“Papa Gale”

Affectionately known to most University of Idaho students as “Papa Gale,” Gale Mix, ASUI General Manager for 25 years, donned his “working hat” for the last time at Idaho on November 3, 1967.

Mr. Mix left the University of Idaho to become Associate producer for College Campus Concerts, Ltd., in California. He will be booking, scheduling and handling stage planning for a number of traveling entertainment groups.

Mr. Mix’s experience with big names dates back to World War II when he served as a major on General Eisenhower’s staff at Supreme Allied Headquarters.

Mr. Mix came to Idaho in 1938, but it wasn’t his first time here. He graduated in 1927 from the University of Idaho College of Law.

Since 1928 he has served as Alumni Director, Manager of Athletics and General Manager of ASUI.

He is found for the first time as acting in the capacity of Graduate Manager in the 1940 Gem of the Mountains this position became better known as General Manager. Mr. Mix was at Idaho continuously from 1938 with the exception of four years, 1942-1946, when he was in the army.

“Papa Gale” was always ready to listen and advise any students and organizations in the ASUI. We, the students at the University of Idaho, wish to express our deepest thanks to you, “Papa Gale,” for 28 years of faithful, efficient and appreciated service.

To ASUI through the Gem of the Mountains:

The publication of this issue of the Gem symbolizes the close of another year in the life of the University of Idaho and, for many of you, its readers, the close of your academic association with it. We hope that the Gem will serve to keep your memories of Alma Mater bright.

Equally important, however, we hope that the Gem, through the variety and range of its photographic and descriptive presentations, will stress the fact that this University is dynamic and ever changing, even as are you, its graduates. As you move to new endeavors, to evolving careers, to graduate or professional education, remember that U of I is also constantly changing the pattern of its existence. Often the changes are small and subtle, but not infrequently they are also quite dramatic. As alumni, you may not always agree with some or all of the changes, but as alumni you should certainly comprehend their inevitability. Likewise, you should always feel free to express your opinions on change or other matters of importance to the University directly to its Faculty, Administration, Regents, or Student Leaders. Over the years great universities have always been characterized by interested and concerned alumni, and as it grows, Idaho will be no exception to this rule. It will always, in this sense, be your University, and you will always be its special public.

The Gem marks a change in our relationship, but in no sense a termination. We in Moscow will follow your careers with interest, as we hope you will continue to follow that of your University.

The best of luck to you all.

Board of Regents

The Board of Regents is the governing body for the University of Idaho. This group coordinates and directs University Activities and approves all policies and official acts of the University. Since it obtains its authority and powers from the Constitution of the State of Idaho, the Board is directly responsible to the people of the state. All policies of the University must be established or approved by the Board.

Financial Affairs

Vice President Steffens in charge of Academic Affairs, and Vice President Dick, in charge of Financial Affairs, have efficiently served these two positions since they were created in 1961 to specialize the duties of the office of Vice Presidents.

Kenneth A. Dick retired as financial vice president, early in the school year, to accept the position of first executive director of the National Association of College and University Business Officers.

A well organized administration is at work to serve the students through many well-organized facilities. The group seeks constantly to improve their services thusly improving facilities at the University of Idaho.

Student Affairs

The Office of Student Affairs in the UCC building is the common meeting ground for students and administration alike. Here, besides directing student affairs, the personnel will help students with any problems they may have.

MARJORIE M. NEELY
Dean of Women

Mrs. Marjorie M. Neely, Dean of Women, and Miss Barbara Rogers, assistant Dean of Women, act as advisors and counselors to the Associated Women's Students and Panhellenic Council.

BARBARA ROGERS
Assistant Dean of Women

CHARLES O. DECKER
Dean of Students

The assistant and associate Dean of Students act as advisors to several of the organizations on campus. Dewey Newman is advisor to the Interfraternity Council, consultant to IFC committees, works with each fraternity, and is veterans advisor. Harry Davey is advisor to the men living in University residence halls, to their organizations and Residence Halls Association. He is also foreign Student Advisor.

Dean Charles Decker is in charge of the Office of Student Affairs and Counseling. Under the administrative jurisdiction of the Dean of Students and his office are all activities and services pertaining to the students.

Governor Don W. Samuelson

The story of the rise and fall of many nations is recorded in the pages of history. Even with such a proud and noble past, America's greatest days are yet to come.

That great heritage has been unfolding for 192 years because each generation has shouldered the responsibility of adding new achievements. Don't discard those 192 years of America. They have produced more happiness for more people than any other nation in the history of mankind.

A few flaws remain. Aim at correcting these—but scorn those who seek to destroy and ridicule and belittle their own country.

The future belongs to you. Go conquer it—and help build a finer Idaho and America.

Sincerely,

DON SAMUELSON
Governor

Alpha Lambda Delta

Honoraries

College of Agriculture

In this fast moving world young people have a unique opportunity to be a part of one of the most fascinating times in this century. I did what many young people do in college today. I started out to be an engineer, but after one year decided my real love was in the science of agriculture. Others of my class started in agriculture and transferred to a different field. The important thing a student should do is to select a curriculum or major in which his greatest interest lies. People who are most successful are those who are doing something they really like to do. I would urge a student to select his or her major field of interest and excel in it.

JAMES E. KRAUS
Dean, College of Agriculture

R. H. SEALE
Associate Dean

The College of Agriculture, one of the first schools to attain the status of a college on the University of Idaho campus in 1901, offers curricula in agriculture phases of education, engineering science, and management. Actual classroom techniques are applied in the college-maintained greenhouses, farms, and land acreage which is used for instruction and research. Through its graduates and its many services offered throughout the state, the College of Agriculture has played a vital role in Idaho's agricultural economy.

College of Business

DAVID D. KENDRICK
Dean, College of Business

The College of Business at the University of Idaho provides professional training for young men and women who plan to make business their career. The majors may graduate in accounting, business, and applied science, economics, finance, foreign trade, general trade, general business, marketing and office administration.

