was a pleasant treat for the students who had arrived early in Moscow for the opening of the fall semester.

With the memory of the 1962 25-21 loss to the Utah Redskins, with a minute-and-a-half remaining, Idaho stopped the Utags' attempt at a two-point conversion with just thirty-six seconds to play and escaped with a 10-9 victory. The big play in the Idaho squad's second straight victory was Don Matthews' brilliant 41-yard return of an intercepted pass early in the third period that set up the lone Vandal touchdown. This play was typical of the overall emphasis on defense that dominated the game and kept the 10,000 Boise fans on the edges of their seats.

Missouri . . . 24
 Idaho . . . 0

The Missouri Tigers, on the verge of national ranking all year, proved to be too much for the spirited Vandals to handle and Idaho suffered its first loss of the young season 24-0 in Columbia, Missouri. The Tigers scored early in the game but were unable to complete another drive until late in the first half when they scored again. Although they countered ten more points in the second half, their strong defense was insurance enough. The mighty Missouri line held the fine Vandal running game to a surprisingly low total of thirty-three yards.

A fast and explosive University of Oregon eleven evened the Vandal seasonal record at 2-2 by taking a 41-21 victory in Eugene. The Ducks scored first after an Idaho fumble gave them the ball deep in Vandal territory, but the fighting Vandals threw a scare into the Oregon squad when they marched 71 yards after the ensuing kickoff to tie the score. The Ducks, however, led by quarterback Bob Berry and All-American halfback Mel Renfro, proved too fast and polished for the Vandal team to cope with. The Idaho defense proved more than adequate against the Oregon ground game, but the long pass was the Vandals' weakness as the Ducks scored many times on third and long-yardage situations.

Anxious to get back on the victory trail, the Vandals opened up the offense against the University of Pacific to make the 1963 Homecoming a truly enjoyable day. After taking a 36-0 lead by halftime, the Idaho squad wrote the passing attack out of its plans and rolled up the remainder of the third highest Vandal score (64-6) in history solely by running the ball. It was almost impossible to pick an outstanding offensive player for the Vandals as everyone got into the act and four different quarterbacks engineered scoring drives. The big win gave Idaho a 3-2 record at the season's halfway mark.

Naccarato surges over the 50 as his Vandal teammates clear the field of Fresno Staters.

After defeating the WSU Cougars two weeks previously, the San Jose State Spartans returned to the Palouse only to be rudely greeted by a 28-12 Vandal thrashing. Although quarterback Gary Mires was injured early in the game after setting up the first Vandal score, the Vandal offensive machine with Mike Monahan taking over could not be stopped. The Idaho defense that amazed fans all year with its bone-crushing tackles was once again at a peak and only a freak play gave the Spartans one of their two tallies.

It was a cold, bleak day in Vandalville when the WSU Cougars crushed Idaho's hopes in waning minutes of the game. However, Idaho's lead was short-lived and WSU went on to win the annual Battle of the Palouse 14-10.

The University of Arizona Wildcats showed their heels to the Vandal squad, much to the delight of 17,000 spectators in Tucson, Arizona. The 34-7 defeat evened the Vandal seasonal record at 4-4. After a slow start the Wildcats found the only weakness that hurt the Vandals all season—pass defense. Then there was no stopping the speedy Wildcat team as they rolled up a 27-0 halftime lead. After intermission the Vandals seemed to have solved the defensive problem, but it was too late. The second half resulted in a 7-7 tie with the Vandal score coming in the final quarter, from the superb running ability of quarterback Gary Mires.

The Vandals closed the season with a perfect record on Idaho soil and a 5-4 winning season by soundly defeating a spirited Idaho State Bengal squad 14-0 at Pocatello. The first half saw the Vandals get numerous breaks only to say "No, thanks," and wait until the second half when their depth told the story. Idaho took the second half kickoff and drove to paydirt for the first score of the game. Later in the third period Rich Naccarato broke loose for a 42-yard gallop to set up the second Vandal touchdown. Both of Idaho's six-pointers were scored by fullback Galen Rogers. The 5-4 season gave the Vandal eleven the most wins for an Idaho squad since the 1938 football season.

Frosh Football

The freshman football team compiled a fine 2-1 record this year which was highlighted with the 36-0 drubbing of the Washington State frosh. The Vandal Babes withstood the offensive siege of the U of W Huskies in their first game and coasted to a 32-18 victory. The Columbia Basin Junior College crew handed the frosh their only defeat, but following this the squad retaliated by walloping the WSU Cougars 36-0.

