the Mountains

... Dedicated

Morning gives us dawn and sun and new day's birth. It streaks across the eastern clouds with amber turrets of light. It steals across the mountainside and rests warmly in the valley below—enriching mountain lakes and grateful lands within them. Its golden arms reach down to wake the world and bless the life it has created, before the sun begins its daily trek across the sky.

Spring begins and sheds its strength of light on every newborn day. Eager sprouts again transform the ground and trees into a unified field of emerald satin. The voice of life in our land prepares itself to bear the fruits of summer. We grow and prosper in its sun and take nourishment from its vines.

And day will inevitably fade into night—and summer into fall.

Governor

Donald W. Samuelson

Donald W. Samuelson, who strode purposefully out of the North, became Idaho's leading gentleman by winning election as the twenty-fifth governor of the state. His stewardship in the years to come will determine his place in Idaho history. Perhaps no governor of a Western state has more complex responsibilities.

Idaho is big. Economic interests of its people are as varied as its climate and topography. Idaho holds much promise, but it is still in the developing stage. The big job for the big man now in the Governor's Chair: To help bring the state nearer to the fulfillment that its resources promise.

University of Idaho President, Dr. Ernest W. Hartung, meets with Governor Don Samuelson, and Dr. David D. Kendrick, newly elected President of the North Idaho Chamber of Commerce. Dr. Hartung talked with Samuelson and Dean Kendrick at the Chamber of Commerce meeting on the campus.

Board of Regents

The Board of Regents is the governing body for the University of Idaho. This group coordinates and directs University activities and approves all policies and official acts of the University. Since it obtains its authority and powers from the Constitution of the State of Idaho, the Board is directly responsible to the people of the state. All policies of the University must be established or approved by the Board.

TO: Members of the Class of 1967

This yearbook, we hope, will serve as both a symbol and a reminder to all of you that, like yourselves, your University is a living, changing and very dynamic thing. Even as this volume comes off the press fresh with pictures and text covering your final year at the University, it is rapidly becoming outdated by educational, physical, and personnel changes here at the U. of I. The Gem is thus but a record of what the University was at any point in time. Properly considered and interpreted, however, it can also serve as a base for assessing the changes which occur following its publication.

In this, it is not unlike you the men and women of the University. As you leave Moscow you bear the distinct stamp of the record of your student days here. But immediately you leave, you assume the status of alumni and you, too, start changing in terms of your relation to the University, as it does in terms of its relation to you. This change is natural and healthy. None of us, and certainly not our University, can live in the past. We must always move to the challenge of the future. In meeting the challenge we can find strength in the past, but not refuge.

As you join our alumni, we at the University will look to you for your continuing interest, your help, and in many cases your advice. We may also be in a position to serve you if you will turn to us. Most of all we will need your understanding of our need to change, as we shall understand yours. Our associations during former years, like the Gem, are ties to our mutual past. They can also be our springboard to the future if we will but use them properly.

Good luck:

ERNEST W. HARTUNG
President

The new Art and Architecture Building was dedicated November 19, 1966, 11:00 A.M. by President Ernest W. Hartung. The address was given by T. J. Prichard, head of the Department of Art and Architecture. Visting legislators were special guests at the occasion. President Hartung is shown presenting the plaque to T. J. Prichard.

Vice-Presidents

The two offices of vice-president were created in 1961 to help alleviate some of the burdens in the Office of President. Vice-President Steffens, in charge of academic affairs, and Vice-President Dick, in charge of financial affairs, have efficiently served these two positions to the credit of the University.

A well organized administration is continually at work for the University of Idaho. These officials serve the students through registration, publications, finances, and the library. Countless other duties which are not as obvious but certainly as important are given the same detailed consideration accorded the larger tasks. This group seeks constantly to improve educational facilities in Idaho, to improve the quality of teaching, to promote research, and to expand educational services within the state.

College of Agriculture

JAMES E. KRAUS
Dean
College of Agriculture

The College of Agriculture, one of the first schools to attain the status of a college on the University of Idaho campus in 1901, offers curricula in agriculture phases of education, engineering science, and management. Actual classroom techniques are applied in the college-maintained greenhouses, farms, and land acreage which is used for instruction and research. Also maintained by the college are six branches of the Agricultural Experiment station and the state wide Agriculture Extension Service Agencies. Through its graduates and through its many services offered throughout the state, the College of Agriculture has played a vital role in Idaho's agricultural economy.

James E. Kraus has been Dean of the College of Agriculture since 1955. He first came to the University in 1941 from the U.S. Department of Agriculture in Wyoming. He received his B.S. from Colorado State University, his M.S. from the University of Wisconsin, and his Ph.D. from Cornell University. Dean Kraus has made his major contributions in research in the area of physiology and genetics of vegetable crops. He is a member of the University Executive Council and past chairman of the Experiment Station section on agriculture and land grant college stations. He is the past president of Moscow Lions Club and a member of the Agricultural Committee on the Moscow Chamber of Commerce. Dean Kraus's hobbies are golf, fishing and bowling. Dean and Mrs. Kraus have one son who graduated from the University and now teaches science in Coeur d'Alene Junior High School.

College of Business

David D. Kendrick, Dean of the College of Business, became Dean in 1957. He came to the University for the first time in 1930 as a student and later served as president of the student body. After the war he returned and taught from 1946 to 1947. He then attended the University of California to work for his Masters and Ph.D. in economics. Dean Kendrick received his B.S. in business from the University of Idaho in 1935 and his Masters and Ph.D. from Berkeley. He revived Alpha Kappa Psi and is advisor for the Delta Chi fraternity. Dean Kendrick is acting president of the North Idaho Chamber of Commerce, Chairman of Committee on Higher Education Act of 1965 and Co-chairman of Advisory Board for State Department of Employment. Dean Kendrick's hobbies include rock hound, camping, and golf. Dean and Mrs. Kendrick have one son who is a captain in the Air Force.

DAVID D. KENDRICK
Dean
College of Business

The College of Business at the University of Idaho provides professional training for young men and women who plan to make business their career. These majors may graduate in accounting, business, and applied science, economics, finance, foreign trade, general trade, general business, marketing and office administration. Success of the business program is shown by the positions held by many graduates in these extensive fields. The high percentage of successful business majors may be due to the instruction and training received at the University of Idaho. Almost all of the faculty members hold either doctorate degrees or CPA certificates.

Alpha Kappa Psi

Alpha Kappa Psi is a national professional fraternity for businessmen, which has become one of Idaho's most active professional fraternities. A 2.2 grade average is required of anyone in the College of Business or any economics major in order to be eligible for membership. The purpose of the fraternity is to offer experience in the field of business by aiding the University administration.

College of Forestry

EARNEST WOHLETZ
Dean
College of Forestry

Earnest Wohletz became Dean of the College of Forestry in 1953. He received his B.S. and M.S. in Forestry from the University of California in Berkeley. Dean Wohletz is Director of the Experiment Station and is one of five members on the Board of Advisors to the National Cooperative Forestry Research Advisory Board. He is also one of five members in the United States on the Committee for Advancement of Forestry Education and Accreditation of all colleges in the United States. In addition to these offices, Mr. Wohletz is a member of the Advisory Council to United States Forestry Services Region One and a member of the Western Land Use Committee of Western Forestry and Conservation Association. On the local level Dean Wohletz is vice chairman of Forestry and Agriculture Committee of the Moscow Chamber of Commerce. His hobbies include work, fishing, and hiking. Dean and Mrs. Wohletz have two daughters who both graduated from the University of Idaho.

The College of Forestry, nationally top rated, draws students from every state and many foreign countries. The students take advantage of curricula in forest, range and game management, and wood utilization. A four-year program is offered to the students in Forest Management, Wildlife Management, Fishery Management, and Wood Utilization Technology. By means of land gifts which include a tree nursery and a large arboretum, the experimental forest program has developed into one of the largest in the country. These experimental forests provide countless opportunities for the forestry student to gain practical knowledge in his field.

Xi Sigma Phi

Xi Sigma Phi, the national forestry honorary, is composed of students selected on the basis of high scholastic achievement in the field and related fields. The purpose of the honorary is to promote the interest of the professional aspects of forestry to students. Meetings are composed of professional speakers who give insight into the various fields of forestry. The upper twenty-five percent of the juniors and seniors in forestry are eligible for membership.

College of Mines

The College of Mines, because of its location near one of the chief mining areas of the world, provides excellent opportunity for field observations and study of the natural geological structures situated in this area. Upon completion of classroom and laboratory curriculum, degrees are granted in Mining, Metallurgical and Geological Engineering and also in Geology and Geography. The Mines summer camp provides opportunities for additional studies.

The Idaho Bureau of Mines and Geology, which has its headquarters and research facilities at the University of Idaho, works with the College of Mines.

Dean Rolland R. Reid came to the University of Idaho in 1955. Early in 1965 he began serving in the capacity of Dean of the College of Mines. Dean Reid came to the University from the Montana School of Mines. He received his B.S. and M.S. degrees in Geology and his Ph.D. degree from the University of Washington. Dean Reid is active in the mines research program. He belongs to the Rotary International and enjoys for hobbies bridge, skiing, chess and fishing. Dean and Mrs. Reid have a son who is nine years of age and a daughter who is eleven.