It has been gratifying to be in a position to place the growth of the College of Business Administration in its proper perspective. I first saw the University of Idaho as a student in 1930. After being graduated in 1935 with a B.S. Business degree, I left the campus and except for occasional visits did not become acquainted with the College until 1946. At that time, the war and its disturbances had not been over long enough for the College to make its adjustments. When I returned in 1957, as Dean of the College of Business Administration, I could see that we were getting ready for some basic changes and advances. The striking aspect of our growth is that it has been on a solid foundation of attention to principles. We have always learned to take advantage of developments in teaching methods and modern machines such as computers. It is exciting to consider what we will offer our students by 1972.

College of Education

Everett V. Samuelson, Dean of the College of Education, became Dean in the fall of 1963. He came to the University from the University of Colorado where he was Director of the Bureau of Research. He received his B.A. from Southwestern College, his M.S. from Kansas University and his Ph.D. degree. Dean Samuelson has contributed much time working on the new College of Education Building and he helped receive full accreditation from NCATE for programs due to the Ph.D. degree. Dean Samuelson is active in the Community in the Chamber of Commerce, Kiwanis, Masonic groups, and the Methodist Church. His hobbies include skiing, fly fishing, and camping. Dean and Mrs. Samuelson have two children: their daughter is a sophomore in college and their boy is fourteen.

EVERETT V. SAMUELSON
Dean, College of Education

The College of Education consists of the departments of Education, Psychology, Health, Physical Education and Recreation, with special programs in Music Education, Business Education, Industrial Art Education, and Library Science. In addition to specialized preparation in the major and minor fields, the college provides a broad general education background. It is fully accredited by the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education.

College of Engineering

The College of Engineering offers a wide range of study which may be pursued in a practical as well as economic application of science.

H. S. SMITH
Dean, College of Engineering

The success of your College of Engineering in preparing you for an engineering career will be measured as much by how well you were motivated toward a continuing search for new knowledge as by the specific knowledge you absorbed during your brief stay with us. Few of you know what you will be doing five years after graduation but whatever it is will probably require some new knowledge not generally available during your student days. You may even be performing engineering work in a different field than your collegiate major. This tremendously expanding opportunity is the essential challenge of engineering as a profession. The career rewards come to those who capitalize on their collegiate start to open new doors. The College of Engineering has enjoyed 67 years of starting new engineers, its record is good—can you cash in on this start?

A student with a 3.0 grade average and/or junior standing is eligible to be selected as a member of Sigma Tau. Members are selected by the group and membership is for life.

College of Forestry

The College of Forestry, nationally top rated, draws students from every state and many foreign countries. A four year program is offered to the students in forest, range and game management, and wood utilization. By means of land gifts which include a tree nursery and a large arboretum, the experimental forest program has developed into one of the largest in the country, providing countless opportunities for the forestry student to gain practical knowledge in his field.

ERNEST WOHLTZ
Dean, College of Forestry

The significance of confidence in one's self and faith in others was forcefully brought to my attention during my college days. An incident will illustrate the point.

In my senior year I was offered an opportunity to become a teaching assistant in a course which I considered to be extremely difficult. Lacking confidence in my ability and faith in the judgment of the Dean in choosing me, I declined. As a result, I received a good dressing down from him. To put it bluntly, he told me that I would take the job, and if I failed to do good work, a $10 bill which he placed in the drawer of his desk would become mine. Following the completion of the course he called me into his office, took the $10 bill from the drawer, and placed it in his wallet.

Most of us at one time or another need a boost like this in order to build confidence and to increase our faith in others.

College of Law

ALBERT R. MENARD, JR.
Dean, College of Law

The College of Law is a member of the Association of American Law Schools which is the highest accrediting agency for law schools in the United States and it is also approved by the American Bar Association. The college, the only law school in Idaho, develops communicative ability, deepens intellectual maturation in its students and provides sound training to pursue the professional study of Law.

The College of Law of the University of Idaho is one of the smallest of the accredited law schools in the United States. Fortunately, size is no measure of quality in the legal world. Indeed smallness permits a continuing personal contact between faculty and student for three years. At times this closeness probably seems a dubious blessing on both sides of the platform as personalities grate a bit. But it does obviate the almost universal complaint of the student of today "I am only a number overwhelmed by the system." This issue of the Gem of the Mountains marks the graduation of thirty-eight young lawyers. Speaking now to them in particular we do not celebrate an ending but a transition from junior partnership to full membership in our profession for which we are convinced by personal knowledge that you are highly qualified.—DEAN MENARD

College of Letters and Science

The College of Letters and Science, established in 1901, seeks through a liberal studies background to strengthen and contribute toward the advancement of integrity, character, and personal development.

The major objective of higher education is personal excellence. Personal excellence must be achieved in a number of different fields, for instance, one's occupation or profession. The achievement of personal abilities is necessary for this goal. Most modern state universities offer the facilities to all students who are seeking such goals. Another phase of personal excellence deals with the individual's own life: his family life and his community life. Here, excellence extends far beyond professional education. This requires deep understanding and appreciation of all the basic fields of knowledge, such as, the Biological Sciences, the Physical Sciences, the Humanities and Arts, and Social Sciences. One cannot avoid an imbalance in his own life, if he does not have a background of man's total human experiences. Even to achieve excellence of appreciation of life, the student has a tremendous task. He must, consequently, relate what he studies, hears, and thinks to the world environment in which he lives. The student's objectives and the University's objectives should be directed toward the accomplishment of these ends. When either the student or institution fails, we should re-evaluate our programs to make certain that we are coming as near as our facilities will permit to achieve proper objectives.

Today young people have the greatest opportunity for both success and failure. I plead with you to take full advantage of your period of apprenticeship for life, because you will need every reserve of knowledge and understanding to achieve personal excellence.