Basketball

Idaho's Ed Haskins stands ready for action in the foreground as his teammate, Larry Rasmussen jumps high above the heads of members of the opposing Oregon squad.

The predictions of basketball experts that 1963-64 would be a year of rebuilding for the inexperienced Vandal team became realities this year, but Coach Goddard's cagemen compiled a respectable record despite their disadvantages. Late in the season the Vandals edged their way up the Big Sky ladder after soundly defeating Idaho State and MSU.

Although the season was not one to be boasted of, nine school records were either tied or broken during the course of the 7-19 season.

A team record was broken in the rebound department as the Vandal cagemen recovered 1,378 to top the previous mark of 1,328 which was set last year by Gus Johnson and his Vandal teammates.

Coeur d'Alene's Tom Moreland, a junior center on the Vandal squad, tied Gus Johnson's game rebound record when he made 31 rebounds during the Whitworth game. He also bettered Rich Porter's one-season scoring field goal mark with a 46.8 percent to Porter's 46.6 last season.

Other records included 77 rebounds against Nevada (old record was 69 against Oregon in 1963); fouls, 28 against Washington State (tied mark set against Bradley in 1960); free throw attempts against WSU, 43 (old mark, 37, against Idaho State in 1962); and free throws made against Oregon State (tied mark set against Idaho State in 1962).

Veteran Tom Whitfield posted his name in the record book three times this season. With 602 points, he became the tenth highest scorer in Idaho history. His 498 rebounds placed him fifth among the all-time Idaho rebounders, and his 6.4 rebounds per game gave him fourth-place, record-wise, in that particular department.

The last record was set by rookie Ed Haskins, sophomore guard from St. Maries who topped Gary Simmons' one-game free throw shooting record with 16 of 19 conversions.

Idaho's Vandal cagemen achieved much this year despite scorebook indicators. The Vandals maintained a commendable attitude of sportsmanship throughout the season and in the process they made a respectable showing, particularly among the other schools of the Big Sky Conference.

The efforts of the team and of Coach Goddard were rewarded when the Vandals kept 'King Spud' in the showcase in Memorial Gym after they upset intrastate rivals, Idaho State University. Next year, when the roars of crowds again fill Memorial Gymnasium, the real success of the 1963-64 Vandal team will be elucidated.

Basketball

COACH JIM GODDARD

Jim Goddard came to the University of Idaho during a year of rebuilding in the field of his talents—basketball. He guided his Vandal cagemen to a respectable seasonal record and in the process "built" a team that will go far in the 1964-65 season.

Few potatoes are grown in North Idaho but 'King Spud' seems to be a permanent resident of the Moscow area. Each year the team which wins the Idaho-Idaho State basketball series receives 'King Spud' in recognition of this achievement. Once again this year the high-striding Vandals nipped the Bengal attack successfully and swept the series with a perfect 2-0.

Basketball Awards

Following the Idaho-Idaho State University game, the annual Vandal Basketball Awards Ceremony was held in Memorial Gymnasium.

Tom Whitfield, a two-year letterman for the Vandals, received the "King Spud" trophy on behalf of his teammates after the Vandals walked off the maple court with a 70-66 victory over their southern neighbors, the ISU Bengals.

The Jan Gano Award for the most inspirational player was presented to guard Jay Anderson for his sportsmanlike conduct throughout the season.

Tom Moreland received the Ronald White Award for the most outstanding player for his outstanding performances during the season.

The J. O. "Oz" Thompson Award was presented to Chuck Kozak during the ceremony. This award of $100 is given to a deserving team member on the basis of need, usefulness to the squad, and scholarship.

JUMPBALL, IDAHO-IDAHO STATE. Again this year the King Spud trophy was returned to the showcase in Memorial Gym as the Vandals chalked up 69-62 and 70-66 wins over their intra-state rivals.

All-College Tournament

This year during the Christmas holidays the Vandals traveled to Oklahoma City to participate in the All-College Tournament. In previous years the Vandals had participated in the Far-West Classic which was held in Portland, Oregon. This year, however, the Vandals traveled to an area relatively new to them.