Graduate

The graduate school, which was organized in 1925, offers the opportunity for advanced studies, specialization, and research in more than fifty departments. In addition to developmental studies in his particular field, the graduate student may also take advantage of programs planned in conjunction with Washington State University and the National Reactor Testing Station in Idaho Falls.

School

Dr. M. L. Jackson, Dean of Graduate School, came to the University of Idaho in 1953 and became Dean in July of 1965. He came from the U.S. Ordnance Station in California. Dean Jackson's degrees include a B.S. Chemical Engineering from Montana State College and a Ph.D. from the University of Minnesota. When first at the University, Dean Jackson was head of the Chemical Engineering Department and advisor to the student chapter of American Institute of Chemical Engineers. Dean Jackson has served on the Idaho State Air Pollution Control Commission, Moscow School Board, and as a Reviewer for National Technical Publications and for research proposals to the National Science Foundation. His hobbies include boating, fishing, and music. Dean and Mrs. Jackson have one son and three daughters. The boy is a senior in Physics at the University of Idaho. The oldest girl is a senior in high school, one is a junior, and the youngest girl is in the seventh grade.

Adult Education

The division of Adult Education and Summer School coordinates and directs the non-agriculture extension services, summer school activities, and correspondence courses of the University.

An opportunity for a University education is provided to more than four thousand students throughout the state. The division offers extension courses in over thirty-five Idaho communities, operates resident credit centers in Boise and Mountain Home Air Force Base, and offers approximately one hundred-eighty correspondence courses in thirty-eight areas, conferences, and workshops for business and professional groups. The on-campus services of the Division include an extension summer school program and the placement service which is an invaluable aid to Seniors seeking employment.

DR. PAUL F. KAUS
Director
Adult Education and Summer School

Dr. Paul F. Kaus, Director of Summer School and Coordinator of Continuing Education, came to the University in 1955 and became Director of the Adult Education Division in 1966. Dr. Kaus's degrees include a B.A. in Education from NICE in Lewiston, a Master of Education and a Doctor of Education (Ed.D.) from Washington State University. Dr. Kaus is responsible for the reactivation of the SIEA on campus in 1957. He was local sponsor for the group for three years. He is past president of Idaho Education Association and currently a member of the Executive Committee. He is a member of the Board of Directors of the Northwest Adult Education Association. Dr. Kaus is active in the Catholic Church and an active member and lecturer of the Knights of Columbus. His hobbies include bowling, golf, and home workshop. Dr. and Mrs. Kaus have twin daughters age 14 and a three-year-old son.

Retiring

Herman A. Berman, professor in the College of Law, was first employed as an associate professor in 1952 and became Professor of Law in 1957. He is respected for his scholarly approach and for his intolerance of slovenly thinking. His courses in government regulations of business have been a high light for all his students.

Alfred W. Bowers, professor of Anthropology and Sociology, came to the University of Idaho in 1949. His studies of the Mandan and Hidatsa Indians have gained him international renown. He has also carried out two extensive field studies on the early Indians in Idaho. Both the state and the University are richer for the knowledge he has produced and for the extensive collection of Indian artifacts now available for use by future generations of scholars.

Harry C. Harmsworth, professor of Sociology, came to the University in 1944. Since then his researches in the field of alcoholism and his demographic studies of Idaho have contributed directly to sound policy development in these fields by the state. As an authority on family problems, thousands of students will profit by his counsel.

MABEL RENTFRO BEATTIE
Professor of Foreign Languages

Mabel Rentfro Beattie graduated from the University and joined the faculty in 1926. She has preserved her Latin major, and since 1951 she has edited the Idaho Foreign Language Teachers "Forum." She has put her stamp on many science and pre-med students with her courses in Greek and Latin terminology.

ROLAND C. BEVAN
Associate Professor of Agricultural Economics

Roland C. Bevan joined the Agricultural staff at Idaho in 1946. Hundreds of students will remember him for his courses in Farm Management and in Farm Accounting and Appraisal, and as a friendly and sincere advisor to them as individuals. He made many significant contributions to Idaho people through his research on costs and management of many different kinds of farm enterprises.

JEAN COLLETTE
Professor of Dramatics

Jean Collette graduated from the University of Idaho and returned to teach in 1931. Under her chairmanship of dramatics, the University and the community have enjoyed an outstanding fare of plays. The Summer Theatre, introduced in 1953, has caused a curtain to rise on five plays each summer.

Faculty

Theodore J. Prichard, professor of Art and Architecture, joined the University of Idaho faculty in 1926. A fellow of the American Institute of Architects and head of the Department of Art and Architecture, he will retire from teaching but not from Architecture. He is respected as a counselor and has maintained a close relationship with his students through the years. As a licensed architect and as a teacher he has "built well with mortar and men."

Elsie Nielsen (left), associate professor of Home Economics, came to the University of Idaho in 1942 and has rendered outstanding service in teaching textiles, clothing, and tailoring. Miss Nielsen studied textiles, design, and fabrics on a tour of the fashion centers of Paris and Rome. Having studied with Edna Bishop, she not only pioneered in the Bishop Method of Clothing Construction in Idaho, but has conducted many workshops in this method.

Marion Featherstone, associate professor of Home Economics, has served as a distinguished teacher of arts, crafts, and historic costume in the Home Economics Department for 35 years. She has worked with the Women's Clubs of Idaho in promoting art programs, especially for children. Her knowledge has made her counsel invaluable in executing costumes for University dramatic productions.

Agnes Crawford Schuldt, professor of Music, has actively promoted fine arts throughout her twenty-four years at the University of Idaho. She has served as chairman of the Fine Arts Committee and the Fine Arts Festival. She has also held office in the American Musicology Society. She is well known as a performer, lecturer and recitalist. Many of her piano students have gone on to graduate school and are now teaching in colleges throughout the United States. Her scholarly work in music history has honored the University.

KENNETH HOAG
Professor of English

Kenneth Hoag, Professor of English, came to the University in 1935 and performed the incredible feat of preparing texts for freshman composition in the days when teaching loads left little time. From 1947 to 1953 he was Head of the Department of Humanities. He has published a number of dialogues on the problems of being an instructor and those of being an administrator. A series of these dialogues is used in courses offered by many universities for the training of their teaching assistants and inexperienced instructors.

JOHN J. MILLER
Professor of Physics

John J. Miller, professor of Physics joined the University of Idaho as Chairman of Physics in 1952. During his chairmanship an impressive research program has been developed and the physics department has been such that it will acquire independent departmental status this year.

Retiring Faculty

Thomas Rex Walenta, professor in the College of Law, joined the faculty of the College of Law as Associate Professor in 1947. He became Professor of Law in 1953. A recognized authority in irrigation and mining law, he is known by his students as a kindly, patient teacher whose office door was always open for a student in need of help.

J. Frederick Weltzin, Dean and Professor of Education, came to the University of Idaho in 1944 as Dean of the College of Education. During his 19 years as dean of the college, enrollment increased from 192 to 987 students. Since 1963, he has been professor and Dean, Emeritus, of the College of Education. Recognized as one of the nation's authorities on school law, he pursued his career in North Dakota, New York, and Colorado before coming to Idaho. He retires after 45 years of service to education, 23 with the University of Idaho.

Lee F. Zimmerman, Librarian, retires after 19 years of service to the University. Under his leadership, the University library was able to accomplish four major goals, the greatest of which was the construction of the new library. Other milestones include the organization of Library Associates, the establishment of the "Bookmark" and the creation of the Basque collection on the history, language, and culture of the Basque people.

LLOYD H. SCRIVNER
Professor of Veterinary Medicine

Lloyd H. Scrivner, Professor of Veterinary Medicine, joined the University of Idaho in 1948 as Professor and Head of the Department of Veterinary Science. He has influenced and helped many young men and women as advisor to pre-veterinary. Many of these young people have gone on to a D.V.M. degree and are practicing veterinary medicine in Idaho or elsewhere. He has made many significant contributions to Idaho Livestock people through his research on animal parasites and animal diseases.

THEODORE A. SHERMAN
Professor of English

Theodore A. Sherman has been on the University faculty since 1931 and has become an authority on technical writing in the United States through authorship of a text. He has also been identified with Victorian literature at the University of Idaho. On many occasions he has been called to perform extra duties including those of athletics director during World War II, and director of the lower-division advisory program of his college.

OUTSTANDING SENIOR

A busy member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Joe McCollum worked hard for the campus. He was not only an ASUI politician, but a good athlete and student as well. Joe was first recognized as an outstanding pledge, later as an outstanding sophomore in the College of Business, the Outstanding Greekman, and the D. R. Theophilus Outstanding Senior. He was tapped for Pi Omicron Sigma, Intercollegiate Knights, Blue Key, Phi Kappa Phi and Silver Lance. Joe served the ASUI as an Executive Board member who handled the financial affairs. He was Junior I.F.C. President and I.F.C. Secretary. In Football he was a three year letterman and was chosen for the second all conference team. Lettering for two years in track, Joe was a conference winner for the 220 yard dash. Next year Joe can be found in a law library at Hastings Law School in San Francisco.