College of Mines

The College of Mines, because of its location near one of the chief mining areas of the world, provides excellent opportunity for field observations and study of the natural geological structures in this area. Degrees are granted in Mining, Metallurgical and Geological Engineering and also in Geology and Geography.

ROLLAND R. REID
Dean, College of Mines

In these days of change, students must be thinking intensely about choice of personal values. Choices for a way of life are perhaps more numerous and widely varied than ever before, in view of our rapid technologic growth. Yet people have not changed very much, if at all; therefore, one may still look to the past to see how various systems have worked and how our present situation compares with the past. Through comparisons with past systems, one may make reasonable predictions about the future—each person must work out his own predictions, decide which he wishes to see happen, and then live and work in such a way that it can come to be. My own experience indicates that hard work and individual responsibility have been, are, and will always be important. Much of life's satisfaction lies in the joy of a difficult task well done.

MELBOURNE L. JACKSON
Dean, Graduate School

The graduate school, which was organized in 1925, offers the opportunity for advanced studies, specialization, and research in more than 50 departments. In addition to developmental studies in his particular field, the graduate student may also take advantage of programs planned in conjunction with Washington State University and the National Reactor Testing Station in Idaho Falls.

The first job I had after receiving a bachelors degree was cleaning out the mud from back of a small water storage dam in Alaska, but I was earning money to go to graduate school (I had turned down a good offer with a well known chemical company). But today graduate schools actively recruit students and in some fields offer handsome stipends or work opportunities as inducements. A recent editorial in a national journal, in commenting upon the current "boom" in graduate education, said "nothing like it has ever happened before in American education. . . ." The interest of the young people provides the explanation. The emphasis of 1941 on college has been replaced by emphasis on life-long learning, partially through graduate schools and advanced degrees.

Adult Education

DR. PAUL F. KAUS, *Director
Adult Education and Summer School*

The division of Adult Education and Summer School coordinates and directs the nonagriculture extension services, summer school activities, and correspondence courses of the University. An opportunity for a University education is provided to more than 4,000 students throughout the state.

Changes in our world are so apparent that documentation is unnecessary. New scientific discoveries conceived in laboratory have found their birth in technological developments. These technological developments and changes have allowed and caused changes in the social and cultural patterns of our lives. New methods of production along with exposure to the newer mass media have allowed the culturally and socially deprived to seek better kinds of lives. New methods of communication have caused the trials and tribulations of distant people to be our problems. New technologies require that all persons continue to learn and re-educate themselves throughout their lifetime.

The activities of the Division of Summer School and Continuing Education are based on the proposition that there does exist on the University campus a quantity of experts to aid in the orderly adjustment of man to change. The Division seeks to facilitate the dissemination of this expertise through a wide variety of vehicles including evening extension courses, concentrated workshops and symposiums, the Summer School program, etc. For the most part, these programs are designed to help the individual increase his knowledge and keep up-to-date in his profession.

Department Heads are very important people since they act as coordinators, directing the activities involved in his academic area. This person has to see that every teacher is carrying out certain basic requirements—such as giving final examinations. This person needs to know the teachers in his area, and something about what is going on in the courses under his jurisdiction. The Head needs to be in the know in order to deal effectively with any problems which might happen to arise.

Although department heads are busy people, students should try to get to know the heads that they are involved with. It is to a student's advantage to know whom to talk to when he is having trouble with a certain class or a certain teacher. The Department Head is there for each student who seeks guidance and advice.

Freshmen

Dave Brugato, president; and Grace Kraus, secretary-treasurer, were elected to lead the Freshmen Class of 1971. Frosh Week, held in April this year, is the main activity of the class. The legs contest and the greased pig contest are part of Frosh Week. The Frosh Week Dance climaxed the week.

Letter from Dave Leroy

"We've had a good year. For the first time, as we move toward a community-type government, students actually author University policy on the Committee on Campus Affairs. For the first time students are a majority voice on the SUB-controlling Student Union Board. Our Student Recruitment and campus planning efforts are maturing. The Executive Board has made its initial definition of student responsibilities and rights. Our general rally, recreational, cultural, and social committees have maintained an unparalleled level of activity.

I hope that you have taken the time to express yourself constructively within the framework of these ASUI and University opportunities. Any strides that we have made this year can be turned into successes only through the efforts of succeeding generations of student workers.

As a transient society, we influence through student government not only our immediate surroundings and the future campus climate, but most important our own individual character and potential. We become educated only to the extent that we accept the challenge of academic and extra-curricular participation.

We leave this legacy of challenge and take with us a treasure of experience. To the University of Idaho—its people, its tradition, and its promise—I am proud to add my "thanks."

DAVE LEROY
ASUI President 1967-68

Executive Board

Executive Board enacted several important legislative items during the 1967-68 school year. The Student Bill of Rights, after much discussion was passed, with moderations, in the spring. The board also approved several requests totaling over $200,000 for an additional nine holes and new golf clubhouse. The board repealed the districting system passed the previous year. One regulation change allows students or E-Board to call for referendum on vital ASUI issues.

Several campus improvements originating in Executive Board were acted upon by the University. Among them were the new sidewalks along Idaho Avenue and several new cross walks.

The 1967-1968 Executive Board was one of service and achievement for the students of the University of Idaho.

EDITOR'S DESK

The 1968 Gem of the Mountains was an experience for everyone involved. There were many problems which arose, from arriving at school to find that there was no longer a University photographer for the GEM to lost pictures, lost copy and to staff members who deserted at the last minute. Most people do not realize just what goes into putting a yearbook together; it takes cooperation, responsibility, perseverance and many many long hours to get a memorable book. Each person involved has to be sure that he is doing his part. No one person should shoulder all of the responsibility because it is not just one person's book—the GEM belongs to all students at the University of Idaho. The 1968 Gem of the Mountains has made an attempt to be somewhat different from previous books. We have tried to cut down on copy and play up the picture. May the 1968 GEM be a unique book which all of the U of I students will enjoy.