The first night of the tournament the Vandals met the highly-rated Oklahoma City University squad and were defeated 104-66. The Vandals fared somewhat better in the second game, dropping a hard-fought, 61-76 battle to the University of Houston. The third night of the tournament the Huskies of the University of Washington defeated the Vandal five 80-69. Despite indications of scores, the Vandals carried the Idaho spirit to an area which is relatively unfamiliar with the State of Idaho and its fine University. This was the true value of the Vandal journey to the southcentral United States.

The Gonzaga Bulldogs proved too much for the Vandals as they swept the two-game series by scores of 69-61 and 75-65. Both games saw the Vandals lacking a big man in the scoring department, while Gonzaga got a 26-point performance from Billy Suter in the first game on the Idaho court, and Bill Wilson picked up 28 points in the Spokane victory. Tom Whitfield was the biggest threat of either game as he garnered 17 points in the first game.

Larry Rasmussen, Idaho center, tips one in during the Idaho-Santa Barbara tilt. Idaho split the two-game series with the visitors—losing the first game 62-71, but coming back in the second to defeat the Californians 77-73.

Led by Jim Lyon, high flying Weber State was little slowed by the Vandal squad. Weber took the Utah opener easily by a 103-83 score and overcame Idaho's home-floor advantage with an 86-77 win in the second game. Jim Lyon netted 30 points in the opener and nearly matched it with a 29-point performance in Memorial Gym. Tom Moreland was the leading Vandal scorer of the series as he picked up 19 points in each game, while guard Ed Haskins hit for totals of 17 and 19.

If there was any year that Idaho State was expected to show dominance over the Vandal five on the maplecourts, this was it . . . but it wasn't. The Vandal squad turned the tables on the Bengals, who were led by All-American candidate, Art Crump, and took 69-62 and 70-66 victories. Tom Moreland led the Idaho team with 20- and 26-point totals, and Ed Haskins scored 17 and 18 points in the two-game set. Art Crump was held to a scant four points on his home court, but bounced back to score a creditable 21 in the Vandal home game.

The Big Sky champions, the Montana State Bobcats, survived a major scare when they came to Moscow, winning 71-65, but more than made up for it by pasting the Vandals 86-63 on their home floor. In Idaho's home contest, the Bobcats were still endangered at the halftime as they led 39-37, but later pulled away despite an effort of 23 points by Tom Moreland and a 20-point tally by Ed Haskins. At Bozeman it was a different story as all five Bobcat starters hit double figures and clinched the game 86-63.

Idaho met their arch-rivals, the WSU Cougars, only once in the 1963-64 season and the result was a disappointing 85-68 defeat. The Cougars, led by the sharp outside shooting of Byron Vadset, moved into a 46-39 halftime lead and continued to pull ahead in the second half. Tom Moreland led the Vandal scoring attack with 14 points followed by Bill Mattis with 13, but Vadset alone cancelled these with a fine 27-point effort.

With the big men, Tom Moreland and Tom Whitfield, leading the way, Idaho's basketball Vandals opened the season with an 86-73 romp over the visiting University of Nevada Wolfpack. The game was somewhat sloppily played with a total of 47 fouls whistled in the contest, but the Vandal scoring showed some promise as Moreland accounted for 26 and Whitfield for 18 of the Idaho counters.

Frosh Basketball

Five former Idaho-prep basketball players took the top five places in scoring for the Idaho Frosh this season as the Vandals posted a 7-7 record.

Dave Schlotthauer from Post Falls scored 249 points for a 17.7 average to lead the squad. John Foruria from Emmett was second with 190 points and a 13.5 average. Third place went to Coeur d'Alene's Mike Wicks who had 160 points and an 11.4 mark.

Former Borah cager and quarterback Jerry Ahlin was fourth with an 8.4 average and a total of 118 points. Rod Bohman of Troy was fifth with 82 points and a 5.8 average. John James of North Bend, Oregon, placed sixth with 77 points and a 5.9 average for 13 games. James also captured both the field goal and free throw percentage titles. He hit 58 percent from the field and 82.3 percent from the line.

The Vandal baseball team, under the supervision of Coach Wayne Anderson, experienced a highly successful season despite a slow start. Although the Vandals began the season with a second place in Banana Belt competition, they improved during the season to come back to a 10-0 record in Big Sky play and won the Big Sky crown by stopping second-place Weber College in the conference playoffs.

Outstanding performances were turned in by Jeff McQueeny, Tom Hoagland, and Gary Peters. McQueeny, a catcher from Texas City, Texas, finished the season in first place in the batting department with a .372 average. Hoagland followed closely with a .310 and Peters finished the season at the .276 mark.