JAMES ANDREW CARLSON
Mathematics

Jim Carlson, a mathematics major from Lewiston, graduated summa cum laude from the University of Idaho in three years. He was a member of Phi Eta Sigma, Sigma Xi, Phi Kappa Phi, and Phi Beta Kappa. He was chosen as the outstanding student in Letters and Science for the Lindley Award. Jim was a member of Beta Theta Pi, and as a sophomore was on the swim team and debate team. He received both a Woodrow Wilson and a National Science Foundation Fellowship. Next year Jim will be working for his Ph.D. in mathematics at Princeton.

Seniors

A distinguished senior with a spur on her foot, a gavel in her hand, an a goal on her mind was Helen Black. She served Spurs as vice president her sophomore year and spent a large portion of her junior year traveling as a Spur National officer to direct Spur activities. Alpha Gamma Delta honored her as outstanding pledge, outstanding member, most inspirational senior and chapter president, and they watched with pride as she was tapped for Phi Upsilon Omicron, Theta Sigma Phi, and TKE Daughters of Diana. She served the ASUI in the Education Improvement Committee and other committees. Helen leaves college for a home economics and journalism career.

HELEN LOUISE BLACK

Sophomore Officers

The sophomore class activities were guided by Mike Powell—president, Amie Paroz—secretary-treasurer, Dave Goss—vice-president. The class planned the many activities of Holly Week, which ended with the traditional dance with this year's theme, "The Daze of Wine and Holly." The class also sponsored the Campus Chest activities and the Border Stomp.

Students Arrive

Falling short of the predicted enrollment only 5,813 students arrived to rejuvenate the University of Idaho campus this fall. Regardless of the low enrollment figure, the confusion and traumas of the first days of college life were felt everywhere. Many new buildings and improvements added a new facet to campus life. Spurs and Intercollegiate Knights were on hand to help move students into their new living quarters for the coming year. Everywhere new and continuing students were making new friendships and renewing old ones.

"Service With A Smile" is provided by friendly IK's who added congeniality and muscle power.

Arriving at the Complex, the new student is scared, yet thrilled with her prospective college days.

All this has to go into this tiny room?

A helpful Spur is on hand to answer all those puzzling questions.

Rush

On "Squal Day" the result of one week of house tours, innumerable introductions, and informal gab sessions, was the formal pledging of 315 men and 159 women to Idaho's Greek system. For everyone participating in rush it was something to remember. With the week ending Greeks opened their doors to welcome the new pledges into the bonds of fraternal sisterhood and brotherhood. Happy pledges were to begin a new and different way of life.

Squal Day! The DG's welcome their new sisters.

Entertainment and excitement are shown both inside and out at the Kappa House.

Delts provide relaxation for rushees with an informal card game.

F r o s b O r i e n t a t i o n

It is evident that college is not all finals and "bookin'!"

This can't be right. No wonder, it's the wrong course number.

College freshmen are traditionally bewildered by the fast pace set by an academic institution. Idaho is no exception. The class of 1970 received information through forums and convocations. Dances, small get-togethers, and house functions introduced the new students to the social side of college life.

The required number of books can overwhelm anyone, and worse yet, is the knowing you will use six in one semester.

Registration

One of the difficulties encountered by all students at the University of Idaho last fall was registration. With 5,813 students registering, the University of Idaho started its active pace once again. Because of the IBM process used in registration, many students felt they were just a number. Such thoughts quickly vanished as soon as classes began and students became acquainted with their professors.

Each student wonders if he has everything properly arranged for final inspection.

It's hard to believe that this is organization in our complex society.

It all begins right here with the qualms over correct signatures, cards, and forms.

Please, don't tell me this section is full. Nothing else will work.

Navy Ball

Members of the University of Idaho Naval ROTC enjoyed an evening of dancing and regality at the Navy Ball. Janet Perri was crowned as the new Navy Ball Color Girl from among five finalists. Giving up her crown as this past year's Color Girl was Ruth McCall.

Conventions

The University of Idaho became the place in Idaho to hold conventions. Numerous groups were hosted this year as an annual event. High School journalists, music instructors, and legislators were among a few of the groups which boosted the population on campus for the weekends.

Idaho legislators pause to discuss issues presented to the group before attending another discussion group.

Idaho's SUB Ballroom also serves as a large-sized lecture room. Legislators assemble into the Ballroom for the speeches and discussions.

Queen Pat McCollister smiles proudly as she reigns over Homecoming ceremonies.

The "Gentlemen of Note" provide entertainment at the Homecoming dance in the SUB ballroom.

"Under the Vandal Bigtop" there was plenty of action this year at the 1966 University of Idaho Homecoming. Pat McCollister, Homecoming queen, reigned over a victorious football game with Idaho defeating the U. of Pacific. Open house in all living groups, a special buffet in the Blue Bucket, the big Homecoming dance, and renewing old acquaintances filled up alumni's and students' time.

Homecoming

Pi Phi pledges take their turn going through the Delta Chi house.

Homecoming

Governor Robert E. Smylie served as Grand Marshall for the Homecoming Parade this year. Featured in the parade were house floats, community bands, and campus organizations. Tri Delta and Graham took first in the float competition to bolster Vandal spirit.

Vandal fans pack the rally area to display their enthusiasm.

WSU Walk

"This is still Vandal Country" was the motto of loyal U. of I. fans making the traditional nine-mile hike to WSU. This was the first time in two years that Idaho has made the walk. Arriving in Pullman the Vandal fans were greeted by the WSU students. The feet-washing ceremony was held and students from Idaho were given rides home.

Dick Rush, U. of I. President, leads the fans from Idaho on their walk to WSU.

Rain, cold winds, and frozen hands cannot stifle Vandal Spirit!

The ASWSU President washes Dick Rush's feet after the long walk.

One fraction of a foot can make the difference. Here is a familiar scene from the exciting Idaho-WSU game.

Entertaining more than 2,500 students in the Memorial Gym November 12 were Ramsey Lewis and the Gentlemen of Jazz. After a late plane arrival in Spokane, the group's performance was received very well. The combo recorded their first album in 1956 and now they have recorded over 200 albums. The group puts out albums rather than singles, and they strive for an easy middle ground of jazz music. The combo's performance was one of the many events for Dad's Day and was enjoyed by both parents and students.

Ramsey Lewis with the Gentlemen of Jazz radiate a quality of cheerful optimism.

Couples enjoy themselves at a dance following the concert.

Dad's

Ethel Steel is second place winner in the outside decorations contest for Dad's Day.

Mr. Chuck Lund, nominated by Gamma Phi Beta, receives the "Dad of the Year" award during half-time ceremonies.

TGIF presents "Talent Unlimited" beginning the weekend with an all campus talent show.

Day

"Vandal Dad's Bare the Grizzlies" served as the theme for the 1966 Dad's Day festivities at the University of Idaho. The weekend began with a TGIF presentation in the Dipper. Saturday, the Dads were entertained at a special breakfast in the SUB. A Vandal win over the Montana Grizzlies climaxed the weekend. Following the game, all campus living groups held open house. The Kappa Sigs won first place in the house decorating contest, and a performance by the Ramsey Lewis Trio completed the eventful weekend.

Wesley C. Stone is shown with his son Joey—who is holding funds presented by the Sigma Nu pledge class to the "Save Little Joe" fund. The money will go toward finding a cure for the rare, fatal disease cystinosis of which Little Joe is a victim. Wesley Stone is a teaching assistant in the University of Idaho department of mathematics.

A delicious buffet is enjoyed by visiting parents in the Blue Bucket.

The brisk weather does not seem to dampen the spirit of Idaho students at the Montana game.

Foresters' Ball

Poker, skits, and homemade music and dancing were highlights of this year's Foresters' Ball. Bizarre decorations were to be seen everywhere—from the Birch John Society to Diamond Hills.

Engineers' Ball

Scientific demonstrations and booths prevailed at the Engineers' Ball. Awards were presented to outstanding students in the College of Engineering. The semi-formal affair was well attended by engineering students and their dates.

Block & Bridle Dance

Old time Western music to the tune of a stringed guitar was provided at the Block & Bridle Dance. The Western theme was carried out in costumes as well as music.

Military Ball

Cadets from all the branches of the Armed Forces escorted their dates to the SUB ballroom for the annual Military Ball, February 11. Marsha Bohman was crowned Military Ball Queen by University of Idaho President Ernest Hartung. The queen's court included Pam Jones, Marcia McGuire, Ann Shelley, and Colleen O'Keefe. Visting dignitaries of the various branches of the armed services were present. Decorating the SUB ballroom with military displays the cadets presented a fine program and dance.

The Campus Scene

The University of Idaho students found many activities to enjoy on campus. All aspects of student life were covered—social, cultural, political, and educational. These outside activities contributed to make each student a more complete person.