KUOI

KUOI, the student owned and operated radio station celebrated its twenty-third year of broadcasting by installing new equipment worth nearly $5000 in the station. One new addition was the teletype which enabled the station to provide one of the most complete news coverages in the area. A staff of nearly fifty students operated the station 109 hours each week. KUOI has the distinction of being the only radio station in the Northwest both owned and operated exclusively by students.

After six years at Idaho, the last three of which he was head football coach, Coach Steve Musseau resigned. Amid a flurry of protests from fans and team over "outside pressure" the Athletic Board of Control accepted his resignation and started the search for a new coach. Musseau's record here, 13 won-17 lost, is the best since 1928; we see him go with regret.

Pacific 42

Idaho opened the 1968 football season traveling to the University of Pacific at Stockton, California. In an opener, leading to a less than successful season, the Vandals were dumped by a score of 42 to 6. Starting slowly, the Vandal defense was unable to contain Pacific throughout most of the game even though the inspiring play of linebackers Joe Tasby and Roosevelt Owens brought high praise from Coach Musseau. Offensively, the team was plagued with many first game hitches as they were unable to generate a strong scoring thrust, although sophomore end Jerry Hendren pleased all with six grabs for seventy yards.

An unknown Vandal tries vainly and illegally to clear the air as Idaho's Dodson falls forward for the extra yard.

Coming fresh and eager from fall practice, the young Vandals were soon taught the facts of life by Pacific.

Fresno
State 14

Despite twelve cases of intestinal flu, the Vandals rolled the Fresno Bulldogs under with the help of four interceptions and a Fresno fumble. Although the Bulldogs came back in the second quarter to lead 14-13 after an early Idaho lead of 13-0, Paul Gentle, with a quarterback sneak, and Jim Pearsall, with a fine run, closed the bag for Idaho. The win evened Idaho's season record at one win and one loss.

The Vandals continued on the winning end by dropping the Bengals of Idaho State University. The win continued the string of Idaho wins with Idaho State, as Idaho has yet to lose to the Bengals. For the second time in as many weeks, the defense proved to be the rallying point for the Vandals, continually turning back the Bengals. Following suit, the Vandal offense built a winning margin.

The extra point is away and good from the foot of Darrell Danielson, helped by Vandal blocking.

Senior Quarterback Paul Gentle rifles another pass behind the blocking of Rob Young and Jim Pearsall.

Homecoming 1967 was less than a warm Indian summer for Queen Leslie Peterson and the Vandals, as Montana State rolled past Idaho 41 to 14. The Vandal offense, sparked by sophomore end Jerry Hendren who caught 7 passes, and junior back Jim Pearsall who rushed for 107 yards, was not held up by the defense. The loss left Idaho 1-1 in league play while the Bobcats are 1-0.

Homecoming

Playing before the television cameras proved to be an inspiration for the Idaho Vandals as they once again broke into the win column by defeating the Grizzlies of Montana 19 to 14. The loss ended a win stretch for Montana of four games. The first half was dominated by Idaho, as the Vandals scored 12 of their 19 points and held Montana scoreless. After falling behind, 14-12, late in the fourth quarter the Vandals rallied to the win on Rudy Linterman's 54 yard run.

Strong defense led the way to an Idaho victory over Parsons.

Idaho 6

Oregon . . . 31

The Ducks of the University of Oregon left only tail feathers for the Vandals, as they routed Idaho 31 to 6. Capitalizing on Garman's opening play fumble, the Ducks led 7 to 0, and never trailed. Idaho's points came on field goals of 32 and 40 yards by Darrell Danielson. It was an injury riddled game for Idaho as two players suffered knee injuries, and a third broke his thumb. The loss left the Vandal record at three wins and three losses.

Idaho 28

Parsons . . . 27

Idaho Dads watched the Vandals "Pop the Flunkies" as Idaho rolled to a 28 to 27 upset of the small-college ranked Wildcats. In one of the most exciting Vandal games, Idaho held out against the Wildcats' last minute attempt at a two point conversion and a field goal try. The win left Idaho with a 4-3 win-loss record.

Joe Tasby and Kenny Dotson put the brakes to a Weber State runner.

State 28

Idaho 14

WSU 52

The Vandals were unable to stop two Wildcat teams as Idaho fell to Weber State 17 to 28. Although scoring first, the Vandal defense was unable to cope with Weber's All-American Full-back, Lee White, who seemed to roam at will through the Idaho defensive backfield. The loss left the Vandals in a three-way tie for second place in the Big Sky Conference at two wins and two losses, and put the season mark at 4 to 4.

Highlights were few for the Vandals in the annual "Battle of the Palouse" as the Washington State Cougars rolled to a 52-14 win over Idaho. Jerry Hendren was the only bright spot as he broke two records; catching ten passes, a single game mark, and pushing his season total to 40 receptions, a season mark.

The Vandal defense converges on another Cougar ball carrier.

Another successful effort by the Idaho defense.

Idaho 6

Houston . . 77

The Vandals closed out the 1967 season with a 77 to 6 shellacking at the hands of the Houston Cougars. Houston moved at will against an outmaneuvered Vandal defense. Kenny Dotson's eleven yard kickoff returns for 260 yards, setting a single game record, and Jerry Hendren added to his season pass reception record with four more catches. The only Vandal score came on a pass from Wickboldt to Toney, late in the fourth quarter. The loss gave the Vandals a final season mark of four wins against six losses.

Jerry Hendren goes high to make another catch.

Basketball

The Idaho Vandals put together their second consecutive winning season under Coach Wayne Anderson, posting a 15-11 won-lost record. After a slow start on the road against USC and California, the Vandals came home to break into the win column with two victories over Alaska.

Tournament play saw the Idaho team place second in the Lilac Tournament in Spokane. The Vandals won the opening game against Northern Arizona University, but lost in the Championship game to Gonzaga.