Baseball

Competing in two conferences this year the Idaho Vandals compiled a 23-13 record for the 1964 season. After a slow start with a second place in Banana Belt play the Vandal stickmen gained momentum, chalked up a 10-0 record in Big Sky Conference competition, and took the Big Sky crown from second place Weber College of Ogden, Utah.

The Vandal batting attack was led by catcher Jeff McQueeney who slammed six homeruns over the centerfield wall during the season to top the Vandal batters' averages with a .372 average.

Big Gary Peters and his teammate Mike Glenn led the Vandal attack from the pitcher's mound—Peters won 7 and lost 3 and Glenn won 7 and lost 4.

The 1964 baseball season was highly successful for the Vandal sluggers, the champions of the Big Sky Conference.

Baseball fans saw plenty of action this season on McLean Field in spite of the colder-than-usual spring weather.

Idaho's Paul Henden exhibits championship cross-country form as he streaks into the finish gate after clocking an amazing 20:33.9 and placing second in the Big Sky Conference meet.

3. MONTANA STATE	69
4. MONTANA	85
5. WEBER	86
6. GONZAGA	113

Track

Idaho's thinclads made a respectable showing this year despite the cold, moist weather of a later-than-usual Palouse country spring. Not only were they hampered by poor weather, but illness and injury also handicapped the Vandal cindermen.

The Vandals made a fine showing in the Big Sky conference meet, which was held in Missoula, Montana. Quarter-miler Nick Carnefix romped through his particular event in a blistering 48.7 for first place. Idaho garnered two first places in field events when big Max Leetzow hurled the discus 166 feet 10½ inches to claim the top spot in his specialty, and again when Jim Jackson, Vandal pole-vaulter, soared 13 feet 2 inches to win that event. Since the conference meet was the first since the Big Sky Conference was formed, all marks became records.

Golf

Coach Snyder's Vandal golfers compiled an enviable 12-2 record this season despite the blustery spring weather of the Palouse country. The Vandal squad started the season by winning the Clarkston Collegiate Invitational and ended the season in the runner-up spot in the Big Sky Conference.

Tom Sampson, Terry Gustavel, and Bill Goss, all seniors and three-year lettermen, played their last season under Vandal colors. Goss was chosen captain of the team and Sampson received the "Doc" Barton Most Valuable Player Award. Two-year lettermen included Chick Cutler, Ros Rognstad, and Rick Jensen—all juniors. The remaining members of the squad, one-year lettermen, were Larry Kirkland, Bill Carter, and Dick Trail. Five of the team members qualified for the NCAA Tournament which was held in Colorado Springs, Colorado, in mid-June.

Tennis

In his first year at Idaho, Coach Marsh Reynolds guided the Vandal netmen through a season marked by inexperience. Team members were Scott Rustay, Lee Takehashi, Dick Jennings, Keith Ries, Terry Winter, Bill Van Orman, and LeRoy Benson.

The team made a respectable showing, particularly at the Big Sky Conference match in Missoula. During this match the Vandals posed a threat when they almost upset top-seeded Idaho State University. In northwest competition, the Vandals were the only team to hand the Huskies from the University of Washington any set losses.

Tennis

Idaho's inexperienced tennis team ran into some really tough competition this season but nevertheless they made a respectable showing for the University of Idaho. Although Coach Reynolds' "green" team was unsuccessful in its bid to upset top-seeded Idaho State at the Big Sky finale in Missoula, the Vandal netmen were successful in handing the University of Washington its only set loss during the season in northwest competition.

Swimming

The Idaho Vandals brought home the Big Sky Conference swimming championship this year following the championship meet which was held in Ogden, Utah. Eleven Vandal finmen claimed nine first place spots to win the meet with 142 points. Idaho finmen who participated in the championship meet were Byron Anderson, Gary Baker, Dan Cole, Dave Grieve, Larry Harris, Kris Kirkland, Tom Kirkland, Andy Sorenson, Bill Stillmaker, Karl Von Tagen, and Bob Winn.

Gary Baker won three events and qualified for the NCAA Championships in the 200-yard butterfly and in the 200-yard individual medley. His times in these events were 2:05.1 and 2:07.0 respectively.

Karl Von Tagen clocked 22.4 in the 50-yard freestyle and this performance gave him a ticket to the NCAA finals.