ICEP sponsors the mock election for national and state officials. This election gives each student an opportunity to express his opinions on important political issues.

Public Relations under the direction of Dave Leroy directs a conference for Idaho student high school leaders. Here Dick Rosh, ASUI President, addresses the visiting students.

Holly Week

Holly Week 1966 entered the Idaho scene under the theme of "The Daze of Wine and Holly." The annual presentation of wreaths and the sophomore caroling party took place. A new feature, the Bucket Talent Show, was added to the scheduled events of Holly Week. Queen finalists were announced early in the week, and the Holly Queen, Susan Reed, was crowned at the Saturday night dance.

Top: The Alpha Chis took the door decoration honor in the women's division with a choir scene.

Right: Jim Amos and Bruce Green provide humor and add a bit of color to the Talent Show.

At the Holly Week Dance, these couples enjoy the swinging music of the "Icons."

Sophomore spirit and enthusiasm made the 1966 Holly Week a successful affair. Throughout the week living group participation in all events was at the season's best.

Forum groups such as this German group are held weekly. This German forum is being directed by Dr. Iiams and is conducted in German.

Sub

Many University of Idaho activities center around the Student Union Building with club meetings and discussions being held in its many meeting rooms. General weekly activities include Sundays' stereo concerts in the Vandal Lounge, the art displays, and Blue Bucket dinners. The SUB provides the students with a place to relax, to meet friends, and to enjoy entertainment.

The Blue Bucket provides hostesses to help serve guests at all Blue Bucket dinners.

Weekly art displays presented for the general public are enjoyed by Dr. Ernest Hartung.

Special Blue Bucket buffets are served on special weekends such as this one on Dad's Day.

Interested students are taught the fundamentals of bridge playing by Hazel Laughbon. Bridge lessons are held weekly and provide a chance for the students to get to know each other.

The Student Union under the Management of Mr. Gale Mix, provided ample space and facilities for sundry affairs throughout the year. Friday night stomps, TGIF, art displays, study areas, all worked to draw the student to the SUB.

Sub

Mrs. Sloan, a local artist, explains one of her displayed works at the SUB.

The Blue Bucket affords a friendly place to chat or just study.

The CUP Convention for ASUI Officers election is held in the SUB Ballroom.

The information booth was installed this year to disseminate news of campus activities.

Religion in Life

Religion in Life Week was highlighted by the presence of Rosemary Haughton, a British author and public speaker. Mrs. Haughton spoke before an assembly of students in the Ad. Auditorium on March 6, on her book, "On Trying to Be Human." A panel discussion featured Mrs. Haughton, Dr. Stan Thomas, Mrs. Paul Mendoza, Robert Giles, and Mrs. Susan Lloyd. The panel discussed the topic of "Why Wait 'Til Marriage?" On March 9, living groups invited local ministers to speak to their groups. Religion in Life Week was sponsored in hopes of promoting the role religion plays in day-to-day practical living.

Students gather in the Borah Theatre on Monday, March 6, to listen to the panel discussion on "Why Wait 'Til Marriage?"

Serious thought on a serious topic is shown here as the discussion group ponders a statement.

Rosemary Haughton leads the discussion panel composed of local personnel.

Students receive their ballots for fall election of class officers.

Elections are one of the greatest safeguards of maintaining governments of the people. ASUI elections are no exception. Both the class elections in the early fall and the ASUI elections in spring give the Idaho student a definite voice in his government. In addition to choosing leaders, students voice their opinion on matters of Judicial Council, the budget, and class officers. Elected to lead the ASUI for 1967-1968 were Dave Leroy as President and Jim England as Vice President. E-Board members elected were: Bill Gigray, Randy Stamper, Dennis Bodily, Howard Foley, Mike Powell, Randy Byers, Craig Storti, Roy Haney, and Jim Willms.

Mock United Nations

The Model United Nations was held on campus to allow students to understand the organization of the United Nations. Proposals were made and discussed by approximately twenty people who represented various countries of the world. Issues included the Vietnam conflict, U.N. reorganization, Red China's admittance to the U.N. and German reunification.

Pat Duecy, head of the M.U.N. organization on campus, moderates the discussions as Secretary General while Sue Jennings keeps a record of the proposals and discussions.

Big Entertainment

Petula Clark, the Nation's number one woman singer, entertained nearly 3500 University of Idaho students on April 14. Idaho was only one in twenty stops for Petula on her tour of the United States colleges and universities. Miss Clark's 14-piece band provided the back-beat of "Round Every Corner" to the sentimental mood of "How Are Things in Glockamorra?" She sang some of her hits such as "Downtown," and "My Love," and other popular numbers such as "I Want to Hold Your Hand," and "Put on a Happy Face," in a two-hour show.

Sigma Chi Derby Day 1967 ran full force under ominous skies and cool weather. Points gathered from the parade, field events, songs, and "Deck a Pledge" declared Pi Beta Phi the over-all winner for house participation. Alpha Chi Omega gained second place with Kappa Alpha Theta taking third. The enthusiasm of all the freshmen who participated was high. The Sigs were responsible for a successful and fun-filled Derby Day.

Frosh Week

Frosh Week, University of Idaho, took place March 13-17. The class of '70 proved its strength by winning the Soph-Frosh Tug-of-War. It proved its capacity for eating at the pie eating contest held in McClean Field. The traditional legs contest was won by Judy Westberg and Bob Tasey. Grand finale of the eventful week was the crowning of the Frosh King and Queen, Dwayne Parsons and Carolyn Steele. Visiting high school Journalism students were invited to attend the Frosh Week Dance, Gator-a-Go-Go. Good activities and active participation made 1970's Frosh Week a genuine success.

Blue Key Talent Show

The 1967 Blue Key Talent Show presented top rate entertainment for viewing this year. Masters of Ceremonies Dick Rush and Ray Fortin carried the show smoothly through to the finish. This year's show was dedicated to Mr. Gale Mix, SUB General Manager at the University. Taking honors in the talent show were: Dave Knutson, Best Vocal Solo; Karen Schooler, Best Instrumental Solo; Sandy Simpson, Best Individual Variety; The Pffifers, Best Group Vocalists; Scott Reed Trio, Best Group Instrumentalists; and Kappa Sigma tying with Carter Hall for Best All-House Act.

Greek Week

Greek Week at the University of Idaho was under the joint sponsorship of Pan Hellenic and IFC. Events throughout the week included a faculty exchange and a student exchange. Saturday morning, the Idaho Greeks cleaned Moscow's city streets. At the Greek Week Banquet Margie Felton was named Outstanding Greek woman; a three-way tie for Outstanding Greek Man named Rod Bohman, Gary Chipman, and Joe McCollum as this year's choices; Outstanding Faculty Member was Mr. Robert Clark of the College of Business.

The Festival of Fine Arts encompassed twelve days of cultural events at Idaho. Speakers, choirs, bands, and plays, all participated. Mr. Rod Alexander addressed the student body on "Comedy and Shakespeare." This was in conjunction with the Drama Department's presentation of "The Comedy of Errors." The Madrigals, a group with a vocal repertoire from early to modern day compositions, were guest vocalists. David Bar-Illan, a great talent in the music world, performed in the Memorial Gym. The Music Department supplied a new group, the Jazz Band, under the direction of Mr. David Seiler.

Miss U of I Pageant

Miss Pam Jones relinquished her crown to Miss Bonnie Rae Dowd, the new Miss University of Idaho. The pageant, under the supervision of the Intercollegiate Knights, presented a show which included some of the best talent on campus. Judges for this year's event were Mr. James Alexander, Mrs. James Alexander, Mrs. Wayne Anderson, Mr. Cal Watson, and Mr. Jack Williamson. Bonnie's court included first runner-up, Cherry Felton; second runner-up, Janet Jackson; and third runner-up, Ann Cline. Others participating were Colleen Hauser and Sally Pulley. The New Miss U of I received $100 from the IK's for the upcoming Miss Idaho Pageant to be held in Boise this June.

Campus Contributions

Students, faculty, and townspeople have contributed to the University. The varied skills and talents of these concerned people have greatly aided the school. Endless hours of committee work were involved in these endeavors. Such assistance and leadership proved valuable to the University, the town, and the state.

Many faculty members and their wives help to register students for the semester. All this work is voluntary.

Shortly after her entrance, Lady Alice begins to argue with the Duke of Norfolk while the rest of the household look on. Shown are Leslie Leek as Lady Margaret; Don Volk—the "common man"; Steve Scott—Duke of Norfolk; Vyrl Alcorn—Sir Thomas Moore; Ellen Kelly—Lady Alice; and Bob Turriffin—Richard Rich.

Spanish Ambassador John Naples and his aid, Philip Schmidt, discuss getting Sir Thomas' support for Queen Catherine in the divorce issue.

"A Man for All Seasons"

"A Man for All Seasons," written by Thomas Best, was presented October 20, 21, and 22, by the Drama Department. The play was based on Archbishop Sir Thomas Moore's conflict between loyalty to his king and duty to the Church of Rome. King Henry VIII sought permission to divorce Queen Catherine. Sir Thomas took his stand against the divorce and found himself fighting for his life and church as the King established his own Church of England. The play was directed by Edmund Chavez, head of the Drama Department.