Big Sky Conference play found the Vandals quickly in the heat of the race. Although only considered a dark horse through pre-league play, the Vandals showed their skill with a win over Montana State, outscoring the Bobcats by ten points in the final sixty seconds of play. The Vandals remained in contention for the league lead until the final week of conference play. Final league standings placed the Vandals second with a 9-6 record in conference games. Weber State, which placed first, was the only team to beat the Vandals twice in league action.

Idaho used the home court to advantage, winning ten of twelve home games. Included in these wins was an overtime victory over the Weber State Wildcats. On the road the Vandals were not as successful, as they could only muster five wins in fourteen games.

Throughout the season the leading scorer for the Vandals was Jim Thacker, who averaged 16.6 points per game in league games and 16.7 overall. Leader in the shooting percentages was Phil Waddell, as he shot 54 per cent from the field and 87 per cent from the free-throw line in conference games. Steve Brown was the leader in the rebound department followed closely by Rick Day and Tony Traweek.

Jim Thacker received the Ron White "Most Valuable Player" award while the Jay Gano "Most Inspirational Player" award went to Rick Day. Coach Anderson received nomination for the Big Sky "Coach of the Year" and NCAA "Coach of the Year."

Prospects for next year's team are good, as only Rick Day and Bob Noice will not be returning from this season's squad. Coach Anderson expects to pick several good players from this year's Frosh squad, including Marvin Williams, Adrian Prince, John Nelson, Keith Eckert, Keith Hessing and Gerry Forth.

BIG SKY—FIFTH PLACE

Skiing

The ski team had no dual meets this year but did compete in the Big Sky Conference meet where they placed third. They also took fifth place in the Idaho Invitational Ski Meet. The team, coached by Jon Seetin, consisted of Brent Brady, Bob Zapp, Bruce Henry, Terje Skogland, Ole Bergset, Ed Gunderson, Mike Rowles and Larry Hancock.

Swimming

The Vandal swimmers posted a 9-4 season this year with some excellent swimmers; but their lack of depth became telling as they took only third place in the Big Sky meet. Some of this year's standouts include Dan Kirkland with a new Idaho record in the 1000 yard freestyle; Stein Buer, a freshman, with a record in the 500 yard freestyle, and Marc Greenwell, another freshman, with a new mark in the 200 yard backstroke. Frank Burlison, a senior who along with Dwayne Turpin will be leaving next year, was also one of Idaho's stronger swimmers; his 2:27.4 in the 200 yard breaststroke was another Idaho record. With only two seniors leaving and the hope for new facilities rising, Coach Chet Hall looks forward to a good year in '69.

WRA: Women's Recreation Association

WRA is primarily to create a greater interest in sports and physical fitness among the women. It is available to all women attending the U of I. It not only promotes fall, winter and spring sports, but also sponsors folk and modern dancing. The popular sports include basketball, swimming, skiing, softball, golf, tennis, volleyball, archery and track and field. The folk dancing that it sponsors is the Co-Ed Capers in September and the modern dancing consists of Orchesis and Pre-Orchesis. WRA provides a way to get exercise while having fun and making friends.

WRA: Women's Recreation Association

Living groups compete in the various activities provided by WRA—the ski team travels in competition—co-rec volleyball is challenging—basketball includes double elimination—swimming provides meets, visitations to other schools and meets at the U of I—modern dancing provides a means for expression—co-ed capers provides fun and entertainment for all—WRA provides a variety of activities for every active woman at the university.

Fall & Rush

Harboring great expectations, freshmen came to the University of Idaho—to Vandal Country. Expectations of a new way of living—new friends—new homes—new freedoms—collegiate parties—knowledge from new sources—future accomplishment. Developing and enlarging expectations carried from past years, Upperclassmen returned to the Palouse—Thus, a new year is begun—a year which only when one looks back on it can it be claimed as successful or unsuccessful.

The year began at Idaho with the formal week of Greeks rushing future Greeks. Rush parties—bids and invitations—high hopes—finally moving and settling into the way of life which continues for 4 big years.

Registration

Rush was over, the dorms were jumping with arrivals and the time was ready to start an academic year. Confusion—Headaches over class schedules—Standing in line after line—Writing that check—Posing for the I.D. card, Idaho's over 6,000 students could only collapse in the nearest chairs after registration was over. Upon recovery there was the mad dash to the bookstore—More lines—Another check—and students were ready to relax until that first day of classes.

Activities Orientation

Classes were underway—boys and girls wanted to meet and make new friends—everyone wanted to become active. Activities Council planned and presented a program to meet the eager, enthusiastic students. Each area director reported concerning his area—what committees it included, work required and number of people needed. Each committee in the areas presented a skit to depict the work it did. Many interested students attended—they were entertained and informed concerning campus committees.

Student Union Building

Many hours in the life of the Idaho student were spent in the Student Union Building—committee meetings—coke dates—bridge games—formal dances—bowling or pool and studying in the Stereo Lounge. Campus visitors also saw its adequate facilities—the Ballroom for banquets—small meeting rooms—and the Lounge for just relaxing. Thus, the hub of activity in Vandal Country was the S.U.B.

Idaho's SUB not only was the hub of campus activity but it also was the hub of relaxation. The Vandal lounge, where the boys watched the girls go by—the stereo lounge where students went to study and fell asleep—the cafeteria where other students take a 10-minute break that lasted for an hour—and the famed Dipper where many a Friday night was spent.

SUB Activities

Homecoming

Les Peterson, crowned in Boise at the Idaho State game, became the 1967 Homecoming queen and thus, launched an activity-filled week. "Showdown at Vandal Corral—Bobcats Bite the Dust!" as the theme gave Idaho students a chance to don their cowboy boots and Western outfits to carry out the spirit of the Old West. The pajama parade by Idaho freshman women and the pep rally with the burning of the Bobcat, as well as the parade of floats increased tension and excitement for the big game.