Varsity records were set by Stillmaker in the 200-yard breaststroke with a time of 2:21.1; by Von Tagen in the 200-yard freestyle with 1:05.0; by Stillmaker in the 100-yard breaststroke, 1:07.8; and by Von Tagen in the 100-yard freestyle, 50 seconds flat.

New and old WRA officers. New officers are President, Georgia Cutler; Vice-President, Jackie Smith; Recording Secretary, Marilyn Ramey; Corresponding Secretary, Betty Neale; and Publicity, Wilma Green.

WRA

The Women's Recreational Association, under the direction of Miss Betts, provides a varied program of individual and team sports for all interested university women. An added attraction is the co-recreational activities which have aroused much enthusiasm in the last few years. The program offers competition between living groups and between neighboring schools in the various team sports. The annual Recognition Hour, held January 12th, saw the tapping for I Club, new officers installed, guest speakers and individual awards. House awards went to: Ethel Steel, participation; and Alpha Phi, tournament.

Ann Frahm is being tapped for I Club during the Recognition Hour

Miss Betts awards Sharon Gygli the Joyce Weaver Schuett trophy for outstanding senior in physical education.

Marilyn Ramey participates in the new gymnastics program.

WRA

Gymnastics was the new activity added to WRA this year. The girls in the Physical Education department encourage the participation of any student who is interested in the trampoline, the bars, tumbling or vaulting. It's good exercise! An old favorite is volleyball. This year the girls living groups and the co-recreational groups came out in full force.

Georgia Cutler on the bars!

It's a fast game!

Yea Team!

Up and over.

A scramble for the ball!

Karen Collins, Tri Delt, hopes for a strike

WRA

Intramural basketball was quite competitive on campus. The living groups played each Thursday and Friday nights in an elimination program. A team of eight players traveled to Cheney to compete in the Inland Empire Basketball Sports Day, winning two games and losing one. Campbell Hall claimed the bowling championship at the end of an interest-packed season.

A tense moment!

A wireframe sphere is centered in the lower half of the page. A horizontal band, consisting of a dark grey rectangle and a black line below it, passes through the sphere's equator. The word "RESIDENCES..." is printed in bold black letters across the middle of the sphere and the band.

Residences

There are 43 living groups on the University of Idaho campus. The knowledge gained by each individual through the living group activities which seem to bring students all over campus closer and through the life-long friendships made in the homes-away-from-home makes the residence life an invaluable part of each student's college experiences.

The Associated Women Students sponsored a picnic in the fall to help acquaint the women students with one another.

Squeal Day! A very happy time for the University of Idaho sororities.

Editors' Thank You

"Acquire knowledge . . ." The theme of the 1964 GEM OF THE MOUNTAINS is exemplified in the several functions of a yearbook. First, the GEM is a memory book; next year or many years from now each person can look through the book and be reminded of the friends he made and the experiences he had in 1964. Second, the GEM is a history book; presented in it are the activities, both academic and social, that took place on the University campus in 1964. Third, the GEM is a project for students; the GEM staff wishes more students were able to endure the trials and tribulations and enjoy the rewards of working on this project. And fourth, the GEM is a public relations medium; prospective students who cannot come to Moscow can get acquainted with the University through the pages of the yearbook. We hope that the 1964 GEM OF THE MOUNTAINS will be an adequate reminder to each student of the knowledge he acquired in all phases of life at the University of Idaho in 1964.

Many people gave their time and effort in compiling the 1964 GEM OF THE MOUNTAINS. As the editors, we wish to thank each and every one of you who helped us complete this edition.

JIM GIPSON and CAXTON PRINTERS, who gave us ideas, encouragement, and pushed us on to completion.

GALE MIX, who was always there with his cheery smile and encouraging words.

RAFE GIBBS, DON WALKER and LEO AMES, whose suggestions were invaluable and who supplied many of the pictures found in this book.

ARDEN LITERAL and the photography department, who made sure we had pictures of the University activities.

RUDY'S and HUTCHISON'S, who were so cooperative and helpful to us.

GORDON LAW and the COMMUNICATIONS BOARD, who heard all our troubles and helped us work them out.

DEAN DECKER, who supplied a badly-needed key to the GEM office.

ANN BARNARD, KARL URBAN, ANNE YENNI, MELANIE WETTER, DIANNE EPLING and the other GEM staffers, who always came through when we needed them.

THE STUDENTS OF THE UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, who make this book possible.

Best wishes to KARL URBAN and ANNE YENNI in editing the 1965 GEM OF THE MOUNTAINS.