Sir Thomas is with his family for the last time prior to his execution.

Lady Alice and Lady Margaret question Sir Thomas, "Would he consider becoming the Chancellor of England?"

Steve Scott plays El Gallo, the narrator in Fantastics.

Play

Top: The families pose. Back: Louisa, Dorothy Neuer, and Matt, Dave Knutson. Front: Louisa's father Huchalby, Dennis Downer, and Matt's father Bellamy, Barre Griffith.

Bottom: Henry, John Naples, and Mortimor, Phil Schmidt, show Matt, Dave Knutson, the road to experience.

The Fantastics was produced by the Drama Department in connection with the Mother's Day festivities in April. The play was concerned with the conflict between the two fathers as a result of their building a wall between their estates. The wall supposedly represented their enmity, but actually it was a scheme to bring the two young people together. Mr. Chavez directed the play which was written by Tom Jones and Harvey Schmidt.

The two children sit in a tire, while Louisa, Dorothy Neuer, is asked by El Gallo, Steve Scott, to dance round the world.

Play

Idaho's Arena Theatre was the scene of the comical satire, "Tartuffe," which was presented for the mothers on campus during Mother's Day weekend. The play, a French satire on hypocrisy, was written by Molière. Tartuffe, a hypocrite who lived at Orgon's home, had completely taken over the entire household as well as pretending to be a member of a religious order of Friars. He almost succeeded in seizing all of Orgon's wealth before Orgon's family became alerted at his actions and hypocrisy. The play featured a guest professional actor from Buhl, Idaho, H. Paul Kliss.

Orgon, Jim Hutcherson, left, refuses to listen to his brother-in-law's accusations concerning Tartuffe and dismisses him with a plate of food.

Orgon, Jim Hutcherson, comforts Tartuffe, Gerald Henry, insisting that Tartuffe may continue to stay at Orgon's home and asking him not to be offended by the rest of Orgon's family.

Tartuffe, Gerald Henry, tries to ward off an attack by Damis, Bob Turritin, with the use of his cross which is a piece of his disguise.

Maid servant Doreen, Mike Sheehy, tries to separate the true lovers, Mary Anne, Leslie Leek and Valier, Mike Kirk, so that they can make a plan to rid the household of Tartuffe.

The Courtesan, Joan Throop, receives the ring which she had given to Antipholas of Ephesus, Jerald Henry.

Dromio of Syracuse, Steve Scott, listens while the Courtesan begs the supposedly Antipholas of Ephesus to give her the promised necklace.

Comedy of Errors, written by William Shakespeare, was produced by the University of Idaho Drama Department under the direction of Miss Jean Collette. The play ran from March 9-11, in connection with the Fine Arts Festival. The play was built around the mistaken identities of Antipholas of Ephesus and Antipholas of Syracuse. Error followed error until the identical twin brothers met. Good production and direction plus an excellent cast made for a great play.

Antipholas of Ephesus has been locked out of his house because his twin, Antipholas of Syracuse, has been accepted as the husband.

Antipholas of Syracuse, John Breeder, is begged by Adriana to come home with her.

Campus Contributions

The University of Idaho is the home for many talented ambitious young adults. Their contributions to a better educational experience for all range from exhibitions of artistic aspects to athletic skills. Appreciation for the time and talents given by these students is shown not only through awards and trophies presented deserving ones, but more often by the well earned, much deserved applause following a performance.

Mrs. Lucy McIver, physical education instructor, shows exquisite form in a modern dance. She often performs in recitals open to the entire University.

ART CRANE
ASUI Vice President

The Associated Students of the University of Idaho is an organization designed to be much more than a student "government." The ASUI is a complex body that coordinates the recreational, educational, and social activities which take place outside the classroom. Education is a concept that occurs during committee meetings, in organizational activities, and in having a good time with others—as well as in the lecture hall. We feel that our program gives each student the opportunity for a complete education, so that upon graduation, he will be ready for the real tests of life.

There is another aspect of the ASUI organization. Through your elected officials, the students have a real part in developing University policy. Students at every University have ideas for improvements, but at the University of Idaho our ideas are heard and taken into consideration in the development of the total school program. At times, students and administrators do not see eye to eye, but we have the means to reach agreements through our student faculty committees. We are lucky to attend such an institution.

I hope that when you leave the University, you will carry with you the esprit de corps for your Alma Mater that so many of our alumni hold forever dear. The University plays such a large part in directing one's life, that it is vital for each one of us to live and support the best traditions of our school. I hope that you will always consider the University of Idaho your home, and that you will proudly carry its name forever.

The 1966-67 Executive Board faced many new problems, but as usual these were met with new ideas and improvement in mind.

Among the topics considered throughout the year was a continuation of last year's work on the ASUI structure revision. The teacher and course evaluation program, which was set up last year by the Educational Improvement Committee, was put into effect, and results were favorable.

Again this year E-Board held a banquet and informal orientation for high school student body presidents. The purpose of this meeting was to acquaint the outstanding high school students with the University of Idaho.

The 1966-67 E-Board was one of achievement and service to the University of Idaho and the State.

Public Relations

DAVE LEROY
Public Relations
Director

In its fourth year at the University, Public Relations worked to improve the relationship of the University of Idaho with the City of Moscow and the State of Idaho. Publicizing the U. of I. throughout the state was the main job of Dave Leroy. He attended E-Board meetings to acquaint student leaders with the problem of publicity and goodwill.

Gem of the Mountains

The Gem office on the third floor of the SUB was bustling with activity again this year as volunteer students enthusiastically gave time and effort to produce an accurate, varied record of memories for Idaho students. Though confusion reigned its share of the time, everything seemed to fit together in the end as the book began to take its final shape. The Saturdays spent in regular work by the staff members were made worthwhile when the final page was turned in for typing.

Co-Editor Jane Miesbach looks up briefly from her seemingly never-ending task of scheduling pictures and checking information.

With enthusiasm for the Gem, Co-editors June and Jane gave much encouragement and help to staff members. Their many jobs included scheduling pictures, making layouts, correcting pages, and checking with professional photographers, preparing pages for shipment, and working with the publisher.

Gem Assistant Editors Linda Nie-meier (standing) and Janice Scheel were "right-hand-women" to June and Jane. Taking over the job of indexing was one of their responsibilities which was a big help to the editors.

Gem of the Editor C. Rae Smith and Wilma Reese of the residences staff worked hard to fit together the puzzle of names and pictures for the many living groups on campus.

Mary Nilsson, Jill Jeffers, editor, Becky Sue Butler, and Judy Cornwall (absent) had the job of contacting group presidents and scheduling pictures of all campus organizations.

This year's Gem staff worked long and hard under the leadership of capable section editors. The residences staff was headed by C. Rae Smith; Jill Jeffers and her staff kept tabs on campus organizations, and Kathy Cunningham kept the office work progressing.

Extra special thanks goes to Arden Literal, Gem photographer, who was patient and understanding, when having to take pictures at the last minute. With his help the 1967 Gem has become a reality.

To the office staff of Brenda Bohlin and Kathy Cunningham, editor, fell the unending task of typing both first and final copies to meet the many deadlines.

Mountains

Sports section was enthusiastically handled by Eva Holmes during the first semester. After leaving school at semester time, the section's work was assumed by the co-editors.

Cathy Parkins and Karen Hamilton, editor, used pictures, names, and hard work to form the classes section.

The usual Saturday morning confusion of pictures, dummies, copy, and phone calls became more hectic as the year drew to a close and more deadlines had to be met.

To the section editors fell much of the responsibility of producing this year's Gem. Karen Hamilton was in charge of classes, Eva Holmes covered first semester athletic events, Joan Maltz headed the academics section, and Suzanne Gurnsey met the onslaught of activities. Much credit for the successful book should go to all these girls.

Co-editor June Lay pauses to look up from using her mathematical ability to form a layout for the residence section.

The academics section of Carol Heimgartner and Joan Maltz, editor, was busy scheduling pictures of honoraries and accumulating information for the various colleges of the University of Idaho.

The many activities of the 1966-1967 school year were captured into the pages of the Gem by Barbara Hardy and Suzanne Gurnsey, editor of the activities section.

KUOI

KUOI is the only radio station in the Northwest both owned and operated exclusively by the students. Again this year the station spread its "Voice of the Vanadals" over the U. of I. campus and the surrounding area. Broadcasting basketball games, playing a varied format of music, and advertising campus activities are services performed by our University radio station.

Kerrie Quinn, Dick Sherman, Chris Smith and Vince Coleman ponder the ever-present problem of copy, pictures and layout.

Argonaut staff members work long hours gathering, checking, and typing articles for the two weekly issues. The Argonaut office in the basement of the SUB hums with activity while working to present current, informative reading to the U of I student body.