Disappointment of losing to Montana State, 41 to 14, was forgotten, as Idaho Vandals listened to the performance by Dave Brubeck's Quartet and later that evening, danced to the Jazz Band at the Homecoming Dance. Vandal alums on campus were greeted by open doors to all living groups. Homecoming 1967 meant Fun for Vandals, present and past.

WSU Walk

Idaho Vandals, loyal to tradition, marched those 9 miles to Washington State's campus for the second year in a row. Idaho lost to WSU 52-14 in the annual Battle of the Palouse. Upon reaching WSU, ASUI president, Dave LeRoy, washed the feet of WSU's president. After a short rest Idahonians trekked back to their home state and campus.

Competition of folk dances—Basque dancing for entertainment—Good food—Introductions of Women's activity groups—all characterized Coed Capers. An annual event to assemble all University of Idaho women in one place, the Capers gave freshmen their first look at Idaho's activities for women and allowed all women to intermingle and meet new friends.

Coed Capers

Dad's Day

Idaho "popped the flunkies" to bring the curtain down on Dad's Day 1967, as Idaho fathers found time to attend a breakfast in their honor at the SUB, and to visit open living groups on campus. Highlighting the weekend was a concert by the famous Association. Listeners sat in awe to the sounds of such hits as "Cherish," "Requiem for the Masses," and "Windy." In addition to this, all Freshmen participated in the yearly Turkey Trot for their living groups.

"Dads of the Year," selected from five finalists, were named midway through the Parson's game. This year the traditional award was shared by two men, Rafe Gibbs and Ed English.

One of the best ways to get accustomed to the collegiate atmosphere, or to get back into the old groove, was to attend the annual fall dances sponsored by most living groups. Dress: Grubby or Dress: Semi-Formal, and always, "You are cordially invited to attend"—signaled the arrival of each dance. Dance floors were crowded and the latest songs, dances and clothes fads appeared everywhere. It took little time before all Idaho students were in the spirit of college life.

Fall Dances

Military Ball

Men in military uniforms—Girls in long formals—Music by the Jazz Lab Band—all of these characterized the Military Ball on March 1. President Ernest Hartung announced the new Military Ball Queen while Marsha Bohman, retiring queen, presented Sandy Adams, 1968 Queen, a bouquet of roses. The excitement—hopes of the finalists—the actual moment of crowning—the band played the finale and the Military Ball was over for another year.

Forester's Ball

Greek Week Dance

Holly Week

The spirit of Christmas—Sophomores caroling living groups—Holly Frolics emceed by Joe Tasby—Queen finalists, Janet Perri, Jill Freeman, Marsha Bohman, Carolyn Steele, and Sally Armstrong—The Holly Week dance, "The Shades of Christmas"—Sally Armstrong was crowned Holly Queen amid cheesecloth decorations and blue-colored lights. All of this was Holly Week, 1967.

Campus Elections

Conventions — nominations — speeches — official nomination — campaigning at meals — more speeches — smokers — campaign promises — voting — election — and the swearing-in, was the way of all good politicians at Idaho. Starting with CUP Convention and ending with the election — starting with the swearing-in and ending with the swearing-in of a new man — and the year is over.

Sigma Chi Derby Day

Sigma Chi Derby Day—two days devoted to athletic competition of one kind or another, between all the women's living groups. Friday—girls chasing boys to get those derbys. Saturday—the parade honoring each living group's Sigma Chi Sweetheart contestant—pants painting to win points—athletic events such as skin-the-snake, deck-a-pledge, and balloon chase. At the end of the day, after the trophies had been awarded, coeds returned to their houses, tired and sore, and waited for the announcement of the Sweetheart finalists.

Frosh Week

One week packed with activities to bring the Freshman class together—This was "Frosh-Out '71." Contests of every nature filled the week—King and Queen—Pie-eating—Best legs—Greased pig chase—Tug-of-war between the Frosh and the Sophomores. With every contest came winners—Wayne Allison and Patty Ryan—Kathy Doss and George Grant—Margo Wolfe and Corky Lillge—Toni Kytonen. The Music by "The Godfrey Blaque" at the Frosh dance Friday night topped off the week of "Frosh-Out '71."

Vietnam Symposium

To discuss a matter foremost in college students lives, the Borah Foundation presented the Vietnam Symposium. Men such as David Dellinger, editor of "Liberation" magazine; Robert Scheer, managing editor of "Ramparts"; David Halberstrom, former chief of the "Times" Saigon bureau and present contributing editor of "Harper's" magazine; Anthony Weiner, Hudson Institute; James Farmer; Senators John Tower and Albert Gore; and Idaho Representative, George Hansen came to Idaho's campus to voice their opinions, pro and con, on the United States' stand in Vietnam. Four days of speeches, discussion sessions, and panel groups gave each student facts, figures, and ideas with which to base his own stand on the issue so important to all Americans at that time.

China Night

On May twelfth, U. of I.'s forty Chinese students presented a benefit dinner and show to raise money for FPAC. Fried rice, sweet and sour spare ribs, tea, and of course, fortune cookies, followed by dances performed by Chinese students, Chinese fashion show, and music and movies from China made the evening enjoyable and informative. In addition to the buffet and entertainment, an exhibit of Chinese art was displayed in the S.U.B.

Campus Chest

Give your pennies, nickels, dimes—vote for your choice of Ugly Man and Miss Campus Chest—vote for your choice of campus chest dancers. Winning the Ugly Man Title was Perry Kirby and Miss Campus Chest was Ricki Fay. Money collected from the voting and the auctioning of living groups was given to charity.

Blood Drive

Stand in line—Fill out this form—Sit in this chair—Take these tests—Lie down and squeeze your hand—When you are finished, have some cookies—Thank you—And it's all over. Trying to regain the title of "The Bloodiest Campus," Idaho students packed the SUB Ballroom to give their blood. Only 9 pints short, 991 pints of blood were given. In house competition, Lambda Chi Alpha and Delta Gamma had the greatest number of people contributing.

SAE Olympics

Saturday, April 13, girls from each living group advanced to the Ad lawn to participate in the annual SAE Olympics. Flag competition—4-legged race—tennis balls pushed by noses—leap-frog teams—and tug-of-war were all part of the athletic playday for Idaho co-eds.

With Tri-Delta winning first place for overall activities and the Olympics over, once again Idaho co-eds returned to their living groups to begin practicing for next year.

Greek Week

Greek Week—a week to acquaint fraternity members, of both sexes, with the glories and problems of the fraternity system. With IFC officers challenging the Panhellenic officers to a chariot race, Greek Week began. Exchange dinners gave the Greeks the opportunity to exchange thoughts on how to strengthen the system and solve common problems.

Ending the week was the Greek banquet where Craig Storti, FiGi, and Joan Eismann, D.G., were announced Greek man and woman. Patty Thompson was given the award for Greek pledge of the year and Dr. Gittens, Entomology, was Professor of the year. After the banquet, the Sound Transfusion played for an all campus dance. On Saturday, representatives from each house cleaned up Gormly park, and Greek Week was over, but only in fact, for Greeks continue to discuss the common problems, whether Greek Week exists or not.

Karin Hurdstrom

Karin Hurdstrom, European opera star and graduate of the University of Idaho, returned to Moscow on May 14, to present a benefit concert for the Performing Arts Center. The Vandaleer Concert Choir accompanied Miss Hurdstrom with several numbers.

Spring Dances

As the snow melted—the grass turned green—leaves appeared on trees—and sun-bathers headed for the sun-deck—Spring hit the Idaho campus and students came out of a long winter's nap. Water fights—excitement on campus—spring dances—all a part of spring. Initiation dances, grub dances, dance dances—anything for the students to show off all the new energy spring brought to them.

Miss U of I Pageant

Swimsuits—Evening Gowns—Talent—Poise—all are characteristics that judges look for when choosing a new Miss University of Idaho.

Practicing that talent—Learning to walk gracefully—Enduring the busy week—Looking forward to the big night—Shaking for all you are worth—and at last, the crowning. After performing one act from the play, "Sorry, Wrong Number," Margaret Colwell was crowned Miss U of I of 1968. First runner-up was Christy George, who presented a humorous reading.

In store for Miss Colwell was the Miss Idaho pageant in June and from there, a year of fun and glory.

Blue Key Talent Show

Dancing groups—Dance soloists—Singing groups—Singing soloists—Humorous readings—Pianists—and masters of ceremonies, Dave Leroy and Steve Oliver—all essential to a good variety show such as Blue Key Talent Show. With 16 acts featuring every kind of talent, the Blue Key's had a successful show on their hands—and members of the audience left with the visions of Idaho's talent dancing in their heads.

Big Name Entertainment

Dave Brubeck's Quartet—The Association—The Four Guitars—and the Fifth Dimension provided big name talent at Idaho. Scheduled to perform was Johnny Rivers who canceled because of illness. Highlighting every student's year at Idaho was the chance to listen, in concert, to the latest sounds of pop or classical music.

Anthony Weiner, from the Hudson Institute, listens to questions during a question-answer session at the Borah Foundation Vietnam Symposium.

Robert Pierpoint, CBS News correspondent, speaks on world affairs.

Public

Classes dismissed—adjourn to the Memorial Gym—and the latest news, opinions, and comments, and humor of the world came to Idaho's campus. With speakers Bill Mauldin, political cartoonist, Robert Pierpoint, CBS News official, and Idaho's Senator Frank Church, Idaho students had the opportunity to listen to the current happenings from people "in the know."

"Canada Day" led the big parade of special events and speakers at Idaho. Bringing in such

Dr. Peter Waite, one of the Canada Day speakers continues in earnest after a brief pause.

Bill Mauldin illustrates his talk on current affairs.

Dave Dellinger, editor of "Liberation" magazine, voices his opinions during the Borah symposium.

Speakers

men as Dr. Peter B. Waite, Dean Gordon O. Rathney, and Donald S. MacDonald, Canada Day proposed to show the parallelism between the United States and Canada.

With the purpose to acquaint students with the pros and cons of the Vietnam Crises, the Borah Foundation brought Dave Dellinger, David Halberstrom, Robert Scheir, Anthony Weiner, and James Farmer to Idaho for the Vietnam Symposium.

David Halberstrom listens to questions from the floor.

Senator Frank Church gestures to emphasize the American roll in politics.

Phi Delta Theta Turtle Derby

For one solid week cries of "the B.P.D.T.R. is coming" were heard floating over the Idaho campus. The annual "Shellback" circulated to announce the event. The Big Phi Delt Turtle Race finally arrived April 27. In the parking lot of Pine Hall, turtles representing each women's living group battled it out on the race track. The final heat being won by the Alpha Gamma Delta representative, the Alpha Gam turtle trainer gladly stepped forward to accept the trophy from Dick St. Clair, president. Money raised from betting and the sale of "booster" buttons was given to the Elk's Rehabilitation Center in Boise, Idaho.

Pansy Breakfast

Senior women dressed for a tea and walking toward the Tri Delta house at 9:00 on the morning of May fifth could only have meant that the annual Pansy Breakfast was held that day. With Ida Glenn and Larry Craig as Bride and Groom, the traditional bridal style show accompanied the breakfast. Recipient of the Tri Delta scholarship, Nancy Knox, Alpha Phi, was announced and following the style show, entertainment was provided by Leslie Leek and a quintet of Andy Harmon, Ann Warner, Cathy Rowell, Marilee Sackett, and Lynn Michaelson.

Helldivers

A synchronized swimming club, the Helldivers, presented two separate performances during the school year. Exercise—Tons of water swallowed—Practices once a week—Trying to get that right timing—Time for performance—Dive in—Work like a dog—Applause—It is all over—and don't you feel good? Helldivers, the way to release tensions created during the hectic school week.