Idaho Argonaut

The Idaho Argonaut, the University's student owned and operated paper, continued this year in the tradition of keeping students informed concerning campus activities and issues. Editors for the year were Ellen Ostheller, Jason 79, and Jean Monroe, Jason 80. The Golden Fleeces written by the two editors plus editorials by other members of the staff and coverage of issues and events kept the editorial page filled with letters to Jason, making the paper an open forum for student and faculty comment. Areas of interest were state elections, student rights, women's hours, Vietnam, the draft and off campus housing. The Argonaut published two color issues this year. One for the Idaho-ISU game and one for Mother's Weekend. Also included in the year's publications were a number of picture pages and feature articles on student areas of concern.

Mortar Board, a senior women's honorary, functions to promote scholarship among its members and on the campus. These girls serve the University through such projects as Narthex Table, which honors outstanding junior women, and through May Fete. The "Mortar Board Mum" sale held before Homecoming finances the group's activities. Membership is based on outstanding scholarship, leadership, and service to the University. New members are tapped at May Fete.

Spurs is a sophomore women's honorary, which carries out its theme "at your service." Members are chosen on the basis of scholarship, activities, and a genuine interest in the campus and community.

The Spurs had a wide variety of activities this year. They hosted the first Regional Spur Convention here on campus. Their annual traditions included helping the freshman women move into the living groups in the fall, having secret sisters, going Christmas caroling with the IK's, selling Spur-O-Grams on April Fool's Day, supporting a Korean War orphan, and sponsoring the Song Fest on Mother's Day Weekend. Mrs. Dacres is the group's advisor.

Agriculture Engineers

The American Society of Agricultural Engineers stresses agricultural engineering as a professional career. The group sponsors a yearly scholarship given to a student.

PEM Club

This group consists of women majoring or minoring in physical education. PEM Club exists to promote interest in physical education through participation in sports.

WRA

WRA provides fun, relaxation, and physical activity for the University women. The controlling board consists of officers elected by the coeds during the semester and the intramural board includes one representative from each living group.

Row one: Pam Ponozzo, president; Miss Betts, advisor; Jane Johnson. Row two: Fern Eberhardt, Marsha Clifford, Gloria Fleming, Ellen Pruitt.

"T" Club

"T" Club is an extension of Women's Recreation Association. Serving as an honorary, eligibility to this organization consists of a necessary 2.5 accumulative grade point and 40 participation points in WRA, plus enthusiasm, leadership, and sportsmanship.

Vandalettes

The precision drill maneuvers of the Vandalettes are displayed at sport games and other events throughout the year. Members are chosen from the upperclass and second-semester freshman girls who have a flair for marching.

Row one: J. Everett, S. Twohey, G. Fleming, J. Hancock, Drill Mistress; L. Werner, President; W. Hawkins, K. Holcomb, J. Williams. Row two: K. Kelly, J. Severance, M. Foster, M. Harrison, S. Vandal Flying Club

Vandal Flying Club offers the opportunity to anyone to learn the art of flying inexpensively. The group flies out of the Moscow-Pullman airport and owns its own planes.

Phi Epsilon Kappa

Phi Epsilon Kappa brings to its members a greater appreciation of their profession. It is the only national professional fraternity for male students and teachers of health, physical education, and recreation. Membership consists of physical education majors with 2.3 accumulative grade point average.

Ag. Economics Club

The Ag. Econ. Club promotes knowledge and interest in agricultural economics through student contact with professional men in the field.

Block and Bridle

The Block and Bridle Club is a group open to all interested students. The center of activity is the techniques of animal husbandry—live-stock judging, working at the barns and caring for animals.

Dairy Science Club

The Dairy Science Club provides social activities and educational information in the field of Dairy Science. This club is open to all interested students.

Agronomy Club

The Agronomy Club meets each month, at which time guest speakers present various phases of research in bio-chemistry, soils, and agronomy. A report of research projects by the faculty and experiment stations, Idaho Agronomist, is published by this group.

Collegiate FFA

The University of Idaho collegiate chapter of Future Farmers of America is composed of agriculture education majors and other interested students. Discussions, films, and activities form a background for many of the students who will go on to become teachers.

Ag Council

This council coordinates the activities of the subsidiary agricultural clubs. Members are chosen by the respective department clubs or by the head of the department if there is no department club. The council holds meetings monthly and sponsors an Agricultural Week.

Row one: Russell Zenner, Bob Callison, President; Roger Hamilton, Cecil Johnson. Row two: Jim Haskett, Robert Hall, Wayne McProud, Melvin Myers. Row three: W. B. Barr, Allan Herbig, Rick Ross.

Student Affiliate of ASC

This organization acquaints undergraduates enrolled in chemistry or chemical engineering with the professional society which represents the field of chemistry. Through this organization students learn of new developments in the field.

Ken Ash, Gary Torger, Virgil Miller, John K. Hartwell, Kathleen Marlow, Dave Brydl, Cecil S. Johnson, W. Stanley Jeppesen.

Associated Foresters

Students enrolled in the College of Forestry make up this group. The organization promotes professional attitudes, ethics, and leadership. Each year it sponsors a Forestry Week which culminates in the Foresters Ball.

Row one: J. Colwell, S. Elliott, A. Birkmeyer, R. Smith, J. Sutrick, M. Silvers, P. Bush, C. Tucker. Row two: J. Specht, M. Hughes, D. Kauffman, G. Lance, E. Golding, R. Keibler, H. Metzler, D. Vandal Season

Coach Steve Musseau and his Vandals struggled through the 1966 Grid season to maintain a record of 4-6. The Vandals had their share of misfortunes in this year's play. For example, Idaho lost the services of senior linebacker LaVerle Pratt, who broke his leg in action against Idaho State. Against WSU, the Vandals outdid the Cougars in all phases of play except scoring. However, Ray McDonald broke many, many records this year, and will be one of the top Draft choices of both NFL and AFL teams. In spite of Idaho's win-loss record they were ninth in the nation in total offense and third in the nation in rushing. Idaho had 13 elected to the All-Big Sky Conference first and second teams. On first team there were tight end Tim Lavens, center Bob Skuse, and All-American fullback Ray McDonald on offense. On defense Idaho had tackle John Daniel, middle guard Dick Arndt and safety Bryon Strickland. Selected on the second offensive team were halfback Little Joe McCollum, tackle Gary Fitzpatrick and on the second defense team were ends Tom Stephens and Ray Miller, linebacker Al Busby and Ron Porter, and defensive back Jerry Ahler.

IDAHO 7
University of Washington . . 19

The University of Washington Huskies rallied to defeat the Idaho Vandals 19-7 in the Vandals first game of the gridiron season. Some of the highlights of the game for Idaho included a seventy-seven yard punt return by Little Joe McCollum and the breakup of a Husky pass in the endzone by Byron Strickland to prevent a two point conversion attempt. Big Ray McDonald averaged 5.1 yards per carry in this game. After a scoreless first quarter, the Vandals were the first to get on the scoreboard.

IDAHO 10
Montana State . . 24

Idaho's hopes were again smashed as the Montana State Bobcats handed them their second loss of the gridiron season. Montana State's biggest weapon was their defense. Despite the fact that they were greatly outweighed by the Vandal offense, they held the Gunderics many times in important fourth down plays. Both Big Ray and John Foruria had problems—none of them good. The first quarter was completely dominated by the Montana State Bobcats. They scored two touchdowns within 30 seconds of each other. The second quarter wasn't much better, although Idaho made their only touchdown of the afternoon when Sophomore Dick Nelson took a punt and scrambled the fifty-nine yards to score.

The Idaho Vandals in their third start of the season gained their first victory against the University of Pacific, 28-7.

The Pacific Tigers were unable to sustain a drive against the Vandals early in the second quarter. Much later in the second quarter, the Tigers made their only score of the game against the tough Vandal defense by a pass from quarterback Bob Lee to split end Bob Ricioli. The halftime score was 21-7. In the third quarter Foruria gained 45 yards to aid in an 85-yard drive, which ended with a 21-yard run by Little Joe McCollum for the final TD. The final score of 28-7 gave the Idaho Vandals their first victory of the season.

The Idaho Vandals withstood a tremendous second half pass attack by Idaho State to win their second game of the season. The game was mainly a contest of throwing arms between Idaho quarterback John Foruria and Idaho State quarterback Bill Ingram.

Idaho opened in the first quarter with a thirty-three yard field goal by Darrell Danielson. Then in the second quarter Idaho defense held the Bengals on important downs and gave the Gun-derics the ball.

The second half was entirely dominated by the Bengals, except for a field goal of forty yards by Danielson in the fourth quarter. But the Vandals held off the determined Bengals and won 27-20.

The University of Idaho Vandals dropped another tough one, this time to W.S.U. The Vandals outplayed the Cougars in every important department except one, they didn't score more. The W.S.U. Cougars merely capitalized on Vandal mistakes.

The Vandals were the first to score when Big Ray McDonald hurdled over from the one yard line. Darrell Danielson kicked his tenth consecutive extra point of the season giving the Vandals a 7-0 lead.