Orchesis

Orchesis and Pre-Orchesis, national dance honoraries, performed their biggest show of the year during Mother's Day weekend. Many hours of frolic and physical and mental workouts went into each performance.

Good times were had by both performer and audience, at each performance presented on campus.

Mothers arrived in Moscow for "their" weekend with their sons or daughters. Honored at teas, luncheons, and firesides, Mom was the center of attention. The campus bustled with activity. The Phi Delt's held their annual Turtle Race on Saturday. Each living group opened its doors and every son or daughter entertained his mother in royal fashion.

Mother's

Day

Part of the activities scheduled for the big weekend was the Awards Festival which combined the annual May Fete with Spur Songfest. Awards of every nature were presented to outstanding students. Emma Sawyer won the Theophilus Outstanding Senior award. At the end of the weekend, Moms went home wondering where their offspring got all their energy and students went to bed, wondering how Mom fared the weekend.

The University Pace

There has never been an experience similar to college. In no place in the world could one group of people cram so much into one small year except at the university. In no place in the world could anyone learn so much about such a multiplicity of people.

It started with registration and ended with finals for some—with graduation for others. That first day of class—those fun-filled weekends—dances—firesides—mid-terms—Christmas festivities—that long trip home—that short trip back to campus—finals—and where has first semester gone?

University Pace

Once again, registration came. In the spring, Idaho students dreamed of pastures—sun tans—cruises—dances—and frolic. But alas, the sun did not cooperate. Cold weather interspersed with one or two sunny days was the spring '68. All of a sudden, students were walking to their finals, amidst the rain, and once again, another year has slipped by. But we can be sure that the beat goes on.

Graduation

Commencement at the University of Idaho was held for the seventy-third time on June 2, 1968. Approximately 1333 received degrees with 1076 students receiving bachelors degrees, 234 masters degrees, and 33 doctorates. The ROTC students were commissioned and retiring professors were honored. Three honorary degrees were given.

The address was presented by Dr. W. Glenn Terrell, President of Washington State University. Governor Samuelson and President Ernest Hartung also spoke to the graduates and friends. The Vandaleers sang "O Savior, Throw the Heavens Wide."

Graduation

After four years of frolic and hard work, seniors looked back to see their college years in perspective and looked ahead to wonder what they will be doing in four years. Four years ago, new friends — now, steadfast, life-long pals. Four years ago, college seemed so long — now, so short. Four years ago, wondering — now, knowing. The university — an experience never to be equaled.

Graduation

Play

That famed Rodger's and Hammerstein musical production, "The King and I," came to the University of Idaho this fall. Through the direction of Edmund Chavez, "The King and I" was acclaimed as the best drama production ever presented at Idaho.

Steve Scott and Roberta Cook portrayed the King of an Asian land and the governess of his children. Weeks of rehearsal—opening night—nerves—grease paint—exotic costumes—singing—assuming a new identity for a couple hours—applause—and it is a success. Yes, "The King and I" was the biggest success of the year.

Play

Under the direction of Forrest Sears, "The Odd Couple" was presented to University students and high school drama students. The comedy was performed in the U-Hut Arena Theatre. Written by Neil Simon, the play centered around two divorced men who decide to live together and find they are as incompatible with each other as they were with their former wives. Portrayed by William Grubb and John Naples, their experiences made the play one of the funniest to come to Idaho. "The Odd Couple" was presented for Mother's Day Weekend.

The University of Idaho Symphony Orchestra took an active part in musical activity on the campus. This year the orchestra took a short tour through southern Idaho — as a major highlight seven senior music majors presented solo concerts in the spring.

Symphony Orchestra

University Bands

University bands consist of many different types of groups—the Wind Ensemble performs concerts and tours southern Idaho each spring—the concert band presents concerts—the Wind Ensemble and Concert Band form the Marching Band—Pep Band and Jazz Ensemble are smaller groups chosen from the larger band.

Vandaleers

The Vandaleers were under the direction of Mr. Glen Lockery. They presented a colorful Christmas concert—a spring concert—and their annual tour through southern Idaho. There were featured soloists throughout the year. A highlight of the year included singing with Karin Hurdstrom.

University Singers

University Singers gives every interested person a chance to sing under the direction of Mr. Norman Logan. U-Singers meets twice each week to sing for pleasure and to practice for the coming concerts which are presented each semester—one in January and one in May. Serious songs—fun songs—inspirational songs—many different songs of a wide variety are sung for fun—enjoyment—entertainment.

Acknowledgment Page

A special thank you to many indispensable people.

School has been out for quite awhile now, and the 1968 GEM is nearly completed. It is hard to believe because there have been many problems that had to be overcome. It has been very rewarding to work so closely with so many people and for the University. There were many people who helped make it possible to complete the book and to these people my deepest thanks:

Jane and June, 1967 editors—for getting us started.

Dean Vettrus, General Manager—for his patience, encouragement and help.

Section editors—Carol, Barb, Eda, Connie, Steve, Chuck and Val. Mr. Bell and all the people at the Photo Center.

Mr. Ames and Publications.

The ASUI office staff.

Mr. Kim from Rudy's, Mr. Priest from Shamrock's and Thonneys.

All those groups and organizations which rescheduled pictures.

All those individuals who helped get lost information.

The Argonaut and the Idahonian.

Bob Maker for the last minute help desperately needed for the Sports Section.

President Hartung, Governor Samuelson, Dean Decker and the Deans from all the colleges for their personal letters.

Jim Gipson and Caxtons for bearing with us despite our problems.

A special thanks to all those who remained after school was out and graduation was over, to help finish up the sections which were unfinished.

Those friends, roommates and living groups which put up with those trying moments.

Good luck to the 1969 editors, Barb and Val—may things go smoother.