In the second half Washington State picked up a TD from a fumble in the Idaho backfield. Cougar tackle Bill Kennedy scooped up the pigskin and ran in for the score. The two point conversion attempt was unsuccessful, leaving the score at 7-6. Washington State's second TD came very late in the game when Sophomore halfback Glen Shaw broke loose and made an eighty-four yard run for the score. Dave Peterson ran the two point conversion, giving the Washington State Cougars the game 14-7.

The Idaho Vandals dropped the game 14-7 to the Oregon State Beavers. In a scoreless first half, the Vandals traveled two hundred seven yards offensively compared to seventy-two yards for Oregon State. Idaho compiled eleven first downs against four for the Beavers, but were never able to score. The plays alternated back and forth through the first half, ending with no score for both teams. In the second half Beaver sophomore quarterback Steve Preece, carried the ball on the option play and ran through the Vandal defense to the one yard line. Then he dived over for the first score of the day. The PAT was good, and the Oregon State Beavers led 7-0. Then the Vandals had possession of the pigskin, and Foruria crossed up the Beaver defense to score on a keeper to his right side. Danielson kicked the extra point, tying the score at 7-7. With 7:37 minutes left in the game Oregon State wingback Bob Grim ripped through the Idaho defense and advanced the Beavers to the Idaho seventeen yard line. On the next play Beaver fullback Pete Pifer went in for the score. Haggard kicked the PAT making the final score 14-7.

The Ducks scored first with less than normal procedure by fumbling on Idaho's goal line and guard Tom Wooten pounced on it in the endzone. In the second half Oregon hit for two TD's in the third quarter and another in the fourth making the score 28-0 before the Vandals could get started. Sophomore quarterback Steve Garman took over for John Foruria in the second half. He handled the team quite well in the fourth quarter, but drives were hard to keep going because nobody could hang onto the ball. Idaho's lone score came very late in the game when Big Ray McDonald took a short pass from Garman at the eighteen yard line and then belted his way into the endzone. This made the final score 28-7.

Big Ray, the nation's leading rusher, lugs the ball for Idaho yardage. Manny Murrell (88) attempts to block for McDonald.

IDAHO . . 40 Montana . . 6

The Vandals completely overwhelmed the Montana Grizzlies at Neale Stadium to gain their third win of the season. Idaho scored six touchdowns in the game, with Big Ray booming across four times. Many Vandals turned in outstanding performances. Among these were Dick Arndt, John Foruria, Steve Garman, and Ray McDonald. At the game's end, the score stood 40-6 in favor of the Vandals.

San Jose and Idaho players await the referee's decision after a loose ball.

This muddy fumble occurred during the Idaho-Montana game in which the Grizzlies were thoroughly stomped.

Sophomore Steve Garman started as quarterback and did quite well in the pass department hitting Tim Lavens for forty yards in four passes. Terry Henson, McDonald, and Murrell also had good receptions. Garman finished the day with 14 for 22.

The Spartans were keying strongly on McDonald, and he only gained 30 yards in 9 carries the entire day.

The Vandals were the first to score when Little Joe McCollum broke loose on a counter-trap play and romped seventy yards for the TD. Danielson's kick was good and the score was 7-0. Then San Jose scored late in the second quarter when fullback Sanders dived over from the second yard line making the halftime score 7-7.

The second half was entirely San Jose's. Junior quarterback Danny Holman scored the Spartans final two touchdowns making the score 21-7.

Weber State . . 12

A fine Idaho football team finished off their 1966 grid-iron campaign on the highest note of the season and captured second place in the Big Sky Conference by thoroughly trouncing the Weber State Wildcats, 42-12. The offense was handled very capably by sophomore quarterback Steve Garman as the Vandals rolled out a five hundred twenty-eight yard total. Weber State, which was the pride of the Big Sky as a defensive team, was pushed many times into position, enabling the Vandals to display long runs on the field. Big Ray accumulated a total of two hundred fifty-five yards, carried the ball thirty-one times, scored three touchdowns, and claimed the national rushing title to climax one of the most successful college careers of a U. of I. athlete. Another outstanding play of the game was Darrell Danielson's forty-nine yard field goal in the third quarter to establish a new school record.

After a season that had more "downs" than "ups," a lot of hard luck, and not too many breaks, the Vandals finished it off in a fine way.

The Idaho frosh basketball team faced a big tough schedule and there were not many top high school players recruited for the team. Under new coach John Smith, the young Vandals came on strong and defeated Treasure Valley twice, knocked off North Idaho Junior College and finished in a blaze of glory by downing Montana frosh in the final game. Bob Ross, Steve Brown and Chris Niemeier were outstanding players on the frosh team. All three players are figured a good chance to move to varsity squad next season.

The Vandals had a successful season against some top competition. They defeated the Frosh from British Columbia, 36-0 and were nipped 35-27 in an exciting game by Treasure Valley of Ontario, Ore. The Vandals also dropped a 20-13 game to the WSU frosh.

Coaches Norm Thomas and John Rallis combined with the complete varsity staff in working to develop these fine young athletes for varsity competition and felt sure that many of the frosh would step to the varsity team next fall. Some of the outstanding players were Roosevelt Owens, Joe Tasby, Ron Roberts, Ron Davis, Jerry Hendren, Steve Olson, Gordon DeWard, Pat Flynn, Rudy Linterman, Wally Hedrick, Dave Dixon, Jim Fields, and Wayne Marquess.

Basketball

COACH WAYNE ANDERSON

After spending nine years as baseball coach, Wayne Anderson took over the job of leading the Vandals to a successful basketball season. Anderson, a former athlete from Spokane, has been with the athletic department at Idaho for ten years and is noted for being one of the most dedicated staff members.

The 1966-67 basketball season was a huge success under the new coach, Wayne Anderson. Anderson, an Idaho product and former head baseball and assistant basketball coach, took the reins of this year's club without much hope of a winning season.

He installed a controlled-offense with a team that had to be dedicated and disciplined. This certainly brought many fruits to the team as they won 15 games and lost 12 and compiled this record by playing an exciting brand of basketball.

Bob Pipkin, Mike Wicks, Rod Bohman, Terry Henson, and Dave Schlott-hauer were the seniors that did a grand job for Coach Anderson. Pipkin led the team in scoring with 439 points and Schlott-hauer was second with 418 points. Wicks was the leading field goal shooter with a 48 percentage and Bohman was just behind with 47 percent. Wicks was the winner of the NCAA Scholarship for his grades in the classroom and his work on the team. Bohman was the winner of the Inspirational Award while Schlott-hauer and Pipkin were co-winners of the Outstanding Player Award. Wicks also won the Rich Fox Award.

Skiing

Coach John Ostbo put together an outstanding group of skiers this year and the Vandal team had a most successful season. The Vandals had outstanding strength in the Cross-Country event and had good competitors in the Alpine, Downhill, Slalom and Jumping events. Ole Bergset represented the Vandals at the NCAA national meet at Sugar Loaf Mountain in Kingfield, Me., and placed sixth in the nation in the Cross-Country event. Terji Skogland, skiing as a freshman, won the Banff International Ski meet cross-country championship and Bergset finished second with Bjorn Juvet in tenth place to give the Vandals the team honors. In Big Sky competition, Bergset, Edward Gunderson and Juvet finished 1, 2, 3 to sweep the team honors in this event and aid the team to a second place finish.

Cross Country

COACH DOUG MacFARLANE

The Idaho cross country team had an outstanding leader in Ted Quirk, but the majority of the runners were young and were gaining valuable experience during this season. Although the Vandals met many top teams and did not win a majority of their meets, Coach Doug MacFarlane felt that the team came along well and represented the University of Idaho in good stead.

The Vandals had their best outing in the annual Idaho Invitational meet that was held on the campus. The Vandals placed third with 82 points, with the WSU Cougars taking first and Whitworth in second place. Central Washington, Eastern Washington and Gonzaga finished behind the Vandals in the meet. The Vandals finished fourth in the Big Sky meet that was held in Bozeman.

The Vandals will lose senior Mike Anderson from the varsity and Coach MacFarlane expects that juniors, Quirk, Terji Skogland and Bruce Swain will come along in top style next year. Sophomore Rod Winther is a bright spot to look forward to for next year and two freshmen, Larry Bond and Richard Fuehrer, have shown much promise of being top competitors.

COACH RUSS HATHAWAY

Coach Hathaway believes that with good facilities the swimming program at the University could be improved and the tempo of the conditioning and training would certainly go up.

Coach Russ Hathaway and the Vandal Swimming Team started slow with the small swimming facilities at the University of Idaho. With the small pool and fixed time for its use, practice was limited and the swimmers could not achieve their best of condition. Despite this handicap, the swimmers met all of the Big Sky Conference Teams and many of the swimmers had outstanding times in the various events.

Scores of the meets were as follows: Montana 83, Idaho 19; Gonzaga 70, Idaho 30; Gonzaga 65, Idaho 32; EWCE 53, Idaho 44; Gonzaga 65, Idaho 33; Central Washington 90, Idaho 12; Gonzaga 60, Idaho 33; Western Washington 63, Idaho 41; Montana 67, Idaho 27; Idaho 52, University of Puget Sound 48.

Outstanding swimmers for the Vandals included Dick Curtis in the 100 yard Freestyle; Steve Calhoun in the 500-Freestyle; Frank Burlison in the 200 yard Individual Medley; and Bob Harder in the 50 yard Freestyle.

Tennis

The tennis team had one of the finest seasons in history as they won the Big Sky conference meet in convincing style finishing on top with 23 points ahead of Montana with 19 points, Gonzaga with 11 points, Idaho State with 4 points and Weber and Montana State with 3 points each.

The team had a fine overall record of ten wins and six losses in their regular season, and that record included two big wins over the WSU Cougars.

Doug Denney of Boise was one of the outstanding players and he won a championship spot with his victory in the Big Sky Championships. Jeff Williams of Idaho Falls was another Big Sky Champion in singles and also had a 14-2 record for the year. Lee Takahashi of Parma also was a Big Sky Champion and came through in grand style to win his singles match aiding the team's drive to the championship.

The Vandals also had Keith Ries of Spokane; Skip Rudd of Spokane and John Kauffman of Manheim, Pa., as runner-up in the Big Sky conference meet.

COACH RON STEPHENSON

Lee Takahashi carefully returns the ball over the net.

Jeff Williams practices for the up-coming match.

In the conference meet, the Vandals won ten of the singles matches and won five of the six matches in doubles.

Ries and Newman combined to win one of the doubles championships and Williams also paired with Takahashi to win another doubles championship.

Denney and Rudd were Big Sky runners-up in the third doubles matches. For the season, the Vandals won 31 and lost 15 doubles matches.

Coach Ron Stephenson feels that the team will be strong again next year and is looking forward to the competition.

Baseball

The Vandals had another sensational season on the diamond as new Coach John Smith took the reins and led the team to their third Big Sky Conference championship in four years. The team finished on top of the Big Sky with an impressive 7-1 record and had a season record of twenty-one wins, nine losses, and a tie game. Although the team was hurt by having eleven games postponed or cancelled due to rain or snow, they managed to come up with the big wins in the conference.

Gary Johnson led the team in hitting for the season with a .383 average and he was joined by Doyle Demond with a .343 average, Jim Spencer with a .321 average. Johnson was named to the Big Sky first all-star team and Simmons, Spencer, Demond, Wally Posey, catcher and Toney were named to the second team.

Johnson finished the season with a 9-1 record and had an earned run average of 1.43 in all games while his pitching partner, Simmons, finished with a 7-3 record and a 2.37 earned run average in all games. Coach John Smith was named the "Coach of the Year" in the conference.

The Vandals again were selected to play in the Western Regional NCAA tournament and met a hard-slugging Air Force Academy team in Colorado Springs, Colo., for the semi-finals. The Air Force team downed the Vandals, 5-0 and 10-7 in the two games to advance to the finals.

The team played and defeated all of the top teams in the Northwest and had impressive victories over WSU, Gonzaga, Montana, Idaho State, Eastern Washington College, Yakima College and Columbia Basin College.

The Vandals played an exciting brand of baseball and dedicated two new fields during the season. The new University field was dedicated April 11 when Academic Vice-President, H. Walter Steffens, threw out the first ball and the Vandals then made the day complete with a 11-5 win over EWCE. Later in the season the Vandals also dedicated a new lighted field in Coeur d'Alene and Al Simmons hurled the Vandals to a 1-0 victory over the Whitworth Pirates.

COACH DICK SNYDER

Coach Dick Snyder's golf team had a successful season with many young players making the varsity squad. Three juniors, who will be returning for next year's competition, were Mike Carter of Boise, Bill Cook of Twin Falls and Lex Talmant of Spokane. Sophomores were making themselves noticed on the team this year with Skip Pierce of Lewiston, Alan Hull of Wallace, Dick White of Lewiston, Dan Green of Moscow and Bill Snyder of Twin Falls.

In the Big Sky meet at Ogden, Utah, the Vandals finished fourth with Montana, Gonzaga, Idaho State topping the Idaho team and Weber and Montana State finishing in fifth and sixth places. Pierce led the team with nine individual victories, losing four and one tie. Carter had a 8-4 record and Snyder and White each scored six wins and lost three matches and tied one while Hull had a 5-4 mark.

Bill Cook, why do you need two golf balls?

Dick White wishes for just another inch.

Vandal Wrestling

The wrestling team continued to show progress during their second year of intercollegiate competition this season. They finished with an 8 win 8 loss record and finished fourth in the Big Sky Conference Meet in Spokane. Carl King was the top Vandal performer in the Conference meet with a second place finish in the 123 lb. division. Tim Lape finished third in the 130 lb. class. Final conference standings were as follows: Idaho State University—98 points, Montana State University—95 points, University of Montana—66 points, University of Idaho—35 points, Weber State College—18 points, and Gonzaga University—9 points.

The question is can he roll him over and pin him on his back.

Rick Mayer, the wrestler with the most pins for the year, has a take down on a Gonzaga wrestler.

COACH RON STEPHENSON

Track

The track team had a successful season. Several lettermen were not able to be in any track meets because of leg and other injuries. Some of the outstanding athletes were Bruce Brotnov, who set the new javelin record of 216 feet; Ted Quirk in the one mile and the three mile, and Rick Smith, discus and shotput. Steve Brown became the first person in the Northwest to break the seven foot high jump record. He made a new record by jumping seven feet one half inch in Martin Relay at Walla Walla. He will represent the U of I at the NCAA Finals at Provo, Utah.

Bruce Swain, Gary Johnson, and Larry Bond practice for the up-coming track meet with Montana.

Steve Brown eases over the pole in a high jump to set a University record of 7 feet 1/2 inch.

COACH DOUG McFARLANE

Bruce Brotnov arches his back to throw the javelin.

Bob Bohman has placed his pole and is on the way up for the pole vault.

1967 Intramural Champions

High finishes in all the Intramural Sports resulted in the Intramural Trophy for ATO. ATO finished first in tennis, horseshoes, and softball; were Greek champions in "A" basketball; and finished second in "B" basketball, table tennis, track, and touch football. With good athletes participating from the entire house, the ATO's were the Intramural Champions.

Jon Bloxham, Bob Manz, Glenn Waller.

Horseshoes

Led by Bob Manz, the ATO's ran away with the Horseshoe trophy. They made 90 points compared to 44 points by second place Snow Hall.

Womens' Recreation Association is available to all women attending the U. of I. Not only does it promote all types of fall, winter, and spring sports, but it also sponsors folk and modern dancing. Some of the sports that it sponsors are basketball, swimming, skiing, softball, golf, tennis, volleyball, archery, and track and field. The folk dancing that it sponsors is the Co-Ed Capers and the modern dancing is Orchesis and Pre-Orchesis. WRA, most of all, provides an active and fun way to exercise while meeting new friends.

Pat Bergman, Hays, gives the discus a whirl in track and field.

WRA softball is a very popular spring sport. Here Linda Werner, Pi Phi, and Lynda Rearick, Campbell, get their thrills.

Women's Recreation Association

Orchesis and Pre-Orchesis provide modern dance instruction for all women. Women can try out as freshman and do not have to have previous experience.

Basketball action provides vigorous activity for all interested women.

WRA also provides for skiing fun. The team this year had two races at North-South Ski Bowl against WSU, and at Schweitzer Basin against many different colleges. Sally Swanson, Carolyn Ely, and Jeri Matthews won first, second, and third place, respectively, in the down hill and slalom against WSU.

Competition is good for every woman. In track and field there are many close races.

Volleyball is a fun sport for all women and promotes team spirit.

Expression and creativity develop through participating in modern dance.

WRA

Here two halls, Pine and Campbell, battle to win a WRA basketball game.

Tennis provides a means of spring exercise and a chance to travel if a co-ed is skilled enough to make the Women's Tennis Team. Maureen McKee returns the ball with a back hand.

Co-rec volleyball is a unique sport sponsored by WRA. There is nothing like having men around to help.

Pam Ponzoso, WRA president, gives the high jump a good try.

Acknowledgment Page

From the editors' desk comes a special thank-you.

As we sit here only a couple of days until our graduation, we realize that the 1967 GEM is almost done. For beginners in the publishing business, it's been a long hard year, but we've found it most rewarding to become acquainted and work with our staff and the University. To these people we extend our very sincere thanks:

1966 editors Wanda and Carolyn—for getting us started.

Our staff heads—Janice, associate editor; Karen, Jill, Suzanne, Jo, Eva, C. Rae, and Kathy.

Mr. Ames and everyone at Publications.

Gale and the entire ASUI office staff.

Jim Gipson, and the rest of the crew from Caxtons.

Mr. Kim from Rudy's; also Hutchinsons and Thonneys.

The Argonaut and the Idahonian.

Bob Maker for help for the Athletic section.

Louise Shadduck from the State Department of Commerce and Development for the use of various colored pictures.

Dean Decker and the Deans of all the colleges.

Many, many more individuals—the girls from Steel and Campbell, two special guys who put up with our endless running around, Brenda who did so much of the typing, and all others who helped us so much.

Best of luck goes to next years editors, Jo and Suzanne.
